

RULES OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

LR7-001. Notice of hearing or trial.

Notice of hearing or trial will ordinarily be given by the judge or the clerk in writing. Counsel shall promptly acknowledge receipt in writing of such notice and also either confirm the setting or advise the court of any reason why the matter cannot, or should not, be heard or tried on the day designated in the notice. All requests for hearing shall be served upon opposing counsel on or before submission to the court.

[Adopted, effective August 15, 1990.]

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. - The local rules of the Seventh Judicial District Court were originally filed with the Supreme Court pursuant to Rule 1-083 NMRA 1997 on August 15, 1990.

LR7-002. Domestic relations cases.

A. Except for motions for temporary relief, domestic violence cases, and in cases where the court has otherwise ordered, counsel, if any, shall make a good faith effort to confer concerning settlement and make a good faith effort to settle prior to requesting any hearing.

B. Any party to a domestic relations case may request a settlement conference with the court at any time after compliance with Paragraph A of this rule. The parties shall submit to the court the following information prior to settlement conference:

- (1) all stipulated matters, if any;
- (2) income information for both parties;
- (3) cost to the party for children's health insurance;
- (4) child care costs for each party;
- (5) unusual expenses related to the children;
- (6) list of property belonging to each party and the community, its good faith estimated value, and the amount of any lien owing thereon. The parties shall show the nature of ownership claimed: community, separate, joint tenancy, etc.;
- (7) every indebtedness of the parties by original amount, creditor, balance remaining, payment, and whether the debt is community, separate or mixed;

(8) all pension plans, whether or not such plans are vested, and present value.

C. When a request for support pendente lite is made, the requesting party shall furnish the following financial information as to both parties: income; balances of cash or cash equivalents; current expenses and obligations; existing insurance coverage; name of employer.

D. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, the court will decide issues of attorney fees at the conclusion of the trial based upon duly certified memoranda of the attorneys, including reference to time spent and such other matters as may be germane to the determination of attorney fees. See, Fryar v. Johnsen, 93 N.M. 485, 601 P.2d 718 (1979).

E. Domestic relations trials may be conducted on an issue by issue basis, first upon offer of proof, and, if necessary, with testimony, in an order agreed upon by counsel with approval of the court, or, if counsel cannot agree, as directed by the court.

F. No hearings are necessary in uncontested divorce matters.

[Adopted, effective August 15, 1990.]

LR7-003. Delivery of papers to judge.

[Adopted, effective August 15, 1990.]

LR7-009. Checking out court files.

Attorneys and abstracters may check out court files from the clerk's office for not more than three (3) days. Should any person lose a court file, it will be the person's responsibility to immediately reconstruct the file. Any such loss shall subject the person to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00). Any abuses of these conditions will be grounds for revocation of the privilege of checking out court files.

[Adopted, effective August 15, 1990.]

LR7-010. Interpreters.

If an interpreter is needed, counsel for the party requiring an interpreter shall notify the clerk of such fact at least fourteen (14) days before the hearing. Counsel shall make satisfactory arrangements for payment of interpreter's fees prior to the hearing.

[Adopted, effective August 15, 1990.]

LR7-011. Jury instructions.
