Doctrine of vicarious or virtual exhaustion of remedies does not apply. — The Tax Administration Act provides the exclusive remedies for tax refunds and requires taxpayers to individually seek a refund. Each member of the class of taxpayers challenging the constitutionality of a tax must individually exhaust their administrative remedies and only after individual exhaustion by each class member can the district court have jurisdiction over the class. The doctrine of vicarious or virtual exhaustion of remedies that allows a class action for tax refunds to proceed when only a few members of the proposed class have exhausted their administrative remedies does not apply to proceedings under the Tax Administration Act. *U.S. Xpress, Inc. v. 2019 Multiple Amendments. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 2 and Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 10, both effective July 1, 2019, enacted different amendments to this section that can be reconciled. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978, Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 10, as the last act signed by the governor, is set out above and incorporates both amendments. The amendments enacted by Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 2 and Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 10 are described below. To view the session laws in their entirety, see the 2019 session laws on NMOneSource.com.

The nature of the difference between the amendments is that Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 2, defined "business location", and revised the definition of "local option gross receipts tax", as used in the Tax Administration Act, and Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 10, revised the definition of "local option gross receipts tax" as used in the Tax Administration Act.

Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 2, effective July 1, 2019, defined "business location", and revised the definition of "local option gross receipts tax", as used in the Tax Administration Act; added a new Subsection B and redesignated former Subsections B through AA as Subsections C through BB, respectively; and in Subsection J, deleted "'local option gross receipts tax' includes the taxes imposed pursuant to the Municipal Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act and County Correctional Facility Gross Receipts Tax Act and such other acts as may be enacted authorizing counties or municipalities to impose taxes on gross receipts, which taxes are to be collected by the department in the same time and in the same manner as it collects the gross receipts tax".

Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 10, effective July 1, 2019, revised the definition of "local option gross receipts tax" as used in the Tax Administration Act; and deleted "'local option gross receipts tax' includes the taxes imposed pursuant to the Municipal Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act and County Correctional Facility Gross Receipts Tax Act and such other acts as may be enacted authorizing counties or municipalities to impose taxes on gross receipts, which taxes are to be collected by the department in the same time and in the same manner as it collects the gross receipts tax".

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, clarified certain definitions of terms used in the Tax Administration Act; in Subsection I, after "Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act", added "and"; in Subsection S, after "information return", added "application or form"; in Subsection Y, after the first occurrence of "Tax Administration Act", deleted "and, unless the context otherwise requires, includes" and added "including", and after "any person contrary to law", deleted "and includes, unless the context requires otherwise" and added "including"; and in Subsection AA, after "special agreement", added "pursuant to Section 7-1-21.1 NMSA 1978".

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, amended the definitions of the Tax Administration Act to include "hearing officer"; added Subsection F and redesignated the succeeding subsections, through Subsection X, accordingly; in Subsection U, after "NMSA 1978", deleted "and Subsection E of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978"; deleted former Subsection Y; and added Subsection AA.

The 2013 amendment, effective April 1, 2013, broadened the definition of "taxpayer" to include persons who assume the gross receipts tax liability of another person; and in Subsection Y, after "the amount thereof has not been paid", added the remainder of the sentence.

Applicability. — Laws 2013, ch. 87, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2013, ch. 87, §§ 1 and 2 apply to gross receipts or governmental gross receipts received in tax periods beginning on or after May 1, 2013.

The 2009 amendment, effective July 1, 2009, added Subsections R and S.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, substituted "a tax administered pursuant to the Tax Administration Act" for "the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act and local option gross receipts taxes" near the middle of Subsection I.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, deleted former Subsections C, D and E, which contained the definitions of "division", "director" and "director or his delegate" respectively; added Subsection I, and renumbered the remaining subsections accordingly.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, added Subsections A, F, and H and redesignated the remaining subsections accordingly and deleted "Special Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act" following "Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act" in present Subsection K.

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, made minor stylistic changes to Subsection A and Subsection R, deleted "Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection B of Section 7-1-5" preceding "and Subsection E" in Subsection Q, and inserted "abatement of tax made or any" preceding "credit, rebate or refund" in Subsection U.

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, inserted Subsection F, redesignated former Subsections F to V as Subsections G to W and substituted the present list of tax acts in Subsection H for the former list.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, inserted "limited liability partnership" and "limited liability company" near the beginning of Subsection M.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, added Subsection G and redesignated former Subsections G through U as Subsections H through V.

United States as "taxpayer". — Since the contracts require the United States to pay all costs under the contracts including taxes, this is sufficient to recognize the United States as a "taxpayer" under this section and allow it to be a party in tax disputes with the department. United States v. New Mexico, 455 F. Supp. 993 (D.N.M. 1978), rev'd in part on other grounds, 624 F.2d 111 (10th Cir. 1980), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Right of United States to participate as party in certain cases. — In cases involving a challenge to state taxes as violating the federal government's sovereign and constitutional rights, the United States must be permitted to participate as a party. United States v. New Mexico, 455 F. Supp. 993 (D.N.M. 1978), rev'd in part on other grounds, 624 F.2d 111 (10th Cir. 1980), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

7-1-4. Investigative authority and powers.

A. For the purpose of establishing or determining the extent of the liability of any person for any tax, for the purpose of collecting any tax, for the purpose of enforcing any statute administered under the provisions of the Tax Administration Act or for the purpose of investigating possible criminal violations of the revenue laws of this state, including fraud or other crimes that may affect the taxes due to the state, the secretary or the secretary's delegate is authorized to examine equipment and to examine and require the production of any pertinent records, books, information or evidence, to require the presence of any person and to require that person to testify under oath concerning the subject matter of the inquiry and to make a permanent record of the proceedings.

B. As a means for accomplishing the matters referred to in Subsection A of this section, the secretary is hereby invested with the power to issue subpoenas and summonses. In no case shall a subpoena or summons be made returnable less than ten days from the date of service.

C. Any subpoena or summons issued by the secretary shall state with reasonable certainty the nature of the evidence required to be produced, the time and place of the hearing, the nature of the inquiry or investigation and the consequences of failure to obey the subpoena or summons; shall bear the seal of the department; and shall be attested by the secretary.

D. After service of a subpoena or summons upon the person, if any person neglects or refuses to appear in response to the summons or neglects or refuses to produce records or other evidence or to allow the inspection of equipment in response to the subpoena or neglects or refuses to give testimony as required, the department may invoke the aid of the court in the enforcement of the subpoena or summons. In appropriate cases, the court shall issue its order requiring the person to appear and testify or produce books or records and may, upon failure of the person to comply with the order, punish the person for contempt.

E. If a person, the extent of whose tax liability is being established, or that person's agent, nominee or other person acting under the direction or control of that person, files an action with the court to quash a subpoena or summons issued by that court pursuant to this section, the running of the period of limitations pursuant to Sections 7-1-18 and 7-1-19 NMSA 1978 or Section 30-1-8 NMSA 1978 with respect to the tax liability under investigation shall be suspended for the period during which a proceeding and related appeals regarding the enforcement of the subpoena or summons is pending.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-22, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 10; 1971, ch. 276, § 4; 1979, ch. 144, § 4; 1986, ch. 20, § 4. 2005, ch. 108, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, in Subsection A, added the authority to investigate possible criminal violation of state revenue laws, including fraud and other crimes that may affect the taxes due the state; and added Subsection E to provide that if a person, whose tax liability has been determined, files an action to quash a subpoena or summons, the statute of limitations is tolled during the time the action or any appeal is pending.

Secretary's authority to examine and reconstruct records. — This section not only gives the commissioner (now secretary) authority to examine pertinent books and records for the purpose of verification but also authority to reconstruct records when they are destroyed. Torrige Corp. v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-171, 84 N.M. 610, 506 P.2d 354, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 592, 506 P.2d 336 (1973).

Scope of examination. — The New Mexico taxation and revenue department has the authority to examine records, including looking beyond what was simply reported on the taxpayers federal tax forms, in order to determine the extent of taxpayer's liability to pay state income tax. Holt v. N.M. Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 2002-NMSC-034, 133 N.M. 11, 59 P.3d 491.

7-1-4.1. New Mexico taxpayer bill of rights created; purpose.

The "New Mexico Taxpayer Bill of Rights" is created. It is the purpose of the New Mexico Taxpayer Bill of Rights to:

- A. ensure that the rights of New Mexico taxpayers are adequately safeguarded and protected during the assessment, collection and enforcement of any tax administered by the department pursuant to the Tax Administration Act;
- B. ensure that the taxpayer is treated with dignity and respect; and
- C. provide brief but comprehensive statements that explain in simple, nontechnical terms the rights of taxpayers as set forth in Section 7-1-4.2 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 2003, ch. 398, § 1; 2017, ch. 63, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, in Subsection C, after "Section", deleted "2 of this 2003 act", added "7-1-4.2 NMSA 1978".

7-1-4.2. New Mexico taxpayer bill of rights.

The rights afforded New Mexico taxpayers during the assessment, collection and enforcement of any tax administered by the department as set forth in the Tax Administration Act include:

- A. the right to available public information and prompt and courteous tax assistance;
- B. the right to be represented or advised by counsel or other qualified representatives at any time in administrative interactions with the department in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 or the administrative hearings office in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Hearings Office Act [7-1B-1 to 7-1B-9 NMSA 1978];
- C. the right to have audits, inspections of records and meetings conducted at a reasonable time and place in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-11 NMSA 1978;
- D. the right to have the department conduct its audits in a timely and expeditious manner and be entitled to the tolling of interest as provided in the Tax Administration Act;
- E. the right to obtain nontechnical information that explains the procedures, remedies and rights available during audit, protest, appeals and collection proceedings pursuant to the Tax Administration Act;
- F. the right to be provided with an explanation of the results of and the basis for audits, assessments or denials of refunds that identify any amount of tax, interest or penalty due;
- G. the right to seek review, through formal or informal proceedings, of any findings or adverse decisions relating to determinations during audit or protest procedures in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 and the Administrative Hearings Office Act;
- H. the right to have the taxpayer's tax information kept confidential unless otherwise specified by law, in accordance with Sections 7-1-8 through 7-1-8.11 NMSA 1978;

I. the right to abatement of an assessment of taxes determined to have been incorrectly, erroneously or illegally made, as provided in Section 7-1-28 NMSA 1978 and the right to seek a compromise of an asserted tax liability by obtaining a written determination of liability or nonliability when the secretary in good faith is in doubt of the liability as provided in Section 7-1-20 NMSA 1978;

J. upon receipt of a tax assessment, the right to be informed clearly that if the assessment is not paid, secured, protested or otherwise provided for in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-16 NMSA 1978, the taxpayer will be a delinquent taxpayer and, upon notice of delinquency, the right to timely notice of any collection actions that will require sale or seizure of the taxpayer's property in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Administration Act; and

K. the right to procedures for payment of tax obligations by installment payment agreements, in accordance with Section 7-1-21 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 2003, ch. 398, § 2; 2015, ch. 73, § 11; 2017, ch. 63, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, in Subsection H, after "in accordance with", changed "Section" to "Sections", and after "7-1-8", added "through 7-1-8.11".

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, amended the Tax Administration Act to provide for hearings pursuant to the Administrative Hearings Office Act; in Subsection B, after "NMSA 1978", added "or the administrative hearings office in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Hearings Office Act"; and in Subsection G, after "in accordance with", added "the provisions of", and after "NMSA 1978", added "and the Administrative Hearings Office Act".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided:

A. On July 1, 2015, all personnel, functions, appropriations, money, records, furniture, equipment and other property of, or attributable to, the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be transferred to the administrative hearings office.

B. On July 1, 2015, all contractual obligations of the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be binding on the administrative hearings office.

C. On July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.

D. Rules of the taxation and revenue department pertaining to hearing officers and the conduct of hearings pursuant to actions related to Chapter 7 or 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be the rules of the administrative hearings office until amended or repealed by the office.

Gross receipts tax returns are privileged. — Where plaintiff sued defendants for employment discrimination; plaintiff's spouse, who was not a party to the action, maintained a private law practice; plaintiff alleged that upon filing the complaint, defendants retaliated against plaintiff by asserting irregularities with regard to the gross receipts tax records and returns of the spouse's private law practice; defendants asked the district court to issue subpoenas duces tecum to the spouse and to defendant taxation and revenue department for the spouse's gross receipts tax records and returns; and plaintiff's marital relationship to the spouse did not make plaintiff liable for payment of the gross receipts tax of the spouse's private law practice; the gross receipts tax records and returns sought by the subpoenas issued to the spouse and to defendant taxation and revenue department were confidential under Sections 7-1-4.2 and 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and privileged under Rule 11-502 NMRA. Breen v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMCA-101, 287 P.3d 379.

7-1-4.3. New Mexico taxpayer bill of rights; notice to the public.

The department shall develop a publication that states the rights of taxpayers in simple, nontechnical terms and shall disseminate the publication to taxpayers, at a minimum, with tax forms periodically issued by the department.

History: Laws 2003, ch. 398, § 3; 2021, ch. 65, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, removed a reference to the combined reporting system, and required the taxation and revenue department to disseminate its publication of the taxpayer bill of rights along with tax forms periodically issued by the department; and after "at a minimum, with", deleted "the annual income and semiannual combined reporting system", and after "tax forms", added "periodically issued by the department".

7-1-4.4. Notice of potential eligibility required.

The department shall include a notice with an income tax refund or other notice sent to a taxpayer whose income is within one hundred thirty percent of federal poverty guidelines as defined by the United States census bureau that the taxpayer may be eligible for food stamps. Included in the notice shall be general information about food stamps, such as where to apply for food stamps, based on information received by the department from the human services department [health care authority department] by January 30 of each calendar year.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 138, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law. Laws 2023, ch. 205, § 16 provided that references to the human services department shall be deemed to be references to the health care authority department.

Cross references. — For notice by mail pursuant to taxpayers, see 7-1-9 NMSA 1978.

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 138 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-1-5. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1995, ch. 31, § 7 repealed 7-1-5 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 11, relating to administrative regulations, rulings, instructions and orders issued by the secretary, effective July 1, 1995. For provisions of the former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com. For present comparable provisions, see 9-11-6.2 NMSA 1978.

7-1-6. Receipts; disbursements; funds created.

A. All money received by the department with respect to laws administered pursuant to the provisions of the Tax Administration Act shall be deposited with the state treasurer before the close of the next succeeding business day after receipt of the money, except that money received with respect to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] and the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] during the period starting with the fifth day prior to the due date for payment of the taxes for the year and ending on the tenth day following that due date shall be deposited before the close of the tenth business day after receipt of the money.

B. Money received or disbursed by the department shall be accounted for by the department as required by law or rule of the secretary of finance and administration.

C. Disbursements for tax credits, tax rebates, refunds, the payment of interest, the payment of fees charged by attorneys or collection agencies for collection of accounts as agent for the department, attorney fees and costs awarded by a court or hearing officer, as the result of oil and gas litigation, the payment of credit card service charges on payments of taxes by use of credit cards, distributions and transfers shall be made by the department of finance and administration upon request and certification of their appropriateness by the secretary or the secretary's delegate.

D. There are hereby created in the state treasury the "tax administration suspense fund", the "extraction taxes suspense fund" and the "workers' compensation collections suspense fund" for the purpose of making the disbursements authorized by the Tax Administration Act.

E. All revenues collected or received by the department pursuant to the provisions of the taxes and tax acts set forth in Subsection A of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978 shall be credited to the tax administration suspense fund and are appropriated for the purpose of making the disbursements authorized in this section or otherwise authorized or required by law to be made from the tax administration suspense fund.

F. All revenues collected or received by the department pursuant to the taxes or tax acts set forth in Subsection B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978 shall be credited to the extraction taxes suspense fund and are appropriated for the purpose of making the disbursements authorized in this section or otherwise authorized or required by law to be made from the extraction taxes suspense fund.

G. All revenues collected or received by the department pursuant to the taxes or tax acts set forth in Subsection C of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978 may be credited to the tax administration suspense fund, unless otherwise directed by law to be credited to another fund or agency, and are appropriated for the purpose of making disbursements authorized in this section or otherwise authorized or required by law.

H. All revenues collected or received by the department pursuant to the provisions of Section 52-5-19 NMSA 1978 shall be credited to the workers' compensation collections suspense fund and are appropriated for the purpose of making the disbursements authorized in this section or otherwise authorized or required by law to be made from the workers' compensation collections suspense fund.

I. Disbursements to cover expenditures of the department shall be made only upon approval of the secretary or the secretary's delegate.

J. Miscellaneous receipts from charges made by the department to defray expenses pursuant to the provisions of Section 9-11-6.1 NMSA 1978 and similar charges are appropriated to the department for its use.

K. From the tax administration suspense fund, there may be disbursed each month amounts approved by the secretary or the secretary's delegate necessary to maintain a fund hereby created and to be known as the "income tax suspense fund". The income tax suspense fund shall be used for the payment of income tax refunds.

7-1-6.1. Identification of money in tax administration suspense fund; distribution.

After the necessary disbursements have been made from the tax administration suspense fund, the money remaining, except for remittances received within the previous sixty days that are unidentified as to source or disposition, in the suspense fund as of the last day of the month shall be identified by tax source and distributed or transferred in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Tax Administration Act. After the necessary distributions and transfers, any balance shall be distributed to the general fund.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.1, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 211, § 6; 1985, ch. 154, § 1; 1986, ch. 20, § 7; 1990, ch. 6, § 19; 1990, ch. 86, § 3; 2007 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2007 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 11 repealed Laws 1990, ch. 6, § 19, effective June 28, 2007.

Cross references. — For the tax administration suspense fund, see 7-1-6 NMSA 1978.

For the general fund, see 6-4-2 NMSA 1978.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 28, 2007, eliminated the list of sections of the Tax Administration Act that govern distributions.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "Sections 7-1-6.2 through 7-1-6.19, 7-1-6.24 through 7-1-6.26 and 7-1-6.28 through 7-1-6.40 NMSA 1978" for "Sections 7-1-6.2 through 7-1-6.18 NMSA 1978" at the end of the first sentence.

7-1-6.2. Distribution; small cities assistance fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the small cities assistance fund in an amount equal to fifteen percent of the net receipts attributable to the compensating tax.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.2, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 211, § 7; 1984, ch. 25, § 2; 1988, ch. 129, § 2; 2012, ch. 5, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For distributions from small cities assistance fund, see 3-37A-3 NMSA 1978.

The 2012 amendment, effective January 1, 2013, increased the percentage of net receipts attributable to the compensating tax and after "in an amount equal to", deleted "ten" and added "fifteen".

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 5, § 7 provided that the distribution pursuant to Laws 2012, ch. 5, § 3 applies to receipts from compensating taxes that are attributable to sales on or after January 1, 2013.

7-1-6.3. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1993, ch. 65, § 23, repealed 7-1-6.3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 214, § 5, relating to distributions to the community alcoholism treatment and detoxification fund, effective July 1, 1993. For provisions of former section, see the 1992 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-6.4. Distribution; municipality from gross receipts tax.

A. Except as provided in Subsection B of this section, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to each municipality in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the product of the quotient of one and two hundred twenty-five thousandths percent divided by the tax rate imposed by Section 7-9-4 NMSA 1978 multiplied by the net receipts, except net receipts attributable to a nonprofit hospital licensed by the department of health, for the month attributable to the gross receipts tax from business locations:

- (1) within that municipality;

(2) on land owned by the state, commonly known as the "state fairgrounds", within the exterior boundaries of that municipality;

(3) outside the boundaries of any municipality on land owned by that municipality; and

(4) on an Indian reservation or pueblo grant in an area that is contiguous to that municipality and in which the municipality performs services pursuant to a contract between the municipality and the Indian tribe or Indian pueblo if:

(a) the contract describes an area in which the municipality is required to perform services and requires the municipality to perform services that are substantially the same as the services the municipality performs for itself; and

(b) the governing body of the municipality has submitted a copy of the contract to the secretary.

B. If the reduction made by Laws 1991, Chapter 9, Section 9 to the distribution under this section impairs the ability of a municipality to meet its principal or interest payment obligations for revenue bonds outstanding prior to July 1, 1991 that are secured by the pledge of all or part of the municipality's revenue from the distribution made under this section, then the amount distributed pursuant to this section to that municipality shall be increased by an amount sufficient to meet any required payment, provided that the distribution amount does not exceed the amount that would have been due that municipality under this section as it was in effect on June 30, 1992.

C. A distribution pursuant to this section may be adjusted for a distribution made to a tax increment development district with respect to a portion of a gross receipts tax increment dedicated by a municipality pursuant to the Tax Increment for Development Act [Chapter 5, Article 15 NMSA 1978].

D. As used in this section, "nonprofit hospital" means a hospital that has been granted exemption from federal income tax by the United States commissioner of internal revenue as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.4, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 211, § 9; 1991, ch. 9, § 9; 1992, ch. 42, § 1; 2006, ch. 75, § 30; 2019, ch. 270, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's note. — Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 9 referred to in Subsection B is compiled as 7-1-6.4 NMSA 1978.

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, excluded net receipts attributable to a nonprofit hospital licensed by the department of health from the calculation of distributions from gross receipts tax to municipalities, and defined "nonprofit hospital" as used in this section; in Subsection A, after "net receipts", added "except net receipts attributable to a nonprofit hospital licensed by the department of health"; and added Subsection D.

The 2006 amendment, effective March 6, 2006, added Subsection C to provide an adjustment for a distribution to a tax increment development district.

The 1992 amendment, effective August 1, 1992, added the Subsection A designation at the beginning of the formerly undesignated introductory paragraph and added "Except as provided in Subsection B of this section" at the beginning of the paragraph, redesignated former Subsections A to D as Paragraphs (1) to (4) of Subsection A, revised the subparagraph designations in Subsection A(4), and added Subsection B.

The 1991 amendment, effective August 1, 1992, substituted "one and two-hundred-twenty-five-thousandths" for "one and thirty-five hundredths" in the first paragraph; substituted "secretary" for "director" at the end of Paragraph (2) of Subsection D; and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection D.

7-1-6.5. Distribution; small counties assistance fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the small counties assistance fund in an amount equal to ten percent of the net receipts attributable to the compensating tax.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.5, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 211, § 10; 1983, ch. 214, § 6; 1984, ch. 24, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

- (5) any distribution to a municipality or a county of gasoline taxes pursuant to Section 7-1-6.9 NMSA 1978;
- (6) any transfer to a county with respect to any tax imposed in accordance with the Local Liquor Excise Tax Act [7-24-8 to 7-24-16 NMSA 1978];
- (7) any distribution to a county from the county government road fund pursuant to Section 7-1-6.26 NMSA 1978;
- (8) any distribution to a municipality of gasoline taxes pursuant to Section 7-1-6.27 NMSA 1978;
- (9) any distribution to a municipality of compensating taxes pursuant to Section 7-1-6.55 NMSA 1978; and
- (10) any distribution to a municipality or a county of cannabis excise taxes pursuant to the Cannabis Tax Act.

B. Before making a distribution or transfer specified in Subsection A of this section to a municipality or county for the month, amounts comprising the net receipts shall be segregated into two mutually exclusive categories. One category shall be for amounts relating to the current month, and the other category shall be for amounts relating to prior periods. The total of each category for a municipality or county shall be reported each month to that municipality or county. If the total of the amounts relating to prior periods is less than zero and its absolute value exceeds the greater of one hundred dollars ($100) or an amount equal to twenty percent of the average distribution or transfer amount for that municipality or county, then the following procedures shall be carried out:

(1) all negative amounts relating to any period prior to the three calendar years preceding the year of the current month, net of any positive amounts in that same time period for the same taxpayers to which the negative amounts pertain, shall be excluded from the total relating to prior periods. Except as provided in Paragraph (2) of this subsection, the net receipts to be distributed or transferred to the municipality or county shall be adjusted to equal the amount for the current month plus the revised total for prior periods; and

(2) if the revised total for prior periods determined pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection is negative and its absolute value exceeds the greater of one hundred dollars ($100) or an amount equal to twenty percent of the average distribution or transfer amount for that municipality or county, the revised total for prior periods shall be excluded from the distribution or transfers and the net receipts to be distributed or transferred to the municipality or county shall be equal to the amount for the current month.

C. The department shall recover from a municipality or county the amount excluded by Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section. This amount may be referred to as the "recoverable amount".

D. Prior to or concurrently with the distribution or transfer to the municipality or county of the adjusted net receipts, the department shall notify the municipality or county whose distribution or transfer has been adjusted pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section:

(1) that the department has made such an adjustment, that the department has determined that a specified amount is recoverable from the municipality or county and that the department intends to recover that amount from future distributions or transfers to the municipality or county;

(2) that the municipality or county has ninety days from the date notice is made to enter into a mutually agreeable repayment agreement with the department;

(3) that if the municipality or county takes no action within the ninety-day period, the department will recover the amount from the next six distributions or transfers following the expiration of the ninety days; and

(4) that the municipality or county may inspect, pursuant to Section 7-1-8.9 NMSA 1978, an application for a claim for refund that gave rise to the recoverable amount, exclusive of any amended returns that may be attached to the application.

E. No earlier than ninety days from the date notice pursuant to Subsection D of this section is given, the department shall begin recovering the recoverable amount from a municipality or county as follows:

(1) the department may collect the recoverable amount by:

(a) decreasing distributions or transfers to the municipality or county in accordance with a repayment agreement entered into with the municipality or county; or

(b) except as provided in Paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subsection, if the municipality or county fails to act within the ninety days, decreasing the amount of the next six distributions or transfers to the municipality or county following expiration of the ninety-day period in increments as nearly equal as practicable and sufficient to recover the amount;

(2) if, pursuant to Subsection B of this section, the secretary determines that the recoverable amount is more than fifty percent of the average distribution or transfer of net receipts for that municipality or county, the secretary:

(a) shall recover only up to fifty percent of the average distribution or transfer of net receipts for that municipality or county; and

(b) may, in the secretary's discretion, waive recovery of any portion of the recoverable amount, subject to approval by the state board of finance; and

(3) if, after application of a refund claim, audit adjustment, correction of a mistake by the department or other adjustment of a prior period, but prior to any recovery of the department pursuant to this section, the total net receipts of a municipality or county for the twelve-month period beginning with the current month are reduced or are projected to be reduced to less than fifty percent of the average distribution or transfer of net receipts, the secretary may waive recovery of any portion of the recoverable amount, subject to approval by the state board of finance.

F. No later than ninety days from the date notice pursuant to Subsection D of this section is given, the department shall provide the municipality or county adequate opportunity to review an application for a claim for refund that gave rise to the recoverable amount, exclusive of any amended returns that may be attached to the application, pursuant to Section 7-1-8.9 NMSA 1978.

G. On or before September 1 of each year beginning in 2016, the secretary shall report to the state board of finance and the legislative finance committee the total recoverable amount waived pursuant to Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) and Paragraph (3) of Subsection E of this section for each municipality and county in the prior fiscal year.

H. The secretary is authorized to decrease a distribution or transfer to a municipality or county upon being directed to do so by the secretary of finance and administration pursuant to the State Aid Intercept Act [6-22-1 to 6-22-3 NMSA 1978] or to redirect a distribution or transfer to the New Mexico finance authority pursuant to an ordinance or a resolution passed by the county or municipality and a written agreement of the municipality or county and the New Mexico finance authority. Upon direction to decrease a distribution or transfer or notice to redirect a distribution or transfer to a municipality or county, the secretary shall decrease or redirect the next designated distribution or transfer, and succeeding distributions or transfers as necessary, by the amount of the state distributions intercept authorized by the secretary of finance and administration pursuant to the State Aid Intercept Act or by the amount of the state distribution intercept authorized pursuant to an ordinance or a resolution passed by the county or municipality and a written agreement with the New Mexico finance authority. The secretary shall transfer the state distributions intercept amount to the municipal or county treasurer or other person designated by the secretary of finance and administration or to the New Mexico finance authority pursuant to written agreement to pay the debt service to avoid default on qualified local revenue bonds or meet other local revenue bond, loan or other debt obligations of the municipality or county to the New Mexico finance authority. A decrease to or redirection of a distribution or transfer pursuant to this subsection that arose:

(1) prior to an adjustment of a distribution or transfer of net receipts creating a recoverable amount owed to the department takes precedence over any collection of any recoverable amount pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section, which may be made only from the net amount of the distribution or transfer remaining after application of the decrease or redirection pursuant to this subsection; and

(2) after an adjustment of a distribution or transfer of net receipts creating a recoverable amount owed to the department shall be subordinate to any collection of any recoverable amount pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section.

I. Upon the direction of the secretary of finance and administration pursuant to Section 9-6-5.2 NMSA 1978, the secretary shall temporarily withhold the balance of a distribution to a municipality or county, net of any decrease or redirected amount pursuant to Subsection H of this section and any recoverable amount pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section, that has failed to submit an audit report required by the Audit Act [12-6-1 to 12-6-15 NMSA 1978] or a financial report required by Subsection F of Section 6-6-2 NMSA 1978. The amount to be withheld, the source of the withheld distribution and the number of months that the distribution is to be withheld shall be as directed by the secretary of finance and administration. A distribution withheld pursuant to this subsection shall remain in the tax administration suspense fund until distributed to the municipality or county and shall not be distributed to the general fund. An amount withheld pursuant to this subsection shall be distributed to the municipality or county upon direction of the secretary of finance and administration.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "amounts relating to the current month" means any amounts included in the net receipts of the current month that represent payment of tax due for the current month, correction of amounts processed in the current month that relate to the current month or that otherwise relate to obligations due for the current month;

(2) "amounts relating to prior periods" means any amounts processed during the current month that adjust amounts processed in a period or periods prior to the current month regardless of whether the adjustment is a correction of a department error or due to the filing of amended returns, payment of department-issued assessments, filing or approval of claims for refund, audit adjustments or other cause;

(3) "average distribution or transfer amount" means the following amounts; provided that a distribution or transfer that is negative shall not be used in calculating the amounts:

(a) the annual average of the total amount distributed or transferred to a municipality or county in each of the three twelve-month periods preceding the current month;

(b) if a distribution or transfer to a municipality or county has been made for less than three years, the total amount distributed or transferred in the year preceding the current month; or

(c) if a municipality or county has not received distributions or transfers of net receipts for twelve or more months, the monthly average of net receipts distributed or transferred to the municipality or county preceding the current month multiplied by twelve;

(4) "current month" means the month for which the distribution or transfer is being prepared; and

(5) "repayment agreement" means an agreement between the department and a municipality or county under which the municipality or county agrees to allow the department to recover an amount determined pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section by decreasing distributions or transfers to the municipality or county for one or more months beginning with the distribution or transfer to be made with respect to a designated month. No interest shall be charged.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective June 29, 2021, distributed a portion of the cannabis excise tax revenues to municipalities and counties; and in Subsection A, added Paragraph A(10).

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, changed the procedures for adjusting certain distributions and transfers to municipalities and counties; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection A, after "municipality", deleted "of gross receipts taxes", after "7-1-6.4", deleted "NMSA 1978 or of interstate telecommunications gross receipts tax pursuant to Section", and after "7-1-6.36", added "or 7-1-6.46"; in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A, after "7-1-6.16", added "or 7-1-6.47"; deleted Paragraph (7) of Subsection A and redesignated the succeeding paragraphs accordingly; deleted former Subsections B through E; added new Subsections B through G; redesignated former Subsections F and G as Subsections H and I, respectively; in Subsection H, after "decrease a distribution", added "or transfer", after "to redirect a distribution", added "or transfer", after "decrease a distribution", added "or transfer", after "notice to redirect a distribution", added "or transfer", after "designated distribution", added "or transfer", after "succeeding distributions", added "or transfers", and added the last sentence of the introductory paragraph of Subsection H; added Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection H; in Subsection I, after "temporarily withhold", added "the balance of", after "municipality or county", added "net of any decrease or redirected amount pursuant to Subsection H of this section and any recoverable amount pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section", and added the last sentence of Subsection I; and added Subsection J.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2012, authorized the secretary of finance and administration to order the secretary of taxation and revenue to temporarily withhold distributions to municipalities and counties that have failed to submit audit reports required by the Audit Act or financial reports required by Section 6-6-2 NMSA 1978.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, amended Paragraph 10 of Subsection A to replace distributions to counties, school districts or special districts and distributions of oil and gas ad valorem production taxes with a distribution to municipalities pursuant to 7-1-6.55 NMSA 1978.

The 1999 amendment, effective June 18, 1999, added Subsection A(10) and substituted "political subdivision" for "municipality or county" throughout Subsections B to D.

The 1996 amendment, effective March 4, 1996, inserted "or a resolution" in the first and second sentences of Subsection F.

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, in Subsection A, deleted "and" at the end of Paragraph (6), and added Paragraphs (8) and (9); and, in Subsection F, added all of the language at the end of the first sentence beginning with "or to redirect", all of the language at the end of the second sentence beginning with "or by the amount" and all the language at the end of the last sentence beginning with "or meet other", and inserted "or notice to redirect a distribution" and "or redirect" in the second sentence, and "or to the New Mexico finance authority pursuant to written agreement" in the last sentence.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, in Subsection A, added the language beginning "or of interstate" at the end of Paragraph (1), rewrote Paragraphs (2) and (3), deleted former Paragraphs (6) and (7) relating to transfers to municipalities or counties with respect to a tax on gasoline, added Paragraph (6) and redesignated former Paragraph (8) as Paragraph (7).

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, inserted "Municipal Infrastructure Gross Receipts Tax Act" in Subsection A(2); substituted "Subject to the provisions of" for "Unless provided by" in the second sentence of Subsection B; inserted "pursuant to Subsection B of this section" in Subsection E; and added Subsection F.

The 1991 amendment, effective April 4, 1991, in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A, added "or Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act" and made a related stylistic change.

The 1990 amendment, effective March 5, 1990, in Subsection A, added "Municipal Environmental Services Gross Receipts Tax Act" at the end of Paragraph (2), deleted "County Sales Tax Act" following "in accordance with the" and added "County Environmental Services Gross Receipts Tax Act" at the end of Paragraph (3), and made minor stylistic changes.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A(3), inserted "Local Liquor Excise Tax Act".

Meaning of the term "erroneous". — The term "erroneous" in 7-1-6.15(B) NMSA 1978 refers to distributions or transfers of gross receipts tax revenue that were in error due to a taxpayer filing or reporting error by a taxpayer as well as an error made by the department. City of Eunice v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2014-NMCA-085, cert. granted, 2014-NMCERT-008.

Time limitation to recover over-payment of gross receipts taxes to a municipality. — Where the taxpayer, who paid gross receipts taxes imposed by the state, county and municipality, determined that it had mistakenly paid taxes to the municipality because its place of business was actually in the unincorporated part of the county and not within the municipal boundaries; the taxpayer filed amended returns changing the reporting location from the municipality to the county; in January 2013, the department granted the taxpayer a refund of taxes going back to January 2009; and the department claimed that the municipality had to refund taxes distributed to the municipality based on the taxpayer's original returns from January 2009 in excess of $2.3 million, 7-1-6.15(C) NMSA 1978 barred the department from recovering any excess state and municipal taxes revenues distributed to the municipality prior to January 1, 2012 and had statutory authority to recover only $120,552 from the municipality for erroneous distributions of taxes made in 2012. City of Eunice v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2014-NMCA-085, cert. granted, 2014-NMCERT-008.

7-1-6.16. County equalization distribution.

A. Beginning on September 15, 1989 and on September 15 of each year thereafter, the department shall distribute to any county that has imposed or continued in effect during the state's preceding fiscal year a county gross receipts tax pursuant to Section 7-20E-9 NMSA 1978 an amount equal to:

(1) the product of a fraction, the numerator of which is the county's population and the denominator of which is the state's population, multiplied by the annual sum for the county; less

(2) the net receipts received by the department during the report year, including any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, attributable to the county gross receipts tax at a rate of one-eighth percent; provided that for any month in the report year, if no county gross receipts tax was in effect in the county in the previous month, the net receipts, for the purposes of this section, for that county for that month shall be zero.

B. If the amount determined by the calculation in Subsection A of this section is zero or a negative number for a county, no distribution shall be made to that county.

C. As used in this section:

(1) "annual sum" means for each county the sum of the monthly amounts for those months in the report year that follow a month in which the county had in effect a county gross receipts tax;

(2) "monthly amount" means an amount equal to the product of:

(a) the net receipts received by the department in the month attributable to the state gross receipts tax plus five percent of the total amount of deductions claimed pursuant to Section 7-9-92 NMSA 1978 for the month plus five percent of the total amount of deductions claimed pursuant to Section 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month; and

(b) a fraction, the numerator of which is one-eighth percent and the denominator of which is the tax rate imposed by Section 7-9-4 NMSA 1978 in effect on the last day of the previous month;

(3) "population" means the most recent official census or estimate determined by the United States census bureau for the unit or, if neither is available, the most current estimated population for the unit provided in writing by the bureau of business and economic research at the university of New Mexico; and

(4) "report year" means the twelve-month period ending on the July 31 immediately preceding the date upon which a distribution pursuant to this section is required to be made.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.16, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 213, § 27; 1986, ch. 20, § 11; 1989, ch. 216, § 1; 2004, ch. 116, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2004 amendment, effective January 1, 2005, amended Subsection C to divide Paragraph (2) into Subparagraphs (a) and (b), to delete from Subparagraph (a), "multiplied by" and to insert in its place: "plus five percent of the total amount of deductions claimed pursuant to Section 7-9-92 NMSA 1978 for the month plus five percent of the total amount of deductions claimed pursuant to Section 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month; and".

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A substituted "1989" for "1986", inserted "during the state's preceding fiscal year", and deleted "for general purposes" following "tax"; rewrote Paragraph A(1); in Paragraph A(2) rewrote the first sentence and added the second sentence; added Paragraphs C(1) and C(2); redesignated former Subsection C as Paragraph C(3) while deleting therein "for the purposes of this section" following "means"; and added Paragraph C(4).

7-1-6.17. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1987, ch. 264, § 25A repealed 7-1-6.17 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1986, ch. 112, § 1, relating to distribution of tobacco products tax, effective July 1, 1987.

7-1-6.18. Distribution; veterans' state cemetery fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the veterans' state cemetery fund of the amounts designated pursuant to Section 7-2-28 NMSA 1978 as contributions to that fund after the city of Santa Fe has received the balance of tax refund contributions in the amount of one million seventy thousand dollars ($1,070,000).

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.18, enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 257, § 1; 2011, ch. 42, § 2; 2016, ch. 7, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, changed the name of the veterans' national cemetery fund to the veterans' state cemetery fund, removed a contingency on a distribution to the veterans' state cemetery fund that already occurred, and removed a requirement that certain excess amounts in the veterans' state cemetery fund be distributed to the substance abuse education fund; in the catchline, after "veterans", deleted "national" and added "state"; deleted "Upon a certification by the state board of finance that the city of Santa Fe grants and conveys additional acreage for the Santa Fe national cemetery", after "veterans", deleted "national" and added "state", after "contributions to that fund", deleted "provided that when the sum of contributions received on or after January 1, 1988 equals one million seventy thousand dollars ($1,070,000), any contributions received in excess of that amount shall be distributed to the substance abuse education fund" and added "after the city of Santa Fe has received the balance of tax refund contributions in the amount of one million seventy thousand dollars ($1,070,000)".

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, eliminated the provision that permitted distributions to the substance abuse education fund if House Bill 103 of the first session of the thirty-eighth legislature became law.

7-1-6.19. Distribution; county government road fund created.

A. There is created in the state treasury the "county government road fund".

B. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the county government road fund in an amount equal to five and seventy-six hundredths percent of the net receipts attributable to the gasoline tax.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.19, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 15; 1993, ch. 357, § 5; 1994, ch. 5, § 9; 1995, ch. 6, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 15 repealed former 7-1-6.19 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 347, § 10, and enacted a new section, effective July 1, 1992.

Compiler's notes. — Subsection A of Laws 1995, ch. 6, § 20 repealed 7-1-6.19 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1994, ch. 5, § 10, relating to the creation of and distributions to county government road fund and which was to become effective August 1, 1997, effective June 16, 1995. For provisions of former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

The 1995 amendment, effective August 1, 1995, substituted "five and seventy-six hundredths percent" for "four and nine tenth percent" in Subsection B.

The 1994 amendment, effective August 1, 1994, substituted "four and nine-tenths" for "four and forty-six hundredths" in Subsection B.

The 1993 amendment, effective August 1, 1993, substituted "four and forty-six hundredths percent" for "six and thirteen-hundredths percent" in Subsection B.

7-1-6.20. Identification of money in extraction taxes suspense fund; distribution.

A. Except as provided in Subsection B of this section, after the necessary disbursements have been made from the extraction taxes suspense fund, the money remaining in the suspense fund as of the last day of the month shall be identified by tax source and distributed or transferred in accordance with the provisions of Sections 7-1-6.21 through 7-1-6.23 and 7-1-6.61 NMSA 1978. After the necessary distributions and transfers, any balance, except for remittances unidentified as to source or disposition, shall be transferred to the general fund.

B. Payments on assessments issued by the department pursuant to the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978] and the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978] shall be held in the extraction taxes suspense fund until the secretary determines that there is no substantial risk of protest or other litigation, whereupon after the necessary disbursements have been made from the extraction taxes suspense fund, the money remaining in the suspense fund as of the last day of the month attributed to these payments shall be identified by tax source and distributed or transferred in accordance with the provisions of Sections 7-1-6.21 through 7-1-6.23 and 7-1-6.61 NMSA 1978. After the necessary distributions and transfers, any balance, except for remittance unidentified as to source or disposition, shall be transferred to the general fund.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, designated the formerly undesignated provisions as Subsection A, while inserting therein "the difference between" and adding all of the language following "Act", and added Subsection B.

7-1-6.22. Distributions to oil and gas production tax fund, oil and gas equipment tax fund and copper production tax fund; creation of funds.

A. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.20 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the "oil and gas production tax fund", hereby created in the state treasury, of the net receipts including advance payments, attributable to the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978].

B. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.20 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the "oil and gas equipment tax fund", hereby created in the state treasury, of the net receipts attributable to the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978].

C. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.20 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the "copper production tax fund", hereby created in the state treasury, of the net receipts attributable to the Copper Production Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 39 NMSA 1978].

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.22, enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 65, § 8; 1990, ch. 125, § 2; 1991, ch. 9, § 17.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, inserted "including advance payments" in Subsection A.

The 1990 amendment, effective March 7, 1990, inserted "and copper production tax fund" in the section heading, made a related stylistic change, and added Subsection C.

7-1-6.23. Distribution to severance tax bonding fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.20 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the severance tax bonding fund of the net receipts attributable to the taxes and advance payment imposed pursuant to the Severance Tax Act [7-26-1 to 7-26-8 NMSA 1978] and the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978].

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.23, enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 65, § 9; 1991, ch. 9, § 18.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, inserted "and advance payment".

7-1-6.24. Distribution; substance abuse education fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the substance abuse education fund of the amounts designated pursuant to Section 7-2-30 NMSA 1978 as contributions to that fund.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.18, enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 265, § 3; 2017, ch. 63, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1987, ch. 257, § 1 and ch. 265, § 3 both enacted 7-1-6.18 NMSA 1978, thereby necessitating the renumbering of this section as 7-1-6.24 NMSA 1978.

Cross references. — For substance abuse education fund, see 9-7-17 NMSA 1978.

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, after the second occurrence of "Section", changed "7-2-28" to "7-2-30".

7-1-6.25. Distribution of petroleum products loading fee; corrective action fund; local governments road fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 of the net receipts attributable to the petroleum products loading fee shall be made to each of the following funds in the following amounts:

A. to the local governments road fund an amount equal to the net receipts attributable to a fee of forty dollars ($40.00) per load; and

B. to the corrective action fund the balance, if any, of the net receipts.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.25, enacted by Laws 1988, ch. 70, § 9; 1990, ch. 124, § 13; 1993, ch. 298, § 1; 1995, ch. 6, § 6; 1996, ch. 82, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

For local governments road fund, see 67-3-28.2 NMSA 1978.

For ground water protection corrective action fund, see 74-6B-7 NMSA 1978.

The 1996 amendment, effective July 1, 1996, deleted former Subsection B relating to ceasing imposition of the petroleum products loading fee when the corrective action fund is certified to equal or exceed $50,000,000, and rewrote the remaining provisions.

The 1995 amendment, effective August 1, 1995, inserted "of petroleum products loading fee" and "local governments road fund" in the section heading; designated the former first and second sentences as Subsections A and B; deleted "shall be made to the corrective action fund" preceding "of the net receipts" and added the language beginning "shall be made" at the end of the introductory paragraph of Subsection A; and added Paragraphs A(1) and A(2).

The 1993 amendment, effective April 7, 1993, substituted "fifty million dollars ($50,000,000)" for "twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000)" and "secretary of environment" for "director of the environmental improvement division of the health and environment department" near the middle of the second sentence.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, rewrote the section to the extent that a detailed comparison would be impracticable.

7-1-6.26. County government road fund; distribution.

A. For the purposes of this section, "distributable amount" means the amount in the county government road fund as of the last day of any month for which a distribution is required to be made pursuant to this section in excess of the balance in that fund as of the last day of the preceding month after reduction for any required distributions for the preceding month.

B. The secretary of transportation shall determine and certify on or before July 1 of each year the total miles of public roads maintained by each county pursuant to Section 66-6-23 NMSA 1978. For the purposes of this subsection, if the certified mileage of public roads maintained by a county is less than four hundred miles, the state treasurer shall increase the number of miles of public roads maintained by that county by fifty percent and revise the total miles of public roads maintained by all counties accordingly. Except as provided otherwise in Subsection D of this section, each county shall receive an amount equal to its proportionate share of miles of public roads maintained, as the number of miles for the county may have been revised pursuant to this subsection, to the total miles of public roads maintained by all counties, as that total may have been revised pursuant to this subsection, times fifty percent of the distributable amount in the county government road fund.

C. Except as provided otherwise in Subsection D of this section, each county shall receive a share of fifty percent of the distributable amount in the county government road fund as determined in this subsection. The amount for each county shall be the greater of:

(1) twenty-one cents ($.21) multiplied by the county's population as shown by the most recent federal decennial census; or

(2) the proportionate share that the taxable gallons of gasoline reported for that county for the preceding fiscal year bear to the total taxable gallons of gasoline for all counties in the preceding fiscal year, as determined by the department, multiplied by fifty percent of the distributable amount in the county government road fund.

If the sum of the amounts to be distributed pursuant to Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection exceeds fifty percent of the distributable amount in the county government road fund, the excess shall be eliminated by multiplying the amount determined in Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection for each county by a fraction, the numerator of which is fifty percent of the distributable amount in the county government road fund, and the denominator of which is the sum of amounts determined for all counties in Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection.

D. If the distribution for a class A county or for an H class county determined pursuant to Subsections B and C of this section exceeds an amount equal to one-twelfth of the product of the total taxable gallons of gasoline reported for the county for the preceding fiscal year times one cent ($.01), the distribution for that county shall be reduced to an amount equal to one-twelfth of the product of the total taxable gallons of gasoline reported for the county for the preceding fiscal year times one cent ($.01). Any amount of the reduction shall be shared among the counties whose distribution has not been reduced pursuant to this subsection in the ratio of the amounts computed in Subsections B and C of this section.

E. If a county has not made the required mileage certification pursuant to Section 67-3-28.3 NMSA 1978 by April 1 of every year of the year for which distribution is being made, the secretary of transportation shall estimate the mileage maintained by those counties for the purpose of making distribution to all counties, and the amount calculated to be distributed each month to those counties not certifying mileage shall be reduced by one-third each month for that fiscal year and that amount not distributed to those counties shall be distributed equally to all counties that have certified mileages.

F. Distributions made to counties pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the county road fund to be used for the construction, reconstruction, resurfacing or other improvement or maintenance of the public roads and bridges in the county, including right-of-way and materials acquisition. Money distributed pursuant to this section may be used by the county to provide matching funds for projects subject to cooperative agreements entered into with the department of transportation pursuant to Section 67-3-28 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 1987, ch. 347, § 11; 1988, ch. 106, § 1; 1989, ch. 352, § 2; 1990, ch. 85, § 3; 1992, ch. 55, § 5; 1999, ch. 212, § 2; 2017, ch. 63, § 11.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, made technical corrections; in Subsection B, after "The secretary of", deleted "highway and", after "certify on or before", deleted "July 1, 1987 and on or before", and after "July 1 of each", deleted "subsequent"; in Subsection E, after "NMSA 1978", deleted "by May 1, 1998, and", after "of every year", deleted "thereafter", and after "the secretary of", deleted "highway and"; and in Subsection F, after "entered into with the", deleted "state highway and" and added "department of", and after "transportation", deleted "department".

The 1999 amendment, effective August 1, 1999, added Subsection F.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted "Subsections B and C" for "Subsections A and B" near the beginning of the first sentence of Subsection D and "that" for "which" near the end of Subsection E.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, deleted former Subsection A which read "The state treasurer shall distribute the distributable amount for August, 1987 and each subsequent month to the respective county road funds in accordance with the provisions of this section"; redesignated former Subsections B to F as Subsections A to E; deleted "less the distributable amount to the county government training program, pursuant to Section 7-1-6.19 NMSA 1978, which is equal to five-tenths of one percent of the amount in the county government road fund" at the end of Subsection A; in Subsection C, substituted "Subsection D" for "Subsection E" in the first sentence and rewrote the second paragraph of Paragraph (2); and, in Subsection D, substituted "Subsections A and B" for "Subsections B and C" in the first sentence and added the second sentence.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection B, inserted the language at the end beginning "less the distributable amount".

7-1-6.27. Distribution; municipal roads.

A. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to municipalities for the purposes and amounts specified in this section in an aggregate amount equal to five and seventy-six hundredths percent of the net receipts attributable to the gasoline tax.

B. The distribution authorized in this section shall be used for the following purposes:

(1) reconstructing, resurfacing, maintaining, repairing or otherwise improving existing alleys, streets, roads or bridges, or any combination of the foregoing; or laying off, opening, constructing or otherwise acquiring new alleys, streets, roads or bridges, or any combination of the foregoing; provided that any of the foregoing improvements may include, but are not limited to, the acquisition of rights of way;

(2) to provide matching funds for projects subject to cooperative agreements with the state highway and transportation department pursuant to Section 67-3-28 NMSA 1978; and

(3) for expenses of purchasing, maintaining and operating transit operations and facilities, for the operation of a transit authority established by the municipal transit law and for the operation of a vehicle emission inspection program. A municipality may engage in the business of the transportation of passengers and property within the political subdivision by whatever means the municipality may decide and may acquire cars, trucks, motor buses and other equipment necessary for operating the business. A municipality may acquire land, erect buildings and equip the buildings with all the necessary machinery and facilities for the operation, maintenance, modification, repair and storage of the cars, trucks, motor buses and other equipment needed. A municipality may do all things necessary for the acquisition and the conduct of the business of public transportation.

C. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "computed distribution amount" means the distribution amount calculated for a municipality for a month pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection D of this section prior to any adjustments to the amount due to the provisions of Subsections E and F of this section;

(2) "floor amount" means four hundred seventeen dollars ($417);

(3) "floor municipality" means a municipality whose computed distribution amount is less than the floor amount; and

(4) "full distribution municipality" means a municipality whose population at the last federal decennial census was at least two hundred thousand.

D. Subject to the provisions of Subsections E and F of this section, each municipality shall be distributed a portion of the aggregate amount distributable under this section in an amount equal to the greater of:

(1) the floor amount; or

(2) eighty-five percent of the aggregate amount distributable under this section times a fraction, the numerator of which is the municipality's reported taxable gallons of gasoline for the immediately preceding state fiscal year and the denominator of which is the reported total taxable gallons for all municipalities for the same period.

E. Fifteen percent of the aggregate amount distributable under this section shall be referred to as the "redistribution amount". Beginning in August 1990, and each month thereafter, from the redistribution amount there shall be taken an amount sufficient to increase the computed distribution amount of every floor municipality to the floor amount. In the event that the redistribution amount is insufficient for this purpose, the computed distribution amount for each floor municipality shall be increased by an amount equal to the redistribution amount times a fraction, the numerator of which is the difference between the floor amount and the municipality's computed distribution amount and the denominator of which is the difference between the product of the floor amount multiplied by the number of floor municipalities and the total of the computed distribution amounts for all floor municipalities.

F. If a balance remains after the redistribution amount has been reduced pursuant to Subsection E of this section, there shall be added to the computed distribution amount of each municipality that is neither a full distribution municipality nor a floor municipality an amount that equals the balance of the redistribution amount times a fraction, the numerator of which is the computed distribution amount of the municipality and the denominator of which is the sum of the computed distribution amounts of all municipalities that are neither full distribution municipalities nor floor municipalities.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 20 repealed former 7-1-6.27 NMSA 1978, as amended by Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 19 and enacted a new section, effective July 1, 1992.

Compiler's notes. — Subsection A of Laws 1995, ch. 6, § 20 repealed 7-1-6.27 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1994, ch. 5, § 12, relating to distributions to municipalities for municipal roads and which was to become effective August 1, 1997, effective June 16, 1995. For provisions of former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

The 1999 amendment, effective August 1, 1999, in Subsection B added Paragraph (2), made a related stylistic change, and redesignated former Paragraph (2) as Paragraph (3).

The 1995 amendment, effective August 1, 1995, substituted "five and seventy-six hundredths percent" for "four and nine tenth percents" in Subsection A.

The 1994 amendment, effective August 1, 1994, substituted "four and nine-tenths" for "four and forty-six hundredths" in Subsection A and "amount distributable under this section" for "six and thirteen-hundredths percent of the net receipts attributable to the gasoline tax" in the introductory language of Subsection D, and deleted the former second sentence in Subsection E, relating to the 1989-1990 period.

The 1993 amendment, effective August 1, 1993, substituted "four and forty-six hundredths percent" for "six and thirteen hundredths percent" in Subsection A.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted "thirteen-hundredths percent" for "twenty-five one hundredths percent" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection D and made minor stylistic changes in Subsection F.

7-1-6.28. Distribution; municipal arterial program of local governments road fund.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the municipal arterial program of the local governments road fund created in Section 67-3-28.2 NMSA 1978 in an amount equal to one and forty-four hundredths percent of the net receipts attributable to the gasoline tax.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.28, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 22; 1993, ch. 357, § 7; 1994, ch. 5, § 13; 1995, ch. 6, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 22 repealed former 7-1-6.28 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1989, ch. 356, § 8, and enacted a new section, effective July 1, 1992.

Compiler's notes. — Subsection A of Laws 1995, ch. 6, § 20 repeals 7-1-6.28 NMSA 1978 as enacted by Laws 1994, ch. 5, § 14, relating to distributions to the local governments road fund and which was to become effective August 1, 1997, effective June 16, 1995. For provisions of former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

The 1995 amendment, effective August 1, 1995, substituted "Distribution" for "Distributions" and inserted "municipal arterial program of" in the section heading; deleted the Subsection A designation; substituted "one and forty-four hundredths" for "one and twenty-two hundredths"; and deleted former Subsection B relating to distributions pursuant to 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 to the local governments road fund.

The 1994 amendment, effective August 1, 1994, rewrote the section heading, which read: "Distribution; municipal arterial program"; designated the previously undesignated language as Subsection A, and substituted "one and twenty-two hundredths" for "one and eleven-hundredths" therein; and added Subsection B.

The 1993 amendment, effective August 1, 1993, substituted "one and eleven hundredths" for "one and fifty-three hundredths".

7-1-6.29. Money in workers' compensation collections suspense fund; distribution.

A. After the necessary disbursements from the workers' compensation collections suspense fund have been made, money remaining in the suspense fund as of the last day of the month, less any deduction for administrative costs determined and made by the department pursuant to Section 52-5-19 NMSA 1978, less any distribution made pursuant to Subsection B of this section and less any amount determined by the department to be retained in the suspense fund for the purpose of making refunds, shall be distributed to the workers' compensation administration fund.

B. Upon certification by the New Mexico finance authority that a project is sufficiently developed to warrant the issuance of bonds by the authority, the department shall distribute the first forty cents ($.40) of each workers' compensation assessment imposed pursuant to Section 52-5-19 NMSA 1978 to the New Mexico finance authority. Upon certification by the authority, the department shall cease distribution to the authority.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.27, enacted by Laws 1989, ch. 325, § 3; 1993, ch. 367, § 74.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — As enacted by Laws 1989, ch. 325, § 3, this section was designated 7-1-6.27 NMSA 1978. However, due to the enactment of an identically designated section by Laws 1989, ch. 356, § 7, this section was redesignated.

The 1993 amendment, effective April 8, 1993, redesignated the existing language as Subsection A and inserted "less any distribution made pursuant to Subsection B of this section" in that subsection, and added Subsection B.

7-1-6.30. Distribution; retiree health care fund.

A. Beginning January 1, 2017 and prior to July 1, 2019, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the retiree health care fund in an amount equal to one-twelfth of the total amount distributed to the retiree health care fund beginning July 1, 2015 and prior to July 1, 2016.

B. Beginning July 1, 2019, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the retiree health care fund in an amount equal to one-twelfth of one hundred twelve percent of the total amount distributed to the retiree health care fund in the previous fiscal year.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.30, enacted by Laws 1990, ch. 6, § 20; 1992, ch. 55, § 7; 2001, ch. 335, § 1; 2016 (2nd S.S.), ch. 1, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For retiree health care fund, see 10-7C-8 NMSA 1978.

The 2016 (2nd S.S.) amendment, effective October 7, 2016, temporarily suspended the growth of certain distributions to the retiree health care fund; after the catchline, deleted "For the period ending June 30, 2002, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the retiree health care fund in an amount equal to one-twelfth of one hundred six percent of the total amount distributed to the retiree health care fund in the previous fiscal year. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2002 and subsequent fiscal years" and added new Subsection A; added the new subsection designation "B" and in Subsection B, after the subsection designation, added "Beginning July 1, 2019".

The 2001 amendment, effective June 15, 2001, substituted "period ending June 30, 2002" for "eighty-first and subsequent fiscal years"; and added the last sentence.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, rewrote this section to the extent that a detailed comparison would be impracticable.

7-1-6.31. Distributions; enhanced 911 fund; network and database surcharge fund.

A. Pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978, a distribution shall be made to the enhanced 911 fund in an amount equal to the net receipts attributable to the 911 emergency surcharge.

B. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the network and database surcharge fund of the net receipts attributable to the network and database surcharge imposed pursuant to the Enhanced 911 Act [63-9D-1 to 63-9D-11.1 NMSA 1978].

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-6.30, enacted by Laws 1990, ch. 86, § 5; 1993, ch. 48, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1990, ch 86, § 5 enacted this section as 7-1-6.30 NMSA 1978, but since Laws 1990, ch. 6, § 20 had already enacted a section designated 7-1-6.30 NMSA 1978, this section has been compiled as 7-1-6.31 NMSA 1978.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, rewrote the catchline which read "Distribution - Enhanced 911 Fund"; redesignated the former provision as Subsection A; and added Subsection B.

7-1-6.32. Distribution; solid waste assessment fee.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the solid waste facility grant fund of the net receipts attributable to the solid waste assessment fee authorized under the Solid Waste Act [74-9-1 to 74-9-42 NMSA 1978] less any administrative fee withheld pursuant to Section 7-1-6.41 NMSA 1978.

7-1-6.36. Distribution; interstate telecommunications gross receipts tax.

A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to each municipality in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the product of the quotient of one and thirty-five hundredths percent divided by the tax rate imposed by the Interstate Telecommunications Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9C NMSA 1978] times the net receipts for the month attributable to the interstate telecommunications gross receipts tax from business locations:

- A. within that municipality;

B. on land owned by the state, commonly known as the "state fairgrounds", within the exterior boundaries of that municipality;

C. outside the boundaries of any municipality on land owned by that municipality;

D. on an Indian reservation or pueblo grant in an area that is contiguous to that municipality and in which the municipality performs services pursuant to a contract between the municipality and the Indian tribe or Indian pueblo if:

(1) the contract describes an area in which the municipality is required to perform services and requires the municipality to perform services that are substantially the same as the services the municipality performs for itself; and

(2) the governing body of the municipality has submitted a copy of the contract to the secretary.

Compiler's notes. — Identical versions of this section were enacted by Laws 1992, ch. 50, § 13 and Laws 1992, ch. 67, § 13, both effective July 1, 1992. The section was set out as enacted by Laws 1992, ch. 67, § 13. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

7-1-6.37. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1995, ch. 6, § 21 repealed 7-1-6.37 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1993, ch. 357, § 8, relating to distribution of gasoline and special fuel excise taxes to the general fund, effective August 1, 1995. For provisions of former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

Subsection A of Laws 1995, ch. 6, § 20 repealed 7-1-6.37 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1994, ch. 5, § 16, relating to distribution of gasoline and special fuel excise taxes to the general fund and which was to become effective August 1, 1997, effective June 16, 1995.

7-1-6.38. Distribution; governmental gross receipts tax.

A. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made in amounts equal to the following percentages of the net receipts attributable to the governmental gross receipts tax, less the net receipts attributable to a hospital licensed by the department of health:

(1) seventy-five percent to the public project revolving fund administered by the New Mexico finance authority;

(2) twenty-four percent to the energy, minerals and natural resources department; provided that forty-one and two-thirds percent of the distribution is appropriated to the energy, minerals and natural resources department to implement the provisions of the New Mexico Youth Conservation Corps Act [9-5B-1 to 9-5B-11 NMSA 1978] and fifty-eight and one-third percent of the distribution is appropriated to the energy, minerals and natural resources department for state park and recreation area capital improvements, including the costs of planning, engineering, design, construction, renovation, repair, equipment and furnishings; and

(3) one percent to the cultural affairs department for capital improvements at state museums and monuments administered by the cultural affairs department.

B. The state pledges to and agrees with the holders of any bonds or notes issued by the New Mexico finance authority or by the energy, minerals and natural resources department and payable from the net receipts attributable to the governmental gross receipts tax distributed to the New Mexico finance authority or the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section that the state will not limit, reduce or alter the distribution of the net receipts attributable to the governmental gross receipts tax to the New Mexico finance authority or the energy, minerals and natural resources department or limit, reduce or alter the rate of imposition of the governmental gross receipts tax until the bonds or notes together with the interest thereon are fully met and discharged. The New Mexico finance authority and the energy, minerals and natural resources department are authorized to include this pledge and agreement of the state in any agreement with the holders of the bonds or notes.

History: Laws 1994, ch. 145, § 1; 1995, ch. 141, § 21; 2003, ch. 430, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 8.

The 2018 amendment, effective July 1, 2018, increased the distribution of the liquor excise tax to the local DWI grant fund, distributed a portion of the liquor excise tax to the drug court fund, and removed outdated language regarding previous appropriations; in the catchline, deleted "lottery tuition" and added "drug court"; in Subsection A, after "7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978", deleted "shall be made to the local DWI grant fund", after "in an amount equal to", deleted "the following percentages" and added "forty-five percent", and after "attributable to the liquor excise tax", deleted former Paragraphs A(1) through A(3) and added "shall be made to the local DWI grant fund"; in Subsection B, after "less than sixty thousand", deleted "The distribution pursuant to this subsection" and added "and"; and in Subsection C, deleted "From July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2017" and added "Beginning July 1, 2019, a", after "7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978", deleted "of thirty-nine" and added "in an amount equal to five", and after "shall be made to", deleted "lottery tuition" and added "drug court".

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, increased, for the period July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2018, the percentage of the liquor excise tax distributed to the local DWI grant fund from forty-one and one-half percent to forty-six percent, after which the percentage reverts to its current amount of forty-one and one-half percent and also changed the ending date of the distribution to the lottery tuition fund from July 1, 2017 to read "through June 30"; in the catchline, added "of liquor excise tax", and after "grant fund", added "certain"; in Subsection A, after "amount equal to", deleted "forty-one and fifty hundredths percent" and added "the following percentages", and added new Paragraphs (1), (2) and (3); in Subsection C, after "From July 1, 2015", deleted "July 1" and added "through June 30".

The 2014 amendment, effective March 12, 2014, distributed money in the liquor excise tax to the lottery tuition fund; in the catchline, after "municipalities", added "lottery tuition fund"; and added Subsection C.

The 2008 amendment, effective July 1, 2009, added Subsection B.

Applicability. — Laws 2008, ch. 93, § 2 provided that the distribution pursuant to Laws 2008, ch. 93, § 1 applies to revenue earned on a modified accrual basis after June 30, 2009.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, increases the percentage from thirty-four and fifty-seven hundredths to forty-one and fifty hundredths.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, changed the percentage of the net receipts attributable to the liquor excise tax to thirty-four and fifty-seven hundredths percent and deleted Subsections A and B, which contained the percentages of the net receipts to be used in certain time periods.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, changed the distribution percentage of the net receipts attributable to the liquor excise tax from twenty-seven and two-tenths to the percentages stipulated in Subsections A and B.

7-1-6.41. Administrative fee imposed; appropriation.

A. The taxation and revenue department is directed to withhold an administrative fee of three percent of the net amount to be distributed under the provisions of:

- (1) Section 7-1-6.32 NMSA 1978;
- (2) Section 66-12-20 NMSA 1978; and
- (3) Section 74-1-13 NMSA 1978.

B. The administrative fee to be withheld pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall be withheld on distributions made on or after July 1, 1997 and shall continue until the earlier of December 31, 2006 or the date on which the New Mexico finance authority certifies to the taxation and revenue department that all obligations for bonds issued pursuant to Section 12 of this 1997 act have been fully discharged and directs the department to cease distributing money to the authority pursuant to this section.

C. The taxation and revenue department is directed to withhold an additional administrative fee at the following percentage of the net amount to be distributed pursuant to the following provisions of law:

(1) two percent of the net amount to be distributed pursuant to Section 7-1-6.12 NMSA 1978; and

(2) six-tenths of one percent of the net amount to be distributed pursuant to Section 7-1-6.13 NMSA 1978.

D. The administrative fee to be withheld under Subsection C of this section shall be withheld on distributions made on or after July 1, 1997 and shall continue until the earlier of July 1, 2000 or the date on which the New Mexico finance authority certifies to the taxation and revenue department that all obligations for bonds issued pursuant to Section 12 of this 1997 act have been fully discharged and directs the department to cease distributing money to the authority pursuant to this section.

E. The administrative fee to be withheld by the taxation and revenue department under Section 7-1-6.12 and 7-1-6.13 NMSA 1978 shall be set at three percent of the net amount to be distributed pursuant to the provisions of those sections.

F. The administrative fee to be withheld under Subsection E of this section shall be withheld on distributions made on or after July 1, 2000 and shall continue until the earlier of December 31, 2006 or the date on which the New Mexico finance authority certifies to the taxation and revenue department that all obligations for bonds issued pursuant to Section 12 of this 1997 act have been fully discharged and directs the department to cease distributing money to the authority pursuant to this section. After the department has been directed by the authority to cease distributing money to the authority pursuant to this section, the administrative fee shall be remitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the state general fund each month.

G. The administrative fee shall be distributed monthly to the New Mexico finance authority to be pledged irrevocably for the payment of principal, interest and any expenses or obligations related to the bonds issued by the authority to finance the taxation and revenue information management systems project.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment changed the amount from $530,000 to $680,000.

Contingent effective dates. — The effective date of the provisions of Laws 2009, ch. 114, § 3 is the later of:

A. July 1, 2011; or

B. the first day of the month following the day that the chief executive officer of the New Mexico finance authority certifies to the secretary of taxation and revenue, the secretary of finance and administration, the legislative council service and the New Mexico compilation commission that the distribution is needed to make debt service payments on the bonds issued pursuant to Laws 2009, ch. 114, § 5 of this act.

7-1-6.43. Distribution; oil and gas proceeds and pass-through entity withholding tax; magistrate retirement fund; judicial retirement fund; legislative retirement fund.

A. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 from the net receipts attributable to the amount of tax deducted pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3A NMSA 1978] shall be made as follows:

(1) to the magistrate retirement fund in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000);

(2) to the judicial retirement fund in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000); and

(3) on and after July 1, 2025, to the legislative retirement fund in the amount of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) or, if larger, in an amount equal to one-twelfth of the amount necessary to pay out the retirement benefits due under state legislator member coverage plan 2 and Paragraph (2) of Subsection C of Section 10-11-41 NMSA 1978 for the succeeding calendar year.

