CHAPTER 38
TRIALS

ARTICLE 1
PROCESS

38-1-1. Rules of pleading, practice and procedure.

A. The supreme court of New Mexico shall, by rules promulgated by it from time to time, regulate pleading, practice and procedure in judicial proceedings in all courts of New Mexico for the purpose of simplifying and promoting the speedy determination of litigation upon its merits. Such rules shall not abridge, enlarge or modify the substantive rights of any litigant.

B. The supreme court shall cause all rules to be printed and distributed to all members of the bar of the state and to all applicants, and no rule shall become effective until thirty days after it has been so printed and distributed.

History: Laws 1933, ch. 84, § 1; 1941 Comp., § 19-301; 1953 Comp., § 21-3-1; Laws 1966, ch. 28, § 31.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross-references. - As to court rules, see Judicial Volumes 1 and 2.

Constitutionality. - See State v. Roy, 40 N.M. 397, 60 P.2d 646 (1936).

Unquestioned power rests in supreme court to promulgate rules of pleading, practice and procedure. State v. Arnold, 51 N.M. 311, 183 P.2d 845 (1947).

Unquestioned power rests in supreme court to promulgate rules. - Although 38-1-2 NMSA 1978 refers to statutes existing in 1933, it is fair to attribute to the legislature, in view of the delegation in this section, the intent that statutes relating to pleading, practice and procedure enacted after 1933 would remain in effect "unless and until modified or suspended by rules" promulgated pursuant to this section. Lovelace Medical Center v. Mendez, 111 N.M. 336, 805 P.2d 603 (1991).

Purpose of rules. - This section provides for promulgation by the supreme court of rules to regulate pleading, practice and procedure for the purpose, among others, of "promoting the speedy determination of litigation upon its merits." This indicates the end to be sought by the rules to be no different from that of the federal rules. Fort v. Neal, 79 N.M. 479, 444 P.2d 990 (1968).

Section prohibits the promulgation of a rule that abridges, enlarges or modifies the substantive rights of any litigant. Johnson v. Terry, 48 N.M. 253, 149 P.2d 795 (1944).

Modification of legislative rules. - Legislative rules relating to pleading, practice and procedure in the courts, particularly where those rules relate to court management or housekeeping functions, may be modified by a subsequent rule promulgated by the supreme court. Lovelace Medical Center v. Mendez, 111 N.M. 336, 805 P.2d 603 (1991).

Substantive law is the positive law which creates, defines and regulates the rights and duties of the parties and which may give rise to a cause for action, as distinguished from adjective law which pertains to and prescribes the practice and procedure or the legal machinery by which the substantive law is determined or made effective. Honaker v. Ralph Pool's Albuquerque Auto Sales, Inc., 74 N.M. 458, 394 P.2d 978 (1964).

Creation of the right of appeal is a matter of substantive law and not within the rule-making power of the supreme court. State v. Arnold, 51 N.M. 311, 183 P.2d 845 (1947).

But regulation of manner and time for taking appeal procedural matter. - It is within the rule-making power of the supreme court to reduce the time for taking an appeal from six to three months (now 30 days) once the legislature has authorized appeal, since the regulation of the manner and time for taking appeal are procedural matters. State v. Arnold, 51 N.M. 311, 183 P.2d 845 (1947).

Rules liberally construed. - In order that causes coming on for appeal may be reviewed on the merits, supreme court rules are to be construed liberally with that end in view. Fairchild v. United Serv. Corp., 52 N.M. 289, 197 P.2d 875 (1948).

38-1-2. [Practice statutes may be modified or suspended by rules.]

All statutes relating to pleading, practice and procedure, now existing, shall, from and after the passage of this act [38-1-1, 38-1-2 NMSA 1978], have force and effect only as rules of court and shall remain in effect unless and until modified or suspended by rules promulgated pursuant hereto.

38-1-3. [Common law is rule of practice and decision.]

In all the courts in this state the common law as recognized in the United States of America, shall be the rule of practice and decision.

History: Laws 1875-1876, ch. 2, § 2; C.L. 1884, § 1823; C.L. 1897, § 2871; Code 1915, § 1354; C.S. 1929, § 34-101; 1941 Comp., § 19-303; 1953 Comp., § 21-3-3.

ANNOTATIONS

II. Particular Matters.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Cross-references. - As to applicability of common law in criminal cases, see 30-1-3 NMSA 1978.

The legislature intended to adopt the common law, or lex non scripta, and such British statutes of a general nature not local to that kingdom, nor in conflict with the constitution or laws of the United States, nor of this territory, which are applicable to our conditions and circumstances, and which were in force at the time of the American separation from the mother country. Yeo v. Tweedy, 34 N.M. 611, 286 P. 970 (1929); Browning v. Estate of Browning, 3 N.M. (Gild.) 659, 9 P. 677 (1886); Territory ex rel.

Wade v. Ashenfelter, 4 N.M. (Gild.) 93, 12 P. 879 (1887), appeal dismissed, 154 U.S. 493, 14 S. Ct. 1141, 38 L. Ed. 1079 (1893); Bent v. Thompson, 5 N.M. 408, 23 P. 234 (1890), aff'd, 138 U.S. 114, 11 S. Ct. 238, 34 L. Ed. 902 (1891); Gurule v. Duran, 20 N.M. 348, 149 P. 302, 1915F L.R.A. 648 (1915); Plomteaux v. Solano, 25 N.M. 24, 176 P. 77 (1918); Blake v. Hoover Motor Co., 28 N.M. 371, 212 P. 738 (1923).

New Mexico adopted the common law or lex non scripta and such British statutes of a general nature not local to that kingdom nor in conflict with the state constitution or specific contrary statutes, which are applicable to conditions and circumstances which were in force at the time of American separation from England, and made it binding as the rule of practice and decision in the courts of this state. Boddy v. Boddy, 77 N.M. 149, 420 P.2d 301 (1966).

New Mexico has adopted the common law. State v. Valdez, 83 N.M. 632, 495 P.2d 1079 (Ct. App.), aff'd, 83 N.M. 720, 497 P.2d 231 (1972), cert. denied, 83 N.M. 741, 497 P.2d 743; 409 U.S. 1077, 93 S. Ct. 694, 34 L. Ed. 2d 666 (1972).

By the adoption of the common law in New Mexico, the civil law was completely supplanted, except as incorporated in the statutes of the territory. Field v. Otero, 35 N.M. 68, 290 P. 1015 (1930); Beals v. Ares, 25 N.M. 459, 185 P. 780 (1919).

Common law as the rule of practice and decision prevails where there is no special statutory provision in respect to a matter. Walker v. New Mexico & S.P.R.R., 7 N.M. 282, 34 P. 43 (1893), aff'd, 165 U.S. 593, 17 S. Ct. 421, 41 L. Ed. 837 (1897).

The common law is the rule of practice and decision. This rule does not obtain, however, when the subject matter of any procedural right is fully covered by statute or rule. Sellman v. Haddock, 62 N.M. 391, 310 P.2d 1045 (1957).

And where applicable to conditions in state. - The New Mexico supreme court has the power to do away with common-law principles since the common law is not the rule of practice and decision if inapplicable to conditions in New Mexico, and if it is not applicable to the condition and circumstances it is not to be given effect. Hicks v. State, 88 N.M. 588, 544 P.2d 1153 (1975).

The common law is not the rule of practice and decision if not applicable to conditions in New Mexico. Rodgers v. Ferguson, 89 N.M. 688, 556 P.2d 844 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619 (1976).

Common law is only abrogated or repealed by statute when directly and irreconcilably opposed to the common law. Southern Union Gas Co. v. City of Artesia, 81 N.M. 654, 472 P.2d 368 (1970).

Common law inapplicable to procedural right otherwise covered. - The common law does not apply when the subject matter of any procedural right is fully covered by the constitution, statutes or rules. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. First Judicial Dist. Court, 96 N.M. 254, 629 P.2d 330 (1981).

Common-law doctrines not invulnerable. - Because a common-law doctrine is judicially created, it is within the court's province to change a common-law doctrine if it is unwise. Merely because a common-law doctrine has been in effect for many years, it is not rendered invulnerable to judicial attack once it has reached a point of obsolescence. Lopez v. Maez, 98 N.M. 625, 651 P.2d 1269 (1982).

Revision of an outmoded common law doctrine is within the competence of the judiciary. Lopez v. Maez, 98 N.M. 625, 651 P.2d 1269 (1982).

II. PARTICULAR MATTERS.

Change of venue by court upon own motion. - A trial court, in a proper case and in the exercise of its discretion, has the power to order a change of venue sua sponte. This power existed at common law and the common law is the rule of practice and decision in New Mexico. Valdez v. State, 83 N.M. 720, 497 P.2d 231, aff'g, 83 N.M. 741, 497 P.2d 743 (1972), cert. denied, 83 N.M. 741, 497 P.2d 743; 409 U.S. 1077, 93 S. Ct. 694, 34 L. Ed. 2d 666 (1972).

Citizen's arrest. - Because in New Mexico there is no statute covering citizen's arrest, the common law controls; thus, a citizen's arrest may be made for felonies or the misdemeanors of breach of the peace or shoplifting; the person making the arrest must inform the arrested person of the offense for which he was under arrest, and the force used must be reasonable. Downs v. Garay, 106 N.M. 321, 742 P.2d 533 (Ct. App. 1987).

Damages for waste. - An ancient statute giving a landlord treble damages for waste committed by the tenant is a harsh rule and not in harmony with our conditions and circumstances. Blake v. Hoover Motor Co., 28 N.M. 371, 212 P. 738 (1923).

Dower and curtesy. - Common-law rights of dower and curtesy have never obtained in New Mexico as to the interests of the wife and husband, respectively, in the community estate. Hernandez v. Becker, 54 F.2d 542 (10th Cir. 1931).

Doctrine of destructibility of contingent remainders is not applicable in this state. Abo Petroleum Corp. v. Amstutz, 93 N.M. 332, 600 P.2d 278 (1979).

Marriage. - This section did not introduce the common-law marriage into New Mexico. In re Gabaldon's Estate, 38 N.M. 392, 34 P.2d 672 (1934).

Probate. - This section did not affect statute laws in relation to probate courts. Bent v. Thompson, 5 N.M. 408, 23 P. 234 (1890), aff'd, 138 U.S. 114, 11 S. Ct. 238, 34 L. Ed. 902 (1891).

Quo warranto. - In the absence of a statute to try the title to an office in a private corporation, the right to a writ of quo warranto will be left to common-law principles and the interpretation of the statute of 9th Anne, ch. 20. State ex rel. Northwestern Colonization & Imp. Co. v. Huller, 23 N.M. 306, 168 P. 528 (1917), cert. denied, 246 U.S. 667, 38 S. Ct. 336, 62 L. Ed. 929 (1818), appeal dismissed, 247 U.S. 503, 38 S. Ct. 426, 62 L. Ed. 1239 (1918).

Right to hold public office. - There being no statute either denying or conferring the right of holding office upon a woman, the common law adopted hereby will prevail, and under it a woman could hold a purely ministerial office if she were capable of performing the duties thereof. State v. De Armijo, 18 N.M. 646, 140 P. 1123 (1914)See now N.M. Const., art. VII, § 2.

Statute of frauds. - The English statute of frauds [29 Car. II, c. 3 (1677)] is in force in New Mexico by virtue of the adoption of the common law of England. Maljamar Oil & Gas Corp. v. Malco Refineries, Inc., 155 F.2d 673 (10th Cir. 1946).

The English statute of frauds is in force in New Mexico as part of the common law. Coseboom v. Margaret S. Marshall's Trust, 64 N.M. 170, 326 P.2d 368 (1958), rev'd on other grounds, 67 N.M. 405, 356 P.2d 117 (1960).

The English statute of frauds is part of our common law. Alvarez v. Alvarez, 72 N.M. 336, 383 P.2d 581 (1963); Ades v. Supreme Lodge Order of Ahepa, 51 N.M. 164, 181 P.2d 161 (1947); Pitek v. McGuire, 51 N.M. 364, 184 P.2d 647 (1947); Pederson v. Lothman, 63 N.M. 364, 320 P.2d 378 (1958); Ray v. Jones, 64 N.M. 223, 327 P.2d 301 (1958); Boswell v. Rio De Oro Uranium Mines, Inc., 68 N.M. 457, 362 P.2d 991 (1961).

The statute of frauds is part of the common law. Boddy v. Boddy, 77 N.M. 149, 420 P.2d 301 (1966).

Survival of actions. - The rule in common law that no cause of action for personal injury resulting in death survived in favor of the personal representative of the deceased, nor against the personal representative of the wrongdoer, remains the rule of practice and decision in New Mexico, except as superseded or abrogated by statute or constitution, or held to be inapplicable to conditions in New Mexico. Ickes v. Brimhall, 42 N.M. 412, 79 P.2d 942 (1938).

The common law rule that a claim for personal injury not resulting in death does not survive the death of the victim is not applicable to conditions in New Mexico because the tort of negligence did not exist when the rule developed and because there is no reason for such a rule in connection with compensatory damages. Rodgers v. Ferguson, 89 N.M. 688, 556 P.2d 844 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619 (1976).

Water law. - See Martinez v. Cook, 56 N.M. 343, 244 P.2d 134 (1952), aff'd, 57 N.M. 263, 258 P.2d 375 (1953).

Privileges in rules of evidence. - Rule 11-501 is very different from Rule 501 of the Federal Rules of Evidence which states that privileges are "governed by the privileges or the common law." The fact that New Mexico did not follow the approach of congress but instead limited the privileges available to those recognized by the constitution, the rules of evidence, or other rules of the supreme court manifests the abrogation and inapplicability of the common law evidentiary privileges. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. First Judicial Dist. Court, 96 N.M. 254, 629 P.2d 330 (1981).

38-1-4. [Equity rules prevail over common law.]

Generally in all matters in which there is any conflict or variance between the rules of equity and the rules of the common law, with reference to the same matter, the rules of equity shall prevail.

History: Laws 1897, ch. 73, § 178; C.L. 1897, § 2685 (178); Code 1915, § 4259; C.S. 1929, § 105-1006; 1941 Comp., § 19-304; 1953 Comp., § 21-3-4.

ANNOTATIONS

Enforcement of contract unenforceable under statute of frauds. - Even where a contract relating to the transfer of real estate is verbally changed as to the time of payment, a court of equity will intervene and order performance, when the refusal to intervene on account of the statute of frauds would permit a fraud to be committed. Kingston v. Walters, 14 N.M. 368, 93 P. 700 (1908), aff'd, 16 N.M. 59, 113 P. 594 (1911).

38-1-5. [Service of process; corporation failing to file report; death or removal of agent.]

In case any domestic corporation, or any foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, shall fail to file such report within the time required by this article, or in case the agent of any such corporation designated by any such corporation as the agent upon whom process against the corporation may be served shall die, or shall resign, or shall remove from the state, or such agent cannot with due diligence be found, it shall be lawful, while such default continues, to serve process against any such corporation upon the secretary of state, and such service shall be as effective to all intents and purposes as if made upon the president or head officers of such corporation, and within two days after such service upon the secretary of state as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the secretary to notify such corporation thereof by letter directed to such corporation at its registered office, in which letter shall be inclosed a copy of the process or other paper served, and it shall be the duty of the plaintiff in any action in which said process shall be issued to pay to the secretary of state, the sum of three dollars [($3.00)], which said sum shall be taxed as a part of the taxable costs in said suit if the plaintiff prevails therein; the secretary of the state shall keep a book to be called "process book," in which shall be recorded alphabetically, by the name of the plaintiff and defendant therein, the title of all causes in which processes have been served upon him, the test of the process so served and the return day thereof, and the date and hour when such service was made.

