CRT Default Decision and Order

The applicant(s) applied for small claims dispute resolution with the Civil Resolution Tribunal (CRT or tribunal) and requested a default decision and order of the tribunal. The following is the CRT's Default Decision and Order.

CRT DECISION

Proof of Notice:

1. A respondent must respond to a Dispute Notice within 14 days of receiving the Dispute Notice, as indicated on the Dispute Response Form, or as permitted by the CRT. A respondent served outside of British Columbia has 30 days to respond, instead of 14 days.
2. Having reviewed the evidence, I am satisfied, on the balance of probabilities, that the respondent(s) received the Dispute Notice and did not respond to it by the deadline set out in the CRT's rules. This means the respondent(s) are in default, as defined in section 1(1)(a) of the Civil Resolution Tribunal Act (CRTA).

Jurisdiction:

3. The CRT's small claims jurisdiction is set out under CRTA section 118. The applicable CRT rules are those in place at the time the Dispute Notice was issued.
4. In a default decision like this one, the CRT will make a binding decision without the participation of the respondent(s). The CRT will send the parties a copy of the final decision and order.
5. Where permitted under the CRTA, in resolving this dispute the CRT may order a party to do or stop doing something, pay money or make an order that includes any terms or conditions the tribunal considers appropriate.

Decision:

6. Liability is generally assumed in default decisions. As the respondent(s) has not participated in the dispute and in accordance with the CRTA, the respondent(s) must immediately pay the applicant(s) the monetary amounts set out in the preceding pages.
7. The applicant(s) is also entitled to any applicable post-judgment interest, which is not included as part of the “total order” amount.

CRT ORDER

8. In accordance with the CRTA and the CRT's rules I order the respondent(s) to immediately pay the applicant(s) the monetary orders set out in the preceding pages. The applicant(s) is also entitled to post-judgment interest.
9. This is a validated decision and order. Under CRTA section 58.1, the applicant(s) can enforce this order by filing a copy of it in the Provincial Court of British Columbia. When you file a CRT order with the Provincial Court, the order has the same force and effect as if it were a judgment of that court.