B. In regard to the distributions to the magistrate retirement fund and the judicial retirement fund, in December 2024 and in each December thereafter, the public employees retirement association, with the assistance of the administrative office of the courts, shall determine the funded ratio of each fund as of the end of the preceding fiscal year. If the funded ratio of the magistrate retirement fund for the preceding fiscal year is equal to or greater than one hundred percent, the association shall notify the department, and no further distributions pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section shall be made. If the funded ratio of the judicial retirement fund for the preceding fiscal year is equal to or greater than one hundred percent, the association shall notify the department, and no further distributions pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section shall be made.

C. In regard to the distribution to the legislative retirement fund, in December 2024 and in each December thereafter, the public employees retirement association, with the assistance of the legislative council service, shall determine the amount of retirement benefits for the succeeding calendar year. If the monthly average exceeds seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), the association shall immediately notify the department of the average amount.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2020 amendment, effective July 1, 2020, provided for distributions pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act to the judicial retirement fund and the magistrate retirement fund, and delayed further distributions to the legislative retirement fund until fiscal year 2026; in the section heading, added "oil and gas proceeds and pass-through entity withholding tax; magistrate retirement fund; judicial retirement fund"; in Subsection A, in the introductory clause, deleted "Beginning on July 1, 2019", and after "shall be made", added "as follows", and added Paragraphs A(1) through A(3); added a new Subsection B and redesignated former Subsection B as Subsection C; and in Subsection C, after the first occurrence of "December", deleted "2003" and added "2024", and after "thereafter", deleted "except in 2017".

The 2017 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective July 1, 2017, suspended certain distributions to the legislative retirement fund; in the catchline, after "Distribution", deleted "to"; in Subsection A, added "Beginning on July 1, 2019", and added "from the net receipts attributable to the amount of tax deducted pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act", after "legislative retirement fund in", deleted "an" and added "the", after "amount", deleted "equal to" and added "of", after "if larger", added "in an amount equal to", and after "NMSA 1978 for the", added "succeeding"; and in Subsection B, after "In", added "regard to the distribution to the legislative retirement fund, in", after "thereafter", added "except in 2017", after "determine the amount of", deleted "those", after "association shall", deleted "notify", after "immediately", added "notify", and deleted the last sentence, which related to the timing of certain distributions to the legislative retirement fund.

The 2016 (2nd S.S.) amendment, effective October 19, 2016, reduced a distribution to the legislative retirement fund; in Subsection A, after "in an amount equal to", deleted "two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000)" and added "seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000)", and after "Subsection C of Section", deleted "10-11-42" and added "10-11-41"; in Subsection B, after "the monthly average exceeds", deleted "two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000)" and added "seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000)".

7-1-6.44. Distribution; gasoline tax sharing agreement.

A. A distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made by the department to each qualified tribe in an amount equal to forty percent of the net receipts attributable to the gasoline tax paid to the department on two million five hundred thousand gallons of gasoline each month. The distribution to each qualified tribe shall be made pursuant to a gasoline tax sharing agreement entered into by the department of transportation and the qualified tribe according to the provisions of Section 67-3-8.1 NMSA 1978.

B. From the balance remaining each month from the gasoline tax revenue on two million five hundred thousand gallons of gasoline per qualified tribe after distributions made pursuant to Subsection A of this section, a distribution of thirty-three thousand three hundred thirty-three dollars ($33,333) shall be made to the general fund.

C. The balance remaining after the distributions from gasoline tax revenue from two million five hundred thousand gallons of gasoline per qualified tribe pursuant to Subsections A and B of this section shall be distributed pursuant to Section 7-1-6.10 NMSA 1978.

D. As used in this section, "qualified tribe" means the Pueblo of Nambe or the Pueblo of Santo Domingo, as long as it owns one hundred percent of a registered Indian tribal distributor pursuant to the Gasoline Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 13 NMSA 1978], that qualifies for a deduction pursuant to Subsection F of Section 7-13-4 NMSA 1978 and has entered into a gasoline tax sharing agreement pursuant to Section 67-3-8.1 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 2003, ch. 150, § 2; 2004, ch. 109, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2004 amendments, effective July 1, 2004, amended Subsection A to change "a qualified tribe" to "each qualified tribe", added after "distribution" "to each qualified tribe", added Subsections B and C, redesignated Subsection B as Subsection D and added at the end of Subsection D "and has entered into a gasoline tax sharing agreement pursuant to Section 67-3-8.1 NMSA 1978".

7-1-6.45. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2006, ch. 25, § 2 repealed 7-1-6.45 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2004, ch. 4, § 2, relating to distributions to the medicaid program, effective March 2, 2006. For provisions of former section, see the 2005 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-6.46. Distribution to municipalities; offset for food deduction and health care practitioner services deduction.

A. For a municipality that did not have in effect on June 30, 2019 a municipal hold harmless gross receipts tax through an ordinance and that has a population of less than ten thousand according to the most recent federal decennial census, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the municipality in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the applicable maximum distribution for the municipality.

B. For a municipality that did not have in effect on June 30, 2019 a municipal hold harmless gross receipts tax through an ordinance and has a population of at least ten thousand according to the most recent federal decennial census, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the municipality in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the following percentages of the applicable maximum distribution for the municipality:

(1) for a municipality that has a municipal poverty level two percentage points or more above the state poverty level, eighty percent;

(2) for a municipality that has a poverty level of less than two percentage points above or below the state poverty level, fifty percent; and

(3) for a municipality that has a poverty level two percentage points or more below the state poverty level:

(a) on or after July 1, 2022 and prior to July 1, 2023, forty-nine percent;

(b) on or after July 1, 2023 and prior to July 1, 2024, forty-two percent;

(c) on or after July 1, 2024 and prior to July 1, 2025, thirty-five percent; and

(d) on or after July 1, 2025, thirty percent.

C. For a municipality not described in Subsection A or B of this section, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the municipality in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the applicable maximum distribution for the municipality multiplied by the following percentages:

(1) on or after July 1, 2022 and prior to July 1, 2023, forty-nine percent;

(2) on or after July 1, 2023 and prior to July 1, 2024, forty-two percent;

(3) on or after July 1, 2024 and prior to July 1, 2025, thirty-five percent;

(4) on or after July 1, 2025 and prior to July 1, 2026, twenty-eight percent;

(5) on or after July 1, 2026 and prior to July 1, 2027, twenty-one percent;

(6) on or after July 1, 2027 and prior to July 1, 2028, fourteen percent;

(7) on or after July 1, 2028 and prior to July 1, 2029, seven percent; and

(8) on and after July 1, 2029, zero percent.

D. A distribution pursuant to this section is in lieu of revenue that would have been received by the municipality but for the deductions provided by Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978. The distribution shall be considered gross receipts tax revenue and shall be used by the municipality in the same manner as gross receipts tax revenue, including payment of gross receipts tax revenue bonds.

E. If the changes made by this 2022 act to the distributions made pursuant to this section impair the ability of a municipality to meet its principal or interest payment obligations for revenue bonds that are outstanding prior to July 1, 2022 and that are secured by the pledge of all or part of the municipality's revenue from the distribution made pursuant to this section, then the amount distributed pursuant to this section to that municipality shall be increased by an amount sufficient to meet the required payment; provided that the total amount distributed to that municipality pursuant to this section does not exceed the amount that would have been due that municipality pursuant to this section as it was in effect on June 30, 2022.

F. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "business locations attributable to the municipality" means business locations:

(a) within the municipality;

(b) on land owned by the state, commonly known as the "state fairgrounds", within the exterior boundaries of the municipality;

(c) outside the boundaries of the municipality on land owned by the municipality; and

(d) on an Indian reservation or pueblo grant in an area that is contiguous to the municipality and in which the municipality performs services pursuant to a contract between the municipality and the Indian tribe or Indian pueblo if: 1) the contract describes an area in which the municipality is required to perform services and requires the municipality to perform services that are substantially the same as the services the municipality performs for itself; and 2) the governing body of the municipality has submitted a copy of the contract to the secretary;

(2) "maximum distribution" means:

municipal local option gross receipts taxes in effect in the municipality for the month plus one and two hundred twenty-five thousandths percent; and

(b) for a municipality not described in Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, the total deductions claimed pursuant to Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations attributable to the municipality multiplied by the sum of the combined rate of all municipal local option gross receipts taxes in effect in the municipality on January 1, 2007 plus one and two hundred twenty-five thousandths percent; and

(3) "poverty level" means the percentage of persons in poverty, according to the most recent five-year American community survey, as published by the United States census bureau. For the purposes of determining the poverty level of a municipality, "poverty level" means the percentage of persons in poverty in a municipality, according to the most recent five-year American community survey, as published by the United States census bureau, that includes adequate data to make a determination as to the poverty level of the municipality.

G. A distribution pursuant to this section may be adjusted for a distribution made to a tax increment development district with respect to a portion of a gross receipts tax increment dedicated by a municipality pursuant to the Tax Increment for Development Act [Chapter 5, Article 15 NMSA 1978].

History: Laws 2004, ch. 116, § 1; 2006, ch. 75, § 33; 2007, ch. 331, § 2; 2013, ch. 160, § 1; 2022, ch. 47, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2022 amendment, effective July 1, 2022, provided that certain municipalities are exempt from the hold harmless distribution phase-out if they did not have a hold harmless gross receipts tax in effect on June 30, 2019, allowed municipalities with a population of at least ten thousand to retain a percentage of the hold harmless distribution based on the poverty level of the municipality, and defined "maximum distribution"; in Subsection A, after "For a municipality that", deleted "has not elected to impose" and added "did not have in effect on June 30, 2019", after "equal to the", deleted "sum of" and added "applicable maximum distribution for the municipality", and deleted Paragraphs A(1) and A(2); added a new Subsection B and redesignated former Subsections B through F as Subsections C through G, respectively; in Subsection C, after "described in Subsection A", added "or B", after "equal to the", deleted "sum of" and added "applicable maximum distribution for the municipality multiplied by", deleted former Paragraph (1) and the language "the total deductions claimed pursuant to Section 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations attributable to the municipality multiplied by the sum of the combined rate of all municipal local option gross receipts taxes in effect in the municipality on January 1, 2007 plus one and two hundred twenty-five thousandths percent in", deleted Subparagraphs (2)(a) through 2(h) and redesignated former Subparagraphs (2)(i) through (2)(o) as Paragraphs C(1) through C(7), respectively, and added Paragraph C(8); in Subsection D, deleted "The" and added "A", after "pursuant to", deleted "Subsections A and B of", and deleted "A distribution pursuant to this section to a municipality not described in Subsection A of this section or to a municipality that has imposed a gross receipts tax through an ordinance that does not provide a deduction contained in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act shall not be made on or after July 1, 2029."; in Subsection E, after "If the", deleted "reductions" and added "changes", after "pursuant to", deleted "Subsections A and B of", and substituted each occurrence of "2013" with "2022" throughout the subsection; and in Subsection F, redesignated former Paragraphs (1) through (4) as Subparagraphs F(1)(a) through F(1)(d), respectively, in Subparagraph F(1)(d), redesignated former Subparagraphs (4)(a) and (4)(b) as Items F(1)(d)1) and F(1)(d)2), respectively, and added Paragraphs F(2) and F(3).

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, offset the effects of revenue reductions from decreasing the corporate income tax rate and the use of a single sales factor by phasing out certain local government hold harmless provisions over a fifteen-year period; in Subsection A, at the beginning of the sentence, added the language up to "a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978"; deleted former Paragraph (1) of Subsection A, which provided a distribution for municipalities having a population of less than ten thousand and a per capita taxable gross receipts less than the average for all municipalities; in Subsection B, after "described in", deleted "Paragraph (1) of this" and after "Section", added the remainder of the sentence; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection B, in the introductory sentence, added "in the following percentages" and added Subparagraphs (a) through (o); in Paragraph (2) of Subsection B, after "percent", added "in the following percentages" and added Subparagraphs (a) through (o); in Subsection C, in the first sentence, after "pursuant to", changed "Subsection A" to "Subsections A and B", and added the third sentence; and added Subsection D.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added Paragraph (1) of Subsection A and Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A.

The 2006 amendment, effective March 6, 2006, added Subsection D to provide an adjustment for a distribution to a tax increment development district.

7-1-6.47. Distribution to counties; offset for food deduction and health care practitioner services deduction.

A. For a county that did not have in effect on June 30, 2019 a county hold harmless gross receipts tax through an ordinance and that has a population of less than forty-eight thousand according to the most recent federal decennial census, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the county in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the applicable maximum distribution for the county.

B. For a county not described in Subsection A of this section, a distribution pursuant to Section 7-1-6.1 NMSA 1978 shall be made to the county in an amount, subject to any increase or decrease made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978, equal to the applicable maximum distribution multiplied by the following percentages:

- (1) on or after July 1, 2021 and prior to July 1, 2022, fifty-six percent;
- (2) on or after July 1, 2022 and prior to July 1, 2023, forty-nine percent;
- (3) on or after July 1, 2023 and prior to July 1, 2024, forty-two percent;
- (4) on or after July 1, 2024 and prior to July 1, 2025, thirty-five percent;
- (5) on or after July 1, 2025 and prior to July 1, 2026, twenty-eight percent;
- (6) on or after July 1, 2026 and prior to July 1, 2027, twenty-one percent;
- (7) on or after July 1, 2027 and prior to July 1, 2028, fourteen percent;
- (8) on or after July 1, 2028 and prior to July 1, 2029, seven percent; and
- (9) on and after July 1, 2029, zero percent.

C. A distribution pursuant to this section is in lieu of revenue that would have been received by the county but for the deductions provided by Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978. The distribution shall be considered gross receipts tax revenue and shall be used by the county in the same manner as gross receipts tax revenue, including payment of gross receipts tax revenue bonds.

D. If the changes made by this 2022 act to the distributions made pursuant to this section impair the ability of a county to meet its principal or interest payment obligations for revenue bonds that are outstanding prior to July 1, 2022 and that are secured by the pledge of all or part of the county's revenue from the distribution made pursuant to this section, then the amount distributed pursuant to this section to that county shall be increased by an amount sufficient to meet the required payment; provided that the total amount distributed to that county pursuant to this section does not exceed the amount that would have been due that county pursuant to this section as it was in effect on June 30, 2022.

E. A distribution pursuant to this section may be adjusted for a distribution made to a tax increment development district with respect to a portion of a gross receipts tax increment dedicated by a county pursuant to the Tax Increment for Development Act [Chapter 5, Article 15 NMSA 1978].

F. For the purposes of this section, "maximum distribution" means:

(1) for a county that did not have in effect on June 30, 2019 a county hold harmless gross receipts tax and that has a population of less than forty-eight thousand according to the most recent federal decennial census, the sum of:

(a) the total deductions claimed pursuant to Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations within a municipality in the county multiplied by the combined rate of all county local option gross receipts taxes in effect for the month that are imposed throughout the county; and

(b) the total deductions claimed pursuant to Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations in the county but not within a municipality multiplied by the combined rate of all county local option gross receipts taxes in effect for the month that are imposed in the county area not within a municipality; and

(2) for a county not described in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the sum of:

(a) the total deductions claimed pursuant to Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations within a municipality in the county multiplied by the combined rate of all county local option gross receipts taxes in effect on January 1, 2007 that are imposed throughout the county; and

(b) the total deductions claimed pursuant to Sections 7-9-92 and 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 for the month by taxpayers from business locations in the county but not within a municipality multiplied by the combined rate of all county local option gross receipts taxes in effect on January 1, 2007 that are imposed in the county area not within a municipality.

ANNOTATIONS

2017 Multiple Amendments. — Laws 2017, ch. 63, § 17 and Laws 2017, ch. 115, § 1, both effective June 16, 2017, enacted different amendments to this section that can be reconciled. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978, Laws 2017, ch. 115, § 1, as the last act signed by the governor, is set out above and incorporates both amendments. The amendments enacted by Laws 2017, ch. 63, § 17 and Laws 2017, ch. 115, § 1 are described below. To view the session laws in their entirety, see the 2017 session laws on NMOneSource.com.

The nature of the difference between the amendments is that Laws 2017, ch. 63, § 17, provided the citation to the Vietnam veterans memorial state park tax contribution statute, and Laws 2017, ch. 115, § 1, redesignated tax contributions from the state parks division of the energy, minerals and natural resources department to the veterans' services department for the operation, maintenance and improvement of the Vietnam veterans memorial near Angel Fire, New Mexico.

Laws 2017, ch. 115, § 1, effective June 16, 2017, redesignated tax contributions from the state parks division of the energy, minerals and natural resources department to the veterans' services department for the operation, maintenance and improvement of the Vietnam veterans memorial near Angel Fire, New Mexico; in the catchline added "Vietnam"; after "shall be made to the", deleted "state parks division of the energy, mineral and natural resources" and added "veterans' services", after "contributions to the", deleted "state parks division of the energy, minerals and natural resources" and added "veterans' services", and after "Vietnam veterans memorial", deleted "state park".

Laws 2017, ch. 63, § 17, effective June 16, 2017, provided the citation to the Vietnam veterans memorial state park tax contribution statute; after "pursuant to", deleted "the Income Tax Act" and added "Section 7-2-30.4 NMSA 1978".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2017, ch. 90, § 1, effective June 16, 2017, provided:

A. History: Laws 2023, ch. 112, § 11; 2024, ch. 59, § 7; 2024, ch. 62, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 Multiple Amendments. — Laws 2024, ch. 59, § 7, effective July 1, 2025, and Laws 2024, ch. 62, § 2, effective January 1, 2025, enacted different amendments to this section that can be reconciled. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978, Laws 2024, ch. 62, § 2 as the last act signed by the governor is set out above and incorporates both amendments. The amendments enacted by Laws 2024, ch. 59, § 7 and Laws 2024, ch. 62, § 2 are described below. To view the session laws in their entirety, see the 2024 session laws on NMSOneSource.com.

The nature of the difference between the amendments is that Laws 2024, ch. 59, § 7, required the taxation and revenue department to withhold an administrative fee of three percent of the net amount on metropolitan redevelopment project distributions, and Laws 2024, ch. 62, § 2, provided that a distribution for a metropolitan redevelopment project pursuant to the Metropolitan Redevelopment Code shall be made to the metropolitan redevelopment fund in accordance with Subparagraph B(4)(b) of § 3-60A-21 NMSA 1978.

Laws 2024, ch. 62, § 2, effective January 1, 2025, provided that a distribution for a metropolitan redevelopment project pursuant to the Metropolitan Redevelopment Code shall be made to the metropolitan redevelopment fund in accordance with Subparagraph B(4)(b) of § 3-60A-21 NMSA 1978; and after "in accordance with", deleted "a notice filed by a municipality or county pursuant to", and added "the provisions of Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (4) of Subsection B of".

Laws 2024, ch. 59, § 7, effective July 1, 2025, required the taxation and revenue department to withhold an administrative fee of three percent of the net amount on metropolitan redevelopment project distributions, and made certain technical amendments; in the section heading, added "administrative fee"; and added new Subsection B.

The 2009 amendment, effective July 1, 2009, deleted the former introductory paragraph; deleted former Subsections A through NN; and added new Subsections A through D.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, permits disclosure of information to the federation of tax administrators and adds Subsection NN.

The 2005 amendment, effective January 1, 2006, provided in Subsection D that the taxation and revenue department may disclose information to another jurisdiction pursuant to an international fuel tax agreement for tax purposes only; provided in Subsection R that the department may answer inquires concerning whether a person is a registered taxpayer for tax programs that require registration, but whether a person has filed a tax return; and provided in Subsection II that the department may disclose written rulings on questions of evidence and procedure made by a hearing officer, but not the name and identification of the taxpayer requesting the ruling.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, in Subsection N, substituted "number of gallons" for "amount and gallonage" and "received and deducted, and the amount of tax paid by each person required to file a gasoline tax return or pay gasoline tax" for "imported, exported, sold and used, including tax-exempt sales to the federal government reported or upon which the gasoline tax was paid and covering taxes received from each distributor"; in Subsection O, substituted "a rack operator, importer, blender, supplier or distributor and the number of gallons" for "distributors and gallonage" and inserted "a rack operator, importer, blender" following "Alternative Fuel Tax Act" and added Subsection GG.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, inserted "and not available from public sources" at the end of the preliminary language of the section and added Subsections EE and FF.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, in Subsection H, inserted "7-12-13 and Sections 7-12-15 and" and "or to the attorney general for purposes of Section 6-4-13 NMSA 1978 and the master settlement agreement defined in Section 6-4-12 NMSA 1978"; substituted "7-1-63" for "7-1-64" in Subsection J; and substituted "public regulation" for "state corporation" in Subsection W.

Gross receipts tax returns are privileged. — Where plaintiff sued defendants for employment discrimination; plaintiff's spouse, who was not a party to the action, maintained a private law practice; plaintiff alleged that upon filing the complaint, defendants retaliated against plaintiff by asserting irregularities with regard to the gross receipts tax records and returns of the spouse's private law practice; defendants asked the district court to issue subpoenas duces tecum to the spouse and to defendant taxation and revenue department for the spouse's gross receipts tax records and returns; and plaintiff's marital relationship to the spouse did not make plaintiff liable for payment of the gross receipts tax of the spouse's private law practice; the gross receipts tax records and returns sought by the subpoenas issued to the spouse and to defendant taxation and revenue department were confidential under Sections 7-1-4.2 and 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and privileged under Rule 11-502 NMRA. Breen v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMCA-101, 287 P.3d 379.

Release of audit to non-affiliated property owner not permitted. — Subsection U does not permit the release of an audit report on oil and gas operations by the taxation and revenue department to a non-affiliated owner of working interests in properties operated by the audited company. Meridian Oil, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue, 1996-NMCA-079, 122 N.M. 131, 921 P.2d 327 (decided under prior law).

7-1-8.2. Information required to be revealed.

A. The department shall:

- (1) furnish returns and return information required by a provision of the Tax Administration Act to be made available to the public by the department;
- (2) answer all inquiries concerning whether a person is or is not a registered taxpayer for tax programs that require registration, but nothing in this subsection shall be construed to allow the department to answer inquiries concerning whether a person has filed a tax return;
- (3) furnish, upon request for inspection by a member of the public pursuant to:
 - (a) Section 7-1-28 or Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978, the taxpayer name, abatement, refund or credit amount, tax program or business tax credit and the date the abatement, refund or credit was issued; and
 - (b) Section 7-1-21 NMSA 1978, the installment agreement; and
- (4) with respect to the taxes on gasoline and special fuel imposed by the Gasoline Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 13 NMSA 1978] and the Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 16A NMSA 1978], make available for public inspection at monthly intervals a report covering the number of gallons of gasoline, ethanol blended fuels and special fuel received and deducted and the amount of tax paid by each person required to file a gasoline tax return or special fuel tax return or pay gasoline tax or special fuel excise tax in the state of New Mexico.

B. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the release of information that would violate an agreement between the state and the federal internal revenue service for sharing of information or any provision or rule of the federal Internal Revenue Code to which a state is subject.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-8.2, as enacted by Laws 2009, ch. 243, § 4; 2023, ch. 85, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, authorized certain tax information resulting from administrative hearings to be revealed to the public; in Subsection B, Paragraph (1), after "respect to", deleted "Sections 7-25-1 through 7-25-9 and 7-26-1 through 7-26-8 NMSA 1978" and added "the Resources Excise Tax Act and the Severance Tax Act"; in Subsection B, Paragraph (3)(a), after "the", deleted "minerals management service" and added "bureau of safety and environment enforcement"; in Subsection D, after "pursuant to", deleted "Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978" and added "the provisions of the Administrative Hearings Office Act"; and in Subsection E, after "pursuant to", deleted "Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978" and added "the provisions of the Administrative Hearings Office Act".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided:

A. On July 1, 2015, all personnel, functions, appropriations, money, records, furniture, equipment and other property of, or attributable to, the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be transferred to the administrative hearings office.

B. On July 1, 2015, all contractual obligations of the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be binding on the administrative hearings office.

C. On July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.

D. Rules of the taxation and revenue department pertaining to hearing officers and the conduct of hearings pursuant to actions related to Chapter 7 or 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be the rules of the administrative hearings office until amended or repealed by the office.

7-1-8.4. Information that may be revealed to judicial bodies or with respect to judicial proceedings or investigations and to administrative hearings office.

An employee of the department may reveal to:

A. a district court, an appellate court or a federal court, a return or return information:

(1) in response to an order thereof in an action relating to taxes or an action for tax fraud or any other crime that may involve taxes due to the state and in which the information sought is about a taxpayer that is party to the action and is material to the inquiry, in which case only that information may be required to be produced in court and admitted in evidence subject to court order protecting the confidentiality of the information and no more;

(2) in an action in which the department is attempting to enforce an act with which the department is charged or to collect a tax; or

(3) in any matter in which the department is a party and the taxpayer has put the taxpayer's own liability for taxes at issue, in which case only that information regarding the taxpayer that is party to the action may be produced, but this shall not prevent revelation of department policy or interpretation of law arising from circumstances of a taxpayer that is not a party;

B. the Bernalillo county metropolitan court, upon that court's request, the last known address and the date of that address for every person the court certifies to the department as a person who owes fines, fees or costs to the court or who has failed to appear pursuant to a court order or a promise to appear;

C. a magistrate court, upon the magistrate court's request, the last known address and the date of that address for every person the court certifies to the department as a person who owes fines, fees or costs to the court or who has failed to appear pursuant to a court order or a promise to appear;

D. a district attorney, a state district court grand jury or federal grand jury, information for an investigation of or proceeding related to an alleged criminal violation of the tax laws;

E. a third party subject to a subpoena or levy issued pursuant to the provisions of the Tax Administration Act, the identity of the taxpayer involved, the taxes or tax acts involved and the nature of the proceeding; and

F. the administrative hearings office, information in relation to a protest or other hearing, in which case only that information regarding the taxpayer that is a party to the action may be produced, but this shall not prevent revelation of department policy or interpretation of law arising from circumstances of a taxpayer that is not a party. The office shall maintain confidentiality regarding taxpayer information as required by the provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978.

ANNOTATIONS

Contingent effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 41, § 14, provided that the provisions of 24A-8-1 to 24A-8-7 NMSA 1978 shall become effective on the first day of the month subsequent to the health care authority department receiving the necessary federal authorizations and approvals of waivers required to implement and administer the Health Care Delivery and Access Act. Upon this occurring, the secretary of health care authority shall immediately notify the New Mexico compilation commission, the director of the legislative council service and the secretary of taxation and revenue.

Delayed repeals. — Laws 2024, ch. 41, § 13 repealed 7-1-8.8 NMSA 1978, effective July 1, 2030.

The 2024 amendment, replaced the secretary of the human services department with the secretary of the health care authority as the entity to whom employees of the taxation and revenue department may reveal certain confidential tax return information for the purpose of enforcing the support liability of absent parents by the child support enforcement division for needed reports required to be made to the federal governing concerning the use of federal funds for low-income working families, for information of low-income taxpayers for the purpose of outreach to those taxpayers, for information required to administer the Health Care Quality Surcharge Act and the Health Care Delivery and Access Act, and for return information in accordance with the provisions of the Easy Enrollment Act; in Subsection D, deleted "human services" and added "health care authority, throughout the subsection; and in Paragraph D(4), after "Health Care Quality Surcharge Act" added "and the Health Care Delivery and Access Act".

7-1-8.9. Information that may be revealed to local governments and their agencies.

A. An employee of the department may reveal to:

(1) the officials or employees of a municipality of this state authorized in a written request by the municipality for a period specified in the request within the twelve months preceding the request; provided that the municipality receiving the information has entered into a written agreement with the department that the information shall be used for tax purposes only and specifying that the municipality is subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and the penalty provisions of Section 7-1-76 NMSA 1978:

(a) the names, taxpayer identification numbers and addresses of registered gross receipts taxpayers reporting gross receipts for that municipality under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978] or a local option gross receipts tax imposed by that municipality. The department may also reveal the information described in this subparagraph quarterly or upon such other periodic basis as the secretary and the municipality may agree in writing;

(b) a range of taxable gross receipts of registered gross receipts paid by taxpayers from business locations attributable to that municipality under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act or a local option gross receipts tax imposed by that municipality; provided that authorization from the federal internal revenue service to reveal such information has been received. The department may also reveal the information described in this subparagraph quarterly or upon such other periodic basis as the secretary and the municipality may agree in writing; and

(c) information indicating whether persons shown on a list of businesses located within that municipality furnished by the municipality have reported gross receipts to the department but have not reported gross receipts for that municipality under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act or a local option gross receipts tax imposed by that municipality;

(2) the officials or employees of a county of this state authorized in a written request by the county for a period specified in the request within the twelve months preceding the request; provided that the county receiving the information has entered into a written agreement with the department that the information shall be used for tax purposes only and specifying that the county is subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and the penalty provisions of Section 7-1-76 NMSA 1978:

(a) the names, taxpayer identification numbers and addresses of registered gross receipts taxpayers reporting gross receipts either for that county in the case of a local option gross receipts tax imposed on a countywide basis or only for the areas of that county outside of any incorporated municipalities within that county in the case of a county local option gross receipts tax imposed only in areas of the county outside of any incorporated municipalities. The department may also reveal the information described in this subparagraph quarterly or upon such other periodic basis as the secretary and the county may agree in writing;

(b) a range of taxable gross receipts of registered gross receipts paid by taxpayers from business locations attributable either to that county in the case of a local option gross receipts tax imposed on a countywide basis or only to the areas of that county outside of any incorporated municipalities within that county in the case of a county local option gross receipts tax imposed only in areas of the county outside of any incorporated municipalities; provided that authorization from the federal internal revenue service to reveal such information has been received. The department may also reveal the information described in this subparagraph quarterly or upon such other periodic basis as the secretary and the county may agree in writing;

(c) in the case of a local option gross receipts tax imposed by a county on a countywide basis, information indicating whether persons shown on a list of businesses located within the county furnished by the county have reported gross receipts to the department but have not reported gross receipts for that county under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act or a local option gross receipts tax imposed by that county on a countywide basis; and

(d) in the case of a local option gross receipts tax imposed by a county only on persons engaging in business in that area of the county outside of incorporated municipalities, information indicating whether persons on a list of businesses located in that county outside of the incorporated municipalities but within that county furnished by the county have reported gross receipts to the department but have not reported gross receipts for that county outside of the incorporated municipalities within that county under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act or a local option gross receipts tax imposed by the county only on persons engaging in business in that county outside of the incorporated municipalities; and

(3) officials or employees of a municipality or county of this state, authorized in a written request of the municipality or county, for purposes of inspection, the records of the department pertaining to an increase or decrease to a distribution or transfer made pursuant to Section 7-1-6.15 NMSA 1978 for the purpose of reviewing the basis for the increase or decrease; provided that the municipality or county receiving the information has entered into a written agreement with the department that the information shall be used for tax purposes only and specifying that the municipality or county is subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and the penalty provisions of Section 7-1-76 NMSA 1978. The authorized officials or employees may only reveal the information provided in this paragraph to another authorized official or employee, to an employee of the department, or a district court, an appellate court or a federal court in a proceeding relating to a disputed distribution and in which both the state and the municipality or county are parties.

B. The department may require that a municipal or county official or employee satisfactorily complete appropriate training on protecting confidential information prior to receiving the information pursuant to Subsection A of this section.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-8.9, as enacted by Laws 2009, ch. 243, § 11; 2015, ch. 89, § 2; 2015, ch. 100, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, allowed the taxation and revenue department to reveal to local governments certain gross receipts tax information attributable to those local governments; designated the previously undesignated introductory sentence as Subsection A; redesignated former Subsection A as Paragraph (1) of Subsection A; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection A, after "preceding the request;", added the remainder of the paragraph; redesignated former Paragraph (1) of Subsection A as Subparagraph A(1)(a); in Subparagraph A(1)(a), after "described in this", deleted "paragraph" and added subparagraph", and after "may agree", added "in writing"; added Subparagraph A(1)(b); redesignated former Paragraph (2) of Subsection A as Subparagraph A(1)(c); redesignated former Subsection B as Paragraph (2) of Subsection A; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, after "preceding the request", added the remainder of the paragraph; redesignated former Paragraph (1) of Subsection B as Subparagraph A(2)(a); in Subparagraph A(2)(a), after "described in this", deleted paragraph and added "subparagraph", and after "may agree", added "in writing"; added Subparagraph A(2)(b); redesignated former Paragraphs (2) and (3) of Subsection B as Subparagraphs A(2)(c) and A(2)(d), respectively; redesignated former Subsection C as Paragraph (3) of Subsection A; in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A, after "increase or decrease", added "provided that the municipality or county receiving the information has entered into a written agreement with the department that the information shall be used for tax purposes only and specifying that the municipality or county is subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and the penalty provisions of Section 7-1-76 NMSA 1978", and after "provided in this", deleted "subsection" and added "paragraph"; and added Subsection B.

Duplicate laws. — Laws 2015, ch. 89, § 2 and Laws 2015, ch. 100, § 2, both effective July 1, 2015, enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2015, ch. 100, § 2. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

7-1-8.10. Information that may be revealed to private persons other than the taxpayer.

An employee of the department may reveal to:

A. a transferee, assignee, buyer or lessor of a liquor license, the amount and basis of an unpaid assessment of tax for which the transferor, assignor, seller or lessee is liable;

B. a purchaser of a business as provided in Sections 7-1-61 through 7-1-63 NMSA 1978, the amount and basis of an unpaid assessment of tax for which the purchaser's seller is liable;

C. a rack operator, importer, blender, distributor or supplier, the identity of a rack operator, importer, blender, supplier or distributor and the number of gallons reported on returns required under the Gasoline Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 13 NMSA 1978], Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 16A NMSA 1978] or Alternative Fuel Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 16B NMSA 1978], but only when it is necessary to enable the department to carry out its duties under the Gasoline Tax Act, the Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act or the Alternative Fuel Tax Act;

D. a corporation authorized to be formed under the Educational Assistance Act [Chapter 21, Article 21A NMSA 1978], upon its written request, the last known address and the date of that address of every person certified to the department as an absent obligor of an educational debt due and owed to the corporation or that the corporation has lawfully contracted to collect; this information may only be used by the corporation and its officers and employees to enforce the educational debt obligation of the absent obligors; and

E. the executive director of the New Mexico health insurance exchange:

(1) insurance-relevant information for which the taxpayer consents to disclosure in accordance with the provisions of the Easy Enrollment Act [Chapter 59A, Article 23H NMSA 1978]; and

(2) information on consent that a taxpayer provides on a state income tax return in accordance with the provisions of the Easy Enrollment Act.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-8.10, as enacted by Laws 2009, ch. 243, § 12; 2022, ch. 33, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2022 amendment, effective May 18, 2022, authorized the taxation and revenue department to reveal certain information related to the Easy Enrollment Act to the executive director of the New Mexico health insurance exchange; and added Subsection E.

Applicability. — Laws 2022, ch. 33, § 9 provided that the provisions of Laws 2022, ch. 33 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

7-1-8.11. Information that may be revealed to a water and sanitation district.

A. An employee of the department may reveal to the officials and employees of a water and sanitation district of this state that has in effect a water and sanitation gross receipts tax imposed by the water and sanitation district upon its request for a period specified by that water and sanitation district within the twelve months preceding the request for the information by those officials and employees:

(1) the names, taxpayer identification numbers and addresses of registered gross receipts taxpayers reporting gross receipts for that water and sanitation district; the department may also release the information described in this paragraph quarterly or upon any other periodic basis to which the secretary and the district agree; and

(2) information indicating whether the persons shown on a list of businesses within the water and sanitation district have reported gross receipts to the department but have not reported gross receipts for that water and sanitation district.

B. The officials and employees of water and sanitation districts receiving information as provided in this section shall be subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978 and the penalty provisions of Section 7-1-76 NMSA 1978.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-8.11, enacted by Laws 2017, ch. 63, § 20.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2017, ch. 63 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 16, 2017, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-1-9. Address of notices and payments; timely mailing constitutes timely filing or making.

A. Any notice required or authorized by the Tax Administration Act to be given by mail is effective if mailed or served by the secretary or the secretary's delegate to the taxpayer or person at the last address shown on his registration certificate or other record of the department. Any notice, return, application or payment required or authorized to be delivered to the secretary or the department by mail shall be addressed to the secretary of taxation and revenue, taxation and revenue department, Santa Fe, New Mexico or in any other manner which the secretary by regulation or instruction may direct.

B. Except as provided otherwise in Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978, all notices, returns, applications or payments authorized or required to be made or given by mail are timely if mailed on or before the date on which they are required. The secretary by regulation may provide that delivery to a private delivery or courier service on or before the date on which mailing is required constitutes timely mailing and may specify standards under which the service's time stamps or other indication of date of delivery to the service are adequate to determine actual time of delivery to the service.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-26, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 14; 1979, ch. 144, § 8; 1985, ch. 65, § 11; 1986, ch. 20, § 13; 1988, ch. 99, § 1; 1997, ch. 67, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, added the second sentence to Subsection B.

Am. Jur. 2d, A.L.R. and C.J.S. references. — Penalty for nonpayment of taxes where due as affected by lack of notice to taxpayer, 102 A.L.R. 405.

Sufficiency of compliance with statute providing for service by mail of notice in tax procedure, 155 A.L.R. 1279.

Time of mailing or time of receipt as determinative of liability for penalty or additional amount for failure to pay tax on license fee within prescribed time, 158 A.L.R. 370.

7-1-10. Records required by statute; taxpayer records; accounting methods; reporting methods; information returns.

A. Every person required by the provisions of any statute administered by the department to keep records and documents and every taxpayer shall maintain books of account or other records in a manner that will permit the accurate computation of state taxes or provide information required by the statute under which the person is required to keep records.

B. Methods of accounting shall be consistent for the same business. A taxpayer engaged in more than one business may use a different method of accounting for each business.

C. Prior to changing the method of accounting in keeping books and records for tax purposes, a taxpayer shall first secure the consent of the secretary or the secretary's delegate. If consent is not secured, the department upon audit may require the taxpayer to compute the amount of tax due on the basis of the accounting method earlier used.

D. Prior to changing the method of reporting taxes, other than for changes required by law, a taxpayer shall first secure the consent of the secretary or the secretary's delegate. Consent shall be granted or withheld pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-4-19 NMSA 1978. If consent is not secured, the secretary or the secretary's delegate upon audit may require the taxpayer to compute the amount of tax due on the basis of the reporting method earlier used.

E. Upon the written application of a taxpayer and at the sole discretion of the secretary or the secretary's delegate, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may enter into an agreement with a taxpayer allowing the taxpayer to report values, gross receipts, deductions or the value of property on an estimated basis for gross receipts and compensating tax, oil and gas severance tax, oil and gas conservation tax, oil and gas emergency school tax and oil and gas ad valorem production tax purposes for a limited period of time not to exceed four years. As used in this section, "estimated basis" means a methodology that is reasonably expected to approximate the tax that will be due over the period of the agreement using summary rather than detail data or alternate valuation applications or methods, provided that:

(1) nothing in this section shall be construed to require the secretary or the secretary's delegate to enter into such an agreement; and

(2) the agreement must:

(a) specify the receipts, deductions or values to be reported on an estimated basis and the methodology to be followed by the taxpayer in making the estimates;

(b) state the term of the agreement and the procedures for terminating the agreement prior to its expiration;

(c) be signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's representative and the secretary or the secretary's delegate; and

(d) contain a declaration by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's representative that all statements of fact made by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's representative in the taxpayer's application and the agreement are true and correct as to every material matter.

F. The secretary may, by regulation, require any person doing business in the state to submit to the department information reports that are considered reasonable and necessary for the administration of any provision of law to which the Tax Administration Act applies.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-27, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 15; 1971, ch. 276, § 6; 1979, ch. 144, § 9; 1982, ch. 18, § 9; 1983, ch. 211, § 22; 1993, ch. 30, § 5; 2001, ch. 16, § 3; 2007, ch. 275, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, amends Subsection E to permit oil and gas severance tax, oil and gas conservation tax, oil and gas emergency school tax and oil and gas ad valorem production tax to be reported on an estimated basis.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, added present Subsection E and renumbered the remaining subsection accordingly.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "department" for "division" in Subsections A and E; substituted "secretary or the secretary's delegate" for "director or his delegate" in Subsection C and in two places in Subsection D; substituted

"department" for "director or his delegate" in the second sentence of Subsection C; substituted "secretary" for "director" in Subsection E; and made minor stylistic changes.

Adequacy of taxpayer's books and records is question of fact and the fact that taxpayer, in the hearing before the commissioner (now secretary), introduced evidence that his books and records were adequate did not require a ruling, as a matter of law, that they were adequate. Waldroop v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-146, 85 N.M. 736, 516 P.2d 1119.

Director's (now secretary's) decision conclusive if more than one inference possible. — If more than one inference can reasonably be drawn from the evidence, then the determination made by the commissioner (now secretary) that the books and records were inadequate is conclusive. Waldroop v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-146, 85 N.M. 736, 516 P.2d 1119.

Taxpayer has duty to provide director (now secretary) with books and records upon which to establish a standard for taxation as provided by law. If he fails to do so, he cannot complain of the best methods used by the commissioner (now secretary). Archuleta v. O'Cheskey, 1972-NMCA-165, 84 N.M. 428, 504 P.2d 638.

7-1-11. Inspection of books of taxpayers; exception for marketplace providers and marketplace sellers; credentials.

A. To determine the correct amount of tax due, the department shall cause the records and books of account of taxpayers to be inspected or audited at such times as the department deems necessary for the effective execution of the department's responsibilities.

B. The department shall audit a marketplace provider, but not a marketplace seller, with respect to gross receipts from transactions facilitated by a marketplace provider and for which the marketplace seller may claim a deduction pursuant to Section 36 of this 2019 act, unless an audit of the marketplace seller is necessary to determine the correct amount of tax due, including examining the marketplace seller:

(1) to determine compliance with Section 36 [7-9-117 NMSA 1978] of this 2019 act;

(2) to determine if the marketplace provider should be relieved of liability pursuant to Subsection C of Section 7-9-5 NMSA 1978; or

(3) to enforce any other provision of the Tax Administration Act.

C. Auditors and other officials of the department designated by the secretary are authorized to request and require the production for examination of the records and books of account of a taxpayer. Auditors and officials of the department designated by the secretary shall be furnished with credentials identifying them as such, which they shall display to any taxpayer whose books are sought to be examined.

D. Taxpayers shall upon request make their records and books of account available for inspection at reasonable hours to the secretary or the secretary's delegate who presents proper identification to the taxpayer.

E. If the taxpayer's records and books of account do not exist or are insufficient to determine the taxpayer's tax liability, if any, the department may use any reasonable method of estimating the tax liability, including using information about similar persons, businesses or industries to estimate the taxpayer's liability.

F. The secretary or the secretary's delegate shall develop and maintain written audit policies and procedures for all audit programs in which the department routinely conducts field audits of taxpayers, including policies and procedures concerning audit notification, scheduling, records that may be examined, analysis that may be done, sampling procedures, gathering information or evidence from third parties, policies concerning the rights of taxpayers under audit and related matters. Department audit policies and procedures shall be made available to a person who requests them, at a reasonable charge to defray the cost of preparing and distributing those policies and procedures.

G. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the department to provide the following:

- (1) information that is confidential pursuant to Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978; or
- (2) methods, techniques and analysis used to select taxpayers for audit, including the use of:
 - (a) data analytics;
 - (b) data mining;
 - (c) a scoring model;
 - (d) internal controls; and
 - (e) metadata used to detect fraud and noncompliance.

H. For purposes of this section:

- (1) "data analytics" means the science of examining data with the purpose of drawing conclusions about the information;

(2) "data mining" means the process of analyzing data from different perspectives and summarizing it into useful information by collecting data into data sets for the purpose of discovering patterns;

(3) "scoring model" means a predictive model that can predict the chance of occurring of a fact and its occurrence;

(4) "methods, techniques and analysis" means a systematic way to accomplish a tactic, qualitative or quantitative component of research and the use of a specific method;

(5) "internal controls" means a process of assuring achievement of an organization's objectives in operational effectiveness and efficiency, reliable financial reporting and compliance with laws, regulations and policies;

(6) "marketplace provider" means a "marketplace provider", as that term is used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978];

(7) "marketplace seller" means a "marketplace seller", as that term is used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; and

(8) "metadata" means data that provides information about other data.

7-1-11.1. Managed audits.

A. A managed audit may be limited in scope to certain periods, activities, lines of business, geographic areas or transactions, including tax on:

- (1) the receipts from certain sales;
- (2) the value of certain assets;
- (3) the value of certain expense items or services used; and
- (4) any other category specified in an agreement authorized by this section.

B. Upon the application of the taxpayer, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may enter into a written agreement with a taxpayer for a managed audit. To be effective the written agreement must:

- (1) be signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's authorized representative and by the secretary or the secretary's delegate;

(2) contain a declaration by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's authorized representative that all statements of fact made by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's representative in the taxpayer's application and the agreement are true and correct as to every material matter;

(3) specify the reporting period or periods, the type of receipts or transactions and tax to be audited, the procedures to be followed in performing the managed audit, the records to be used, the date of commencement of the audit for purposes of Section 7-9-43 NMSA 1978 and the date for the taxpayer's presentation of the results of the managed audit to the department; and

(4) include a waiver by the taxpayer of the limitations on assessments for the reporting period or periods to be audited.

C. The agreement for a managed audit may be modified in writing, provided that the modification meets the requirements of Subsection B of this section.

D. In determining whether to enter into an agreement for a managed audit the secretary or the secretary's delegate may consider, in addition to other relevant factors:

(1) the taxpayer's history of tax compliance;

(2) the amount of time and resources the taxpayer has available to dedicate to the audit;

(3) the extent and availability of the taxpayer's records; and

(4) the taxpayer's ability to pay any expected liability.

E. The decision whether to enter into an agreement for a managed audit rests solely with the secretary or the secretary's delegate.

F. The results of the managed audit shall be presented to the department by the taxpayer on or before any date set for presentation of the results in the managed audit agreement. The department shall assess the tax liability found to be due as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement. The department may review records, documents, schedules or other information to determine if the managed audit substantially conforms to the managed audit agreement.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 4, effective June 29, 2020, provided:

A. Notwithstanding Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a taxpayer for:

(1) tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due April 15, 2020 through July 15, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid payments is made in full on or before April 15, 2021;

(2) tax liabilities pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021;

(3) gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts tax or compensating tax liabilities for failure to pay any of those taxes that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021; and

(4) tax liabilities assessed between September 3, 2019 and January 3, 2020 as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-11.1 NMSA 1978; provided that payment for those liabilities is made pursuant to terms of the managed audit agreement on or before December 31, 2020.

B. Notwithstanding Sections 7-38-49 and 7-38-50 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a property owner for unpaid property taxes that became due April 10, 2020 pursuant to Section 7-38-38 NMSA 1978; provided that:

(1) the unpaid property taxes did not become delinquent because of an intent to defraud by the property owner;

(2) payment for the unpaid property taxes is made in full on or before May 10, 2021; and

(3) the subject property does not have property taxes that became delinquent pursuant to Section 7-38-46 NMSA 1978 prior to May 10, 2020.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, deleted "gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts taxes or compensating tax due from" following "limited in scope to" near the beginning of Subsection A.

7-1-11.2. Required audit notices.

A. Except as provided in Subsection G of this section, prior to or coincident with requesting records and books of account from a taxpayer pursuant to Section 7-1-11 NMSA 1978, as part of an office or field audit, the department shall provide the taxpayer with written dated notice of the commencement of an audit. The notice shall, at a minimum, state the tax programs and reporting periods to be covered and the date on which the audit is commenced.

B. To any taxpayer to whom the department is required to provide a written notice of the commencement of an audit, the department shall also provide a written notice of the outstanding records or books of account that have been requested but not received. If the taxpayer has provided all records and books of account requested, the notice shall so state. The notice of outstanding records or books of account shall be given no sooner than sixty days, unless the taxpayer provides a written request for early completion of the audit, and no later than one hundred eighty days after the date of the commencement of the audit. The notice of outstanding records or books of account shall be dated and shall provide reasonable descriptions of any records or books of account needed or the information expected to be contained in them and shall give the taxpayer ninety days to comply with Section 7-1-11 NMSA 1978. The notice shall state that if the taxpayer does not properly comply within ninety days of the date of the notice, the department will proceed to issue any assessment of tax due on the basis of information available.

C. A taxpayer may request additional time to comply with the notice of outstanding records and books of account. Such request shall be in writing and shall state the amount of time needed.

D. If the department does not issue an assessment within one hundred eighty days after giving a notice of outstanding records or books of account or within ninety days after the expiration of the additional time requested by the taxpayer to comply, if such request was granted, interest shall be computed in accordance with Paragraph (6) of Subsection A of Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978.

E. Any taxpayer who was not provided a proper notice of outstanding records or books of account is entitled to computation of interest in accordance with Paragraph (7) of Subsection A of Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978.

F. Nothing in this section shall prevent the department from requesting from the taxpayer a waiver of the statute of limitations for assessment of tax owed. Nothing in this section shall prevent the department from issuing an assessment of tax owed on the basis of the information available.

G. This section does not apply to investigations of fraud.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-11.2, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 398, § 7; 2007, ch. 262, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, provided an exception to the sixty-day notice of outstanding records if the taxpayer has requested early completion of the audit.

7-1-12. Identification of taxpayers.

A. The secretary by regulation shall establish a system for the registration and identification of taxpayers and shall require taxpayers to comply therewith.

B. The registration system shall be devised so as to facilitate the exchange of information with other states and the United States and to aid in statistical computations.

C. The secretary by regulation also shall provide for a system for the registration and identification of purchasers or lessees who, by reason of their status or the nature of their use of property or service purchased or leased, are ordinarily entitled to make nontaxable purchases or leases of some kinds of property or service and may require such purchasers or lessees to comply therewith.

D. Any document, issued by the department under authority of this section, which is required to be posted on the business premises of the taxpayer shall contain a brief reference to the requirements of Section 7-1-61 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-29, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 17; 1966, ch. 52, § 1; 1979, ch. 144, § 11; 2000, ch. 28, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, substituted "secretary" for "director" in Subsections A and C and substituted "department" for "director" in Subsection D.

Possession of taxpayer identification number. — The mere possession of a New Mexico registration number by a foreign taxpayer does not mean that the taxpayer is registered with New Mexico for gross receipts tax purposes; the possession of a New Mexico taxpayer identification number did not mean that the taxpayer acknowledged that a nexus existed with respect to its activities in New Mexico for gross receipts tax purposes. Siemens Energy & Automation, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-173, 119 N.M. 316, 889 P.2d 1238.

Department lacked authority to impose tax liability against taxpayer who was not engaged in business at the time the tax liability was incurred. — Where in 2009, taxpayer established a business that provided court reporting services, registered with the taxation and revenue department (department), was assigned a Combined Reporting System (CRS) number for tax reporting purposes, and operated the business as a sole proprietorship from 2009 to 2012, at which time taxpayer converted the business to a limited liability company (LLC), and where taxpayer failed to update the business's registration with the department and continued to operate under the original CRS number assigned to the sole proprietorship, and where the department's computerized auditing system detected a mismatch between the information taxpayer reported to the IRS and the information taxpayer reported to the department, resulting in the department updating the computerized records to reflect that taxpayer's business was operating as an LLC, but failing to issue taxpayer a new CRS number, and where, in 2017, the department issued a notice of assessment of taxes and demand for payment for gross receipts tax from taxpayer as the sole proprietor of the business for the 2012 tax year, and where the hearing officer denied taxpayer's protest finding that the sole proprietorship was obligated for the assessment because at the time the tax liability was incurred, the CRS number on file with the department was assigned to taxpayer, as the sole proprietor of the business, rather than as an LLC, the hearing officer erred in denying taxpayer's protest because to the extent the hearing officer's decision imposed liability against taxpayer for failing to register with the department, it is not in accordance with this section, which permits only the person engaging in business to be taxed, and the overwhelming evidence demonstrated that the business was operating as an LLC during the taxable period. Moreover, neither the registration statute, NMSA 1978 § 7-1-12, nor the department's regulations permit the department to impose liability against a taxpayer based solely on its failure to update its registrations. New Mexico Depo v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2021-NMCA-011.

7-1-12.1. Department to designate production unit; index; identification by number or symbol.

A. The department shall have the power to designate the property that shall constitute a production unit; provided, a production unit shall be a unit of property from which products of common ownership are severed.

B. The department shall compile and keep current an index of all production units by description sufficient to properly identify such production units.

C. The department shall assign to each production unit a number or symbol, and the number or symbol shall serve as a means of identification for the purpose of reporting, tax payment and tax collection of the taxes administered by the department.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-12.1, enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 65, § 12; 1993, ch. 30, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "Department" for "Oil and gas accounting division" in the section heading and throughout this section; substituted "department" for "division" in Subsection C; and made a minor stylistic change.

7-1-12.2. Notice of identification number assigned; operator may request identification number.

The department shall inform each operator of a production unit as to the identification number or symbol assigned to such production unit. Such number or symbol may be changed or revised and information regarding such change or revision shall likewise be given the operator. In the creation of a new production unit or in the event of a change of ownership or revision in a production unit, the operator may request the department to assign a new identification number or symbol, and the department shall notify the operator of the identification number or symbol to be used.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-12.2, enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 65, § 13; 1993, ch. 30, § 8; 2017, ch. 63, § 22.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, removed the requirement that notice of identification numbers must be made by mail; after the first occurrence of "production unit", deleted "by mail", and after the second occurrence of "operator", deleted "by mail".

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "department" for "oil and gas accounting division" in the first sentence and for "division" in two places in the final sentence.

7-1-13. Taxpayer returns; payment of taxes; extension of time.

A. Taxpayers are liable for tax at the time of and after the transaction or incident giving rise to tax until payment is made. Taxes are due on and after the date on which their payment is required until payment is made.

B. Every taxpayer shall, on or before the date on which payment of any tax is due, complete and file a tax return in a form prescribed and according to the regulations issued by the secretary. Except as provided in Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978 or by regulation, ruling, order or instruction of the secretary, the payment of any tax or the filing of any return may be accomplished by mail. When the filing of a tax return or payment of a tax is accomplished by mail, the date of the postmark shall be considered the date of submission of the return or payment.

C. Payment of the total amount of all taxes that are due from the taxpayer shall precede or accompany the return. Delivery to the department of a check that is not paid upon presentment does not constitute payment.

D. The secretary or the secretary's delegate may, for good cause, extend in favor of a taxpayer or a class of taxpayers, for no more than a total of twelve months, the date on which payment of any tax is required or on which any return required by provision of the Tax Administration Act shall be filed, but no extension shall prevent the accrual of interest as otherwise provided by law. When an extension of time for income tax has been granted a taxpayer pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code, the extension shall serve to extend the time for filing New Mexico income tax; provided that a copy of the approved federal extension of time is attached to the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax return. The secretary by regulation may also provide for the automatic extension for no more than six months of the date upon which payment of any New Mexico income tax or the filing of any New Mexico income tax return is required. If the secretary or the secretary's delegate believes it necessary to ensure the collection of the tax, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may require, as a condition of granting any extension, that the taxpayer furnish security in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978.

E. Except as provided in Subsection F of this section, no later than one hundred eighty days after the final determination date, a taxpayer shall file a federal adjustments report with the department and pay any state tax due with respect to final net-positive federal adjustments arising from:

- (1) an audit or other action by the internal revenue service; or
- (2) a timely filed amended federal income tax return, including a return or other similar information filed pursuant to Section 6225(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

F. Except for federal adjustments that are required to be reported pursuant to Subsection E of this section, partnerships and partners shall report final net-positive federal adjustments arising from a partnership level audit or an administrative adjustment request and make payments as follows:

- (1) except for where the partnership or tiered partner makes an election pursuant to Subsection G of this section, the partnership or tiered partner shall:
 - (a) file: 1) a completed federal adjustments report and notify each of its direct partners of their distributive share of the final federal adjustments, including information necessary for reporting state tax due as required by the department; and 2) an amended withholding return for the reviewed year if such return was filed, or would have been required pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act;
 - (b) in the case of an audited partnership, file the returns required by this paragraph no later than ninety days after the final determination date; and
 - (c) in the case of a tiered partner of an audited partnership, file the returns required by this paragraph no later than ninety days after the time for the audited partnership's filing and furnishing statements to tiered partnerships and their partners as established pursuant to Section 6226 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations thereunder; and

(2) a partner of a partnership or a tiered partner subject to tax pursuant to Section 7-2-3 or 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 on adjustments to which Paragraph (1) of this subsection applies shall file a federal adjustments report reporting the partner's distributive share of the adjustments and shall pay the additional amount of state tax due, plus any penalty and interest due and less any credit for related amounts paid or withheld and remitted on behalf of the partner pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection as follows:

(a) for taxable direct partners of the audited partnership, no later than one hundred eighty days after the final determination date; or

(b) for taxable indirect partners of the audited partnership, no later than one hundred eighty days after the time for the audited partnership's filing and furnishing statements to tiered partnerships and their partners as established pursuant to Section 6226 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations thereunder.

G. The election provided by this subsection applies only to federal adjustments other than the distributive share of federal adjustments that must be included in the unitary business income of any direct or indirect corporate partner; provided that this can be reasonably determined, or federal adjustments resulting from an administrative adjustment request. A partnership making an election pursuant to this subsection shall:

(1) file a completed federal adjustments report and notify the department that it is making the election pursuant to this subsection; and

(2) pay an amount, determined as follows, in lieu of taxes owed by its direct and indirect taxable partners:

(a) exclude from the total final federal adjustments the distributive share reported to a direct partner that is an exempt partner unless the adjustment represents unrelated business taxable income;

(b) include only the portion of the total federal adjustment to distributive shares of partners taken into account pursuant to Section 6225(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(c) apportion and allocate the adjustments as provided by the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act as applied at the partnership level following any department regulations adopted for this purpose;

(d) multiply the resulting amount by the highest tax rate provided by Section 7-2A-5 NMSA 1978; and

(e) add to the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (d) of this paragraph an amount of penalty and interest computed pursuant to the Tax Administration Act.

H. In any action required or allowed to be taken pursuant to the Tax Administration Act with respect to the reporting of federal adjustments by a partnership, the state partnership representative for the reviewed year shall have the sole authority to act on behalf of the partnership, and the partnership's direct partners and indirect partners shall be bound by those actions. The state partnership representative is the partnership's federal partnership representative for the reviewed year, unless the partnership designates in writing another person as its state partnership representative; provided that the person meets any qualifications established by the department.

I. Pursuant to procedures that may be adopted by the department, an audited partnership or tiered partner of that partnership may enter into an agreement with the department to utilize an alternative reporting and payment method, including applicable time requirements or any other provision pursuant to Subsections E through H of this section, if the audited partnership or tiered partner demonstrates that the requested method will reasonably provide for the reporting and payment of taxes, penalties and interest due pursuant to Subsections E through H of this section. Application for approval of an alternative reporting and payment method must be made by the audited partnership or tiered partner within the time for election as provided in Subsection G of this section, as appropriate.

J. An election made pursuant to Subsection G or I of this section is irrevocable, unless the department, in its discretion, determines otherwise. If properly reported and paid by the audited partnership or tiered partner, the amount determined in Paragraph (2) of Subsection G of this section, or similarly under an optional election pursuant to Subsection I of this section, will be treated as paid in lieu of taxes owed by its direct and indirect partners on the same final federal adjustments. The direct or indirect partners of the partnership that pays this in lieu of amount may not claim any deduction, credit or refund with respect to that amount.

K. A taxpayer may make estimated payments of state tax expected to result from a pending audit by the internal revenue service prior to the final determination date, following the process prescribed by the department, and such payments will limit the accrual of further statutory interest on that amount.

L. A taxpayer may claim an amount of state tax resulting from final net-negative federal adjustments as provided in Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978.

M. Nothing in Subsections E through L of this section shall prevent the department from assessing direct partners or indirect partners for taxes they owe, using the best information available, in the event that a partnership or tiered partner fails to timely make any report or payment required for any reason.

N. As used in this section:

(1) "administrative adjustment request" means an administrative adjustment request filed by a partnership pursuant to Section 6227 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "audited partnership" means a partnership subject to a partnership level audit resulting in a federal adjustment;

(3) "corporate partner" means a partner, direct or indirect, that is subject to tax pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act;

(4) "direct partner" means any partner that holds an interest directly in a partnership or pass-through entity;

(5) "exempt partner" means a partner, direct or indirect, that is exempt from New Mexico income tax except on unrelated business taxable income;

(6) "federal adjustment" means a change to an item or amount determined pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code that is used by a taxpayer to compute an amount of state tax owed, whether that change results from action by the internal revenue service, including a partnership level audit, or the filing of an amended federal return, federal refund claim or an administrative adjustment request by a partnership;

(7) "federal adjustments report" includes the methods or forms required by the department for use by a taxpayer to report final federal adjustments, including an amended tax return, information return or a uniform multistate report;

(8) "final determination date" means:

(a) except as provided in Subparagraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this paragraph, if a federal adjustment arises from an audit or other action by the internal revenue service, the final determination date is the first day on which no federal adjustments arising from that audit or other action remain to be finally determined, whether by a decision of the internal revenue service with respect to which all rights of appeal have been waived or exhausted, by agreement, or, if appealed or contested, by a final decision with respect to which all rights of appeal have been waived or exhausted. For agreements required to be signed by the internal revenue service and the taxpayer, the final determination date is the date on which the last party signed the agreement;

(b) for federal adjustments arising from an internal revenue service audit or other action by the internal revenue service, if the taxpayer filed as a member of a filing group pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act, the final determination date means the first day on which no related federal adjustments arising from that audit remain to be finally determined, as described in Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, for the entire group;

(c) except as provided in Subparagraph (d) of this paragraph, if the federal adjustment results from filing an amended federal return, a federal refund claim or an administrative adjustment request, or if it is a federal adjustment reported on an amended federal return or other similar report filed pursuant to Section 6225(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, the final determination date means the day on which the amended return, refund claim, administrative adjustment request or other similar report was filed; and

(d) for adjustments resulting from a partnership level audit or an administrative adjustment request for which the final determination date pursuant to Subparagraph (a) or (c) of this paragraph is determined to be a date occurring prior to the effective date of this 2021 act, the final determination date shall be July 1, 2021;

(9) "final federal adjustments" means adjustments for which the final determination date has passed, including final net-positive federal adjustments and final net-negative federal adjustments;

(10) "indirect partner" means a partner in a partnership or pass-through entity in which the partner holds an interest directly, or through another indirect partner, in a partnership or pass-through entity;

(11) "net-negative federal adjustments" means federal adjustments relating to the same tax period, whether made by the taxpayer or the internal revenue service, the net effect of which is to decrease state tax due as compared to tax originally reported for that period;

(12) "net-positive federal adjustments" means federal adjustments relating to the same tax period, whether made by the taxpayer or the internal revenue service, the net effect of which is to increase state tax due as compared to tax originally reported for that period;

(13) "partner" means a person that holds an interest directly or indirectly in a partnership or other pass-through entity;

(14) "partnership" means an entity subject to taxation pursuant to Subchapter K of the Internal Revenue Code;

(15) "partnership level audit" means an examination by the internal revenue service at the partnership level pursuant to Subchapter C or Subtitle F, Chapter 63 of the Internal Revenue Code which results in federal adjustments;

(16) "pass-through entity" means an entity, other than a partnership, that is not subject to tax pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act;

(17) "reviewed year" means the taxable year of a partnership that is subject to a partnership level audit from which federal adjustments arise;

(18) "taxpayer" means a taxpayer, including a partnership subject to a partnership level audit or a partnership that has made an administrative adjustment request, as well as a tiered partner of that partnership, unless the context indicates otherwise;

(19) "tiered partner" means any partner that is a partnership or pass-through entity; and

(20) "unrelated business taxable income" means "unrelated business taxable income" as used in Section 512 of the Internal Revenue Code.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1 et seq.

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, amended sections of the tax administration act to address federal partnership audit or adjustment requests resulting in underpayment or overpayment of state taxes, and defined terms as used in this section; deleted former Subsection C and redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections C and D, respectively; and deleted former Subsection F and added new Subsections E through N.

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 83, § 6 provided that the provisions of Laws 2021, ch. 83, §§ 1 and 4 apply to federal adjustments with a final determination date occurring on and after January 1, 2021.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, extended the deadline for filing an amended return after the final determination of an adjustment in the computation of a federal tax; in Subsection C, after "the taxpayer affected shall, within", deleted "ninety days of the internal revenue service audit adjustment or payment of the federal refund" and added "one hundred eighty days of final determination of the adjustment"; and added Subsection F.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, provided that if a tax return or payment is mailed, the date of the postmark is the date of submission of the return or payment and increases the period of an automatic extension authorized by the secretary to not more than six months.

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, substituted "ninety" for "thirty" in the first sentence in Subsection C.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, rewrote the first sentence of Subsection C which read "If any adjustment is made in the basis for computation of any federal tax, the taxpayer affected shall, within thirty days, file an amended return with the department" and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection D.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, made a minor stylistic change in Subsection A and, in Subsection E, substituted "shall be filed" for "must be filed" and, at the end of the second sentence, inserted the language beginning "except that".

State returns used for audit although federal taxes filed on different basis. — Since the taxpayer filed consolidated federal income tax returns for a three-year period, but, for the same period, elected to file its state income tax returns as a separate corporate entity, excluding its subsidiaries, and since it was not obligated to file its state returns on the same basis as its federal return, the revenue department was not required to audit and assess the taxpayer's income taxes on the basis of consolidated income reported by the taxpayer in its federal returns rather than on the basis of its state returns which it had filed. *Getty Oil Co. v. 7-1-13.1. Method of payment of certain taxes due.

A. Payment of the taxes, including any applicable penalties and interest, described in Paragraph (1), (2), (3) or (4) of this subsection shall be made on or before the date due in accordance with Subsection B of this section if the taxpayer's average tax payment for the group of taxes during the preceding calendar year equaled or exceeded twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000):

(1) Group 1: all taxes due under the Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3 NMSA 1978], the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978], local option gross receipts tax acts, the Interstate Telecommunications Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9C NMSA 1978] and the Leased Vehicle Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 14A NMSA 1978];

(2) Group 2: all taxes due under the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978] and the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978];

(3) Group 3: the tax due under the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 33 NMSA 1978]; or

(4) Group 4: all taxes and fees due under the Gasoline Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 13 NMSA 1978], the Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 16A NMSA 1978] and the Petroleum Products Loading Fee Act [Chapter 7, Article 13A NMSA 1978].

For taxpayers who have more than one identification number issued by the department, the average tax payment shall be computed by combining the amounts paid under the several identification numbers.

B. Taxpayers who are required to make payment in accordance with the provisions of this section shall make payment by one or more of the following means on or before the due date so that funds are immediately available to the state on or before the due date:

(1) electronic payment; provided that a result of the payment is that funds are immediately available to the state of New Mexico on or before the due date;

(2) currency of the United States;

(3) check drawn on and payable at any New Mexico financial institution provided that the check is received by the department at the place and time required by the department at least one banking day prior to the due date; or

(4) check drawn on and payable at any domestic non-New Mexico financial institution provided that the check is received by the department at the time and place required by the department at least two banking days prior to the due date.

C. If the taxes required to be paid under this section are not paid in accordance with Subsection B of this section, the payment is not timely and is subject to the provisions of Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978.

D. For the purposes of this section, "average tax payment" means the total amount of taxes paid with respect to a group of taxes listed under Subsection A of this section during a calendar year divided by the number of months in that calendar year containing a due date on which the taxpayer was required to pay one or more taxes in the group.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2005 amendment, effective January 1, 2006, adds taxes and fees due under the Gasoline Tax Act, the Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act and the Petroleum Products Loading Fee Act as a new group of taxes in Subsection A(4).