History: Laws 1905, ch. 79, § 48 (2); Code 1915, § 933; C.S. 1929, § 32-150; 1941 Comp., § 19-305; 1953 Comp., § 21-3-5.

Failure of secretary of state to notify foreign corporation of service of process does not deny corporation due process of law. - Under this section, service of process on the secretary of state, in the absence of an agent of a foreign corporation, gives the court jurisdiction, although the secretary of state does not notify the foreign corporation. This does not deny the corporation due process of law. Silva v. Crombie & Co., 39 N.M. 240, 44 P.2d 719 (1935).

38-1-6. Process against foreign corporations.

A. In all personal actions brought in any court of this state against any foreign corporation, process may be served upon any officer, director or statutory agent of the corporation, either personally or by leaving a copy thereof at his dwelling house or usual place of abode, or by leaving a copy at the office or usual place of business of the foreign corporation.

B. If no person has been designated by a foreign corporation doing business in this state as its statutory agent upon whom service of process can be made, or, if, upon diligent search, neither the agent so designated nor any of the officers or directors of the foreign corporation can be found in the state, then, upon the filing of an affidavit to that effect by the person to whom the process has been delivered for service in the office of the secretary of state, together with service upon the secretary of state of a duplicate copy of the process in the cause, the secretary of state shall accept service of process as the agent of the foreign corporation, but the service is not complete until a fee of five dollars ($5.00) is paid to the secretary of state by the plaintiff in the action.

C. Upon receipt of the process and fee, the secretary of state shall forthwith give notice by telegraph, charges prepaid, to the foreign corporation at its principal place of business outside the state of the service of the process, and shall forward to that office by registered or certified mail a copy of the process. Where the secretary of state has no record of the principal office of the foreign corporation outside the state, he shall forward the copy of the process to the places designated as its principal office in an affidavit filed with the secretary of state by the plaintiff in the suit or by his attorney.

D. The foreign corporation served as provided in this section shall appear and answer within thirty days after the secretary of state gives the notice. The certificate of the secretary of state, under his official seal, of the service is competent and sufficient proof thereof.

E. The secretary of state shall keep a record of all process served on him as provided for in this section, and of the time of the service and of his action in respect thereto.

F. Any foreign corporation engaging in business in this state, either in its corporate name or in the name of an agent, without having first procured a certificate of authority or otherwise become qualified to engage in business in this state shall be deemed to have consented to the provisions of this section.

Due process requires proper service. - Fundamental due process requires service reasonably calculated to give parties notice, and the lack of such notice cannot be cured by an entry of a general appearance after entry of default judgment. Abarca v. Hanson, 106 N.M. 25, 738 P.2d 519 (Ct. App. 1987).

The secretary of state's failure to give nonresident defendant notice of a products liability suit against it under this section, resulting in a default judgment, constitutes a denial of due process. Abarca v. Hanson, 106 N.M. 25, 738 P.2d 519 (Ct. App. 1987).

Section does not extend to causes of action not arising out of corporations' New Mexico business. Budde v. Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., 511 F.2d 1033 (10th Cir. 1975).

Service of process upon resident director valid. - Where foreign corporation has no place of business in New Mexico, but does have directors resident in the state, service of process upon such director is good. 1915-16 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 140.

Service of failure of process upon qualified subsidiary sufficient to confer jurisdiction upon foreign subsidiary and parent corporation. - Where parent foreign corporation was doing business in state through the agency of one of its two subsidiaries, and all three had common directors and secretary and same basic name, service of process on one qualified to do business in state was sufficient to bring before the court by amendment the other two corporations. State ex rel. Grinnell Co v. MacPherson, 62 N.M. 308, 309 P.2d 981, cert. denied, 355 U.S. 825, 78 S. Ct. 32, 2 L. Ed. 2d 39 (1957).

Effect of failure of process server to return original summons with proof of service after personal service on statutory agent. - Where default judgment was entered upon nonappearance, after personal service had been made upon defendant's statutory resident agent, the execution could not be recalled and judgment vacated for failure of the process server to return the original summons with proof of service. Bourgeious v. Santa Fe Trail Stages, Inc., 43 N.M. 453, 95 P.2d 204 (1939).

Effect of failure of secretary of state to notify corporation of service of process. - Under 38-1-5 NMSA 1978, service of process on the secretary of state in the absence of an agent of a foreign corporation gave the court jurisdiction, although the secretary of state did not notify the foreign corporation. Silva v. Crombie & Co., 39 N.M. 240, 44 P.2d 719 (1935).

38-1-7. Purpose of act.

The purpose of this act [38-1-7 to 38-1-11 NMSA 1978] is to subject certain insurers to the jurisdiction of courts of this state in suits by or on behalf of insureds or beneficiaries under insurance contracts.

The legislature declares that it is a subject of concern that many residents of this state hold policies of insurance issued or delivered in this state by insurers while not authorized to do business in this state, thus presenting to such residents the often insuperable obstacle of resorting to distant forums for the purpose of asserting legal rights under such policies. In furtherance of such state interest, the legislature herein provides a method of substituted service of process upon such insurers and declares that in so doing it exercises its power to protect its residents and to define, for the purpose of this statute, what constitutes doing business in this state, and also exercises powers and privileges available to the state by virtue of Public Law 15, 79th Congress of the United States, Chapter 20, 1st Session, S. 340 [59 Stat. 33], which declares that the business of insurance and every person engaged therein shall be subject to the laws of the several states.

38-1-8. Service of process upon unauthorized insurer.

A. Any of the following acts in this state, effected by mail or otherwise, by an unauthorized foreign or alien insurer: (1) the issuance or delivery of contracts of insurance to residents of this state or to corporations authorized to do business therein; (2) the solicitation of applications for such contracts; (3) the collection of premiums, membership fees, assessments or other considerations for such contracts; or (4) any other transaction of insurance business, is equivalent to and shall constitute an irrevocable appointment by such insurer, binding upon him, his executor or administrator or successor in interest if a corporation, of the secretary of state to be the true and lawful attorney of such insurer upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding in any court by the superintendent of insurance, through the attorney general, and upon whom may be served any notice, order, pleading or process in any proceeding before the superintendent of insurance and which arises out of transacting an insurance business in this state by such insurer, and any such act shall be signification of its agreement that such service of process is of the same legal force and validity as personal service of process in this state upon such insurer.

B. Such service of process shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state, or some person in charge of his office, two copies thereof and the payment to him of a fee of two dollars ($2.00). The secretary of state shall forthwith mail by registered mail one of the copies of such process to the defendant at his last known principal place of business, and shall keep a record of all process so served upon him. Such service of process is sufficient, provided notice of such service and a copy of the process are sent within ten days thereafter by registered mail by the superintendent of insurance or the attorney general in the court proceeding or by the superintendent of insurance in the administrative proceeding to the defendant at his last known principal place of business, and the defendant's receipt, or receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the superintendent of insurance or the attorney general showing a compliance herewith are filed with the clerk of the court in which such action is pending, or with the superintendent in administrative proceedings, on or before the date the defendant is required to appear, or within such further time as the court may allow.

C. Service of process in any such action, suit or proceeding shall, in addition to the manner provided in Subsection B of this section, be valid if served upon any person within this state, who, in this state on behalf of such insurer, is (1) soliciting insurance; (2) making, issuing or delivering any contract of insurance; or (3) collecting or receiving any premium, membership fee, assessment or other consideration for insurance, and a copy of such process is sent within ten days thereafter by registered mail by the superintendent of insurance or the attorney general to the defendant at the last known principal place of business of the defendant, and the defendant's receipt, or the receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the superintendent of insurance or the attorney general showing a compliance herewith are filed with the clerk of the court in which such action is pending, or with the superintendent of insurance in administrative proceedings, on or before the date the defendant is required to appear, or within such further time as the court may allow in the case of court proceedings.

D. The superintendent of insurance or the attorney general shall not be entitled to a judgment by default in any court or administrative proceeding under this section until the expiration of thirty days from the date of the filing of the affidavit of compliance.

E. Nothing in this section shall limit or abridge the right to serve any process, notice or demand upon any insurer in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

38-1-9. Defense of action by unauthorized insurer.

A. Before any unauthorized foreign or alien insurer shall file or cause to be filed any pleading in any action, suit or proceeding instituted against it, such unauthorized insurer shall [(1)] deposit with the clerk of the court in which such action, suit or proceeding is pending cash or securities or file with such clerk a bond with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court, in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient to secure the payment of any final judgment which may be rendered in such action; or (2) procure a certificate of authority to transact the business of insurance in this state.

B. The court in any action, suit or proceeding, in which service is made in the manner provided in Subsections [Subsection] B or C of Section 2 [38-1-8 NMSA 1978] may, in its discretion, order such postponement as may be necessary to afford the defendant reasonable opportunity to comply with the provisions of Subsection A of this section and to defend such action.

C. Nothing in Subsection A of this section is to be construed to prevent an unauthorized foreign or alien insurer from filing a motion to quash a writ or to set aside service thereof made in the manner provided in Subsections [Subsection] B or C of Section 2 [38-1-8 NMSA 1978] hereof on the ground either (1) that such unauthorized insurer has not done any of the acts enumerated in Subsection A of Section 2 [38-1-8 NMSA 1978], or (2) that the person on whom service was made pursuant to Subsection C of Section 2 [38-1-8 NMSA 1978] was not doing any of the acts therein enumerated.

38-1-10. Attorney fees.

In any action against an unauthorized foreign or alien insurer upon a contract of insurance issued or delivered in this state to a resident thereof or to a corporation authorized to do business therein, if the insurer has failed for thirty days after demand prior to the commencement of the action to make payment in accordance with the terms of the contract, and it appears to the court that such refusal was vexatious and without reasonable cause, the court may allow to the plaintiff a reasonable attorney fee and include such fee in any judgment that may be rendered in such action. Such fee shall not exceed twelve and one-half percent of the amount which the court or jury finds the plaintiff is entitled to recover against the insurer, but in no event shall such fee be less than twenty-five dollars [($25.00)]. Failure of an insurer to defend any such action shall be deemed prima facie evidence that its failure to make payment was vexatious and without reasonable cause.

Whenever there shall be a guardian of the estate or a guardian of the person of an insane or incompetent person, duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state, every process against such insane, or incompetent person shall be served upon either of such guardians in such manner as may be provided by law for service of process, including service by publication. 38-1-14. Notice of lis pendens; contents; recording; effect.

In all actions in the district court of this state or in the United States district court for the district of New Mexico affecting the title to real estate in this state, the plaintiff, at the time of filing his petition or complaint, or at any time thereafter before judgment or decree, may record with the county clerk of each county in which the property may be situate a notice of the pendency of the suit containing the names of the parties thereto, the object of the action and the description of the property so affected and concerned, and, if the action is to foreclose a mortgage, the notice shall contain, in addition, the date of the mortgage, the parties thereto and the time and place of recording, and must be recorded five days before judgment, and the pendency of such action shall be only from the time of recording the notice, and shall be constructive notice to a purchaser or encumbrancer of the property concerned; and any person whose conveyance is subsequently recorded shall be considered a subsequent purchaser or encumbrancer and shall be bound by all the proceedings taken after the recording of the notice to the same extent as if he were made a party to the said action.

The lis pendens notice need not be acknowledged to entitle it to be recorded.

ANNOTATIONS

Rights relate to date of filing notice. - If judgment is in favor of the one filing the lis pendens notice, the rights of that party relate back to the date of the notice. Title Guar. & Ins. Co. v. Campbell, 106 N.M. 272, 742 P.2d 8 (Ct. App. 1987).

Where purchaser of real estate withheld his deed from registration and recordation until after suit was filed to cancel the conveyance to his vendor for fraud and notice of lis pendens is filed, the purchaser was a subsequent purchaser and charged with notice of the fact that his grantor's title was attacked in the suit. Vendor's implied lien was properly held paramount to the mortgage lien of an intervener where vendor had filed (now recorded) notice of lis pendens in county clerk's office in July, 1942, without actual knowledge of the intervener's claim to an equitable lien dating back to Jan., 1942, intervener's mortgage not having been executed until Oct., 1942, and filed for record in Dec., 1942. Logan v. Emro Chem. Corp., 48 N.M. 368, 151 P.2d 329 (1944).

Notice held ineffective. - Contractor filed suit to enforce lien on apparatus, equipment and plants of mining company and to recover balance due under contract. On same day that suit was filed, he endeavored to file (now record) a notice of the pendency of such suit under this section. About ten months later, on the mining company being adjudicated bankrupt, the contractor's claim was allowed against the estate of the bankrupt mining company, but his lien was denied on the ground that since his suit in the state court did not affect title to real estate, the lis pendens was not properly filed (now recorded) and did not constitute constructive notice to trustee in bankruptcy of the alleged lien. Sweeney v. Medler, 78 F.2d 148 (10th Cir. 1935).

Filing in anticipation of money judgment is prohibited. - The filing of a notice of lis pendens in anticipation of a money judgment is prohibited. Hill v. Department of Air Force, 884 F.2d 1321 (10th Cir. 1989).

Filing of lis pendens cannot support slander of title action. - The filing of a lis pendens is absolutely privileged and cannot support an action for slander of title. Superior Constr., Inc. v. Linnerooth, 103 N.M. 716, 712 P.2d 1378 (1986).

For the purpose of the preceding section [38-1-14 NMSA 1978], it is considered that an action is pending from the time of filing such notice; provided, that such notice shall be of no value, unless it is followed by the service of such citations or process of citation, or by notice by publication to the defendant, as provided by law, within sixty days after such filing. And the court in which said action was commenced, may in its discretion, at any time after the action shall be settled, discontinue or revoke on application of any person injured, and for good cause shown, and under such notice as may be directed or approved by the court, order the notice authorized by the preceding section to be canceled by the county clerk of any county in whose office the same may have been filed, and such cancellation shall be made by an indorsement to that effect upon the filed notice which shall refer to the order.

38-1-16. Personal service of process outside state.

A. Any person, whether or not a citizen or resident of this state, who in person or through an agent does any of the acts enumerated in this subsection thereby submits himself or his personal representative to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state as to any cause of action arising from:

(1) the transaction of any business within this state;

(2) the operation of a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state;

(3) the commission of a tortious act within this state;

(4) the contracting to insure any person, property or risk located within this state at the time of contracting;

(5) with respect to actions for divorce, separate maintenance or annulment, the circumstance of living in the marital relationship within the state, notwithstanding subsequent departure from the state, as to all obligations arising from alimony, child support or real or personal property settlements under Chapter 40, Article 4 NMSA 1978 if one party to the marital relationship continues to reside in the state.

B. Service of process may be made upon any person subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state under this section by personally serving the summons upon the defendant outside this state and such service has the same force and effect as though service had been personally made within this state.

C. Only causes of action arising from acts enumerated in this section may be asserted against a defendant in an action in which jurisdiction is based upon this section.

D. Nothing contained in this section limits or affects the right to serve any process in any other manner now or hereafter provided by law.

Constitutionality of section generally. - This section does not violate the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. Melfi v. Goodman, 69 N.M. 488, 368 P.2d 582 (1962).

This section is not an unconstitutional invasion of the judicial branch in violation of the separation of powers provision of the constitution. Gray v. Armijo, 70 N.M. 245, 372 P.2d 821 (1962)See also; Clews v. Stiles, 303 F.2d 290 (10th Cir. 1960).

