LR11-102. Assignment of cases to judges.

A. The judges of divisions one, three, and four are primarily responsible for all cases in San Juan County. The judge of division two is primarily responsible for all cases in McKinley County. In the event of recusal or excusal in division two the case will be assigned to one of the remaining judges of the district by random selection. In the event of recusal or excusal in the other divisions, the case will be assigned by random selection to one of the judges sitting in San Juan County until all of such judges are exhausted by recusal or excusal, and only then assigned to division two.

B. Cases assigned to a particular judge will not be heard by another judge without consent of the judge to whom the case is assigned, except in case of an emergency and when the judge to whom it has been assigned is not available.

LR11-103. Submission of orders, judgments, briefs, and findings.

A. All proposed orders, decrees, and judgments will be submitted to the judge assigned the case. All original findings of fact and conclusions of law will be filed with the clerk of the court and a copy submitted to the judge.

LR11-104. Motions.

A. All motions will state the grounds therefor with particularity. A motion which fails to state the grounds as required may be denied summarily by the court.

B. Each motion other than a motion for order to show cause, change of custody, or a ministerial act shall be accompanied by a supporting written brief, separate and apart from the motion itself. Such brief shall be denominated as "Brief in Support of Motion to (subject of motion)." The responding party shall have fifteen (15) days after service of the motion to answer by written brief. Such answer shall be denominated "Answer Brief on (subject of motion)," for example: "Answer Brief on Summary Judgment Motion." The movant may have fifteen (15) days after the service of the response within which to reply if desired. Such reply shall be denominated "Reply Brief on (subject of motion)." Unless the court has endorsed its order of filing on the face of a brief, it shall neither be filed nor docketed. If no answer or reply brief is to be submitted, the parties should so advise the court. Counter affidavits if any, in motions for summary judgment, shall be filed when the answer brief is submitted.

C. All briefed motions will be decided on the basis of briefs unless otherwise ordered by the court.

C. Objections to interrogatories. In objecting to an interrogatory, the objector shall first set out the complete interrogatory followed by the reason for the objection. The party upon whom objections to interrogatories are served shall then have twenty (20) days within receipt of the objection to respond or the objection shall be deemed to have been accepted as valid and the court will take no action. As a preliminary matter any objection to an interrogatory should state that counsel has previously made a good faith effort to resolve the issue with opposing counsel prior to bringing the objection to the attention of the court.

D. Number of interrogatories. No party shall serve more than twenty-six (26) interrogatories in the aggregate quantity, counting all sub-parts, without leave of the court. Sub-parts of an interrogatory shall relate directly to the subject matter of the interrogatory. A party desiring to serve additional interrogatories shall file a written motion with the court setting forth the proposed additional interrogatories and the reasons establishing good cause for their use.

E. Nature of first interrogatory. The first interrogatory shall be limited to the inquiry as to the biographical information of the person, corporation, or other entity that is a party to the lawsuit.