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, deleted former Subsections B(1) and B(2), concerning automated clearinghouse transactions and transfer of funds through wire transfer systems respectively; added present Subsection B(1) and redesignated the remaining paragraphs in Subsection B accordingly; deleted the last two sentences of Subsection C, concerning automated clearinghouse transactions and the use of checks for the payment of taxes; and deleted former Subsections D(1) and D(3), which defined "automated clearinghouse transaction" and "financial institution" respectively.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, in Subsection A, substituted "the group of taxes" for "those taxes" in the first paragraph, inserted "Group 1", "Group 2", and "Group 3" at the beginning of Paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), substituted the language beginning "local option" for "and any other act authorizing a municipal or county tax to be collected at the same time or in the same manner as the gross receipts tax" at the end of Paragraph (1); in Subsection C, deleted "an offsetting debit to" following "When", inserted "is reversed" and substituted "automated clearinghouse transaction" for "debit" in the second sentence and inserted "reversal or" in the final sentence; in Subsection D, added current Paragraph (2) and redesignated former Paragraph (2) as (3); and made minor stylistic changes.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, rewrote Subsection B; substituted "transaction" for "deposit" in the second sentence of Subsection C; and, in Subsection D(1), substituted "transaction" for "deposit", inserted "or debit", and deleted "deposit" preceding "payable".

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, in Subsection A, rewrote the introductory clause which read "Payment of the following taxes, including any applicable penalties and interests described in this subsection, shall be made on or before the date due in accordance with Subsection B of this section"; deleted "if the sum of these taxes equals or exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)" at the end of Paragraphs (1) and (2); deleted "if the tax equals or exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)" at the end of Paragraph (3); deleted former Paragraph (4) which read "the taxes described in Paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this subsection if the taxpayer's average tax payment for those taxes during the preceding calendar year equaled or exceeded twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)"; added the final paragraph and made a stylistic change; and, in Subsection B, substituted "shall make payment" for "must make payment" in the introductory clause.

The 1989 amendment, effective May 1, 1989, rewrote the introductory paragraph of Subsection A; added present Subsection B; redesignated former Subsection B as present Subsection C, substituting therein all of the language of the first sentence preceding "the payment" for "If the taxes required to be paid by automated clearinghouse deposit under this section are not paid by automated clearinghouse deposit on or before the date due" and adding the second sentence; deleted former Subsection C, which read: "Any tax, including any applicable penalty and interest, may be paid by check drawn on the main office of the state fiscal agent"; and in Subsection D substituted the colon and Paragraph (1) designation for a comma, inserted "deposit" preceding "payable" in Paragraph (1), deleted "which must be initiated by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's agent one banking day prior to the due date" at the end of Paragraph (1), and added Paragraph (2).

7-1-13.2. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1989, ch. 319, § 15 repealed 7-1-13.2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1988, ch. 73, § 55, relating to bond required of certain persons, effective July 1, 1989.

7-1-13.3. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1999, ch. 176, § 2 repealed 7-1-13.3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1992, ch. 55, § 9, authorizing the department to accept payment of taxes by credit card, effective June 18, 1999. For provisions of former section, see the 1998 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com. For present comparable provisions, see 6-1-14 NMSA 1978.

7-1-13.4. Electronic payments; reversals.

A. The department is authorized to accept payment by automated clearinghouse transaction, federal reserve system wire transfer and such other means of electronic payment as the department, with the concurrence of the state board of finance, may choose.

B. With respect to automated clearinghouse transactions, federal reserve system wire transfers and electronic payments by means the department has chosen, neither the department nor the fiscal agent of New Mexico shall refuse to accept the funds or to reverse the transaction when funds have been received by the fiscal agent designating the department as the payee together with sufficient information to identify the name of the taxpayer. The department or the fiscal agent of New Mexico may refuse to accept such a payment or to cause the reversal of the transaction only when the transaction is not successful in making the funds to be transferred available or in identifying the taxpayer. The department and the fiscal agent of New Mexico may refuse to accept electronic payments tendered by means other than automated clearinghouse deposit, federal reserve system wire transfer or those other means the department has chosen.

C. When an electronic payment transaction is reversed through the taxpayer's action or a check is dishonored by the taxpayer's financial institution, neither the department nor the fiscal agent of New Mexico is obligated to resubmit the transaction or check for payment. If the reversal or dishonoring causes the final payment of taxes to be not timely, then the provisions of Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 apply.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-13.4, enacted by Laws 2000, ch. 28, § 6.

Effective dates. — Laws 2000, ch. 28, § 6 made Laws 2000, ch. 28, § 6 effective July 1, 2000.

7-1-14. Reporting location instructions for purposes of reporting gross receipts and use; location; code database and location-rate database.

A. For purposes of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978], Interstate Telecommunications Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9C NMSA 1978], Leased Vehicle Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 14A NMSA 1978] and any act authorizing the imposition of a local option gross receipts or compensating tax, a taxpayer that has gross receipts and a taxpayer using property or services in New Mexico in a taxable manner shall report the gross receipts and use to the proper reporting location as provided in this section.

B. The reporting location for gross receipts from the sale, lease or granting of a license to use real property located in New Mexico, and any related deductions, shall be the location of the property.

C. The reporting location for gross receipts from the sale or license of property, other than real property, and any related deductions, shall be at the following locations:

(1) if the property is received by the purchaser at the New Mexico location of the seller, the location of the seller;

(2) if the property is not received by the purchaser at the location of the seller, the location indicated by instructions for delivery to the purchaser, or the purchaser's donee, when known to the seller;

(3) if Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection do not apply, the location indicated by an address for the purchaser available from the business records of the seller that are maintained in the ordinary course of business; provided that use of the address does not constitute bad faith;

(4) if Paragraphs (1) through (3) of this subsection do not apply, the location for the purchaser obtained during consummation of the sale, including the address of a purchaser's payment instrument, if no other address is available; provided that use of this address does not constitute bad faith; or

(5) if Paragraphs (1) through (4) of this subsection do not apply, including a circumstance in which the seller is without sufficient information to apply those standards, the location from which the property was shipped or transmitted.

D. The reporting location for gross receipts from the lease of tangible personal property, including vehicles, other transportation equipment and other mobile tangible personal property, and any related deductions, shall be the location of primary use of the property, as indicated by the address for the property provided by the lessee that is available to the lessor from the lessor's records maintained in the ordinary course of business; provided that use of this address does not constitute bad faith. The location of primary use shall not be altered by intermittent use at different locations, such as use of business property that accompanies employees on business trips and service calls.

E. The reporting location for gross receipts from the sale, lease or license of franchises, and any related deductions, shall be where the franchise is used.

F. The reporting location for gross receipts from the performance or sale of the following services, and any related deductions, shall be at the following locations:

(1) for professional services performed in New Mexico, other than construction-related services, or performed outside New Mexico when the product of the service is initially used in New Mexico, the location of the performer of the service or seller of the product of the service, as appropriate;

(2) for construction services and construction-related services performed for a construction project in New Mexico, the location of the construction site;

(3) for services with respect to the selling of real estate located in New Mexico, the location of the real estate;

(4) for transportation of persons or property in, into or from New Mexico, the location where the person or property enters the vehicle; and

(5) for services other than those described in Paragraphs (1) through (4) of this subsection, the location where the product of the service is delivered.

G. Except as provided in Subsection H of this section, the reporting location for uses of property or services subject to the compensating tax shall be the location at which gross receipts would have been required to be reported had the transaction been subject to the gross receipts tax.

H. If a taxpayer subject to the compensating tax can demonstrate that the first use upon which compensating tax is imposed occurred at a time and place different from the time and place of the purchase, then the reporting location for the compensating tax shall be the location of the first use.

I. The secretary shall develop a location-code database that provides the reporting location codes designated by the secretary. The secretary shall also develop and provide to taxpayers a location-rate database that sets out the tax rates applicable to reporting locations within the state, by address, and sellers who properly rely on this database shall not be liable for any additional tax due to the use of an incorrect rate.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "gross receipts" means, as applicable, "gross receipts" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act and the Leased Vehicle Gross Receipts Tax Act and "interstate telecommunications gross receipts" in the Interstate Telecommunications Gross Receipts Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9C NMSA 1978];

(2) "in-person service" means a service physically provided in person by the service provider, where the customer or the customer's real or tangible personal property upon which the service is performed is in the same location as the service provider at the time the service is performed; and

(3) "professional service" means a service, other than an in-person service, that requires either an advanced degree from an accredited post-secondary educational institution or a license from the state to perform.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 2020, ch. 80, § 1 repealed former 7-1-14 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 145, § 1, and enacted a new section, effective July 1, 2021.

Laws 2020, ch. 80, § 15 repealed Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 11, effective July 1, 2021.

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, clarified reporting location instructions for certain property; substituted "reporting location" for "business location" throughout the section; in Subsection A, substituted "taxpayer" for "person" throughout the subsection; in Subsection C, after "sale or license of", deleted "tangible personal", and after "property", added "other than real property"; in Subsection G, after "Subsection H of this section", added "the reporting location for"; in Subsection H, after "If a", deleted "person" and added "taxpayer"; deleted former Subsection I, which required the secretary of the taxation and revenue department to designate codes to identify business locations, and redesignated Subsections J and K as Subsections I and J, respectively; in Subsection I, after "location codes designated", deleted "pursuant to Subsection I of this section" and added "by the secretary"; and in Subsection J, deleted former Paragraph (1), which defined "business location" and redesignated Paragraphs K(2) through K(4) as Paragraphs J(1) through J(3), respectively.

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, rewrote the section heading which read "Secretary may require gross receipts to be reported according to municipality, Indian reservation, pueblo grant or if on municipally owned land"; designated the former first, second and third sentences as Subsections A through C; and added Subsection D.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted "Secretary" for "Director" in the section heading and throughout the section, substituted "one or more places" for "more than one place" and deleted "covered by a contract of the type described in Section 7-1-6.4 NMSA 1978" following "pueblo grant" in the first sentence, added "all of the present language of the second sentence" following "place of business", and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

7-1-15. Secretary may set tax reporting and payment intervals.

The secretary may, pursuant to regulation, allow taxpayers with an anticipated tax liability of less than two hundred dollars ($200) a month to report and pay taxes at intervals which the secretary may specify. However, unless specifically permitted by law, an interval shall not exceed six months. The secretary may also allow direct marketers who have entered into an agreement with the department to collect and remit compensating tax to report and pay on a quarterly or semi-annual basis.

7-1-16. Delinquent taxpayer.

A. Except as provided in Subsection D of this section, any taxpayer to whom taxes have been assessed as provided in Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978 or upon whom demand for payment has been made as provided in Section 7-1-63 NMSA 1978 who does not within ninety days after the date of assessment or demand for payment make payment of the undisputed amount, protest the assessment or demand for payment as provided by Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 or furnish security for payment as provided by Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978 becomes a delinquent taxpayer and remains such until:

- (1) payment of the total amount of all such taxes is made;
- (2) security is furnished for payment; or
- (3) no part of the assessment remains unabated.

B. Any taxpayer who fails to provide security as required by Subsection D of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be a delinquent taxpayer.

C. If a taxpayer files a protest as provided in Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, the taxpayer nevertheless becomes a delinquent taxpayer upon failure of the taxpayer to appear, in person or by authorized representative, at the hearing set or upon failure to perfect an appeal from any decision or part thereof adverse to the taxpayer to the next higher appellate level, as provided in that section, unless the taxpayer makes payment of the total amount of all taxes assessed and remaining unabated or furnishes security for payment.

D. A taxpayer does not become a delinquent taxpayer if the taxpayer has been issued an assessment as a result of a managed audit but is still within the allowed time period to pay the tax due as specified in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, modified certain terms related to delinquent taxes; and in Subsection A, after "make payment", added "of the undisputed amount".

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, extended the deadline for protesting an assessment or demand for payment; in Subsection A, in the first sentence, after "who does not within", deleted "thirty" and added "ninety"; deleted former Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, which provided for a retroactive extension of time to file a protest; and deleted Paragraph (1) of Subsection D, which provided that a taxpayer did not become delinquent if the taxpayer filed for an extension of time to file a protest.

The 1999 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, in Subsection A, added "Except as provided in Subsection D of this section" at the beginning of the introductory language and inserted "the assessment is not abated and" in Paragraph (2); and added Subsection D.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, in Subsection A, inserted the paragraph designations, added Paragraph (2), and made minor stylistic changes.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection C, substituted "taxpayer files a protest" for "taxpayer does make application for hearing" and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

7-1-17. Assessment of tax; presumption of correctness.

A. If the secretary or the secretary's delegate determines that a taxpayer is liable for taxes in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) that are due and that have not been previously assessed to the taxpayer, the secretary or the secretary's delegate shall promptly assess the amount thereof to the taxpayer.

B. Assessments of tax are effective:

(1) when a return of a taxpayer is received by the department showing a liability for taxes;

(2) when a document denominated "notice of assessment of taxes", issued in the name of the secretary, is mailed or delivered in person to the taxpayer against whom the liability for tax is asserted, stating the nature and amount of the taxes assertedly owed by the taxpayer to the state, demanding of the taxpayer the immediate payment of the taxes and briefly informing the taxpayer of the remedies available to the taxpayer; or

(3) when an effective jeopardy assessment is made as provided in the Tax Administration Act.

C. Any assessment of taxes or demand for payment made by the department is presumed to be correct.

D. When taxes have been assessed to any taxpayer and remain unpaid, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may demand payment at any time except as provided otherwise by Section 7-1-19 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-32, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 20; 1969, ch. 32, § 1; 1978 Comp., § 7-1-17; 1979, ch. 144, § 16; 1992, ch. 55, § 11; 2007, ch. 45, § 1; 2023, ch. 36, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, raised the amount of tax liability requiring assessment by the secretary of taxation and revenue; and in Subsection A, after "taxes in excess of", deleted "twenty-five dollars ($25.00)" and added "fifty dollars ($50.00)".

The 2007 amendment, effective January 1, 2008, in Subsection A, changed the minimum amount from $10.00 to $25.00.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted "secretary" for "director" and "department" for "division" several times throughout the section, added "except as provided otherwise by Section 7-1-19 NMSA 1978" at the end of Subsection D, and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Assessment of taxes effective when effective jeopardy assessment is made as provided in the Tax Administration Act. Regents of N.M. Coll. of Agric. & Mechanic Arts v. Academy of Aviation, Inc., 1971-NMSC-087, 83 N.M. 86, 488 P.2d 343.

Assessment upheld when statutes followed and no dispute of factual correctness. — Since the record showed the statutory provisions were followed and taxpayer presented no evidence tending to dispute the factual correctness of the assessments, assessment will be upheld. McConnell v. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-181, 83 N.M. 386, 492 P.2d 1003.

Presumption of correctness applies when assessment delivered. — Once the notice of assessment of taxes is delivered to the taxpayer, the statutory presumption, of the correctness of the assessment, applies, and absent a showing of incorrectness by taxpayers, the audit and notice of assessment of taxes must stand. Torridge Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-171, 84 N.M. 610, 506 P.2d 354, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 592, 506 P.2d 336 (1973).

Exemption strictly construed in favor of taxing authority. — There is a presumption that an assessment of gross receipts taxes is correct, and in order for the taxpayer to be successful, he must clearly overcome this presumption. Moreover, where an exemption is claimed, the exemption is strictly construed in favor of the taxing authority. Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977).

Presumption applicable to penalty statute. — Presumption of correctness of this section also applies to penalty section (7-1-69 NMSA 1978). Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-127, 90 N.M. 16, 558 P.2d 1155, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 255, 561 P.2d 1348 (1977).

Burden on protesting taxpayers to overcome presumption. — The burden is on taxpayers protesting assessment to overcome presumption that the bureau's (now department's) assessment is correct. Archuleta v. O'Cheskey, 1972-NMCA-165, 84 N.M. 428, 504 P.2d 638; Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078; Anaconda Co. v. Prop. Tax Dep't, 1979-NMCA-158, 94 N.M. 202, 608 P.2d 514, cert. denied, 94 N.M. 628, 614 P.2d 545 (1980); Hawthorne v. Director of Revenue Div. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1980-NMCA-071, 94 N.M. 480, 612 P.2d 710, Carlsberg Mgmt. Co. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-121, 116 N.M. 247, 861 P.2d 288; MPC Ltd. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMCA-021, 133 N.M. 217, 62 P.3d 308.

Presumption overcome when not supported by substantial evidence. — The assessment is presumed to be correct; the taxpayer may overcome the presumption of correctness of the assessment by presenting evidence and showing that the decision of the bureau (now department) is not supported by substantial evidence. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

Protesting taxpayer must dispute factual correctness to overcome presumption.

— Since any assessment of taxes is presumed to be correct, the duty rested on the taxpayer to present evidence tending to dispute the factual correctness of the assessments and to overcome this presumption. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 548 P.2d 70.

Presumption may be overcome by disputing factual correctness. — The presumption of Subsection C need be overcome only by a taxpayer's disputing the factual correctness of an assessment. When the taxpayer challenged the interpretation of a county ordinance in its submitted memorandum of positions, the burden was properly shifted by the memorandum to the bureau (now department) to at least acknowledge the existence of the ordinance. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232.

When the corporation contracted with an out-of-state buyer for the corporation to destroy munitions, it was entitled to the gross receipts deduction, and the hearing officer could not properly determine that use or delivery took place within the state without some affirmative evidence in the record to support that conclusion. TPL, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMSC-007, 133 N.M. 447, 64 P.3d 474.

No basis for overturning decision where taxpayer unprepared. — Since the record showed that hearing officer carefully advised taxpayer as to the statutory procedures and his rights in connection with hearing and it also showed the taxpayer did not come prepared for the hearing, taxpayer's claims that bureau (now department) should have given him opportunity to present his evidence at a later time and, although it was his burden to proceed, that he was denied the right to cross-examine a witness who was never called were based on taxpayer's lack of preparation and do not provide a basis for overturning the commissioner's (now secretary's) decision. McConnell v. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-181, 83 N.M. 386, 492 P.2d 1003.

Presumption not overcome by contradictory evidence. — Evidence that the construction contract between the taxpayer, a contracting business and a corporation created a ceiling price was not compelling in view of the contradictory evidence as to the actual cost of the construction, and the presumption of correctness of the assessment of gross receipts tax was not overcome. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

Presumption not overcome since acceptable audit method used. — Since the "test months" method was used for audit of taxpayers whose records were destroyed by fire in order to determine gross receipts subject to tax, and since there was evidence that the "test months" method was acceptable practice, the presumption of correctness of the assessments was not overcome. Torrige Corp. v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-171, 84 N.M. 610, 506 P.2d 354, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 592, 506 P.2d 336 (1973).

Evidence of entitlement to a manufacturing deduction. — A biotechnology company whose expertise was in the diagnosis of genetic disorders that could be detected through the appearance of chromosomes, and who produced tangible objects that were provided to its customers, such as a written report of its experts' diagnosis and a laminated karyotype, which consisted of photographs of chromosomes that were numbered and pasted onto a piece of laminated cardboard, did not establish its entitlement to a manufacturing deduction, since the company could not identify any out-of-state purchases that would be subject to the compensating tax of products incorporated into its reports or laminated karyotypes. The department, whose assessment is assumed correct, had identified as subject to the compensating tax such items as microscopes, sinks, and furniture, which undoubtedly were not incorporated into the documents or laminated karyotypes. Vivigen, Inc. v. Minzner, 1994-NMCA-027, 117 N.M. 224, 870 P.2d 1382.

Presumption overcome when no basis for assessments existed. — Since the undisputed evidence of no audit for a two-year period of no test for gross receipts for those years and of different under-reporting percentages for the audited period established an absence of any basis for the assessments for that period, such showing overcame the presumption that the assessments were correct. Torrige Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-171, 84 N.M. 610, 506 P.2d 354, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 592, 506 P.2d 336 (1973).

Standard of review on appeal. — Department's gross receipts tax assessment can only be reversed by the court of appeals if arbitrary, capricious, or there is an abuse of discretion, such that the assessment's not supported by substantial evidence or it is otherwise not in accordance with law. ITT Educ. Serv. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-078, 125 N.M. 244, 959 P.2d 969.

Standard of review on appeal. — Any assessment of taxes by the taxation and revenue department is presumed to be correct and in protesting the assessment of taxes the taxpayer has the burden of proving the deductions were proper. In reviewing, courts will reverse the department's decision only if it is arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, otherwise not in accordance with law, or not supported by substantial evidence. Arco Materials, Inc. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-062, 118 N.M. 12, 878 P.2d 330, rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Blaze Constr. Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMSC-110, 118 N.M. 647, 884 P.2d 803, cert. denied, 514 U.S. 1016, 115 S. Ct. 1359, 131 L. Ed. 2d 216 (1995).

Presumption overcome by showing that division (now department) failed to follow statutory provisions. — An assessment made by the bureau (now department) is presumptively correct. This presumption may be overcome by showing that the bureau (now department) failed to follow the statutory provisions contained in the Tax Administration Act. Regents of N.M. Coll. of Agric. & Mechanic Arts v. Academy of Aviation, Inc., 1971-NMSC-087, 83 N.M. 86, 488 P.2d 343.

7-1-17.1. Tax liability; spouse or former spouse.

A. If the secretary or the secretary's delegate determines that, taking into account the facts and circumstances in Subsections F and G of this section, it is inequitable to hold a spouse liable for payment of all or part of any unpaid tax, assessment or other deficiency for a tax, the secretary may decline to bring an action or proceeding to collect such taxes from the spouse, including collection from the spouse's interest in community property.

B. The secretary or the secretary's delegate may grant innocent spouse relief to a spouse who files a joint tax return and all or part of the spouse's portion of any overpayment was, or is expected to be, applied to the tax liability for which the spouse is not liable because the liability is determined to be separate debt, as defined in Subsection A of Section 40-3-9 NMSA 1978.

C. If on review it is determined that the information relied on to make the innocent spouse relief determination was incorrect or fraudulent, the department may rescind the innocent spouse relief and proceed to collect the affected taxes from the spouse.

D. Innocent spouse relief does not authorize the abatement of taxes or enforcement of any provisions of the Tax Administration Act against the taxpayer.

E. A lien or levy imposed on a spouse or property of a spouse who qualifies for innocent spouse relief may be released as to taxes deemed inequitable to collect pursuant to this section.

F. If the federal internal revenue service granted the spouse relief pursuant to 26 U.S.C. Section 6015, the spouse may request similar relief from the department on a form prescribed by the department, regardless of whether the spouse is a joint or separate filer for New Mexico income tax. The spouse shall provide a copy of the federal internal revenue service's determination with the request that the secretary or the secretary's delegate cease collection activity against the spouse to the extent relief was allowed by the federal internal revenue service. The department shall grant innocent spouse relief for the same tax periods and tax programs granted relief by the federal internal revenue service; provided that the request for relief is submitted on the form prescribed by the department. The secretary or the secretary's delegate may decline to pursue collection activity against a spouse while an application for relief is pending before the federal internal revenue service, but the failure to seek or obtain relief shall not preclude the secretary or secretary's delegate from declining to collect tax from a spouse when collection would be inequitable. An item giving rise to a deficiency on a joint return shall be allocated to an individual filing the return in the same manner as it would have been allocated if the individual had filed separate returns for the taxable year.

G. The secretary or the secretary's delegate shall consider at least the following facts and circumstances when determining whether to grant innocent spouse relief if the federal internal revenue service has not granted the spouse personal income tax relief pursuant to 26 U.S.C. Section 6015:

- (1) whether the spouse had knowledge of the tax liability at the time the liability arose;
- (2) whether the spouse had a meaningful opportunity to contest the assessment of tax at the time the assessment was made;
- (3) whether the spouse cooperated with the department in collection and compliance efforts, to the extent the spouse had knowledge of collection and compliance efforts;
- (4) whether the state can protect its interests without pursuing active collection efforts against the spouse, including collection efforts against the taxpayer;
- (5) whether the spouse benefited from the transfer of income, receipts or significant amounts of property from the taxpayer;
- (6) whether the spouse participated in the business and financial decisions of the household during the periods when the tax liability arose;
- (7) whether the spouse participated in operating a business with the taxpayer;
- (8) whether the spouse had responsibility for the finances of a business for which the spouse participated;
- (9) whether the spouse had responsibility for payment of taxes for a business for which the spouse participated; and
- (10) whether the spouse knew that the taxpayer engaged in business.

H. No one factor contemplated to Subsection G of this section shall be considered determinative in considering whether tax collection from a spouse would be inequitable. Each factor may be given different relative weight, depending on the facts and circumstances presented; therefore, the presence of a majority of factors considered tending to support innocent spouse relief in a particular case may not necessarily indicate that the spouse in question qualifies for innocent spouse relief for New Mexico tax purposes.

I. The secretary shall adopt and promulgate regulations as necessary for making the determinations pursuant to this section.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "innocent spouse relief" means the relief from collection of tax liabilities pursuant to this section;

(2) "spouse" means a current or former spouse of a taxpayer; and

(3) "taxpayer" means a taxpayer who is or was married to a spouse who is seeking innocent spouse relief pursuant to this section.

History: Laws 2003, ch. 398, § 15; 2021, ch. 65, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, clarified provisions related to innocent spouse tax relief, required the taxation and revenue department to grant innocent spouse relief in instances where the IRS has already granted a taxpayer innocent spouse relief for the same tax period, provided factors that the secretary of the taxation and revenue department must consider when determining whether to grant innocent spouse relief if the IRS has not granted the spouse personal income tax relief; in Subsection A, after "secretary", added "or the secretary's delegate", after "facts and circumstances", added "in Subsections F and G of this section", after the first occurrence of "spouse", deleted "or former spouse of a taxpayer", after "deficiency for a tax", deleted "administered under the Tax Administration Act", after "proceeding to collect such taxes", deleted "against the spouse or former spouse of the taxpayer"; deleted former subsection designation "B." and the language "Nothing in Subsection A of this section shall be construed to" and added "from the spouse, including collection from the spouse's interest in community property"; added new Subsections B through H and redesignated former Subsection C as Subsection I; and added Subsection J.

7-1-18. Limitation on assessment by department.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, no assessment of tax may be made by the department after three years from the end of the calendar year in which payment of the tax was due, and no proceeding in court for the collection of such tax without the prior assessment thereof shall be begun after the expiration of such period.

B. In case of a false or fraudulent return made by a taxpayer with intent to evade tax, the amount thereof may be assessed at any time within ten years from the end of the calendar year in which the tax was due, and no proceeding in court for the collection of such tax without the prior assessment thereof shall be begun after the expiration of such period.

C. In case of the failure by a taxpayer to complete and file any required return, the tax relating to the period for which the return was required may be assessed at any time within seven years from the end of the calendar year in which the tax was due, and no proceeding in court for the collection of such tax without the prior assessment thereof shall be begun after the expiration of such period.

D. If a taxpayer in a return understates by more than twenty-five percent the amount of liability for any tax for the period to which the return relates, appropriate assessments may be made by the department at any time within six years from the end of the calendar year in which payment of the tax was due.

E. If any adjustment in the basis for computation of any federal tax is made as a result of an audit by the internal revenue service or the filing of an amended federal return or administrative adjustment request changing a prior election or making any other change for which federal approval is required by the Internal Revenue Code that results in liability for any tax, the amount thereof may be assessed at any time, but not after three years from the end of the calendar year in which filing of a federal adjustments report is required by Subsections E through J of Section 7-1-13 NMSA 1978.

F. If the taxpayer has signed a waiver of the limitations on assessment imposed by this section, an assessment of tax may be made or a proceeding in court begun without regard to the time at which payment of the tax was due.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "administrative adjustment request" means "administrative adjustment request" as used in Section 7-1-13 NMSA 1978; and

(2) "federal adjustments report" means "federal adjustments report" as used in Section 7-1-13 NMSA 1978.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, amended sections of the tax administration act to address federal partnership audit or adjustment requests resulting in underpayment or overpayment of state taxes, and defined terms as used in this section; in Subsection E, after "an amended federal return", added "or administrative adjustment request", after "filing of", deleted "an amended return" and added "a federal adjustment report", and after "required by", changed "Subsection C" to "Subsection E through J"; and added Subsection G.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, permitted an assessment if an Internal Revenue Service audit or change in a return that required Internal Revenue Service approval results in tax liability; in Subsection E, added the language between "computation of any federal tax is made" and "that results in liability for any tax".

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, substituted the language at the end of Subsection E, beginning with "three years", for "one year after the date of the receipt of the amended return or not after the end of the period limited by Subsection A of this section, whichever is later".

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, substituted "department" for "director" in the catchline and in Subsection D and for "director or his delegate" in Subsection A, and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection E.

Extension of limitations period. — The taxation and revenue department is required to extend the general three-year limitation on assessments to six years when making an assessment if a taxpayer underreported taxes in excess of 25 percent, and the principles of estoppel do not affect the department's application of the longer period. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Bien Mur Indian Mkt. Ctr., Inc., 1989-NMSC-015, 108 N.M. 228, 770 P.2d 873.

Seven-year statute of limitation applied where taxpayers failed to file returns. — Where taxpayers appealed a 2018 assessment of taxes for tax years 2008 through 2011, arising from the operation of an automotive technician business, and where defendant argued that the administrative hearing officer incorrectly applied a ten-year, rather than a seven-year statute of limitations to their failure to file gross receipts tax returns for 2008, 2009, and 2010, the hearing officer erred in finding that taxpayers filed fraudulent returns and applying the ten-year statute of limitation to the assessments, because although taxpayers filed federal and pass-through entities (PTE) returns for the years 2008, 2009, and 2010, the evidence did not demonstrate that the filed federal and PTE returns were false or fraudulent, and the hearing officer explicitly found that taxpayers did not file state gross receipts tax returns for the years 2008, 2009, and 2010. The seven-year limitation period found in § 7-1-18(C) NMSA 1978, relating to the failure to file a return, applied to the facts of this case and barred the taxation and revenue department from assessing taxpayers personally for the years 2008, 2009, and 2010. Vigil v. N.M. Tax'n and Revenue Dep't, 2022-NMCA-032.

Assessment of severance taxes was not barred. — Where taxpayer was party to a settlement agreement that was approved by a federal district court in a class action involving the underpayment of royalties on the production of carbon dioxide gas; the settlement agreement constituted an order that increased the value of the carbon dioxide gas previously reported by taxpayer and constituted a taxable event under Section 7-29-4.3 NMSA 1978; taxpayer did not prepare or file any tax returns that reported any of the settlement proceeds paid by taxpayer to royalty interest owners as additional amounts subject to severance tax liability; the settlement agreement was approved in 1998; and a severance tax assessment was issued in 2004, the assessment was not barred by the statute of limitations. Hess Corp. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2011-NMCA-043, 149 N.M. 527, 252 P.3d 751 cert. denied, 2011-NMCERT-003, 150 N.M. 619, 264 P.3d 520.

Proof of effective date of notice of assessment. — The department failed to make out a prima facie case of entitlement to summary judgment on the issue of the backward reach of an assessment where, on the basis of an erroneous assumption that the date of the written notice of assessment was immaterial because the taxpayer was under an independent duty of self-assessment, it did not offer any evidence establishing the effective date of the notice of assessment. *Sonic Indus., Inc. v. 7-1-19. Limitation of actions.

No action or proceeding shall be brought to collect taxes administered under the provisions of the Tax Administration Act and due under an assessment or notice of the assessment of taxes after the later of either ten years from the date of such assessment or notice or, with respect to undischarged amounts in a bankruptcy proceeding, one year after the later of the issuance of the final order or the date of the last scheduled payment.

7-1-20. Compromise of taxes; closing agreements.

A. At any time after the assessment of any tax, if the secretary in good faith is in doubt of the liability for the payment thereof, the secretary may, with the written approval of the attorney general, compromise the asserted liability for taxes by entering with the taxpayer into a written agreement that adequately protects the interests of the state.

B. The agreement provided for in this section is to be known as a "closing agreement". If entered into after any court acquires jurisdiction of the matter, the agreement shall be part of a stipulated order or judgment disposing of the case.

C. As a condition for entering into a closing agreement, the secretary may require the taxpayer to furnish security for payment of any taxes due according to the terms of the agreement.

D. A closing agreement is conclusive as to liability or nonliability for payment of assessed taxes relating to the periods referred to in the agreement, and except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, or misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact:

(1) the agreement shall not be modified by any officer, employee or agent of the state; and

(2) in any suit, action or proceeding, the agreement or any determination, assessment, collection, payment, abatement, refund or credit made in accordance therewith shall not be annulled, modified, set aside or disregarded.

7-1-21. Installment payments of taxes; installment agreements.

A. Whenever justified by the circumstances, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may enter into a written agreement with a taxpayer in which the taxpayer admits conclusive liability for the entire amount of taxes due and agrees to make monthly installment payments according to the terms of the agreement, but not for a period longer than seventy-two months. No installment agreement shall prevent the accrual of interest otherwise provided by law.

B. The agreement provided for in this section is to be known as an "installment agreement". If entered into after a court acquires jurisdiction over the matter, the agreement shall be part of a stipulated order or judgment disposing of the case.

C. At the time of entering into an installment agreement, the secretary shall require the affected taxpayer or person to furnish security for payment of the taxes admitted to be due according to the terms of the agreement, but if the taxpayer does not provide security, the secretary shall cause a notice of lien to be filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978, and when so filed it shall constitute a lien upon all the property or rights to property of the taxpayer in that county in the same manner as in the case of the lien provided for in Section 7-1-37 NMSA 1978.

D. An installment agreement is conclusive as to liability for payment of the amount of taxes specified therein but does not preclude the assessment of any additional tax.

E. After entering into the agreement, except in unusual circumstances as require the secretary in the secretary's discretion to take further action to protect the interests of the state, no further attempts to enforce payment of the tax by levy or injunction shall be made; however, if installment payments are not made on or before the times specified in the agreement, if any other condition contained in the agreement is not met or if the taxpayer does not make payment of all other taxes for which the taxpayer becomes liable as they are due, the secretary may proceed to enforce collection of the tax as if the agreement had not been made or may proceed, as provided in Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978, against the security furnished.

F. Records of installment agreements in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) shall be available for inspection by the public. The department shall keep the records for a minimum of three years from the date of the installment agreement.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, increased the amount of time over which a taxpayer may make installment payments on taxes due, and made technical changes; in Subsection A, after "for a period no longer than", deleted "sixty" and added "seventy-two"; and in Subsection E, after "the secretary in", deleted "his" and added "the secretary's", and after "all other taxes for which", deleted "he" and added "the taxpayer".

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, substituted "sixty months" for "thirty-six months" near the end of Subsection A.

7-1-21.1. Special agreements; alternative gross receipts taxpayer.

A. To allow the payment of gross receipts tax by a person who is not the liable taxpayer, the secretary may approve a request by a person to assume the liability for gross receipts tax or governmental gross receipts tax owed by another provided that the person requesting approval agrees to assume the rights and responsibilities as taxpayer pursuant to the Tax Administration Act for:

(1) an agreement to collect and pay over taxes for persons in a business relationship, which is an agreement that may be entered into by persons who wish to remit gross receipts tax on behalf of another person with whom the taxpayer has a business relationship;

(2) an agreement to collect and pay over taxes for a direct sales company:

(a) which agreement may be entered into by a direct sales company that has distributors of tangible personal property in New Mexico; and

(b) in which the direct sales company agrees to pay the gross receipts tax liability of the distributor at the same time the company remits its own gross receipts tax; and

(3) a manufacturer's agreement to pay gross receipts tax or governmental gross receipts tax on behalf of a utility company, which agreement:

(a) allows a person engaged in manufacturing in New Mexico to pay gross receipts tax or governmental gross receipts tax on behalf of a utility company on receipts from sales of utilities that are: 1) not consumed in the manufacturing process; or 2) not otherwise deductible; and

(b) is only applicable to transactions between a manufacturer and a utility company that are associated with the gross receipts tax deduction pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-9-46 NMSA 1978.

B. To enter into the agreements authorized in this section, a person shall complete a form prescribed by the secretary and provide any additional information or documentation required by department rules or instructions that will assist in the approval of agreements listed in Subsection A of this section.

C. Once approved, an agreement shall be effective only for the period of time specified in each agreement. Any person entering into an agreement to pay tax on behalf of another person shall fulfill all of the requirements set out in the agreement. Failure to fulfill all of the requirements set out in the agreement may result in the revocation of the agreement by the department. An approved agreement may only be revoked prior to expiration by written notification to all persons who are party to the agreement and shall be applied beginning on the first day of a month that occurs at least one month following the date on which the agreement is revoked.

D. A person approved by the secretary to pay the gross receipts tax or governmental gross receipts tax pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall be deemed to be the taxpayer with respect to that tax pursuant to the Tax Administration Act with respect to all rights and responsibilities related to that tax, except that:

(1) the person shall not be entitled to take any credit against the tax for which the person has assumed liability pursuant to this section; and

(2) the person shall not claim a refund of tax on the basis that the person is not statutorily liable to pay the tax.

E. The department shall relieve from liability and hold harmless from the payment of a tax assumed by another person pursuant to an agreement approved pursuant to this section a taxpayer that would otherwise be liable for that tax.

Applicability. — Laws 2013, ch. 87, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2013, ch. 87, §§ 1 and 2 apply to gross receipts or governmental gross receipts received in tax periods beginning on or after May 1, 2013.

7-1-22. Exhaustion of administrative remedies.

No court of this state has jurisdiction to entertain any proceeding by a taxpayer in which the taxpayer calls into question the taxpayer's liability for any tax or the application to the taxpayer of any provision of the Tax Administration Act, except as a consequence of the appeal by the taxpayer to the court of appeals from the order of a hearing officer, or except as a consequence of a claim for refund as specified in Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-36, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 24; 1966, ch. 30, § 1; 1979, ch. 144, § 21; 1995, ch. 70, § 2; 2015, ch. 73, § 14.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided jurisdiction to the court of appeals to review orders of hearing officers; after "court of appeals from the", deleted "action and order of the secretary, all as specified in Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978" and added "order of a hearing officer".

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, substituted "secretary" for "director" near the end of the section, and made gender neutral changes throughout the section.

Exhaustion of remedies required. — Challenges to the validity of the Tax Administration Act must be first presented either through the protest remedy or the refund remedy. Neff v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-116, 116 N.M. 240, 861 P.2d 281.

Tax Administration Act requires exhaustion of remedies for each denial of a given credit. — Where plaintiff taxpayers (taxpayers) twice challenged the New Mexico taxation and revenue department's (department) denial of applications for high wage jobs tax credits, once in 2015 and again in 2016, and where taxpayers elected to dispute the denial of the 2015 credits by filing a written protest to be heard by the department's administrative hearing officer (AHO), pursuant to § 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but elected to protest the denial of the 2016 credits by claiming a refund from the department for the credit denied, pursuant to § 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, and where the department filed a motion for summary judgment, claiming that when a taxpayer pursues successive denials of tax credits raising a common issue, the taxpayer must have the issue resolved in the forum where it was initially raised or is otherwise bound by their choice of remedy for the original denial, the district court erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, because the Tax Administration Act, §§ 7-1-1 to 7-1-83 NMSA 1978, requires only that a taxpayer denied a given credit exhaust their remedy for that denied credit before seeking relief from the courts. Taxpayers were not required to pursue the same remedy for the denial of the 2016 credits as they pursued for the denial of the 2015 credits; the act requires only that a taxpayer exhaust whatever remedy it has chosen to challenge the denial of a given credit. Weatherford Artificial Lift Systems v. Clarke, 2021-NMCA-065.

Doctrine of vicarious or virtual exhaustion of remedies does not apply. — The Tax Administration Act provides the exclusive remedies for tax refunds and requires taxpayers to individually seek a refund. Each member of the class of taxpayers challenging the constitutionality of a tax must individually exhaust their administrative remedies and only after individual exhaustion by each class member can the district court have jurisdiction over the class. The doctrine of vicarious or virtual exhaustion of remedies that allows a class action for tax refunds to proceed when only a few members of the proposed class have exhausted their administrative remedies does not apply to proceedings under the Tax Administration Act. U.S. Xpress v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2006-NMSC-017, 139 N.M. 589, 136 P.3d 999, rev'g 2005-NMCA-091, 138 N.M. 55, 116 P.3d 846.

Federal claims. — Where taxpayers were seeking exemption from taxes under a claimed federal right, the Federal Supremacy Clause did not preclude a state from requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies before its courts will decide state tax matters, unless taxpayers would thereby be denied a plain, adequate and complete remedy. Neff v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-116, 116 N.M. 240, 861 P.2d 281.

7-1-23. Disputing liabilities; election of remedies.

A taxpayer may dispute the taxpayer's liability for taxes only by protesting the assessment of taxes as provided in Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 without making payment or by claiming a refund as provided in Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978 after making payment of the taxes the department asserts are owed. The pursuit of one of the two remedies constitutes an unconditional waiver of the right to pursue the other.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-37, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 25; 1979, ch. 144, § 22; 2013, ch. 27, § 5; 2017, ch. 63, § 24; 2019, ch. 157, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, clarified certain provisions related to disputing tax liabilities; after "A taxpayer", deleted "must elect to" and added "may", after "taxpayer's liability for", deleted "the payment of", after the next occurrence of "taxes", deleted "either" and added "only", after "without making payment", deleted "of the disputed tax liability", and after "making payment of the", deleted "disputed tax liability" and added "taxes the department asserts are owed".

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, after each occurrence of "making payment", added "of the disputed tax liability".

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, at the beginning of the title, added "Disputing liabilities".

Disputing the denial of an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit. — Where taxpayer submitted an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit, which was denied by the Department of Taxation and Revenue (Department), and where taxpayer did not file a written protest to the department's denial of its credit application, pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but rather filed an application for refund pursuant to 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, based on its original credit application, which was also denied by the department, and where taxpayer filed a written protest to the denial of its refund application, and where, following multiple hearings before the administrative hearing officer, the department filed a motion for summary judgment, and where the administrative hearing officer granted the department's motion, concluding that the only available remedy for a denial of an application for a tax credit was to file a protest within ninety days of the denial pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, and that taxpayer's failure to file such a protest rendered the department's denial indisputable, the administrative hearing officer erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment and denying taxpayer's protest, because neither the applicable statutes nor the department's own guidance suggest that a taxpayer's sole remedy to dispute the denial of a high-wage jobs tax credit is through the protest procedures provided in 7-1-24 NMSA 1978. The plain language of both 7-1-24 and 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, indicates that the two statutes exist as alternatives and a taxpayer may dispute a denial of a tax credit under either statute. Elite Well v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-041.

7-1-24. Disputing liabilities; administrative protest.

A. A taxpayer may dispute:

- (1) the assessment to the taxpayer of any amount of tax over fifty dollars ($50.00);
- (2) the application to the taxpayer of any provision of the Tax Administration Act except the issuance of a subpoena or summons; or
- (3) the denial of or failure either to allow or to deny a:
 - (a) credit or rebate; or
 - (b) claim for refund made in accordance with Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978.

B. The taxpayer may dispute a matter described in Subsection A of this section by filing with the secretary a written protest that:

- (1) identifies the taxpayer and the tax credit, rebate, property or provision of the Tax Administration Act involved;
- (2) states the grounds on which the protest is based and summarizes evidence supporting each ground asserted; and
- (3) states the affirmative relief requested.

C. A taxpayer may amend a statement made by the taxpayer in accordance with Paragraphs (2) and (3) of Subsection B of this section at any time prior to ten days before the hearing conducted on the protest in accordance with the Administrative Hearings Office Act [Chapter 7, Article 1B NMSA 1978] or, if a scheduling order has been issued, in accordance with the scheduling order. The secretary may, in appropriate cases, provide for an informal conference before a hearing of the protest is set by the administrative hearings office or before acting on a claim for refund.

D. A taxpayer may file a protest, in the case of an assessment of tax by the department, without making payment of the amount assessed; provided that, if only a portion of the assessment is in dispute, any unprotested amounts of tax, interest or penalty shall be paid, or, if applicable, an installment agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-21 NMSA 1978 shall be entered into for the unprotested amounts, on or before the due date for the protest.

E. A protest by a taxpayer shall be filed within ninety days after:

(1) the date of the mailing to the taxpayer by the department of the notice of assessment and demand for payment as provided in Subsection A or D of Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978;

(2) the mailing of the other peremptory notice or demand;

(3) the date of the application to the taxpayer of the applicable provision of the Tax Administration Act; or

(4) the date of denial of a claim pursuant to Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978 or the last date upon which the department was required to take action on the claim but failed to take action.

F. If a taxpayer fails to timely protest an assessment of tax, penalty or interest:

(1) the undisputed amount of tax assessed and not protested becomes final;

(2) the taxpayer is deemed to have waived the right to protest the assessment, unless the taxpayer pays the tax and claims a refund of the tax pursuant to Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978; and

(3) the secretary may proceed to enforce collection of the tax if the taxpayer is delinquent as defined by Section 7-1-16 NMSA 1978.

G. The fact that the department did not mail the assessment or other peremptory notice or demand by certified or registered mail or otherwise demand and receive acknowledgment of receipt by the taxpayer shall not be deemed to demonstrate the taxpayer's inability to protest within the required time.

H. A proceeding other than one to enforce collection of an amount assessed as tax and to protect the interest of the state by injunction, as provided by Sections 7-1-31, 7-1-33, 7-1-34, 7-1-40, 7-1-53, 7-1-56 and 7-1-58 NMSA 1978, is not stayed by timely filing of a protest in accordance with this section.

I. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a criminal proceeding or to authorize an administrative protest of the issuance of a subpoena or summons.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Rules of Procedure for the District Courts, see Rule 1-001 NMRA et seq.

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, adjusted the amount of tax liability allowed to be disputed by a taxpayer; and in Subsection A, Paragraph A(1), after "any amount of tax", added "over fifty dollars ($50.00)".

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, revised the procedures for protesting a tax liability; in Subsection B, Paragraph B(2), after "grounds", deleted "for the taxpayer's protest and the affirmative relief requested. The statement of grounds for protest shall specify individual grounds upon" and added "on", after "based and", added "summarizes", after "ground asserted", deleted "provided that the" and added "and", and added Paragraph B(3); added new subsection designation "C" and redesignated former Subsections C through H as Subsections D through I, respectively; in Subsection C, after "amend a statement", added "made by the taxpayer in accordance with Paragraphs (2) and (3) of Subsection B of this section"; in Subsection D, deleted "In the case of an assessment of tax by the department" and added "A taxpayer may file", after " a protest", deleted "may be filed" and added "in the case of an assessment of tax by the department"; in Subsection E, Paragraph E(1), after "assessment", deleted "or" and added "and demand for payment as provided in Subsection A or D of Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978", and in Paragraph E(2), added "the mailing of the"; and in Subsection F, in the introductory clause, after "If a", added "taxpayer fails to timely", after "protest", deleted "to a notice of" and added "an", after "assessment", deleted "is not filed within the time required" and added "of tax, penalty or interest", in Paragraph F(1), after "the", added "undisputed", and after "amount of tax", deleted "determined to be due" and added "assessed and not protested", and in Paragraph F(2), after "the right to", deleted "question the amount of tax determined to be due" and added "protest the assessment".

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, revised the list of information that must be included in a taxpayer protest, clarified that, in a taxpayer protest of an assessment, payment of the disputed tax liability is not required in order to protest, but any undisputed amounts are required to be paid, and provided that if a protest to a notice of assessment is not filed within the time required, the amount of tax determined to be due becomes final and the taxpayer is deemed to have waived the right to protest, unless the taxpayer were to pay the tax and claim a refund of the tax; in Subsection B, after "upon which the protest is based and", deleted "a summary statement of the", and after "evidence", deleted "if any, expected to be produced"; designated the last sentence of Subsection B as new Subsection C and designated the first sentence of former Subsection C as Subsection D, designated the second sentence of former Subsection C as Subsection E, and designated the third sentence of former Subsection C as Subsection F, and redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections G and H, respectively; in Subsection C, after "assessed", added "provided that, if only a portion of the assessment is in dispute, any unprotested amounts of tax, interest or penalty shall be paid, or, if applicable, an installment agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-21 NMSA 1978 shall be entered into for the unprotested amounts, on or before the due date for the protest"; and in Subsection E, after "If a protest", added "to a notice of assessment", added Paragraphs E(1) and E(2), and added the paragraph designation "(3)" to the last sentence of the subsection.

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided that administrative protests are to be conducted pursuant to the Administrative Hearings Office Act; in Subsection A, deleted "Any" and added "A"; in Subsection B, after "ten days before", deleted "any" and added "the", after "pursuant to", deleted "Section 7-1-24.1 NMSA 1978" and added "the provisions of the Administrative Hearings Office Act", after "informal conference before", deleted "setting", after "hearing of the protest", added "is set by the administrative hearings office" and after "or", added "before", and after "acting on", deleted "any " and added "a"; in Subsection C, after "C.", deleted "Any" and added "A", after "pursuant to Section", deleted "7-1-24.1" and added "7-1-26"; in Subsection D, after "collection of", deleted "any" and added "an", and after "filing of a protest", deleted "under" and added "pursuant to the provisions of"; and in Subsection E, after "authorize", deleted "any" and added "a", and after "criminal", deleted "proceedings hereunder" and added "proceeding".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided:

- A. On July 1, 2015, all personnel, functions, appropriations, money, records, furniture, equipment and other property of, or attributable to, the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be transferred to the administrative hearings office.
- B. On July 1, 2015, all contractual obligations of the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be binding on the administrative hearings office.
- C. On July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.
- D. Rules of the taxation and revenue department pertaining to hearing officers and the conduct of hearings pursuant to actions related to Chapter 7 or 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be the rules of the administrative hearings office until amended or repealed by the office.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, prohibited the disputation of the issuance of a subpoena or summons; permitted the disputation of the denial of a credit or rebate; prescribed the content of a protest; permitted a protest to be filed without making a payment of the amount assessed; extended the deadline for filing a protest; deleted former provisions governing hearings; at the beginning of the title, added "Disputing liabilities", and after "administrative", deleted "hearing procedure", and added "protest"; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, after "Tax Administration Act", added "except the issuance of a subpoena or summons"; added Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A; in Subsection B, at the beginning of the first sentence, added "The taxpayer may dispute a matter described in Subsection A of this section" and after "written protest", deleted "against the assessment or against the application to the taxpayer of the provision or against the denial of or the failure to allow or deny the amount claimed to have been erroneously paid as tax", in the second sentence, after "and the tax", added "credit, rebate, property or provision of the Tax Administration Act", and in the third sentence, after "summary statement of the evidence", added "if any", after "supporting each ground asserted", deleted "if any", and after "protest pursuant to", deleted "Subsection D of this" and after "Section", added "7-1-24.1 NMSA 1978", and added the last sentence; in Subsection C, in the first sentence, after "shall be filed within", deleted "thirty" and added "ninety", after "date of the mailing to", added "or service upon", after "notice of assessment or", deleted "mailing to, or service upon, the taxpayer of", after "peremptory notice or demand", deleted "or", and after "date of mailing or filing a return" added the remainder of the sentence, deleted the former second sentence which provided for an extension of time to file a protest, in the current second sentence, after "within the time required", deleted "for filing a protest or, if an extension has been granted, within the extended time", deleted the former third sentence, which provided for a retroactive extension of time to file a protest, in the current third sentence, after "taxpayer's inability to protest", deleted "or request an extension of time for filing a protest", and deleted the former fourth sentence which prohibited a retroactive extension of time to file a protest if there is a levy or jeopardy assessment; deleted former Subsection C, which provided for claims for refund; deleted former Subsection D, which provided for the setting of a hearing date; deleted former Subsection E, which provided for the appointment of a hearing officer and the procedure for a hearing; deleted former Subsection F, which prohibited a hearing officer from engaging in activity as an employee of the department other than conducting the hearing; deleted former Subsection G, which prohibited ex-parte communications; deleted former Subsection H, which provided guidelines for ruling on the admissibility of evidence; deleted former Subsection I, which provided guidelines for conducting hearings; deleted former Subsection J, which provided for the creation of a record and required the hearing officer to issue a written decision and to inform the taxpayer of the right of appeal; and deleted former Subsection K, which provided for the consolidation of multiple protests.

Applicability. — Laws 2013, ch. 27, § 13 provided that the following time limits for filing a written protest shall apply pursuant to that version of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 in effect:

A. immediately prior to July 1, 2013, if the date of mailing or service of process, application of the applicable provision of the Tax Administration Act, denial or failure to deny or allow with the time prescribed occurred on or before June 1, 2013; or

B. on or after July 1, 2013, if the date of mailing or service of process, application of the applicable provision of the Tax Administration Act, denial or failure to deny or allow with the time prescribed occurred on or after June 2, 2013.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, substituted "D" for "E" following "pursuant to Subsection" near the end of Subsection A; added present Subsections F and G and redesignated the subsequent subsections accordingly; added "A taxpayer may request a written ruling on any contested question of evidence in a matter in which the taxpayer has filed a written protest and that protest is pending" following "is in reasonable doubt." at the end of present Subsection H; added "A taxpayer may request a written ruling on any contested question of procedure in a matter in which the taxpayer has filed a written protest and that protest is pending" following "evidence presented and admitted." at the end of present Subsection L; and added Subsection K and redesignated former Subsection I as present Subsection L.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, in Subsection A, deleted "or taxes" following "shall identify the taxpayer and the tax" in the second sentence and specified that a taxpayer has until ten days before the hearing to supplement his statement of grounds for protest or, if a scheduling order has been issued, must act in accordance with the scheduling order; and substituted "Section 7-1-31 or 7-1-33" for "Sections 7-1-31, 7-1-33 and 7-1-34" in Subsection B.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, in Subsection A, substituted "against the denial of or the failure to allow or deny" for "a written claim for refund of" near the end of the first sentence, rewrote the second sentence which read "Every protest shall state the nature of the taxpayer's complaint and the affirmative relief requested", inserted the current third sentence, and made a minor stylistic change; rewrote Subsection B; and, in Subsection H, deleted the former final sentence which read "All decisions and orders shall be signed by the secretary".

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A, inserted "or the denial of, or failure to either allow or deny, a claim for refund made in accordance with Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978"; in Subsection B, in the next-to-last sentence, substituted "protest" for "appeal" in two places; in Subsection D, deleted "or a request for hearing after denial of a claim for refund" preceding "the department or hearing officer"; in Subsection G, in the last sentence, inserted "permit discovery"; in Subsection H, in the first sentence, deleted "or claim for refund" following "any protest", in the third sentence, deleted "The hearing officer may announce the decision at the conclusion of the hearing or may take the matter under advisement, but he shall, in either case" from the beginning, substituted "The hearing officer" for "The secretary", inserted "of the hearing, shall", deleted "or claimant" preceding "in writing"; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Established procedural framework for tax protest proceedings. — Under the Tax Administration Act, a tax assessment is presumed to be correct; a taxpayer can attempt to overcome this presumption of correctness by coming forward with some countervailing evidence tending to dispute the factual correctness of the assessment, and if the taxpayer overcomes the presumption, the burden shifts to the department to demonstrate the correctness of the tax assessment. The burden of proof during an administrative hearing on a tax protest is preponderance of evidence. Gemini Las Colinas, LLC v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-039.

Overcoming the presumption of correctness. — To overcome the presumption of correctness of a tax assessment, the taxpayer need not prove, by a preponderance of evidence or otherwise, that the tax assessment performed by the department is incorrect; instead, to rebut the presumption, the taxpayer need only come forward with some countervailing evidence that tends to dispute the assessment, but unsubstantiated statements that the assessment is incorrect do not suffice to overcome the presumption. Determining whether the taxpayer has overcome the presumption of correctness is the first step in resolving a tax protest, and it will only be the last step if the taxpayer fails to overcome the presumption. Gemini Las Colinas, LLC v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-039.

Department's burden of showing the correctness of a tax assessment. — If a taxpayer has overcome the presumption of correctness of a tax assessment, the burden that shifts to the department is a burden of production; to overcome this burden the department must put forth evidence to show the correctness of its assessment, that is, evidence sufficient to make the correctness of the department's assessment a question of fact. The burden of persuasion remains with the taxpayer throughout the proceedings. Gemini Las Colinas, LLC v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-039.

Administrative hearing officer erred by applying the statutory presumption of correctness in a manner contrary to law. — Where the Department of Taxation and Revenue (Department) audited taxpayer, the owner and operator of an independent living facility that rents apartment to people fifty-five years and older, and where the department concluded that taxpayer had been overstating certain deductions for its gross receipts tax liability, and where taxpayer protested, claiming that the department incorrectly determined the rental value and, consequently, assessed taxes in an amount greater than taxpayer's actual liability, and where the administrative hearing officer (AHO) denied taxpayer's protest, holding that "the taxpayer did not prove by a preponderance of evidence that the method actually employed by the Department resulted in an incorrect assessment," and that "taxpayer did not overcome the presumption of correctness that attached to the assessment," the AHO erred in denying taxpayer's protest, because the AHO sought a preponderance of evidence to overcome the statutory presumption of correctness, and this evidentiary standard was not in accordance with the law. A protesting taxpayer overcomes the presumption of correctness by presenting some countervailing evidence tending to dispute the factual correctness of the assessment. Gemini Las Colinas, LLC v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-039.

Disputing the denial of an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit. — Where taxpayer submitted an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit, which was denied by the Department of Taxation and Revenue (Department), and where taxpayer did not file a written protest to the department's denial of its credit application, pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but rather filed an application for refund pursuant to 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, based on its original credit application, which was also denied by the department, and where taxpayer filed a written protest to the denial of its refund application, and where, following multiple hearings before the administrative hearing officer, the department filed a motion for summary judgment, and where the administrative hearing officer granted the department's motion, concluding that the only available remedy for a denial of an application for a tax credit was to file a protest within ninety days of the denial pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, and that taxpayer's failure to file such a protest rendered the department's denial indisputable, the administrative hearing officer erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment and denying taxpayer's protest, because neither the applicable statutes nor the department's own guidance suggest that a taxpayer's sole remedy to dispute the denial of a high-wage jobs tax credit is through the protest procedures provided in 7-1-24 NMSA 1978. The plain language of both 7-1-24 and 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, indicates that the two statutes exist as alternatives and a taxpayer may dispute a denial of a tax credit under either statute. Gemini Las Colinas, LLC v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-039.

Claims for refund. — Subsection B of this section does not mention claims for refund. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

Defects in proceedings. — The hearing officer's failure to take an oath or obtain a faithful performance bond; the failure of the hearing officer to submit a written request to the IRS for federal tax information as provided in 26 U.S.C. §6103(d)(1); the reliance by the hearing officer on the IRS Income Tax Examination Changes; and the lack of a valid control number on applicable tax forms as provided in the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S. C. §§ 3501 to 3520, do not affect the taxpayer's tax liability or absolve the taxpayer of liability. Stockton v. N.M. Taxation and Revenue Dept., 2007-NMCA-071, 141 N.M. 860, 161 P.3d 905.

Appealable final order. — Hearing officer's order dismissing taxpayer's appeal was not an appealable final order, since it had not been approved or signed by the secretary of taxation and revenue. Harris v. Revenue Div. of Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1987-NMCA-034, 105 N.M. 721, 737 P.2d 80 (decided under prior law).

Tax Administration Act requires exhaustion of remedies for each denial of a given credit. — Where plaintiff taxpayers (taxpayers) twice challenged the New Mexico taxation and revenue department's (department) denial of applications for high wage jobs tax credits, once in 2015 and again in 2016, and where taxpayers elected to dispute the denial of the 2015 credits by filing a written protest to be heard by the department's administrative hearing officer (AHO), pursuant to § 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but elected to protest the denial of the 2016 credits by claiming a refund from the department for the credit denied, pursuant to § 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, and where the department filed a motion for summary judgment, claiming that when a taxpayer pursues successive denials of tax credits raising a common issue, the taxpayer must have the issue resolved in the forum where it was initially raised or is otherwise bound by their choice of remedy for the original denial, the district court erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, because the Tax Administration Act, §§ 7-1-1 to 7-1-83 NMSA 1978, requires only that a taxpayer denied a given credit exhaust their remedy for that denied credit before seeking relief from the courts. Taxpayers were not required to pursue the same remedy for the denial of the 2016 credits as they pursued for the denial of the 2015 credits; the Act requires only that a taxpayer exhaust whatever remedy it has chosen to challenge the denial of a given credit. Weatherford Artificial Lift Systems v. Clarke, 2021-NMCA-065.

District court erred in invoking primary jurisdiction. — Where plaintiff taxpayers (taxpayers) twice challenged the New Mexico taxation and revenue department's (department) denial of applications for high wage jobs tax credits, once in 2015 and again in 2016, and where taxpayers elected to dispute the denial of the 2015 credits by filing a written protest to be heard by the department's administrative hearing officer (AHO), pursuant to § 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but elected to protest the denial of the 2016 credits by claiming a refund from the department for the credit denied, pursuant to § 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, and where the department filed a motion for summary judgment, claiming that when a taxpayer pursues successive denials of tax credits raising a common issue, the taxpayer must have the issue resolved in the forum where it was initially raised or is otherwise bound by their choice of remedy for the original denial, the district court erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, invoking the doctrine of primary jurisdiction, because in this case, taxpayers exhausted their administrative remedies as to the 2016 credits, thereby depriving the AHO of jurisdiction, the department failed to explain why resolution of specific, factual issues raised in the 2016 credits require the peculiar expertise of the AHO, and the remedy requested by the department, entry of judgment in its favor, is not one available under the doctrine of primary jurisdiction. Weatherford Artificial Lift Systems v. Clarke, 2021-NMCA-065.

No abatement of assessment for lack of prompt hearing. — Assessments are not abated merely because taxpayers were not given prompt hearing on protests. In re Ranchers-Tufco Limestone Project Joint Venture, 1983-NMCA-126, 100 N.M. 632, 674 P.2d 522, cert denied, 100 N.M. 506, 672 P.2d 1136.

Thirty-day requirement for hearing officer decision does not affect "the essential power" of the hearing officer to decide complex and time-consuming tax protests. Kmart Props., Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't., 2006-NMCA-026, 139 N.M. 177, 131 P.3d 27, rev'd on other grounds, Kmart Corp. v. N.M. Taxation and Revenue Dep't., 2006-NMSC-006, 139 N.M. 172, 131 P.3d 22.

Taxpayer appearing alone does so at own peril. — Taxpayer has a right to appear by himself or by an attorney or an accountant, but if he chose to appear alone, he appeared at his own peril. McConnell v. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-181, 83 N.M. 386, 492 P.2d 1003.

Hearing officer need not assume duties of counsel at second hearing. — Since taxpayer's rights were amply protected at the first hearing, and the second hearing was a continuation of the first, at which the only issue was taxpayer's duty to secure additional proof that its sales were nontaxable transactions, taxpayer was granted a full and fair hearing, at which he voluntarily and willingly waived his right to counsel, and the hearing officer was not required to assume the duties of counsel for taxpayer at the second hearing. Al Zuni Traders v. Bureau of Revenue, 1977-NMCA-025, 90 N.M. 258, 561 P.2d 1351.

Taxpayer must establish timely filing. — Where a taxpayer failed to establish that he filed a protest of an audit by the taxation and revenue department within 30 days of notice, as required by this section, the issue of an improper audit was not before the hearing officer. Lopez v. N.M. Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 1997-NMCA-115, 124 N.M. 270, 949 P.2d 284, cert. denied, 124 N.M. 311, 950 P.2d 284.

Decision upheld when arguments based on taxpayer's unpreparedness. — Since the record showed that hearing officer carefully advised taxpayer as to the statutory procedures and his rights in connection with hearing and it also showed the taxpayer did not come prepared for the hearing, taxpayer's claims that revenue bureau (department) should have given him opportunity to present his evidence at a later time and, although it was his burden to proceed, that he was denied the right to cross-examine a witness who was never called were based on taxpayer's lack of preparation and do not provide a basis for overturning the commissioner's (hearing officer's) decision. McConnell v. State ex rel. Bureau of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-181, 83 N.M. 386, 492 P.2d 1003.

Technical rules of evidence do not apply in hearings before the commissioner (hearing officer) and as the oral evidence provided reasonable substantiation of the documents, they were properly admitted. Garfield Mines Ltd. v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-128, 85 N.M. 547, 514 P.2d 304.

Evidential rules governing weight, applicability or materiality not limited. — The rules governing the admissibility of evidence before administrative boards are frequently relaxed to expedite administrative procedure but the rules relating to weight, applicability or materiality of evidence are not thus limited. Eaton v. Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-114, 84 N.M. 226, 501 P.2d 670, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 219, 501 P.2d 663.

Director (hearing officer) has no authority to catalogue which evidence considered. — The state has not given to the commissioner (hearing officer) authority to catalogue which evidence shall be considered in determining a taxpayer's employment status. Eaton v. Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-114, 84 N.M. 226, 501 P.2d 670, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 219, 501 P.2d 663.

If testimony based on supposition, Subsection H not satisfied. — Since taxpayer's books and records are not adequate to permit an accurate computation of the state tax, and his testimony is based on supposition and guess, he does not satisfy the requirements of Subsection H. Archuleta v. O'Cheskey, 1972-NMCA-165, 84 N.M. 428, 504 P.2d 638.

Ruling reversed if director (hearing officer) failed to consider all evidence. — Since the commissioner (hearing officer), before arriving at a decision, did not consider all of the evidence presented at the hearing but only that pertaining to the "indicia" under G.R. Regulation 12.5:1 (3.2.105.7 NMAC), the court could not say that he would have reached the same conclusion had all of "the evidence presented and admitted" been considered, as required by Subsection G (Subsection I), and, therefore, held the ruling reversed for arbitrariness. Eaton v. Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-114, 84 N.M. 226, 501 P.2d 670, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 219, 501 P.2d 663.

Evidence presented after hearing. — Where the taxpayer's alternative theory for a deduction was raised in the taxpayer's formal protest; the issue was not set forth in the prehearing statement of issues; and the taxpayer failed to tender any evidence on the issue at the hearing, the hearing officer did abuse the officer's discretion by refusing to consider evidence tendered by the taxpayer in a post-hearing brief forty days after the hearing. TPL, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2000-NMCA-083, 129 N.M. 539, 10 P.3d 863, rev'd on other grounds, 2003-NMSC-007, 133 N.M. 447, 64 P.3d 474.

Record must indicate reasoning and basis for denial. — Although the commissioner (hearing officer) is not required to make formal findings of fact and conclusions of law, the record presented to the court for review must indicate his reasoning and the basis on which he denied the taxpayer's protest and in the absence of this matter must be remanded to him for further proceedings. Title Servs., Inc. v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-014, 86 N.M. 128, 520 P.2d 284.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-1-24.1, enacted by Laws 2013, ch. 27, § 7; repealed by Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 37.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 37 repealed 7-1-24.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2013, ch. 27, § 7, relating to hearing officers for disputing liabilities, effective July 1, 2015. For provisions of former section, see the 2014 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-25. Appeals from hearing officer's decision and order.

A. If the protestant or secretary is dissatisfied with the decision and order of the hearing officer, the party may appeal to the court of appeals for further relief, but only to the same extent and upon the same theory as was asserted in the hearing before the hearing officer. All such appeals shall be upon the record made at the hearing and shall not be de novo. All such appeals to the court of appeals shall be taken within thirty days of the date of mailing or delivery of the written decision and order of the hearing officer to the protestant, and, if not so taken, the decision and order are conclusive.

B. The procedure for perfecting an appeal under this section to the court of appeals shall be as provided by the Rules of Appellate Procedure.

C. Upon appeal, the court shall set aside a decision and order of the hearing officer only if found to be:

- (1) arbitrary, capricious or an abuse of discretion;
- (2) not supported by substantial evidence in the record; or
- (3) otherwise not in accordance with the law.

D. If the secretary appeals a decision of the hearing officer and the court's decision, from which either no appeal is taken or no appeal may be taken, upholds the decision of the hearing officer, the court shall award reasonable attorney fees to the protestant. If the decision upholds the hearing officer's decision only in part, the award shall be limited to reasonable attorney fees associated with the portion upheld.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-39, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 27; 1966, ch. 30, § 3; 1973, ch. 167, § 1; 1979, ch. 144, § 24; 1985, ch. 65, § 15; 1986, ch. 20, § 16; 1989, ch. 325, § 7; 2015, ch. 73, § 16.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Rules of Appellate Procedure, see Rule 12-101 NMRA et seq.

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided for appeals from hearing officers' decisions; in the catchline, after "Appeals from", deleted "secretary's" and added "hearing officer's"; and in Subsection D, after "shall award reasonable", deleted "attorney's" and added "attorney", and after "limited to reasonable" deleted "attorney's" and added "attorney".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided:

A. On July 1, 2015, all personnel, functions, appropriations, money, records, furniture, equipment and other property of, or attributable to, the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be transferred to the administrative hearings office.

B. On July 1, 2015, all contractual obligations of the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue shall be binding on the administrative hearings office.