Retroactive application. - In adopting this section, the New Mexico legislature adopted the construction of the Illinois courts that the section has retroactive effect. Clews v. Stiles, 303 F.2d 290 (10th Cir. 1960).

Section is procedural in nature, and retrospective application does not affect substantial rights in violation of the constitution. Gray v. Armijo, 70 N.M. 245, 372 P.2d 821 (1962).

Construction of section. - This section is a statute in derogation of the common law and must be strictly construed. Worland v. Worland, 89 N.M. 291, 551 P.2d 981 (1976).

Because this section was adopted from the Illinois statutes, it is presumed that the New Mexico legislature also adopted the prior construction of the statute by the highest courts of Illinois, and while this presumption is not conclusive, it is persuasive. Melfi v. Goodman, 69 N.M. 488, 368 P.2d 582 (1962).

New Mexico's long-arm statute was taken from Illinois, and the interpretations by the Illinois courts of the Illinois statute are persuasive. Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

Jurisdictional test. - In order to satisfy the requirements of this section, and invest the courts of New Mexico with jurisdiction, the act complained of must meet a three-prong test: (1) Defendant must do one of the acts enumerated in Subsection A; (2) plaintiff's cause of action must arise from the specified act; and (3) defendant must have minimum contacts sufficient to satisfy due process. Visarraga v. Gates Rubber Co., 104 N.M. 143, 717 P.2d 596 (Ct. App.), writ quashed, 104 N.M. 137, 717 P.2d 590 (1986).

Section establishes two requirements for the assertion of jurisdiction over a nonresident not within the state. First, the defendant must have done one of the acts enumerated in the section; and second, the plaintiff's cause of action must arise from defendant's doing the act. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972); Benally v. Hundred Arrows Press, Inc., 614 F. Supp. 969 (D.N.M. 1985), rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Benally v. Amon Carter Museum of W. Art, 858 F.2d 618 (10th Cir. 1988).

In personam jurisdiction in New Mexico over nonresident defendants has three elements: the court must first determine whether the defendant has committed one of the acts enumerated in this section as a basis for exercising extra-territorial jurisdiction. If the court so finds, it must then determine whether the cause of action arises from the acts enumerated. The court must then analyze whether the defendant has had "minimum contacts" with the state of New Mexico sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the due process clause of the United States constitution. Beh v. Ostergard, 657 F. Supp. 173 (D.N.M. 1987).

Burden of proof of jurisdictional allegations. - Generally, where jurisdiction is based on process served under this section, the plaintiff has the burden to prove the jurisdictional allegations at the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss, but where defendant challenges all but one ground of alleged jurisdiction, the trial court did not err in failing to put the plaintiff to its jurisdictional proof in advance of trial. Plumbers Specialty Supply Co. v. Enterprise Prod. Co., 96 N.M. 517, 632 P.2d 752 (Ct. App. 1981).

The least quantity of contacts possible in a given case upholds the maintenance of an action in the state forum. When such contacts are established, the burden shifts to the nonresident defendant to present facts that will convince the forum court that it would offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice. Moore v. Graves, 99 N.M. 129, 654 P.2d 582 (Ct. App. 1982).

Long-arm jurisdiction more than technical "transaction" or "commission". - The question of personal jurisdiction over out-of-state residents involves more than a technical "transaction of any business" or the technical "commission of a tortious act" within New Mexico: the meaning of those terms, in this section, is to be equated with the minimum contacts sufficient to satisfy due process. Tarango v. Pastrana, 94 N.M. 727, 616 P.2d 440 (Ct. App. 1980).

Physical presence of defendant within state not required. - Personal jurisdiction over a nonresident does not depend upon the physical presence of the defendant within the state. Moore v. Graves, 99 N.M. 129, 654 P.2d 582 (Ct. App. 1982).

"Transaction of business" requires certain minimal contracts by the defendant or his agent within the forum. Hunter-Hayes Elevator Co. v. Petroleum Club Inn Co., 77 N.M. 92, 419 P.2d 465 (1966).

To subject a defendant to in personam jurisdiction if he is not within the state, there must be certain "minimum contacts" with the state, so that the maintenance of the suit does not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972).

Test to meet federal due process in order to subject a defendant to a judgment in personam when he is not present in the forum is that defendant must have certain minimum contacts with forum such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend "traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice." McIntosh v. Navaro Seed Co., 81 N.M. 302, 466 P.2d 868 (1970).

This section relates to the "minimum contacts" with New Mexico which are required to constitute the transaction of business within this state, and it is the transaction of such business within the state which makes the exercise of in personam jurisdiction under this section consistent with "traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice" and secures unto the defendant his constitutional right to due process. Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

Insofar as the acquisition of long-arm jurisdiction under this section is concerned, the "transaction of business" is equated with the due process standard of "minimum contacts" sufficient to satisfy the "traditional conception of fair play and substantial justice" announced in International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310, 66 S. Ct. 154, 90 L. Ed. 95 (1945). Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

Doing or transacting business is doing a series of similar acts for the purpose of thereby realizing pecuniary benefit, or otherwise accomplishing an object, or doing a single act for such purpose with the intention of thereby initiating a series of such acts.

Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975); Plumbers Specialty Supply Co. v. Enterprise Prod. Co., 96 N.M. 517, 632 P.2d 752 (Ct. App. 1981).

Or single act. - This section refers to "any transaction of business" and a single transaction negotiated, or to be performed, within the forum can be sufficient contact. McIntosh v. Navaro Seed Co., 81 N.M. 302, 466 P.2d 868 (1970).

Whether or not party did transact business within the contemplation of this section must be determined by the facts in each case. Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

In order to subject a defendant to a judgment in personam, if he not be present within the territory of the forum, he must have certain minimum contacts with it such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend "traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice," and what determines whether the defendant has sufficient contact to satisfy this test must be decided case by case. Hunter-Hayes Elevator Co. v. Petroleum Club Inn Co., 77 N.M. 92, 419 P.2d 465 (1966).

Factors determining "transaction of any business". - Various factors are relevant in determining whether a nonresident defendant transacted any business within the state, including, the voluntariness of the defendant's contact with the state, the nature of the transaction, the applicability of New Mexico law, the contemplation of the parties, and the location of likely witnesses. Kathrein v. Parkview Meadows, Inc., 102 N.M. 75, 691 P.2d 462 (1984).

Presence of subsidiary not enough for jurisdiction over foreign corporation. - A foreign corporation is not subject to the jurisdiction of a forum state merely because its subsidiary is present or doing business there, where subsidiary was separately controlled and could not be considered the alter ego or agent of the foreign corporation. Allen v. Toshiba Corp., 599 F. Supp. 381 (D.N.M. 1984).

No personal jurisdiction over defendants who send bills to residents. - New Mexico lacks personal jurisdiction over out-of-state defendants who send statements for payment of medical services rendered, which statements are received by plaintiffs in New Mexico. Tarango v. Pastrana, 94 N.M. 727, 616 P.2d 440 (Ct. App. 1980).

Nor over doctors where plaintiff claims out-of-state treatment. - New Mexico lacks personal jurisdiction over defendant doctors who have never conducted activities within New Mexico, where the basis of plaintiff's claim is her unilateral activity (medical treatment) in defendants' state of residence. Tarango v. Pastrana, 94 N.M. 727, 616 P.2d 440 (Ct. App. 1980).

Out-of-state advertiser establishes "minimum contact". - A nonresident defendant who solicits business for his benefit by advertising in a trade magazine in the forum state as a result of which he sells his merchandise to be used in the forum state establishes a "minimum contact." Moore v. Graves, 99 N.M. 129, 654 P.2d 582 (Ct. App. 1982).

Voluntary intercourse is not "tortious act" for jurisdictional purposes. - Voluntary intercourse between two consenting adults is not a "tortious act," within Subsection A(3), so as to give a court jurisdiction over a nonresident putative father in a paternity action. State ex rel. Garcia v. Dayton, 102 N.M. 327, 695 P.2d 477 (1985).

Subsection A(5) is inapplicable in paternity action against nonresident putative father because New Mexico does not recognize a common-law marriage. State ex rel. Garcia v. Dayton, 102 N.M. 327, 695 P.2d 477 (1985).

Place of execution of contract factor in making determination. - The place of execution of the contract, although a circumstance to be considered in determining whether or not a person is transacting business in this state within the contemplation of this section, is not a controlling, an essential or even a highly significant fact in making this determination. Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

As is solicitation of orders. - The statutory language of 53-17-1 NMSA 1978, dealing with the solicitation of orders as not constituting transaction of business within New Mexico, is for "purposes of the Business Corporation Act," and not for testing jurisdiction under this section. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972).

Acts held to constitute transaction of business. - Where defendant agreed in New Mexico to sell a judgment against a New Mexico corporation, received the initial payment in state and was assigned a mortgage to secure the deferred payments, he transacted business within the meaning of this section. Melfi v. Goodman, 69 N.M. 488, 368 P.2d 582 (1962).

Where nonresident defendants transacted business in New Mexico by executing promissory notes secured by a mortgage deed executed in Oklahoma, which created a lien upon land located in New Mexico, the proceeds from which notes were to be used for the construction of a building in New Mexico, and defendants were physically present in New Mexico from time to time in negotiating these notes, the defendants were subject to the jurisdiction of New Mexico courts, although served with process outside the state of New Mexico, in accordance with this section as the facts were sufficient contacts with New Mexico to constitute the transaction of business therein. Hunter-Hayes Elevator Co. v. Petroleum Club Inn Co., 77 N.M. 92, 419 P.2d 465 (1966).

The regular distribution plan of nonresident magazine publisher with the commercial benefit to the nonresident defendant which he derived from the sale of magazines was sufficient contact to satisfy the requirements of due process and subject the defendants to the jurisdiction of New Mexico courts. Blount v. TD Publishing Corp., 77 N.M. 384, 423 P.2d 421 (1966).

Where Texas corporation's agent contacted plaintiff by telephone about buying grain and then came into New Mexico and took grain samples and returned them to Texas for testing, sent a truck into New Mexico for a load of the grain, and the agent who had negotiated the deal for the Texas corporation operated one of the trucks in returning the grain from New Mexico to the corporation's place of business in Texas, Texas corporation was subject to personal jurisdiction of New Mexico courts. McIntosh v. Navaro Seed Co., 81 N.M. 302, 466 P.2d 868 (1970).

The actions of defendant in having plaintiff solicit orders, make delivery to purchasers, advertise its products through plaintiff and pay plaintiff wages and commissions within the state of New Mexico constituted the transaction of business within the meaning of this section. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972).

Where evidence shows that California corporate manufacturer solicited a New Mexico corporate dealer's business and carried on an ongoing business relationship with that dealer by supplying goods bearing dealer's private label on a regular basis, the "doing business" ground for jurisdiction of New Mexico courts over the manufacturer is met. Plumbers Specialty Supply Co. v. Enterprise Prod. Co., 96 N.M. 517, 632 P.2d 752 (Ct. App. 1981).

A nonresident alcoholism treatment center's general solicitation of referrals and advertising in phone directory in New Mexico and its invitation to New Mexican plaintiff to attend center's "Family Week" where plaintiff's husband was attending treatment program as a result of an earlier solicitation in New Mexico were sufficient to constitute "transaction of any business" for New Mexican courts to exercise jurisdiction over defendant in personal injury action against defendant resulting from plaintiff's visit to defendant's facilities. Kathrein v. Parkview Meadows, Inc., 102 N.M. 75, 691 P.2d 462 (1984).

Texas museum's activities in New Mexico - soliciting the devise of a photography collection, negotiating the terms of the collection's maintenance and exhibition, traveling to New Mexico to take possession of the collection, and invoking the benefits of New Mexico's laws of testamentary disposition manifested a purposeful intent to conduct business in New Mexico. Benally v. Amon Carter Museum of W. Art, 858 F.2d 618 (10th Cir. 1988).

Insureds' purchase of an insurance policy in New Mexico constituted a transaction of business in New Mexico, for purposes of a declaratory judgment action to determine uninsured motorist coverage. State Farm Mut. Ins. Co. v. Conyers, 109 N.M. 243, 784 P.2d 986 (1989).

Acts held not to constitute transaction of business. - A resident of California, who allegedly executed an "authorization to obtain loan" contract with plaintiff, New Mexico mortgage investment broker, and who had not even been in New Mexico for the past 10 years, did not transact business within New Mexico and thereby submit himself to the jurisdiction of the New Mexico courts under the provisions of this section. Telephonic, Inc. v. Rosenblum, 88 N.M. 532, 543 P.2d 825 (1975).

It would be neither fair nor just to subject defendant to a judgment in personam on the basis of three payments owed on a business account which were mailed into this state, as these contacts are not the requisite minimum contacts to satisfy due process requirements. Diamond A Cattle Co. v. Broadbent, 84 N.M. 469, 505 P.2d 64 (1973).

Where Ohio auto dealer, doing no business in New Mexico, sold car to Ohio resident who later moved to New Mexico, and dealer assigned the sales contract to a national financing company with a New Mexico division, insufficient minimum contacts existed for New Mexico to exercise personal jurisdiction over Ohio dealer. Swindle v. GMAC, 101 N.M. 126, 679 P.2d 268 (Ct. App. 1984).

Defendant's contacts in New Mexico were insufficient to constitute a transaction of business within the state where the only contact made by the defendant, a construction company incorporated in Nevada and awarded a contract to build a large house in Nevada, consisted of its mailing of a purchase order to plaintiff in New Mexico pursuant to a prearranged agreement between the plaintiff and other parties. Customwood Mfg., Inc. v. Downey Constr. Co., 102 N.M. 56, 691 P.2d 57 (1984).

Nonresident parent's support of resident minor children is not transacting business within the meaning of the long-arm statute. Fox v. Fox, 103 N.M. 155, 703 P.2d 932 (Ct. App. 1985).

Where the research and development by nonresident defendants of radioactive seeds for the treatment of cancer was not in any way connected to the state, the fact that some companies within the state received some financial assistance from the defendants and that information disseminated by the defendants fortuitously found its way into the state could not form the basis for the assertion of personal jurisdiction over the defendants. Jones v. 3M Co., 107 F.R.D. 202 (D.N.M. 1984).

The record failed to establish that a Colorado petroleum equipment company had sufficient minimum contacts with New Mexico to invest the state with in personam jurisdiction over it, either on the basis of its transaction of business or the commission of a tortious act, where the company was a secondary distributor, had not pursued a policy of purposeful business activity in the state and its contacts were minimal, did not purposefully cause an allegedly defective hose to be shipped into New Mexico, did not engage in a nationwide sales or distribution scheme, maintained no property or agents in the state, did not engage in business in New Mexico, and solicited no business nor made any direct sales in New Mexico. Visarraga v. Gates Rubber Co., 104 N.M. 143, 717 P.2d 596 (Ct. App.), writ quashed, 104 N.M. 137, 717 P.2d 590 (1986).

A Colorado doctor did not purposefully initiate activity in this state, thus invoking the benefits and protections of New Mexico laws, where he did return plaintiff's telephone call concerning plaintiff's daughter to a telephone number in New Mexico, but only after a doctor-patient relationship had been established in Colorado, and after plaintiff had left a message and request with the doctor's answering service. This single telephone call lacked the purposefulness of defendant's contact which is demanded by due process in order to invest a court in New Mexico with personal jurisdiction over the Colorado doctor's clinic. Valley Wide Health Servs., Inc. v. Graham, 106 N.M. 71, 738 P.2d 1316 (1987).

