MEMORANDUM OPINION

GARCIA, Judge.

{1} Plaintiff Deborah Gaudet (Appellant), a self-represented litigant, appealed from the district court's order dismissing her complaint with prejudice as a sanction for failure to provide discovery. This Court issued a calendar notice proposing summary affirmance on January 20, 2017. The calendar notice was mailed to the address on file for Ms. Gaudet and was returned by the postal service as “attempted not known.” The Rules of Appellate Procedure require a party proceeding pro se to promptly inform this Court of any change of mailing address. Rule 12-301(D) NMRA (“Counsel for a party, or any party proceeding pro se, shall promptly give notice of any change of mailing address or telephone number by filing a notice with the clerk of the court in each pending cause in which counsel or the party is appearing and by serving the notice upon all other counsel and pro se parties.”). Because the time for filing a response to the calendar notice has expired, we now affirm for the reasons stated in the calendar notice.

{2} IT IS SO ORDERED.