C. On July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.

D. Rules of the taxation and revenue department pertaining to hearing officers and the conduct of hearings pursuant to actions related to Chapter 7 or 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be the rules of the administrative hearings office until amended or repealed by the office.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A, substituted "protestant or secretary" for "protestant or claimant" and "the hearing officer, the party" for "the secretary, the protestant or claimant" in the first sentence and "the hearing officer to the protestant" for "the secretary to the protestant, or claimant" in the last sentence of the subsection; substituted present Subsection B for the provisions of former Subsections B and C, specifying the procedure for perfecting an appeal under this section; redesignated former Subsection D as present Subsection C, substituting "hearing officer" for "secretary" near the beginning; and added present Subsection D.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Section grants court of appeals jurisdiction to review director's (hearing officer's) decisions. — Court of appeals lacks jurisdiction to review decisions of the commissioner (hearing officer) under the Administrative Procedures Act (12-8-1 to 12-8-25 NMSA 1978), but does have jurisdiction to review such decisions under this section of the Tax Administration Act. Westland Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-083, 83 N.M. 29, 487 P.2d 1099, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 22, 487 P.2d 1092.

Scope of jurisdiction. — The court of appeals has jurisdiction in appeals from a hearing officer's decision and order whether the issues are deemed to arise out of a claim for refund or out of the protest of an assessment. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Revenue Div., Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1981-NMCA-042, 96 N.M. 117, 628 P.2d 687, cert. denied, 96 N.M. 116, 628 P.2d 686.

Untimely notice of appeal. — Where taxpayer protested an assessment of tax by the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) on gross receipts for commissions earned on the sale of implantable prosthetic devices, and where the hearing officer filed his decision and order in favor of taxpayer, finding that taxpayer's commissions were not subject to the gross receipts tax, and where the hearing officer denied the department's motion for reconsideration, which was filed fifteen days after the hearing officer's decision, and where the department filed its notice of appeal twenty-three days after denial of its motion for reconsideration and thirty-eight days after the filing of the hearing officer's decision and order, the department's appeal was untimely because this section unambiguously requires that appeals be taken within thirty days of the hearing officer's decision and order, and nothing in this section allows for the tolling of the period for filing a notice of appeal. In re Gelinis, 2020-NMCA-038, cert. denied.

II. APPEAL.

A. IN GENERAL.

Record must indicate reasoning and basis of denial of protest. — Although the commissioner (hearing officer) is not required to make formal findings of fact and conclusions of law, the record presented to the court for review must indicate his reasoning and the basis on which he denied the taxpayer's protest and in the absence of this matter must be remanded for further proceedings. Title Servs., Inc. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-014, 86 N.M. 128, 520 P.2d 284.

Meaning of "claimant" and "taxpayer". — The court of appeals had no jurisdiction over the appeal of an Indian tribe which had been denied the right to intervene in a protest brought by a construction company over assessment of gross receipts tax on receipts under a contract between the tribe and the company, despite the fact that contractual indemnity provisions would ultimately render the tribe liable to the company for any tax due; the tribe was not a "claimant," (term "claimant" no longer in statute) since no taxes had yet been paid, and was not a "taxpayer" since the taxes were assessed not to it but to the company. Mescalero Apache Tribe v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-130, 88 N.M. 525, 543 P.2d 493, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 206, 549 P.2d 284 (1976).

"Unjust enrichment". — A hearing officer acted in a manner inconsistent with the law in weighing additional equitable factors beyond those required by the doctrine of equitable recoupment, thereby undercutting the required factors, where taxpayer paid correct amount of tax but mistakenly did so as a compensating use, not gross receipts, tax. Teco Invs., Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-055, 125 N.M. 103, 957 P.2d 532.

B. ISSUE AT HEARING.

Waiver of issues. — The taxation and revenue department waived the issue whether the taxpayer failed to properly pursue its remedies under the Tax Administration Act by not raising the issue prior to appeal. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Revenue Div., Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1981-NMCA-042, 96 N.M. 117, 628 P.2d 687, cert. denied, 96 N.M. 116, 628 P.2d 686.

Issue not raised at hearing cannot be heard on appeal. — The appeal to a court of appeals from the commissioner's (hearing officer's) decision is on the record made at the hearing. If the record does not show an issue was raised at the hearing, this issue is not before the appellate court for review. Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743, 497 P.2d 745, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 740, 497 P.2d 742.

If an issue is not raised at the formal hearing, it is not an issue in the appeal. In re Ranchers-Tufco Limestone Project Joint Venture, 1983-NMCA-126, 100 N.M. 632, 674 P.2d 522, cert. denied, 100 N.M. 505, 672 P.2d 1136.

Appeal to same extent and upon same theory as hearing. — This section provides that the appeal to an appellate court is only to the same extent and upon the same theory as was asserted in the hearing. N.M. Sheriffs & Police Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-130, 85 N.M. 565, 514 P.2d 616.

A party will not be permitted to change his theory of a case on appeal, thus precluding from consideration questions or issues which were not raised at the hearing. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Revenue Div., 1981-NMCA-042, 96 N.M. 117, 628 P.2d 687, cert. denied, 96 N.M. 116, 628 P.2d 686.

Audit items not protested or issue in hearing not reviewable. — Since the appellant did not protest items included in audit and these items were not an issue at the hearing, appellant may not challenge, in the court of appeals, the sufficiency of the evidence as to receipts from these items when they were not an issue in the hearing because this section authorizes appeals to this court only to the same extent and upon the same theory as was asserted in the hearing before the commissioner (hearing officer). Archuleta v. O'Cheskey, 1972-NMCA-165, 84 N.M. 428, 504 P.2d 638.

Arguments not raised at hearing not reviewable. — The taxpayer did not raise the argument before the bureau (hearing officer) that the base figure for the gross receipts tax was not correct and therefore it need not be considered on appeal. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

III. RECORD.

Question of law not binding but inference from facts conclusive. — As all facts before the commissioner (hearing officer) and relating to both questions were stipulated, accordingly, if but one inference can reasonably be drawn from the stipulated facts, a question of law is presented and a finding of the commissioner (hearing officer) to the contrary is not binding on the reviewing court. If, however, more than one inference can reasonably be drawn, then the finding of the commissioner (hearing officer) is conclusive. Rust Tractor Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1970-NMCA-107, 82 N.M. 82, 475 P.2d 779, cert. denied, 82 N.M. 81, 475 P.2d 778; Rock v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-012, 83 N.M. 478, 493 P.2d 963.

IV. GROUNDS FOR REVERSAL.

A. ARBITRARY.

If Paragraphs (2) and (3) of Subsection D (now Subsection C) are satisfied, then Paragraph (1) satisfied. — Since the order was supported by substantial evidence and was in accordance with applicable law, it was neither arbitrary nor capricious and its entry was not an abuse of discretion. Union Cnty. Feedlot, Inc. v. Vigil, 1968-NMCA-088, 79 N.M. 684, 448 P.2d 485.

Double taxation is not necessarily arbitrary or capricious. N.M. Sheriffs & Police Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-130, 85 N.M. 565, 514 P.2d 616.

"Income". — The New Mexico taxation and revenue department's determination of the taxpayers' tax liability was not arbitrary and capricious; the taxpayers' arguments that their wages from their employment were not "income" were frivolous and without any legal support. Holt v. N.M. Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 2002-NMSC-034, 133 N.M. 11, 59 P.3d 491.

Ruling arbitrary if all evidence not considered. — Since the commissioner (hearing officer), before arriving at a decision, did not consider all of the evidence presented at the hearing but only that pertaining to the "indicia" under G.R. Regulation 12.5:1 (3.2.105.7 NMAC), the court could not say that the commissioner (hearing officer) would have reached the same conclusion had all of "the evidence presented and admitted" been considered as required by Section 7-1-24G NMSA 1978 (now Section 7-1-24(I) NMSA 1978), and therefore held the ruling reversed for arbitrariness. Eaton v. Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-114, 84 N.M. 226, 501 P.2d 670, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 219, 501 P.2d 663.

B. SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

Evidence viewed in light most favorable to director's (hearing officer's) decision.

— The duty of the court of appeals is to determine whether there is substantial evidence in the record to support the order, viewing all evidence in the light most favorable to the commissioner's (hearing officer's) decision. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

Review of evidence. — Whether previous owner sold out its business and whether plaintiff purchased that business is a question of fact and, accordingly, this court examines the facts. In doing so, it views the evidence in the light most favorable to the commissioner's (hearing officer's) decision. Sterling Title Co. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-086, 85 N.M. 279, 511 P.2d 765.

Only favorable evidence considered. — In determining whether there is substantial evidence in the record, the court considers only favorable evidence and views that evidence in a light most favorable to the commissioner's (hearing officer's) decision. Westland Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-147, 84 N.M. 327, 503 P.2d 151, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 22, 487 P.2d 1092; C & D Trailer Sales v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-151, 93 N.M. 697, 604 P.2d 835.

Director's (hearing officer's) determination conclusive if more than one inference drawn. — If more than one inference can reasonably be drawn from the evidence, then the determination made by the commissioner (hearing officer), that the books and records were inadequate, is conclusive. Waldrop v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-146, 85 N.M. 736, 516 P.2d 1119.

Conclusion must be supported by entire record. — In resolving conflicts in the evidence in support of the findings, it is not contemplated, nor is it consistent with reason, that words, phrases, clauses or sentences may be selected out of context and then combined to give support for a conclusion which is not supportable by the entire text of the testimony of the witnesses on the particular subject or subjects from which the selections are taken. McVean & Barlow, Inc. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-128, 88 N.M. 521, 543 P.2d 489, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 6, 546 P.2d 71.

Presumption of assessment's correctness overcome when no substantial evidence supports. — The assessment is presumed to be correct; the taxpayer may overcome the presumption of correctness of the assessment by presenting evidence and showing that the decision of the bureau (now department) is not supported by substantial evidence. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

Presumption not overcome when contradictory evidence presented. — Evidence that the construction contract between the taxpayer, a contracting business, and a corporation created a ceiling price was not compelling in view of the contradictory evidence as to the actual cost of the construction, and the presumption of correctness of the assessment of gross receipts tax was not overcome. Floyd & Berry Davis Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-143, 88 N.M. 576, 544 P.2d 291.

Since there was substantial evidence to support decision that the moneys paid to taxpayer were used solely for taxpayer's own obligations and purposes, and the appellate court found nothing in the record to indicate that any of the sums were used by taxpayer to pay the debts of any of the other three corporations, they were properly taxable under Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act (Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978). Westland Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-147, 84 N.M. 327, 503 P.2d 151, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 22, 487 P.2d 1092.

C. ACCORDANCE WITH LAW.

Decision not in accordance with law if record not complete. — Under Subsection D(3) (Subsection C(3)), the court will set aside a decision and order of the commissioner (hearing officer) if it is found to be not in accordance with law, and the court's review, pursuant to Subsection A, must be based upon the record. Since there was nowhere in the record any indication that the ordinance in question even existed and the court found it impossible to proceed without some knowledge of the considerations underlying the bureau's (department's) action, the case was remanded so that the record could indicate the bureau's (department's) reasoning and basis for denial of taxpayer's request. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232.

7-1-26. Disputing liabilities; claim for credit, rebate or refund.

A. A person who believes that an amount of tax has been paid by or withheld from that person in excess of that for which the person was liable, who has been denied a credit or rebate claimed or who claims a prior right to property in the possession of the department pursuant to a levy made pursuant to the authority of Sections 7-1-31 through 7-1-34 NMSA 1978 may claim a refund by directing to the secretary, within the time limitations provided by Subsections F and G of this section, a written claim for refund that, except as provided in Subsection K of this section, includes:

- (1) the taxpayer's name, address and identification number;
- (2) the type of tax for which a refund is being claimed, the credit or rebate denied or the property levied upon;
- (3) the sum of money or other property being claimed;
- (4) with respect to a refund, the period for which overpayment was made;
- (5) a brief statement of the facts and the law on which the claim is based, which may be referred to as the "basis for the refund", which may include documentation that substantiates the written claim and supports the taxpayer's basis for the refund; and
- (6) if applicable, a copy of an amended return for each tax period for which the refund is claimed.

B. A claim for refund that meets the requirements of Subsection A of this section and that is filed within the time limitations provided by Subsections F and G of this section is deemed to be properly before the department for consideration, regardless of whether the department requests additional documentation after receipt of the claim for refund.

C. If the department requests additional relevant documentation from a taxpayer who has submitted a claim for refund, the claim for refund shall not be considered incomplete provided the taxpayer submits sufficient information for the department to make a determination.

D. The secretary or the secretary's delegate may allow the claim in whole or in part or may deny the claim. If the:

- (1) claim is denied in whole or in part in writing, the person shall not refile the denied claim, but the person, within ninety days after either the mailing or delivery of the denial of all or any part of the claim, may elect to pursue only one of the remedies provided in Subsection E of this section; and
- (2) department has neither granted nor denied any portion of a complete claim for refund within one hundred eighty days after the claim was mailed or otherwise delivered to the department, the person may elect to treat the claim as denied and elect to pursue only one of the remedies provided in Subsection E of this section.

E. A person may elect to pursue only one of the remedies provided in this subsection. A person who timely pursues more than one remedy is deemed to have elected the first. The person may:

(1) direct to the secretary, pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, a written protest that sets forth:

(a) the circumstances of: 1) an alleged overpayment; 2) a denied credit; 3) a denied rebate; or 4) a denial of a prior right to property levied upon by the department;

(b) an allegation that, because of that overpayment or denial, the state is indebted to the taxpayer for a specified amount, including any allowed interest, or for the property;

(c) a demand for the refund to the taxpayer of that amount or that property;

(d) a recitation of the facts of the claim for refund; or

(2) commence a civil action in the district court for Santa Fe county by filing a complaint setting forth the circumstance of the claimed overpayment, denied credit or rebate or denial of a prior right to property levied upon by the department alleging that on account thereof the state is indebted to the plaintiff in the amount or property stated, together with any interest allowable, demanding the refund to the plaintiff of that amount or property and reciting the facts of the claim for refund. The plaintiff or the secretary may appeal from any final decision or order of the district court to the court of appeals.

F. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection G of this section, a credit or refund of any amount of overpaid tax, penalty or interest may be allowed or made to a person if a claim is properly filed:

(1) only within three years after the end of the calendar year in which the applicable event occurs:

(a) in the case of tax paid with an original or amended state return, the date the related tax was originally due;

(b) in the case of tax paid in response to an assessment by the department pursuant to Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978, the date the tax was paid;

(c) in the case of tax with respect to which a net-negative federal adjustment, as that term is used in Section 7-1-13 NMSA 1978, relates, the final determination date of that federal adjustment, as provided in Section 7-1-13 NMSA 1978;

(d) the final determination of value occurs with respect to any overpayment that resulted from a disapproval by any agency of the United States or the state of New Mexico or any court of increase in value of a product subject to taxation pursuant to the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978] or the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 33 NMSA 1978]; or

(e) in the case of a claim related to property taken by levy, the date the property was levied upon as provided in the Tax Administration Act;

(2) in the case of a denial of a claim for credit pursuant to the Investment Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9A NMSA 1978], Laboratory Partnership with Small Business Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9E NMSA 1978] or Technology Jobs and Research and Development Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9F NMSA 1978] or for the rural job tax credit provided by Section 7-2E-1.1 NMSA 1978 or similar credit, only within one year after the date of the denial;

(3) in the case of a taxpayer under audit by the department who has signed a waiver of the limitation on assessments on or after July 1, 1993 pursuant to Subsection F of Section 7-1-18 NMSA 1978, only for a refund of the same tax paid for the same period for which the waiver was given, and only until a date one year after the later of the date of the mailing of an assessment issued pursuant to the audit, the date of the mailing of final audit findings to the taxpayer or the date a proceeding is begun in court by the department with respect to the same tax and the same period;

(4) in the case of a payment of an amount of tax not made within three years of the end of the calendar year in which the original due date of the tax or date of the assessment of the department occurred, only for a claim for refund of that amount of tax and only within one year of the date on which the tax was paid; or

(5) in the case of a taxpayer who has been assessed a tax on or after July 1, 1993 pursuant to Subsection B, C or D of Section 7-1-18 NMSA 1978 and an assessment that applies to a period ending at least three years prior to the beginning of the year in which the assessment was made, only for a refund for the same tax for the period of the assessment or for any period following that period within one year of the date of the assessment unless a longer period for claiming a refund is provided in this section.

G. No credit or refund shall be allowed or made to a person claiming a refund of gasoline tax pursuant to Section 7-13-11 NMSA 1978 unless notice of the destruction of the gasoline was given to the department within thirty days of the actual destruction and the claim for refund is made within six months of the date of destruction. No credit or refund shall be allowed or made to a person claiming a refund of gasoline tax pursuant to Section 7-13-17 NMSA 1978 unless the refund is claimed within six months of the date of purchase of the gasoline and the gasoline has been used at the time the claim for refund is made.

H. If, as a result of an audit by the department or a managed audit covering multiple periods, an overpayment of tax is found in any period under the audit and if the taxpayer files a claim for refund for the overpayments identified in the audit, that overpayment may be credited against an underpayment of the same tax found in another period under audit pursuant to Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978.

I. A refund of tax paid under any tax or tax act administered pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978 may be made, at the discretion of the department, in the form of credit against future tax payments if future tax liabilities in an amount at least equal to the credit amount reasonably may be expected to become due.

J. For the purposes of this section, "oil and gas tax return" means a return reporting tax due with respect to oil, natural gas, liquid hydrocarbons, carbon dioxide, helium or nonhydrocarbon gas pursuant to the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act, the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act, the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act, the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act, the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act or the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978].

K. The filing of a fully completed original income tax return, corporate income tax return, corporate income and franchise tax return, estate tax return, special fuel excise tax return or annual insurance premium tax return that shows a balance due the taxpayer or a fully completed amended income tax return, an amended corporate income tax return, an amended corporate income and franchise tax return, an amended estate tax return, an amended special fuel excise tax return, an amended oil and gas tax return or an amended insurance premium tax return that shows a lesser tax liability than the original return constitutes the filing of a claim for refund for the difference in tax due shown on the original and amended returns.

L. In no case may a credit or refund be claimed if the related federal adjustment is taken into account by a partnership in the partnership's tax return for the adjustment year and allocated to the partners in a manner similar to other partnership tax items.

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, included "annual insurance premium tax returns" and "amended insurance premium tax returns" in an existing provision related to filing a claim for refund; and in Subsection K, after "special fuel excise tax return", added "or annual insurance premium tax return", and after "amended oil and gas tax return", added "or an amended insurance premium tax return".

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, amended sections of the tax administration act to address federal partnership audit or adjustment requests resulting in underpayment or overpayment of state taxes; in Subsection F, after "any amount", added "of overpaid tax, penalty or interest", and after "person", added "if a claim is properly filed", in Paragraph F(1), after "year in which", added "the applicable event occurs", in Subparagraph F(1)(a), deleted "the payment was originally due or the overpayment resulted from an assessment by the department as provided in Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978, whichever is later" and added "in the case of tax paid with an original or amended state return, the date the related tax was originally due", added new Subparagraphs F(1)(b) and F(1)(c) and redesignated former Subparagraphs F(1)(b) and F(1)(c) as Subparagraphs F(1)(d) and F(1)(e), respectively, in Subparagraph F(1)(e), added "in the case of a claim related to property taken by levy, the date the", deleted former Subparagraph F(1)(d); and added Subsection L.

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, clarified certain provisions related to making a claim for a tax refund on a disputed tax liability; in Subsection B, after "Subsection A of this section", deleted "shall be" and added "and that is filed within the time limitations provided by Subsections F and G of this section is", and after "receipt of the claim for refund", deleted "provided that the claim for refund is filed within the time limitations provided in Subsections F and G of this section"; in Subsection C, after "shall not be considered", deleted "complete until the taxpayer provides the requested documentation. The provisions of Paragraph (2) of Subsection D of this section and of Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978 do not apply until a refund claim is complete" and added "incomplete provided the taxpayer submits sufficient information for the department to make a determination"; in Subsection D, Paragraph D(2), after "Subsection", deleted "D" and added "E"; in Subsection F, in the introductory clause, after "a person", deleted "unless as the result of a claim made by that person as provided in this section", in Paragraph F(2), deleted "when an amount" and added "in the case", after "of a", added "denial of a", and after "similar credit", deleted "has been denied, the taxpayer may claim a refund of the credit no later than" and added "only within"; and in Subsection H, after "under the audit" added "and if the taxpayer files a claim for refund for the overpayments identified in the audit", and deleted "provided that the taxpayer files a claim for refund for the overpayments identified in the audit".

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, clarified the information required in a refund claim, clarified the time a claim for refund is deemed to be properly before the department for consideration, clarified that, if the department requests additional documentation from a taxpayer who has submitted a claim for refund, the claim for refund is not considered complete until the taxpayer provides the requested documentation, and provided that taxpayers have a right to treat a refund claim denied for purposes of protesting if the department has failed to act on the refund claim within 180 days; in Subsection A, in the introductory paragraph, after "Subsections", changed "D" to "F", and "E" to "G", added "At the time the written claim is submitted", after "Subsection", changed "I" to "K", in Paragraph A(5), added "which shall include documentation that substantiates the written claim and supports the taxpayer's basis for the refund", and added Paragraph A(6); added new Subsections B and C and redesignated former Subsections B through I as Subsections D through K, respectively; in Subsection D, added "If the", in Paragraph D(1), deleted "If the", after "Subsection", changed "C" to "E", in Paragraph D(2), deleted "If the", after "any portion of a", added "complete", and after "one hundred", deleted "twenty days of the date the claim was mailed or delivered to the department, the person may refile it within the time limits set forth in Subsection D of this section or may within ninety days elect to pursue one, but only one, of the remedies in Subsection C of this section. After the expiration of the two hundred ten days from the date the claim was mailed or delivered to the department, the department may not approve or disapprove the claim unless the person has pursued one of the remedies under Subsection C of this section" and added the remainder of the paragraph; and in Subsection F, in the introductory clause, after "Subsection", changed "E" to "G", and in Paragraph F(2), after "Technology Jobs", added "and Research and Development".

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided for the required contents of a written protest of tax liability; in Subsection A, deleted "Any" and added "A"; in Subsection C, after "elect to pursue", deleted "one, but only" and added "no more than", after "subsection", deleted "In any case, if", after "A person", deleted "does timely pursue" and added "who timely pursues", after "one remedy", deleted "the person", and after "The", deleted "remedies are as follows:", deleted the paragraph designation for Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, after "(1)" in former Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, deleted "the", and after "person may" in former Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, designated the remainder of former Paragraph (1) of Subsection C as new Paragraph (1) of Subsection C; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, after "written protest", deleted "against the denial of, or failure to either allow or deny, the claim or portion of the claim" and added "that shall set forth:"; added Paragraphs (1)(a), (b), (c) and (d) of Subsection C; and in Subsection C, Paragraph (2), after "(2)", deleted "the person may".

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, prescribed the content of a refund claim; in the title, added "Disputing liabilities" and after "claim for", added "credit, rebate or"; in Subsection A, in the first sentence, after "Subsections D", changed "E and F" to "and E"; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, after "refund is being claimed", added "the credit or rebate denied or the property levied upon"; in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A, after "sum of money", added "or other property"; in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A, at the beginning of the sentence, added "with respect to refund" and after "overpayment was made; and", deleted "the basis for the refund. As used in this subsection, 'basis for the refund' means"; in Paragraph (5) of Subsection A, after "claim is based", added "which may be referred to as the 'basis for the refund'"; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, after "direct to the secretary", added "pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978", and after "deny the claim or portion", deleted language which provided for a hearing and appeal and added "of the claim"; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection C, in the first sentence, after "claimed overpayment", added "denied credit or rebate or denial of a prior right to property levied upon by the department", after "plaintiff in the amount", added "or property" and after "plaintiff of that amount", added "or property"; in Subsection D, in the first sentence, after "Except as otherwise provided in", changed "Subsections E and F" to "Subsection E"; added Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection D; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection D, after "rural job tax credit pursuant to", deleted "Sections 7-2E-1 and 7-2E-2" and added "Section 7-2E-1.1"; and deleted former Subsection F which provided for a credit or refund, with interest, when the adjustment of federal tax results in an overpayment of tax.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, eliminated the one-year limitation to claim a credit under the Capital Equipment Tax Credit Act and eliminated returns reporting taxes due with respect to helium and nonhydrocarbon gas from the definition of "oil and gas tax return".

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, added "As used in this subsection, 'basis for the refund' means a brief statement of the facts and the law on which the claim is based" following "basis for the refund." at the end of Subsection A.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, rewrote Subsection D, added Subsection G and redesignated the remaining subsections accordingly.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, in Subsection B, inserted the paragraph designations (1) and (2), substituted "no claim may be refiled with respect to that which was denied, but the person" for "the claim may not be refiled. If the claim is not granted in full the person" in Paragraph (1); added the last sentence to Paragraph (2); redesignated part of former Subsection B as present Subsection C, adding the first sentence and redesignating the subsequent subsections; in Subsection D, deleted "the payment was made" following "due" in Paragraph (1)(a); substituted "or Capital Equipment Tax Credit Act or the rural job tax credit pursuant to Sections 7-2E-1 and 7-2E-2 NMSA 1978" for "or Filmmaker's Credit Act" in Paragraph (2)(a) and added Paragraph (2)(d); and substituted "Section 7-13-17" for "Section 7-13-14" in Subsection E.

The 1999 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, inserted "the payment was made" in Subsection C(1)(a).

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, redesignated the second paragraph of Subsection A as Subsection B, inserted "or delivery" following "mailing" in the second sentence, inserted "the department may not approve or deny the claim but" preceding "the person may refile" in the third sentence; and redesignated former Subsections B through G as C through H and made related stylistic changes.

The 1996 amendment, effective July 1, 1996, rewrote the second sentence of Subsection A, added Subparagraph B(2)(a) and designated the existing provisions of Paragraph B(2) as Subparagraphs B(2)(b) and (c).

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, substituted the exception clause at the end of the second sentence in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A for the former proviso clause, relating to the same subject matter; substituted "person" for "taxpayer" in the next-to-last sentence in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A, in Paragraph A(1) and in both sentences in Paragraph A(2), and "July 1, 1993" for "the effective date of this act" in Paragraph B(3); and added Subsection G.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, rewrote this section to the extent that a detailed comparison would be impracticable.

Defining a pending case. — A taxpayer's request for a tax refund is a "pending case" within the meaning of N.M. Const., art. IV, § 34. Phelps Dodge Corp. v. Revenue Div., N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1985-NMCA-055, 103 N.M. 20, 702 P.2d 10.

Tax protestor can avoid hearing process altogether by electing to pay the tax assessed and filing a refund claim with the district court. Kmart Props., Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2006-NMCA-026, 139 N.M. 177, 131 P.3d 27, rev'd on other grounds, 2006-NMSC-006, 139 N.M. 172, 131 P.3d 22.

Disputing the denial of an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit. — Where taxpayer submitted an application for a high-wage jobs tax credit, which was denied by the Department of Taxation and Revenue (Department), and where taxpayer did not file a written protest to the department's denial of its credit application, pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but rather filed an application for refund pursuant to 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, based on its original credit application, which was also denied by the department, and where taxpayer filed a written protest to the denial of its refund application, and where, following multiple hearings before the administrative hearing officer, the department filed a motion for summary judgment, and where the administrative hearing officer granted the department's motion, concluding that the only available remedy for a denial of an application for a tax credit was to file a protest within ninety days of the denial pursuant to 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, and that taxpayer's failure to file such a protest rendered the department's denial indisputable, the administrative hearing officer erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment and denying taxpayer's protest, because neither the applicable statutes nor the department's own guidance suggest that a taxpayer's sole remedy to dispute the denial of a high-wage jobs tax credit is through the protest procedures provided in 7-1-24 NMSA 1978. The plain language of both 7-1-24 and 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, indicates that the two statutes exist as alternatives and a taxpayer may dispute a denial of a tax credit under either statute. Elite Well v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-041.

It was mandatory that taxpayers follow administrative procedures of this section before questioning in court the constitutionality of the tax at issue, and district court correctly determined that it lacked jurisdiction because of the failure to timely appeal. Neff v. State ex rel. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-116, 116 N.M. 240, 861 P.2d 281.

Tax Administration Act requires exhaustion of remedies for each denial of a given credit. — Where plaintiff taxpayers (taxpayers) twice challenged the New Mexico taxation and revenue department's (department) denial of applications for high wage jobs tax credits, authorized by § 7-9G-1 NMSA 1978, once in 2015 and again in 2016, and where taxpayers elected to dispute the denial of the 2015 credits by filing a written protest to be heard by the department's administrative hearing officer (AHO), pursuant to § 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but elected to protest the denial of the 2016 credits by claiming a refund from the department for the credit denied, pursuant to § 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, and where the department filed a motion for summary judgment, claiming that when a taxpayer pursues successive denials of tax credits raising a common issue, the taxpayer must have the issue resolved in the forum where it was initially raised or is otherwise bound by their choice of remedy for the original denial, the district court erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, because the Tax Administration Act, §§ 7-1-1 to 7-1-83 NMSA 1978, requires only that a taxpayer denied a given credit exhaust their remedy for that denied credit before seeking relief from the courts. Taxpayers were not required to pursue the same remedy for the denial of the 2016 credits as they pursued for the denial of the 2015 credits; the act requires only that a taxpayer exhaust whatever remedy it has chosen to challenge the denial of a given credit. Weatherford Artificial Lift Systems v. Clarke, 2021-NMCA-065.

District court erred in invoking primary jurisdiction. — Where plaintiff taxpayers (taxpayers) twice challenged the New Mexico taxation and revenue department's (department) denial of applications for high wage jobs tax credits, authorized by § 7-9G-1 NMSA 1978, once in 2015 and again in 2016, and where taxpayers elected to dispute the denial of the 2015 credits by filing a written protest to be heard by the department's administrative hearing officer (AHO), pursuant to § 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but elected to protest the denial of the 2016 credits by claiming a refund from the department for the credit denied, pursuant to § 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, and where the department filed a motion for summary judgment, claiming that when a taxpayer pursues successive denials of tax credits raising a common issue, the taxpayer must have the issue resolved in the forum where it was initially raised or is otherwise bound by their choice of remedy for the original denial, the district court erred in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, invoking the doctrine of primary jurisdiction, because in this case, taxpayers exhausted their administrative remedies as to the 2016 credits, thereby depriving the AHO of jurisdiction, the department failed to explain why resolution of specific, factual issues raised in the 2016 credits require the peculiar expertise of the AHO, and the remedy requested by the department, entry of judgment in its favor, is not one available under the doctrine of primary jurisdiction. Weatherford Artificial Lift Systems v. Clarke, 2021-NMCA-065.

Section provides adequate remedy at law. — Taxpayers have standing under this section to contest the constitutionality of New Mexico taxes assessed against them; thus, under the rule of National Private Truck Council v. Oklahoma Tax Commission, 515 U.S. 582, 115 S. Ct. 2351, 132 L. Ed. 2d 509 (1995), a § 1983 action for injunctive or declaratory relief cannot lie with respect to imposition of a state tax, because taxpayers have been provided an adequate remedy at law. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1999-NMCA-050, 127 N.M. 101, 977 P.2d 1021, cert. denied, 127 N.M. 389, 981 P.2d 1207.

Secretary decides actions on refund claims. — Secretary of the taxation and revenue department has discretion to act or refuse to act on refund claims under Sections 7-1-26A and 7-1-29A NMSA 1978. Unisys Corp. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-059, 117 N.M. 609, 874 P.2d 1273.

Purpose of time deadline in this section is to avoid stale claims, which protects the department's ability to stabilize and predict, with some degree of certainty, the funds it collects and manages. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

Burden of maintaining active claim. — The time deadline in this section places the burden of maintaining an active claim on the taxpayer and department does not have implied authority to allow claim after 210 days. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

Strictness of time requirement. — The legislature has stated a definite requirement that it was incumbent upon taxpayers to act within the 210-day window in this section. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

Running of statutory period. — The statutory period to pursue a remedy under 7-1-26(B)(1) NMSA 1978 begins from the delivery of a notice of denial of refund when the taxation and revenue department mails rather than hand delivers the notice. Schneider Nat'l, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2006-NMCA-128, 140 N.M. 561, 144 P.3d 120.

Letter does not start time running. — Because this section prohibited the department from approving or denying the claim for refund, a letter stating that essential conclusion does not start the time running again. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

Time limitation not denial of plain and speedy remedy. — Fact that this section limits claims for refund to periods three years from the end of the calendar year in which payment of the New Mexico income tax was due did not deny plaintiffs a plain, speedy and efficient remedy under New Mexico law so as to invoke federal jurisdiction in tax refund case. Lung v. O'Cheskey, 358 F. Supp. 928 (D.N.M.), aff'd, 414 U.S. 802, 94 S. Ct. 159, 38 L. Ed. 2d 39 (1973).

Enactment of limitation not impermissible exercise of state's legislative power. — The enactment of a statute fixing a period of limitations within which to sue the state for a refund does not constitute an impermissible exercise of legislative power of a state. When a statute creates a substantive right and in connection therewith specifies the time within which an action for the enforcement thereof must be instituted, upon failure to institute the action within the specified period, not only the remedy, but the right of action itself, is extinguished. United States v. Bureau of Revenue, 217 F. Supp. 849 (D.N.M. 1963).

Failure to institute action constitutes waiver of protest. — Failure of the atomic energy commission, which had become subrogated to the rights of certain uranium producers to protest the imposition of certain taxes on the proceeds of the uranium sold to it, to bring suit within four months constituted a waiver of the protest and of all claims against the state on account of any illegality in the tax so paid, since the statute created the substantive right to sue the state for a refund and fixed the time within which suit for the enforcement of the right must be instituted. U.S. v. Bureau of Revenue, 217 F. Supp. 849 (D.N.M. 1963).

Estoppel. — Where the department did not make any written representations during the 210-day period about how taxpayers should proceed, and department representative's statements merely informed parties' accountant to wait to see the manner in which the department would decide the issue, such a generic, oral representation does not provide a basis for estoppel. Kilmer v. Goodwin, 2004-NMCA-122, 136 N.M. 440, 99 P.3d 690.

No offset of overpayment against prior liability. — No statute expressly authorizes the taxation and revenue department to apply overpayments of taxes for one reporting period as offsets against underpayments for another prior reporting period. In fact, the legislature has granted the department only the specific authority to credit refunds or overpayments of gas production taxes against future tax payments. The department complied with this provision by allowing taxpayer to net out its overpayment against current tax liabilities on the estimated tax term form when taxpayer filed its amended form reporting an overpayment of taxes for a prior reporting period. Amoco Prod. Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-086, 118 N.M. 72, 878 P.2d 1021.

Section not applicable to real property taxes. — Refund procedures of this section are not applicable to real property taxes. Lovelace Ctr. for Health Sciences v. Beach, 1980-NMCA-004, 93 N.M. 793, 606 P.2d 203.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1997, ch. 67, § 10 repealed 7-1-26.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 23, providing limitation on claims for refund based on net operating losses, effective July 1, 1997. For provisions of former section, see the 1996 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-27. Conclusiveness of court order on liability for payment of tax.

Whenever the jurisdiction of the district court of Santa Fe county or the court of appeals is invoked according to the provisions of Section 7-1-25, 7-1-26 or 7-1-59 NMSA 1978, or whenever the jurisdiction of any federal court is invoked or whenever the jurisdiction of any district court of this state is invoked according to the provisions of Section 7-1-58 NMSA 1978, a final decision of that court or of any higher court which reviews the matter and from which decision no appeal or review is successfully taken is conclusive as regards the liability or nonliability of any person for payment of any tax.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-41, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 29; 1966, ch. 30, § 5; 1999, ch. 84, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1999 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, updated statutory references.

7-1-28. Authority for abatements of assessments of tax.

A. In response to a written protest against an assessment, submitted in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, but before any court acquires jurisdiction of the matter, or when a "notice of assessment of taxes" is incorrect, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may abate any part of an assessment determined by the secretary or the secretary's delegate to have been incorrectly, erroneously or illegally made. An abatement in the amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or more shall be made with the prior approval of the attorney general; except that the secretary or the secretary's delegate may make abatements with respect to the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978], the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 33 NMSA 1978] or the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978], abatements of gasoline tax made under Section 7-13-17 NMSA 1978 and abatements of cigarette tax made under the Cigarette Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 12 NMSA 1978] without the prior approval of the attorney general regardless of the amount.

B. Pursuant to the final order of the district court, the court of appeals, the supreme court of New Mexico or any federal court, from which order, appeal or review is not successfully taken by the department, adjudging that any person is not required to pay any portion of tax assessed to that person, the secretary or the secretary's delegate shall cause that amount of the assessment to be abated.

C. Pursuant to a compromise of taxes agreed to by the secretary and according to the terms of the closing agreement formalizing the compromise, the secretary or the secretary's delegate shall cause the abatement of the appropriate amount of any assessment of tax.

D. The secretary or the secretary's delegate shall cause the abatement of the amount of an assessment of tax that is equal to the amount of fee paid to or retained by an out-of-state attorney or collection agency from a judgment or the amount collected by the attorney or collection agency pursuant to Section 7-1-58 NMSA 1978.

E. Records of abatements made in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) shall be available for inspection by the public. The department shall keep such records for a minimum of three years from the date of the abatement.

F. In response to a timely protest pursuant to Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 of an assessment by the department and notwithstanding any other provision of the Tax Administration Act, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may abate that portion of an assessment of tax, including applicable penalties and interest, representing the amount of tax previously paid by another person on behalf of the taxpayer on the same transaction; provided that the requirements of equitable recoupment are met. For purposes of this subsection, the protest pursuant to Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 of the department's assessment may be made by the taxpayer to whom the assessment was issued or by the other person who claims to have previously paid the tax on behalf of the taxpayer.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-42, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 30; 1966, ch. 30, § 6; 1971, ch. 32, § 1; 1975, ch. 116, § 2; 1977, ch. 297, § 1; 1979, ch. 144, § 26; 1986, ch. 20, § 18; 1996, ch. 15, § 5; 2000, ch. 28, § 10; 2003, ch. 439, § 3; 2013, ch. 27, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required the attorney general to approve only abatements of twenty thousand dollars or more; provided for abatement of tax that was paid by a person on behalf of the taxpayer; in Subsection A, in the first sentence, after "the secretary's delegate", deleted "with prior written approval of the attorney general" and added the second sentence; deleted former Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, which required attorney general approval of abatements under the General Income and Franchise Tax Act of amounts of twenty thousand dollars or more; deleted former Paragraph (3) of Subsection A, which required attorney general approval of abatements of ten thousand dollars or more; in Subsection B, after "district court", deleted "for Santa Fe county"; and added Subsection F.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, increased the dollar amount in Paragraph A(3) and Subsection E from $5,000 to $10,000.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A, inserted "prior" preceding "written approval" and deleted "Notwithstanding the above, abatements of assessments incorrectly, erroneously or illegally made to one person amounting to less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) in one calendar year may be made without the prior written approval of the attorney general" preceding "except that"; substituted "Section 7-13-17" for "Sections 7-13-13 through 7-13-15" in Subsection A(1); added Subsection A(3); and deleted "or assessments" preceding "of tax" in Subsection C.

The 1996 amendment, effective July 1, 1996, added "except that:" at the end of the introductory paragraph of Subsection A and made related changes in that subsection, added Paragraphs A(1) and (2), substituted "five thousand dollars ($5,000)" for "one thousand dollars ($1,000)" in Subsection E, and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection D.

7-1-29. Authority to make refunds or credits.

A. In response to a claim for refund, credit or rebate made as provided in Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, but before a court acquires jurisdiction of the matter, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may authorize payment to a person in the amount of the credit or rebate claimed or refund an overpayment of tax determined by the secretary or the secretary's delegate to have been erroneously made by the person, together with allowable interest. A payment of a credit rebate claimed or a refund of tax and interest erroneously paid amounting to twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or more shall be made with the prior approval of the attorney general, except that the secretary or the secretary's delegate may make refunds with respect to the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978], the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 33 NMSA 1978] or the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978], Section 7-13-17 NMSA 1978 and the Cigarette Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 12 NMSA 1978] without the prior approval of the attorney general regardless of the amount.

B. Pursuant to the final order of the district court, the court of appeals, the supreme court of New Mexico or a federal court, from which order, appeal or review is not successfully taken, adjudging that a person has properly claimed a credit, rebate or a refund of overpaid tax, the secretary shall authorize the payment to the person of the amount thereof. After a court acquires jurisdiction but before it issues a final order, the secretary may authorize payment of a credit, rebate or refund pursuant to a closing agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-20 NMSA 1978.

C. In the discretion of the secretary, any amount of credit or rebate to be paid or tax to be refunded may be offset against any amount of tax for which the person due to receive the credit, rebate payment or refund is liable. The secretary or the secretary's delegate shall give notice to the taxpayer that the credit, rebate payment or refund will be made in this manner, and the taxpayer shall be entitled to interest pursuant to Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978 until the tax liability is credited with the credit, rebate or refund amount.

D. In an audit by the department or a managed audit covering multiple reporting periods in which both underpayments and overpayments of a tax have been made in different reporting periods, the department shall credit the tax overpayments against the underpayments; provided that the taxpayer files a claim for refund of the overpayments. An overpayment shall be applied as a credit first to the earliest underpayment and then to succeeding underpayments. An underpayment of tax to which an overpayment is credited pursuant to this section shall be deemed paid in the period in which the overpayment was made or the period to which the overpayment was credited against an underpayment, whichever is later. If the overpayments credited pursuant to this section exceed the underpayments of a tax, the amount of the net overpayment for the periods covered in the audit shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

E. When a taxpayer makes a payment identified to a particular return or assessment, and the department determines that the payment exceeds the amount due pursuant to that return or assessment, the secretary may apply the excess to the taxpayer's other liabilities pursuant to the tax acts to which the return or assessment applies, without requiring the taxpayer to file a claim for a refund. The liability to which an overpayment is applied pursuant to this section shall be deemed paid in the period in which the overpayment was made or the period to which the overpayment was applied, whichever is later.

F. If the department determines, upon review of an original or amended income tax return, corporate income and franchise tax return, estate tax return, special fuels excise tax return or oil and gas tax return, that there has been an overpayment of tax for the taxable period to which the return or amended return relates in excess of the amount due to be refunded to the taxpayer pursuant to the provisions of Subsection K of Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, the department may refund that excess amount to the taxpayer without requiring the taxpayer to file a refund claim.

G. Records of refunds and credits made in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) shall be available for inspection by the public. The department shall keep such records for a minimum of three years from the date of the refund or credit.

H. In response to a timely refund claim pursuant to Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978 and notwithstanding any other provision of the Tax Administration Act, the secretary or the secretary's delegate may refund or credit a portion of an assessment of tax paid, including applicable penalties and interest representing the amount of tax previously paid by another person on behalf of the taxpayer on the same transaction; provided that the requirements of equitable recoupment are met. For purposes of this subsection, the refund claim may be filed by the taxpayer to whom the assessment was issued or by another person who claims to have previously paid the tax on behalf of the taxpayer. Prior to granting the refund or credit, the secretary may require a waiver of all rights to claim a refund or credit of the tax previously paid by another person paying a tax on behalf of the taxpayer.

I. If, as a result of an audit by the department or a managed audit, a person is determined to owe gross receipts tax on receipts from the sale of property or services, the department may credit against the amount owed an amount of compensating tax paid by the purchaser if the person can demonstrate that the purchaser timely paid the compensating tax on the same property or services. The credit provided by this subsection shall not be denied solely because the purchaser cannot timely file for a refund of the compensating tax paid and, if the credit is to be granted, the department shall require, for the purpose of granting the credit, that the purchaser give up any right to claim a refund of that tax.

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, in Subsection A, after "the amount of the", deleted "creditor" and added "credit"; and in Subsection F, after "Subsection", changed "I" to "K".

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, increased the maximum amount of a refund or a credit that requires attorney general approval; provided for abatement of tax that was paid by a person on behalf of the taxpayer; in Subsection A, in the first sentence, after "claim for refund", added "credit or rebate", after "in the amount of", added "the creditor or rebate claimed or refund", and in the second sentence, after "A", added "payment of a credit rebate claimed or a", after "erroneously paid amounting to", deleted "more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) may" and added "twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or more shall"; deleted former Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, which required attorney general approval of abatements under the General Income and Franchise Tax Act of amounts of twenty thousand dollars or more; in Subsection B, after "adjudging that a person has" added "properly claimed a credit or rebate or"; in Subsection C, in the first sentence, after "any amount of", added "credit or rebate to be paid or" and after "due to receive the", added "credit, rebate payment or", and in the second sentence, after "notice to the taxpayer that the", added "credit, rebate payment or" and after "liability is credited with the", added "credit, rebate or"; and added Subsection H.

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, provided in Subsection C that the secretary shall give notice to a taxpayer that a refund will be made and that the taxpayer is entitled to interest and provides in Subsection G that records of refunds and credits in excess of $10,000 shall be available for public inspection.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, added Subsection E and F and redesignated Subsection E as G.

The 2002 amendment, effective July 1, 2002, substituted "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)" for "five thousand dollars ($5,000)" in Subsections A and E.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, updated the internal reference in Paragraph A(1); added Subsection D and redesignated the remaining subsection accordingly.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, in Subsection A, substituted "Any refund" for "Refunds" and deleted "during any one calendar year" following "($5,000)" in the second sentence, inserted the colon and Paragraph (1) designation, and added Paragraph (2); and substituted "five thousand dollars ($5,000)" for "one thousand dollars ($1,000)" in the first sentence of Subsection D.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A, in the first sentence, substituted "secretary or the secretary's delegate" for "director or his delegate" in two places, deleted "with the written approval of the attorney general" preceding "authorize the refund", in the second sentence, deleted "Notwithstanding the above" from the beginning, substituted "more than five thousand dollars" for "less than five thousand dollars", "only with the prior approval" for "without the prior approval" and "through 7-13-15 NMSA 1978" for "through 7-13-16 NMSA 1978" and inserted the language beginning with "except that" and ending with "Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act"; in Subsections B and C, substituted "the secretary" for "the director or his delegate"; in Subsection D, substituted "department" for "division" in the second sentence; and made minor stylistic changes.

Secretary decides actions on refund claims. — Secretary of the taxation and revenue department has discretion to act or refuse to act on refund claims under Sections 7-1-26A and 7-1-29A NMSA 1978. Unisys Corp. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-059, 117 N.M. 609, 874 P.2d 1273.

Director (secretary) was within his discretion in applying amount wrongfully paid to the amount he determined to be owing. G.M. Shupe, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-040, 89 N.M. 265, 550 P.2d 277, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 321, 551 P.2d 1368.

No offset of overpayment against prior liability. — No statute expressly authorizes the taxation and revenue department to apply overpayments of taxes for one reporting period as offsets against underpayments for another prior reporting period. In fact, the legislature has granted the department only the specific authority to credit refunds or overpayments of gas production taxes against future tax payments. The department complied with this provision by allowing taxpayer to net out its overpayment against current tax liabilities on the estimated tax term form when taxpayer filed its amended form reporting an overpayment of taxes for a prior reporting period. Amoco Prod. Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-086, 118 N.M. 72, 878 P.2d 1021.

Calculating interest on underpayment. — Interest on underpayment of taxes is calculated without regard to receipt by the taxation and revenue department of any overpayment of taxes. The department, once a claim for refund is made, is authorized only to allow a taxpayer claiming a refund for overpayment of gas production taxes to credit the refund against current or future tax liabilities. *Amoco Prod. 7-1-29.1. Awarding of costs and fees.

A. In an administrative proceeding or court proceeding brought by or against a taxpayer and conducted in connection with the determination, collection or refund of a tax or the interest or penalty for a tax governed by the Tax Administration Act, the taxpayer shall be awarded a judgment or a settlement for reasonable administrative costs and reasonable litigation costs and attorney fees incurred in connection with the proceeding if the taxpayer is the prevailing party.

B. As used in this section:

(1) "administrative proceeding" means any procedure or other action before the department or the administrative hearings office;

(2) "court proceeding" means any civil action brought in state district court;

(3) "reasonable administrative costs" means:

(a) any administrative fees or similar charges imposed by the department or the administrative hearings office; and

(b) actual charges for: 1) filing fees, court reporter fees, service of process fees and similar expenses; 2) the services of expert witnesses; 3) any study, analysis, report, test or project reasonably necessary for the preparation of the party's case; and 4) fees and costs paid or incurred for the services in connection with the proceeding of attorneys, certified public accountants, employees of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm or enrolled agents who are authorized to practice in the context of an administrative proceeding; and

(4) "reasonable litigation costs and attorney fees" means:

(a) reasonable court costs; and

(b) actual charges for: 1) filing fees, court reporter fees, service of process fees and similar expenses; 2) the services of expert witnesses; 3) any study, analysis, report, test or project reasonably necessary for the preparation of the party's case; and 4) fees and costs paid or incurred for the services of attorneys in connection with the proceeding.

C. For purposes of this section:

(1) the taxpayer is the prevailing party if the taxpayer has:

(a) substantially prevailed with respect to the amount in controversy; or

(b) substantially prevailed with respect to most of the issues involved in the case or the most significant issue or set of issues involved in the case;

(2) the taxpayer is not the prevailing party if the administrative hearings office finds that the position of the department in the proceeding was based upon a reasonable application of the law to the facts of the case. For purposes of this paragraph, the position of the department shall be presumed not to be based upon a reasonable application of the law to the facts of the case if:

(a) the department did not follow applicable published guidance in the proceeding; or

(b) the assessment giving rise to the proceeding is not supported by substantial evidence determined at the time of the issuance of the assessment;

(3) as used in Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (2) of this subsection, "applicable published guidance" means:

(a) department or administrative hearings office regulations, information releases, instructions, notices, technical advice memoranda and announcements; and

(b) private letter rulings and letters issued by the department to the taxpayer; and

(4) the determination of whether the taxpayer is the prevailing party and the amount of reasonable litigation costs or reasonable administrative costs shall be made by agreement of the parties or:

(a) in the case of an administrative proceeding, by the hearing officer; or

(b) in the case of a court proceeding, by the court.

D. An order granting or denying in whole or in part an award for:

(1) reasonable litigation costs and attorney fees pursuant to Subsection A of this section in a court proceeding may be incorporated as a part of the court's decision or judgment and are subject to appeal in the same manner as the decision or judgment; and

(2) reasonable administrative costs pursuant to Subsection A of this section in an administrative proceeding are reviewable in the same manner as a decision of the administrative hearings office.

E. An agreement for or award of reasonable administrative costs or reasonable litigation costs in any administrative proceeding or court proceeding pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall not exceed the lesser of twenty percent of the amount of the settlement or judgment or seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).

F. The department shall annually report to the legislative finance committee and the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee on the costs it incurs pursuant to this section.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, added additional costs and fees that a taxpayer may be awarded if the taxpayer is the prevailing party in a tax dispute, increased the limit on the amount of administrative costs or litigation costs that may be awarded, and required the taxation and revenue department to make annual reports to the legislative finance committee and the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee on the costs it incurs pursuant to this section; in Subsection A, after "against a taxpayer", deleted "on or after July 1, 2003" and added "and conducted", after "reasonable administrative costs", added "and reasonable litigation costs and attorney fees", and after "in connection with the proceedings", deleted "with the department or the administrative hearing office or reasonable litigation costs incurred in connection with a court proceeding"; in Subsection B, Subparagraph B(3)(b), after "with the proceeding of attorneys", deleted "or of certified public accountants" and added "certified public accountants, employees of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm or enrolled agents", and in Paragraph B(4), after "litigation costs", added "and attorney fees"; in Subsection C, Paragraph C(2), after "prevailing party if", deleted "prior to July 1, 2015, the department establishes or, on or after July 1, 2015", after the next occurrence of "the", deleted "hearing officer" and added "administrative hearings office", in Subparagraph C(4)(a), after "in the case", deleted "where the final determination with respect to the tax, interest or penalty is made in" and added "of", in Subparagraph C(4)(b), after "in the case", deleted "where the final determination is made by the" and added "of a", and after "court", added "proceeding, by"; in Subsection D, Paragraph D(1), after "reasonable litigation costs", added "and attorney fees", and after "decision or judgment", deleted "A decision or order granting or denying in whole or in part an award for", in Paragraph D(2), after "this section", deleted "by a hearing officer shall be" and added "in an administrative proceeding are", and after "manner as a decision of", deleted "hearing officer" and added "the administrative hearings office"; in Subsection E, deleted "fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). A taxpayer awarded administrative litigation costs pursuant to this section may not receive an award of attorney fees pursuant to Subsection D of Section 7-1-25 NMSA 1978" and added "seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000)."; and added Subsection F.

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, amended the Tax Administration Act to include the administrative hearings office in provisions related to awarding administrative costs and fees; in Subsection A, after "proceeding with the department", added "or the administrative hearings office"; in Subsection B, Paragraph (1), after "department", added "or the administrative hearings office"; in Subsection B, Paragraph (3)(a), after "department", added "or the administrative hearings office"; in Subsection B, Paragraph (3)(b), after "authorized to practice", deleted "before the department" and added "in the context of an administrative proceeding"; in Subsection C, Paragraph (1)(a), after "amount", added "in"; in Subsection C, Paragraph (2), after "prevailing party if," added "prior to July 1, 2015", after "establishes", added "or, on or after July 1, 2015, the hearing officer finds"; in Subsection C, Paragraph (3)(a), after "department", added "or administrative hearings office"; in Subsection C, Paragraph (4)(a), after "proceeding, by the", deleted "department"; and in Subsection D, after "this section by", deleted "the department" and added "a", and after "decision of", deleted "the department" and added "a".

Prevailing taxpayer entitled to an award of fees and costs. — If a taxpayer is the prevailing party in any administrative proceeding brought by or against a taxpayer, the taxpayer is entitled to an award of reasonable administrative costs. Helmerich Payne Int'l Drilling Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2019-NMCA-054.

Abatement of tax assessment does not deprive the administrative hearings office of jurisdiction. — Where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) audited and assessed nearly $500,000 in tax, penalty and interest against taxpayer, and where the department, after taxpayer filed a formal protest which included a request for an award of fees and costs, abated the entire assessment without explanation, the department did not deprive the administrative hearings office (AHO) of jurisdiction by abating the assessment, and the AHO's assertion of jurisdiction to resolve the prevailing-party issue was proper. Helmerich Payne Int'l Drilling Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2019-NMCA-054.

Prevailing party. — Where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) audited and assessed nearly $500,000 in tax, penalty and interest against taxpayer, and where the department, after taxpayer filed a formal protest which included a request for an award of fees and costs, abated the entire assessment without explanation, the administrative hearings office did not abuse its discretion in designating taxpayer the prevailing party, thereby entitling taxpayer to an award of costs and fees, where taxpayer prevailed as to the entire amount in controversy when the assessment was abated and where the department failed to respond to taxpayer's motion for summary judgment, failed to respond to taxpayer's renewed request for an award after the abatement, failed to file a written argument on the prevailing-party issue, and failed to present testimony or evidence at the prevailing-party hearing. Helmerich Payne Int'l Drilling Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2019-NMCA-054.

Successor business not entitled to attorney fees. — Where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department assessed appellant, an automobile repossession business, as a successor in business to, and a mere continuation of, a defunct corporation that was also in the business of automobile repossessions, for unpaid gross receipts taxes, and where appellant protested the assessment, claiming that it was not a successor in business to the defunct corporation, and where the administrative hearing officer determined that appellant was a successor in business, as well as a mere continuation, of the defunct corporation, appellant was not entitled to attorney fees, because appellant was not the prevailing party. High Desert Recovery v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2022-NMCA-048, cert. denied.

7-1-29.2. Credit claims.

A. A taxpayer who submits a complete application for a tax credit is deemed to have received approval of the application if the application has not been granted or denied within one hundred twenty days of the date it was filed. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the department from auditing taxes paid or from assessing taxes owed, including any tax resulting from tax credits found not to be valid.

B. A taxpayer who believes that the taxpayer is eligible to receive a tax credit may apply for approval of the credit by directing to the secretary a complete application on the form and in the manner prescribed by the department.

C. An application for a tax credit that has all fields completed, includes all attachments required by the application instructions and is submitted in accordance with the application instructions is deemed to be properly before the department for consideration, regardless of whether the department requests additional documentation after receipt of the application for credit.

D. If the department requests additional relevant documentation from a taxpayer who has submitted an incomplete application for a tax credit, the application shall be considered complete on the date that the taxpayer mails or delivers sufficient information for the department to consider the application.

E. The secretary or the secretary's delegate may approve or deny an application for a tax credit in whole or in part. An approval or denial by the secretary or the secretary's delegate shall be in writing. If the application is denied in whole or in part, the taxpayer shall not refile the denied application, but the taxpayer, within one hundred twenty days after the mailing or delivery of the denial of all or any part of the application, may elect to pursue only one of the remedies provided in this subsection. A taxpayer who timely pursues more than one remedy is deemed to have elected the first remedy requested. The taxpayer may:

(1) direct to the secretary, pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, a written protest that sets forth:

(a) the circumstances of the denied application for a tax credit;

(b) an allegation that, because of the denial, the state is indebted to the taxpayer for a specified amount, including any allowed interest;

(c) a demand for the approval of the application for the tax credit of the specified amount; and

(d) a recitation of the facts supporting the application for the tax credit; or

(2) commence a civil action in the district court for Santa Fe county by filing a complaint setting forth the circumstance of the denied application for the tax credit; alleging that on account of the denial, the state is indebted to the taxpayer for a specified amount, together with any interest allowable; demanding approval of the application for the tax credit of that amount; and reciting the facts of the application for the tax credit. The taxpayer or the secretary may appeal from any final decision or order of the district court to the court of appeals.

7-1-31. Seizure of property by levy for collection of taxes.

A. The secretary or secretary's delegate may proceed to collect tax from a delinquent taxpayer by levy upon all property or rights to property of the delinquent taxpayer and convert the property or rights to property to money by appropriate means.

B. A levy is made by taking possession of property pursuant to authority contained in a warrant of levy or by the service, by the secretary or secretary's delegate or any sheriff or certified law enforcement employee of the department of public safety, of the warrant upon the taxpayer or other person in possession of property or rights to property of the taxpayer, upon the taxpayer's employer or upon any person or depositary owing or who will owe money to or holding funds of the taxpayer, ordering the taxpayer or other person to reveal the extent thereof and surrender it to the secretary or secretary's delegate forthwith or agree to surrender it or the proceeds therefrom in the future, but in any case on the terms and conditions stated in the warrant.

C. Upon agreement between the department and a financial institution, the department may serve a warrant of levy on the financial institution in electronic format pursuant to the Electronic Authentication of Documents Act [14-15-1 to 14-15-6 NMSA 1978] and the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act [Chapter 14, Article 16 NMSA 1978].

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided the department of taxation and revenue with the authority to collect delinquent property taxes by serving a warrant of levy on a financial institution in electronic format and expanded the authority to collect delinquent property taxes by allowing any certified law enforcement employee of the department of public safety to serve warrants of levy; in Subsection A, after "property of", deleted "such person and the conversion thereof" and added "the delinquent taxpayer and convert the property or rights to property"; in Subsection B, after "sheriff", added "or certified law enforcement employee of the department of public safety", and after "ordering", deleted "him" and added "the taxpayer or other person"; and added Subsection C.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, substituted "secretary or secretary's delegate" for "director or his delegate" in Subsection A and in two places in Subsection B, and inserted "upon the taxpayer's employer" near the middle of Subsection B.

Trustee was obligated by notice of levy to pay over to taxing authority the amount of fees owed. — Where a debtor filed a Chapter 13 bankruptcy petition, and where, after the bankruptcy court confirmed the debtor's Chapter 13 plan, debtor's attorney filed a fee application which was approved by the bankruptcy court, and where the Chapter 13 trustee, prior to paying the attorney fee, was served with a warrant of levy from the state of New Mexico taxation and revenue division (TRD), the bankruptcy court directed the trustee to pay the TRD, because it was the intention of the New Mexico legislature to give the TRD the power to levy on debts owed by third parties to delinquent taxpayers. In re Gonzales, 587 B.R. 363 (Bankr. 7-1-32. Contents of warrant of levy.

A warrant of levy shall:

A. bear on its face a statement of the authority for its service and compelling compliance with its terms, shall be attested by the secretary by electronic signature, if necessary, unless the warrant is served in electronic format upon a financial institution pursuant to the Electronic Authentication of Documents Act [14-15-1 to 14-15-6 NMSA 1978] and the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act [Chapter 14, Article 16 NMSA 1978] and shall bear the seal of the department;

B. identify the taxpayer whose liability for taxes is sought to be enforced, the amount thereof and the date or approximate date on which the tax became due;

C. order the person on whom it is served to reveal the amount of property or rights to property in the person's possession that belong to the taxpayer and the extent of the person's interest therein and to reveal the amount and kind of property or rights to property of the taxpayer that are, to the best of the person's knowledge, in the possession of others;

D. order the person on whom it is served to surrender the property forthwith but may allow the person to agree in writing to surrender the property or the proceeds therefrom on a certain date in the future when the taxpayer's right to it would otherwise mature;

E. order the employer of the taxpayer to surrender wages or salary of the taxpayer in excess of the amount exempt under Section 7-1-36 NMSA 1978 owed by the employer to the taxpayer at the time of service of the levy and that may become owed by the employer to the taxpayer subsequent to the service of the levy until the full amount of the liability stated on the levy is satisfied or until notified by the secretary or the secretary's delegate;

F. state on its face the penalties for willful failure by any person upon whom it is served to comply with its terms; and

G. state that the state of New Mexico claims a lien for the entire amount of tax asserted to be due, including applicable interest and penalties.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 amendment, effective July 1, 2015, provided for warrants of levy to be signed electronically except for those warrants of levy served in electronic format upon a financial institution pursuant to the Electronic Authentication of Documents Act and the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act; in Subsection A, after "secretary", added "by electronic signature, if necessary, unless the warrant is served in electronic formation upon a financial institution pursuant to the Electronic Authentication of Documents Act and the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act"; in Subsection C, deleted "his" and "his own" and added "the person's" in three places; in Subsection D, after "allow", deleted "him" and added "the person"; and in Subsection E, after "levy and", deleted "which" and added "that", and after "become", deleted "owing" and added "owed".

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, added current Subsection E and redesignated former Subsections E and F as Subsections F and G.

7-1-33. Successive seizures.

Whenever any property or right to property upon which levy has been made by virtue of Section 7-1-31 NMSA 1978 is not sufficient to satisfy the claim for which levy is made, the secretary or secretary's delegate may thereafter, and as often as may be necessary, proceed to levy in like manner upon any other property or rights to property subject to levy of the person against whom the claim exists, until the amount due from him is fully paid. Successive levies are not necessary in the case of a levy served on an employer of the taxpayer with respect to wages or salary of the taxpayer.

7-1-34. Surrender of property subject to levy; penalty.

A. Any person in possession of or obligated with respect to property or rights to property subject to levy upon which a levy has been made shall surrender the property or rights, or discharge such obligation, to the secretary or the secretary's delegate, except that part of the property or right as is, at the time of such demand, the subject of a bona fide attachment, execution, levy or other similar process, unless the person is entitled to and does redeem it according to the provisions of Section 7-1-47 NMSA 1978.

B. Upon demand of the secretary or the secretary's delegate, any employer owing a taxpayer wages or salary subject to levy upon which a levy has been made shall surrender to the secretary or the secretary's delegate each subsequent pay period that portion of the taxpayer's wages or salary not exempted under Section 7-1-36 NMSA 1978 and not subject to a prior bona fide attachment, execution, levy, garnishment or similar process, until the amount of the levy is satisfied in full or until notified by the secretary or the secretary's delegate. The secretary or secretary's delegate shall notify the employer promptly when the levy has been satisfied.

C. Any person who wrongfully fails or refuses to surrender or redeem, as required by this section, any property or rights to property levied upon, upon demand by the secretary or the secretary's delegate, is liable for a civil penalty in an amount equal to the lesser of the value of the property or rights not so surrendered or the amount of the taxes for the collection of which such levy has been made.

D. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the surrender by a person in possession of or obligated with respect to property, rights to property or proceeds from the sale or other disposition of property subject to levy upon which a levy has been made by the secretary or the secretary's delegate of such property or rights to property, discharges such obligation to the department. A surrender by a person shall be a defense against the assertion of any obligation or liability to the delinquent taxpayer or any other person with respect to such property or rights to property arising from a surrender or payment.

E. The term "person", as used in this section, includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who, as such officer, employee or member, is under a duty to surrender the property or rights to property or to discharge the obligation.

7-1-35. Stay of levy.

Levy shall not be made on the property or rights to property of any taxpayer who furnishes security in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978. A levy made under authority of Section 7-1-31 NMSA 1978 shall be released as otherwise provided in the Tax Administration Act upon compliance by a taxpayer with the pertinent provisions of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-49, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 37; 1969, ch. 9, § 1.

7-1-36. Property exempt from levy.

A. There shall be exempt from levy the money or property of a delinquent taxpayer in a total amount or value not in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000).

B. In addition to the property exempt under Subsection A of this section, there shall also be exempt from levy on an employer of the taxpayer the greater of the following portions of the taxpayer's disposable earnings:

(1) seventy-five percent of the taxpayer's disposable earnings for any pay period; or

(2) an amount each week equal to forty times the minimum wage rate pursuant to Subsection A of Section 50-4-22 NMSA 1978. The superintendent of regulation and licensing shall provide a table giving equivalent exemptions for pay periods of other than one week.

C. As used in this section, "disposable earnings" means that part of a taxpayer's wages or salary remaining after deducting the amounts that are required by law to be withheld.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-50, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 38; 1993, ch. 242, § 5; 2021, ch. 65, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, prohibited the taxation and revenue department from garnishing a delinquent taxpayer's wages when such wages are under forty times the state minimum wage rather than forty times the federal minimum wage as under the former provision, and removed the definition of "federal minimum hourly wage", as used in this section; in Subsection B, Paragraph B(2), after "forty times the", deleted "federal", after "minimum", deleted "hourly", and after "wage rate", added "pursuant to Subsection A of Section 50-4-22 NMSA 1978"; and in Subsection C, deleted former paragraph designation "(1)" and former Paragraph C(2).

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, designated the formerly undesignated provision as Subsection A and added Subsections B and C.

7-1-37. Assessment as lien.

A. If any person liable for any tax neglects or refuses to pay the tax after assessment and demand for payment as provided in Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978 or if any person liable for tax pursuant to Section 7-1-63 NMSA 1978 neglects or refuses to pay after demand has been made, unless and only so long as such a person is entitled to the protection afforded by a valid order of a United States court entered pursuant to Section 362 or 1301 of Title 11 of the United States Code, as amended or renumbered, the amount of the tax shall be a lien in favor of the state upon all property and rights to property of the person.

B. The lien imposed by Subsection A of this section shall arise at the time both assessment and demand, as provided in Section 7-1-17 NMSA 1978, have been made or at the time demand has been made pursuant to Section 7-1-63 NMSA 1978 and shall continue until the liability for payment of the amount demanded is satisfied or extinguished.

C. As against any mortgagee, pledgee, purchaser, judgment creditor, person claiming a lien under Sections 48-2-1 through 48-11-9 NMSA 1978, lienor for value or other encumbrancer for value, the lien imposed by Subsection A of this section shall not be considered to have arisen or have any effect whatever until notice of the lien has been filed as provided in Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978.

7-1-38. Notice of lien.

A notice of the lien provided for in Section 7-1-37 NMSA 1978 may be recorded in any county in the state in the tax lien index established by Sections 48-1-1 through 48-1-7 NMSA 1978 and a copy thereof shall be sent to the taxpayer affected. Any county clerk to whom the notices are presented shall record them as requested without charge. The notice of lien shall identify the taxpayer whose liability for taxes is sought to be enforced and the date or approximate date on which the tax became due and shall state that New Mexico claims a lien for the entire amount of tax asserted to be due, including applicable interest and penalties. Recording of the notice of lien shall be effective as to all property and rights to property of the taxpayer.

7-1-39. Release or extinguishment of lien; limitation on actions to enforce lien.

A. When any substantial part of the amount of tax due from a taxpayer is paid, the department shall immediately file, in the same county in which a notice of lien was filed, and in the same records, a document completely or partially releasing the lien. The county clerk to whom such a document is presented shall record it without charge.