It would offend fair play and substantial justice to subject an out-of-state nonresident defendant to suit in New Mexico where the defendant's only contact with New Mexico was mailing two documents and making a telephone call into the state, and where these contacts arose in the context of an essentially out-of-state transaction. Salas v. Homestake Enters., Inc., 106 N.M. 344, 742 P.2d 1049 (1987).

Connecticut defendant's use of the mails and telephone in contacting New Mexico plaintiff, in response to plaintiffs' solicitations of business in Connecticut, and in subsequently purchasing a computer system from plaintiffs, were not sufficient "minimum contacts" to constitute the required jurisdictional nexus. Wesley v. H & D Wireless Ltd. Partnership, 678 F. Supp. 1540 (D.N.M. 1987).

Act outside state causing injury within state. - When negligent acts occur outside New Mexico which cause injury within New Mexico, a "tortious act" has been committed within this state. Roberts v. Piper Aircraft Corp., 100 N.M. 363, 670 P.2d 974 (Ct. App. 1983).

Situs of tortious act. - Where, although the negligent implantation of an intrauterine contraceptive device occurred in California, plaintiff developed complications in New Mexico, because a tort is not complete until the injury occurs, the place of injury determines where the tort occurs, and thus, the tortious act was committed in New Mexico, and the patient's negligence and battery causes of action against the physician, and the respondeat superior and negligent supervision claims against his employer, the board of regents of the University of California, arose from the alleged commission of a "tortious act" in New Mexico. Beh v. Ostergard, 657 F. Supp. 173 (D.N.M. 1987).

For facts which show sufficient minimum contacts conferring in personam jurisdiction, see Barker v. Barker, 94 N.M. 162, 608 P.2d 138 (1980).

Section gives jurisdiction to grant a divorce, but does not mention child custody, nor is child custody implied as an incident of divorce. Worland v. Worland, 89 N.M. 291, 551 P.2d 981 (1976).

And personal jurisdiction to award attorney's fees, costs and travel costs cannot be based on this section. Worland v. Worland, 89 N.M. 291, 551 P.2d 981 (1976).

Question whether claims arise from activities subjecting defendant to jurisdiction of state must be decided on case-by-case basis. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972).

Cause of action held to arise from acts subjecting defendant to jurisdiction of state. - Any dispute arising out of payment to the agent for services in representing the defendant's business transactions in New Mexico would be within the wake of defendant's commercial activity. Plaintiff's claim, therefore, was one arising from the transaction of business within New Mexico. Winward v. Holly Creek Mills, Inc., 83 N.M. 469, 493 P.2d 954 (1972).

Where cause of action is based on sale of a majority stock ownership in a New Mexico corporation, in violation of an agreement made in New Mexico with a citizen of New Mexico, this would satisfy the requirements of this section. Pope v. Lydick Roofing Co., 81 N.M. 661, 472 P.2d 375 (1970).

Manner of service of process. - Although substituted service is not explicitly provided for in this section, the legislature's purpose in adopting the statute was to permit service of process on out-of-state persons in the same manner as process may be served upon residents of the state. The procedure for service of process in New Mexico, outlined in the rules of civil procedure, applies to actions which are brought under this section. Vann Tool Co. v. Grace, 90 N.M. 544, 566 P.2d 93 (1977).

Substituted service was insufficient to grant jurisdiction where defendants testified that they no longer lived at the residence where service was posted, and where there was no return of service indicating that the questioned address was defendants' "usual place of abode" to rebut that testimony. Vann Tool Co. v. Grace, 90 N.M. 544, 566 P.2d 93 (1977).

Service of process on New Mexico driver by serving a copy of the summons, complaint and court order upon the driver by an Arizona sheriff was valid under this section. Crawford v. Refiners Coop. Ass'n, 71 N.M. 1, 375 P.2d 212 (1962).

Preemption by federal law. - District court jurisdiction in ex-wife's case seeking declaration of her interest in husband's military retirement pay could not be predicated on this section since it was preempted by federal law. Sparks v. Caldwell, 104 N.M. 475, 723 P.2d 244 (1986).

38-1-18. Agent for service of process.

Any foreign corporation, foreign bank or foreign real estate trust without being admitted to do business in this state, may loan money in this state only on real estate mortgages, deeds of trust and notes in connection therewith, and take, acquire, hold and enforce the notes, mortgages or deeds of trust given to represent or secure money so loaned or for other lawful consideration. All such notes, mortgages or deeds of trust taken, acquired or held are enforceable as though the foreign corporation, foreign bank or foreign real estate trust were an individual, including the right to acquire the mortgaged property upon foreclosure or under other provisions of the mortgage or deed of trust, and to dispose of the same. Any such corporation, bank or trust except banks and institutions whose shares, certificates or deposit accounts are insured by an agency or corporation of the United States government shall first file with the secretary of state a statement, signed by its president, secretary, treasurer or general manager, that it constitutes the secretary of state its agent for the service of process for cases limited to, and arising out of, such financial transactions, including therein the address of its principal place of business. Upon such service of process, the secretary of state shall forthwith forward all documents by registered or certified mail to the principal place of business of the corporation, bank or trust. Nothing in this section authorizes any such corporation, bank or trust to transact the business of a bank or trust company in this state.

II. TRANSITORY ACTIONS GENERALLY.

Compiler's notes. - The 1915 Code compilers deleted from the end of Subsection A: "Provided, That if suit is brought against any defendant out of the county but within the judicial district in which he resides, process shall be personally served on such defendant not less than fifteen days before the first day of the term to which the process shall be returnable, and if brought in any judicial district other than that in which the defendant or either of them resides, process shall be served on such defendant or defendants not less than thirty days before the first day of the term to which said process may be returnable."

When there are two plaintiffs in a lawsuit action may be brought in the county in which either of them resides. Torres v. Gamble, 75 N.M. 741, 410 P.2d 959 (1966).

Where transitory action is brought against more than one defendant, the residence of one of these defendants will determine the venue of an action against all if such party is essential to the action and has not been joined merely for the purpose of bringing the action in the county of his abode. Teaver v. Miller, 53 N.M. 345, 208 P.2d 156 (1949).

Venue of a transitory action in the nature of quo warranto may be in the county of residence of either plaintiff or defendant. State ex rel. Parsons Mining Co. v. McClure, 17 N.M. 694, 133 P. 1063 (1913).

Action in the nature of quo warranto in intrusion into office proceeding is governed by this section and must be brought in the county where the intrusion took place. State ex rel. Hannett v. District Court, 30 N.M. 300, 233 P. 1002 (1925).

Action by nonresident. - Where, at the time of the filing of a medical malpractice action, plaintiff no longer resided in New Mexico, under Subsection A she was required to file suit either in the county where the defendant actually resided, or where the cause of action originated, or in some other county of the judicial district wherein defendant could be actually served with a copy of the complaint and summons. Hamby v. Gonzales, 105 N.M. 778, 737 P.2d 559 (Ct. App. 1987).

The term "transitory", as used in Subsection A, does not evidence an intent by the legislature to permit a nonresident plaintiff, in her discretion, to select any county within the same judicial district in which to properly file her cause of action against the defendant. Hamby v. Gonzales, 105 N.M. 778, 737 P.2d 559 (Ct. App. 1987).

Waiver of venue. - See Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973).

Action by environmental improvement division. - An action by which the environmental improvement division sought an administrative warrant for inspection under the Hazardous Waste Act, Chapter 74, Article 4 NMSA 1978, is a transitory action and venue is controlled by Subsection A of this section, which allows an action to be brought in a county where the plaintiff resides. New Mexico Envtl. Imp. Div. v. Climax Chem. Co., 105 N.M. 439, 733 P.2d 1322 (Ct. App. 1987).

Venue held proper. - Where civil suit was filed in one county of the judicial district in which defendant resided, but defendant resided in adjoining county, defendant was properly "found in the county" within the meaning of this subsection when, after being informed by sheriff of county where suit was filed that he was to be served with "papers," he drove into that county and picked up the papers. Empire Fire & Marine Ins. Co. v. Lee, 86 N.M. 739, 527 P.2d 502 (Ct. App. 1974).

Venue held improper. - Where suit is between two parties resident in the same county, and arises out of a contract for the sale of real estate made and executed and to be performed in that county, venue is improper when the suit is brought in the county in which the real estate is located. Rito Cebolla Invs., Ltd. v. Golden W. Land Corp., 94 N.M. 121, 607 P.2d 659 (Ct. App. 1980).

III. ACTIONS UPON LIABILITIES ARISING FROM CRIMINAL ACTS.

Venue in wrongful death action between nonresidents. - See State ex rel. Appleby v. District Court, 46 N.M. 376, 129 P.2d 338 (1942).

IV. ACTIONS INVOLVING LAND OR INTERESTS IN LAND GENERALLY.

Suit for foreclosure of mortgage on real estate. - Venue of suit for the foreclosure of a mortgage on real estate is determined by this section as the county in which the land is situated. Riverside Irrigation Co. v. Cadwell, 21 N.M. 666, 158 P. 644 (1916).

Suit to redeem lands from sale under decree of court must be brought in the county where the lands are situate. Catron v. Gallup Fire Brick Co., 34 N.M. 45, 277 P. 32 (1929), overruled on other grounds Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973).

Action to compel execution of conveyance by grantees of land. - Subsection D applies to a suit to compel grantees of land to execute conveyances vesting title in judgment debtor so as to permit plaintiff to obtain execution on judgment. Atler v. Stolz, 38 N.M. 529, 37 P.2d 243 (1934), overruled on other grounds Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973).

Injunction to prohibit issuance of deed. - Venue is in the county in which the real estate involved is located when a party seeks an injunction to prohibit another from obtaining a special warranty deed, and also seeks recision of the real estate contract. Naumburg v. Cummins, 98 N.M. 274, 648 P.2d 313 (1982).

Where land involved in suit was originally a part of one county, but, by various legislative enactments changing the boundaries of counties and creating new counties, it had come to be within the limits of another county, the suit was properly brought within that other county. Bent v. Maxwell Land Grant & Ry., 3 N.M. (Gild.) 227, 3 P. 721 (1884).

Where petition for intervention asserted entitlement to 1/8th interest in oil and gas lease, the suit was one in which an interest in lands was the object within the meaning of this section. Heath v. Gray, 58 N.M. 665, 274 P.2d 620 (1954).

Action for damages for and injunction restraining further cutting of trees on land. - While suit for damages for cutting trees on land would be maintainable in county other than that in which the land was situate, where the complaint also sought injunction against further cutting of trees, and to restrain defendant from claiming any interest in the land, it involved an interest in the land, and was maintainable only in the county in which the land was situate. Jemez Land Co. v. Garcia, 15 N.M. 316, 107 P. 683 (1910), overruled on other grounds Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973).

Declaratory action by city against village to determine authority over subdivision, platting and zoning of certain lands. - Venue in a declaratory suit by the city of Albuquerque against the village of Corrales and its mayor, to secure a determination of the city's authority over the subdivision, platting and zoning of lands lying within Bernalillo county within five miles of the city's boundary, should have been laid in adjoining Sandoval county where Corrales maintained all of its municipal offices and wherein all the territory it encompassed lay, except for lands which it had purportedly annexed, in Bernalillo county; the subdivision, platting and zoning authority of Albuquerque over the land in question was not an interest in land within the contemplation of Subsection D(1) of this section and the applicable venue statute was 38-3-2 NMSA 1978. City of Albuquerque v. Village of Corrales, 88 N.M. 185, 539 P.2d 205 (1975).

Waiver of venue. - See Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973).

V. ACTIONS FOR TRESPASS UPON LAND.

Waiver of venue. - See Kalosha v. Novick, 84 N.M. 502, 505 P.2d 845 (1973)See also; Heron v. Gaylor, 53 N.M. 44, 201 P.2d 366 (1948).

VI. ACTIONS AGAINST TRANSIENTS OR NONRESIDENTS.

Foreign corporations are nonresidents. - Under the plain and unambiguous language of Subsection F, foreign corporations are considered nonresidents of this state for the purpose of venue. Aetna Fin. Co. v. Gutierrez, 96 N.M. 538, 632 P.2d 1176 (1981).

Wrongful death action between nonresidents. - An action for wrongful death, due to an automobile accident, being transitory in character, may be brought anywhere in the state when both plaintiff and defendant are nonresidents. State ex rel. Appleby v. District Court, 46 N.M. 376, 129 P.2d 338 (1942).

Action upon contract against nonresident. - Although this section provides that suit can be brought where a contract was made or to be performed, the section also provides that a suit can be brought against a nonresident in any county of the state. Valley Country Club, Inc. v. Mender, 64 N.M. 59, 323 P.2d 1099 (1958).

VII. ACTIONS AGAINST STATE OFFICERS.

The legislature has expressly localized suits against state officers by virtue of this section. Tudesque v. New Mexico State Bd. of Barber Exmrs., 65 N.M. 42, 331 P.2d 1104 (1958).

The legislature intended that actions against state officers be brought in Santa Fe county and not elsewhere. State ex rel. State Hwy. Comm'n v. Quesenberry, 74 N.M. 30, 390 P.2d 273 (1964).

The words "state officers" as used in Subsection G of this section does not mean merely the executive department heads elected by the people and as recognized under the constitution, but includes incumbents of offices created by the legislature. Pollack v. Montoya, 55 N.M. 390, 234 P.2d 336 (1951)See also; Lacy v. Silva, 84 N.M. 43, 499 P.2d 361, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 37, 499 P.2d 355 (1972).

Persons and bodies deemed state officers. - The bureau of revenue is a state officer since it is charged with the administration and enforcement of the revenue laws through its commissioner of revenue. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue v. MacPherson, 79 N.M. 272, 442 P.2d 584 (1968), overruled on other grounds New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

The board of barber examiners, with statutory situs in Santa Fe, has been clothed by the legislature with powers and duties of statewide scope, the exercise of which involve some portion of the governmental power. Hence the board itself, as well as its component members, is a state officer as such within the meaning of Subsection G of this section. Tudesque v. New Mexico State Bd. of Barber Exmrs., 65 N.M. 42, 331 P.2d 1104 (1958).

The commissioner of revenue is a state officer. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue v. MacPherson, 79 N.M. 272, 442 P.2d 584 (1968), overruled on other grounds New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

Sovereign power is clearly vested in the office of the commissioner of revenue and this office is therefore a state office. Lacy v. Silva, 84 N.M. 43, 499 P.2d 361 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 84 N.M. 37, 499 P.2d 355 (1972).

A district director of revenue is not autonomous and is not independent, therefore, sovereign power has not been vested with the district director either by the legislature or by the commissioner pursuant to legislative authority and absent a vesting of sovereign power in the district director, he is not an "officer" within the meaning of Subsection G of this section. Lacy v. Silva, 84 N.M. 43, 499 P.2d 361 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 84 N.M. 37, 499 P.2d 355 (1972).

Chief of division of liquor control (now director of department of alcoholic beverage control) is a state officer within terms of Subsection G of this section requiring civil actions brought against state officers to be brought in the county where the office is located. Pollack v. Montoya, 55 N.M. 390, 234 P.2d 336 (1951).

State highway commissioners are state officers within the meaning of this statute. Jones v. New Mexico State Hwy. Dep't, 92 N.M. 671, 593 P.2d 1074 (1979).