B. The department may file, in the same county as the notice of lien was filed, a document releasing or partially releasing any lien filed in accordance with Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978 when the filing of the lien was premature or did not follow requirements of law or when release or partial release would facilitate collection of taxes due. The county clerk to whom the document is presented shall record it without charge.

C. In all cases when a notice of lien for taxes, penalties and interest has been filed under Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978 and a period of ten years has passed from the date the lien was filed, as shown on the notice of lien, the taxes, penalties and interest for which the lien is claimed shall be conclusively presumed to have been paid and the lien is thereby extinguished. No action shall be brought to enforce any lien extinguished in accordance with this subsection.

In the case of the sale of real property:

A. the deed of sale given pursuant to Section 7-1-48 NMSA 1978 shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated;

B. if the proceedings have been substantially in accordance with the provisions of law, the deed shall be considered and operate as a conveyance of all the right, title and interest of the delinquent taxpayer in and to the real property thus sold at the time the notice of lien was filed as provided in Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978 or immediately before the sale, whichever is earlier; and

C. neither the taxpayer nor anyone claiming through or under him shall bring an action after one year from the date of sale to challenge the conveyance.

7-1-53. Enjoining delinquent taxpayer from continuing in business.

A. To ensure or to compel payment of taxes and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Tax Administration Act, the secretary may apply to a district court of this state to have any delinquent taxpayer or person who may be or may become liable for payment of any tax enjoined from engaging in business until the delinquent taxpayer ceases to be a delinquent taxpayer or until the delinquent taxpayer or person complies with other requirements, reasonably necessary to protect the revenues of the state, placed on the delinquent taxpayer or person by the secretary.

B. Upon application to a court for an injunction against a delinquent taxpayer, the court may forthwith issue an order temporarily restraining the delinquent taxpayer from doing business. The court shall hear the matter within fifteen days. Upon written request of the taxpayer, the hearing may be held earlier. Upon a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that the taxpayer is delinquent and has been given notice of the hearing as required by law, the court may enjoin the taxpayer from engaging in business in New Mexico until the taxpayer ceases to be a delinquent taxpayer. Upon issuing an injunction, the court may also order the business premises of the taxpayer sealed by the sheriff and may allow the taxpayer access thereto only upon approval of the court.

C. Upon application to a court for an injunction against a person other than a delinquent taxpayer, the court:

(1) may issue an order temporarily restraining the person other than the delinquent taxpayer from engaging in business;

(2) shall hear the matter within fifteen days, except that the hearing may be held earlier if requested in writing by the person who is the subject of the temporary restraining order; and

(3) may without delay issue an injunction to the taxpayer in terms commanding the person who is the subject of the temporary restraining order to refrain from engaging in business until that person complies in full with the demand of the department to furnish security, if there is a showing that:

(a) the person who is the subject of the temporary restraining order has been given notice of the hearing for the injunction as required by law;

(b) a demand by the department has been made upon the taxpayer to furnish security;

(c) the taxpayer has not furnished security; and

(d) the secretary considers the collection from the person primarily responsible for the total amount of tax due or reasonably expected to become due to be in jeopardy.

D. A temporary restraining order or injunction shall not issue by provision of this section against any person who has furnished security in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978. Upon a showing to the court by any person against whom a temporary restraining order or writ of injunction has issued by provision of this section that that person has furnished security in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978, the court shall dissolve or set aside the temporary restraining order or injunction.

7-1-54. Security for payment of tax.

A. Whenever it is necessary to ensure payment of any tax due or reasonably expected to become due, the department is authorized to require or allow any person subject to the provisions of the Tax Administration Act to furnish an acceptable surety bond in an appropriate amount, payable to the state and conditioned upon the payment to the state of the taxes therein identified on a date no later than that on which his liability for the payment thereof becomes conclusive, or to furnish other acceptable security in an appropriate amount and to require any person to furnish additional security as becomes necessary.

B. If, after notice of a requirement that he furnish security, any person neglects or refuses to comply, the department may demand of him by certified mail or in person that he furnish security in a stated amount. Upon the failure of any person to comply within ten days of the date of the making of such demand upon him for the furnishing of security, the secretary may institute a proceeding to enjoin him from doing business as provided in Section 7-1-53 NMSA 1978.

C. When a serious and immediate risk exists that an amount of tax due or reasonably expected to become due will not be paid, the secretary may require any person liable or prospectively liable for tax to furnish security as otherwise provided in the Tax Administration Act, and, upon a refusal by the person immediately to comply with the requirement, the secretary may without further notice of any kind apply to any district court of the state for an injunction as provided in Section 7-1-53 NMSA 1978.

D. The secretary may require taxpayers who protest, in accordance with Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, an assessment or the payment of any tax administered by the department under Subsection B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978 to furnish security pursuant to this section with respect to amounts in excess of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) whenever the total amount protested, whether by a single protest or a series of protests by a single taxpayer with respect to one or more tax acts administered by the department under Subsection B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978, exceeds two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000). If the taxpayer fails to provide security as required by this subsection, the department may take all appropriate actions authorized by the Tax Administration Act to collect the amount assessed, provided that any proceeds collected shall be held as the security required by this subsection until the protest is resolved.

7-1-55. Contractor's bond for gross receipts; tax; penalty.

A. A person engaged in the construction business who does not have a principal place of business in New Mexico and who enters into a prime construction contract to be performed in this state shall, at the time such contract is entered into, furnish the secretary or the secretary's delegate with a surety bond, or other acceptable security, in a sum equivalent to the gross receipts to be paid under the contract multiplied by the sum of the applicable rate of the gross receipts tax imposed by Section 7-9-4 NMSA

1978 plus the applicable rate or rates of tax imposed pursuant to local option gross receipts taxes to secure payment of the tax imposed on the gross receipts from the contract and shall obtain a certificate from the secretary or the secretary's delegate that the requirements of this subsection have been met.

B. If the total sum to be paid under the contract is changed by ten percent or more subsequent to the date the surety bond or other acceptable security is furnished to the secretary or the secretary's delegate, such person shall increase or decrease, as the case may be, the amount of the bond or security within fourteen days after the change.

C. If a person fails to comply with Subsection A or B of this section, the secretary or the secretary's delegate:

(1) may demand of the person by certified mail or in person that the person comply. Upon the failure of the person to comply within ten days of the date of the mailing of such demand, the secretary may institute a proceeding to enjoin the person from doing business as provided in Section 7-1-53 NMSA 1978; or

(2) may, when a serious and immediate risk exists that an amount of tax due or reasonably expected to become due from the person on gross receipts from a prime construction contract will not be paid, request the person to comply with Subsections A and B of this section, and, upon failure immediately to comply, the secretary may, without further notice of any kind, apply to any district court of the state for an injunction as provided in Section 7-1-53 NMSA 1978.

D. Subsections A, B and C of this section shall not apply if the total gross receipts to be paid under the construction contract, including any change in such amount, are less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

E. As used in this section, "construction" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 7-9-3.4 NMSA 1978 and "engaging in business" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 7-9-3.3 NMSA 1978.

F. A municipality or other political subdivision of the state or any agency of the state shall not issue a building or other construction permit to any person subject to the requirements of Subsection A of this section without first having been furnished by the construction contractor with the certificate from the secretary or the secretary's delegate specified in Subsection A of this section. Any person who issues any such permit before receiving the certificate shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense.

7-1-58. Permanence of tax debt; civil actions to collect tax.

The total amount of all taxes due and assessed is a personal debt of the taxpayer to the state of New Mexico until paid and may be collected by civil action to that end commenced subject to the limitations in Section 7-1-19 NMSA 1978 by the secretary or attorney general in district court or in federal courts. Final judgments for taxes may be enforced in appropriate courts of other states by the secretary or the attorney general pursuant to agreement between the other state and this state or by attorneys or other agents in that state retained by the department or the attorney general. This remedy is in addition to any other remedy provided by law.

7-1-59. Jeopardy assessments.

A. If the secretary at any time reasonably believes that the collection of any tax for which a taxpayer is liable will be jeopardized by delay, the secretary may immediately make a jeopardy assessment of the amount of tax the payment of which to the state the secretary believes to be in jeopardy.

B. A jeopardy assessment is effective upon the delivery, in person or by certified mail, to the taxpayer against whom the liability for tax is asserted, of a document entitled "notice of jeopardy assessment of taxes", issued in the name of the secretary, stating the nature and amount of the taxes assertedly owed by the taxpayer to the state, demanding of the taxpayer the immediate payment of that amount of tax and briefly informing the taxpayer of the steps that may be taken against the taxpayer as well as of the remedies available to the taxpayer.

C. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Tax Administration Act, if any taxpayer against whom a jeopardy assessment has been made neglects or refuses either to pay the amount of tax demanded of the taxpayer or furnish satisfactory security therefor within five days of the service upon the taxpayer of the notice of jeopardy assessment, the secretary may immediately proceed to collect the tax by levy, as provided in Section 7-1-31 NMSA 1978, on sufficient property of the taxpayer to satisfy the deficiency, protect the interests of the state by, as provided in Section 7-1-53 NMSA 1978, enjoining the taxpayer from doing business in New Mexico or both.

D. A taxpayer to whom a jeopardy assessment has been made may cause the procedure of levy or injunction as set forth in Subsection C of this section to be stayed by filing with the department acceptable security in an amount equal to the amount of taxes assessed, as provided in Section 7-1-54 NMSA 1978. A taxpayer to whom a jeopardy assessment has been made may dispute the jeopardy assessment either by furnishing security and otherwise following the procedures set forth in Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 or by paying the tax and claiming a refund as provided by Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978.

7-1-61. Duty of successor in business.

A. As used in Sections 7-1-61 through 7-1-63 NMSA 1978, "tax" means the amount of tax due, including penalties and interest, imposed by provisions of the taxes or tax acts set forth in Subsections A and B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978, except the Income Tax Act.

B. The tangible and intangible property used in any business remains subject to liability for payment of the tax due on account of that business to the extent stated herein, even though the business changes hands.

C. If any person liable for any amount of tax from operating a business transfers that business to a successor, the successor shall place in a trust account sufficient money from the purchase price or other source to cover such amount of tax until the secretary or secretary's delegate issues a certificate stating that no amount is due, or the successor shall pay over the amount due to the department upon proper demand for, or assessment of, that amount due by the secretary.

Within thirty days after receiving from the successor a written request for a certificate, or within thirty days from the date the former owner's records are made available for audit, whichever period expires the later, but in any event not later than sixty days after receiving the request, the secretary or secretary's delegate shall either issue the certificate or mail a notice to the successor of the amount of tax due from operating the business for which the former owner is liable and which must be paid as a condition of issuing the certificate.

B. Failure of the department to mail or deliver the notice of tax due within the required time releases the successor from any obligation as a successor under Section 7-1-61 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-75, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 63; 1979, ch. 144, § 56; 1997, ch. 67, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, substituted "secretary" for "director" and "successor" for "purchaser" in the section heading and throughout the section; in Subsection A, inserted "due from operating the business" following "of the amount of tax" and substituted "former owner" for "vendor" at the end of the sentence; and in Subsection B, inserted "or deliver" following "to mail", inserted "of tax due" following "the notice", and substituted "as a successor under" for "to withhold from the purchase price and releases the property from the operation of".

7-1-63. Assessment of tax due; application of payment.

A. If, after any business is transferred to a successor, any tax from operating the business for which the former owner is liable remains due, the successor shall pay the amount due within thirty days. If the successor fails to pay within thirty days of the date notice provided for in Section 7-1-62 NMSA 1978 was mailed or if a certificate was not requested, the department shall assess the successor the amount due.

B. Upon the payment of the amount due from the amount placed in a trust account as provided by Subsection C of Section 7-1-61 NMSA 1978, the balance, if any, remaining may be released to the former owner or otherwise lawfully disposed of. The former owner shall be credited with the payment of tax.

C. A successor may discharge an assessment made pursuant to this section by paying to the department the full value of the transferred tangible and intangible property. The successor shall remain liable for the amount assessed, however, until the amount is paid if:

- (1) the business has been transferred to evade or defeat any tax;
- (2) the transfer of the business amounts to a de facto merger, consolidation or mere continuation of the transferor's business; or
- (3) the successor has assumed the liability.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-76, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 64; 1979, ch. 144, § 57; 1997, ch. 67, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, substituted "assessment of tax due" for "demand for payment" in the section heading; rewrote Subsection A; substituted "due from the amount placed in a trust account" for "required to be withheld" and made a stylistic change in Subsection B; and added Subsection C.

"Successor" defined. — A successor means any transferee of a business or property of a business, except to the extent it would be materially inconsistent with the rights of secured creditors that have perfected security interests or other perfected liens on the business or property of the business. Implicit in the taxation and revenue department's definition of "successor" is the notion that the future intent of a transferee of a business, once it has received the business, is an important aspect of determining whether it is a "successor". A successor may include a business that is acquired and run for an indefinite period by a creditor of the predecessor, but does not include one who acquires and operates a business for a limited period of time in order to protect its collateral. The distinguishing feature is whether the entity acquiring the business intends to retain and operate the business. Hi-Country Buick GMC v. N.M. Taxation and Revenue Dep't., 2016-NMCA-027, cert. denied.

Where the taxation and revenue department imposed a tax assessment on appellant, as a successor in business to a car dealership, including penalties and interest, after appellant acquired the car dealership from the prior owners who defaulted on a promissory note, and where appellant acquired inventory from the prior dealership, entered into a management agreement for the continued operation of the car dealership, and where certain liabilities of the prior dealership were paid, there was a presumption that appellant was a successor in business and appellant failed to rebut this presumption. Hi-Country Buick GMC v. N.M. Taxation and Revenue Dep't., 2016-NMCA-027, cert. denied.

Successor in business and mere continuation of business. — Where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department assessed appellant, an automobile repossession business, as a successor in business to, and a mere continuation of, a defunct corporation that was also in the business of automobile repossessions, for unpaid gross receipts taxes, and where appellant protested the assessment, claiming that it was not a successor in business to the defunct corporation, the administrative hearing officer did not err in its decision and order determining appellant to be a successor in business, as well as a mere continuation, of the defunct corporation, based on the evidence that appellant took the defunct corporation's office equipment, liability insurance policy and tow truck to provide the same services using the same equipment with the same employees to the same customers and at the same business location. High Desert Recovery v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't., 2022-NMCA-048, cert. denied.

7-1-64. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1997, ch. 67, § 10 repealed 7-1-64 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 65, relating to failure to withhold, effective July 1, 1997. For provisions of former section, see the 1996 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-65. Reciprocal enforcement of tax judgments.

A. The courts of the state shall recognize and enforce the tax judgments of other jurisdictions to the same extent to which the courts of the other jurisdictions would recognize and enforce similar tax judgments of this state or its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities, except as provided in Subsection C of this section.

B. The secretary, with the permission of the attorney general, or the attorney general may employ on a contingency fee basis only members of the bars of other jurisdictions to recover taxes due this state.

C. All property in this state of a judgment debtor is exempt from execution issuing from a tax judgment of another jurisdiction that is in favor of any state for failure to pay that state's income tax on benefits received from a pension or other retirement plan.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-78, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 66; 1992, ch. 55, § 15; 1994, ch. 48, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, added the exception clause at the end of Subsection A and added Subsection C.

Applicability. — Laws 1994, ch. 48, § 3 made the act applicable to judgments filed with a court in New Mexico on or after May 18, 1994.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, rewrote Subsection B, which formerly read: "The attorney general may employ members of the bars of other jurisdictions to recover taxes due this state and may fix their fees".

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, inserted "nations" and "or pueblos" in the section heading, and substituted "Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or to any Indian" for "Indian tribe an Indian pueblo or any Indian".

New Mexico may not tax income and gross receipts of Indians residing on a reservation when the income and gross receipts involved are derived solely from activities within the reservation. Hunt v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-026, 85 N.M. 381, 512 P.2d 954, cert. quashed, 85 N.M. 388, 512 P.2d 961.

Indian's fee interest not taxable but non-Indian leasehold is. — Since non-Indians entered into a long-term lease with an Indian tribe, under which the non-Indians were to develop the leased land as a residential subdivision, state's ad valorem tax provision was broad enough to encompass the lessee's interest in the otherwise tax-exempt property. Therefore, whatever interest that was not part of the fee and could be taxed as separate from the fee interest of the Indians was taxable by the state, but any tax that purported to touch or create a lien on the land could not be levied by the state. *Norvell v. 7-1-67. Interest on deficiencies.

A. If a tax imposed is not paid on or before the day on which it becomes due, interest shall be paid to the state on that amount from the first day following the day on which the tax becomes due, without regard to any extension of time or installment agreement, until it is paid, except that:

(1) for income tax imposed on a member of the armed services of the United States serving in a combat zone under orders of the president of the United States, interest shall accrue only for the period beginning the day after any applicable extended due date if the tax is not paid;

(2) if the amount of interest due at the time payment is made is less than one dollar ($1.00), then no interest shall be due;

(3) if demand is made for payment of a tax, including accrued interest, and if the tax is paid within ten days after the date of the demand, no interest on the amount paid shall be imposed for the period after the date of the demand;

(4) if a managed audit is completed by the taxpayer on or before the date required, as provided in the agreement for the managed audit, and payment of any tax found to be due is made in full within one hundred eighty days of the date the secretary has mailed or delivered an assessment for the tax to the taxpayer, no interest shall be due on the assessed tax;

(5) when, as the result of an audit or a managed audit, an overpayment of a tax is credited against an underpayment of tax pursuant to Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978, interest shall accrue from the date the tax was due until the tax is deemed paid;

(6) if the department does not issue an assessment for the tax program and period within the time provided in Subsection D of Section 7-1-11.2 NMSA 1978, interest shall be paid from the first day following the day on which the tax becomes due until the tax is paid, excluding the period between either:

(a) the one hundred eightieth day after giving a notice of outstanding records or books of account and the date of the assessment of the tax; or

(b) the ninetieth day after the expiration of the additional time requested by the taxpayer to comply pursuant to Section 7-1-11.2 NMSA 1978, if such request was granted, and the date of the assessment of the tax; and

(7) if the taxpayer was not provided with proper notices as required in Section 7-1-11.2 NMSA 1978, interest shall be paid from the first day following the day on which the tax becomes due until the tax is paid, excluding the period between one hundred eighty days prior to the date of assessment and the date of assessment.

B. Interest due to the state under Subsection A or D of this section shall be at the underpayment rate established for individuals pursuant to Section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code computed on a daily basis; provided that if a different rate is specified by a compact or other interstate agreement to which New Mexico is a party, that rate shall be applied to amounts due under the compact or other agreement.

C. Nothing in this section shall be construed to impose interest on interest or interest on the amount of any penalty.

D. If any tax required to be paid in accordance with Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978 is not paid in the manner required by that section, interest shall be paid to the state on the amount required to be paid in accordance with Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978. If interest is due under this subsection and is also due under Subsection A of this section, interest shall be due and collected only pursuant to Subsection A of this section.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, provided that interest shall be paid at the underpayment rate for individuals pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code; in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (6) of Subsection A, after "taxpayer to comply", added "pursuant to Section 7-1-11.2 NMSA 1978"; and in Subsection B, after "shall be at the", added "underpayment".

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A, increased the time to pay taxes found to be due by a managed audit from thirty to one hundred eighty days.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, added Subsections A(6) and A(7).

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, added Paragraphs A(4) and (5).

The 2000 amendment, effective January 1, 2001, substituted "on a daily basis" for "at the rate of one and one-fourth percent per month or any fraction thereof," in Subsection B.

The 1996 amendment, effective July 1, 1996, added the proviso at the end of Subsection B.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, in Subsection A, substituted "except" for "provided, however," at the end of the introductory paragraph, inserted the paragraph designation "(1)", and added Paragraphs (2) and (3); in Subsection B, inserted "or D" and deleted "except that if the amount of interest due at the time payment is made is less than one dollar ($1.00), then no interest shall be due"; deleted former Subsection C, relating to the effect of payment of any tax within ten days after demand; redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections C and D; and, in the first sentence of Subsection D, deleted "the interest due under this subsection shall be one and one quarter percent of the amount" preceding "required to be paid".

The 1991 amendment, effective April 2, 1991, added the proviso in Subsection A and rewrote the final sentence in Subsection E which read "Interest due under this subsection shall be in addition to any interest due under Subsection A of this section".

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "Interest due to the state under Subsection A of this section shall be" for "Interest shall be due to the state" at the beginning of Subsection B and added Subsection E.

No offset of overpayment against prior liability. — Interest on underpayment of taxes is calculated without regard to receipt by the taxation and revenue department of any overpayment of taxes. The department, once a claim for refund is made, is authorized only to allow a taxpayer claiming a refund for overpayment of gas production taxes to credit the refund against current or future tax liabilities. *Amoco Prod. ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1993, ch. 5, § 11, repealed 7-1-67.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1982, ch. 18, § 25, relating to the effective date of the increase in the interest rate pursuant to § 7-1-67 NMSA 1978, effective July 1, 1993. For provisions of former section, see the 1992 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-68. Interest on overpayments.

A. As provided in this section, interest shall be allowed and paid on the amount of tax overpaid by a person that is subsequently refunded or credited to that person.

B. Interest on overpayments of tax shall accrue and be paid at the underpayment rate established pursuant to Section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code, computed on a daily basis; provided that if a different rate is specified by a compact or other interstate agreement to which New Mexico is a party, that rate shall apply to amounts due under the compact or other agreement.

C. Unless otherwise provided by this section, interest on an overpayment not arising from an assessment by the department shall be paid from the date of the claim for refund until a date preceding by not more than thirty days the date of the credit or refund to any person; and interest on an overpayment arising from an assessment by the department shall be paid from the date of overpayment until a date preceding by not more than thirty days the date of the credit or refund to any person.

D. No interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to an amount credited or refunded if:

(1) the amount of interest due is less than one dollar ($1.00);

(2) the credit or refund is made within:

(a) fifty-five days of the date of the complete claim for refund of income tax, pursuant to either the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] for the tax year immediately preceding the tax year in which the claim is made;

(b) sixty days of the date of the complete claim for refund of any tax not provided for in this paragraph;

(c) seventy-five days of the date of the complete claim for refund of gasoline tax to users of gasoline off the highways;

(d) one hundred twenty days of the date of the complete claim for refund of tax imposed pursuant to the Resources Excise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 25 NMSA 1978], the Severance Tax Act [7-26-1 to 7-26-8 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Severance Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 29 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Conservation Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 30 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Emergency School Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 31 NMSA 1978], the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978], the Natural Gas Processors Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 33 NMSA 1978] or the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978]; or

(e) one hundred twenty days of the date of the complete claim for refund of income tax, pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act, for any tax year more than one year prior to the year in which the claim is made;

(3) Sections 6611(f) and 6611(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, as those sections may be amended or renumbered, prohibit payment of interest for federal income tax purposes;

(4) the credit results from overpayments found in an audit of multiple reporting periods and applied to underpayments found in that audit or refunded as a net overpayment to the taxpayer pursuant to Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978;

(5) the department applies the credit or refund to an intercept program, to the taxpayer's estimated payment prior to the due date for the estimated payment or to offset prior liabilities of the taxpayer pursuant to Subsection E of Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978;

(6) the credit or refund results from overpayments the department finds pursuant to Subsection F of Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978 that exceed the refund claimed by the taxpayer on the return; or

(7) the refund results from a tax credit pursuant to the Investment Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9A NMSA 1978], Laboratory Partnership with Small Business Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9E NMSA 1978], Technology Jobs and Research and Development Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9F NMSA 1978], Film Production Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 2F NMSA 1978], Affordable Housing Tax Credit Act [Chapter 7, Article 9I NMSA 1978] or a rural job tax credit or high-wage jobs tax credit.

E. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the payment of interest upon interest.

7-1-69. Civil penalty for failure to pay tax or file a return.

A. Except as provided in Subsection C of this section, in the case of failure due to negligence or disregard of department rules and regulations, but without intent to evade or defeat a tax, to pay when due the amount of tax required to be paid, to pay in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978 when required to do so or to file by the date required a return regardless of whether a tax is due, there shall be added to the amount assessed a penalty in an amount equal to the greater of:

(1) two percent per month or any fraction of a month from the date the tax was due multiplied by the amount of tax due but not paid, not to exceed twenty percent of the tax due but not paid;

(2) two percent per month or any fraction of a month from the date the return was required to be filed multiplied by the tax liability established in the late return, not to exceed twenty percent of the tax liability established in the late return; or

(3) a minimum of five dollars ($5.00), but the five-dollar ($5.00) minimum penalty shall not apply to taxes levied under the Income Tax Act, Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act or taxes administered by the department pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-1-2 NMSA 1978.

B. No penalty shall be assessed against a taxpayer if the failure to pay an amount of tax when due results from a mistake of law made in good faith and on reasonable grounds.

C. If a different penalty is specified in a compact or other interstate agreement to which New Mexico is a party, the penalty provided in the compact or other interstate agreement shall be applied to amounts due under the compact or other interstate agreement at the rate and in the manner prescribed by the compact or other interstate agreement.

D. In the case of failure, with willful intent to evade or defeat a tax, to pay when due the amount of tax required to be paid, there shall be added to the amount fifty percent of the tax or a minimum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), whichever is greater, as penalty.

E. If demand is made for payment of a tax, including penalty imposed pursuant to this section, and if the tax is paid within ten days after the date of such demand, no penalty shall be imposed for the period after the date of the demand with respect to the amount paid.

F. If a taxpayer makes electronic payment of a tax but the payment does not include all of the information required by the department pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-1-13.1 NMSA 1978 and if the department does not receive the required information within five business days from the later of the date a request by the department for that information is received by the taxpayer or the due date, the taxpayer shall be subject to a penalty of two percent per month or any fraction of a month from the fifth day following the date the request is received. If a penalty is imposed under Subsection A of this section with respect to the same transaction for the same period, no penalty shall be imposed under this subsection.

G. No penalty shall be imposed on:

(1) tax due in excess of tax paid in accordance with an approved estimated basis pursuant to Section 7-1-10 NMSA 1978;

(2) tax due as the result of a managed audit; or

(3) tax that is deemed paid by crediting overpayments found in an audit or managed audit of multiple periods pursuant to Section 7-1-29 NMSA 1978.

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, provided that a five dollar minimum late filing penalty shall not apply to taxes levied under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act; and in Subsection A, Paragraph A(3), after "Income Tax Act", added "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act".

The 2007 amendment, effective January 1, 2008, changed the maximum rate from ten to twenty percent in Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection A.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, in Subsection A substituted "C" for "B" following "provided in Subsection" near the beginning, inserted "department" preceding "rules and regulations" near the middle, substituted "assessed a" for "as" following "added to the amount" near the end, and inserted "in an amount equal to" preceding "the greater of" near the end; and added present Subsection B and redesignated the subsequent subsections accordingly.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, added Subsection F.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, added Subsection E.

The 1996 amendment, effective July 1, 1996, added "Except as provided in Subsection B of this section," at the beginning of Subsection A, added Subsection B, and redesignated former Subsections B and C as Subsections C and D.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, rewrote Subsection A, restructured the former three sentences of Subsection C so as to constitute a single sentence, while making minor stylistic changes therein, and, in Subsection C, substituted all of the present language following "imposed by this subsection" for "shall be in addition to any penalty due under Subsection A of this section".

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, added Subsection C.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Section is divided into two parts: penalty for fraud and penalty for negligence. Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977) (decided under prior law).

Presumption of correctness, in 7-1-17 NMSA 1978, also applies to this penalty section. Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-127, 90 N.M. 16, 558 P.2d 1155, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 255, 561 P.2d 1348 (1977).

Penalty provision not denial of equal protection. — Penalties imposed on taxpayers based upon negligent failure to pay taxes when due did not deny the taxpayers equal protection of the law. Gathings v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-016, 87 N.M. 334, 533 P.2d 107.

The date of assessment determines the applicable penalty to be imposed. — The statutory penalty is determined at the time of assessment and the law in place at the time of assessment governs the penalty to be imposed. GEA Integrated Cooling Technology v. N.M. Taxation & Rev. Dep't, 2012-NMCA-010, 268 P.3d 48.

Application of increased penalty to prior tax period was not retroactive. — The application of a new statutory penalty in place at the time of the assessment of tax liabilities that arose for tax periods occurring prior to the effective date of the statutory amendment that imposes the new penalty gives the amendment proper prospective effect. GEA Integrated Cooling Technology v. N.M. Taxation & Rev. Dep't, 2012-NMCA-010, 268 P.3d 48.

The date of assessment determines the applicable penalty to be imposed. — Where the taxpayer failed to pay gross receipts taxes for periods between June 1, 2006 and July 1, 2007; effective January 1, 2008, the legislature increased the maximum statutory penalty to twenty percent of the amount of unpaid taxes; prior to January 1, 2008, the maximum statutory penalty was ten percent; and in 2009, the N.M. taxation and revenue department assessed the taxpayer for unpaid taxes due for periods June 1, 2006 and July 1, 2007 and imposed the twenty percent penalty, the new statutory penalty of twenty percent was the applicable maximum penalty, because it was in effect at the time of the outstanding taxes were assessed. GEA Integrated Cooling Technology v. N.M. Taxation & Rev. Dep't, 2012-NMCA-010, 268 P.3d 48.

Every person is charged with reasonable duty to ascertain possible tax consequences of his action. This can be done by consultation with one's legal advisor. Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-127, 90 N.M. 16, 558 P.2d 1155, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 255, 561 P.2d 1348 (1977).

Responsibility to ascertain tax consequences. — Every person is charged with the reasonable duty to ascertain the possible tax consequences of his action or inaction, and a taxpayer cannot abdicate this responsibility merely by appointing an accountant as its agent in tax matters. El Centro Villa Nursing Ctr. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1989-NMCA-070, 108 N.M. 795, 779 P.2d 982.

II. NEGLIGENCE.

Taxpayers were not negligent in failing to pay natural gas processor's tax on operation which removed carbon dioxide from coal seam gas where, at the time the applicable tax was enacted, coal seam gas was not processed and the applicable tax law accordingly did not directly address whether the removal of carbon dioxide from coal seam gas constituted "processing." Amoco Prod. Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMCA-092, 134 N.M. 162, 74 P.3d 96.

Propriety of penalty. — Taxpayer's penalty was proper where her failure to pay gross receipts tax was negligent based on the hearing officer's finding that the failure was due to the taxpayer's lack of knowledge and her erroneous belief that gross receipts tax was not due on certain transactions. Grogan v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMCA-033, 133 N.M. 354, 62 P.3d 1236, cert. denied, 133 N.M. 413, 63 P.3d 516.

Reliance on manufacturer's advice. — Where taxpayer, who operated a retail tobacco store, failed to pay gross receipts tax from buy-down and shelf-display contracts with cigarette manufacturers in reliance upon discussions of taxpayer's tax liability with the manufacturers was negligent because taxpayer did not reasonably attempt to determine whether taxpayer's actions were justifiable under the tax statutes and regulations. Grogan v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2002, NMCA-033, 133 N.M. 354, 62 P.3d 1236, cert. denied, 133 N.M. 413, 63 P.3d 516.

Minimum penalty for negligence when no tax due under equitable recoupment. — When the amount erroneously paid by the taxpayer for a particular tax equals the amount that should have been paid for another tax and, under the doctrine of equitable recoupment, no further sums are due from the taxpayer, there is no basis for assessing a penalty as a percentage of the tax due, but the taxpayer may be required to pay the $5 minimum penalty if the error resulted from the taxpayer's negligence. Teco Invs. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-055, 125 N.M. 103, 957 P.2d 532.

Ordinary business care required. — Taxpayer was liable for civil penalties when taxpayer's failure to pay the gross receipts tax due was based on its erroneous beliefs, inattention, inaction where action would be reasonably required, or a failure to exercise the degree of ordinary business care that similarly situated businesses would exercise. Arco Materials, Inc. v. State, Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-062, 118 N.M. 12, 878 P.2d 330, rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Blaze Constr. Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMSC-110, 118 N.M. 647, 884 P.2d 803, cert. denied, 514 U.S. 1016, 115 S. Ct. 1359, 131 L. Ed. 2d 216 (1995).

Negligence not excused by actions of auditors. — A negligence penalty assessed against a taxpayer for its total failure to pay any compensating tax for a period of years was proper, since the taxpayer's sole excuse was that the failure to pay the tax was not uncovered by the accountants who certified the accuracy of the taxpayer's financial statements for the annual reports to shareholders required by federal securities law. The taxpayer offered no evidence that the outside auditors reviewed the taxpayer's monthly state tax returns, did not explain why the audit for the annual reports should have uncovered the failure to pay the compensating tax, and did not explain why the failure of the auditors to discover the error would excuse the taxpayer's failure to comply with clear state law. Vivigen, Inc. v. Minzner, 1994-NMCA-027, 117 N.M. 224, 870 P.2d 1382.

Substantial evidence of negligence. — Substantial evidence supported hearing officer's finding that nursing home's failure to pay tax was due to negligence, since the home failed to show the hearing officer that it acted reasonably in not reporting a medicaid readjustment to income payments as gross receipts. El Centro Villa Nursing Ctr. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1989-NMCA-070, 108 N.M. 795, 779 P.2d 982.

Taxpayer's erroneous belief tantamount to negligence. — A taxpayer's mere belief that he is not liable to pay taxes is tantamount to negligence within the meaning of this section and invocation of the penalty is appropriate. C & D Trailer Sales v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-151, 93 N.M. 697, 604 P.2d 835.

Taxpayer's erroneous belief and no further investigation constituted negligence. — When taxpayer, an Arizona corporation headquartered in Phoenix, failed to file a return for work performed on the Navajo reservation within New Mexico (the first road job taxpayer had done in New Mexico), its belief that no taxes were due and that there were no taxes that they had to file for or register for, without further investigation, constituted negligence so as to justify the penalty imposed. Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-127, 90 N.M. 16, 558 P.2d 1155, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 255, 561 P.2d 1348 (1977).

"Negligent" means indifferent, careless or off-hand or lacking reasonable cause. Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-127, 90 N.M. 16, 558 P.2d 1155, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 255, 561 P.2d 1348 (1977).

Negligence is general standard defining director's duties. — "Negligence" as used in Subsection A is a general standard capable of reasonable application and sufficient to limit and define the commissioner's (now director's) powers in imposing a penalty. Gathings v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-016, 87 N.M. 334, 533 P.2d 107.

Negligence should be equated with federal standard. — "Negligence," as used in Subsection A, should be equated with the federal standard of "lack of reasonable cause" as set forth in 26 U.S.C. § 6651(a). Gathings v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-016, 87 N.M. 334, 533 P.2d 107.

III. PROTEST.

Evidence of diligent protest based on informed consultation and advice. —

Conclusory and self-serving statements in affidavits of an officer of the taxpayer and a tax attorney were insufficient to give rise to a genuine issue of material fact as to the existence of any acceptable ground for excusing the taxpayer's failure to report and pay gross receipts tax. Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219, rev'd on other grounds, 2006-NMSC-038, 140 N.M. 212, 141 P.3d 1266.

"Diligent protest" negates negligence. — When a taxpayer's failure to pay taxes is the result of a "diligent protest" and his decision to challenge a tax is based on informed consultation and advice (i.e., from his attorney or accountant), the taxpayer negates any inference of negligence and the application of the penalty provision is inappropriate. C & D Trailer Sales v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-151, 93 N.M. 697, 604 P.2d 835.

Reasonable doubt negates disregard of rules. — Penalty was improperly assessed and taxpayer is not liable for penalty and interest where diligent protest by the taxpayer negated the possibility of negligence, and the taxpayer did not disregard the rules and regulations because there was reasonable doubt as to the correctness of the taxes imposed by the commissioner (now secretary). Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977).

Not negligence to protest rulings or disregard where reasonable doubt. — This section provides that a penalty shall be added to the amount owed only in the event of failure to pay an assessed amount due to negligence or disregard of rules and regulations. Taxpayers were neither negligent nor heedless of any rules and regulations where they carried forward a thorough protest against the rulings of the commissioner (now secretary) with reasonable doubt as to the interpretation and applicability of the various taxes sought to be imposed by his order. Any presumptions of correctness which might have attached to the commissioner's (now secretary's) decision had been sufficiently overcome. The decision to assess penalties, not being in accordance with the law, was reversed in its entirety. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232.

7-1-69.1. Civil penalty for failure to file an information return.

A taxpayer, wholesaler, retailer or rack operator who fails to file an information return on time pursuant to the Gasoline Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 13 NMSA 1978] or the Special Fuels Supplier Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 16A NMSA 1978] shall pay a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each late report. This penalty shall be in addition to other applicable penalties.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 109, § 1; 2007, ch. 45, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective January 1, 2008, added "wholesaler, retailer or rack operator".

7-1-69.2. Civil penalty for failure to correctly file certain deductions.

In the case of a taxpayer that deducts gross receipts pursuant to Section 7-9-92 or 7-9-93 NMSA 1978 instead of deducting or exempting gross receipts pursuant to another applicable provision of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978] as required by those sections, there shall be assessed a penalty on the taxpayer in an amount equal to twenty percent of the value of the hold harmless distribution resulting from the incorrect deduction.

7-1-70. Civil penalty for bad checks.

If any payment required to be made by provision of the Tax Administration Act is attempted to be made by check that is not paid upon presentment, such dishonor is presumptive of negligence. The penalty shall never be less than ten dollars ($10.00). This penalty is in addition to any other penalty imposed by law.

7-1-71.1. Tax return preparers; requirements; penalties.

A. The secretary may require by regulation any tax return preparer with respect to any return of income tax or claim for refund with respect to income tax to sign such return or claim for refund.

B. The secretary may require by regulation any tax return preparer with respect to any return of income tax or claim for refund with respect to income tax to furnish the tax return preparer's identification number on such return or claim for refund.

C. Any tax return preparer with respect to any return of income tax or claim for refund with respect to income tax who is required by regulations promulgated by the secretary to sign a return or claim for refund or to furnish an identification number on such return or claim for refund and who fails to sign such return or claim for refund or to furnish an identification number on such return or claim for refund shall pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for such failure unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect.

D. Any tax return preparer who endorses or otherwise negotiates, either directly or through an agent, any warrant in respect of the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] issued to a taxpayer, other than the tax return preparer, shall pay a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) with respect to each such warrant; provided that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply with respect to the deposit by a bank, savings and loan association, credit union or other financial corporation of the full amount of the warrant in the taxpayer's account for the benefit of the taxpayer.

E. For the purposes of this section, any penalty determined to be due shall be considered to be tax due.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 14 repealed 7-1-71.2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2004, ch. 116, § 3, relating to the penalty for incorrect reporting of food deduction or health care practitioner services, effective July 1, 2007. For provisions of former section, see the 2006 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-1-71.3. Willful failure to collect and pay over taxes.

A. A person who is required to collect, account for and pay over a tax imposed by the state and who willfully, with the intent to defraud, fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over the tax due to the state is guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisoned for a period of not less than six months and not more than three years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

B. As used in this section:

- (1) "tax" does not include civil penalties or interest; and
- (2) "willfully" means intentionally, deliberately or purposely, but not necessarily maliciously.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 108, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 108 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-1-71.4. Tax return preparer; electronic filing requirement; penalty.

A. In taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008, a tax return preparer who prepares over twenty-five personal income tax returns for a taxable year shall ensure that each return is submitted to the department by a department-approved electronic media, unless a person for whom the preparer files a return requests, in a form prescribed by the department, that the return be filed by other means in accordance with department rule.

B. A tax return preparer shall pay to the department a penalty not to exceed five dollars ($5.00) for each tax return filed in violation of this section.

7-1-72. Attempts to evade or defeat tax.

Any person who willfully attempts to evade or defeat any tax or the payment thereof is, in addition to other penalties provided by law, guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or imprisoned not less than one year nor more than five years, or both such fine and imprisonment, together with the costs of prosecution.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-13-85, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 248, § 73.

ANNOTATIONS

Prior assessment not needed. — This section covers all willful attempts to evade taxes, including willful failure to file returns if that results in evasion of taxes and willful failure to pay taxes required by law if that is motivated by an attempt to evade. There need not be a prior assessment of taxes before a defendant may be convicted of evasion of taxes. State v. Long, 1996-NMCA-011, 121 N.M. 333, 911 P.2d 227.

7-1-73. Tax fraud.

A. A person is guilty of tax fraud if the person:

(1) willfully makes and subscribes any return, statement or other document that contains or is verified by a written declaration that it is true and correct as to every material matter and that the person does not believe it to be true and correct as to every material matter;

(2) willfully assists in, willfully procures, willfully advises or willfully provides counsel regarding the preparation or presentation of a return, affidavit, claim or other document pursuant to or in connection with any matter arising under the Tax Administration Act or a tax administered by the department, knowing that it is fraudulent or knowing that it is false as to a material matter, whether or not that fraud or falsity is with knowledge or consent of:

- (a) the taxpayer or other person liable for taxes owed on the return; or
- (b) a person who signs a document stating that the return, affidavit, claim or other document is true, correct and complete to the best of that person's knowledge;
- (3) files any return electronically, knowing the information in the return is not true and correct as to every material matter;
- (4) with intent to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, or, knowing that the probable consequences of the person's act will be to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, removes, conceals or releases any property on which levy is authorized or that is liable for payment of tax under the provisions of Section 7-1-61 NMSA 1978, or aids in accomplishing or causes the accomplishment of any of the foregoing;
- (5) with intent to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, or, knowing that the probable consequences of the person's act will be to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, purchases, installs or uses any sales suppression software; or
- (6) with the intent to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, or, knowing that the probable consequences of the person's act will be to evade or defeat the payment or collection of any tax, sells, licenses, purchases, installs, transfers, sells as a service, manufactures, develops or possesses any sales suppression software with the purpose to defeat or evade the payment or collection of any tax.

B. Whoever commits tax fraud when the amount of the tax owed is two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or less is guilty of a petty misdemeanor and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-19-1 NMSA 1978.

C. Whoever commits tax fraud when the amount of the tax owed is over two hundred fifty dollars ($250) but not more than five hundred dollars ($500) is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-19-1 NMSA 1978.

D. Whoever commits tax fraud when the amount of the tax owed is over five hundred dollars ($500) but not more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) is guilty of a fourth degree felony and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978.

E. Whoever commits tax fraud when the amount of the tax owed is over two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) but not more than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) is guilty of a third degree felony and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978.

F. Whoever commits tax fraud when the amount of the tax owed is over twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) is guilty of a second degree felony and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978.

G. In addition to the fines imposed pursuant to this section, a person who commits tax fraud shall pay the costs of the prosecution of the person's case.

H. As used in this section:

(1) "sales suppression software" means hidden or concealed computer software, also known as phantomware, for a point-of-sale system that can create a second set of records or eliminate or manipulate transaction records that may or may not be preserved in digital formats in order to misrepresent the existence or the true record of a transaction in the point-of-sale system. "Sales suppression software" includes an electronic device that carries or contains sales suppression software;

(2) "tax" does not include civil penalties or interest; and

(3) "willfully" means intentionally, deliberately or purposely, but not necessarily maliciously.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, provided that evading or defeating a tax with sales suppression software constitutes tax fraud, and defined "sales suppression software"; in Subsection A, added Paragraphs A(5) and A(6); and in Subsection H, added a new Paragraph H(1) and redesignated former Paragraphs H(1) and H(2) as Paragraphs H(2) and H(3), respectively.

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, changed the crime from "false statement and fraud" to "tax fraud" in Subsection A; deleted the former provision at the end of Paragraph (4) of Subsection A, which provided that a violation of Subsection A was a felony; added Subsections B through F to provide a schedule for sentencing for different degrees of tax fraud; and added Subsection G to provide that in addition to fines, a person who commits tax fraud shall pay the cost of prosecution.

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, added Subsection A(2) to provide that a person is guilty of a felony if the person willfully acts in the preparation or presentation of a document with respect to a matter under the Tax Administration Act or a tax administered by the taxation and revenue department knowing that it is false or fraudulent; deleted from Subsection A(4) the statement of the penalty for conviction of a felony under this section; and added Subsection B to provide definitions of "tax" and "willfully".

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, added Subsection B, redesignated former Subsection B as Subsection C, and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A, substituted "that it is true and correct as to every material matter and which the individual or person does not" for "that it is made under the penalties of perjury and which he does not".

7-1-82. Transfer, assignment, sale, lease or renewal of liquor license.

A. The director of the alcoholic beverage control division of the regulation and licensing department shall not allow the transfer, assignment, lease or sale of any liquor license pursuant to the provisions of the Liquor Control Act [60-3A-1 NMSA 1978] until the director receives written notification from the secretary or secretary's delegate that:

(1) the licensee or any person authorized to use the license is not a delinquent taxpayer as provided in Section 7-1-16 NMSA 1978 only with respect to the liquor excise tax or the gross receipts tax; or

(2) the transferee, assignee, buyer or lessee has entered into a written agreement with the secretary or secretary's delegate in which the transferee, assignee, buyer or lessee has assumed full liability for payment of all taxes due or that may become due from the licensee with respect to the liquor excise tax or the gross receipts tax.

B. The director of the alcoholic beverage control division of the regulation and licensing department shall not allow the renewal of any liquor license pursuant to the provisions of the Liquor Control Act until the director receives notification from the secretary or secretary's delegate that on a certain date:

(1) the licensee is not a delinquent taxpayer as provided in Section 7-1-16 NMSA 1978 only with respect to the liquor excise tax or the gross receipts tax; and

(2) there are no unfiled tax returns due from the licensee with respect to the liquor excise tax or the gross receipts tax.

7-1-83. Business and employee status during disaster response period.

A. An out-of-state business that conducts operations within the state for purposes of performing disaster- or emergency-related work in response to a declared state disaster or emergency during the disaster response period shall not be considered to have established a level of presence that would require that business to register, file or remit state or local taxes or fees, including gross receipts taxes or property tax on equipment brought into the state temporarily for use during the disaster response period and subsequently removed from the state. For purposes of any state or local tax on or measured by, in whole or in part, net or gross income or receipts, all activity of the out-of-state business that is conducted in this state pursuant to this section shall be disregarded with respect to any filing requirements for such tax, including the filing required for a unitary or combined group of which the out-of-state business may be a part. For the purpose of apportioning income, revenue or receipts, the performance by an out-of-state business of any work in accordance with this section shall not be sourced to or otherwise impact or increase the amount of income, revenue or receipts apportioned to this state.

B. An out-of-state employee shall not be considered to have established residency or a presence in the state that would require that person or that person's employer to file and pay income taxes or to be subjected to tax withholdings or to file and pay any other state or local tax or fee during the disaster response period. This includes any related state or local employer withholding and remittance obligations but does not include any transaction taxes or fees pursuant to Subsection C of this section.

C. Out-of-state businesses and out-of-state employees shall be required to pay transaction taxes and fees, including fuel taxes or gross receipts taxes on materials or services consumed or used in the state subject to gross receipts tax, hotel taxes, car rental taxes or fees that the out-of-state affiliated business or out-of-state employee purchases for use or consumption in the state during the disaster response period, unless such taxes are otherwise exempted during a disaster response period.

D. An out-of-state business or out-of-state employee that remains in the state after the disaster response period will become subject to the state's normal standards for establishing residency or presence or doing business in the state and will therefore become responsible for any business or employee tax requirements that ensue.

E. As used in this section:

(1) "critical infrastructure" means property, equipment and related support facilities that service multiple customers or residents, including real and personal property such as buildings, offices, lines, poles, pipes, structures and equipment that is owned or used by:

- (a) communications networks;
- (b) electric generation, transmission and distribution systems;
- (c) natural gas and natural gas liquids gathering, processing, storage, transmission and distribution systems;
- (d) crude oil and refined product pipelines; and
- (e) water pipelines;

(2) "declared state disaster or emergency" means a disaster or emergency event for which:

(a) a governor's state of emergency proclamation has been issued;

(b) a presidential declaration of a federal major disaster or emergency has been issued; or

(c) another authorized official of the state receives notification from a registered business of a disaster or emergency and that official designates the event as a declared state disaster or emergency, thereby invoking the provisions of this section;

(3) "disaster- or emergency-related work" means repairing, renovating, installing, building, rendering services or conducting other business activities that relate to critical infrastructure that has been damaged, impaired or destroyed by a declared state disaster or emergency;

(4) "disaster response period" means a period that begins ten days prior to the first day of the governor's proclamation, the president's declaration or the designation by another authorized official of the state of a declared state disaster or emergency and that extends sixty calendar days after the declared state disaster or emergency;

(5) "out-of-state business" means a business entity that, except for disaster- or emergency-related work, has no presence in the state and that conducts no business in the state and whose services are requested by a registered business or by a state or local government for purposes of performing disaster- or emergency-related work in the state. "Out-of-state business" includes a business entity that is affiliated with a registered business in the state solely through common ownership and that has no registrations or tax filings or nexus in the state other than disaster- or emergency-related work during the tax year immediately preceding the declared state disaster or emergency;

(6) "out-of-state employee" means an employee who does not work in the state, except for disaster- or emergency-related work during the disaster response period; and

(7) "registered business in the state" means a business entity that is currently registered to do business in the state prior to the declared state disaster or emergency.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2016, ch. 59 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective May 18, 2016, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-1-84. Tax expenditure budget.

A. No later than November 15 of each year, the secretary shall compile and present a tax expenditure budget to the governor, the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee and post the tax expenditure budget to the department's website.

B. A tax expenditure budget shall include the following information for each tax expenditure of a tax administered by the department:

- (1) the statutory basis;
- (2) the year of enactment, amendment or repeal, if any;
- (3) a brief description;
- (4) the intended purpose, if specified in the law providing for the tax expenditure;
- (5) an estimate of the amount of foregone revenue by fiscal year for the three fiscal years preceding the current fiscal year, including the general fund, other state funds and local government revenues;
- (6) the number of taxpayers that claimed a tax expenditure for each fiscal year reported, unless reporting of such data is in a form that can be associated with or otherwise identify, directly or indirectly, a particular taxpayer;
- (7) the data source used for the estimate;
- (8) a description of the reliability of the estimate;
- (9) an evaluation of the tax expenditure, if required in statute for the specific expenditure; and
- (10) a description of the tax expenditure's effect on tax administration, if any.

C. The department may request from an executive agency or a local government agency or official the information necessary to complete a tax expenditure budget required by this section. The agency or official shall comply with a request made pursuant to this section by the department as permitted by law.

D. As used in this section, "tax expenditure" means a provision of law administered by the department to reflect state tax policy, as determined by the secretary, including promoting the general welfare of citizens, giving preferential tax treatment to a specific industry or reflecting a specific purpose, including incentivizing consumer behavior, economic development or job creation. A tax expenditure does not include provisions of laws enacted to prevent violation of state or federal law, prevent federal preemption, ensure comity between governments, avoid multiple taxation or define a tax base.

ARTICLE 1B Administrative Hearings Office

7-1B-1. Short title.

Chapter 7, Article 1B NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Administrative Hearings Office Act".

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 1; 2019, ch. 157, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, changed "Sections 1 through 9 of this act" to "Chapter 7, Article 1B NMSA 1978".

7-1B-2. Administrative hearings office; created.

The "administrative hearings office" is created and is administratively attached pursuant to the provisions of Section 9-1-7 NMSA 1978 to the department of finance and administration.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 38 made the Administrative Hearings Office Act, §§ 7-1B-1 through 7-1B-9 NMSA 1978, effective July 1, 2015.

7-1B-3. Chief hearing officer; appointment.

The head of the administrative hearings office is the "chief hearing officer", who shall be appointed for a term of six years, except that the initial term shall begin on July 1, 2015 and shall end on December 31, 2015. The chief hearing officer may be reappointed to successive terms. An appointed chief hearing officer shall serve and have all the duties, responsibilities and authority of that office during the period of time prior to appointment of a new chief hearing officer. The initial chief hearing officer shall be the person who is the chief of the hearings bureau [administrative hearings office] of the taxation and revenue department on July 1, 2015. The chief hearing officer shall be removed only for malfeasance, misfeasance or abuse of office.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided that on July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 38 made Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 3 effective July 1, 2015.

7-1B-4. Chief hearing officer selection committee; duties.

A. The "chief hearing officer selection committee" is created and consists of nine members, including:

- (1) four members who are selected by the New Mexico legislative council, no more than two of whom are from the same political party;
- (2) four members who are selected by the governor, no more than two of whom are from the same political party; and
- (3) a committee chair, whom a majority of the other eight members select and who is:
 - (a) not a candidate for the position of chief hearing officer; and
 - (b) either a former chief of the hearings bureau [administrative hearings office] of the taxation and revenue department, a former chief hearing officer or another person with extensive knowledge of the tax law.

B. The chief hearing officer selection committee shall meet exclusively for the purpose of nominating persons to fill a current or impending vacancy in the position of chief hearing officer of the administrative hearings office. The committee shall actively solicit, accept and evaluate applications for the position of chief hearing officer and may require applicants to submit any information that the committee deems relevant to the consideration of applications. Within ninety days before the date on which the term of a chief hearing officer ends or no later than thirty days after the occurrence of a vacancy in the chief hearing officer position, the chief hearing officer selection committee shall convene and, within thirty days after convening, submit to the governor the names of persons who:

- (1) are attorneys licensed to practice law in New Mexico or another state;
- (2) have knowledge of the tax law and substantial experience making the record in an administrative hearing suitable for judicial review; and
- (3) are recommended for appointment to the position by a majority of the committee.

C. Immediately after receiving nominations for chief hearing officer, the governor may make one request of the committee for submission of additional names. The committee shall promptly submit those additional names if a majority of the committee finds that additional persons would be qualified and recommends those persons for appointment as chief hearing officer. The governor shall fill a vacancy or appoint a successor to fill an impending vacancy in the office of chief hearing officer within thirty days after receiving final nominations from the committee by appointing one of the persons nominated by the committee.

D. The chief hearing officer selection committee is administratively attached pursuant to the provisions of Section 9-1-7 NMSA 1978 to the department of finance and administration.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 36 provided that on July 1, 2015, all references in statute to the hearings bureau of the office of the secretary of taxation and revenue or hearing officers of the taxation and revenue department in Chapters 7 and 66 NMSA 1978 shall be deemed to be references to the administrative hearings office or a hearing officer of the office.

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 38 made Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 4 effective July 1, 2015.

7-1B-5. Chief hearing officer; powers and duties; employees of the office.

A. The chief hearing officer may:

- (1) adopt and promulgate rules pertaining to administrative hearings; and

(2) subject to appropriations, hire and contract for such professional, technical and support staff as needed to carry out the functions of the administrative hearings office; provided that such hiring and contracting be without regard to party affiliation and solely on the grounds of competence and fitness to perform the duties of the position. Employees of the administrative hearings office, except the chief hearing officer, are subject to the provisions of the Personnel Act [Chapter 10, Article 9 NMSA 1978].

B. The chief hearing officer shall:

(1) oversee the administrative hearings office; and

(2) considering the knowledge and experience of particular hearing officers, efficiency in the hearing process and potential conflicts of interest, assign and distribute the work of the office.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 38 made Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 5 effective July 1, 2015.

7-1B-6. Hearing officer code of conduct; independence.

A. The chief hearing officer shall:

(1) adopt and promulgate a hearing officer code of conduct; and

(2) annually, evaluate each hearing officer's performance for competency, efficiency and professional demeanor in accord with relevant legal standards and the hearing officer code of conduct, including through the use of a survey of practitioners who appear before the hearing officer.

B. The chief hearing officer shall ensure that each hearing officer has decisional independence; however, the chief hearing officer may:

(1) consult with a hearing officer about a genuine question of law; and

(2) review with a hearing officer any issue on appeal addressed by a court of this state.

C. The administrative hearings office shall:

(1) hear all tax protests pursuant to the provisions of the Tax Administration Act;

- (2) hear property tax protests pursuant to the provisions of the Property Tax Code;
- (3) hear all certificate-denial protests pursuant to the provisions of Section 13-1-22 NMSA 1978;
- (4) conduct all adjudicatory hearings pursuant to the Motor Vehicle Code;
- (5) conduct all driver's license revocation hearings pursuant to the provisions of the Implied Consent Act;
- (6) make and preserve a complete record of all proceedings; and
- (7) maintain confidentiality regarding taxpayer information as required by Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978.

D. In hearings conducted in accordance with the Tax Administration Act, Section 13-1-22 NMSA 1978 and the Motor Vehicle Code:

(1) the Rules of Evidence do not apply. The hearing officer may require reasonable substantiation of statements or records tendered, the accuracy or truth of which is in reasonable doubt, to rule on the admissibility of evidence. A taxpayer or the taxation and revenue department may request a written ruling on a contested question of evidence in a matter in which the taxpayer has filed a written protest and for which that protest is pending. The administrative hearings office shall issue a copy of its written ruling to the department at the time the ruling is issued to the taxpayer;

(2) the Rules of Civil Procedure for the District Courts do not apply. The hearing officer shall conduct a hearing to allow the ample and fair presentation of complaints and defenses. The hearing officer shall hear arguments, permit discovery, entertain and dispose of motions, require written expositions of the case as the circumstances justify and render a decision in accordance with the law and the evidence presented and admitted. A taxpayer or the taxation and revenue department may request a written ruling on a contested question of procedure in a matter in which the taxpayer has filed a written protest and for which that protest is pending. The administrative hearings office shall issue a copy of its written ruling to the department at the time the ruling is issued to the taxpayer; and

(3) the hearing officer may administer oaths and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of relevant books and papers, and for hearings conducted for a license suspension pursuant to Section 66-5-30 NMSA 1978, the hearing officer may require a reexamination of the licensee.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 6; 2019, ch. 157, § 7.

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, required the chief hearing officer to annually evaluate each hearing officer's performance, including through the use of a survey of practitioners; and in Subsection A, Paragraph A(2), deleted "periodically" and added "annually", and after "officer code of conduct", added "including through the use of a survey of practitioners who appear before the hearing officer".

7-1B-7. Certain actions prohibited.

A hearing officer shall not:

A. engage or participate in any way in the enforcement or formulation of general tax policy other than to conduct hearings. A taxpayer or the taxation and revenue department may request that the chief hearing officer determine whether a hearing officer has engaged or participated in the enforcement or formulation of general tax policy and whether that engagement or participation affects the hearing officer's impartiality in a particular matter. To avoid actual or apparent prejudice, the chief hearing officer may designate another hearing officer for the matter; and

B. engage in ex-parte communications concerning the substantive issues of any matter that has been protested while that matter is pending. If the chief hearing officer determines that a hearing officer has engaged in prohibited ex-parte communications, the chief hearing officer shall designate another hearing officer for that matter.

7-1B-8. Tax protests; procedures.

A. Upon timely receipt of a tax protest filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978, the taxation and revenue department shall promptly acknowledge the protest by letter to the protesting taxpayer or the taxpayer's representative. If the department determines that the protest has not been filed in accordance with that section, the department shall, within twenty-one days of receipt of the protest, inform the taxpayer of the deficiency and provide the taxpayer, within twenty-one days of the taxpayer being informed, one opportunity to correct it. If the taxpayer corrects the deficiency, the protest shall be considered timely if the initial protest was filed within ninety days in accordance with Subsection D of Section 7-1-24

NMSA 1978. A determination by the department that a protest has not been filed in accordance with that section may be protested by the taxpayer.

B. Within one hundred eighty days, but no earlier than sixty days after the date of the protest, the taxation and revenue department shall request a hearing with the administrative hearings office. A taxpayer may request in writing an informal conference with the department within sixty days after the date of the protest, and the department shall conduct the requested informal conference within thirty days of the receipt of the request. Whether or not a taxpayer requests an informal conference with the department, a taxpayer may request a hearing with the administrative hearings office no earlier than sixty days from the date of the protest.

C. The taxation and revenue department shall include with its request for a hearing an answer to the protest describing the legal and factual bases supporting the department's position beyond an assertion of the presumption of correctness and articulating the remaining protested issues.

D. In the event the taxpayer first requests a hearing with the administrative hearings office, the taxation and revenue department shall, within thirty days of service of the taxpayer's request for a hearing, file its answer to the protest describing the legal and factual bases supporting the department's position beyond an assertion of the presumption of correctness. The department may amend its answer to the protest up until ten days before the scheduled hearing or other deadline specified in a controlling scheduling order; provided that if the administrative hearings office determines that the department's amended answer unfairly prejudices the taxpayer, the administrative hearings office may disallow the amended answer. The hearing shall be limited to the grounds provided in the taxpayer's protest letter and in the department's answer to the protest.

E. If the hearing officer finds that the taxation and revenue department failed to comply with the deadlines set forth in Subsections A and B of this section, the hearing officer may order that no further interest may accrue on the protested liability.

F. If the taxpayer files the request for a hearing, the chief hearing officer shall set a hearing to take place within ninety days of the taxation and revenue department's answer to the protest, but in no case later than one hundred twenty days after the taxpayer's request for a hearing. If the department files the request for hearing with the answer to the protest, the chief hearing officer shall set a hearing to take place within ninety days of that request. Absent a conflict of interest requiring the assigned hearing officer to recuse from the case pursuant to the administrative hearings office code of conduct or an unforeseen emergency circumstance such as an accident, unexpected medical condition or illness, or vacancy of the position of the assigned hearing officer, the chief hearing officer shall not reassign a hearing officer to a case without giving the department and the taxpayer notice of that reassignment at least fourteen days before the hearing. Either party may, within ten days of notice of hearing assigning a hearing officer or notice of reassignment of a hearing officer, exercise one time the peremptory right to excuse the hearing officer designated to conduct the hearing; provided that the party has not moved for a discretionary ruling from the assigned hearing officer, nor previously exercised its right of peremptory excusal. Once a hearing officer has been peremptorily excused, that hearing officer shall not be assigned to the case again.

G. The administrative hearings office shall rule on a dispositive motion, including a motion for summary judgment, a motion for partial summary judgment or a motion to dismiss, filed by the taxation and revenue department or the taxpayer at least thirty days before the hearing unless the parties consent to a different deadline in a scheduling order.

H. A taxpayer may appear at the hearing on the taxpayer's own behalf, may appear through a bona fide employee or may be represented by an attorney, a certified public accountant, an employee of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm whose authorization by the firm and by the taxpayer to appear is evidenced in writing or an enrolled agent. An attorney, a certified public accountant, an employee of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm or an enrolled agent shall abide by their respective controlling professional or ethical standards of conduct at all stages of the administrative proceeding before the administrative hearings office. If the taxation and revenue department and the taxpayer agree, the hearing may be conducted via videoconference. At the beginning of the hearing, the hearing officer shall inform the taxpayer of the taxpayer's right to representation. A hearing shall be closed to the public except upon request of the taxpayer. A hearing officer may postpone or continue a hearing at the hearing officer's discretion. As used in this subsection, "enrolled agent" means a federally licensed tax practitioner with unlimited rights to represent taxpayers before the internal revenue service.

I. Within thirty days after the hearing, the hearing officer shall inform the taxation and revenue department and the taxpayer in writing of the decision and, in accordance with Section 7-1-25 NMSA 1978, of the aggrieved party's right to, and the requirements for perfection of, an appeal from the decision to the court of appeals and of the consequences of a failure to appeal. The written decision shall embody:

(1) an order granting or denying the relief requested or granting or denying a part of the relief requested, as appropriate; and

(2) findings of fact and law and a thorough discussion of the reasoning used to support the order with citations to the record and applicable law.

J. A taxpayer with two or more protests containing related issues may request that the protests be combined and heard jointly. The hearing officer shall grant the request to combine protests unless it would create an unreasonable burden on the administrative hearings office or the taxation and revenue department.

K. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a criminal proceeding or to authorize an administrative protest of the issuance of a subpoena or summons.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 73, § 8; 2019, ch. 157, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, revised the procedures for tax protests; in Subsection A, after "in accordance with that section", deleted "7-1-24 NMSA 1978", added "within twenty-one days of receipt of the protest", after "deficiency and", deleted "the" and added "provide the taxpayer, within twenty-one days of the taxpayer being informed, one", deleted "Within forty-five days after receipt of a protest filed pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978 that has not been resolved, the taxation and revenue department shall request from the administrative hearings office a hearing and shall send to the office a copy of the protest. The chief hearing officer shall promptly designate a hearing officer and shall set a date for a hearing to take place within ninety days after receipt of a protest filed pursuant to Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978" and added "If the taxpayer corrects the deficiency, the protest shall be considered timely if the initial protest was filed within ninety days in accordance with Subsection D of Section 7-1-24 NMSA 1978. A determination by the department that a protest has not been filed in accordance with that section may be protested by the taxpayer."; added new Subsections B through G and redesignated former Subsections B through E as Subsections H through K, respectively; in Subsection H, after "certified public accountant", added "an employee of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm whose authorization by the firm and by the taxpayer to appear is evidenced in writing", deleted "with respect only to tax imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act, a person who is", after "enrolled agent", deleted "for federal income tax purposes" and added "An attorney, a certified public accountant, an employee of a New Mexico licensed certified public accounting firm or an enrolled agent shall abide by their respective controlling professional or ethical standards of conduct at all stages of the administrative proceeding before the administrative hearings office.", and added the last sentence of the subsection; and in Subsection I, added Paragraph I(2).

7-1B-9. Motor vehicle administrative hearings; procedures.

A. A person may dispute the denial of or failure to either allow or deny a license, permit, placard or registration provided for in the Motor Vehicle Code [Chapter 66, Articles 1 through 8 NMSA 1978]. Upon timely receipt of a protest, the chief hearing officer shall promptly designate a hearing officer to conduct a hearing and shall set a date for the hearing. On that date, the hearing officer shall hear the protest.

B. A person may appear at a hearing set pursuant to the provisions of Subsection A of this section for the person's self or be represented by a bona fide employee or an attorney. A hearing shall not be open to the public except if held pursuant to the provisions of the Implied Consent Act [66-8-105 to 66-8-112 NMSA 1978] or upon request of the person. A hearing officer may postpone or continue a hearing.

C. At the beginning of the hearing, the hearing officer shall inform the person of the person's right to representation. Within thirty days after the hearing, the hearing officer shall inform the protestant in writing of the decision and of the protestant's right to, and the requirements for perfection of, an appeal from the decision to the district court and of the consequences of a failure to appeal. The written decision shall embody an order granting or denying the relief requested or granting such part of the relief requested, as appropriate.

D. If the protestant or the secretary of taxation and revenue is dissatisfied with the decision and order of the hearing officer, the party may appeal pursuant to the provisions of Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978.

E. No court of this state has jurisdiction to entertain a proceeding by any person in which the person calls into question the application to that person of any provision of the Motor Vehicle Code, except as a consequence of the appeal by that person to the district court from the action and order of the hearing officer as provided for in this section.

F. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a criminal proceeding or to authorize an administrative protest of the issuance of a subpoena or summons.

7-2-2. Definitions.