Section applicable to actions against state officers for acts committed while purporting to act within scope of official authority or capacity. - Statutes which prescribe venue for suits against state officers, for acts done by virtue of their office, control suits for acts done by them while purporting to act within the scope of authority or official capacity. Allen v. McClellan, 77 N.M. 801, 427 P.2d 677 (1967), overruled on other grounds New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

Where it was not asserted that alleged wrongful acts were committed by defendants while purporting to act within the scope of their official authority or capacity, the provisions of this section were not applicable. Allen v. McClellan, 77 N.M. 801, 427 P.2d 677 (1967), overruled on other grounds New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

Where plaintiff's claim was that the conduct of the district director of revenue which gave rise to the filing of the criminal complaint was entirely outside the scope of his employment with the state of New Mexico and plaintiff sought damages only against the district director and on the basis of acts outside the scope of his employment, this section was not applicable. Lacy v. Silva, 84 N.M. 43, 499 P.2d 361 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 84 N.M. 37, 499 P.2d 355 (1972).

Including injunctive proceedings against state officers. - See Allen v. McClellan, 77 N.M. 801, 427 P.2d 677 (1967), overruled on other grounds New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

But not to mandamus proceedings against state officers. - See State ex rel. State Hwy. Comm'n v. Quesenberry, 74 N.M. 30, 390 P.2d 273 (1964).

Section inapplicable to action for release of funds held by department. - An action for the release of funds held by the human services department pursuant to a court order is not a "suit against a state officer" but is an exercise by a court of its continuing jurisdiction; thus, this section is inapplicable. Guerra v. New Mexico Human Servs. Dep't, 96 N.M. 608, 633 P.2d 716 (Ct. App. 1981).

Section requires only venue be proper when action is commenced. Valdez v. Ballenger, 91 N.M. 785, 581 P.2d 1280 (1978).

Suits against state officers may be brought in Santa Fe county, where the capital is located. Jacobs v. Stratton, 94 N.M. 665, 615 P.2d 982 (1980).

Subsection G is not jurisdictional; prior cases so holding are overruled. New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

As venue should not be equated with jurisdiction in suits against state, its officers or employees. New Mexico Livestock Bd. v. Dose, 94 N.M. 68, 607 P.2d 606 (1980).

Applicability of Subsection G to state educational institutions. - This section, not 41-4-18 NMSA 1978, the venue provision of the Tort Claims Act, applies to all tort actions brought against state educational institutions or employees thereof. Clothier v. Lopez, 103 N.M. 593, 711 P.2d 870 (1985).

38-3-1.1. Jurisdiction of district courts.

All district courts have jurisdiction to review the action of any executive branch, agency or department in those cases in which a statute provides for judicial review.

History: Laws 1988, ch. 8, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Emergency clauses. - Laws 1988, ch. 8, § 3 makes the act effective immediately. Approved February 18, 1988.

38-3-2. [Actions against municipality or board of county commissioners.]

All civil actions not otherwise required by law to be brought in the district court of Santa Fe county, wherein any municipality or board of county commissioners is a party defendant, shall be instituted only in the district court of the county in which such municipality is located, or for which such board of county commissioners is acting.

History: Laws 1939, ch. 85, § 1; 1941 Comp., § 19-502; 1953 Comp., § 21-5-2.

ANNOTATIONS

Section is one fixing venue and not jurisdiction. State ex rel. Board of County Comm'rs v. Board of County Comm'rs, 59 N.M. 9, 277 P.2d 960 (1954).

Declaratory action by city against village to determine authority over subdivision, platting and zoning of certain lands. - Venue in a declaratory suit by the city of Albuquerque against the village of Corrales and its mayor, to secure a determination of the city's authority over the subdivision, platting and zoning of lands lying within Bernalillo county within five miles of the city's boundary should have been laid in adjoining Sandoval county, where Corrales maintained all of its municipal offices and wherein all the territory it encompassed lay, except for lands which it had purportedly annexed, in Bernalillo county; the subdivision, platting and zoning authority of Albuquerque over the land in question was not an interest in land within the contemplation of Subsection D(1) of 38-3-1 NMSA 1978 and the applicable venue statute was this section. City of Albuquerque v. Village of Corrales, 88 N.M. 185, 539 P.2d 205 (1975).

38-3-3. Change of venue in civil and criminal cases.

A. The venue in all civil and criminal cases shall be changed, upon motion, to some county free from exception:

(1) whenever the judge is interested in the result of the case, or is related to, or has been counsel for any of the parties; or

(2) when the party moving for a change files in the case an affidavit of himself, his agent or attorney, that he believes he cannot obtain a fair trial in the county in which the case is pending because:

(a) the adverse party has undue influence over the minds of the inhabitants of the county; or

(b) the inhabitants of the county are prejudiced against the party; or

(c) because of public excitement or local prejudice in the county in regard to the case or the questions involved therein, an impartial jury cannot be obtained in the county to try the case; or

(d) any other cause stated in the affidavit.

B. Any party in any civil or criminal case at issue who desires a change of venue from the county in which the case is pending, and who objects to a change of venue to any other county within the same judicial district for any of the grounds stated in Subsection A of this section shall move for a change of venue on or before the first day of any regular or special term of court.

C. If the motion for change of venue is filed in vacation, five days' notice of the time and place of presenting the motion must be given to the opposite party or his attorney.

History: Laws 1929, ch. 60, § 1; C.S. 1929, § 147-105; 1941 Comp., § 19-503; 1953 Comp., § 21-5-3; Laws 1965, ch. 187, § 1.

Power of trial court to order change of venue upon own motion. - A trial court, in a proper case and in the exercise of its discretion, has the power to order a change of venue sua sponte. This power existed at common law and the common law is the rule of practice and decision in New Mexico. Valdez v. State, 83 N.M. 720, 497 P.2d 231, cert. denied, 409 U.S. 1077, 93 S. Ct. 694, 34 L. Ed. 2d 666 (1972).

Court not to change venue of misfiled suit. - Absent a statute giving it such authority, a trial court has no power to change the venue of a misfiled lawsuit. Jones v. New Mexico State Hwy. Dep't, 92 N.M. 671, 593 P.2d 1074 (1979).

Change of venue over objection of defendant in criminal case. - The venue of a criminal case may be changed on application of the state, even over the objection of the defendant, where public excitement and local prejudice would prevent a fair trial. App. 1969), cert. denied, 398 U.S. 904, 90 S. Ct. 1692, 26 L. Ed. 2d 62 (1970); State v. Tapia, 81 N.M. 365, 467 P.2d 31 (Ct. App. 1970).

Procedure required upon motion generally. - When requisite motion to change venue is made, the venue must be changed or, in the alternative, the court may require evidence in its support; if a hearing is had thereon, it is the duty of the court to determine the question by its findings. State v. Fernandez, 56 N.M. 689, 248 P.2d 679 (1952).

The provisions of this section are mandatory when the prescribed steps have been taken, unless evidence is called for. The mandatory provisions become discretionary once additional evidence is requested. State v. Turner, 90 N.M. 79, 559 P.2d 1206 (Ct. App. 1976), cert. denied, 90 N.M. 9, 558 P.2d 621 (1977).

Procedure when motion based upon ground of interest of judge. - This section and 38-3-5 NMSA 1978 do not require any evidence in support of the motion for change of venue when based upon the interest of the judge, and dispense with any findings by the judge upon that question. State ex rel. Hannah v. Armijo, 38 N.M. 73, 28 P.2d 511 (1933)See also 38-3-9 and 38-3-10 NMSA 1978.

Responsive pleading to motion not required. - In the absence of statutory requirement no answer or other pleading is required to a motion for change of venue.aff'd sub nom. State v. Montoya, 80 N.M. 64, 451 P.2d 557 (Ct. App. 1968); Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

There is no statutory requirement for filing of a responsive pleading to a motion for change of venue, and the state's failure to controvert the motion cannot be made the basis for concluding that movant is entitled to a change of venue as a matter of law.aff'd sub nom. State v. Montoya, 80 N.M. 64, 451 P.2d 557 (Ct. App. 1968); Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

Burden of proof when a motion and affidavit are submitted for a change of venue remains on the moving party and, when evidence is produced, that evidence must be persuasive of the probability that a fair trial cannot be obtained in the county where the cause is pending. Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

The mere fact no counter-evidence was presented by the state in response to motion for change of venue furnished no basis for a holding that movant was entitled to a change of venue as a matter of law since the burden of proof on the removal motion was on movant.aff'd sub nom. State v. Montoya, 80 N.M. 64, 451 P.2d 557 (Ct. App. 1968); Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1977).

Exposure of venire members to publicity about a case by itself does not establish prejudice or create a presumption of prejudice. State v. Chamberlain, 112 N.M. 723, 819 P.2d 673 (1991).

Sufficiency of showing of grounds for change of venue. - This section does not mean that it must be conclusively shown that it is impossible to have a fair trial in the county where the venue is laid, but it is sufficient to show a reasonable apprehension that the defendant will not secure a fair trial or that the jury is under an influence inimical to the accused. State v. Alaniz, 55 N.M. 312, 232 P.2d 982 (1951); McCauley v. Ray, 80 N.M. 171, 453 P.2d 192 (1968).

Numerous newspaper articles and radio and television stories wherein an accused was mentioned, without more, did not necessarily establish prejudice or such public excitement as would make a fair trial impossible, and a change of venue necessary. Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

Failure to request specific findings upon motion precludes appellate review. - Though a defendant moves for change of venue in murder trial, if he does not request specific findings with reference thereto from the trial court, denial of the motion is not open for appellate review. State v. Fernandez, 56 N.M. 689, 248 P.2d 679 (1952).

Standard of appellate review. - An order of a district court denying a motion for a change of venue will not be reversed by the supreme court unless the record shows an abuse of discretion. State v. Ancheta, 20 N.M. 19, 145 P. 1086 (1915); Territory v. Cheney, 16 N.M. 476, 120 P. 335 (1911).

Findings made on a motion to change venue will not be disturbed upon review unless it appears from the evidence that the trial court acted unfairly and committed palpable abuse of discretion. State v. Fernandez, 56 N.M. 689, 248 P.2d 679 (1952).

An appellate court will reverse a trial court's denial of a motion for change of venue only when it is shown that the trial court acted unfairly or committed a palpable abuse of discretion. McCauley v. Ray, 80 N.M. 171, 453 P.2d 192 (1968).

The determination, as to whether a change of venue should be granted after a hearing on a motion rests in the sound discretion of the trial court, and this determination will not be disturbed on appeal absent a showing of abuse of this discretion and the burden of showing such an abuse rests on the movant. State v. Rushing, 85 N.M. 540, 514 P.2d 297 (1973).

The trial court possesses broad discretion in ruling on motions to change venue, and the supreme court will not disturb its decision absent a showing of an abuse of that discretion. State v. Chamberlain, 112 N.M. 723, 819 P.2d 673 (1991).

Burden of showing abuse of discretion. - The burden to show an abuse of discretion in the case of a ruling on a motion for change of venue lies with the movant. State v. Chamberlain, 112 N.M. 723, 819 P.2d 673 (1991).

Motion properly denied. - Trial court did not abuse its discretion in denying oral request for change of venue where defendant presented no evidence indicating that she was deprived of a fair and impartial jury. State v. Wynne, 108 N.M. 134, 767 P.2d 373 (Ct. App. 1988).

Denial of motion held error. - Where defendant filed a proper motion for change of venue showing circumstances whereunder he could not obtain fair trial, such charges not being controverted, trial court committed prejudicial error in not sustaining his motion for it. State v. Alaniz, 55 N.M. 312, 232 P.2d 982 (1951).

Where motion for a change of venue was timely filed in the form and substance required by 38-3-3 NMSA 1978, the trial court could require a hearing thereon, and where no hearing was held, denial of the motion was reversible error. State v. Childers, 78 N.M. 355, 431 P.2d 497 (Ct. App. 1967).

The mere fact no counter-evidence was presented by the state in response to motion for change of venue furnished no basis for a holding that movant was entitled to a change of venue as a matter of law since the burden of proof on the removal motion was on movant.aff'd sub nom. State v. Montoya, 80 N.M. 64, 451 P.2d 557 (Ct. App. 1968); Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1977).

The burden of showing that the trial court abused its discretion in denying the motion for a change of venue is on the movant. Lopez v. Truckstops Corp. of Am., 105 N.M. 782, 737 P.2d 894 (Ct. App. 1987).

Process of determining whether or not the facts necessary for a change of venue exist is the same as that followed in determining any other fact in a case. McCauley v. Ray, 80 N.M. 171, 453 P.2d 192 (1968).

It is for the trial court to determine, on the basis of substantial evidence, whether there is a reasonable apprehension that a fair trial cannot be obtained. McCauley v. Ray, 80 N.M. 171, 453 P.2d 192 (1968).

Section requires the court to make findings of fact if there has been a hearing on a motion, but where there was no hearing on the motion, and the court ruled summarily, the court was not so required. State v. Shawan, 77 N.M. 354, 423 P.2d 39 (1967).

When evidence is required by the trial court in support of the motion for a change of venue, the court must make findings and decide the issue. Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

But failure to request specific findings upon motion precludes appellate review. - Though a defendant moves for change of venue in murder trial, if he does not request specific findings with reference thereto from the trial court, denial of the motion is not open for appellate review. State v. Fernandez, 56 N.M. 689, 248 P.2d 679 (1952).

Unless specific findings are requested, the absence of findings is waived. State v. Mosier, 83 N.M. 213, 490 P.2d 471 (Ct. App. 1971).

Findings made on a motion to change venue will not be disturbed upon review unless it appears from the evidence that the trial court acted unfairly and committed palpable abuse of discretion. State v. Fernandez, 56 N.M. 689, 248 P.2d 679 (1952).

A motion for change of venue which is disposed of after a hearing and upon stated findings will not be disturbed on appeal unless a clear abuse of the trial court's discretion can be shown. State v. Evans, 85 N.M. 47, 508 P.2d 1344 (Ct. App. 1973).

Denial of change of venue held not error. - The trial court did not abuse its discretion in denying a change of venue where substantial evidence existed for finding that residents of the county where the venue was had were not prejudiced against defendant and where no reasons were shown why defendant would not receive a fair and impartial trial in that county. State v. Jones, 52 N.M. 118, 192 P.2d 559 (1948).

Numerous newspaper articles and radio and television stories wherein an accused was mentioned, without more, did not necessarily establish prejudice or such public excitement as would make a fair trial impossible, and a change of venue necessary. Deats v. State, 80 N.M. 77, 451 P.2d 981 (1969).

38-3-7. County to which case may be removed.

In all cases where a change of venue is granted, the case shall be removed to another county within the same judicial district unless the remaining counties are subject to exception, or unless the change of venue is ordered upon any of the grounds relating to the judge. Under these circumstances, the case shall be removed to some county of the nearest judicial district which is free from exception.

Compiler's note. - When this section was enacted in 1889, it contained in the first sentence following "judicial district" the words "or to the district court of such judicial district sitting for the trial of cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, which court is hereby given jurisdiction to try and determine all cases so removed." In Lincoln-Lucky & Lee Mining Co. v. District Court, 7 N.M. 486, 38 P. 580 (1894), the territorial supreme court held this section "null and void insofar as it attempts to confer an abstract power upon a court which had been deprived by absolute legal statutory enactment as well as by necessary implication and operation of law, of jurisdiction in territorial causes." The basis was that under U.S. Rev. jurisdictions could be divided and by Laws 1889, ch. 6, they were divided, and only congress could restore the prior status to the court which it had created, and in addition that the section depended upon the Jury Act of 1889 (ch. 96) which had been held in conflict with the Springer Act and "fell with it." The section was included in its original form as Comp. Laws 1897, § 2883 and was not corrected until compiled in the Code of 1915.

When the venue in a criminal case is changed at the instance of the accused, he will not be heard to question its regularity after selecting for himself the place of trial. State v. Balles, 24 N.M. 16, 172 P. 196 (1918).

38-3-8. [Change after first term.]

No change of venue shall be allowed after the first term at which the party might have been heard, unless the causes upon which the motion is founded have intervened subsequent to such term.

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed filing for a change of venue by both the defendant and the state may be allowed under the provisions of this section. Valdez v. State, 83 N.M. 720, 497 P.2d 231, cert. denied, 409 U.S. 1077, 93 S. Ct. 694, 34 L. Ed. 2d 666 (1972).

38-3-9. Peremptory challenge to a district judge.

A party to an action or proceeding, civil or criminal, including proceedings for indirect criminal contempt arising out of oral or written publications, except actions or proceedings for constructive and other indirect contempt or direct contempt shall have the right to exercise a peremptory challenge to the district judge before whom the action or proceeding is to be tried and heard, whether he be the resident district judge or a district judge designated by the resident district judge, except by consent of the parties or their counsel. After the exercise of a peremptory challenge, that district judge shall proceed no further. Each party to an action or proceeding may excuse only one district judge pursuant to the provisions of this statute. In all actions brought under the Workmen's Compensation Act (52-1-1 to 52-1-69 NMSA 1978) [Workers' Compensation Act (Chapter 52, Article 1 NMSA 1978)], the employer and the insurance carrier of the employer shall be treated as one party when exercising a peremptory challenge to the judge under this statute. The rights created by this section are in addition to any arising under Article 6 of the constitution of New Mexico.

Constitutionality of section. - This section does not violate any of the following articles and sections of the constitution: art. II, § 18; art. III; art. IV, § 34; art. VI, § 18. State ex rel. Hannah v. Armijo, 38 N.M. 73, 28 P.2d 511 (1933).

Section provides a procedural method of disqualification, therefore the supreme court can modify it by rule. State ex rel. Gesswein v. Galvan, 100 N.M. 769, 676 P.2d 1334 (1984).

Not exclusive disqualification method. - The right of disqualification provided by this section is not the exclusive method of disqualification. United Nuclear Corp. v. General Atomic Co., 96 N.M. 155, 629 P.2d 231 (1980), appeal dismissed, 451 U.S. 901, 101 S. Ct. 1966, 68 L. Ed. 2d 289 (1981).

This section does not apply in direct contempt cases. State v. Pothier, 104 N.M. 363, 721 P.2d 1294 (1986).

Section clearly gives to "a party" - that is to each party - the right to disqualify the judge before whom the action or proceeding is to be tried and heard. Romero v. Felter, 83 N.M. 736, 497 P.2d 738 (1972).

The state is a "party" to a criminal case and entitled to file an affidavit of disqualification of a district judge. State ex rel. Tittman v. Hay, 40 N.M. 370, 60 P.2d 353 (1936).

One who had petitioned to intervene was not a party to an action within the meaning of this section, where order allowing intervention had not been made. State ex rel. Lebeck v. Chavez, 45 N.M. 161, 113 P.2d 179 (1941).

While a wife of property owner was permitted to intervene in condemnation proceeding, she was not a party in the sense of one entitled to disqualify a trial judge, regardless of whether she must by statute be brought into the suit as a party. Harms v. Coors, 50 N.M. 12, 167 P.2d 353 (1946).

Where claim is prosecuted under Workmen's [Workers'] Compensation Act, the action taken is a "proceeding" within the terms of this section. State ex rel. Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Arledge, 54 N.M. 267, 221 P.2d 562 (1950).

Section exclusive method for disqualification of judge by party. - This section only addresses itself to the issue of a party disqualifying a judge and it appears to be the exclusive method by which a party may disqualify the presiding judge. Doe v. State, 91 N.M. 51, 570 P.2d 589 (1977).

Section authorizes the disqualification of only one judge by a party. Beall v. Reidy, 80 N.M. 444, 457 P.2d 376 (1969).

And that judge is the one before whom the case is to be tried. Gray v. Sanchez, 86 N.M. 146, 520 P.2d 1091 (1974); Beall v. Reidy, 80 N.M. 444, 457 P.2d 376 (1969).

Disqualification barred after party invokes court's discretion. - A judge may not be statutorily disqualified under this section after a party has invoked the discretion of the court. Smith v. Martinez, 96 N.M. 440, 631 P.2d 1308 (1981).

The determinative issue is whether a party has invoked the judicial discretion of the court; if so, that party may not excuse the judge. JMB Retail Properties Co. v. Eastburn, N.M. , 835 P.2d 831 (1992).

Test for determining if discretion involved. - The rule that a judge may not be peremptorily challenged after a party has invoked the discretion of the court depends, not upon whether the court in fact exercised discretion, but upon whether the response of the court was subject to discretion. JMB Retail Properties Co. v. Eastburn, N.M. , 835 P.2d 831 (1992).

What constitutes discretionary act. - An extension of time to answer or otherwise plead is a discretionary act, even if in response to the agreed motion or stipulation of the parties, and, therefore, disqualification of a judge who had granted such a motion was not allowed. JMB Retail Properties Co. v. Eastburn, N.M. , 835 P.2d 831 (1992).

Section applicable to juvenile court judges. - See Frazier v. Stanley, 83 N.M. 719, 497 P.2d 230 (1972); Smith v. Martinez, 96 N.M. 440, 631 P.2d 1308 (1981).

But not to small claims court judges. - See Stein v. Speer, 85 N.M. 418, 512 P.2d 1254 (1973).

Or probate judges. - See Estate of Tarlton, 84 N.M. 95, 500 P.2d 180 (1972).

Language of section is absolute and mandatory. - No discretion is vested in the judge against whom the affidavit is filed as to his disqualification, if the application is timely made. State ex rel. Hannah v. Armijo, 38 N.M. 73, 28 P.2d 511 (1933).

Disqualification privilege limited to resident judges or appointees. - The disqualification privilege of this section is limited to resident judges or those appointed by resident judges. Vigil v. Reese, 96 N.M. 728, 634 P.2d 1280 (1981).

Disqualification affidavit to trial judge. - An affidavit of disqualification must be directed only to the judge before whom the case is to be tried on the merits. Demers v. Gerety, 92 N.M. 749, 595 P.2d 387 (Ct. App.), aff'd in part, 92 N.M. 396, 589 P.2d 180 (1978), rev'd on other grounds.

Judge removing himself from case. - When a judge believes he will not be able to remain impartial, he should use his discretion and remove himself from the case in order to avoid any hint of impropriety. Gerety v. Demers, 92 N.M. 396, 589 P.2d 180 (1978).

Parties have no statutory right to disqualify judge designated by the chief justice. State v. Ericksen, 94 N.M. 128, 607 P.2d 666 (Ct. App. 1980); Vigil v. Reese, 96 N.M. 728, 634 P.2d 1280 (1981).

But designated replacement judge subject to disqualification. - If the resident judge for any reason is unable to be present to try and hear the case, or decides not to try and hear the case, and another judge is designated, the judge designated is subject to disqualification. Martinez v. Carmona, 95 N.M. 545, 624 P.2d 54 (Ct. App. 1980).

And disqualification of presiding district judge is accomplished when affidavit provided for in this section is timely made. State ex rel. Weltmer v. Taylor, 42 N.M. 405, 79 P.2d 937 (1938).

The filing of the affidavit of prejudice, after the case is at issue, in the manner and form prescribed by this section and 38-3-10 NMSA 1978, ipso facto divests the judge of all further jurisdiction in the case, and his subsequent proceedings are without jurisdiction and null and void. Rivera v. Hutchings, 59 N.M. 337, 284 P.2d 222 (1955).

In an action for which a judge may be disqualified by the timely filing of statutory affidavit, the judge is ipso facto divested of all further jurisdiction in the case, and his subsequent proceedings are without jurisdiction and null and void. Norton v. Reese, 76 N.M. 602, 417 P.2d 205 (1966).

But disqualification may be waived. - Where the judge is disqualified effective when the affidavit is filed, thereafter he has no jurisdiction to act in the case, but such disqualification may be waived. State v. Latham, 83 N.M. 530, 494 P.2d 192 (Ct. App. 1972).

Disqualification for prejudice may be waived, and it is waived by implication as well as by specific acts of the party having a right to rely thereupon. State ex rel. Lebeck v. Chavez, 45 N.M. 161, 113 P.2d 179 (1941).

Disqualification of trial judge may be waived both expressly and by implication, and where defendant on trial for murder, after having filed affidavit of disqualification, appeared voluntarily asking the judge to accept a plea of guilty of second degree murder, the disqualification was waived. State v. Garcia, 47 N.M. 319, 142 P.2d 552 (1943).

Where the judge, after striking the affidavit of disqualification, set the case for trial, defendant made no effort to prohibit the judge from trying the case, defendant appeared on set date and requested a continuance and this continuance was granted, the judge's prior disqualification was effectively waived. State v. Latham, 83 N.M. 530, 494 P.2d 192 (Ct. App. 1972).

After submitting to a judge the sufficiency of a petition for recount of votes, the question of the disqualification of the judge could not thereafter be raised. State ex rel. Gandert v. Armijo, 41 N.M. 38, 63 P.2d 1037 (1936).

One seeking the disqualification of a judge in adoption proceedings who had invoked the ruling of the court on a controverted question was denied the right to have the cause further heard by another judge. Hill v. Patton, 43 N.M. 21, 85 P.2d 75 (1938).

In condemnation proceedings, the submission of exceptions to the commissioner's report for a ruling thereon by district judge waived exceptor's statutory right to disqualify the district judge in that case. State ex rel. Weltmer v. Taylor, 42 N.M. 405, 79 P.2d 937 (1938).

Disqualification resulting from the filing of an affidavit of prejudice was waived where affidavit was withdrawn. State ex rel. Lebeck v. Chavez, 45 N.M. 161, 113 P.2d 179 (1941).

If a party requests ruling on a motion for change of venue, he thereby loses his right to disqualify the judge in view of this section. State v. Garcia, 47 N.M. 319, 142 P.2d 552 (1943).

Judge may perform mere formal acts after disqualification. - The mere signing, by disqualified judge, of certificate compelling attendance of a witness was a formal act, and did not invoke a question of jurisdiction. A judge may properly perform mere formal acts after his disqualification. State v. James, 76 N.M. 376, 415 P.2d 350 (1966).

Preliminary matters heard by disqualified judge. - A judge has no jurisdiction to hear a petition for preliminary injunctive relief after having been disqualified. A proceeding for a preliminary injunction is not a "mere formal act" such as has been contemplated to fall within the "preliminary matter" language of Paragraph A of Rule 1.088.1. Borrego v. El Guique Community Ditch Ass'n, 107 N.M. 594, 762 P.2d 256 (1988)(decided under pre-1988 version of Rule 1-088.1)

Consolidation order after timely disqualification invalid. - Where affidavit of disqualification was timely filed, judge's subsequent consolidation order was without legal effect. Pueblo of Laguna v. Cillessen & Son, 101 N.M. 341, 682 P.2d 197 (1984).

Right to disqualify a presiding district judge is based upon an assumed prejudice or bias on his part, and not upon his views regarding the law of the case. State ex rel. Weltmer v. Taylor, 42 N.M. 405, 79 P.2d 937 (1938).

Where it was shown that compensation for one of plaintiff's attorneys, who was the son of the presiding judge, was on a contingent basis, the judge was disqualified. Tharp v. Massengill, 38 N.M. 58, 28 P.2d 502 (1933).

Filing of provisional affidavit. - Though parties may not know before which of two or more eligible judges a case will come on for trial, the party seeking disqualification of one honestly believed by him to be biased could make a provisional affidavit, reciting the facts and adding "that if the judge before whom the case is to be tried or heard should be judge _____, then according to affiant's belief such judge cannot preside over the same with impartiality, etc." Notargiacomo v. Hickman, 55 N.M. 465, 235 P.2d 531 (1951)See also; Gray v. Sanchez, 86 N.M. 146, 520 P.2d 1091 (1974).

Execution of affidavit. - The section is explicit; the affidavit must be executed by a party. It does not authorize an attorney to execute the affidavit as an attorney and such an affidavit will not be effective to disqualify a judge. Coca v. New Mexico Health & Social Servs. Dep't, 89 N.M. 558, 555 P.2d 381 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 90 N.M. 8, 558 P.2d 620 (1976).

A copy of the affidavit need not be served on opposing counsel nor must it be brought to the trial judge's attention after it is filed in the office of the clerk of the district court. Rivera v. Hutchings, 59 N.M. 337, 284 P.2d 222 (1955).

Selection of judge pro tempore. - When a judge has been disqualified upon an affidavit of prejudice, the parties may agree upon a member of the bar to act as judge pro tempore. Moruzzi v. Federal Life & Cas. Co., 42 N.M. 35, 75 P.2d 320 (1938).

ANNOTATIONS

Notice of name of trial judge not essential to section. - Notice to the parties of the name of a particular judge assigned to try the case is not an essential ingredient in the time period fixed by this section. Gerety v. Demers, 92 N.M. 396, 589 P.2d 180 (1978).

In a criminal case, a case is put at issue when a defendant answers by appearing at his arraignment. State v. Padilla, 88 N.M. 160, 538 P.2d 802 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248 (1975); Gray v. Sanchez, 86 N.M. 146, 520 P.2d 1091 (1974).

In a civil case, a case is at issue at that state of procedure when an answer is filed which requires no further pleadings by the plaintiff. Gray v. Sanchez, 86 N.M. 146, 520 P.2d 1091 (1974).

For purpose of disqualification, a "case is at issue" at that stage of procedure when an answer is filed which requires no further pleadings by the plaintiff. Atol v. Schifani, 83 N.M. 316, 491 P.2d 533 (Ct. App. 1971).

For trial de novo on appeal from decision of human rights commission, the cause is not at issue until the transcript of the hearing below is filed in the district court. Linton v. Farmington Mun. Schools, 86 N.M. 748, 527 P.2d 789 (1974).

Affidavit to disqualify a district judge must be filed before a party has called upon the court to act judicially upon any material issue and before he has participated in any proceeding upon any such issue presented by the adverse party. State ex rel. Lebeck v. Chavez, 45 N.M. 161, 113 P.2d 179 (1941); State ex rel. Weltmer v. Taylor, 42 N.M. 405, 79 P.2d 937 (1938).

Whether other matters between other parties had been disposed of, unless they directly affected defendants, was immaterial in deciding whether cause was at issue at time certain defendants filed their affidavits of disqualification of trial judge. State ex rel. Lebeck v. Chavez, 45 N.M. 161, 113 P.2d 179 (1941).

Disqualification affidavit must be filed before the court has acted judicially upon a material issue. State ex rel. Howell v. Montoya, 74 N.M. 743, 398 P.2d 263 (1965).

Time for filing disqualification motion based on nonstatutory grounds. - Although not strictly limited by the time limitations of this section, a disqualification motion based on one of the nonstatutory grounds must nevertheless be filed within a reasonable time after the party becomes aware of the grounds for it. United Nuclear Corp. v. General Atomic Co., 96 N.M. 155, 629 P.2d 231 (1980), appeal dismissed, 451 U.S. 901, 101 S. Ct. 1966, 68 L. Ed. 2d 289 (1981).

Affidavit held timely filed. - In proceedings for contempt, an affidavit for disqualification of judge filed on the same day as an order to show cause citing relator for contempt was timely filed. State ex rel. Simpson v. Armijo, 38 N.M. 280, 31 P.2d 703 (1934).

A party who files an affidavit or disqualification immediately after a claim for relief is filed is not one who is guilty of the recurrent abuses to which the statute is constantly being put, and his affidavit is timely filed. Martinez v. Carmona, 95 N.M. 545, 624 P.2d 54 (Ct. App. 1980).