For the purpose of the Income Tax Act and unless the context requires otherwise:

A. "adjusted gross income" means adjusted gross income as defined in Section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

B. "base income":

(1) means, for estates and trusts, that part of the estate's or trust's income defined as taxable income and upon which the federal income tax is calculated in the Internal Revenue Code for income tax purposes plus:

(a) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, the amount of the net operating loss deduction allowed by Section 172(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, and taken by the taxpayer for that year; and

(b) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, an amount equal to the amount of credit claimed and allowed for that year pursuant to Section 7-3A-10 NMSA 1978 with respect to the distributed net income of a pass-through entity;

(2) means, for taxpayers other than estates or trusts, that part of the taxpayer's income defined as adjusted gross income plus:

(a) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, the amount of the net operating loss deduction allowed by Section 172(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, and taken by the taxpayer for that year; and

(b) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, an amount equal to the amount of credit claimed and allowed for that year pursuant to Section 7-3A-10 NMSA 1978 with respect to the distributed net income of a pass-through entity;

(3) includes, for all taxpayers, any other income of the taxpayer not included in adjusted gross income but upon which a federal tax is calculated pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code for income tax purposes, except amounts for which a calculation of tax is made pursuant to Section 55 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered; "base income" also includes interest received on a state or local bond;

(4) includes, for all taxpayers, an amount deducted pursuant to Section 7-2-32 NMSA 1978 in a prior taxable year if:

(a) such amount is transferred to another qualified tuition program, as defined in Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code, not authorized in the Education Trust Act; or

(b) a distribution or refund is made for any reason other than: 1) to pay for federally allowable qualified higher education expenses, set out in Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code, including other expenses allowed pursuant to that section as qualified expenses; or 2) upon the beneficiary's death, disability or receipt of a scholarship; and

(5) excludes, for a taxpayer who conducts a lawful business pursuant to the laws of the state, an amount equal to any expenditure that is eligible to be claimed as a federal income tax deduction but is disallowed by Section 280E of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

C. "compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

D. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

E. "fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, committee, conservator, receiver, individual or corporation acting in any fiduciary capacity;

F. "filing status" means "married filing joint returns", "married filing separate returns", "head of household", "surviving spouse" and "single", as those terms are generally defined for federal tax purposes;

G. "fiscal year" means any accounting period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December;

H. "head of household" means "head of household" as generally defined for federal income tax purposes;

I. "individual" means a natural person, an estate, a trust or a fiduciary acting for a natural person, trust or estate;

J. "Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

K. "lump-sum amount" means, for the purpose of determining liability for federal income tax, an amount that was not included in adjusted gross income but upon which the five-year-averaging or the ten-year-averaging method of tax computation provided in Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, was applied;

L. "modified gross income" means all income of the taxpayer and, if any, the taxpayer's spouse and dependents, undiminished by losses and from whatever source, including:

(1) compensation;

- (2) net profit from business;
- (3) gains from dealings in property;
- (4) interest;
- (5) net rents;
- (6) royalties;
- (7) dividends;
- (8) alimony and separate maintenance payments;
- (9) annuities;
- (10) income from life insurance and endowment contracts;
- (11) pensions;
- (12) discharge of indebtedness;
- (13) distributive share of partnership income;
- (14) income in respect of a decedent;
- (15) income from an interest in an estate or a trust;
- (16) social security benefits;
- (17) unemployment compensation benefits;
- (18) workers' compensation benefits;
- (19) public assistance and welfare benefits;
- (20) cost-of-living allowances; and
- (21) gifts;

M. "modified gross income" excludes:

- (1) payments for hospital, dental, medical or drug expenses to or on behalf of the taxpayer;

(2) the value of room and board provided by federal, state or local governments or by private individuals or agencies based upon financial need and not as a form of compensation;

(3) payments pursuant to a federal, state or local government program directly or indirectly to a third party on behalf of the taxpayer when identified to a particular use or invoice by the payer; or

(4) payments for credits and rebates pursuant to the Income Tax Act and made for a credit pursuant to Section 7-3-9 NMSA 1978;

N. "net income" means, for estates and trusts, base income adjusted to exclude amounts that the state is prohibited from taxing because of the laws or constitution of this state or the United States and means, for taxpayers other than estates or trusts, base income adjusted to exclude:

(1) an amount equal to the standard deduction allowed the taxpayer for the taxpayer's taxable year by Section 63 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

(2) an amount equal to the itemized deductions defined in Section 63 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, allowed the taxpayer for the taxpayer's taxable year less the amount excluded pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection and less the amount of state and local income and sales taxes included in the taxpayer's itemized deductions;

(3) an amount equal to the product of the exemption amount allowed for the taxpayer's taxable year by Section 151 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, multiplied by the number of personal exemptions allowed for federal income tax purposes;

(4) income from obligations of the United States of America less expenses incurred to earn that income;

(5) other amounts that the state is prohibited from taxing because of the laws or constitution of this state or the United States;

(6) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2013, an amount equal to the sum of any net operating loss carryover deductions to that year claimed and allowed; provided that the amount of any net operating loss carryover may be excluded only as follows:

(a) in the case of a timely filed return, in the taxable year immediately following the taxable year for which the return is filed; or

(b) in the case of amended returns or original returns not timely filed, in the first taxable year beginning after the date on which the return or amended return establishing the net operating loss is filed; and

(c) in either case, if the net operating loss carryover exceeds the amount of net income exclusive of the net operating loss carryover for the taxable year to which the exclusion first applies, in the next nineteen succeeding taxable years in turn until the net operating loss carryover is exhausted for any net operating loss carryover from a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2013; in no event shall a net operating loss carryover from a taxable year beginning: 1) prior to January 1, 2013 be excluded in any taxable year after the fourth taxable year beginning after the taxable year to which the exclusion first applies; and 2) on or after January 1, 2013 be excluded in any taxable year after the nineteenth taxable year beginning after the taxable year to which the exclusion first applies; and

(7) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011, an amount equal to the amount included in adjusted gross income that represents a refund of state and local income and sales taxes that were deducted for federal tax purposes in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010;

O. "net operating loss" means any net operating loss, as defined by Section 172(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, for a taxable year as further increased by the income, if any, from obligations of the United States for that year less related expenses;

P. "net operating loss carryover" means the amount, or any portion of the amount, of a net operating loss for any taxable year that, pursuant to Paragraph (6) of Subsection N of this section, may be excluded from base income;

Q. "nonresident" means every individual not a resident of this state;

R. "person" means any individual, estate, trust, receiver, cooperative association, club, corporation, company, firm, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, syndicate or other association; "person" also means, to the extent permitted by law, any federal, state or other governmental unit or subdivision or agency, department or instrumentality thereof;

S. "resident" means an individual who is domiciled in this state during any part of the taxable year or an individual who is physically present in this state for one hundred eighty-five days or more during the taxable year; but any individual, other than someone who was physically present in the state for one hundred eighty-five days or more during the taxable year, who, on or before the last day of the taxable year, changed the individual's place of abode to a place without this state with the bona fide intention of continuing actually to abide permanently without this state is not a resident for the purposes of the Income Tax Act for periods after that change of abode;

T. "secretary" means the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's delegate;

U. "state" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States or any political subdivision of a foreign country;

V. "state or local bond" means a bond issued by a state other than New Mexico or by a local government other than one of New Mexico's political subdivisions, the interest from which is excluded from income for federal income tax purposes under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

W. "surviving spouse" means "surviving spouse" as generally defined for federal income tax purposes;

X. "taxable income" means net income less any lump-sum amount;

Y. "taxable year" means the calendar year or fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income is computed under the Income Tax Act and includes, in the case of the return made for a fractional part of a year under the provisions of the Income Tax Act, the period for which the return is made; and

Z. "taxpayer" means any individual subject to the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act.

Cross references. — For Sections 55, 62, 63, 103, 151, 172, and 402 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. §§ 55, 62, 63, 103, 151, 172, and 402 respectively.

2023 Multiple Amendments. — Laws 2023, ch. 17, § 1 and Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 1, both effective June 16, 2023, enacted different amendments to this section that can be reconciled. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978, Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 1 as the last act signed by the governor is set out above and incorporates both amendments. The amendments enacted by Laws 2023, ch. 17, § 1 and Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 1 are described below. To view the session laws in their entirety, see the 2023 session laws on NMOneSource.com.

The nature of the difference between the amendments is that Laws 2023, ch. 17, § 1, revised the definition of "base income", and Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 1, revised the definitions of "base income" and "net income".

Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 1, effective June 16, 2023, revised the definitions of "base income" and "net income"; in Subsection B, added Subparagraph B(1)(b) and Subparagraph B(2)(b); and in Subsection N, deleted former Paragraphs N(6) and N(7) and redesignated former Paragraphs N(8) and N(9) as Paragraphs N(6) and N(7), respectively.

Laws 2023, ch. 17, § 1, effective June 16, 2023, revised the definition of "base income"; and in Subsection B, Subparagraph B(4)(b), after "pay for", added "federally allowable", after "qualified higher education expenses", deleted "as defined pursuant to" and added "set out in", and added "including other expenses allowed pursuant to that section as qualified expenses".

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 5 provided that the provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 159 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

The 2021 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective June 29, 2021, excluded from the definition of "base income", as used in the Income Tax Act, an amount equal to any expenditure that is eligible to be claimed as a federal income tax deduction but is disallowed by Section 280E of the Internal Revenue Code for certain taxpayers; and in Subsection B, added Paragraph B(5).

The 2014 amendment, effective May 21, 2014, excluded net operating loss carryover from net income for twenty years; in Subsection N, in Paragraph (7), after the first and second instances of "January 1, 1991", added "and prior to January 1, 2013"; in Subsection N, in Paragraph (7), in Subparagraph (c), after "carryover is exhausted", added "for any net operating loss carryover from a taxable year prior to January 1, 2013", after "operating loss carryover", added "from a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 2013"; in Subsection N, added Paragraph (8), including Subparagraphs (a) through (c); and in Subsection P, after "Paragraph (6), (7)", added "or (8)".

Applicability. — Laws 2014, ch. 53, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2014, ch. 53, §§ 1 and 2 applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2013.

The 2010 (2nd S.S.) amendment, effective July 1, 2010, in Subsection N(2), after "Paragraph (1) of this subsection", added the remainder of the sentence; and added Paragraph (8) of Subsection N.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 7, § 12 provided that for the 2010 taxable year, a taxpayer is deemed to have complied with the provisions of Section 7-2-12.2 NMSA 1978 if the taxpayer has made the required annual payments of estimated taxes due for taxable year 2010 based on the definition of net income in Section 7-2-2 NMSA 1978 applicable prior to January 1, 2010.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, in Paragraph (4) of Subsection M, changed "pursuant to Sections 7-2-14, 7-2-18, 7-2-18.1" to "for credits and rebates pursuant to the Income Tax Act" and added "made for a credit pursuant to Section 7-3-9 NMSA 1978".

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, added Paragraph B(4); in Subsection K, deleted "an amount that" near the beginning, inserted "an amount that" following "federal income tax"; deleted "derived" near the end of Subsection L and in Paragraphs L(2) and (3); substituted "excludes" for "does not include" in Subsection M; deleted "whether made" following "or drug expenses" in Paragraph M(1); deleted "made" near the beginning of Paragraphs M(3) and (4); deleted "7-2-14.1" in Paragraph M(4); in Subsection S, substituted "or an individual who is physically present in this state for one hundred eighty-five days or more during the taxable year; but any individual, other than someone who was physically present in the state for one hundred eighty-five days or more during the taxable year," for "but any individual" preceding "who, on or", inserted "for periods after that change of abode" at the end.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, added the language beginning "in no event" at the end of Subparagraph (7)(c) of Subsection N and inserted "limited liability company" in Subsection R.

The 1991 amendment, effective June 14, 1991, rewrote Subsection B; deleted "or 'division'" following "'department'" in Subsection D; in Subsection M, substituted "or" for "and" at the end of Paragraph (3) and deleted reference to 7-2-15 NMSA 1978 in Paragraph (4); rewrote Subsection N; added present Subsections O, P and V; redesignated former Subsections O to S and T to W as present Subsections Q to U and W to Z, respectively; in present Subsection T, deleted "or 'director'" following "'secretary'"; and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection K.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, deleted former Subsection E which defined "director" as "the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's delegate"; redesignated former Subsections F to K as present Subsections E to J; substituted "a trust or a fiduciary" for "trust or fiduciary" in present Subsection I; inserted "of 1986" after "Code" in present Subsection J; added present Subsection K; in Subsection L; inserted "of the taxpayer and, if any, the taxpayer's spouse and dependents" and substituted "workers' " for "workmen's" in Paragraph (18); in Paragraph (1) of Subsection N, inserted "the greater of the basic standard deduction allowed the taxpayer for the taxpayer's taxable year by Section 63 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, or an amount equal to"; inserted the subparagraph designation "(a)"; redesignated former Paragraphs (2) to (4) of Subsection N as present Subparagraphs (b) to (d) of Paragraph (1) and deleted "an amount equal to" at the beginning of each of the redesignated subparagraphs; in Subsection N, redesignated former Paragraphs (5) to (7) as present Paragraphs (2) to (4), substituted "Paragraph (1) of this subsection" for "Paragraph (1), (2), (3) or (4) of this subsection" in present Paragraph (2), rewrote present Paragraph (3) which read "an amount equal to two thousand dollars ($2,000) multiplied by the number of personal exemptions allowed for federal income tax purposes"; inserted "or 'director' " in Subsection R; and added present Subsection U and redesignated former Subsections U and V as present Subsections V and W.

"Income". — Taxpayers' wages and salaries from employment constituted "income" for purposes of determining their tax liability. Holt v. N.M. Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 2002-NMSC-034, 133 N.M. 11, 59 P.3d 491.

"Resident" defined. — New Mexico "resident" is an individual domiciled in New Mexico at any time during the taxable year who does not intentionally change his domicile by the end of the year. Murphy v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1980-NMSC-012, 94 N.M. 54, 607 P.2d 592.

Basis of residence. — Definition of "resident" is based on both person's domicile and his intent. Murphy v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1980-NMSC-012, 94 N.M. 54, 607 P.2d 592.

State tax statutes may constitutionally refer to federal definitions. — A state has the power to gauge its income tax by reference to the income on which the taxpayer is required to pay a tax to the United States, and the constitutionality of state statutes which refer to the Internal Revenue Code definitions have been upheld. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Election to treat unrealized gain as federal income makes it state income. — When multistate corporate taxpayer elected to treat the cutting of certain timber as a sale or exchange, eligible for taxation at capital gains rates, even though the timber had not actually been sold, it was held that since its federal income tax was calculated by use of this gain, the gain was includable in its base income for New Mexico income tax purposes. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Gain may be included in apportionable income of multistate corporation. — New Mexico was not taxing on out-of-state activity where it included gain from the cutting of timber treated by the taxpayer as a sale or exchange for federal tax purposes in the apportionable business income of the corporation. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

7-2-3. Imposition and levy of tax.

A tax is imposed at the rates specified in the Income Tax Act upon the net income of every resident individual and upon the net income of every nonresident individual employed or engaged in the transaction of business in, into or from this state, or deriving any income from any property or employment within this state.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 4, effective June 29, 2020, provided:

A. Notwithstanding Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a taxpayer for:

(1) tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due April 15, 2020 through July 15, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid payments is made in full on or before April 15, 2021;

(2) tax liabilities pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021;

(3) gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts tax or compensating tax liabilities for failure to pay any of those taxes that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021; and

(4) tax liabilities assessed between September 3, 2019 and January 3, 2020 as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-11.1 NMSA 1978; provided that payment for those liabilities is made pursuant to terms of the managed audit agreement on or before December 31, 2020.

B. Notwithstanding Sections 7-38-49 and 7-38-50 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a property owner for unpaid property taxes that became due April 10, 2020 pursuant to Section 7-38-38 NMSA 1978; provided that:

(1) the unpaid property taxes did not become delinquent because of an intent to defraud by the property owner;

(2) payment for the unpaid property taxes is made in full on or before May 10, 2021; and

(3) the subject property does not have property taxes that became delinquent pursuant to Section 7-38-46 NMSA 1978 prior to May 10, 2020.

Constitutionality of tax on nonresidents. — The opportunity to exercise "intelligence, skill and labor while employed in the State of New Mexico" is a sufficient benefit to support imposition of state income tax on nonresident employees of a federal enclave. Lung v. O'Chesky, 1980-NMSC-104, 94 N.M. 802, 617 P.2d 1317.

Retirement income. — An income tax exemption granted to retirees of New Mexico state educational institutions, but not extended to retirees of California state educational institutions, does not discriminate against the federal government in violation of the doctrine of intergovernmental tax immunity (ITI) when the federal government funds the retirement accounts of the California state educational institution retirees. The same exemption does not discriminate against the sovereign State of California in violation of the ITI doctrine. Alarid v. Sec'y of Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 1994-NMCA-075, 118 N.M. 23, 878 P.2d 341, cert. denied, 118 N.M. 90, 879 P.2d 91, cert. denied, 513 U.S. 1081, 115 S.Ct. 733, 130 L.Ed.2d 636 (1994).

State taxes domiciliaries' net income and nondomiciliaries' property income. — New Mexico taxes the net income of all New Mexicans and all nondomiciliaries deriving income from property in New Mexico. Murphy v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1980-NMSC-012, 94 N.M. 54, 607 P.2d 592.

Income of Indians from activities on reservation exempt. — New Mexico may not tax income and gross receipts of Indians residing on a reservation when the income and gross receipts involved are derived solely from activities within the reservation. Hunt v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-026, 85 N.M. 381, 512 P.2d 954, cert. quashed, 85 N.M. 388, 512 P.2d 961.

Indian on other tribe's reservation may be taxed. — Income earned by Native Americans while living and working on reservations of which they are not tribal members is taxable by the state. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Greaves, 1993-NMCA-133, 116 N.M. 508, 864 P.2d 324.

State tax statutes may constitutionally refer to federal definitions. — A state has the power to gauge its income tax by reference to the income on which the taxpayer is required to pay a tax to the United States, and the constitutionality of state statutes which refer to the Internal Revenue Code definitions have been upheld. *Champion Int'l Corp. v. 7-2-4. Exemptions.

No income tax shall be imposed upon:

A. a trust organized or created in the United States and forming part of a stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries, which trust is exempt from taxation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code; or

B. religious, educational, benevolent or other organizations not organized for profit which are exempt from income taxation under the Internal Revenue Code except to the extent that such income is subject to federal income taxation as "unrelated business income" under the Internal Revenue Code.

7-2-5.2. Exemption; income of persons sixty-five and older or blind.

Any individual sixty-five years of age or older or who, for federal income tax purposes, is blind may claim an exemption in an amount specified in Subsections A through C of this section not to exceed eight thousand dollars ($8,000) of income includable except for this exemption in net income. Individuals having income both within and without this state shall apportion this exemption in accordance with regulations of the secretary:

A. for married individuals filing separate returns, for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1987:

If adjusted gross income is:	The maximum amount of exemption allowable under this section shall be:
Not over $15,000	$8,000
Over $15,000 but not over $16,500	$7,000
Over $16,500 but not over $18,000	$6,000
Over $18,000 but not over $19,500	$5,000
Over $19,500 but not over $21,000	$4,000

(a) two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500); less

(b) ten percent of the amount obtained by subtracting thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) from the adjusted gross income.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 5; 2007, ch. 45, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, in Subsection A, deleted the provision that individuals who have income in and out of the state shall apportion the exemption in accordance with regulations of the secretary; in Subsection B, changed $20,333 to $27,500; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection B, changed $12,000 to $15,000; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection B, changed the minimum from $12,000 to $15,000 and the maximum from $20,333 to $27,500; in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection B, changed $12,000 to $15,000; in Subsection C, changed $27,110 to $36,667; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, changed $16,000 to $20,000 and in Paragraph (2) of Subsection C, changed the maximum from $27,110 to $36,667; in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection C, changed $16,000 to $20,000; in Subsection D, changed $40,667 to $55,000; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection D, changed $24,000 to $30,000; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection D, changed the minimum from $24,000 to $30,000 and the maximum from $40,667 to $55,000; in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection D, changed $24,000 to $30,000; and deleted former Subsection E, which defined "federal exemption" as an exemption allowable for federal income tax purposes for an individual included in the return who is domiciled in New Mexico.

Applicability. — Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 15 provided that Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 8 applied to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007.

7-2-5.9. Exemption; unreimbursed or uncompensated medical care expenses of individuals sixty-five years of age or older.

A. Any individual sixty-five years of age or older may claim an additional exemption from income includable, except for this exemption, in net income in an amount equal to three thousand dollars ($3,000) for medical care expenses paid by the individual for that individual or for the individual's spouse or dependent during the taxable year if those medical care expenses exceed twenty-eight thousand dollars ($28,000) and if the medical care expenses are not reimbursed or compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

B. As used in this section:

(1) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "health care facility" means a hospital, outpatient facility, diagnostic and treatment center, rehabilitation center, freestanding hospice or other similar facility at which medical care is provided;

(3) "medical care" means the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body;

(4) "medical care expenses" means amounts paid for:

(a) the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body if provided by a physician or in a health care facility;

(b) prescribed drugs or insulin;

(c) qualified long-term care services as defined in Section 7702B(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(d) insurance covering medical care, including amounts paid as premiums under Part B of Title 18 of the Social Security Act or for a qualified long-term care insurance contract defined in Section 7702B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, if the insurance or other amount is paid from income included in the taxpayer's adjusted gross income for the taxable year;

(e) specialized treatment or the use of special therapeutic devices if the treatment or device is prescribed by a physician and the patient can show that the expense was incurred primarily for the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness; and

(f) care in an institution other than a hospital, such as a sanitarium or rest home, if the principal reason for the presence of the person in the institution is to receive the medical care available; provided that if the meals and lodging are furnished as a necessary part of such care, the cost of the meals and lodging are "medical care expenses";

(5) "physician" means a medical doctor, osteopathic physician, dentist, podiatrist, chiropractic physician or psychologist licensed or certified to practice in New Mexico; and

(6) "prescribed drug" means a drug or biological that requires a prescription of a physician for its use by an individual.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 29, made Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 6 effective January 1, 2006.

Applicability. — Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 29 provided that Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 6 applied to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007.

7-2-5.10. Exemption; New Mexico national guard member premiums paid for group life insurance.

An individual who receives reimbursement from the service members' life insurance reimbursement fund may claim an exemption in the amount of that reimbursement, from income includable, except for this exemption, in net income.

History: Laws 2006, ch. 50, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2006, ch. 50, § 3 made Laws 2006, ch. 50, § 1 effective March 2, 2006.

Applicability. — Laws 2006, ch. 50, § 2, effective March 2, 2006, provided that Laws 2006, ch. 50, § 1 applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

7-2-5.11. Exemption; armed forces salaries.

A salary paid by the United States to a taxpayer for active duty service in the armed forces of the United States is exempt from state income taxation.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 11.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 11, contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 15, 2007, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 15 provided that Laws 2007, ch. 45, §§ 7 through 11 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007.

Service in the United States public health service is not service in the armed forces. — Where taxpayer claimed a tax exemption for wages earned in the service of the United States public health service (USPHS) pursuant to this section, the hearing officer did not err in concluding that taxpayer was not in the "armed forces" for the relevant tax years and therefore did not qualify for the armed forces salaries exemption, because commissioned officers of the USPHS are not members of the "armed forces" as that term is defined in New Mexico state or federal statutes, and regulations defining "armed forces" do not modify this section of law, but were enacted to implement and enforce the New Mexico Income Tax Act. Hammack v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2017-NMCA-086, cert. denied.

7-2-5.12. Repealed.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 46, § 1; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 4 repealed 7-2-5.12 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2022, ch. 46, § 1, relating to exemption, income subject to entity-level tax, effective June 16, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-5.13. Exemption; armed forces retirement pay.

A. An individual who is an armed forces retiree may claim an exemption in the following amounts of military retirement pay includable, except for this exemption, in net income:

- (1) for taxable year 2022, ten thousand dollars ($10,000);
- (2) for taxable year 2023, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000); and
- (3) for taxable years 2024 through 2026, thirty thousand dollars ($30,000).

B. As used in this section, "armed forces retiree" means a former member of the armed forces of the United States who has qualified by years of service or disability to separate from military service with lifetime benefits.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 6 was effective May 18, 2022, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-2-5.13. Exemption; armed forces retirement pay. (Effective January 1, 2025.)

A. An individual who is an armed forces retiree or the surviving spouse of an armed forces retiree may claim an exemption in an amount equal to thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) of armed forces retirement pay includable, except for this exemption, in net income.

B. As used in this section, "armed forces retiree" means a former member of the armed forces of the United States who has qualified by years of service or disability to separate from military service with lifetime benefits.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 6; 2024, ch. 67, § 32.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective January 1, 2025, removed the sunset date on the armed forces retirement pay exemption, and allowed surviving spouses of armed forces retirees to claim the exemption; in Subsection A, after the first occurrence of "armed forces retiree", added "or the surviving spouse of an armed forces retiree", after "may claim an exemption in", deleted "in the following amounts" and added "an amount equal to thirty thousand dollars ($30,000)", after "of", deleted "military" and added "armed forces"; and deleted Paragraphs A(1) through A(3).

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2-5.14. Exemption; social security income.

An individual may claim an exemption in an amount equal to the amount included in adjusted gross income pursuant to Section 86 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, of income includable except for this exemption in net income; provided that the individual's adjusted gross income shall not exceed:

A. seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) for married individuals filing separate returns;

B. one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for heads of household, surviving spouses and married individuals filing joint returns; and

C. one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for single individuals.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 7 was effective May 18, 2022, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 16 provided that the provisions of Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 7 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

7-2-6. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1990, ch. 49, § 18 repealed 7-2-6 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1977, ch. 300, § 1, relating to exemptions for annuities paid to retired judges of the district court, court of appeals judges, and supreme court justices, effective May 16, 1990. For provisions of former section, see the 1989 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-7. Individual income tax rates.

The tax imposed by Section 7-2-3 NMSA 1978 shall be at the following rates for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2021:

A. For married individuals filing separate returns:

If the taxable income is:	The tax shall be:
Not over $4,000	1.7% of taxable income
Over $4,000 but not over $8,000	$68.00 plus 3.2% of excess over $4,000
Over $8,000 but not over $12,000	$196 plus 4.7% of excess over $8,000
Over $12,000 but not over $157,500	$384 plus 4.9% of excess over $12,000

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective January 1, 2025, restructured the personal income tax rates and income brackets to increase the number of brackets, adjust the rates, and change the income range within each bracket; and deleted former Subsections A through C and added new Subsections A through C.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2-7.1. Tax tables.

In lieu of the tax rate computations required in Section 7-2-7 NMSA 1978, the secretary may adopt regulations requiring taxpayers to pay taxes in accordance with tax rate tables. The tax tables may be established either by regulation or by instruction but shall be computed substantially on the basis of the rates prescribed in Section 7-2-7 NMSA 1978. The secretary may by regulation or instruction exclude from the application of this section taxpayers having net incomes in excess of an amount to be determined by the secretary and may exclude taxpayers in any net-income class having more exemptions than the number of exemptions specified by the secretary for that category.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2-7.1, enacted by Laws 1980, ch. 102, § 1; 1981, ch. 37, § 18; 1990, ch. 49, § 3; 1995, ch. 11, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, inserted "may be established either by regulation or by instruction but" in the second sentence and "or instruction" near the beginning of the third sentence.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, substituted "secretary" for "director" in the first and third sentences and for "secretary of taxation and revenue" near the middle and end of the third sentence.

7-2-7.2. Tax rebate; 2005 taxable year. (Effective for 2005 tax year.)

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any resident who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and who is not a dependent of another individual is entitled to a tax rebate during the 2005 taxable year for a portion of state and local taxes to which the person has been subject during the 2005 taxable year, even if the resident has no income taxable pursuant to the Income Tax Act.

B. For the purposes of this section, the total number of exemptions for which a tax rebate may be claimed or allowed is determined by adding the number of federal exemptions allowable for federal income tax purposes for each individual; provided that, in the case of a husband and wife who have filed a joint return where only one individual is a New Mexico resident, the number of exemptions shall be reduced by one.

C. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection D of this section, the tax rebate provided for in this section is allowed for the amount shown in the following table:

Adjusted Gross Income is:		And the total number of exemptions is:
Over	But Not Over	1	2	3	4	5	6 or more
$0	$10,000	$139	$179	$214	$244	$269	$289
10,000	20,000	124	164	189	214	234	249
20,000	35,000	109	139	164	184	199	209
35,000	45,000	94	119	139	154	164	169
45,000	60,000	79	104	124	139	149	154
60,000		64	84	99	109	114	119.

D. If a resident's adjusted gross income is less than or equal to zero, the resident is entitled to a rebate in the amount shown in the first row of the table appropriate for the resident's number of exemptions.

E. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the secretary shall make an advance payment of the tax rebate provided for in this section not later than November 15, 2005 to each resident who filed a 2004 New Mexico personal income tax return. Advance payment amounts shall be based on the number of federal exemptions allowable for federal income tax purposes on the 2004 New Mexico personal income tax return of the resident for whom a rebate is allowed pursuant to this section and on the federal adjusted gross income reported by that resident on the same return. A resident who does not receive an advance payment may claim the tax rebate provided for in this section on that resident's 2005 New Mexico personal income tax return based on the federal adjusted gross income and on the number of federal exemptions allowable for federal income tax purposes reported on that return.

F. The department shall not make an advance payment of the tax rebate provided for in this section to a person who:

(1) was an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the 2004 taxable year; or

(2) was not a resident of New Mexico on the last day of the 2004 taxable year.

G. The department shall not allow a tax rebate provided in this section to a person who claims the rebate on that person's 2005 personal income tax return, but:

(1) was an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the 2005 taxable year; or

(2) was not a resident of New Mexico on the last day of the 2005 taxable year.

H. The secretary may adopt regulations necessary to administer the provisions of this section.

I. For purposes of this section, "dependent" means "dependent" as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, but also includes any minor child or stepchild of the resident who would be a dependent for federal income tax purposes if the public assistance contributing to the support of the child or stepchild was considered to have been contributed by the resident.

ANNOTATIONS

Emergency clauses. — Laws 2021, ch. 4, § 6 contained an emergency clause and was approved March 3, 2021.

7-2-7.5. Supplemental 2021 income tax rebates.

A. A resident who files an individual New Mexico income tax return for taxable year 2021 by May 31, 2023 and who is not a dependent of another individual is eligible for two tax rebates pursuant to this section; provided that the resident did not receive a relief payment pursuant to Section 2 of this 2022 act.

B. For a resident who files an income tax return by May 31, 2022:

(1) the first tax rebate shall be made as soon as possible, but no later than June 30, 2022, in the following amounts:

(a) five hundred dollars ($500) for heads of household, surviving spouses and married individuals filing joint returns; and

(b) two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for single individuals and married individuals filing separate returns; and

(2) the second tax rebate shall be made between August 1 and August 30, 2022 in the following amounts:

(a) five hundred dollars ($500) for heads of household, surviving spouses and married individuals filing joint returns; and

(b) two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for single individuals and married individuals filing separate returns.

C. For a resident who files an income tax return for taxable year 2021 after May 31, 2022, rebates shall be made in the amounts and as provided in Subsection B of this section as soon as possible after the return is received; provided that a rebate shall not be allowed for a return filed after May 31, 2023.

D. The rebates provided by this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for taxable year 2021. If the amount of rebate exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

E. The department may require a taxpayer to claim a rebate provided by this section on forms and in a manner required by the department.

7-2-11. Tax credit; income allocation and apportionment.

A. Net income of any individual having income that is taxable both within and without this state shall be apportioned and allocated as follows:

(1) during the first taxable year in which an individual incurs tax liability as a resident, only income earned on or after the date the individual became a resident and, in addition, income earned in New Mexico while a nonresident of New Mexico shall be allocated to New Mexico;

(2) except as provided otherwise in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, income other than compensation or gambling winnings shall be allocated and apportioned as provided in the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act [Chapter 7, Article 4 NMSA 1978], but if the income is not allocated or apportioned by that act, then it may be allocated or apportioned in accordance with instructions, rulings or regulations of the secretary;

(3) except as provided otherwise in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, compensation and gambling winnings of a resident taxpayer shall be allocated to this state;

(4) compensation of a nonresident taxpayer shall be allocated to this state to the extent that such compensation is for activities, labor or personal services within this state; provided that the compensation may be allocated to the taxpayer's state of residence:

(a) if the activities, labor or services are performed in this state for fifteen or fewer days during the taxpayer's taxable year;

(b) if the compensation is for activities, labor or services performed for a business in the manufacturing industry in New Mexico that is located within twenty miles of an international border, that has a minimum of five full-time employees who are New Mexico residents, that is not receiving development training funds under Section 21-19-7 NMSA 1978 and that meets the qualifications of one of Items 1) through 4) of this subparagraph: 1) the business had no payroll in New Mexico during the previous calendar year; 2) the business had a payroll in New Mexico for less than the entire previous calendar year, and the first payroll of the new calendar year includes payments to New Mexico residents exceeding the highest monthly payroll for such residents in the previous calendar year; 3) the business had a payroll in New Mexico for the entire previous calendar year, and the first payroll of the new calendar year includes payments to New Mexico residents exceeding by at least ten percent both the payroll for all employees in January 2001 and the payroll for New Mexico residents twelve months prior to the commencement of the new calendar year; or 4) the business had a payroll in New Mexico for the entire previous calendar year, but had no payroll in New Mexico within one year prior to January 1, 2001, and the first payroll of the new calendar year includes payments to New Mexico residents exceeding by at least ten percent the payroll for such residents twelve months earlier; or

(c) if the activities, labor or services are performed in this state for disaster- or emergency-related critical infrastructure work in response to a declared state disaster or emergency during a disaster response period, as defined in the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978];

(5) gambling winnings of a nonresident shall be allocated to this state if the gambling winnings arose from a source within this state; and

(6) other deductions and exemptions allowable in computing net income and not specifically allocated in the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act shall be equitably allocated or apportioned in accordance with instructions, rulings or regulations of the secretary.

B. For the purposes of this section, "non-New Mexico percentage" means the percentage determined by dividing the difference between the taxpayer's net income and the sum of the amounts allocated or apportioned to New Mexico by that net income.

C. A taxpayer may claim a credit in an amount equal to the amount of tax determined to be due under Section 7-2-7 or 7-2-7.1 NMSA 1978 multiplied by the non-New Mexico percentage.

7-2-12. Taxpayer returns; payment of tax.

A. Every resident of this state and every individual deriving income from any business transaction, property or employment within this state and not exempt from tax under the Income Tax Act who is required by the laws of the United States to file a federal income tax return shall file a complete tax return with the department in form and content as prescribed by the secretary. Except as provided in Subsection B of this section, a resident or any individual who is required by the provisions of the Income Tax Act to file a return or pay a tax shall, on or before the due date of the resident's or individual's federal income tax return for the taxable year, file the return and pay the tax imposed for that year.

B. When the department approves electronic media for use by a taxpayer whose taxable year is a calendar year, the taxpayer who uses electronic media for both filing and payment must submit the required return and the tax imposed on residents and individuals under the Income Tax Act on or before the last day of the month in which the resident's or individual's federal income tax return is originally due for the taxable year. The due date provided in this subsection does not apply to residents or individuals who have received a filing extension from New Mexico or an automatic extension from the federal internal revenue service for the same taxable year.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law. Section 7-2-19 NMSA 1978, referred to in Paragraph B(2), was repealed by Laws 1990, ch. 49, § 19, effective May 16, 1990.

7-2-12.2. Estimated tax due; payment of estimated tax; penalty.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, an individual who is required to file an income tax return under the Income Tax Act shall pay the required annual payment in installments through either withholding or estimated tax payments.

B. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "required annual payment" means the lesser of:

(a) ninety percent of the tax shown on the return of the taxable year or, if no return is filed, ninety percent of the tax for the taxable year; or

(b) one hundred percent of the tax shown on the return for the preceding taxable year if the preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months and the taxpayer filed a New Mexico tax return for that preceding taxable year; and

(2) "tax" means the tax imposed under Section 7-2-3 NMSA 1978 less any amount allowed for applicable credits and rebates provided by the Income Tax Act.

C. There shall be four required installments for each taxable year. If a taxpayer is not liable for estimated tax payments on March 31, but becomes liable for estimated tax at some point after March 31, the taxpayer must make estimated tax payments as follows:

(1) if the taxpayer becomes required to pay estimated tax after March 31 and before June 1, fifty percent of the required annual payment must be paid on or before June 15, twenty-five percent on September 15 and twenty-five percent on or before January 15 of the following taxable year;

(2) if the taxpayer becomes required to pay estimated tax after May 31, but before September 1, the taxpayer must pay seventy-five percent of the required annual payment on or before September 15 and twenty-five percent on or before January 15 of the following taxable year; and

(3) if the taxpayer becomes required to pay estimated tax after August 31, the taxpayer must pay one hundred percent of the required annual payment on or before January 15 of the following taxable year.

D. Except as otherwise provided in this section, for taxpayers reporting on a calendar year basis, estimated payments of the required annual payment are due on or before April 15, June 15 and September 15 of the taxable year and January 15 of the following taxable year. For taxpayers reporting on a fiscal year other than a calendar year, the due dates for the installments are the fifteenth day of the fourth, sixth and ninth months of the fiscal year and the fifteenth day of the first month following the fiscal year.

E. A rancher or farmer who expects to receive at least two-thirds of the rancher's or farmer's gross income for the taxable year from ranching or farming, or who has received at least two-thirds of the rancher's or farmer's gross income for the previous taxable year from ranching or farming, may:

(1) pay the required annual payment for the taxable year in one installment on or before January 15 of the following taxable year; or

(2) on or before March 1 of the following taxable year, file a return for the taxable year and pay in full the amount computed on the return as payable.

A penalty under Subsection G of this section shall not be imposed unless the rancher or farmer underpays the tax by more than one-third. If a joint return is filed, a rancher or farmer must consider the rancher's or farmer's spouse's gross income in determining whether at least two-thirds of gross income is from ranching or farming.

F. For the purposes of this section, the amount of tax deducted and withheld with respect to a taxpayer under the Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3 NMSA 1978] or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3A NMSA 1978] shall be deemed a payment of estimated tax. An equal part of the amount of withheld tax shall be deemed paid on each due date for the applicable taxable year unless the taxpayer establishes the dates on which all amounts were actually withheld. In that case, the amounts withheld shall be deemed payments of estimated tax on the dates on which the amounts were actually withheld. The taxpayer may apply the provisions of this subsection separately to wage withholding and any other amounts withheld under the Withholding Tax Act or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act. Amounts of tax paid by taxpayers pursuant to Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978 shall not be deemed a payment of estimated tax.

G. Except as otherwise provided in this section, in the case of an underpayment of the required annual payment by a taxpayer, there shall be added to the tax a penalty determined by applying the rate specified in Subsection B of Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978 to the amount of the underpayment for the period of the underpayment, provided:

(1) the amount of the underpayment shall be the excess of the amount of the required annual payment over the amount, if any, paid on or before the due date for the installment;

(2) the period of the underpayment runs from the due date for the installment to whichever of the following dates is earlier:

(a) the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year; or

(b) with respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which the portion was paid; and

(3) a payment of estimated tax shall be credited against unpaid or underpaid installments in the order in which the installments are required to be paid.

H. No penalty shall be imposed under Subsection G of this section for any taxable year if:

(1) the difference between the following is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000):

(a) the tax shown on the return for the taxable year or, when no return is filed, the tax for the taxable year; and

(b) any amount withheld under the provisions of the Withholding Tax Act or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act for that taxpayer for that taxable year;

(2) the taxpayer's preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months, the taxpayer did not have a tax liability for the preceding taxable year and the taxpayer was a resident of New Mexico for the entire taxable year;

(3) through either withholding or estimated tax payments, the taxpayer paid the required annual payment as defined in Subsection B of this section; or

(4) the secretary determines that the underpayment was not due to fraud, negligence or disregard of rules and regulations.

I. If on or before January 31 of the following taxable year the taxpayer files a return for the taxable year and pays in full the amount computed on the return as payable, then a penalty under Subsection G of this section shall not be imposed on an underpayment of the fourth required installment for the taxable year.

J. This section applies to taxable years of less than twelve months and to taxpayers reporting on a fiscal year other than a calendar year in the manner determined by regulation or instruction of the secretary.

K. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection L of this section, this section applies to any estate or trust.

L. This section does not apply to any trust that is subject to the tax imposed by Section 511 of the Internal Revenue Code or that is a private foundation. For a taxable year that ends before the date two years after the date of the decedent's death, this section does not apply to:

(1) the estate of the decedent; or

(2) any trust all of which was treated under Subpart E of Part I of Subchapter J of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code as owned by the decedent and to which the residue of the decedent's estate will pass under the decedent's will or, if no will is admitted to probate, that is the trust primarily responsible for paying debts, taxes and expenses of administration.

M. The provisions of this section do not apply to first-year residents.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the Internal Revenue Code, see Title 26 of the United States Code.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, in Subsection H, increased the threshold amount for imposition of a penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes.

Applicability. — Laws 2011, ch. 116, § 2 provided that the provisions of Laws 2011, ch. 116, § 1 shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection F, in the first and fourth sentences, after "Withholding Tax Act", added "or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act"; and added the last sentence; and in Subsection H(1)(b), after "Withholding Tax Act", added "or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act".

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 12 provided that for the 2010 taxable year, a taxpayer is deemed to have complied with the provisions of Section 7-2-12.2 NMSA 1978 if the taxpayer has made the required annual payments of estimated taxes due for taxable year 2010 based on the definition of net income in Section 7-2-2 NMSA 1978 applicable prior to January 1, 2010.

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, substituted "applicable credits and" for "credits provided by Sections 7-2-13 and 7-2-18.1 through and 7-2-18.4 NMSA 1978 and for any applicable tax" following "amount allowed for" in Paragraph B(2); in Paragraphs C(2) and (3), inserted "the taxpayer must pay", deleted "must be paid" preceding "on or before"; substituted "a" for "an amount as" preceding "penalty determined by"; substituted "on an" for "with respect to any" preceding "underpayment of the"; substituted "applies" for "shall be applied" near the beginning of Subsection J; and substituted "For a taxable year that ends" for "With respect to any taxable year ending" preceding "before the date" in Subsection L.

The 1997 amendment, effective April 8, 1997, in Subsection A, added "through either withholding or estimated tax payments" and deleted the former last sentence relating to installment payments of 25% of annual payment; added the last sentence in Subsection C and added paragraphs C(1) to (3); in Subsection D, added the exception at the beginning and substituted "estimated payments of the required annual payment are due on or before" for "the due dates for the installments are"; added Subsection E and redesignated the following subsections accordingly; substituted "required annual payment" for "estimated tax" in Subsection G; substituted "annual payment" for "installment" and deleted "of the installment" before "paid" in Paragraph G(1); rewrote Paragraph G(3); added Paragraph H(3) and redesignated the following paragraph accordingly; inserted "and to taxpayers reporting on a fiscal year other than a calendar year" in Subsection J; and made stylistic changes throughout the section.

7-2-13. Credit for taxes paid other states by resident individuals.

A. When a resident individual is liable to another state for tax upon income derived from sources outside this state but also included in net income under the Income Tax Act as income allocated or apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to Section 7-2-11 NMSA 1978, the individual, upon filing with the secretary satisfactory evidence of the payment of the tax to the other state, shall receive a credit against the tax due this state in the amount of the tax paid the other state with respect to income that is required to be either allocated or apportioned to New Mexico. However, in no case shall the credit exceed the amount of the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability on that portion of income that is required to be either allocated or apportioned to New Mexico on which the tax payable to the other state was determined. The credit provided by this section does not apply to or include income taxes paid to any municipality, county or other political subdivision of a state.

B. The credit allowed pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall be calculated without regard to the credit allowed pursuant to Section 7-3A-10 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-11, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 202, § 11; 1970, ch. 34, § 1; 1973, ch. 133, § 1; 1974, ch. 56, § 2; 1981, ch. 37, § 23; 1990, ch. 49, § 7; 1992, ch. 78, § 1; 2013, ch. 179, § 1; 2023, ch. 159, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, provided that the credit allowed pursuant to this section shall be calculated without regard to the credit allowed pursuant to Section 7-3A-10 NMSA 1978; and added Subsection B.

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 5 provided that the provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 159 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, limited the tax credit paid to another state to the amount of tax liability in New Mexico; and in the second sentence, after "credit exceed", deleted "five and one-half percent" and added "the amount of the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability on that portion".

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, added all of the present language of the first sentence beginning with "with respect to income"; and inserted "that is required to be either allocated or apportioned to New Mexico" in the second sentence.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, deleted the subsection designation "A" and "Except as provided otherwise in Subsection B of this section" at the beginning, inserted "as income allocated or apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to Section 7-2-11 NMSA 1978" and substituted "secretary" for "director" in the first sentence, rewrote the third sentence which read "This credit does not apply to or include income taxes paid to any municipality" and deleted former Subsection B which read "This credit does not apply during the first taxable year in which an individual incurs tax liability as a resident. Income of such an individual shall be allocated and apportioned in accordance with Section 7-2-11 NMSA 1978".

7-2-14. Low-income comprehensive tax rebate.

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, any resident who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and who is not a dependent of another individual may claim a tax rebate for a portion of state and local taxes to which the resident has been subject during the taxable year for which the return is filed. The tax rebate may be claimed even though the resident has no income taxable under the Income Tax Act. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax rebate that would have been allowed on a joint return.

B. No claim for the tax rebate provided in this section shall be filed by a resident who was an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the taxable year for which the tax rebate could be claimed or who was not physically present in New Mexico for at least six months during the taxable year for which the tax rebate could be claimed.

C. For the purposes of this section, the total number of exemptions for which a tax rebate may be claimed or allowed is determined by adding the number of federal exemptions allowable for federal income tax purposes for each individual included in the return who is domiciled in New Mexico plus two additional exemptions for each individual domiciled in New Mexico included in the return who is sixty-five years of age or older plus one additional exemption for each individual domiciled in New Mexico included in the return who, for federal income tax purposes, is blind plus one exemption for each minor child or stepchild of the resident who would be a dependent for federal income tax purposes if the public assistance contributing to the support of the child or stepchild was considered to have been contributed by the resident.

D. Except as provided in Subsection F of this section, the tax rebate provided for in this section may be claimed in the amount shown in the following table:

Modified gross income is:		And the total number of exemptions is:

E. If a taxpayer's modified gross income is zero, the taxpayer may claim a credit in the amount shown in the first row of the table appropriate for the taxpayer's number of exemptions as adjusted by the provisions of Subsection F of this section.

F. For the 2022 taxable year and each subsequent taxable year, the amount of rebate shown in the table in Subsection D of this section shall be adjusted to account for inflation. The department shall make the adjustment by multiplying each amount of rebate by a fraction, the numerator of which is the consumer price index ending during the prior taxable year and the denominator of which is the consumer price index ending in tax year 2021. The result of the multiplication shall be rounded down to the nearest one dollar ($1.00), except that if the result would be an amount less than the corresponding amount for the preceding taxable year, then no adjustment shall be made.

G. The tax rebates provided for in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year. If the tax rebates exceed the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

H. For purposes of this section:

(1) "consumer price index" means the consumer price index for all urban consumers published by the United States department of labor for the month ending September 30; and

(2) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as that section may be amended or renumbered, but also includes any minor child or stepchild of the resident who would be a dependent for federal income tax purposes if the public assistance contributing to the support of the child or stepchild was considered to have been contributed by the resident.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-11.1, enacted by Laws 1972, ch. 20, § 2; 1973, ch. 336, § 1; 1974, ch. 17, § 1; 1975, ch. 213, § 1; 1977, ch. 197, § 1; 1978, ch. 145, § 1; 1981, ch. 37, § 24; 1986, ch. 20, § 29; 1986 (3d S.S.), ch. 1, § 1; 1987, ch. 264, § 7; 1990, ch. 49, § 8; 1992, ch. 78, § 2; 1994, ch. 5, § 21; 1998, ch. 99, § 2; 2021, ch. 116, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C.S. § 1152.

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, increased and indexed the low-income comprehensive tax rebate, and defined "consumer price index" for purposes of this section; in Subsection D, added "Except as provided in Subsection F of this section", and completely rewrote the tax rebate table; in Subsection E, after "number of exemptions", added "as adjusted by the provisions of Subsection F of this section."; added a new Subsection F and redesignated former Subsections F and G as Subsections G and H, respectively; and in Subsection H, added Paragraph H(1) and added new paragraph designation "(2)".

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 116, § 4 provided that the provisions of Laws 2021, ch. 116, §§ 1 and 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021.

The 1998 amendment, rewrote the tax rebate table in Subsection D. Laws 1998, ch. 99, contains no effective date provision, but pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, is effective May 20, 1998, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, deleted "tax rebates for food and medical expenses" at the end of the section heading, and substituted the table in Subsection D for the former table.

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, added present Subsection E; redesignated former Subsections E and F as present Subsections F and G; and inserted "of 1986" near the beginning of Subsection G.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, added the language beginning "plus one exemption for each minor child" at the end of Subsection C and added Subsection F.

7-2-14.2. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1987, ch. 264, § 25B repealed 7-2-14.2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1979, ch. 70, § 2, relating to withholding instructions, effective June 19, 1987.

7-2-14.3. Tax rebate of part of property tax due from low-income taxpayer; local option; refund.

A. The tax rebate provided by this section may be claimed for the taxable year for which the return is filed by an individual who:

- (1) has his principal place of residence in a county that has adopted an ordinance pursuant to Subsection G of this section;
- (2) is not a dependent of another individual;
- (3) files a return; and
- (4) incurred a property tax liability on his principal place of residence in the taxable year.

B. The tax rebate provided by this section shall be allowed for any individual eligible to claim the refund pursuant to Subsection A of this section and who:

- (1) was not an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the taxable year;
- (2) was physically present in New Mexico for at least six months during the taxable year for which the rebate is claimed; and
- (3) is eligible for the rebate as a low-income property taxpayer in accordance with the provisions of Subsection D of this section.

C. A husband and wife who file separate returns for the taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax rebate that would have been allowed on the joint return.

D. As used in the table in this subsection, "property tax liability" means the amount of property tax resulting from the imposition of the county and municipal property tax operating impositions on the net taxable value of the taxpayer's principal place of residence calculated for the year for which the rebate is claimed. The tax rebate provided in this section is as specified in the following table:

LOW-INCOME TAXPAYER'S PROPERTY TAX REBATE TABLE		Property Tax Rebate
Taxpayer's Modified Gross Income
Over	But Not Over
$0	$8,000	75% of property tax liability
8,000	10,000	70% of property tax liability
10,000	12,000	65% of property tax liability
12,000	14,000	60% of property tax liability
14,000	16,000	55% of property tax liability
16,000	18,000	50% of property tax liability
18,000	20,000	45% of property tax liability
20,000	22,000	40% of property tax liability
22,000	24,000	35% of property tax liability.

E. If a taxpayer's modified gross income is zero, the taxpayer may claim a tax rebate in the amount shown in the first row of the table. The tax rebate provided for in this section shall not exceed three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per return and, if a return is filed separately that could have been filed jointly, the tax rebate shall not exceed one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175). No tax rebate shall be allowed any taxpayer whose modified gross income exceeds twenty-four thousand dollars ($24,000).

F. The tax rebate provided for in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year. If the tax rebate exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

G. In January of every odd-numbered year in which a county does not have in effect an ordinance adopted pursuant to this subsection, the board of county commissioners of the county shall conduct a public hearing on the question of whether the property tax rebate provided in this section benefiting low-income property taxpayers in the county should be made available through adoption of a county ordinance. Notice of the public hearing shall be published once at least two weeks prior to the hearing date in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the county and broadcast at some time within the week before the hearing on at least one radio station with substantial broadcasting coverage in the county. At the public hearing, the board shall take action on the question and if a majority of the members elected votes to adopt an ordinance, it shall be adopted no later than thirty days after the public hearing.

H. An ordinance adopted pursuant to Subsection G of this section shall specify the taxable years to which it is applicable. The board of county commissioners adopting an ordinance shall notify the department of the adoption of the ordinance and furnish a copy of the ordinance to the department no later than September 1 of the first taxable year to which the ordinance applies.

I. No later than December 31 of the year immediately following the first year in which the low-income taxpayer property tax rebate provided in the Income Tax Act is in effect for a county, and no later than December 31 of each year thereafter in which the tax rebate is in effect, the department shall certify to the county the amount of the loss of income tax revenue to the state for the previous taxable year attributable to the allowance of property tax rebates to taxpayers of that county. The county shall promptly pay the amount certified to the department. If a county fails to pay the amount certified within thirty days of the date of certification, the department may enforce collection of the amount by action against the county and may withhold from any revenue distribution to the county, not dedicated or pledged, amounts up to the amount certified.

J. As used in this section, "principal place of residence" means the dwelling owned and occupied by the taxpayer and so much of the land surrounding it, not to exceed five acres, as is reasonably necessary for use of the dwelling as a home and may consist of a part of a multidwelling or a multipurpose building and a part of the land upon which it is built.

History: Laws 1994, ch. 111, § 1; 1997, ch. 196, § 1; 2003, ch. 275, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, substituted "taxable years" for "first taxable year" following "shall specify the" in Subsection H; substituted "December 31" for "July 1" twice in the first sentence of Subsection I.

The 1997 amendment, effective June 20, 1997, revised the table in Subsection D to add the last four income ranges; and in Subsection E, in the second sentence, substituted "three hundred fifty dollars ($350)" for "two hundred fifty dollars ($250)", substituted "one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175)" for "one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125)", and in the third sentence substituted "twenty-four thousand dollars ($24,000)" for "sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000)".

7-2-14.4. Authorization to fund property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers; tax imposition; election.

A. The board of county commissioners of any county may adopt a resolution to submit to the qualified electors of the county the question of whether a property tax at a rate not to exceed one dollar ($1.00) per thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value of property should be imposed for the purpose of providing the necessary funding for the property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers provided in the Income Tax Act if the county has adopted an ordinance providing the property tax rebate.

B. The resolution shall:

(1) specify the rate of the proposed tax, which shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00) per thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value of property;

(2) specify the date an election will be held to submit the question of imposition of the tax to the qualified electors of the county;

(3) impose the tax for one, two, three, four or five property tax years and limit the imposition of the proposed tax to no more than five property tax years; and

(4) pledge the revenue from the tax solely for the payment of the income tax revenue reduction resulting from the implementation of the property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers.

C. The resolution authorized in Subsection A of this section shall be adopted no later than May 15 in the year prior to the year in which the tax is proposed to be imposed. By adoption of an appropriate resolution, the board of county commissioners may submit the question of imposing the tax for successive periods of one, two, three, four or five years to the qualified electors of the county. The procedures for the election and for the imposition of the tax for subsequent periods shall be the same as those applying to the initial imposition of the tax. The election shall be scheduled so that the imposition of the tax for successive periods results in continuity of the tax.

D. An election on the question of imposing the tax authorized pursuant to this section may be held in conjunction with a general election or may be conducted as or held in conjunction with a special election, but the election shall be held by the date necessary to assure that the results of the election on the question of imposing the tax may be certified no later than July 1 of the first property tax year in which the tax is proposed to be imposed. Conduct of the election shall be as provided by the Election Code [Chapter 1 NMSA 1978].

E. As used in this section, "taxable value of property" means the combined total of net taxable value of property allocated to the county under the Property Tax Code [Chapter 7, Articles 35 through 38 NMSA 1978]; the assessed value of products severed and sold in the county for the calendar year preceding the year for which a determination is made as determined under the Oil and Gas Ad Valorem Production Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 32 NMSA 1978]; the assessed value of equipment in the county as determined under the Oil and Gas Production Equipment Ad Valorem Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 34 NMSA 1978]; and the taxable value of copper mineral property in the county pursuant to Section 7-39-7 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 1994, ch. 111, § 2; 2000, ch. 33, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2000 amendment, effective May 17, 2000, deleted former Subsection A(2), concerning counties that had not adopted an ordinance imposing a transfer tax, and deleted the designation from former Subsection A(1).

7-2-14.5. Imposition of tax; limitations.

A. If, as a result of an election held on the question of imposing a property tax to fund the property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers provided in the Income Tax Act, a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question votes in favor of the imposition of the tax, the tax rate shall be certified by the department of finance and administration for any year in which the tax is imposed. The rate certified shall be the rate specified in the authorizing resolution or any lower rate required by operation of the rate limitation provisions of Section 7-37-7.1 NMSA 1978. The tax shall be imposed at the rate certified unless the board of county commissioners determines that the tax imposition be decreased or not made pursuant to Subsection B of this section. The revenue produced by the tax shall be placed in a separate fund in the county treasury and is pledged solely for the payment of the income tax revenue reduction resulting from the implementation of the property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers.

B. A tax imposed pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall be imposed for one, two, three, four or five years commencing with the property tax year in which the tax rate is first imposed. The board of county commissioners may direct that the rate of imposition of the tax be decreased for any year if, in its judgment, imposition of the total rate is not necessary for such year. The board of county commissioners shall direct that the imposition not be made for any property tax year for which the property tax rebate for low-income taxpayers is not provided or for any year in which the county has imposed a property transfer tax pursuant to the Transfer Tax Act.

7-2-18. Tax rebate of property tax due that exceeds the elderly taxpayer's maximum property tax liability; refund.

A. Any resident who has attained the age of sixty-five and files an individual New Mexico income tax return and is not a dependent of another individual may claim a tax rebate for the taxable year for which the return is filed. The tax rebate shall be the amount of property tax due on the resident's principal place of residence for the taxable year that exceeds the property tax liability indicated by the table in Subsection F or G, as appropriate, of this section, based upon the taxpayer's modified gross income.

B. Any resident otherwise qualified under this section who rents a principal place of residence from another person may calculate the amount of property tax due by multiplying the gross rent for the taxable year by six percent. The tax rebate shall be the amount of property tax due on the taxpayer's principal place of residence for the taxable year that exceeds the property tax liability indicated by the table in Subsection F or G, as appropriate, of this section, based upon the taxpayer's modified gross income.

C. As used in this section, "principal place of residence" means the resident's dwelling, whether owned or rented, and so much of the land surrounding it, not to exceed five acres, as is reasonably necessary for use of the dwelling as a home and may consist of a part of a multidwelling or a multipurpose building and a part of the land upon which it is built.

D. No claim for the tax rebate provided in this section shall be allowed a resident who was an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the taxable year or who was not physically present in New Mexico for at least six months during the taxable year for which the tax rebate could be claimed.

E. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax rebate that would have been allowed on a joint return.

F. For taxpayers whose principal place of residence is in a county that does not have in effect for the taxable year a resolution in accordance with Subsection J of this section, the tax rebate provided for in this section may be claimed in the amount of the property tax due each taxable year that exceeds the amount shown as property tax liability in the following table:

ELDERLY HOMEOWNERS' MAXIMUM PROPERTY TAX LIABILITY TABLE

Taxpayers' Modified Gross Income		Property Tax Liability

G. For taxpayers whose principal place of residence is in a county that has in effect for the taxable year a resolution in accordance with Subsection J of this section, the tax rebate provided for in this section may be claimed in the amount of the property tax due each taxable year that exceeds the amount shown as property tax liability in the following table:

ELDERLY HOMEOWNERS' MAXIMUM PROPERTY TAX LIABILITY TABLE

Taxpayers' Modified Gross Income		Property Tax Liability
Over	But Not Over

H. If a taxpayer's modified gross income is zero, the taxpayer may claim a tax rebate based upon the amount shown in the first row of the appropriate table. The tax rebate provided for in this section shall not exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per return, and, if a return is filed separately that could have been filed jointly, the tax rebate shall not exceed one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125). No tax rebate shall be allowed any taxpayer whose modified gross income exceeds sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000) for taxpayers whose principal place of residence is in a county that does not have in effect for the taxable year a resolution in accordance with Subsection J of this section and twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for all other taxpayers.

I. The tax rebate provided for in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year. If the tax rebate exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

J. The board of county commissioners may adopt a resolution authorizing otherwise qualified taxpayers whose principal place of residence is in the county to claim the rebate provided by this section in the amounts set forth in Subsection G of this section. The resolution must also provide that the county will reimburse the state for the additional amount of tax rebates paid to such taxpayers over the amount that would have been paid to such taxpayers under Subsection F of this section. The resolution may apply to one or more taxable years and shall specify the period of time for which the rebate provided by this section may be claimed by qualified taxpayers. The county must adopt the resolution and notify the department of the adoption by no later than September 1 of the taxable year to which the resolution first applies. The department shall determine the additional amounts paid to taxpayers of the county for each taxable year and shall bill the county for the amount at the time and in the manner determined by the department. If the county fails to pay any bill within thirty days, the department may deduct the amount due from any amount to be transferred or distributed to the county by the state, other than debt interceptions.

7-2-18.1. Credit for expenses for dependent child day care necessary to enable gainful employment to prevent indigency.

History: Laws 2004, ch. 99, § 1; repealed by Laws 2005, ch. 91, § 2.

A. As used in this section:

(1) "caregiver" means a corporation or an individual eighteen years of age or over who receives compensation from a resident for providing direct care, supervision and guidance to a qualifying dependent of the resident for less than twenty-four hours daily and includes related individuals of the resident but does not include a dependent of the resident;

(2) "cost of maintaining a household" means the expenses incurred for the mutual benefit of the occupants thereof by reason of its operation as the principal place of abode of such occupants, including property taxes, mortgage interest, rent, utility charges, upkeep and repairs, property insurance and food consumed on the premises. "Cost of maintaining a household" shall not include expenses otherwise incurred, including cost of clothing, education, medical treatment, vacations, life insurance, transportation and mortgages;

(3) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, but also includes any minor child or stepchild of the resident who would be a dependent for federal income tax purposes if the public assistance contributing to the support of the child or stepchild was considered to have been contributed by the resident;

(4) "disabled person" means a person who has a medically determinable physical or mental impairment, as certified by a licensed physician or an advanced practice registered nurse, certified nurse-midwife or physician assistant working within that person's scope of practice, that renders such person unable to engage in gainful employment;

(5) "gainfully employed" means working for remuneration for others, either full time or part time, or self-employment in a business or partnership; and

(6) "qualifying dependent" means a dependent under the age of fifteen at the end of the taxable year who receives the services of a caregiver.

B. Any resident who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and who is not a dependent of another taxpayer may claim a credit for child day care expenses incurred and paid to a caregiver in New Mexico during the taxable year by such resident if the resident:

(1) singly or together with a spouse furnishes over half the cost of maintaining the household for one or more qualifying dependents for any period in the taxable year for which the credit is claimed;

(2) is gainfully employed for any period for which the credit is claimed or, if a joint return is filed, both spouses are gainfully employed or one is disabled for any period for which the credit is claimed;

(3) compensates a caregiver for child day care for a qualifying dependent to enable such resident together with the resident's spouse, if any and if not disabled, to be gainfully employed;

(4) is not a recipient of public assistance under a program of aid to families with dependent children, a program under the New Mexico Works Act [Chapter 27, Article 2B NMSA 1978] or any successor program during any period for which the credit provided by this section is claimed; and

(5) has a modified gross income, including child support payments, if any, of not more than the annual income that would be derived from earnings at double the federal minimum wage.

C. The credit provided for in this section shall be forty percent of the actual compensation paid to a caregiver by the resident for a qualifying dependent not to exceed four hundred eighty dollars ($480) for each qualifying dependent or a total of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) for all qualifying dependents for a taxable year. For the purposes of computing the credit, actual compensation shall not exceed eight dollars ($8.00) per day for each qualifying dependent.

D. The caregiver shall furnish the resident with a signed statement of compensation paid by the resident to the caregiver for day care services. Such statements shall specify the dates and the total number of days for which payment has been made.

E. If the resident taxpayer has a federal tax liability, the taxpayer shall claim from the state not more than the difference between the amount of the state child care credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the federal credit for child and dependent care expenses the taxpayer is able to deduct from federal tax liability for the same taxable year; provided, for first year residents only, the amount of the federal credit for child and dependent care expenses may be reduced to an amount equal to the amount of federal credit for child and dependent care expenses the resident is able to deduct from federal tax liability multiplied by the ratio of the number of days of residence in New Mexico during the resident's taxable year to the total number of days in the resident's taxable year.

F. The credit provided for in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year. If the credit exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

G. A husband and wife maintaining a household for one or more qualifying dependents and filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return:

(1) may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been claimed on a joint return; and

(2) are eligible for the credit provided in this section only if their joint modified gross income, including child support payments, if any, is not more than the annual income that would be derived from earnings at double the federal minimum wage.

History: Laws 1981, ch. 170, § 1; 1990, ch. 49, § 10; 1995, ch. 11, § 4; 1999, ch. 47, § 4; 2015, ch. 116, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 152.

The 2015 amendment, effective June 19, 2015, amended the definition of "disabled person" in the Income Tax Act to allow certain health care professions other than licensed physicians who may determine physical or mental impairment; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection A, after "compensation from", deleted "the" and added "a"; in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A, after "certified by a licensed physician", added "or an advanced practice registered nurse, certified nurse-midwife or physician assistant working within that person's scope of practice"; and in Paragraph (3) of Subsection B, after "together with", deleted "his" and added "the resident's".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2015, ch. 116, § 16 provided that by January 1, 2016, every cabinet secretary, agency head and head of a political subdivision of the state shall update rules requiring an examination by, a certificate from or a statement of a licensed physician to also accept such examination, certificate or statement from an advanced practice registered nurse, certified nurse-midwife or physician assistant working within that person's scope of practice.

The 1999 amendment, effective June 18, 1999, inserted "a program under the New Mexico Works Act or any successor program" in Paragraph B(4).

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, in Subsection E, substituted "federal credit for filed and dependent care expenses" for "federal child care credit", added the proviso at the end, and made stylistic changes.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, in Subsection A, substituted "dependent of the resident" for "dependent for whom the resident or his spouse would be eligible for an exemption for federal income tax purposes" at the end of Paragraph (1), added Paragraph (3), and redesignated former Paragraphs (3) to (5) as Paragraphs (4) to (6).

7-2-18.2. Credit for preservation of cultural property; refund.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 5; repealed by Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 20.

A. Tax credits for the preservation of cultural property may be claimed as follows:

(1) to encourage the restoration, rehabilitation and preservation of cultural properties, a taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and who is not a dependent of another individual and who is the owner of a cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register of cultural properties, with the taxpayer's consent, may claim a credit not to exceed a maximum aggregate of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) in an amount equal to one-half of the cost of restoration, rehabilitation or preservation of a cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register; or

(2) if a cultural property, whose owner may otherwise claim the credit set forth in Paragraph (1) of this subsection is also located within an arts and cultural district certified by the state or a municipality pursuant to the Arts and Cultural District Act [15-5A-1 to 15-5A-7 NMSA 1978], the owner of that cultural property may claim a credit not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), including any credit claimed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection, in an amount equal to one-half of the cost of restoration, rehabilitation or preservation of the cultural property.

B. The taxpayer may claim the credit if:

(1) the taxpayer submitted a plan and specifications for restoration, rehabilitation or preservation to the committee and received approval from the committee for the plan and specifications prior to commencement of the restoration, rehabilitation or preservation;

(2) the taxpayer received certification from the committee after completing the restoration, rehabilitation or preservation, or committee-approved phase, that it conformed to the plan and specifications and preserved and maintained those qualities of the property that made it eligible for inclusion in the official register; and

(3) the project is completed within twenty-four months of the date the project is approved by the committee in accordance with Paragraph (1) of this subsection.

C. A taxpayer may claim the credit provided in this section for each taxable year in which restoration, rehabilitation or preservation is carried out. Except as provided in Subsection F of this section, claims for the credit provided in this section shall be limited to three consecutive years, and the maximum aggregate credit allowable shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, for any single restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register certified by the committee.

D. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

E. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a credit on a restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project on property owned by a partnership of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to the taxpayer's interest in the partnership. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) in the aggregate if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in the aggregate if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, for any single restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register certified by the committee.

F. The credit provided in this section may only be deducted from the taxpayer's income tax liability. Any portion of the maximum tax credit provided by this section that remains unused at the end of the taxpayer's taxable year may be carried forward for four consecutive years; provided, however, the total tax credits claimed under this section shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, for any single restoration, preservation or rehabilitation project for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register.

G. The historic preservation division shall promulgate regulations for the implementation of Subsection B of this section.

H. As used in this section:

(1) "committee" means the cultural properties review committee created in Section 18-6-4 NMSA 1978; and

(2) "historic preservation division" means the historic preservation division of the cultural affairs department created in Section 18-6-8 NMSA 1978.

7-2-18.7. Tax rebate of property tax paid on property eligible for disabled veteran exemption; refund; limitation.

A. Any resident who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and paid property tax for the 1999 property tax year on property eligible for the property tax exemption authorized by Article 8, Section 15 of the constitution of New Mexico may claim a tax rebate for the amount of property tax paid.

B. The tax rebate provided for in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for taxable year 2000. If the tax rebate exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

C. The rebate provided for in this section may be claimed only on a return filed for taxable year 2000.

D. A husband and wife who file separate returns for taxable year 2000 and could have filed a joint return for taxable year 2000 may each claim only one-half of the tax rebate that would have been allowed on the joint return.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2002, ch. 91, § 3 repealed 7-2-18.9 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2002, ch. 91, § 1, relating to the solar market development tax credit, effective January 1, 2006. For provisions of former section, see the 2001 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-18.10. Tax credit; certain conveyances of real property.

A. There shall be allowed as a credit against the tax liability imposed by the Income Tax Act, an amount equal to fifty percent of the fair market value of land or interest in land that is conveyed for the purpose of open space, natural resource or biodiversity conservation, agricultural preservation or watershed or historic preservation as an unconditional donation in perpetuity by the landowner or taxpayer to a public or private conservation agency eligible to hold the land and interests therein for conservation or preservation purposes. The fair market value of qualified donations made pursuant to this section shall be substantiated by a "qualified appraisal" prepared by a "qualified appraiser", as those terms are defined under applicable federal laws and regulations governing charitable contributions.