Affidavit held not timely filed. - In adoption proceedings, where plaintiff opposed the intervention of another party and offered proof on the motion of such party seeking temporary custody, affidavit filed thereafter to disqualify the judge was not timely. Hill v. Patton, 43 N.M. 21, 85 P.2d 75 (1938).

Disqualification affidavit filed after subpoena directing judgment debtor to appear concerning his ability to satisfy a judgment previously entered against him was issued was not timely and the district court could properly hold debtor in contempt for his refusal to answer questions in supplementary proceeding. State ex rel. Howell v. Montoya, 74 N.M. 743, 398 P.2d 263 (1965).

Affidavit of disqualification was not timely filed where district judge already had performed judicial acts in refusing to make a commitment on a motion for continuance and in allowing the withdrawal of a plea of not guilty. State v. Cline, 69 N.M. 305, 366 P.2d 441 (1961).

Request for continuance by the defendant called upon the court to exercise discretion in its judicial capacity, and such action was sufficient to render the subsequent filing of the affidavit of disqualification untimely. State v. Hester, 70 N.M. 301, 373 P.2d 541 (1962).

Trial judge's presiding over defendant's arraignment and ruling on his motion to dismiss constituted judicial act within the scope of this section, so that affidavit of disqualification filed after those acts took place was not timely filed. State v. Budau, 86 N.M. 21, 518 P.2d 1225 (Ct. App. 1973), cert. denied, 86 N.M. 5, 518 P.2d 1209 (1974).

Defendant's oral attempt to disqualify a certain judge immediately prior to the start of the trial, coupled with filing of a statutory affidavit of disqualification while the jury was deliberating on its verdict, was not timely where no provisional affidavit of disqualification was filed 10 days or more before the beginning of the term of court. State v. Sanchez, 86 N.M. 68, 519 P.2d 304 (Ct. App. 1974).

Where defendant's case was originally set for jury trial by the trial court on July 30, was continued at the request of defendant's counsel to September 10, defendant's affidavit of disqualification, filed on November 21, was not timely, and the trial court committed no error in striking it. State v. Padilla, 88 N.M. 160, 538 P.2d 802 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248 (1975).

Action to consolidate was not placed at issue for purposes of timely filing affidavits of disqualification until date when defendants filed response to plaintiff's second amended petition required to effectively add crucial party to proposed consolidated arbitration. Pueblo of Laguna v. Cillessen & Son, 101 N.M. 341, 682 P.2d 197 (1984).

Action on forthcoming bond. - Though a bond sued on was a writing obligatory and appeared to be joint, only by its terms, by the authority of this section it must be considered to be joint and several and the plaintiff could bring suit against any one or more of the parties to the obligations, without joining the others, and without showing that judgment has been obtained and the remedy exhausted against the principal. 38-4-5. [Suits against partners; joinder; enforcement of judgment; service of process.]

Suits may be brought by or against a partnership as such, or against all or either of the individual members thereof; and a judgment against the firm as such may be enforced against the partnership's property, or that of such members as have appeared or been served with summons; but a new action may be brought against the other members in the original cause of action. When the action is against the partnership as such, service of summons on one of the members, personally, shall be sufficient service on the firm.

As to service of process generally, see Rule 1-004.

Partnership is a distinct legal entity in the sense that it may be sued as such in the partnership name. Loucks v. Albuquerque Nat'l Bank, 76 N.M. 735, 418 P.2d 191 (1966); National Sur. Co. v. George E. Breece Lumber Co., 60 F.2d 847 (10th Cir. 1932).

Liability of copartner for punitive damages. - Absent a finding of ratification, authorization, or participation in the fraudulent conduct, punitive damages may not be recovered from copartners for one partner's fraudulent conduct. Duncan v. Henington, N.M. , 835 P.2d 816 (1992).

Copartners of partner found liable for fraud were liable to plaintiff jointly and severally for the award of compensatory damages, attorney fees, and costs; however, only partner committing fraudulent acts was liable to plaintiff for the award of punitive damages. Duncan v. Henington, N.M. , 835 P.2d 816 (1992).

Suit in name of all partners. - Although a partner is a general agent of the partnership, a partner may not sue alone on a cause of action belonging to a partnership; instead, the action must be brought in the names of the partners. Daniels Ins., Inc. v. Daon Corp., 106 N.M. 328, 742 P.2d 540 (Ct. App. 1987).

A partner cannot bring suit as an individual on a claim belonging to the partnership, nor does an individual partner have a separate cause of action for a proportionate share of a partnership claim. First Nat'l Bank v. Sanchez, 112 N.M. 317, 815 P.2d 613 (1991).

Partner may sue another at law on a promissory note, executed by the partnership to him, in view of this section. Mayer v. Lane, 33 N.M. 24, 262 P. 180 (1927); Lane v. Mayer, 33 N.M. 28, 262 P. 182 (1927).

In action against a partnership in its own name, judgment may be rendered against a partner individually if he has been served with process or has appeared in the action. National Sur. Co. v. George E. Breece Lumber Co., 60 F.2d 847 (10th Cir. 1932).

Partner settling claim that is not usual to the business. - While a partner acting within his or her actual authority may execute a valid release of a partnership claim, it is questionable whether there could be implied actual authority or apparent authority for a partner to settle any part of a partnership claim that was not usual to the business. Of course, an individual partner may release personal claims based upon damage to personal property and interests. First Nat'l Bank v. Sanchez, 112 N.M. 317, 815 P.2d 613 (1991).

Effect of answer by member upon entry of default judgment against partnership. - In an action against a partnership, an answer purporting to be merely the personal answer of one member of a partnership, and not in behalf of the partnership, did not prevent a default judgment against the partnership. Kempner v. McMahan, 35 N.M. 313, 296 P. 802 (1931).

Persons bound by judgment in action against individual members of firm. - Actions are authorized against the firm by the firm name, but where the action is against the individual members of the firm and not against the firm as such, only those served can be bound by the judgment. Good v. Red River Valley Co., 12 N.M. 245, 78 P. 46 (1904).

Effect of judgment against firm upon subsequent action against individual member. - A judgment against the firm in an action where only one of its members was a party cannot extend its lien against the property of the other partner who is entitled to his day in court to present any defense which he may have to the original cause of action in a new action. Lewinson v. First Nat'l Bank, 11 N.M. 510, 70 P. 567 (1902).

A judgment which was taken on a judgment on a note of a firm against a partner who was not served and did not appear in the first action was not obtained on the same cause of action as the note and was no bar to a later action on the note under this section. First Nat'l Bank v. Lewinson, 12 N.M. 147, 76 P. 288 (1904).

Amendment of judgment on appeal. - Where action was brought against named persons as copartnership, and judgment was rendered against the copartnership and not against the individuals, the supreme court, on appeal, supplied the omission of the individual names by ordering them inserted in the judgment. Wirt v. George W. Kutz & Co., 15 N.M. 500, 110 P. 575 (1910).

ARTICLE 5
DRAWING AND EMPANELING JURORS

38-5-1. Qualification of jurors.

Any person who is at least eighteen years of age, a United States citizen, a resident of New Mexico residing in the county for which a jury may be convened and is not a convicted felon is eligible and may be summoned for service as a juror by the district courts and magistrate courts, unless the person is incapable because of physical or mental illness or infirmity to render jury service.

History: 1953 Comp., § 19-1-1, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 222, § 1; 1991, ch. 71, § 1.

The 1991 amendment, effective April 1, 1991, rewrote the section which read "Any person who is a qualified elector is eligible and may be summoned for service as a juror by the district courts unless such person is incapable because of physical or mental illness or infirmity to render jury service."

Qualification of grand juror as elector. - Grand juror did not have to be a properly registered voter to be a qualified elector, for purposes of sitting on the grand jury. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

A juror has only to meet the requirements of N.M. Const., art. VII, § 1 to be a qualified elector under this section, and therefore to be qualified to serve as a grand juror. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

38-5-2. Exemption from jury service.

Persons who have served as members of a petit jury panel or a grand jury in either state or federal courts within the preceding thirty-six months shall be exempt from sitting or serving as jurors in any of the courts of this state when they, at their option, request to be excused from service by reason of the exemption granted by this section. Any other person may be excused from jury service at the discretion of the judge upon satisfactory evidence presented to the judge with or without the person's personal attendance upon the court. The judge, in his discretion, upon granting any excuse, may disallow the fees and mileage of the person excused. The service upon any jury of any person disqualified shall, of itself, not vitiate any indictment found or any verdict rendered by that jury, unless actual injury to the person complaining of the injury is shown.

"Disqualified" juror. - A "disqualified" juror is one who is the opposite of, or contrary of, a qualified juror. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

There is no substantive difference between an unqualified juror and a disqualified juror. Neither should be on the grand jury. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

Applicability of section. - This section applies to a juror never qualified as well as to a juror who was once qualified but is not now qualified. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

Presence of grand juror not disruptive. - There is nothing inherently disruptive about the presence of a grand juror who had no preconceived interest in the way the witnesses testified. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

Showing of prejudice required. - A defendant must show prejudice resulting from an unqualified juror's presence on the grand jury before the court of appeals will set aside an indictment. State v. Chama Land & Cattle Co., 111 N.M. 317, 805 P.2d 86 (Ct. App. 1990).

No abuse of court's discretion. - Where the trial court excused one prospective juror because he had been convicted of a felony in 1958, the court explaining that it did not know whether the person excused was eligible to serve as a juror and did not want any questions of eligibility to arise later, and the defendant asserted this was error, but did not explain how excusing this person was an abuse of the trial court's discretion, then, under these circumstances, there was no abuse of the court's discretion. 50 C.J.S. Juries § 153.

38-5-3. Source for juror selection.

A. Each county clerk shall make available to the secretary of state a data base of registered voters of his county. The secretary of state shall preserve and make available to the information systems division of the general services department, by electronic media, a data base of New Mexico registered voters, by county, which shall be updated monthly. The director of the motor vehicle division of the taxation and revenue department shall make available by electronic media to the information systems division of the general services department a data base of driver's license holders in each county, which shall be updated monthly.

B. The information systems division of the general services department shall program the merger of the registered voter and driver's license data bases from each county to form a master jury data base and write a computer program so that a random selection of jurors can be made. No discrimination shall be exercised except for the elimination of persons who are not eligible for jury service. The administrative office of the courts shall provide specifications for the merging of the registered voter and driver's license data bases. The merged data base information shall be the data base that produces the random jury list for the selection of petit or grand jurors for the district and magistrate courts.

C. The district or magistrate court shall, by order, designate the number of potential jurors to be selected and the date on which the jurors are to report for empaneling. Within fifteen days after receipt of a copy of the order, the administrative office of the courts shall provide the random jury list to the court. The information systems division of the general services department shall print the random jury list and jury summons mailer forms within ten days after receiving the request from the administrative office of the courts. Upon issuance of the order, the information systems division of the general services department shall draw from the most current registered voter and driver's license data bases to create the random jury list.

D. The information systems division may transfer the master jury data base to a district or magistrate court that has compatible equipment to accept such a transfer. The court accepting the master jury data base shall transfer the information to a programmed computer used for the random selection of petit or grand jurors.

History: 1978 Comp., § 38-5-3, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 71, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. - Laws 1991, ch. 71, § 2 repeals former 38-5-3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 222, § 3, relating to pollbooks as the source for juror selection, and enacts the above section, effective April 1, 1991. For provisions of former section, see 1987 Replacement Pamphlet.

Time allowed to place names of newly enfranchised persons on jury lists. - When a new group is qualified to sit as jurors, a period of time will be allowed for their names to begin to appear on the jury lists. State v. Barnett, 85 N.M. 404, 512 P.2d 977 (Ct. App. 1973).

Possible two-year period which could elapse under this section before the names of newly enfranchised individuals begin to appear on jury lists is not so long as to deny defendant his right to due process. State v. Barnett, 85 N.M. 404, 512 P.2d 977 (Ct. App. 1973).

Thus failure to include in pollbooks newly enfranchised persons prior to the next general election was not a denial of due process. State v. Barnett, 85 N.M. 404, 512 P.2d 977 (Ct. App. 1973).

Where the jury array did not include members of the then recently enfranchised class of persons between the ages of 18 and 21 years, defendant was not deprived of due process. State v. Barnett, 85 N.M. 404, 512 P.2d 977 (Ct. App. 1973).

Subsequent expansion to include nonvoters with driver's licenses. - The legislature's intent to wait until after the 1990 general election to enlarge the jury pool to include nonvoting citizens with driver's licenses was not inconsistent with defendant's constitutional rights. State v. Gonzales, 112 N.M. 544, 817 P.2d 1186 (1991).

Defendant was not denied her right to a venire composed of voter registration and driver's license records as required by this section, where her trial took place before the expanded pool took effect. State v. Neely, 112 N.M. 702, 819 P.2d 249 (1991).

Defendant was not denied his right to a venire composed from voter registration and driver's license records, since the plain language of this section required the jury pool to be expanded 90 days after the next general election and defendant's trial took place before the expanded pool took effect. State v. Chamberlain, 112 N.M. 723, 819 P.2d 673 (1991).

B. the selection or drawing of jurors other than in accordance with law;

C. the attempt to threaten, coerce or induce a trial juror to vote for a false verdict or a grand juror to vote for no indictment or for a false indictment; or

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in the catchline, substituted "penalties" for "misdemeanor"; in Subsection A, substituted "removal of the names" for "removal therefrom"; substituted present Subsection C for the former subsection which read "the threatening, coercing or inducing a trial juror to vote for a false verdict or a grand juror to vote for a false indictment or the attempt thereto"; added Subsection D; and substituted the present concluding paragraph for the former concluding paragraph which read "Whoever commits jury tampering is guilty of a petty misdemeanor".

For provisions of former sections, see 1987 Replacement Pamphlet.

38-5-10. Summoning of jurors; claiming exemption.

Upon drawing a list of jurors for grand jury or petit jury service, the clerk shall issue a summons for each juror ordering his attendance at a time and place as fixed by the district judge or magistrate ordering the drawing. The summons may be served by first class mail or in a manner provided for the service of civil process. A willful failure to appear as ordered in the summons is a petty misdemeanor. Accompanying each summons, the clerk of the court shall submit for the information of the jurors the listing of those classes of persons or qualifications provided by law under which an exemption from jury service may be claimed. Jurors shall be provided a form upon which they may state the facts supporting their eligibility to claim exemption from jury service and to express a claim for exemption.

The district judge or his designee shall preside over the empaneling of the grand jury panel. Jurors who appear for service shall be questioned under oath as to their eligibility for jury service by the district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee. Claims of exemption, requests for excuse from service or postponement of services shall be ruled upon by the district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee.

B. A district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee may excuse, exclude or postpone the services of any person called as a juror on the basis of:

(1) physical or mental illness of the person or within his immediate family;

(2) a written request from the person's employer for excuse on the ground that his services are essential; or

(3) the person's prior business, professional or educational commitments which conflict with jury service, proven to the satisfaction of the district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee.

C. The district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee shall submit questionnaires to prospective jurors to obtain any information that will aid the court in ruling on requests for exemption or excuse from service or postponement of service or that will aid the court or parties in voir dire examination of jurors or in determining a juror's qualifications to serve on a particular petit jury panel, trial jury or grand jury. The district judge or his designee or magistrate or his designee shall certify a numbered list of the jury panel members' names when qualified. The certified list of jurors and the questionnaires obtained from jurors shall be made available for inspection and copying by any party to any pending proceeding or their attorney or to any person having good cause for access to the list and the questionnaires.

38-5-12. Petit jury panels; number to be qualified; period of service; exemption; time for summoning.

The district judge shall determine the number of jurors to be summoned for service, the date and time for the appearance of jurors for qualification, the number of jurors to be qualified to provide panels of jurors for trial service, the size of trial jury panels and the length of time jurors are retained for service. Procedures such as the use of alternate jury panels should be established where appropriate to lessen the burden of jury service on persons retained on petit jury panels. No person may be required to remain as a member of a petit jury panel for longer than six months following qualification as a juror in any year, and in any judicial district having a population of more than three hundred thousand persons in the last federal decennial census, no person may be required to remain as a member of an actual jury panel for longer than six weeks in any calendar year unless the panel is engaged in a trial, nor shall he be required to remain as a member of a petit jury panel for longer than three months following qualification as a juror in any year. Persons who have served as members of a petit jury panel or a grand jury in either state or federal courts within the preceding thirty-six months shall be exempt from sitting or serving as jurors in any of the courts of this state when they, at their option, request to be excused from service. Jurors may be drawn, summoned and qualified by the district judge at any time to supplement jury panels requiring replacement or augmentation. Petit jury panels may be qualified and may serve as the trial needs of the district court require without regard to court terms.

38-5-13. Jury lot slip container; drawing and qualifying trial jury.

A. The district court of each county shall provide one jury lot slip container to hold the juror lot slips for the selection of trial juries. The container shall be constructed in a manner that allows the juror lot slips to be securely locked within and shall have a transparent window of sufficient size to permit the juror lot slips to be clearly visible. The clerk of the district court of each county is responsible for the safekeeping of the jury lot slip container.

B. The lot slips bearing an identification number and the names of the jurors duly empaneled and present for the trial of a case, folded to conceal the name and number, shall be placed in a trial jury wheel. The judge shall cause the lot slips to be drawn singly from the container until sufficient names have been drawn to provide the number of jurors required for the trial. The container shall be shaken or rotated to cause the lot slips to be mixed. The name and number of each juror shall be announced as it is called and recorded. Twelve or six jurors shall compose a petit jury in the district courts for the trial of civil causes. Twelve jurors shall compose a petit jury in criminal and children's court cases. A programmed computer may be used in lieu of a jury lot slip container to randomly select trial juries. Magistrate jury court selection shall be conducted in accordance with supreme court rules.

38-5-14. Exercising challenges to jurors.

The court shall permit the parties to a case to express in the record of trial any challenge to a juror for good cause. The court shall rule upon the challenge and may excuse any juror for good cause. Challenges for good cause and peremptory challenges shall be made outside the hearing of the jury. The party making a challenge shall not be announced or disclosed to the jury panel, but each challenge shall be recorded by the clerk and placed in the case file. In civil trials, the opposing parties shall exercise peremptory challenges alternately. In juvenile or criminal cases, the state or prosecution shall pass or accept or make any peremptory challenge as to each juror before the defendant is called upon to pass, accept or exercise a peremptory challenge as to the juror. In civil cases, each party may challenge five jurors peremptorily. When there are two or more parties defendant or parties plaintiff, they shall exercise their peremptory challenges jointly, and if all cannot agree on a challenge desired by one party on a side, then the challenge is forfeited. However, if the relief sought by or against the parties on the same side of a civil case differs, or if their interests are diverse, or if cross-claims are to be tried, the court shall allow each party on that side of the suit five peremptory challenges.

The 1991 amendment, effective April 1, 1991, added "and placed in the case file" at the end of the fourth sentence and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Meaning of "party". - The rule is well established that more than one defendant having identical interests and a common defense in a suit constitute but one party; if there is no suggestion of antagonism of interests between defendants found in the pleadings and no adverse issues pleaded by them, they constitute but one party. However, the rule is different if the pleadings show that one defendant has asked for judgment over against another defendant; the question then to be determined is whether or not there is a conflict of interest between the defendants. American Ins. Co. v. Foutz & Bursum, 60 N.M. 351, 291 P.2d 1081 (1955) (decided under former law).

Section recognizes possibility of multiple parties. - This section, concerning the exercise of peremptory challenges of prospective jurors, clearly recognizes that there may be and often are multiple parties on each side of an action or proceeding. Romero v. Felter, 83 N.M. 736, 497 P.2d 738 (1972).

Separate controversy between third-party plaintiff and defendant. - Where a third-party plaintiff alleged that the negligent acts of a third-party defendant were a breach or violation of a duty owed to him and prayed for full indemnity or, in the alternative, contribution from the third-party defendant for any amount which should be granted the plaintiffs as a result of the principal suit, and the third-party defendant asserted defenses against the third-party plaintiff, there was an antagonism of interests between the third-party plaintiff and defendant sufficient to constitute a separate controversy between them for purposes of exercising their peremptory challenges. American Ins. Co. v. Foutz & Bursum, 60 N.M. 351, 291 P.2d 1081 (1955) (decided under former law).

Although manner of exercising challenges of jurors ordered by the court was erroneous, it was harmless where appellant had two peremptory challenges left. Territory v. Padilla, 12 N.M. 1, 71 P. 1084 (1903).

Denial of motion to quash held proper. - Even where trial judge, in denying motion made under this section, incorrectly ruled that motion was not timely, motion was otherwise defective where defendant made no claims that jury array was defective or was in any way not selected and qualified according to law, but rather appeared to be asking the court to find out whether the selection of jury array was proper, and trial court was correct in denying the motion. 38-5-17. [Verdict by ten or more jurors; polling jury.]

In civil causes when the jury, or as many as ten of them, have agreed upon a verdict, they must be conducted into court, their names called by the clerk, and the verdict rendered by their foreman; the verdict must be in writing, signed by the foreman, and must be read by the clerk to the jury, and the inquiry made whether it is their verdict. Either party may require the jury to be polled, which is done by the court or clerk asking each juror if it is his verdict; if upon such inquiry or polling, more than two of the jurors disagree thereto, the jury must be sent out again, but if no such disagreement be expressed, the verdict is complete and the jury discharged from the case.

38-6-4. Per diem and mileage for witnesses.

A. Witnesses shall be allowed no fees for services, but shall receive per diem expense and mileage at the rate specified for nonsalaried public officers as provided in the Per Diem and Mileage Act [10-8-1 to 10-8-8 NMSA 1978] for that time in which attendance is required, with certification of the clerk of the court.

B. The district judge in any civil case pending in the district court may order the payment of a reasonable fee, to be taxed as costs, in addition to the per diem and mileage as provided for in Subsection A of this section, for any witness who qualifies as an expert and who testifies in the cause in person or by deposition. The additional compensation shall include a reasonable fee to compensate the witness for the time required in preparation or investigation prior to the giving of the witness's testimony. The expert witness fee which may be allowed by the court shall be limited to one expert regarding liability and one expert regarding damages unless the court finds that additional expert testimony was reasonably necessary to the prevailing party and the expert testimony was not cumulative.

Use of court fund for payment of expert witnesses. - A district court in the administration of justice may use its court fund to pay for expert witnesses regardless or whether or not such an expert is testifying for the prosecution. Further, this section does not set a limitation on this fee. Expert witnesses' fees are treated as costs and are taxed upon entry of judgment to the prevailing party, not at the time a complaint is filed. Mantz v. Follingstad, 84 N.M. 473, 505 P.2d 68 (Ct. App. 1972).

Separate finding of reasonable necessity for multiple witnesses. - The court did not abuse its discretion in allowing the fees of two expert witnesses as costs. A separate finding of "reasonable necessity" was not required, since it could be inferred that this section was considered by the court. Ulibarri v. Gee, 106 N.M. 637, 748 P.2d 10 (1987).

Expert's expenses allowed as costs. - Expense of a survey made preparatory for trial, and upon which the surveyor testified, is properly allowed as costs. Ulibarri Landscaping Material, Inc. v. Colony Materials, Inc., 97 N.M. 266, 639 P.2d 75 (Ct. App. 1981).

38-6-7. News sources and information; mandatory disclosure prohibited; definitions; special procedure for prevention of injustice issue.

A. Unless disclosure be essential to prevent injustice, no journalist or newscaster, or working associates of a journalist or newscaster, shall be required to disclose before any proceeding or authority, either:

(1) the source of any published or unpublished information obtained in the gathering, receiving or processing of information for any medium of communication to the public; or

(2) any unpublished information obtained or prepared in gathering, receiving or processing of information for any medium of communication to the public.

B. For the purpose of this act [this section]:

(1) "proceeding or authority" includes any proceeding or investigation before, or by, any legislative, judicial, executive or administrative body or person;

(3) "information" means any written, oral or pictorial news or other material;

(4) "published information" means any information disseminated to the public by the person from whom disclosure is sought;

(5) "unpublished information" includes information not disseminated to the public by the person from whom disclosure is sought, whether or not related information has been disseminated, and includes but is not limited to, all notes, news copy, outtakes, photographs, films, recording tapes or other data of whatever sort not disseminated to the public through a medium of communication;

(6) "processing" includes compiling, storing and editing of information;

In all other proceedings, application shall be made to the district court of the county in which the proceeding is being held for an order for disclosure. Repeals and reenactments. - Laws 1973, ch. 31, § 1, repeals 20-1-12.1, 1953 Comp., relating to the reporter's privilege, and enacts the above section.

Attempt to create rule of evidence. - The privilege created by this section, insofar as it protects disclosure in a judicial proceeding of information obtained in gathering, receiving or processing of information for any medium of communication to the public, is an attempt to create a rule of evidence. Ammerman v. Hubbard Broadcasting, Inc., 89 N.M. 307, 551 P.2d 1354 (1976), cert. denied, 436 U.S. 906, 98 S. Ct. 2237, 56 L. Ed. 2d 404 (1978).

Privilege created by Subsection A is constitutionally invalid and cannot be relied upon or enforced in judicial proceedings, under Subsection C or otherwise. Ammerman v. Hubbard Broadcasting, Inc., 89 N.M. 307, 551 P.2d 1354 (1976), cert. denied, 436 U.S. 906, 98 S. Ct. 2237, 56 L. Ed. 2d 404 (1978).

Scope of privilege. - In holding that this privilege cannot be relied upon or enforced in judicial proceedings, the supreme court explicitly declined to rule on whether the privilege could properly be asserted in proceedings or investigations before or by any legislative, executive or administrative body or person or to decide the validity of the procedures prescribed for making application to the district court for an order of disclosure directed to such proceedings. Ammerman v. Hubbard Broadcasting, Inc., 89 N.M. 307, 551 P.2d 1354 (1976), cert. denied, 436 U.S. 906, 98 S. Ct. 2237, 56 L. Ed. 2d 404 (1978).

ARTICLE 7
ADMISSIBILITY AND SUFFICIENCY OF EVIDENCE

38-7-1. Verified accounts; instruments in writing; denial under oath.

Except as provided in the Uniform Commercial Code [Chapter 55 NMSA 1978], accounts duly verified by the oath of the party claiming the same, or his agent, and promissory notes and other instruments in writing, not barred by law, are sufficient evidence in any suit to enable the plaintiff to recover judgment for the amount thereof, unless the defendant or his agent denies the same under oath.

History: Laws 1880, ch. 5, § 18; C.L. 1884, § 1878; C.L. 1897, § 2931; Code 1915, § 2176; C.S. 1929, § 45-603; 1941 Comp., § 20-207; 1953 Comp., § 20-2-7; Laws 1961, ch. 96, § 11-103.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross-references. - As to admissibility of evidence in civil actions in district courts, see Rule 11-101 et seq.

Section held unconstitutional. - Because this section prescribes an evidentiary rule of practice or procedure, an area constitutionally within the power of the supreme court and not the legislature, this section is unconstitutional. 38-7-2. [Consideration imported by written contract.]

Every contract in writing hereafter made shall import a consideration in the same manner and as fully as sealed instruments have heretofore done.

History: Laws 1901, ch. 62, § 12; Code 1915, § 2181; C.S. 1929, § 45-608; 1941 Comp., § 20-208; 1953 Comp., § 20-2-8.

ANNOTATIONS

Under this section, it is not necessary, in a suit upon a written contract, to allege a consideration. Flores v. Baca, 25 N.M. 424, 184 P. 532 (1919).

In foreclosure complaint, an express allegation of mortgagor's ownership of mortgaged premises was unnecessary; it was implied. Franklin v. Harper, 32 N.M. 108, 252 P. 170 (1926); Flores v. Baca, 25 N.M. 424, 184 P. 532 (1919).

Where option agreement was alleged to be in writing it was sufficient to withstand the attack of a motion to dismiss for failure to allege consideration. Rubenstein v. Weil, 75 N.M. 562, 408 P.2d 140 (1965).

But a contract which is not entirely in writing is regarded as an oral or verbal contract, and a complaint in a suit upon such a contract, which fails to allege a consideration, is fatally defective. Flores v. Baca, 25 N.M. 424, 184 P. 532 (1919).

Under this section, a draft imports a consideration. First Nat'l Bank v. Home Ins. Co., 16 N.M. 66, 113 P. 815 (1911).

"Import a consideration" construed. - The language "import a consideration," as used in this section, means that in the absence of evidence on the point, it will be presumed that there was a sufficient consideration and the burden of proof on the question is on the party denying the existence of consideration. Burt v. Horn, 97 N.M. 515, 641 P.2d 546 (Ct. App. 1982).

A deed, being merely a specialized form of contract, consideration is imported in the same manner and as fully as sealed instruments. Rael v. Cisneros, 82 N.M. 705, 487 P.2d 133 (1971).

Adjustment of disputes is sufficient consideration. - If disputes have arisen under a contract, and the parties thereto enter into a new contract as a means of adjusting such disputes, such adjustment of disputes is a sufficient consideration. Burt v. Horn, 97 N.M. 515, 641 P.2d 546 (Ct. App. 1982).

Instrument bearing evidence of lack of consideration destroys presumption. - Where the instrument upon its face bears the evidence of its infirmity and lack of consideration, it without more furnishes the proof which destroys the presumption of consideration. Burt v. Horn, 97 N.M. 515, 641 P.2d 546 (Ct. App. 1982).

Any abstract of the title to real estate, located in the state of New Mexico, certified to as correct by the secretary, and under the seal of any title abstract company, incorporated and doing business under the laws of the state, or by an individual bonded abstracter, shall be received in all of the courts of this state as evidence of the things recited therein, in the same manner, and to a like extent, that the public records are now admitted, and such abstract may be explained or contradicted in the same manner and to the same extent as such records may now be.

History: Laws 1882, ch. 69, § 1; C.L. 1884, § 2744; C.L. 1897, § 3934; Code 1915, § 2188; C.S. 1929, § 45-615; Laws 1943, ch. 16, § 1; 1941 Comp., § 20-212; 1953 Comp., § 20-2-13.

ANNOTATIONS

In suit to quiet title between parties claiming under conflicting grants, a certified abstract of title was admissible, even though the certificate excepted any "conflicts" with other grants, and inadvertently referred to the records of the wrong county, where the error was apparent. Jackson v. Gallegos, 38 N.M. 211, 30 P.2d 719 (1934).

38-7-4. [False or forged abstract; penalty.]

Any officer of such company, who shall certify to any such abstract that it is true and correct, knowing the same to be false, or any person who shall forge the name of any such officer, or the seal of any such company, shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty of a felony, and be fined not more than five hundred dollars [($500)], or imprisonment in the penitentiary not more than three years, or both, in the discretion of the court.