B. The amount of the credit that may be claimed by a taxpayer shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for a conveyance made prior to January 1, 2008 and shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for a conveyance made on or after that date. In addition, in a taxable year the credit used may not exceed the amount of individual income tax otherwise due. A portion of the credit that is unused in a taxable year may be carried over for a maximum of twenty consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated until fully expended. A taxpayer may claim only one tax credit per taxable year.

C. Qualified donations shall include the conveyance in perpetuity of a fee interest in real property or a less-than-fee interest in real property, such as a conservation restriction, preservation restriction, agricultural preservation restriction or watershed preservation restriction, pursuant to the Land Use Easement Act [47-12-1 to 47-12-6 NMSA 1978] and provided that the less-than-fee interest qualifies as a charitable contribution deduction under Section 170(h) of the Internal Revenue Code. Dedications of land for open space for the purpose of fulfilling density requirements to obtain subdivision or building permits shall not be considered as qualified donations pursuant to the Land Conservation Incentives Act [75-9-1 to 75-9-6 NMSA 1978].

D. Qualified donations shall be eligible for the tax credit if the donations are made to the state of New Mexico, a political subdivision thereof or a charitable organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and that meets the requirements of Section 170(h)(3) of that code.

E. To be eligible for treatment as qualified donations under this section, land or interests in lands must be certified by the secretary of energy, minerals and natural resources as fulfilling the purposes as set forth in Section 75-9-2 NMSA 1978. The use and protection of the lands, or interests therein, for open space, natural area protection, biodiversity habitat conservation, land preservation, agricultural preservation, historic preservation or similar use or purpose of the property shall be assured in perpetuity.

F. A taxpayer may apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit provided by this section from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the application meets the requirements of this section and that the property conveyed will not adversely affect the property rights of contiguous landowners, it shall issue a certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer, which shall include a calculation of the maximum amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

G. To receive a credit pursuant to this section, a person shall apply to the taxation and revenue department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department. The application shall include a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to Subsection F of this section. If all of the requirements of this section have been complied with, the taxation and revenue department shall issue to the applicant a document granting the tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed for the qualified donation made pursuant to this section.

H. The tax credit represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection G of this section for a conveyance made on or after January 1, 2008, or an increment of that tax credit, may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred, and may be carried forward for a period of twenty taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated until fully expended. A tax credit or increment of a tax credit may only be transferred once. The credit may be transferred to any taxpayer. A taxpayer to whom a credit has been transferred may use the credit for the taxable year in which the transfer occurred and unused amounts may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years, but in no event may the transferred credit be used more than twenty years after it was originally issued.

I. A tax credit issued pursuant to this section shall be transferred through a qualified intermediary. The qualified intermediary shall, by means of a sworn notarized statement, notify the taxation and revenue department of the transfer and of the date of the transfer within ten days of the transfer. Credits shall only be transferred in increments of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more. The qualified intermediary shall keep an account of the credits and have the authority to issue sub-numbers registered with the taxation and revenue department and traceable to the original credit.

J. If a charitable deduction is claimed on the taxpayer's federal income tax for any contribution for which the credit provided by this section is claimed, the taxpayer's itemized deductions for New Mexico income tax shall be reduced by the amount of the deduction for the contribution in order to determine the New Mexico taxable income of the taxpayer.

K. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "qualified intermediary" does not include a person who has been previously convicted of a felony, who has had a professional license revoked, who is engaged in the practice defined in Section 61-28B-3 NMSA 1978 and who is identified in Section 61-29-2 NMSA 1978, and does not include any entity owned wholly or in part or employing any of the foregoing persons; and

(2) "taxpayer" means a citizen or resident of the United States, a domestic partnership, a limited liability company, a domestic corporation, an estate, including a foreign estate, or a trust.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2-18.10, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 331, § 7; 2007, ch. 335, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Internal Revenue Code §§ 501 (c)(3) and 170(h), see 26 U.S.C. § 501 (c)(3) and 26 U.S.C. § 170(h).

For the Land Conservation Incentives Act, see 75-9-1 to 75-9-6 NMSA 1978.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, provided that the credit shall not exceed $100,000 for a conveyance prior to January 1, 2008 and $250,000 on or after January 1, 2008 and added Subsections F through K.

7-2-18.11. Job mentorship tax credit.

A. To encourage New Mexico businesses to hire youth participating in career preparation education programs, a taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return, who is not a dependent of another individual and who is an owner of a New Mexico business may claim a credit in an amount equal to fifty percent of gross wages paid to qualified students who are employed by the business during the taxable year for which the return is filed. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "job mentorship tax credit".

B. A taxpayer who is an owner of a New Mexico business may claim the job mentorship tax credit for each taxable year in which the business employs one or more qualified students. The maximum aggregate credit allowable shall not exceed fifty percent of the gross wages paid to not more than ten qualified students employed by the business for up to three hundred twenty hours of employment of each qualified student in each taxable year for a maximum of three taxable years for each qualified student. In no event shall a taxpayer claim a credit in excess of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in any taxable year. The taxpayer shall certify that hiring the qualified student does not displace or replace a current employee.

C. The department shall issue job mentorship tax credit certificates upon request to any accredited New Mexico secondary school that has a school-sanctioned career preparation education program. The maximum number of certificates that may be issued in a school year to any one school is equal to the number of qualified students in the school-sanctioned career preparation education program on October 15 of that school year, as certified by the school principal.

D. A job mentorship tax credit certificate may be executed by a school principal with respect to a qualified student, and the executed certificate may be transferred to a New Mexico business that employs that student. By executing the certificate with respect to a student, the school principal certifies that the school has a school-sanctioned career preparation education program and the student is a qualified student.

E. To claim the job mentorship tax credit, the taxpayer must submit with respect to each employee for whom the credit is claimed:

- (1) a properly executed job mentorship tax credit certificate;
- (2) information required by the secretary with respect to the employee's employment by the business during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed; and

(3) information required by the secretary that the employee was not also employed in the same taxable year by another New Mexico business qualifying for and claiming a job mentorship tax credit for that employee pursuant to this section or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978].

F. The job mentorship tax credit may only be deducted from the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year. Any portion of the maximum credit provided by this section that remains unused at the end of the taxpayer's taxable year may be carried forward for three consecutive taxable years; provided the total credits claimed under this section shall not exceed the maximum allowable pursuant to Subsection B of this section.

G. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

H. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies for and claims a job mentorship tax credit for employment of qualified students by a partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, S corporation or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to his interest in the partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, S corporation or association. The total credit claimed by all members of the business shall not exceed the maximum credit allowable pursuant to Subsection B of this section.

I. As used in this section:

(1) "career preparation education program" means a work-based learning or school-to-career program designed for secondary school students to create academic and career goals and objectives and find employment in a job meeting those goals and objectives;

(2) "New Mexico business" means a partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes, S corporation or sole proprietorship that carries on a trade or business in New Mexico and that employs in New Mexico fewer than three hundred full-time employees at any one time during the taxable year; and

(3) "qualified student" means an individual who is at least fourteen years of age but not more than twenty-one years of age who is attending full time an accredited New Mexico secondary school and who is a participant in a career preparation education program sanctioned by the secondary school.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2003, ch. 400 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 20, 2003, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-2-18.12. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2005, ch. 91, § 2 repealed 7-2-18.12 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2004, ch. 99, § 1, relating to income tax credit for payments to care facilities, effective June 17, 2005. For provisions of former section, see the 2004 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-18.13. Credit; unreimbursed or uncompensated medical care expenses of individuals sixty-five years of age or older.

A. A taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return, who is sixty-five years of age or older and who is not a dependent of another taxpayer may claim a credit in an amount equal to two thousand eight hundred dollars ($2,800) for medical care expenses paid by the taxpayer for that taxpayer or for the taxpayer's spouse or dependent if those expenses equal twenty-eight thousand dollars ($28,000) or more within a taxable year and if those expenses are not reimbursed or compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

B. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

C. The credit provided in this section may be deducted from the taxpayer's income tax liability. If the credit exceeds the income tax liability for the taxable year, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

D. As used in this section:

(1) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "health care facility" means a hospital, outpatient facility, diagnostic and treatment center, rehabilitation center, freestanding hospice or other similar facility at which medical care is provided;

(3) "medical care" means the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body;

(4) "medical care expenses" means the amounts paid for:

(a) the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body, if provided by a physician or in a health care facility;

(b) prescribed drugs or insulin;

(c) qualified long-term care services as defined in Section 7702B(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(d) insurance covering medical care, including amounts paid as premiums under Part B of Title 18 of the Social Security Act or for a qualified long-term care insurance contract defined in Section 7702B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, if the insurance or other amount is paid from income included in the taxpayer's adjusted gross income for the taxable year;

(e) specialized treatment or the use of special therapeutic devices if the treatment or device is prescribed by a physician and the patient can show that the expense was incurred primarily for the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness; and

(f) care in an institution other than a hospital, such as a sanitarium or rest home, if the principal reason for the presence of the person in the institution is to receive the medical care available; provided that if the meals and lodging are furnished as a necessary part of such care, the cost of meals and lodging are "medical care expenses";

(5) "physician" means a medical doctor, osteopathic physician, dentist, podiatrist, chiropractic physician or psychologist licensed or certified to practice in New Mexico; and

(6) "prescribed drug" means a drug or biological that requires a prescription of a physician for its use by an individual.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 267, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 267 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2005, ch. 267, § 2 provided that Laws 2005, ch. 267, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

7-2-18.14. Solar market development tax credit; residential and small business solar thermal and photovoltaic market development tax credit.

A. Except as provided in Subsection C of this section, a taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2006 and who purchases and installs after January 1, 2006 but before December 31, 2016 a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system in a residence, business or agricultural enterprise in New Mexico owned by that taxpayer may apply for, and the department may allow, a solar market development tax credit of up to ten percent of the purchase and installation costs of the system.

B. The total solar market development tax credit allowed for either a photovoltaic system or a solar thermal system shall not exceed nine thousand dollars ($9,000). The department shall allow solar market development tax credits only for solar thermal systems and photovoltaic systems certified by the energy, minerals and natural resources department.

C. Solar market development tax credits may not be claimed or allowed for:

- (1) a heating system for a swimming pool or a hot tub; or
- (2) a commercial or industrial photovoltaic system other than an agricultural photovoltaic system on a farm or ranch that is not connected to an electric utility transmission or distribution system.

D. The department may allow a maximum annual aggregate of:

- (1) two million dollars ($2,000,000) in solar market development tax credits for solar thermal systems; and
- (2) three million dollars ($3,000,000) in solar market development tax credits for photovoltaic systems.

E. A portion of the solar market development tax credit that remains unused in a taxable year may be carried forward for a maximum of ten consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originates until fully expended.

F. Prior to July 1, 2006, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall adopt rules establishing procedures to provide certification of solar thermal systems and photovoltaic systems for purposes of obtaining a solar market development tax credit. The rules shall address technical specifications and requirements relating to safety, code and standards compliance, solar collector orientation and sun exposure, minimum system sizes, system applications and lists of eligible components. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may modify the specifications and requirements as necessary to maintain a high level of system quality and performance.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "photovoltaic system" means an energy system that collects or absorbs sunlight for conversion into electricity; and

(2) "solar thermal system" means an energy system that collects or absorbs solar energy for conversion into heat for the purposes of space heating, space cooling or water heating.

History: Laws 2006, ch. 93, § 1; 2009, ch. 280, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Subsection A, changed the reference from Subsection B to Subsection C; changed "December 31, 2015" to "December 31, 2016"; after "credit up to", changed "thirty percent" to "ten percent"; and after "costs of the system", deleted the remainder of the sentence and the former last sentence, which provided that the combined federal and state tax credits shall not exceed thirty percent of the cost of the system and which provided the method to determine the amount of the state tax credit.

Applicability. — Laws 2009, ch. 280, § 2 provided that the provisions of Laws 2009, ch. 280, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

7-2-18.15. Working families tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who is a resident and who files an individual New Mexico income tax return may claim a credit in an amount equal to twenty percent for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, and twenty-five percent for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, of the federal earned income tax credit for which that taxpayer is eligible for the same taxable year or would have been eligible but for the identification number requirement pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 32(m), as that section may be amended or renumbered.

B. A taxpayer who is a resident and who files an individual New Mexico tax return may claim a credit in an amount equal to twenty percent for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, and twenty-five percent for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, of the federal earned income tax credit for which that taxpayer would have been eligible for the same taxable year but for the age requirement pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 32(c)(1)(A)(ii)(II), as that section may be amended or renumbered; provided that the taxpayer is at least eighteen years of age but has not reached the age of twenty-five.

C. The credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "working families tax credit".

D. The working families tax credit may be deducted from the income tax liability of an individual who claims the credit and qualifies for the credit pursuant to this section. If the credit exceeds the individual's income tax liability for the taxable year, the excess shall be refunded to the individual.

E. As used in this section, "federal earned income tax credit" means the tax credit allowed pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 32, as that section may be amended or renumbered.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 9; 2008 (2nd S.S.), ch. 4, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 13; 2021, ch. 116, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 32 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C § 32.

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, increased the amount of the working families tax credit, and expanded the credit to certain residents who are ineligible for the federal earned income tax credit; in Subsection A, after "A", added "taxpayer who is a", after "credit in an amount equal to", changed "seventeen" to "twenty", after "percent", added "for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, and twenty-five percent for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023", after "federal", added "earned", and after "same taxable year", deleted "pursuant to Section 32 of the Internal Revenue Code" and added "or would have been eligible but for the identification number requirement pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 32(m), as that section may be amended or renumbered"; added a new Subsection B and added subsection designation "C" and redesignated former Subsection B as Subsection D; and added Subsection E.

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 116, § 4 provided that the provisions of Laws 2021, ch. 116, §§ 1 and 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021.

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, increased the amount of the working families tax credit; and in Subsection A, after "amount equal to", deleted "ten" and added "seventeen".

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that the provisions of Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 13 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

The 2008 amendment, effective November 17, 2008, increased the working families tax credit from eight to ten percent of the federal income tax credit.

7-2-18.16. Credit; special needs adopted child tax credit; created; qualifications; duration of credit.

A. A taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return, who is not a dependent of another individual and who adopts a special needs child on or after January 1, 2007 or has adopted a special needs child prior to January 1, 2007, may claim a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act. The credit authorized pursuant to this section may be referred to as the "special needs adopted child tax credit".

B. A taxpayer may claim and the department may allow a special needs adopted child tax credit in the amount of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) to be claimed against the taxpayer's tax liability for the taxable year imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act.

C. A taxpayer may claim a special needs adopted child tax credit for each year that the child may be claimed as a dependent for federal taxation purposes by the taxpayer.

D. If the amount of the special needs adopted child tax credit due to the taxpayer exceeds the taxpayer's individual income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded.

E. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the special needs adopted child tax credit provided in this section that would have been allowed on a joint return.

F. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

G. The department shall compile an annual report on the credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

H. As used in this section, "special needs adopted child" means an individual who may be over eighteen years of age and who is certified by the children, youth and families department or a licensed child placement agency as meeting the definition of a "difficult to place child" pursuant to the Adoption Act [Chapter 32A, Article 5 NMSA 1978]; provided, however, if the classification as a "difficult to place child" is based on a physical or mental impairment or an emotional disturbance the physical or mental impairment or emotional disturbance shall be at least moderately disabling.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 45, § 10; 2024, ch. 67, § 23.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, increased the special needs adopted child tax credit from one thousand dollars to one thousand five hundred dollars, required the taxation and revenue department to compile an annual report on the adopted child tax credit, and made technical amendments; in Subsection B, after "in the amount of", deleted "one thousand dollars ($1,000)" and added "one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500)"; in Subsection E, deleted "A husband and wife" and added "Married individuals"; and added new Subsections F and G and redesignated former Subsection F as Subsection H.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.17. Angel investment credit.

A. A taxpayer who files a New Mexico income tax return, is not a dependent of another taxpayer, is an accredited investor and makes a qualified investment may apply for, and the department may allow, a claim for a credit in an amount not to exceed twenty-five percent of the qualified investment; provided that a credit for each qualified investment shall not exceed sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars ($62,500). The tax credit provided in this section shall be known as the "angel investment credit".

B. A taxpayer may claim the angel investment credit:

- (1) for not more than one qualified investment per investment round;
- (2) for qualified investments in no more than five qualified businesses per taxable year; and
- (3) for a qualified investment made on or before December 31, 2030.

C. A taxpayer may apply for an angel investment credit by submitting a completed application to the department on forms and in a manner required by the department no later than one year following the end of the calendar year in which the qualified investment is made. A taxpayer shall not apply for more than one credit for the same qualified investment in the same investment round.

D. Except as provided in Subsection J of this section, a taxpayer shall claim the angel investment credit no later than one year following the date the completed application for the credit is approved by the department.

E. Applications and all subsequent materials submitted to the department related to the application shall also be submitted to the economic development department.

F. The department shall allow a maximum annual aggregate of two million dollars ($2,000,000) in angel investment credits per calendar year. Completed applications shall be considered in the order received. Applications for credits that would have been allowed but for the limit imposed by this subsection shall be allowed in subsequent calendar years.

G. The department shall report annually to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee on the utilization and effectiveness of the angel investment credit. The report shall include, at a minimum: the number of accredited investors determined to be eligible for the credit in the previous year; the names of those investors; the amount of credit for which each investor was determined to be eligible; and the number and names of the businesses determined to be qualified businesses for purposes of an investment by an accredited investor.

H. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies for and claims a credit pursuant to this section for a qualified investment made by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to the taxpayer's interest in the partnership or business association.

I. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

J. The angel investment credit may only be deducted from the taxpayer's income tax liability. Any portion of the tax credit provided by this section that remains unused at the end of the taxpayer's taxable year may be carried forward for five consecutive years.

K. As used in this section:

(1) "accredited investor" means a person who is an accredited investor within the meaning of Rule 501 issued by the federal securities and exchange commission pursuant to the federal Securities Act of 1933, as amended;

(2) "business" means a corporation, general partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company or other similar entity, but excludes an entity that is a government or a nonprofit organization designated as such by the federal government or any state;

(3) "equity" means common or preferred stock of a corporation, a partnership interest in a limited partnership or a membership interest in a limited liability company, including debt subject to an option in favor of the creditor to convert the debt into common or preferred stock, a partnership interest or a membership interest;

(4) "investment round" means an offer and sale of securities and all other offers and sales of securities that would be integrated with such offer and sale of securities under Regulation D issued by the federal securities and exchange commission pursuant to the federal Securities Act of 1933, as amended;

(5) "manufacturing" means combining or processing components or materials to increase their value for sale in the ordinary course of business, but does not include:

(a) construction;

(b) farming;

(c) processing natural resources, including hydrocarbons; or

(d) preparing meals for immediate consumption, on- or off-premises;

(6) "qualified business" means a business that:

(a) maintains its principal place of business and employs a majority of its full-time employees, if any, in New Mexico and a majority of its tangible assets, if any, are located in New Mexico;

(b) engages in qualified research or manufacturing activities in New Mexico;

(c) is not primarily engaged in or is not primarily organized as any of the following types of businesses: credit or finance services, including banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, small loan companies or title loan companies; financial brokering or investment; professional services, including accounting, legal services, engineering and any other service the practice of which requires a license; insurance; real estate; construction or construction contracting; consulting or brokering; mining; wholesale or retail trade; providing utility service, including water, sewerage, electricity, natural gas, propane or butane; publishing, including publishing newspapers or other periodicals; broadcasting; or providing internet operating services;

(d) has not issued securities registered pursuant to Section 6 of the federal Securities Act of 1933, as amended; has not issued securities traded on a national securities exchange; is not subject to reporting requirements of the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and is not registered pursuant to the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, at the time of the investment;

(e) has one hundred or fewer employees calculated on a full-time-equivalent basis in the taxable year in which the investment was made; and

(f) has not had gross revenues in excess of five million dollars ($5,000,000) in any fiscal year ending on or before the date of the investment;

(7) "qualified investment" means a cash investment in a qualified business for equity, but does not include an investment by a taxpayer if the taxpayer, a member of the taxpayer's immediate family or an entity affiliated with the taxpayer receives compensation from the qualified business in exchange for services provided to the qualified business within one year of investment in the qualified business; and

(8) "qualified research" means "qualified research" as defined by Section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 172, § 1; 2012, ch. 38, § 1; 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 2; 2020, ch. 28, § 1; 2024, ch. 67, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2012, ch. 38, § 2 repealed Laws 2007, ch. 172, § 24, which provided for the repeal of the angel investment credit on January 1, 2013.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2007, ch. 172, § 23, effective April 2, 2007, provided that in taxable years 2013 through 2015 a taxpayer may carry forward amounts resulting from angel investment credits claimed and approved for qualified investments made in calendar year 2009, 2010 or 2011.

Cross references. — For Section 6 of the federal Securities Act of 1933, see 15 U.S.C. § 77f.

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, extended the amount of time to make a qualified investment and be eligible for the angel investment credit, and made technical amendments; in Subsection B, Paragraph B(3), changed "2025" to "2030"; and deleted "taxation and revenue" preceding each occurrence of "department" throughout the section.

The 2020 amendment, effective May 20, 2020, transferred review and approval of angel investment credits from the economic development department to the taxation and revenue department, and required application materials for the tax credit to continue to be sent to the economic development department; in Subsection A, after "qualified investment may", added "apply for, and the department may allow, a", and after "claim", added "for"; in Subsection B, added new paragraph designations "(1)" and "(2)"; deleted subsection designation "C" and, from former Subsection C, the language "A taxpayer may claim the angel investment credit no later than one year following the end of the calendar year in which the qualified investment was made; provided that a claim for the credit may not be made or allowed with respect to any" and added "and", added new paragraph designation "(3)", and in Paragraph B(3), added "for a qualified", and after "investment made", deleted "after" and added "on or before"; deleted former Subsections D and E and added new Subsections C through F, and redesignated former Subsection F as Subsection G; in Subsection G, after the first occurrence of "The", deleted "economic development" and added "taxation and revenue", after "annually to the", added "revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the", after "accredited investors", deleted "to whom certificates of eligibility were issued by the economic development department" and added "determined to be eligible for the credit", after "names of the businesses", deleted "that the economic development department had", and deleted "The report shall also include an evaluation of the success of the angel investment credit as an incubator of new businesses in New Mexico and the continued viability and operation in New Mexico of businesses in which investments eligible for the angel investment credit have been made."; and deleted former Subsection G.

Applicability. — Laws 2020, ch. 28, § 2 provided that the provisions of Laws 2020, ch. 28, § 1 apply to applications for an angel investment credit for qualified investments made on or after January 1, 2019.

The 2015 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective September 6, 2015, increased the maximum amount of an angel investment credit, changed the number of angel investment credits a taxpayer may claim, extended the angel investment credit until the year 2025, and limited the total amount of angel investment credits that may be approved by the economic development department; in Subsection A, after "not to exceed twenty-five percent of", deleted "not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of", after "the qualified investment;", added "provided that a credit for each qualified investment shall not exceed sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars ($62,500)"; in Subsection B, after "for not more than", deleted "two" and added "one", after "qualified", deleted "investments in a taxable year; provided that each investment is in a different qualified business" and added "investment per investment round", after "qualified investments", deleted "made in the same qualified business or successor of that business for not more than three taxable years. The angel investment credit shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for each qualified investment by the taxpayer" and added "in no more than five qualified businesses per taxable year"; in Subsection C, deleted "2016" and added "2025"; in Subsection D, added "Completed" preceding "applications shall be considered"; in Subsection E, after "in any calendar year will not exceed", deleted "seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000)" and added "two million dollars ($2,000,000)", after "in the order that", deleted "the" and added "completed"; in Subsection F, after "certificates of eligibility were issued by the", added "economic development", and after "the businesses that the", added "economic development"; in Subsection H, after "the taxpayer's interest in the partnership or business association.", deleted "The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or business association in a taxable year with respect to a qualified investment shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)"; in Subsection J, after "may be carried forward for", deleted "three" and added "five"; in Subsection K, deleted former Paragraph (4) and added a new Paragraph (4); in Subparagraph K(6)(a), after "principal place of business", added "and employs a majority of its full-time employees, if any", and after "New Mexico", added "and a majority of its tangible assets, if any, are located in New Mexico"; in Subparagraph K(6)(b), after "engages in", deleted "high-technology" and added "qualified"; in Subparagraph K(6)(e), after "full-time-equivalent basis", deleted "at the time of the investment" and added "in the taxable year in which the investment was made"; and added Paragraph (8) of Subsection K.

Applicability. — Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 25 provided that the provisions of Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, §§ 2 through 7 and 17 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, extended the angel investment credit for five years, and in Subsection C, after "December 31", changed "2011" to "2016".

7-2-18.18. Renewable energy production tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "renewable energy production tax credit". The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same electricity production for which a tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2A-19 NMSA 1978 has been claimed.

B. A taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return and who is not a dependent of another taxpayer is eligible for the renewable energy production tax credit if the taxpayer:

(1) holds title to a qualified energy generator that first produced electricity on or before January 1, 2018; or

(2) leases property upon which a qualified energy generator operates from a county or municipality under authority of an industrial revenue bond and if the qualified energy generator first produced electricity on or before January 1, 2018.

C. The amount of the tax credit shall equal one cent ($.01) per kilowatt-hour of the first four hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in the taxable year using a wind- or biomass-derived qualified energy resource; provided that the total amount of tax credits claimed by all taxpayers for a single qualified energy generator using a wind- or biomass-derived qualified energy resource shall not exceed one cent ($.01) per kilowatt-hour of the first four hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in a taxable year.

D. The amount of the tax credit for electricity produced by a qualified energy generator in the taxable year using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource shall be at the amounts specified in Paragraphs (1) through (11) of this subsection; provided that the total amount of tax credits claimed by all taxpayers in a taxable year for a single qualified energy generator using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource shall be limited to the first two hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in the taxable year:

(1) one and one-half cents ($.015) per kilowatt-hour in the first taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(2) two cents ($.02) per kilowatt-hour in the second taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(3) two and one-half cents ($.025) per kilowatt-hour in the third taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(4) three cents ($.03) per kilowatt-hour in the fourth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(5) three and one-half cents ($.035) per kilowatt-hour in the fifth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(6) four cents ($.04) per kilowatt-hour in the sixth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(7) three and one-half cents ($.035) per kilowatt-hour in the seventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(8) three cents ($.03) per kilowatt-hour in the eighth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(9) two and one-half cents ($.025) per kilowatt-hour in the ninth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(10) two cents ($.02) per kilowatt-hour in the tenth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource; and

(11) one and one-half cents ($.015) per kilowatt-hour in the eleventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource.

E. A taxpayer eligible for a renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Subsection B of this section shall be eligible for the renewable energy production tax credit for one hundred twenty consecutive months, beginning on the date the qualified energy generator begins producing electricity.

F. As used in this section:

(1) "biomass" means organic material that is available on a renewable or recurring basis, including:

(a) forest-related materials, including mill residues, logging residues, forest thinnings, slash, brush, low-commercial-value materials or undesirable species, salt cedar and other phreatophyte or woody vegetation removed from river basins or watersheds and woody material harvested for the purpose of forest fire fuel reduction or forest health and watershed improvement;

(b) agricultural-related materials, including orchard trees, vineyard, grain or crop residues, including straws and stover, aquatic plants and agricultural processed co-products and waste products, including fats, oils, greases, whey and lactose;

(c) animal waste, including manure and slaughterhouse and other processing waste;

(d) solid woody waste materials, including landscape or right-of-way tree trimmings, rangeland maintenance residues, waste pallets, crates and manufacturing, construction and demolition wood wastes, excluding pressure-treated, chemically treated or painted wood wastes and wood contaminated with plastic;

(e) crops and trees planted for the purpose of being used to produce energy;

(f) landfill gas, wastewater treatment gas and biosolids, including organic waste byproducts generated during the wastewater treatment process; and

(g) segregated municipal solid waste, excluding tires and medical and hazardous waste;

(2) "qualified energy generator" means an electric generating facility with at least one megawatt generating capacity located in New Mexico that produces electricity using a qualified energy resource and the electricity produced is sold to an unrelated person; and

(3) "qualified energy resource" means a resource that generates electrical energy by means of a fluidized bed technology or similar low-emissions technology or a zero-emissions generation technology that has substantial long-term production potential and that uses only the following energy sources:

(a) solar light;

(b) solar heat;

(c) wind; or

(d) biomass.

G. A person that holds title to a facility generating electricity from a qualified energy resource or a person that leases such a facility from a county or municipality pursuant to an industrial revenue bond may request certification of eligibility for the renewable energy production tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department, which shall determine if the facility is a qualified energy generator. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may certify the eligibility of an energy generator only if the total amount of electricity that may be produced annually by all qualified energy generators that are certified pursuant to this section and pursuant to Section 7-2A-19 NMSA 1978 will not exceed a total of two million megawatt-hours plus an additional five hundred thousand megawatt-hours produced by qualified energy generators using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource. Applications shall be considered in the order received. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may estimate the annual power-generating potential of a generating facility for the purposes of this section. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a certificate to the applicant stating whether the facility is an eligible qualified energy generator and the estimated annual production potential of the generating facility, which shall be the limit of that facility's energy production eligible for the tax credit for the taxable year. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection and shall report annually to the appropriate interim legislative committee information that will allow the legislative committee to analyze the effectiveness of the renewable energy production tax credit, including the identity of qualified energy generators, the energy production means used, the amount of energy produced by those qualified energy generators and whether any applications could not be approved due to program limits.

H. A taxpayer may be allocated all or a portion of the right to claim a renewable energy production tax credit without regard to proportional ownership interest if:

(1) the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership;

(2) the business entity:

(a) would qualify for the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection B of this section;

(b) owns an interest in a business entity that is also taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership and that would qualify for the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection B of this section; or

(c) owns, through one or more intermediate business entities that are each taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership, an interest in the business entity described in Subparagraph (b) of this paragraph;

(3) the taxpayer and all other taxpayers allocated a right to claim the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to this subsection own collectively at least a five percent interest in a qualified energy generator;

(4) the business entity provides notice of the allocation and the taxpayer's interest to the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms prescribed by that department for the taxable year to be claimed; and

(5) the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the allocation for the taxable year to be claimed in writing to the taxpayer.

I. Upon receipt of notice of an allocation of the right to claim all or a portion of the renewable energy production tax credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall promptly certify the allocation in writing to the recipient of the allocation.

J. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

K. A taxpayer may claim the renewable energy production tax credit by submitting to the taxation and revenue department the certificate issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department, pursuant to Subsection G or H of this section, documentation showing the taxpayer's interest in the facility, documentation of the amount of electricity produced by the facility in the taxable year and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit due the taxpayer.

L. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall approve payment of the renewable energy production tax credit. The credit may be deducted from a taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is claimed. If the amount of tax credit exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable year:

(1) the excess may be carried forward for a period of five taxable years; or

(2) if the tax credit was issued with respect to a qualified energy generator that first produced electricity using a qualified energy resource on or after October 1, 2007, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

M. Once a taxpayer has been granted a renewable energy production tax credit for a given facility, that taxpayer shall be allowed to retain the facility's original date of application for tax credits for that facility until either the facility goes out of production for more than six consecutive months in a year or until the facility's ten-year eligibility has expired.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 2; 2021, ch. 65, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, provided that the amount of the renewable energy production tax credit in the eleventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity is one and one-half cents per kilowatt-hour, clarified that a taxpayer eligible for a renewable energy production tax credit shall be eligible for one hundred twenty consecutive months, and revised the definition of "qualified energy generator", as used in this section; in Subsection D, after "Paragraphs (1) through", changed "(10)" to "(11)", and added Paragraph D(11); in Subsection E, after "tax credit for", changed "ten" to "one hundred twenty", and after "consecutive", changed "years" to "months"; in Subsection F, Paragraph F(2), after "means", deleted "a" and added "an electric generating"; and in Subsection H, Paragraph H(4), after the second occurrence of "department", added "for the taxable year to be claimed", and in Paragraph H(5), after "allocation", added "for the taxable year to be claimed".

7-2-18.19. Sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "sustainable building tax credit". The sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico into a sustainable building or the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the sustainable building tax credit provided in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] has been claimed.

B. The purpose of the sustainable building tax credit is to encourage the construction of sustainable buildings and the renovation of existing buildings into sustainable buildings.

C. A taxpayer who files an income tax return is eligible to be granted a sustainable building tax credit by the department if the taxpayer submits a document issued pursuant to Subsection J of this section with the taxpayer's income tax return.

D. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2016, the sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable commercial building. The credit shall be calculated based on the certification level the building has achieved in the LEED green building rating system and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

LEED Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Silver	First 10,000	$3.50
	Next 40,000	$1.75
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-NC Gold	First 10,000	$4.75
	Next 40,000	$2.00
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$1.00
LEED-NC Platinum	First 10,000	$6.25
	Next 40,000	$3.25
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$2.00
LEED-EB or CS Silver	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.25
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.50
LEED-EB or CS Gold	First 10,000	$3.35
	Next 40,000	$1.40
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	First 10,000	$4.40
	Next 40,000	$2.30
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$1.40
LEED-CI Silver	First 10,000	$1.40
	Next 40,000	$.70
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.30
LEED-CI Gold	First 10,000	$1.90
	Next 40,000	$.80
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.40

LEED-CI Platinum	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.80

E. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2016, the sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable residential building. The credit shall be calculated based on the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated on the following chart:

	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Silver or Build	First 2,000	$5.00
Green NM Silver	Next 1,000	$2.50
LEED-H Gold or Build	First 2,000	$6.85
Green NM Gold	Next 1,000	$3.40
LEED-H Platinum or Build	First 2,000	$9.00
Green NM Emerald	Next 1,000	$4.45
EPA ENERGY STAR Manufactured Housing	Up to 3,000	$3.00.

F. A person that is a building owner may apply for 1a certificate of eligibility for the sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the tax credit application is made meets the requirements of this section as a sustainable residential building or a sustainable commercial building, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitation in Subsection G of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building and a calculation of the maximum amount of sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2007, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner who is:

(1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or

(2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

G. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to sustainable commercial buildings and an aggregate amount of four million dollars ($4,000,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings; provided that no more than one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) of the aggregate amount with respect to sustainable residential buildings shall be for manufactured housing. If for any taxable year the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the applications for sustainable building tax credits with respect to sustainable residential buildings for that taxable year exceed the aggregate limit set in this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue certificates of eligibility under the aggregate annual limit for sustainable commercial buildings to owners of sustainable residential buildings that meet the requirements of the energy, minerals and natural resources department and of this section; provided that applications for sustainable building credits for other sustainable commercial buildings total less than the full amount allocated for tax credits for sustainable commercial buildings.

H. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 may not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the sustainable building tax credit, unless a solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

I. To be eligible for the sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection F of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit for which the building owner is eligible.

J. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

K. If the total approved amount of all sustainable building tax credits for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by the documents issued pursuant to Subsection J of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability.

L. If the sum of all sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection K of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years.

M. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

N. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the sustainable building tax credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

O. The department shall compile an annual report on the sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. Beginning in 2015 and every five years thereafter, the department shall compile and present the annual reports to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

P. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "build green New Mexico rating system" means the certification standards adopted by the homebuilders association of central New Mexico;

(2) "LEED-CI" means the LEED rating system for commercial interiors;

(3) "LEED-CS" means the LEED rating system for the core and shell of buildings;

(4) "LEED-EB" means the LEED rating system for existing buildings;

(5) "LEED gold" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the second-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(6) "LEED" means the most current leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system guidelines developed and adopted by the United States green building council;

(7) "LEED-H" means the LEED rating system for homes;

(8) "LEED-NC" means the LEED rating system for new buildings and major renovations;

(9) "LEED platinum" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(10) "LEED silver" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the third-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(11) "manufactured housing" means a multisectioned home that is:

(a) a manufactured home or modular home;

(b) a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six feet by twenty-four feet and a total area of at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet;

(c) constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or New Mexico construction codes up to the date of the unit's construction; and

(d) installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act [Chapter 60, Article 14 NMSA 1978] and rules adopted pursuant to that act relating to permanent foundations;

(12) "qualified occupied square footage" means the occupied spaces of the building as determined by:

(a) the United States green building council for those buildings obtaining LEED certification;

(b) the administrators of the build green New Mexico rating system for those homes obtaining build green New Mexico certification; and

(c) the United States environmental protection agency for ENERGY STAR-certified manufactured homes;

(13) "person" does not include state, local government, public school district or tribal agencies;

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2-18.21 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 7, relating to credit, blended biodiesel fuel, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-18.22. Rural health care practitioner tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico tax return, who is not a dependent of another individual, who is an eligible health care practitioner and who has provided health care services in New Mexico in a rural health care underserved area in a taxable year may claim a credit against the tax liability imposed by the Income Tax Act. The credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "rural health care practitioner tax credit".

B. The rural health care practitioner tax credit may be claimed and allowed in an amount that shall not exceed:

(1) five thousand dollars ($5,000) for all physicians, osteopathic physicians, dentists, psychologists, podiatric physicians and optometrists who qualify pursuant to the provisions of this section and have provided health care during a taxable year for at least one thousand five hundred eighty-four hours at a practice site located in an approved rural health care underserved area. Eligible health care practitioners listed in this paragraph who provided health care services for at least seven hundred ninety-two hours but less than one thousand five hundred eighty-four hours at a practice site located in an approved rural health care underserved area during a taxable year are eligible for one-half of the tax credit amount; and

(2) three thousand dollars ($3,000) for all pharmacists, dental hygienists, physician assistants, certified registered nurse anesthetists, certified nurse practitioners, clinical nurse specialists, registered nurses, midwives, licensed clinical social workers, licensed independent social workers, professional mental health counselors, professional clinical mental health counselors, marriage and family therapists, professional art therapists, alcohol and drug abuse counselors and physical therapists who qualify pursuant to the provisions of this section and have provided health care during a taxable year for at least one thousand five hundred eighty-four hours at a practice site located in an approved rural health care underserved area. Eligible health care practitioners listed in this paragraph who provided health care services for at least seven hundred ninety-two hours but less than one thousand five hundred eighty-four hours at a practice site located in an approved rural health care underserved area during a taxable year are eligible for one-half of the tax credit amount.

C. Before an eligible health care practitioner may claim the rural health care practitioner tax credit, the practitioner shall submit an application to the department of health that describes the practitioner's clinical practice and contains additional information that the department of health may require. The department of health shall determine whether an eligible health care practitioner qualifies for the rural health care practitioner tax credit and shall issue a certificate to each qualifying eligible health care practitioner. The department of health shall provide the taxation and revenue department appropriate information for all eligible health care practitioners to whom certificates are issued in a secure manner on regular intervals agreed upon by both the taxation and revenue department and the department of health.

D. A taxpayer claiming the credit provided by this section shall submit a copy of the certificate issued by the department of health with the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax return for the taxable year. If the amount of the credit claimed exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability for the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, the excess may be carried forward for three consecutive taxable years.

E. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

F. The department shall compile an annual report on the tax credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "eligible health care practitioner" means:

(a) a dentist or dental hygienist licensed pursuant to the Dental Health Care Act;

(b) a midwife that is a: 1) certified nurse-midwife licensed by the board of nursing as a registered nurse and licensed by the public health division of the department of health to practice nurse-midwifery as a certified nurse-midwife; or 2) licensed midwife licensed by the public health division of the department of health to practice licensed midwifery;

(c) an optometrist licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Optometry Act [Chapter 61, Article 2 NMSA 1978];

(d) an osteopathic physician licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Medical Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 6 NMSA 1978];

(e) a physician licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Medical Practice Act or a physician assistant licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Physician Assistant Act [Chapter 61, Article 6C NMSA 1978];

(f) a podiatric physician licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Podiatry Act [Chapter 61, Article 8 NMSA 1978];

(g) a psychologist licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Professional Psychologist Act [Chapter 61, Article 9 NMSA 1978];

(h) a registered nurse licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Nursing Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 3 NMSA 1978];

(i) a pharmacist licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmacy Act [Chapter 61, Article 11 NMSA 1978];

(j) a licensed clinical social worker or a licensed independent social worker licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Social Work Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 31 NMSA 1978];

(k) a professional mental health counselor, a professional clinical mental health counselor, a marriage and family therapist, an alcohol and drug abuse counselor or a professional art therapist licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Counseling and Therapy Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 9A NMSA 1978]; and

(l) a physical therapist licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Physical Therapy Act [61-12D-1 to 61-12D-19 NMSA 1978];

(2) "health care underserved area" means a geographic area or practice location in which it has been determined by the department of health, through the use of indices and other standards set by the department of health, that sufficient health care services are not being provided;

(3) "practice site" means a private practice, public health clinic, hospital, public or private nonprofit primary care clinic or other health care service location in a health care underserved area; and

(4) "rural" means a rural county or an unincorporated area of a partially rural county, as designated by the health resources and services administration of the United States department of health and human services.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 361, § 2; 2024, ch. 67, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, added health care providers to the rural health care practitioner tax credit, modified the requirements for receiving the tax credit, required taxpayers allowed the rural health care practitioner tax credit to report the amount of the credit to the taxation and revenue department, and required the department to compile an annual report on the rural health care practitioner tax credit; in the section heading, deleted "Tax credit"; in Subsection B, Paragraph B(1), after "for all", deleted "eligible", deleted "clinical" preceding "psychologists", after "psychologists", deleted "podiatrists" and added "podiatric physicians", after "provisions of this section", deleted "except the credit shall not exceed" and added the remainder of the paragraph, and in Paragraph B(2), after "for all", deleted "eligible" and added "pharmacists", after "physician assistants", deleted "certified nurse midwives", and after "clinical nurse specialists", added the remainder of the paragraph; deleted former Subsection C and redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections C and D, respectively; added new Subsections E and F and redesignated former Subsection F as Subsection G; and in Subsection G, Paragraph G(1), deleted former Subparagraph (1)(a) and redesignated former Subparagraph (1)(b) as Subparagraph G(1)(a), added a new Subparagraph G(1)(b), in Subparagraph G(1)(d), after "osteopathic physician", deleted "licensed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 61, Article 10 NMSA 1978 or an osteopathic physician assistant", and after "provisions of the", deleted "Osteopathic Physicians' Assistants" and added "Medical Practice", in Subparagraph G(1)e), after "physician", deleted "or physician assistant", after "the provisions of", deleted "Chapter 61, Article 6 NMSA 1978" and added "the Medical Practice Act or a physician assistant licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Physician Assistant Act", in Subparagraph G(1)(f), after "a", deleted "podiatrist" and added "podiatric physician", in Subparagraph G(1)(g), deleted "clinical" preceding "psychologist", in Subparagraph G(1)(h), after "registered nurse", deleted "in advanced practice who has been prepared through additional formal education as provided in Sections 61-3-23.2 through 61-3-23.4 NMSA 1978 to function beyond the scope of practice of professional registered nursing, including certified nurse practitioners, certified registered nurse anesthetists and clinical nurse specialists" and added "licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Nursing Practice Act", added new Subparagraph G(1)(i) through G(1)(l), and in Paragraph G(4), after "means", deleted "an area or location identified by the department of health as falling outside of an urban area" and added "a rural county or an unincorporated area of a partially rural county, as designated by the health resources and services administration of the United States department of health and human services".

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.23. Refundable credit; 2007 taxable year.

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, a taxpayer who for the 2007 taxable year files a New Mexico income tax return, is a full-year or first-year resident of New Mexico and is not a trust, estate or a dependent of another taxpayer is allowed a credit in the amount determined under Subsection C of this section. The credit may be allowed even though the taxpayer has no income taxable under the Income Tax Act for the 2007 taxable year.

B. A claim for the refundable tax credit provided in this section is not allowed for a resident who was an inmate of a public institution for more than six months during the 2007 taxable year.

C. The tax credit allowed in this section shall be in the amount determined from the following tables for:

(1) married taxpayers filing jointly:

Adjusted Gross Income		Credit Amount for Taxpayer and Spouse	Additional Credit Amount for Each Dependent
Over	Not Over
0	$30,000	$100	$50.00
$30,000	$50,000	$ 80.00	$40.00
$50,000	$70,000	$ 50.00	$25.00
$70,000		$ 0.00	$ 0.00; or

(2) taxpayers filing as single, head of household, married filing separately or as a surviving spouse:

Adjusted Gross Income	Credit Amount for Taxpayer	Additional Credit Amount for Each Dependent
-----------------------	----------------------------	---

Over	Not Over
0	$30,000	$50.00	$50.00
$30,000	$50,000	$40.00	$40.00
$70,000		$ 0.00	$ 0.00.

D. The tax credit allowed in this section may be credited by the department against the taxpayer's New Mexico income tax liability. If the taxpayer is liable for interest and penalties on the taxpayer's income tax liability for the 2007 taxable year prior to the effective date of this section, the amount of interest and penalties shall not be recomputed due to the credit provided by this section but may be satisfied by applying the credit to the penalty or interest due. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978, interest in the amount established by Subsection B of Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978 shall only be allowed and paid on the amount to be refunded under Subsection E of this section if not refunded or credited within one hundred twenty days after the effective date of this section or the applicable period established in Subsection D of Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978, whichever is later.

E. If the tax credit exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

F. For purposes of this section, "dependent" means "dependent" as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 2008 (2nd S.S.), ch. 3, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 152.

Emergency clause. — Laws 2008, ch. 3, § 4 contained an emergency clause and was approved on August 25, 2008.

Applicability. — Laws 2008, ch. 3, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2008, ch. 3, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning between January 1, 2007 and December 31, 2007.

7-2-18.24. Geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who files an individual New Mexico income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2024 and who purchases and installs after the effective date of this section but before December 31, 2034 a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump in a residence, business or agricultural enterprise in New Mexico owned by that taxpayer may apply for, and the department may allow, a tax credit of up to thirty percent of the purchase and installation costs of the system. The credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit". The total geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit allowed to a taxpayer shall not exceed nine thousand dollars ($9,000). The department shall allow a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit only for geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps that are installed by a nationally accredited ground source heat pump installer certified by the energy, minerals and natural resources department.

B. That portion of a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

C. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall adopt rules establishing procedures to provide certification of geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps for purposes of obtaining a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit. The rules shall address technical specifications and requirements relating to safety, building code and standards compliance, minimum system sizes, system applications and lists of eligible components. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may modify the specifications and requirements as necessary to maintain a high level of system quality and performance.

D. The maximum annual aggregate of credits that may be certified in a calendar year by the energy, minerals and natural resources department is four million dollars ($4,000,000). That department shall not certify a tax credit for which a taxpayer claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit using a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for that credit. Applications for the credit shall be considered in the order received by the department.

E. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit with respect to property owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the property shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

F. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

G. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

H. The department shall compile an annual report on the tax credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

I. As used in this section, "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump" means a heating and refrigerating system that directly or indirectly utilizes available heat below the surface of the earth for distribution of heating and cooling or domestic hot water and that has either a minimum coefficient of performance of three and four-tenths or an efficiency ratio of sixteen or greater.

History: Laws 2009, ch. 271, § 1; 2024, ch. 67, § 25.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, reinstated the geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit, increased the maximum amount of the credit from two million dollars to four million dollars, required the taxation and revenue department to compile an annual report on the geothermal ground-coupled heat pump income tax credit, and revised the definition of "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump"; in the section heading, added "income" preceding "tax credit"; in Subsection A, after "January 1,", changed "2010" to "2024", after "installs after", deleted "January 1, 2010" and added "the effective date of this section", after "December 31,", changed "2020" to "2034", and after "only for geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps", added "that are installed by a nationally accredited ground source heat pump installer"; in Subsection B, after "tax credit that", deleted "remains unused in a" and added "exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the", and after "taxable year", deleted "may be carried forward for a maximum of ten consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originates until the credit is fully expended" and added "in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer"; in Subsection C, deleted "Prior to July 1, 2010"; in Subsection D, after "maximum annual aggregate of", deleted "two million dollars ($2,000,000) in geothermal ground-coupled heat pump tax", after "credits", added "that may be certified in a calendar year by the energy, minerals and natural resources department is four million dollars ($4,000,000). That department shall not certify a tax credit for which a taxpayer claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit using a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for that credit"; in Subsection F, deleted "A husband and wife" and added "Married individuals"; added new Subsections G and H and redesignated former Subsection G as Subsection I; and in Subsection I, after "means a", deleted "system that uses energy from the ground, water or, ultimately, the sun for distribution of heating, cooling or domestic hot water" and added "heating and refrigerating system that directly or indirectly utilizes available heat below the surface of the earth for distribution of heating and cooling or domestic hot water and", and after "sixteen or greater", deleted "and that is installed by an accredited installer certified by the international ground source heat pump association".

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.25. Repealed.

History: Laws 2009, ch. 279, § 1; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2-18.25 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2009, ch. 279, § 1, relating to advanced energy income tax credit, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-18.26. Agricultural biomass income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who owns a dairy or feedlot and who files an individual New Mexico income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011 and ending prior to January 1, 2030, may apply for, and the department may allow, a tax credit equal to five dollars ($5.00) per wet ton of agricultural biomass transported from the taxpayer's dairy or feedlot to a facility that uses agricultural biomass to generate electricity or make biocrude or other liquid or gaseous fuel for commercial use. The tax credit created in this section may be referred to as the "agricultural biomass income tax credit".

B. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the taxpayer a document granting an agricultural biomass income tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the taxpayer with that taxpayer's income tax return or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

C. Any portion of the agricultural biomass income tax credit that remains unused in a taxable year may be carried forward for a maximum of four consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originates until fully expended.

D. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims an agricultural biomass income tax credit with respect to a dairy or feedlot owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim the credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or business association. The total agricultural biomass income tax credits claimed in the aggregate with respect to the same dairy or feedlot by all members of the partnership or business association shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a single owner of the dairy or feedlot.

E. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

F. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall adopt rules establishing procedures to provide certification of transportation of agricultural biomass to a qualified facility that uses agricultural biomass to generate electricity or make biocrude or other liquid or gaseous fuel for commercial use for purposes of obtaining an agricultural biomass income tax credit. The rules may be modified as determined necessary by the energy, minerals and natural resources department to determine accurate recording of the quantity of agricultural biomass transported and used for the purpose allowable in this section.

G. A taxpayer who claims an agricultural biomass income tax credit shall not also claim an agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit for transportation of the same agricultural biomass on which the claim for that agricultural biomass income tax credit is based.

H. The department shall limit the annual combined total of all agricultural biomass income tax credits and all agricultural biomass corporate income tax credits allowed to a maximum of five million dollars ($5,000,000). Applications for the credit shall be considered in the order received by the department.

I. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

J. The department shall compile an annual report on the agricultural biomass income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

K. As used in this section:

(1) "agricultural biomass" means wet manure meeting specifications established by the energy, minerals and natural resources department from either a dairy or feedlot commercial operation;

(2) "biocrude" means a nonfossil form of energy that can be transported and refined using existing petroleum refining facilities and that is made from biologically derived feedstocks and other agricultural biomass;

(3) "feedlot" means an operation that fattens livestock for market; and

(4) "dairy" means a facility that raises livestock for milk production.

History: Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 1; 2020, ch. 20, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011 and ending prior to January 1, 2020.

The 2020 amendment, effective May 20, 2020, extended the agricultural biomass income tax credit until the year 2030, required taxpayers claiming the credit to report the amount of the credit to the taxation and revenue department, and required the taxation and revenue department to compile an annual report on the agricultural biomass income tax credit and present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee; in Subsection A, after "prior to January 1", deleted "2020" and added "2030"; and added new Subsections I and J and redesignated the succeeding subsection accordingly.

7-2-18.29. 2015 sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "2015 sustainable building tax credit". The 2015 sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico into a sustainable building or the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building; provided that the construction, renovation or installation project is completed prior to April 1, 2023. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the 2015 sustainable building tax credit provided in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] or the 2021 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act has been claimed.

B. The purpose of the 2015 sustainable building tax credit is to encourage the construction of sustainable buildings and the renovation of existing buildings into sustainable buildings.

C. A taxpayer who files an income tax return is eligible to be granted a 2015 sustainable building tax credit by the department if the taxpayer submits a document issued pursuant to Subsection K of this section with the taxpayer's income tax return.

D. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2024, the 2015 sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable commercial building. The credit shall be calculated based on the certification level the building has achieved in the LEED green building rating system and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

LEED Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Silver	First 10,000	$3.50
	Next 40,000	$1.75
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-NC Gold	First 10,000	$4.75
	Next 40,000	$2.00
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$1.00
LEED-NC Platinum	First 10,000	$6.25
	Next 40,000	$3.25
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$2.00
LEED-EB or CS Silver	First 10,000	$2.50

	Next 40,000	$1.25
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.50
LEED-EB or CS Gold	First 10,000	$3.35
	Next 40,000	$1.40
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	First 10,000	$4.40
	Next 40,000	$2.30
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$1.40
LEED-CI Silver	First 10,000	$1.40
	Next 40,000	$.70
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.30
LEED-CI Gold	First 10,000	$1.90
	Next 40,000	$.80
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.40
LEED-CI Platinum	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.80.

E. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2024, the 2015 sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable residential building. The credit shall be calculated based on the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating System/Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Silver or Build Green NM Silver	Up to 2,000	$3.00
LEED-H Gold or Build Green NM Gold	Up to 2,000	$4.50
LEED-H Platinum or Build Green NM Emerald	Up to 2,000	$6.50
Manufactured Housing	Up to 2,000	$3.00.

F. A person that is a building owner may apply for a certificate of eligibility for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the tax credit application is made meets the requirements of this section as a sustainable residential building or a sustainable commercial building, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitations in Subsection G of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building and a calculation of the maximum amount of 2015 sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2017 but prior to April 1, 2023, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner who is:

- (1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or
- (2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

G. Except as provided in Subsection H of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of 2015 sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of:

- (1) one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) with respect to sustainable commercial buildings;
- (2) three million three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($3,375,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings that are not manufactured housing; and
- (3) three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($375,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings that are manufactured housing.

H. For any taxable year that the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that applications for sustainable building tax credits for any type of sustainable building pursuant to Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Subsection G of this section are less than the aggregate limit for that type of sustainable building for that taxable year, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall allow the difference between the aggregate limit and the applications to be added to the aggregate limit of another type of sustainable building for which applications exceeded the aggregate limit for that taxable year. Any excess not used in a taxable year shall not be carried forward to subsequent taxable years.

I. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 may not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, unless a solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the 2015 sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

J. To be eligible for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection F of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit for which the building owner is eligible.

K. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a 2015 sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

L. If the approved amount of a 2015 sustainable building tax credit for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection K of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability.

M. If the sum of all 2015 sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection L of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years.

N. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a 2015 sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

O. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the 2015 sustainable building tax credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

P. The department shall compile an annual report on the 2015 sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. Beginning in 2019 and every three years thereafter that the credit is in effect, the department shall compile and present the annual reports to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the federal National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974, see 42 U.S.C. § 5403.

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, changed the name of the "new sustainable building tax credit" to the "2015 sustainable building tax credit", accelerated the termination of the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, provided the credit for projects completed prior to April 1, 2023, and provided that claims for credit may be made by the end of tax year 2024; substituted "new" with "2015" preceding "sustainable building tax credit" throughout; after "December 31", changed "2026" to "2024" throughout; in Subsection A, after "that is a sustainable building", added "provided that the construction, renovation or installation project is completed prior to April 1, 2023", and after "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act", added "or the 2021 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act"; and in Subsection F, after "January 1, 2017", added "but prior to April 1, 2023".

7-2-18.30. Foster youth employment income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who employs a qualified foster youth in New Mexico is eligible for a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act in an amount up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the gross wages paid to each qualified foster youth by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the return is filed. A taxpayer who employs a qualified foster youth for less than the full taxable year is eligible for a credit amount equal to one thousand dollars ($1,000) multiplied by the fraction of a full year for which the qualified foster youth was employed. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "foster youth employment income tax credit".

B. The purpose of the foster youth employment income tax credit is to encourage the employment of individuals who as youth were adjudicated as abused or neglected or who were in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department under the Children's Code [Chapter 32A NMSA 1978] or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services.

C. A taxpayer may claim the foster youth employment income tax credit provided in this section for each taxable year in which the taxpayer employs one or more qualified foster youths; provided that the taxpayer may not claim the foster youth employment income tax credit for any individual qualified foster youth for more than one calendar year from the date of hire.

D. That portion of a foster youth employment income tax credit approved by the department that exceeds a taxpayer's income tax liability in the taxable year in which the foster youth employment income tax credit is claimed shall not be refunded to the taxpayer but may be carried forward for up to three years. The foster youth employment income tax credit shall not be transferred to another taxpayer.

E. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the foster youth employment income tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

F. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim a foster youth employment income tax credit in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to Subsection A of this section.

G. The taxpayer shall submit to the department with respect to each employee for whom the foster youth employment income tax credit is claimed information required by the department with respect to the qualified foster youth's employment by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the foster youth employment income tax credit is claimed, including information establishing that the employee is a qualified foster youth that can be used to determine that the employee was not also employed in the same taxable year by another taxpayer claiming a foster youth employment income or corporate income tax credit for that employee pursuant to this section or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978].

H. The department shall:

(1) adopt rules establishing procedures to certify that an employee is a qualified foster youth for purposes of obtaining a foster youth employment income tax credit. The rules shall ensure that not more than one foster youth employment income tax credit per qualified foster youth shall be allowed in a taxable year and that the credits allowed per qualified foster youth are limited to a maximum of one year's employment; and

(2) collaborate with the children, youth and families department, the New Mexico Indian nations, tribes and pueblos and the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services to establish the certification procedures.

I. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

J. The department shall compile an annual report on the foster youth employment income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the credit. The department shall present the annual report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

K. As used in this section, "qualified foster youth" means an individual:

(1) who:

(a) is currently in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department pursuant to the Children's Code or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services; or

(b) within the seven years prior to the taxable year for which the tax credit is claimed, was aged fourteen years or older and was in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department pursuant to the Children's Code or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services;

(2) who works at least twenty hours per week during the taxable year for which the foster youth employment income tax credit is claimed; and

(3) who was not previously employed by the taxpayer prior to the taxable year for which the foster youth employment income tax credit is claimed.

History: Laws 2018, ch. 36, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2018, ch. 36 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective May 16, 2018, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2018, ch. 36, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2018, ch. 36, §§ 1 and 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2018.

7-2-18.31. New solar market development income tax credit.

A. For taxable years prior to January 1, 2032, a taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who, on or after March 1, 2020, purchases and installs a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system in a residence, business or agricultural enterprise in New Mexico owned by that taxpayer or by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo and held in leasehold by that taxpayer may apply for, and the department may allow, a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act in an amount provided in Subsection C of this section. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "new solar market development income tax credit".

B. The purpose of the new solar market development income tax credit is to encourage the installation of solar thermal and photovoltaic systems in residences, businesses and agricultural enterprises.

C. The department may allow a new solar market development income tax credit of ten percent of the purchase and installation costs of a solar thermal or photovoltaic system.

D. The new solar market development income tax credit shall not exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000) per taxpayer per taxable year. The department shall allow a tax credit only for solar thermal and photovoltaic systems certified pursuant to Subsection E of this section.

E. Subject to the limitation provided in Subsection F of this section, a taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the new solar market development income tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Completed applications shall be considered in the order received. The application shall include proof of purchase and installation of a solar thermal or photovoltaic system, that the system meets technical specifications and requirements relating to safety, code and standards compliance, solar collector orientation and sun exposure, minimum system sizes, system applications and lists of eligible components and any additional information that the energy, minerals and natural resources department may require to determine eligibility for the credit. A dated certificate of eligibility shall be issued to the taxpayer providing the amount of the new solar market development income tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable year in which the credit may be claimed. A certificate of eligibility for a new solar market development income tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer for the full value of the credit. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

F. The aggregate amount of credits that may be certified pursuant to Subsection E of this section is as follows, and applications for certification received after these limitations have been met shall not be approved:

(1) for calendar years 2020 through 2023, twelve million dollars ($12,000,000) for each calendar year; provided that if this limitation has been met for any of those calendar years, an additional total of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) in credits may be certified for all of those calendar years; and provided further that credits certified pursuant to this paragraph shall be claimed only for taxable year 2023; and

(2) for calendar years 2024 and thereafter, thirty million dollars ($30,000,000).

G. A taxpayer may claim a new solar market development income tax credit for the taxable year in which the taxpayer purchases and installs a solar thermal or photovoltaic system. To receive a new solar market development income tax credit, a taxpayer shall apply to the department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department within twelve months following the calendar year in which the system was installed; provided that, for a taxpayer who receives a certificate of eligibility pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection F of this section, the taxpayer shall apply to the department within twelve months following the calendar year in which the certification is made. The application shall include a certification made pursuant to Subsection E of this section.

H. That portion of a new solar market development income tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

I. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the new solar market development income tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

J. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim a new solar market development income tax credit in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to this section.

K. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the taxation and revenue department in a manner required by that department.

L. The taxation and revenue department shall compile an annual report on the new solar market development income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

M. As used in this section:

(1) "photovoltaic system" means an energy system that collects or absorbs sunlight for conversion into electricity; and

(2) "solar thermal system" means an energy system that collects or absorbs solar energy for conversion into heat for the purposes of space heating, space cooling or water heating.

History: Laws 2020, ch. 13, § 1; 2022, ch. 47, § 8; 2024, ch. 67, § 38.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, increased the aggregate cap of available tax credits for solar system purchase and installation to thirty million dollars from twelve million dollars for calendar years 2024 and thereafter, provided that an additional total of twenty million dollars in credits may be certified for calendar years 2020 through 2023, but may be claimed only for taxable year 2023, and provided that taxpayers who install an eligible solar system on a property held by that taxpayer in leasehold from a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo will be eligible for the tax credit; in Subsection A, after "owned by that taxpayer", added "or by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo and held in leasehold by that taxpayer"; in Subsection E, added "Subject to the limitation provided in Subsection F of this section", after "prescribed by that department", deleted "The aggregate amount of credits that may be certified as eligible in any calendar year is twelve million dollars ($12,000,000).", and after "in the order received", deleted "Applications for certification received after this limitation has been met in a calendar year shall not be approved."; added a new Subsection F and redesignated former Subsections F through L as Subsections G through M, respectively; and in Subsection G, added "provided that, for a taxpayer who receives a certificate of eligibility pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection F of this section, the taxpayer shall apply to the department within twelve months following the calendar year in which the certification is made".

The 2022 amendment, effective May 18, 2022, extended the sunset on the new solar market development income tax credit, increased the aggregate amount of credits that may be certified as eligible in a calendar year, provided that the new solar market development income tax credit is transferable, and provided that the portion of a new solar market development income tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer rather than carried over for five years; in Subsection A, after "For taxable years prior to January 1", changed "2028" to "2032"; in Subsection E, changed "eight million dollars ($8,000,000)" to "twelve million dollars ($12,000,000)", and added "A certificate of eligibility for a new solar market development income tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer for the full value of the credit. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten day of the sale, exchange or transfer."; and in Subsection G, after "taxable year in which the credit is claimed", deleted "may be carried forward for a maximum of five consecutive taxable years" and added "shall be refunded to the taxpayer".

Applicability. — Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 16 provided that the provisions of Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 8 apply to the purchase and installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

7-2-18.32. 2021 sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "2021 sustainable building tax credit". For taxable years prior to January 1, 2028, a taxpayer who is a building owner and files an income tax return is eligible to be granted a 2021 sustainable building tax credit by the department if the requirements of this section are met. The 2021 sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico, the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building or the installation of energy-conserving products to existing buildings in New Mexico, as provided in this section. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the 2021 sustainable building tax credit provided in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] or the 2015 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act has been claimed.

B. The amount of a 2021 sustainable building tax credit shall be determined as follows:

(1) for the construction of a new sustainable commercial building that is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready and is completed on or after January 1, 2022, the amount of credit shall be calculated:

(a) based on the certification level the building has achieved in the rating level and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Platinum	First 10,000	$5.25
	Next 40,000	$2.25
	Over 50,000
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	up to 200,000	$1.00
	First 10,000	$3.40
	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000

(2) for the renovation of a commercial building that was built at least ten years prior to the date of the renovation, has twenty thousand square feet or more of space in which temperature is controlled and is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready, the amount of credit shall be calculated by multiplying two dollars twenty-five cents ($2.25) by the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, up to a maximum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) per renovation; provided that the renovation reduces total energy and power costs by fifty percent when compared to the most current energy standard for buildings except low-rise residential buildings, as developed by the American society of heating, refrigerating and air-conditioning engineers;

(3) for the installation of the following energy-conserving products to an existing commercial building with less than twenty thousand square feet of space in which temperature is controlled that is broadband ready, the amount of credit shall be based on the cost of the product installed, which shall include installation costs, and if the building is affordable housing, per product installed:

Product	Amount of Credit
	Affordable Housing	Non-Affordable Housing
Energy Star Air Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Ground Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000

Energy Star Heat Pump Water Heater	$700	$350
Electric Vehicle Ready	100% of product cost up to $3,000	50% of product cost up to $1,500;

(4) for the construction of a new sustainable residential building that is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready and is completed on or after January 1, 2022, the amount of credit shall be calculated:

(a) based on the certification level the building has achieved in the rating level and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Platinum	Up to 2,000	$5.50
LEED-H Gold	Up to 2,000	$3.80
Build Green Emerald	Up to 2,000	$5.50
Build Green Gold	Up to 2,000	$3.80
Manufactured Housing	Up to 2,000	$2.00; and

(b) with additional amounts based on the additional criteria and the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated in the following chart:

Additional Criteria	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
Fully Electric Building	Up to 2,000	$1.00
Zero Carbon, Energy, Waste or Water Certified	Up to 2,000	$0.25; and

(5) for the installation of the following energy-conserving products to an existing residential building, the amount of credit shall be based on the cost of the product installed, which shall include installation costs, and if the building is affordable housing or the taxpayer is a low-income taxpayer, per product installed:

Product	Amount of Credit Affordable	Non-Affordable
---------	-----------------------------	----------------

	Housing and Low-Income	Housing and Non-Low Income
Energy Star Air Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Ground Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000

C. A person who is a building owner may apply for a certificate of eligibility for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building or installation of energy-conserving products in an existing building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the application is made meets the requirements of this section for a 2021 sustainable building tax credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitations in Subsection D of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, a calculation of the maximum amount of 2021 sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible, the identification number, date of issuance and the first taxable year that the credit shall be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2022, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner who is:

(1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or

(2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

D. Except as provided in Subsection E of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of 2021 sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of:

(1) one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable commercial buildings;

(2) two million dollars ($2,000,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable residential buildings that are not manufactured housing;

(3) two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable residential buildings that are manufactured housing;

(4) one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to the renovation of large commercial buildings; and

(5) two million nine hundred thousand dollars ($2,900,000) with respect to the installation of energy-conserving products in existing commercial buildings pursuant to Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of this section and existing residential buildings pursuant to Paragraph (5) of Subsection B of this section.

E. For any taxable year that the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that applications for sustainable building tax credits for any type of sustainable building pursuant to Subsection D of this section are less than the aggregate limit for that type of sustainable building for that taxable year, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall allow the difference between the aggregate limit and the applications to be added to the aggregate limit of another type of sustainable building for which applications exceeded the aggregate limit for that taxable year. Any excess not used in a taxable year shall not be carried forward to subsequent taxable years.

F. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the new solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.31 NMSA 1978 shall not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, unless a new solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.31 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the 2021 sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

G. To claim the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection

C of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require.

H. If the approved amount of a 2021 sustainable building tax credit for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection C of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's income tax liability.

I. If the sum of all 2021 sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection H of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years; provided that if the taxpayer is a low-income taxpayer, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

J. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

K. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the 2021 sustainable building tax credit that would have been allowed on a joint return.

L. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a 2021 sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

M. The department and the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall compile an annual report on the 2021 sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit.

N. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "broadband ready" means a building with an internet connection capable of connecting to a broadband provider;

(2) "build green emerald" means the emerald level certification standard adopted by build green New Mexico, which includes water conservation standards and uses forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department;

(3) "build green gold" means the gold level certification standard adopted by build green New Mexico, which includes water conservation standards and uses thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department;

(4) "electric vehicle ready" means a property that for commercial buildings provides at least ten percent of parking spaces and for residential buildings at least one parking space with one forty-ampere, two-hundred-eight-volt or two-hundred-forty-volt dedicated branch circuit for servicing electric vehicles that terminates in a suitable termination point, such as a receptacle or junction box, and is located in reasonably close proximity to the proposed location of the parking spaces;

(5) "energy rating system index" means a numerical score given to a building where one hundred is equivalent to the 2006 international energy conservation code and zero is equivalent to a net-zero home. As used in this paragraph, "net-zero home" means an energy-efficient home where, on a source energy basis, the actual annual delivered energy is less than or equal to the on-site renewable exported energy;

(6) "Energy Star" means products and devices certified under the energy star program administered by the United States environmental protection agency and United States department of energy that meet the specified performance requirements at the installed locations;

(7) "fully electric building" means a building that uses a permanent supply of electricity as the source of energy for all space heating, water heating, including pools and spas, cooking appliances and clothes drying appliances and, in the case of a new building, has no natural gas or propane plumbing installed in the building or, in the case of an existing building, has no connected natural gas or propane plumbing;

(8) "LEED" means the most current leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system guidelines developed and adopted by the United States green building council;

(9) "LEED-CI" means the LEED rating system for commercial interiors;

(10) "LEED-CS" means the LEED rating system for the core and shell of buildings;

(11) "LEED-EB" means the LEED rating system for existing buildings;

(12) "LEED gold" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the second-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(13) "LEED-H" means the LEED rating system for homes;

(14) "LEED-NC" means the LEED rating system for new buildings and major renovations;

(15) "LEED platinum" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(16) "low-income taxpayer" means a taxpayer with an annual household adjusted gross income equal to or less than two hundred percent of the federal poverty level guidelines published by the United States department of health and human services;

(17) "manufactured housing" means a multisectioned home that is:

(a) a manufactured home or modular home;

(b) a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six feet by twenty-four feet and a total area of at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet;

(c) constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or New Mexico construction codes up to the date of the unit's construction; and

(d) installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act [Chapter 60, Article 14 NMSA 1978] and rules adopted pursuant to that act relating to permanent foundations;

(18) "qualified occupied square footage" means the occupied spaces of the building as determined by:

(a) the United States green building council for those buildings obtaining LEED certification;

(b) the administrators of the build green New Mexico rating system for those homes obtaining build green New Mexico certification; and

(c) the United States environmental protection agency for Energy Star-certified manufactured homes;

(19) "person" does not include state, local government, public school district or tribal agencies;

(20) "sustainable building" means either a sustainable commercial building or a sustainable residential building;

(21) "sustainable commercial building" means:

(a) a commercial building that is certified as any LEED platinum or gold for commercial buildings;

(b) a multifamily dwelling unit that is certified as LEED-H platinum or gold or build green emerald or gold and uses at least thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current applicable energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green gold or LEED-H, or uses at least forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green emerald or LEED platinum; or

(c) a building that: 1) is certified at LEED-NC, LEED-EB, LEED-CS or LEED-CI platinum or gold levels; 2) achieves any prerequisite for and at least one point related to commissioning under the LEED energy and atmosphere category, if included in the applicable rating system; and 3) has reduced energy consumption beginning January 1, 2012 by forty percent based on the national average for that building type as published by the United States department of energy as substantiated by the United States environmental protection agency target finder energy performance results form, dated no sooner than the schematic design phase of development;

(22) "sustainable residential building" means:

(a) a building used as a single-family residence that: 1) is certified as LEED-H platinum or gold or build green emerald or gold; 2) uses at least thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green gold or LEED-H, or uses at least forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green emerald or LEED platinum; 3) has indoor plumbing fixtures and water-using appliances that, on average, have flow rates equal to or lower than the flow rates required for certification by WaterSense; 4) if landscape area is available at the front of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; and 5) if landscape area is available at the rear of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; or

(b) manufactured housing that is Energy Star-qualified;

(23) "tribal" means of, belonging to or created by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo;

(24) "WaterSense" means a program created by the federal environmental protection agency that certifies water-using products that meet the environmental protection agency's criteria for efficiency and performance;

(25) "zero carbon certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero carbon by achieving a carbon-dioxide-equivalent balance of zero for the building;

(26) "zero energy certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero energy by achieving a source energy use balance of zero for the building;

(27) "zero waste certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero waste by achieving green building certification incorporated's true zero waste certification at the platinum level; and

(28) "zero water certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero water by achieving a potable water use balance of zero for the building.

History: Laws 2021, ch. 84, § 2; 2022, ch. 47, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2022 amendment, effective May 18, 2022, provided for an earlier sunset date for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, and changed the start of the eligibility period for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit from April 1, 2023 to January 1, 2022; in Subsection A, after "prior to January 1,", changed "2030" to "2028"; in Subsection B, Paragraphs B(1) and B(4), deleted "April 1, 2023" and added "January 1, 2022"; in Subsection C, after "on or after January 1", changed "2021" to "2022"; and in Subsection F, after each occurrence of "pursuant to Section", deleted "7-2-18.14" and added "7-2-18.31".

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 84, § 5 provided that the provisions of 7-2-18.32 NMSA 1978 and 7-2A-28.1 NMSA 1978 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021.

7-2-18.33. Credit; nurses; 2022 taxable year.

A. For taxable year 2022, a taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who was employed full time as a nurse at a hospital located in New Mexico may apply for, and the department may allow, a tax credit against the taxpayer's tax liability pursuant to the Income Tax Act pursuant to the provisions of this section.

B. The amount of tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall be in an amount equal to one thousand dollars ($1,000).

C. To receive a tax credit provided by this section, a taxpayer shall apply to the department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department. The application shall include a certification by the hospital for which the taxpayer was employed in 2022 that the taxpayer was employed full time throughout 2022 as a nurse by the hospital.

D. That portion of the tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

E. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the taxation and revenue department in a manner required by that department.

F. The department shall compile an annual report on the tax credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "full time" means working at least thirty hours per week for forty-four weeks per year;

(2) "hospital" means a facility licensed as a hospital by the department of health; and

(3) "nurse" means a person licensed as a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse pursuant to the Nursing Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 3 NMSA 1978].

History: Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 3 was effective May 18, 2022, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-2-18.34. Child income tax credit.

A. For taxable years prior to January 1, 2032, a taxpayer who is a resident and is not a dependent of another individual may apply for, and the department may allow, a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act for each qualifying child of the taxpayer. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "child income tax credit".

B. Except as provided in Subsection D of this section, the child income tax credit may be claimed as shown in the following table:

Adjusted gross income is Over	But not over	Amount of credit per qualifying child is
$ 0	$ 25,000	$600
25,000	50,000	400
50,000	75,000	200
75,000	100,000	100
100,000	200,000	75
200,000	350,000	50
350,000		25.

C. If a taxpayer's adjusted gross income is less than zero, the taxpayer may claim a tax credit in the amount shown in the first row of the table provided in Subsection B of this section.

D. For the 2024 taxable year and each subsequent taxable year, the amount of credit shown in the table in Subsection B of this section shall be adjusted to account for inflation. The department shall make the adjustment by multiplying each amount of credit by a fraction, the numerator of which is the consumer price index ending during the prior taxable year and the denominator of which is the consumer price index ending in tax year 2022. The result of the multiplication shall be rounded down to the nearest one dollar ($1.00), except that if the result would be an amount less than the corresponding amount for the preceding taxable year, then no adjustment shall be made.

E. To receive a child income tax credit, a taxpayer shall apply to the department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department.

F. That portion of a child income tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded.

G. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the child income tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

H. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

I. The department shall compile an annual report on the child income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the credit. The department shall compile and present the annual report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "consumer price index" means the consumer price index for all urban consumers published by the United States department of labor for the month ending September 30; and

(2) "qualifying child" means "qualifying child" as defined by Section 152(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, but includes any minor child or stepchild of the taxpayer who would be a qualifying child for federal income tax purposes if the public assistance contributing to the support of the child or stepchild was considered to have been contributed by the taxpayer.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 47, § 5; 2023, ch. 211, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, increased the child tax credit for the lowest three income levels, and provided that the child tax credit amounts shall be adjusted annually to account for inflation; in Subsection A, after "For taxable years", deleted "beginning January 1, 2023 and"; in Subsection B, in the introductory clause, added "Except as provided in Subsection D of this section"; in the table, after the first occurrence of $25,000, changed "175" to "600", after the first occurrence of "50,000", deleted "150" and added "400", and after the first occurrence of "75,000", deleted "125" and added "200"; and added a new Subsection D; redesignated former Subsections D through I as Subsections E through J, respectively; and in Subsection J, added Paragraph J(1) and new paragraph designation "(2)".

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 43 provided:

A. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 9 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

B. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, §§ 31 through 35 apply to film production companies that commence principal photography for a film or commercial audiovisual product on or after July 1, 2023.

7-2-18.35. Home fire recovery income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who, beginning on the effective date of this section and prior to January 1, 2030, incurs qualified home expenditures for a home in New Mexico to replace a prior home of the taxpayer that was destroyed by a wildfire in calendar years 2021 through 2023 may claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act in an amount equal to the qualified home expenditures incurred by the taxpayer not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) per home. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "home fire recovery income tax credit".

B. A taxpayer who seeks to claim the tax credit shall apply for certification of eligibility from the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department on forms and in a manner prescribed by that division. The aggregate amount of credits that may be certified as eligible in any calendar year is five million dollars ($5,000,000). An application for certification shall be made no later than twelve months after the calendar year in which construction of the home is completed. Completed applications shall be considered in the order received. If a taxpayer submits an application for the tax credit and the aggregate amount of certifications has been met for the calendar year, the application shall be placed at the front of a queue for certification in a subsequent calendar year. Except as otherwise provided in Subsections F and G of this section, only one tax credit shall be certified per taxpayer.

C. An application for certification of eligibility shall include:

(1) proof that the taxpayer's prior home was destroyed by wildfire in calendar years 2021 through 2023, including a sworn statement by the taxpayer;

(2) proof that the taxpayer incurred expenditures for the construction of a home on the same property of the taxpayer's prior, wildfire-destroyed home, including a contract with a builder or manufacturer;

(3) a sworn statement by the taxpayer and the builder or manufacturer of the home that the construction of the home has been completed and stating the date of its completion; and

(4) any additional information the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department may require to determine eligibility for the tax credit.

D. If the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, the division shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable year in which the credit may be claimed. The construction industries division shall provide the department with the certificates of eligibility issued pursuant to this subsection in an electronic format at regularly agreed-upon intervals.

E. A taxpayer issued a certificate of eligibility shall claim the tax credit in a manner required by the department within twelve months of being issued the certificate of eligibility.

F. That portion of the tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the tax credit is claimed shall not be refunded but may be carried forward for a maximum of three consecutive taxable years.

G. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

H. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim the tax credit in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to this section.

I. The department shall compile an annual report on the tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "home" means a dwelling designed for long-term habitation in which the taxpayer resides for a majority of the year and is:

(a) constructed permanently on a taxpayer's property with a foundation and that cannot be moved; or

(b) a manufactured home or modular home that is a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six by twenty-four feet and at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet and constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or the Uniform Building Code, as amended to the date of the unit's construction, and installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act [Chapter 60, Article 14 NMSA 1978] and with the rules made pursuant thereto relating to permanent foundations; and

(2) "qualified home expenditures" means gross expenditures for the construction or manufacture of a home on the same property in New Mexico that a taxpayer's prior home was destroyed by a wildfire in calendar years 2021 through 2023, less any compensation related to home construction, manufacture or repair costs received pursuant to the federal Hermit's Peak/Calf Canyon Fire Assistance Act or from insurance or other source of compensation.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67 contained no effective date provision for Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 9. Pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, the section was effective May 15, 2024, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.36. Clean car income tax credit. (Repealed January 1, 2031.)

A. A taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who, beginning on the effective date of this section and prior to January 1, 2030, purchases an electric vehicle, plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle or enters into a new lease of at least three years for one of these vehicles may claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act in an amount provided in Subsection B of this section. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "clean car income tax credit".

B. The amount of the tax credit shall be in an amount equal to:

(1) for taxable years beginning January 1, 2024 and prior to January 1, 2027:

(a) three thousand dollars ($3,000) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) two thousand dollars ($2,000) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(2) for a taxable year beginning January 1, 2027 and prior to January 1, 2028:

(a) two thousand two hundred twenty dollars ($2,220) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) one thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($1,850) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) one thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($1,850) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) one thousand four hundred eighty dollars ($1,480) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(3) for a taxable year beginning on January 1, 2028 and prior to January 1, 2029:

(a) one thousand four hundred seventy dollars ($1,470) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) one thousand two hundred twenty-five dollars ($1,225) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) one thousand two hundred twenty-five dollars ($1,225) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) nine hundred eighty dollars ($980) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle; and

(4) for the taxable year beginning January 1, 2029:

(a) nine hundred sixty dollars ($960) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) eight hundred dollars ($800) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) eight hundred dollars ($800) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) six hundred forty dollars ($640) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle.

C. For a previously owned motor vehicle to be eligible for the tax credit, the vehicle shall have a model year that is at least two years prior to the calendar year in which the taxpayer purchased or leased the vehicle.

D. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Except as provided in Subsections I and J of this section, only one tax credit shall be certified per taxpayer per taxable year, and only one tax credit shall be certified per previously owned motor vehicle. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may promulgate rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

E. An application for certification of eligibility shall include proof of vehicle purchase from or lease through a dealer licensed by the motor vehicle division of the department pursuant to Section 66-4-2 NMSA 1978 or a dealer located on tribal land within New Mexico, the vehicle's registration or application for title and registration in New Mexico and any additional information the energy, minerals and natural resources department may require to determine eligibility for the credit. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, that department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department with the certificates of eligibility issued pursuant to this subsection in an electronic format at regularly agreed upon intervals.

F. Applications for certification of the tax credit shall be made no later than one year from the date on which the vehicle is purchased or the lease is entered into.

G. A certificate of eligibility for the tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer for the full value of the credit. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer in an electronic format prescribed by the department.

H. That portion of the tax credit claimed by a taxpayer that exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability in the taxable year in which a clean car income tax credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

I. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

J. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim the tax credit in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to this section.

K. A taxpayer allowed to claim the tax credit shall claim the tax credit in a manner required by the department. The credit shall be claimed within three taxable years of the end of the year in which the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the credit.

L. As used in this section:

(1) "electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle that derives all of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than twenty-five kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(2) "fuel cell vehicle" means a motor vehicle that:

(a) uses a fuel cell to produce electricity that is used to drive an electric motor; and

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles;

(3) "motor vehicle" means a vehicle with four wheels that:

(a) is required under the Motor Vehicle Code [Chapter 66, Articles 1 to 8 NMSA 1978] to be registered in this state and that is registered in this state;

(b) is made by a manufacturer;

(c) is manufactured primarily for use on public streets, roads or highways;

(d) has not been modified from the original manufacturer specifications;

(e) is rated at not less than two thousand two hundred pounds unloaded base weight and not more than nine thousand seven hundred fifty pounds unloaded base weight;

(f) has a maximum speed capability of at least sixty-five miles per hour; and

(g) is purchased from or leased through a dealer licensed by the motor vehicle division of the department pursuant to Section 66-4-2 NMSA 1978 or a dealer located on tribal land within New Mexico;

(4) "new" means a motor vehicle that has a base manufacturer suggested retail price, before options and destination charges and before any taxes are imposed, of fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000) or less;

(5) "plug-in hybrid electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle that derives part of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than six kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering a vehicle for a range of at least thirty miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(6) "previously owned" means a motor vehicle that is not new, that has a market value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less, that is certified by the dealer selling the motor vehicle and for which the dealer provides at least a one-year extended manufacturer's warranty against defects and repairs; and

(7) "tribal land" means all land owned by a tribe and located within the exterior boundaries of the tribe's reservation or grant and all land held by the United States in trust for the tribe.

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed repeals. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 41 repealed 7-2-18.36 NMSA 1978, effective January 1, 2031.

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67 contained no effective date provision for Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 27. Pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, the section was effective May 15, 2024, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.37. Clean car charging unit income tax credit. (Repealed January 1, 2031.)

A. A taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who, beginning on the effective date of this section and prior to January 1, 2030, purchases and installs an electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit in New Mexico may claim a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act in an amount provided in Subsection B of this section. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "clean car charging unit income tax credit".

B. The amount of tax credit shall be in an amount equal to:

(1) for a direct current fast charger or fuel cell charging unit, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or the cost to purchase and install the direct current fast charger or fuel cell charging unit, whichever is less; and

(2) for all other electric vehicle charging units, four hundred dollars ($400) or the cost to purchase and install the electric vehicle charging unit, whichever is less.

C. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Except as provided in Subsections H and I of this section, only one tax credit shall be certified for a direct current fast charger or a fuel cell charging unit per taxpayer per taxable year. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

D. An application for certification of eligibility shall include:

(1) a receipt for the purchase and installation of the electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit;

(2) for electric vehicle charging units, a copy of the data sheet that specifies the connector type, plug type, voltage and current of the electric vehicle charging unit;

(3) for a fuel cell charging unit, technical specifications on the fuel dispensing unit and fuel storage system, including information about operational pressures of the fuel cell charging unit; and

(4) any other information the energy, minerals and natural resources department may require to evaluate eligibility for the credit.

E. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, that department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department certificates of eligibility issued in an electronic format at regularly agreed upon intervals.

F. An application for certification of the tax credit shall be made no later than one year from the date in which the electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit for which the credit is claimed is purchased and installed.

G. That portion of tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's income tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

H. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

I. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim the tax credit in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to this section.

J. A taxpayer allowed to claim a tax credit pursuant to this section shall claim the tax credit in a manner required by the department. The credit shall be claimed within three taxable years of the end of the year in which the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the credit.

K. A taxpayer who claims the 2021 sustainable building tax credit for expenses of purchasing or installing an electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit shall not be eligible to claim the tax credit provided by this section.

L. As used in this section:

(1) "direct current fast charger" means an electric vehicle charging unit that provides at least fifty kilowatts of direct current electrical power for charging an electric vehicle through a connector based on fast charging equipment standards and that is approved for installation for that purpose under the National Electrical Code through an underwriters laboratories certification or an equivalent certifying organization;

(2) "electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that derives all of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than twenty-five kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(3) "electric vehicle charging unit" means a device that:

(a) is used to provide electricity to an electric vehicle or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle;

(b) is designed to create a connection between an electricity source and the electric vehicle or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle; and

(c) uses the electric vehicle's or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle's control system to ensure that electricity flows at an appropriate voltage and current level;

(4) "fuel cell charging unit" means a facility or unit that dispenses liquefied or compressed hydrogen for fuel cell vehicle refueling and that is approved for installation for that purpose under applicable codes and compliant with requirements of applicable certifying organizations;

(5) "fuel cell vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that:

(a) uses a fuel cell to produce electricity that is used to drive an electric motor;
and

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(6) "plug-in hybrid electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that derives part of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than six kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering a vehicle for a range of at least thirty miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity.

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed repeals. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 41 repealed 7-2-18.37 NMSA 1978, effective January 1, 2031.

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67 contained no effective date provision for Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 28. Pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, the section was effective May 15, 2024, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2-18.38. Geothermal electricity generation income tax credit.
(Effective January 1, 2025.)

A. For taxable years prior to January 1, 2032, a taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and who holds an interest in a geothermal electricity generation facility may apply for, and the department may allow, a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "geothermal electricity generation income tax credit".

B. The amount of a tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall be an amount equal to one and one-half cents ($0.015) per kilowatt-hour of electricity generated in New Mexico in a taxable year by the geothermal electricity generation facility in which the taxpayer holds an interest.

C. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the credit provided by this section from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. The total annual aggregate amount of credits that may be certified for geothermal electricity generation income tax credits and geothermal electricity generation corporate income tax credits in any calendar year is five million dollars ($5,000,000). Completed applications shall be considered in the order received. Applications for certification received after this limitation has been met in a calendar year shall not be approved for that calendar year, but shall be considered for certification in the following calendar year. The application shall include proof that the taxpayer is eligible for certification, including that the geothermal electricity generation facility that produced the energy for which the taxpayer is claiming credit, the geothermal resources used by the geothermal electricity generation facility and the taxpayer's interest in the geothermal electricity generation facility are in accordance with the definitions set forth in this section. For taxpayers approved to receive the credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a certificate of eligibility stating the amount of credit to which the taxpayer is entitled and the taxable year in which the credit may be claimed. The certificate of eligibility shall be numbered for identification and declare the date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed.

D. A taxpayer may claim a geothermal electricity generation income tax credit for the taxable year in which electricity was generated in New Mexico by a geothermal electricity generation facility in which the taxpayer holds an interest. To receive the credit provided by this section, a taxpayer shall apply to the department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department. The application shall include a certification made pursuant to Subsection C of this section.

E. That portion of a credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed may be carried forward for up to three consecutive years.

F. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

G. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim a credit provided by this section in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the maximum amount of the credit allowed pursuant to this section.

H. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

I. The department shall compile an annual report on the credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "geothermal electricity generation facility" means a facility located in New Mexico that generates electricity from geothermal resources and:

(a) for new facilities, begins construction on or after January 1, 2025; or

(b) for existing facilities, on or after January 1, 2025, increases the amount of electricity generated from geothermal resources the facility generated prior to that date by at least one hundred percent;

(2) "geothermal resources" means the natural heat of the earth in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit or the energy, in whatever form, below the surface of the earth present in, resulting from, created by or that may be extracted from this natural heat in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit and all minerals in solution or other products obtained from naturally heated fluids, brines, associated gases and steam, in whatever form, found below the surface of the earth, but excluding oil, hydrocarbon gas and other hydrocarbon substances and excluding the heating and cooling capacity of the earth not resulting from the natural heat of the earth in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit as may be used for the heating and cooling of buildings through an on-site geoexchange heat pump or similar on-site system; and

(3) "interest in a geothermal electricity generation facility" means title to a geothermal electricity generation facility; a leasehold interest in such facility; an ownership interest in a business or entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership that holds title to or a leasehold interest in such facility; or an ownership interest, through one or more intermediate entities that are each taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership, in a business that holds title to or a leasehold interest in such facility.

History: Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 33.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 43 made Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 33 effective January 1, 2025.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2-18.39. Advanced energy equipment income tax credit. (Effective January 1, 2025. Repealed effective January 1, 2034.)

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "advanced energy equipment income tax credit". A taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual, who makes qualified expenditures for a qualified manufacturing facility located in New Mexico and who files an individual New Mexico income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2025, and prior to January 1, 2033, may claim the tax credit in the amount provided in Subsection B of this section.

B. The amount of the tax credit shall be in an amount equal to the lesser of twenty percent of the amount of the qualified expenditures made by the taxpayer for a qualified manufacturing facility or twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000).

C. Prior to incurring a qualified expenditure, a taxpayer shall apply for preliminary certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Such preliminary certification shall be made in consultation with the economic development department and shall be limited to confirming that the qualified expenditures proposed to be made by the taxpayer will in whole or in part be used to produce advanced energy products and providing an estimate of the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer may be eligible. Only one certificate of eligibility shall be issued for all activities performed at a qualified manufacturing facility, regardless of ownership of the facility.

D. Within twelve months of commencement of production of any advanced energy product, the taxpayer shall seek final certification from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. The total annual aggregate amount of advanced energy equipment income tax credits and advanced energy equipment corporate income tax credits that may be certified in a calendar year shall not exceed twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000). An application for final certification shall include information required by the energy, minerals and natural resources department to determine eligibility for the tax credit, including information substantiating qualified expenditures. If, after consultation with the economic development department, the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department with the certificates of eligibility issued pursuant to this subsection in an electronic format at regularly agreed-upon intervals. A certificate of eligibility for the tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer in increments of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000); provided that if the total amount certified is less than one million dollars ($1,000,000), the certificate of the entire amount of the credit may be transferred. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer in an electronic format prescribed by the department.

E. A taxpayer allowed to claim the tax credit shall claim the credit in a manner required by the department. The tax credit shall be claimed within one year of receiving final certification from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. The taxpayer shall claim the amount certified and approved against the taxpayer's income tax liabilities. Any amount of credit that exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liabilities may be carried forward for five consecutive taxable years. A taxpayer who claims the tax credit shall report to the department and the energy, minerals and natural resources department on the continued operations of the qualified manufacturing facility.

F. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the tax credit that would have been claimed on a joint return.

G. A taxpayer may be allocated the right to claim the tax credit in a proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the credit. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the allowable credit pursuant to this section.

H. If the taxpayer or a successor in the business of the taxpayer ceases operations at the qualifying manufacturing facility or ceases to produce advanced energy products for at least one hundred eighty days within a two-year period after the taxpayer has claimed the tax credit, any amount of credit that received final certification with respect to that facility that is not claimed against a taxpayer's tax liability shall be extinguished, and within thirty days after the one hundred eightieth day of cessation of operations, the taxpayer who received final certification pursuant to Subsection D of this section shall pay to the department the tax liability against which the certified credit was claimed. For the purposes of this section, a taxpayer shall not be deemed to have ceased operations during reasonable periods for maintenance or retooling, for the repair or replacement of facilities damaged or destroyed or during labor disputes.

I. As used in this section:

(1) "advanced energy product" means a technology, product, system or component eligible for a federal tax credit under Section 45X of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "essential" means directly necessary to the production of an advanced energy products;

(3) "manufacturing equipment" means an essential machine, mechanism or tool or a component of an essential machine, mechanism or tool used directly and exclusively in a taxpayer's qualified manufacturing facility and that is subject to depreciation pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code by the taxpayer carrying on the manufacturing. "Manufacturing equipment" does not include a vehicle that leaves the site of a manufacturing operation for the purpose of transporting persons or property, including property for which the taxpayer claims a credit pursuant to Section 7-9-79 NMSA 1978;

(4) "qualified expenditure" means an expenditure made on or after January 1, 2025 and prior to January 1, 2033 for the purchase of that portion of the costs of manufacturing equipment dedicated to manufacturing advanced energy products; and

(5) "qualified manufacturing facility" means a facility located in New Mexico, including any connected, associated or subsidiary facilities, that employs personnel to perform production tasks with manufacturing equipment not previously existing at the facility to produce advanced energy products.

7-2-28. Optional designation of tax refund contribution.

A. Any individual whose state income tax liability in any year is lower than the amount of money held by the department to the credit of such individual for that tax year may designate any portion of the income tax refund due to be paid into the veterans' state cemetery fund. In the case of a joint return, both individuals must make such designation.

B. The secretary shall revise the state income tax form to allow the designation by individual taxpayers of such contributions in substantially the following form:

"New Mexico Veterans' State Cemetery Fund – Check [] if you wish to contribute a part or all of your tax refund to the Veterans' State Cemetery Fund. Enter here $_____ the amount of your contribution."

C. The provisions of this section do not apply to refund amounts intercepted under the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act [Chapter 7, Article 2C NMSA 1978], and any designation under the provisions of this section with respect to such intercepted refunds is void.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2-28, enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 257, § 3; 2011, ch. 42, § 3; 2016, ch. 7, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed repeals. — Laws 1987, ch. 257, § 6 repealed 7-2-28 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 257, § 3, relating to legislative findings and intent as to additional funds to increase the size of the Santa Fe national cemetery, effective on the January 1 of the year following the year on which the sum of contributions received on or after January 1, 1988, pursuant to 7-2-28 NMSA 1978, equals or exceeds $1,070,000.

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, changed the name of the veterans' national cemetery fund to the veterans' state cemetery fund; in Subsection A, after "veterans'", deleted "national" and added "state"; in Subsection B, after each occurrence of "Veterans'", deleted "National" and added "State".

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, made stylistic changes.

7-2-28.1. Veterans' state cemetery fund; created.

The "veterans' state cemetery fund" is created as a nonreverting fund in the state treasury. The fund consists of appropriations, gifts, grants, donations and amounts designated pursuant to Section 7-2-28 NMSA 1978. Money in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert to any other fund. The veterans' services department shall administer the fund, and money in the fund is appropriated to the veterans' services department.

History: Laws 2011, ch. 42, § 1; 2016, ch. 7, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, changed the name of the veterans' national cemetery fund to the veterans' state cemetery fund, and removed a reference to a repealed section of the NMSA 1978; in the heading, after "veterans", deleted "national" and added "state", in the first sentence, after ""veterans", deleted "national" and added "state", and in the last sentence, after "services department", deleted "to carry out the intent of Section 7-2-27 NMSA 1978".

7-2-29. Finding.

The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to provide additional funds to ensure that substance abuse educational programs are provided in New Mexico schools. This act provides a means by which additional substance abuse education funds may be provided from a voluntary check-off designation of tax refunds due the taxpayer on the state income tax form. It is the intent of the legislature that this program of income tax refund check-off is supplemental to any other funding and is in no way intended to take the place of the funding that would otherwise be appropriated for this purpose.

7-2-30.8. Finding; optional designation of tax refund contribution; senior services.

A. The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to provide additional money to enhance or expand vital services to New Mexico's elderly population. This section provides a means by which individuals may donate all or a portion of their income tax refund, through a voluntary check-off designation, to provide supplemental funding through the non-metro area agency on aging to senior service providers throughout the state. It is the intent of the legislature that this program of income tax refund check-off is supplemental to any other funding and is in no way intended to take the place of the funding that would otherwise be appropriated for this purpose.

B. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection D of this section, an individual whose state income tax liability after application of allowable credits and tax rebates in a year is lower than the amount of money held by the department to the credit of such individual for that tax year may designate a portion of the income tax refund due to the individual to be paid to the aging and long-term services department for distribution statewide through the area agencies on aging for the provision of supplemental senior services throughout the state, including senior services provided through the north central New Mexico economic development district as the non-metro area agency on aging, the city of Albuquerque/Bernalillo county area agency on aging, the Indian area agency on aging and the Navajo area agency on aging. In the case of a joint return, both individuals must make the designation.

C. The department shall revise the state income tax form to allow the designation of such contributions in the following form:

"Supplemental Senior Services – Check[]
if you wish to contribute a part or all of your tax refund to provide supplemental funding to enhance or expand senior services throughout the state.
Enter here $_____ the amount of your contribution.".

D. The provisions of this section do not apply to income tax refunds subject to interception under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act [Chapter 7, Article 2C NMSA 1978], and any designation made under the provisions of this section to such refunds is void.

E. The department shall distribute one hundred percent of the tax refund contributions pursuant to this section to the aging and long-term services department for distribution statewide through the area agencies on aging. The agencies on aging shall cooperatively establish a grant program based on need that is available to all senior service providers in the state that meet the requirements of the program. The agencies shall seek input from senior service providers in developing the grant program.

The provisions of Laws 2015, ch. 82, § 3 that require money collected pursuant to 66-3-424.3 NMSA 1978 to be deposited in the statewide spay and neuter subaccount apply to collections made on and after July 1, 2015.

7-2-30.10. Repealed.

History: Laws 2017, ch. 116, § 1; repealed by Laws 2017, ch. 116, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2017, ch. 116, § 3 repealed 7-2-30.10 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2017, ch. 116, § 1, relating to optional designation of tax refund contribution, sexual assault examination kit processing grant fund, sexual assault services, effective January 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-30.11. Optional designation of tax refund contribution; New Mexico housing trust fund.

A. Any individual whose state income tax liability after application of allowable credits and tax rebates in any year is lower than the amount of money held by the department to the credit of such individual for that tax year may designate any portion of the income tax refund due to the individual to be paid to the New Mexico housing trust fund. In the case of a joint return, both individuals must make such a designation.

B. The department shall revise the state income tax form to allow the designation of such contributions in the following form:

"New Mexico Housing Trust Fund - Check [] if you wish to contribute a part or all of your tax refund to the New Mexico Housing Trust Fund for affordable housing programs. Enter here $_____ the amount of your contribution."

C. The provisions of this section do not apply to income tax refunds subject to interception under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act [Chapter 7, Article 2C NMSA 1978], and any designation made under the provisions of this section to such refunds is void.

History: Laws 2018, ch. 51, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2018, ch. 51 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective May 16, 2018, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2018, ch. 51, § 2 provided that the provisions of Laws 2018, ch. 51, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2018.

7-2-31. Optional designation of tax refund contribution.

A. Any individual whose state income tax liability in any year is lower than the amount of money held by the taxation and revenue department to the credit of that individual for that tax year may designate two dollars ($2.00) of the income tax refund due the individual to be paid to a state political party. "State political party", for the purposes of this section, means those parties that on January 1 of the taxable year for which the return is filed meet the requirements of Section 1-7-2(A) NMSA 1978. In the case of a joint return, each individual may make a designation.

B. The secretary of taxation and revenue shall revise the state income tax form to allow on the face of the form the designation by individual taxpayers of contributions to state political parties in substantially the following form:

"New Mexico Political Party Income Tax Refund Check-Off - Check if you wish to contribute two dollars ($2.00) of your income tax refund to a state political party that qualifies as such under Section 1-7-2 NMSA 1978. My contribution should be made to the _____ party."(name of state political party)

C. The secretary of taxation and revenue shall provide a list on the state income tax form of the qualified state political parties to which the taxpayer may make a contribution.

D. The provisions of this section do not apply to income tax refunds subject to interception under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act [Chapter 7, Article 2C NMSA 1978], and any designation made under the provisions of this section to such refunds is void.

History: Laws 1992, ch. 108, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1992, ch. 108 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective May 20, 1992, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2-31.1. Optional refund contribution provisions; conditional repeal.

A. By August 31, 2000, and by August 31 of every succeeding year, the secretary shall determine the total amount contributed through the preceding July 31 on returns filed for taxable years ending in the preceding calendar year pursuant to each provision of the Income Tax Act that allows a taxpayer the option of directing the department to contribute all or any part of an income tax refund due the taxpayer to a specified account, fund or entity.

B. If the secretary's determination pursuant to Subsection A of this section regarding an optional refund contribution provision is that the total amount contributed is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), exclusive of directions for contributions disregarded under Subsection C of this section, the secretary shall certify that fact to the secretary of state. Any optional refund contribution provision for which a certification is made for three consecutive years is repealed, effective on the January 1 following the third certification.

C. The department shall disregard a direction on a return to make an optional refund contribution if the amount of refund due on the return is determined by the department to be less than the sum of the amounts directed to be contributed.

D. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7-1-26 NMSA 1978, a taxpayer may not claim and the department may not allow a refund with respect to any optional refund contribution that was made by the department at the direction of the taxpayer.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 47, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1999, ch. 47 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 1999, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2-32. Deduction; payments into education trust fund.

A taxpayer may claim a deduction from net income in an amount equal to the payments made by the taxpayer into the education trust fund pursuant to an education investment agreement or prepaid tuition contract under the Education Trust Act [Chapter 21, Article 21K NMSA 1978] in the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed. The amount of payments made on behalf of any one beneficiary that may be deducted shall not exceed in the aggregate the cost of attendance at the applicable institution of higher education, as determined by the education trust board. Married individuals who file separate returns for the taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the deduction that would have been allowed on the joint return. Individuals having income both within and without this state shall apportion this deduction in accordance with regulations of the secretary.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 259, § 8; 2023, ch. 17, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, after "education trust fund pursuant to", deleted "a college" and added "an education", and deleted "A husband and wife" and added "Married individuals".

7-2-33. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2003, ch. 275, § 6 repealed 7-2-33 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1997, ch. 259, § 9, relating to education trust fund; earnings tax exempt; withdrawals are taxable income; authority to withhold tax, effective June 20, 2003. For provisions of former section, see the 2002 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2-34. Deduction; net capital gain income.

A. Except as provided in Subsection C of this section, a taxpayer may claim a deduction from net income in an amount equal to the greater of:

(1) the taxpayer's net capital gain income for the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed, but not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000); or

(2) forty percent of the taxpayer's net capital gain income for the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed.

B. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the deduction provided by this section that would have been allowed on the joint return.

C. A taxpayer may not claim the deduction provided in Subsection A of this section if the taxpayer has claimed the credit provided in Section 7-2D-8.1 NMSA 1978.

D. As used in this section, "net capital gain" means "net capital gain" as defined in Section 1222 (11) of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 205, § 1; 2003, ch. 2, § 7; 2019, ch. 270, § 14.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 1222(11) of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1222.

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, reduced the capital gains deduction from fifty percent to forty percent of the taxpayer's net capital gain income for the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed; in Subsection A, Paragraph A(2), deleted "the following percentage" and added "forty percent", and deleted former Subparagraphs A(2)(a) through A(2)(e); and in Subsection B, deleted "A husband and wife" and added "Married individuals".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 55, provided that a taxpayer who paid income tax for taxable year 2019 in installments through withholding or estimated tax payments pursuant to Section 7-2-12.2 NMSA 1978 but underpaid due to the changes made to Section 7-2-34 NMSA 1978 pursuant to this act shall not be subject to penalties and interest provisions of the Tax Administration Act for the underpayment; provided that the underpayment is solely attributable to the changes made to Section 7-2-34 NMSA 1978 pursuant to this act.

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided the provisions of Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 14 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, in Subsection A, inserted "the greater of:" and the end, added the Paragraph A(1) designation, added Paragraph A(2); added the Subsection B designation and redesignated the remaining subsections accordingly.

7-2-34. Deduction; net capital gain income. (Effective January 1, 2025.)

A. A taxpayer may claim a deduction from net income in an amount equal to the greater of:

(1) the taxpayer's net capital gain income for the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed, but not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500); or

(2) forty percent of up to one million dollars ($1,000,000) of the taxpayer's net capital gain income from the sale of a business that is allocated or apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to Section 7-2-11 NMSA 1978 for the taxable year for which the deduction is being claimed.

B. Married individuals who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the deduction provided by this section that would have been allowed on the joint return.

C. As used in this section, "net capital gain" means "net capital gain" as defined in Section 1222 (11) of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 205, § 1; 2003, ch. 2, § 7; 2019, ch. 270, § 14; 2024, ch. 67, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective January 1, 2025, limited the capital gains deduction to twenty-five hundred dollars; in Subsection A, in the introductory clause, deleted "Except as provided in Subsection C of this section", in Paragraph A(1), after "not to exceed", changed "one thousand dollars ($1,000)" to "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500)", and in Paragraph A(2), after "forty percent", added "of up to one million dollars ($1,000,000)", and after "capital gain income", added "from the sale of a business that is allocated or apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to Section 7-2-11 NMSA 1978"; and deleted former Subsection C and redesignated former Subsection D as Subsection C.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2-35. Deleted.

History: Laws 2000 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2000 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2000 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 1 "shall not become effective unless Senate Bill 33 or similar bill of the second special session of the forty-fourth legislature is enacted into law and the General Appropriation Act of 2000 passed by the second special session of the forty-fourth legislature and enacted into law includes an appropriation of four million nine hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($4,975,000) for the sole purpose of implementing an amendment to the state medicaid plan making eligible an individual who is the parent of a child under nineteen years of age who resides with that parent and whose family income does not exceed sixty percent of the federal poverty guidelines."

Senate Bill 33, referred to above, was vetoed by the governor. The appropriation of $4,975,000, referred to above, was in Laws 2000 (2nd S.S.), ch. 5, but was line item vetoed by the governor. Therefore, Section 7-2-35 NMSA 1978 failed to become effective and was deleted by the compiler.

7-2-36. Deduction; expenses related to organ donation.

A. A taxpayer may claim a deduction from net income in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of organ donation-related expenses, including lost wages, lodging expenses and travel expenses, incurred during the taxable year by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's dependent as a result of the taxpayer's or dependent's donation of a human organ to another person for transfer of that human organ to the body of another person.

B. A husband and wife who file separate returns for a taxable year in which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of the deduction provided by this section that would have been allowed on a joint return.

C. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered; and

(2) "human organ" means all or part of a heart, liver, pancreas, kidney, intestine, lung or bone marrow.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 113, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. Sections 1 et seq.

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 113 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2005, ch. 113, § 2 provided that Laws 2005, ch. 113 , § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

7-2-37. Deduction; unreimbursed or uncompensated medical care expenses.

A. Prior to January 1, 2025, a taxpayer may claim a deduction from net income in an amount determined pursuant to Subsection B of this section for medical care expenses paid during the taxable year for medical care of the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse or a dependent if the expenses are not reimbursed or compensated for by insurance or otherwise and have not been included in the taxpayer's itemized deductions, as defined in Section 63 of the Internal Revenue Code, for the taxable year.

B. The deduction provided in Subsection A of this section may be claimed in an amount equal to the following percentage of medical care expenses paid during the taxable year based on the taxpayer's filing status and adjusted gross income as follows:

(1) for surviving spouses and married individuals filing joint returns:

If adjusted gross income is:	The following percent of medical care expenses paid may be deducted:
Not over $30,000	25 percent
More than $30,000 but not more than $70,000	15 percent
Over $70,000	10 percent;

(2) for single individuals and married individuals filing separate returns:

If adjusted gross income is:	The following percent of medical care expenses paid may be deducted:
Not over $15,000	25 percent
More than $15,000 but not more than $35,000	15 percent
Over $35,000	10 percent; and

(3) for heads of household:

If adjusted gross income is:	The following percent of medical care expenses paid may be deducted:
Not over $20,000	25 percent

More than $20,000 but not more than $50,000	15 percent
Over $50,000	10 percent.

C. As used in this section:

(1) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "health care facility" means a hospital, outpatient facility, diagnostic and treatment center, rehabilitation center, free-standing hospice or other similar facility at which medical care is provided;

(3) "medical care" means the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body;

(4) "medical care expenses" means amounts paid for:

(a) the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body, excluding cosmetic surgery, if provided by a physician or in a health care facility;

(b) prescribed drugs or insulin;

(c) qualified long-term care services as defined in Section 7702B(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(d) insurance covering medical care, including amounts paid as premiums under Part B of Title 18 of the Social Security Act or for a qualified long-term care insurance contract defined in Section 7702B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, if the insurance or other amount is paid from income included in the taxpayer's adjusted gross income for the taxable year;

(e) nursing services, regardless of where the services are rendered, if provided by a practical nurse or a professional nurse licensed to practice in the state pursuant to the Nursing Practice Act [Chapter 61, Article 3 NMSA 1978];

(f) specialized treatment or the use of special therapeutic devices if the treatment or device is prescribed by a physician and the patient can show that the expense was incurred primarily for the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness; and

(g) care in an institution other than a hospital, such as a sanitarium or rest home, if the principal reason for the presence of the person in the institution is to receive the medical care available; provided that if the meals and lodging are furnished as a necessary part of such care, the cost of the meals and lodging are "medical care expenses";

(5) "physician" means a medical doctor, osteopathic physician, dentist, podiatrist, chiropractic physician or psychologist licensed or certified to practice in New Mexico; and

(6) "prescribed drug" means a drug or biological that requires a prescription of a physician for its use by an individual.

History: Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1 et seq.

Effective dates. — Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 3 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective September 6, 2015, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 25 provided that the provisions of Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, §§ 2 through 7 and 17 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

7-2-38. Deduction; income set aside for future distribution from an estate or trust to a nonresident individual.

A. Before January 1, 2025, a taxpayer that is an estate or trust may claim a deduction from net income in the amount equal to income, excluding income derived from real property located in New Mexico, mineral, oil and gas interests located in New Mexico, water rights located in New Mexico and any other income allocated or apportioned to New Mexico, set aside for future distribution to a nonresident individual beneficiary as provided in the estate's or trust's governing instrument.

B. The purpose of the deduction allowed by this section is to increase estate and trust business in New Mexico.

C. Concerning the deduction allowed by this section, in determining:

(1) the extent to which income of an estate or trust is set aside for future distribution to a nonresident individual beneficiary, if all or part of the estate's or trust's federal taxable income, regardless of whether it is added to the estate or trust corpus for estate or trust accounting purposes, is distributable in future taxable years to or for the benefit of a named individual beneficiary or a first-named class of individual beneficiaries and if, on the last day of the estate's or trust's taxable year, one or more named individual beneficiaries or one or more members of the first-named class of individual beneficiaries is living, then the portion of the federal taxable income considered set aside for future distribution to:

(a) a named individual beneficiary is determined by: 1) ascertaining the share or shares of each named individual beneficiary as if the estate or trust had terminated on the last day of the taxable year and then ascertaining the portion of that income realized by the estate or trust during the taxable year while the beneficiary was a nonresident; and 2) presuming that the beneficiary was living and residing in the state in which the putative parents resided during the taxable year; and

(b) a first-named class of individual beneficiaries is determined by: 1) ascertaining the members of the class and the share of each member as if the estate or trust had terminated on the last day of the taxable year and then ascertaining the portion of that income of each share realized by the estate or trust while the member was a nonresident; and 2) presuming that the member was living and residing with the person the relationship to whom defines membership in the class;

(2) the share of income of each beneficiary of an estate or trust in the federal taxable income, it is presumed that the discretion of a person over the distribution of that income, regardless of whether the person acts in a fiduciary capacity or is subject to a standard, has not been exercised, unless that discretion is irrevocably exercised as of the last day of the taxable year; and

(3) the time federal taxable income is realized:

(a) interest income is considered realized when payable;

(b) dividend income is considered realized on the day the dividend is payable;

(c) gains and losses from the sale or exchange of property are considered realized or deductible, as appropriate, on the settlement date of the sale or the effective date of the exchange; and

(d) commissions on income or principal are deemed deductible on the date charged.

D. A taxpayer allowed a deduction in accordance with this section shall report the amount of the deduction separately and as required by the department.

E. Beginning in 2020, the department shall compile an annual report on the deduction allowed by this section that includes the number of taxpayers that claimed the deduction, the aggregate amount of deductions claimed and other information necessary to evaluate the deduction's effectiveness. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the deduction and whether the deduction is fulfilling its purpose.

History: Laws 2019, ch. 264, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2019, ch. 264 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 14, 2019, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 264, § 2 provided that Laws 2019, ch. 264, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

7-2-39. Deduction from net income for certain dependents.

A. As long as the exemption amount pursuant to Section 151 of the Internal Revenue Code means zero, a taxpayer who is not a dependent of another individual and files a return as a head of household or married filing jointly may claim a deduction from net income in an amount equal to the product of four thousand dollars ($4,000) multiplied by the difference between the number of dependents claimed on the taxpayer's return and one.

B. A taxpayer allowed a deduction pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the deduction to the department in a manner required by the department.

C. The department shall compile an annual report on the deduction provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers that claimed the deduction, the aggregate amount of deductions claimed and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the deduction. The department shall present the annual report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the deduction.

D. As used in this section, "dependent" means "dependent" as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 15.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Sections 151 and 152 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. §§ 151 and 152 respectively.

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 15 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

7-2-40. Deduction; income from leasing a liquor license.

A. Prior to January 1, 2026, a taxpayer who is a liquor license lessor and who held the license on June 30, 2021 may claim a deduction from net income in an amount equal to the gross receipts from sales of alcoholic beverages made by each liquor license lessee in an amount, if the liquor license is a dispenser's license and sales of alcoholic beverages for consumption off premises are less than fifty percent of total alcoholic beverage sales, not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for each of four taxable years.

B. Married individuals filing separate returns for a taxable year for which they could have filed a joint return may each claim only one-half of a deduction provided by this section that would have been claimed on a joint return.

C. A taxpayer may claim the deduction provided by this section in proportion to the taxpayer's ownership interest if the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership or limited liability company and that business entity has met all of the requirements to be eligible for the deduction. The total deduction claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the deduction shall not exceed the amount of the deduction that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the business.

D. A taxpayer allowed a deduction pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the deduction to the department in a manner required by the department.

E. The department shall compile an annual report on the deduction provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers that claimed the deduction, the aggregate amount of deductions claimed and any other information necessary to evaluate the cost of the deduction. The department shall provide the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the deduction.

F. As used in this section:

(1) "alcoholic beverage" means alcoholic beverage as defined in the Liquor Control Act;

(2) "dispenser's license" means a license issued pursuant to the provisions of the Liquor Control Act [60-3A-1 NMSA 1978] allowing the licensee to sell, offer for sale or have in the person's possession with the intent to sell alcoholic beverages both by the drink for consumption on the licensed premises and in unbroken packages, including growlers, for consumption and not for resale off the licensed premises;

(3) "growler" means a clean, refillable, resealable container that has a liquid capacity that does not exceed one gallon and that is intended and used for the sale of beer, wine or cider;

(4) "liquor license" means a dispenser's license issued pursuant to Section 60-6A-3 NMSA 1978 or a dispenser's license issued pursuant to Section 60-6A-12 NMSA 1978 issued prior to July 1, 2021;

(5) "liquor license lessee" means a person that leases a liquor license from a liquor license lessor; and

(6) "liquor license lessor" means a person that leases a liquor license to a third party.

7-2A-2. Definitions.

For the purpose of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act and unless the context requires otherwise:

A. "bank" means any national bank, national banking association, state bank or bank holding company;

B. "apportioned net income" or "apportioned net loss" means net income allocated and apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to the provisions of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act or the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act [Chapter 7, Article 4 NMSA 1978], but excluding from the sales factor any sales that represent intercompany transactions between members of the filing group;

C. "base income" means the federal taxable income or the federal net operating loss of a corporation for the taxable year calculated pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code, after special deductions provided in Sections 241 through 249 of the Internal Revenue Code but without any deduction for net operating losses, as if the corporation filed a federal tax return as a separate domestic entity, modified as follows:

(1) adding to that income:

(a) interest received on a state or local bond exempt under the Internal Revenue Code;

(b) the amount of any deduction claimed in calculating taxable income for all expenses and costs directly or indirectly paid, accrued or incurred to a captive real estate investment trust;

(c) the amount of any deduction, other than for premiums, for amounts paid directly or indirectly to a commonly controlled entity that is exempt from corporate income tax pursuant to Section 7-2A-4 NMSA 1978; and

(d) for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, an amount equal to the amount of credit claimed and allowed for that year pursuant to Section 7-3A-10 NMSA 1978 with respect to the distributed net income of a pass-through entity;

(2) subtracting from that income:

(a) income from obligations of the United States net of expenses incurred to earn that income;

(b) other amounts that the state is prohibited from taxing because of the laws or constitution of this state or the United States net of any related expenses;

(c) an amount equal to one hundred percent of the subpart F income, as that term is defined in Section 952 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, included in the income of the corporation; and

(d) an amount equal to one hundred percent of the income of the corporation under Section 951A of the Internal Revenue Code, after allowing the deduction provided in Section 250 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(3) making other adjustments deemed necessary to properly reflect income of the unitary group, including attribution of income or expense related to unitary assets held by related corporations that are not part of the filing group; and

(4) for a taxpayer that conducts a lawful business pursuant to the laws of this state, excludes an amount equal to any expenditure that is eligible to be claimed as a federal income tax deduction but is disallowed pursuant to Section 280E of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

D. "captive real estate investment trust" means a corporation, trust or association taxed as a real estate investment trust pursuant to Section 857 of the Internal Revenue Code, the shares or beneficial interests of which are not regularly traded on an established securities market; provided that more than fifty percent of any class of beneficial interests or shares of the real estate investment trust are owned directly, indirectly or constructively by the taxpayer during all or a part of the taxpayer's taxable year;

E. "common ownership" means the direct or indirect control or ownership of more than fifty percent of the outstanding voting stock, ownership of which is determined pursuant to Section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered, of:

(1) a parent-subsidiary controlled group as defined in Section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code, except that fifty percent shall be substituted for eighty percent;

(2) a brother-sister controlled group as defined in Section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(3) three or more corporations each of which is a member of a group of corporations described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection, and one of which is:

(a) a common parent corporation included in a group of corporations described in Paragraph (1) of this subsection; and

(b) included in a group of corporations described in Paragraph (2) of this subsection;

F. "consolidated group" means the group of entities properly filing a federal consolidated return under the Internal Revenue Code for the taxable year;

G. "corporation" means corporations, joint stock companies, real estate trusts organized and operated under the Real Estate Trust Act [47-2-1 to 47-2-6 NMSA 1978], financial corporations and banks, other business associations and, for corporate income tax purposes, partnerships and limited liability companies taxed as corporations under the Internal Revenue Code;

H. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

I. "filing group" means a group of corporations properly included in a return pursuant to Section 7-2A-8.3 NMSA 1978 for a particular taxable year;

J. "fiscal year" means any accounting period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December;

K. "grandfathered net operating loss carryover" means:

(1) the amount of net loss properly reported to New Mexico for taxable years beginning January 1, 2013 and prior to January 1, 2020 as part of a timely filed original return, or an amended return for those taxable years filed prior to January 1, 2020, to the extent such loss can be attributed to one or more corporations that are properly included in the taxpayer's return for the first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2020;

(2) reduced by:

(a) adding back deductions that were taken by the corporation or corporations for royalties or interest paid to one or more related corporations, but only to the extent that such adjustment would not create a net loss for such related corporations; and

(b) the amount of net operating loss deductions taken prior to January 1, 2020 that would be charged against those losses consistent with the Internal Revenue Code and provisions of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act applicable to the year of the deduction; and

(3) apportioned to New Mexico using the apportionment factors that can properly be attributed to the corporation or corporations for the year of the net loss;

L. "Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

M. "net income" means:

(1) the base income of a corporation properly filing a tax return as a separate entity; or

(2) the combined base income and losses of corporations that are part of a filing group that is computed after eliminating intercompany income and expense in a manner consistent with the consolidated filing requirements of the Internal Revenue Code and the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act;

N. "net operating loss carryover" means the apportioned net loss properly reported on an original or amended tax return for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020 by the taxpayer:

(1) plus:

(a) the portion of an apportioned net loss properly reported to New Mexico for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2020, on a separate year return, to the extent the taxpayer would have been entitled to include the portion of such apportioned net loss in the taxpayer's consolidated net operating loss carryforward under the Internal Revenue Code if the taxpayer filed a consolidated federal return; and

(b) the taxpayer's grandfathered net operating loss carryover; and

(2) minus:

(a) the amount of the net operating loss carryover attributed to an entity that has left the filing group, computed in a manner consistent with the consolidated filing requirements of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable regulations, as if the taxpayer were filing a consolidated return; and

(b) the amount of net operating loss deductions properly taken by the taxpayer;

O. "net operating loss deduction" means the portion of the net operating loss carryover that may be deducted from the taxpayer's apportioned net income under the Internal Revenue Code as of January 1, 2018 for the taxable year in which the deduction is taken, including the eighty percent limitation of Section 172(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as of January 1, 2018 calculated on the basis of the taxpayer's apportioned net income;

P. "person" means any individual, estate, trust, receiver, cooperative association, club, corporation, company, firm, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, syndicate or other association; "person" also means, to the extent permitted by law, any federal, state or other governmental unit or subdivision or agency, department or instrumentality thereof;

Q. "real estate investment trust" has the meaning ascribed to the term in Section 856 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

R. "related corporation" means a corporation that is under common ownership with one or more corporations but that is not included in the same tax return;

S. "return" means any tax or information return, including a water's-edge or worldwide combined return, a consolidated return, a declaration of estimated tax or a claim for refund, including any amendments or supplements to the return, required or permitted pursuant to a law subject to administration and enforcement pursuant to the Tax Administration Act and filed with the department by or on behalf of any person;

T. "secretary" means the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's delegate;

U. "separate year return" means a properly filed original or amended return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2020 by a taxpayer reporting a loss, a portion of which is claimed as part of the net operating loss carryover by another taxpayer in a subsequent return period;

V. "state" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States or political subdivision thereof or any political subdivision of a foreign country;

W. "state or local bond" means a bond issued by a state other than New Mexico or by a local government other than one of New Mexico's political subdivisions, the interest from which is excluded from income for federal income tax purposes under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

X. "taxable income" means a taxpayer's apportioned net income minus the net operating loss deduction for the taxable year;

Y. "taxable year" means the calendar year or fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income is computed under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act and includes, in the case of the return made for a fractional part of a year under the provisions of that act, the period for which the return is made;

Z. "taxpayer" means any corporation or group of corporations filing a return pursuant to Section 7-2A-8.3 NMSA 1978 subject to the taxes imposed by the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act;

AA. "unitary group" means a group of two or more corporations, including a captive real estate investment trust, but not including an S corporation, an insurance company subject to the provisions of the New Mexico Insurance Code [59A-1-1 NMSA 1978], an insurance company that would be subject to the New Mexico Insurance Code if the insurance company engaged in business in this state or a real estate investment trust that is not a captive real estate investment trust, that are:

(1) related through common ownership; and

(2) economically interdependent with one another as demonstrated by the following factors:

(a) centralized management;

(b) functional integration; and

(c) economies of scale;

BB. "water's-edge group" means all corporations that are part of a unitary group, except:

(1) corporations that are exempt from corporate income tax pursuant to Section 7-2A-4 NMSA 1978; and

(2) corporations organized or incorporated outside the United States or its possessions or territories that have less than twenty percent of their property, payroll and sales sourced to locations within the United States, following the sourcing rules of the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act [Chapter 7, Article 4 NMSA 1978]; and

CC. "worldwide combined group" means all members of a unitary group, except members that are exempt from corporate income tax pursuant to Section 7-2A-4 NMSA 1978, irrespective of the country in which the corporations are incorporated or conduct business activity.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-2, enacted by Laws 1986, ch. 20, § 33; 1991, ch. 9, § 25; 1993, ch. 307, § 3; 1993, ch. 309, § 1; 1995, ch. 11, § 5; 1999, ch. 47, § 6; 2014, ch. 53, § 2; 2017, ch. 95, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 16; 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 2; 2021 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 52; 2023, ch. 85, § 8; 2024, ch. 67, § 37.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective January 1, 2025, removed a provision that subtracted from federal taxable income an amount equal to one hundred percent of the Subpart F income, as that term is defined in the Internal Revenue Code, to determine base income for the purpose of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act; in Subsection C, deleted former Subparagraph C(2)(c) and redesignated former Subparagraph C(2)(d) as Subparagraph C(2)(c), and in Subparagraph C(2)(c), after "Internal Revenue Code", deleted "after allowing the deduction provided in" and added "less the amount deducted pursuant to"; and in Subsection BB, Paragraph BB(2), after "incorporated", added "outside the United States or its possessions or territories".

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2A-3. Imposition and levy of taxes.

A. A tax to be known as the "corporate income tax" is imposed at the rate specified in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act upon the taxable income of a corporation or group of corporations, in whatever jurisdiction organized or incorporated, that is engaged in the transaction of business in, into or from this state or deriving any income from any property or employment within this state.

B. A tax to be known as the "corporate franchise tax" is imposed in the amount specified in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act upon every domestic corporation and upon every foreign corporation employed or engaged in the transaction of business in, into or from this state or deriving any income from any property or employment within this state and upon every domestic or foreign corporation, whether engaged in active business or not, but having or exercising its corporate franchise in this state.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-3, enacted by Laws 1981, ch. 37, § 36; 1986, ch. 20, § 34; 2019, ch. 270, § 17.

ANNOTATIONS

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 4, effective June 29, 2020, provided:

A. Notwithstanding Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a taxpayer for:

(1) tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due April 15, 2020 through July 15, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid payments is made in full on or before April 15, 2021;

(2) tax liabilities pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021;

(3) gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts tax or compensating tax liabilities for failure to pay any of those taxes that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021; and

(4) tax liabilities assessed between September 3, 2019 and January 3, 2020 as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-11.1 NMSA 1978; provided that payment for those liabilities is made pursuant to terms of the managed audit agreement on or before December 31, 2020.

B. Notwithstanding Sections 7-38-49 and 7-38-50 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a property owner for unpaid property taxes that became due April 10, 2020 pursuant to Section 7-38-38 NMSA 1978; provided that:

(1) the unpaid property taxes did not become delinquent because of an intent to defraud by the property owner;

(2) payment for the unpaid property taxes is made in full on or before May 10, 2021; and

(3) the subject property does not have property taxes that became delinquent pursuant to Section 7-38-46 NMSA 1978 prior to May 10, 2020.

The 2019 amendment, effective January 1, 2020, modified certain language within the section; in Subsection A, after "upon the", deleted "net" and added "taxable", and after "income of", deleted "every domestic corporation and upon the net income of every foreign corporation employed or" and added "a corporation or group of corporations, in whatever jurisdiction organized or incorporated, that is".

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that the provisions of Sections 16 through 22 and 58 of Laws 2019, ch. 270 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

Constitutionality. — The United States supreme court has held that similar state franchise tax laws do not violate the federal constitution. Southern Pac. Co. v. State Corp. Comm'n, 1937-NMSC-059, 41 N.M. 556, 72 P.2d 15.

More business interstate than intrastate. — A franchise tax upon a foreign corporation is not invalid because its interstate business exceeds its intrastate business. Southern Pac. Co. v. State Corp. Comm'n, 1937-NMSC-059, 41 N.M. 556, 72 P.2d 15.

"Property and business" in the state as used in the former section was construed by the commission to mean all property of the corporation not used exclusively in interstate business, plus the total gross receipts from intrastate business therein. It did not refer to business across state lines. Southern Pac. Co. v. State Corp. Comm'n, 1937-NMSC-059, 41 N.M. 556, 72 P.2d 15.

Constitutionality of formula applied to taxation of dividends received from foreign subsidiaries. — Taxation of dividends from foreign subsidiaries under the separate corporate entity method violates the commerce clause of the United States Constitution, and application of the Detroit formula is an insufficient remedy. *Conoco, Inc. v. 7-2A-4. Exemptions.

No corporate income or franchise tax shall be imposed upon:

A. insurance companies, reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges which pay a premium tax to the state;

B. a trust organized or created in the United States and forming part of a stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries, which trust is exempt from taxation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code; or

C. religious, educational, benevolent or other organizations not organized for profit which are exempt from income taxation under the Internal Revenue Code unless the organization receives income which is subject to federal income taxation as "unrelated business income" under the Internal Revenue Code, in which case the organization is subject to the corporate franchise tax, and the corporate income tax applies to the unrelated business income.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-4, enacted by Laws 1981, ch. 37, § 37; 1986, ch. 20, § 35; 1989, ch. 111, § 1.

7-2A-4.1. Repealed.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 46, § 2; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 4 repealed 7-2A-4.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2022, ch. 46, § 2, relating to exemption, income subject to entity-level tax, effective June 16, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-5. Corporate income tax rates.

The corporate income tax imposed on corporations by Section 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 shall be:

If the taxable income is:	The tax shall be:
Not over $500,000	4.8% of taxable income
Over $500,000	$24,000 plus 5.9% of excess over $500,000.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-5, enacted by Laws 1981, ch. 37, § 38; 1981, ch. 176, § 1; 1983, ch. 213, § 8; 1986, ch. 20, § 36; 1987, ch. 277, § 5; 2013, ch. 160, § 3; 2019, ch. 270, § 18.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective January 1, 2020, revised corporate income tax rates and corporate income tax brackets; in the introductory clause, after "shall be:", deleted "at the rates specified in the following tables:"; deleted former Subsections A through E, subsection designation "F." and the language "for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2018"; and preceding each occurrence of "income", deleted "net" and added "taxable".

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that the provisions of Sections 16 through 22 and 58 of Laws 2019, ch. 270 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

The 2013 amendment, effective January 1, 2014, decreased certain corporate income tax rates over five years; in Subsection A, added the introductory sentence; and added Subsections B through F.

7-2A-5. Corporate income tax rates. (Effective January 1, 2025.)

The corporate income tax imposed on corporations by Section 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 shall be five and nine-tenths percent of taxable income.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-5, enacted by Laws 1981, ch. 37, § 38; 1981, ch. 176, § 1; 1983, ch. 213, § 8; 1986, ch. 20, § 36; 1987, ch. 277, § 5; 2013, ch. 160, § 3; 2019, ch. 270, § 18; 2024, ch. 67, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective January 1, 2025, created a flat corporate income tax rate, replacing the two-tiered marginal rate structure of 4.8 percent for taxable income under five hundred thousand dollars and 5.9 percent for taxable income of five hundred thousand dollars or more; after "shall be", deleted the remainder of the section and added "five and nine-tenths percent of taxable income".

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2A-5.1. Corporate franchise tax amount.

The corporate franchise tax amount imposed on a corporation by Section 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 shall be fifty dollars ($50.00) per taxable year or any fraction thereof.

History: Laws 1986, ch. 20, § 37; 1992, ch. 78, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, added "or any fraction thereof" at the end of the section.

Computation. — The tax provided by the former section was a franchise tax, since neither the property nor the capital stock of the corporation is taxed. Values of property and gross receipts are used as factors to determine the number of shares of the corporate stock that measures the tax. Southern Pac. Co. v. State Corp. Comm'n, 1937-NMSC-059, 41 N.M. 556, 72 P.2d 15.

7-2A-6. Tax computation; alternative method.

For those taxpayers who do not compute an amount upon which the federal income tax is calculated or who do not compute their federal income tax payable for the taxable year, the secretary shall prescribe such regulations or instructions as he may deem necessary to enable them to compute their corporate income tax due.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1990, ch. 49, § 21 repealed 7-2A-8.2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 213, § 11, relating to tax credits for solar capital investments, effective January 1, 1991. For provisions of former section, see the 1990 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-8.3. Combined and consolidated returns.

A. Corporations that are part of a unitary group shall file a return properly reporting and paying tax on taxable income as a worldwide combined group unless they properly elect to report and pay tax on taxable income as a water's-edge or consolidated group, pursuant to department rules and instructions, on the first original return required to be filed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020. Corporations electing to file a consolidated return must file on that same basis for federal income tax purposes. Once a unitary or consolidated group has properly made an election to file as a water's-edge or consolidated group, the group and any of the group's members shall file a return on that basis for at least seven consecutive years unless the secretary grants permission otherwise. Corporations that are part of a unitary group filing a return are jointly and severally liable for the tax imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act on taxable income.

B. Corporations required to file a return as part of a filing group pursuant to this section may designate a member of the group to act as the principal corporation to file the return, make any elections, claim tax credits or refunds or perform any other act on behalf of the group with respect to the corporate income tax; provided that the members of the group remain jointly and severally liable for the taxes due pursuant to Subsection A of this section.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-8.3, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 213, § 12; 1986, ch. 20, § 43; 1993, ch. 307, § 4; 1993, ch. 309, § 2; 2013, ch. 160, § 4; 2019, ch. 270, § 19.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective January 1, 2020, completely rewrote the section; in the section heading, added "and consolidated"; and deleted former Subsections A through D and added new Subsections A and B.

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that the provisions of Sections 16 through 22 and 58 of Laws 2019, ch. 270 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required combined reporting for certain unitary corporations with a retail facility of more than thirty thousand square feet but that do not have nonretail facilities that employ at least seven hundred fifty employees; in the first sentence, after "combined net income were that of one corporation", added the remainder of the sentence; and added Subsection D.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, rewrote this section to the extent that a detailed comparison was impracticable.

7-2A-8.4. Repealed.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-8.4, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 213, § 13; 1986, ch. 20, § 44; 1993, ch. 307, § 5; 1993, ch. 309, § 3; repealed by Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 58.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 58 repealed 7-2A-8.4 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 213, § 13, relating to consolidated returns, effective January 1, 2020. For provisions of former section, see the 2019 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-8.5. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1990, ch. 49, § 23 repealed 7-2A-8.5 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 212, § 2, relating to corporate income tax credit for geothermal capital investment, effective January 1, 1996.

7-2A-8.6. Credit for preservation of cultural property; corporate income tax credit.

A. Tax credits for the preservation of cultural property may be claimed as follows:

(1) to encourage the restoration, rehabilitation and preservation of cultural properties, a taxpayer that files a corporate income tax return and that is the owner of a cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register of cultural properties, with its consent, may claim a credit not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) in an amount equal to one-half of the cost of restoration, rehabilitation or preservation of the cultural property; or

(2) if a cultural property, whose owner may otherwise claim the credit set forth in Paragraph (1) of this subsection is also located within an arts and cultural district designated by the state or a municipality pursuant to the Arts and Cultural District Act [15-5A-1 to 15-5A-7 NMSA 1978], the owner of that cultural property may claim a credit not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), including any credit claimed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection, in an amount equal to one-half of the cost of restoration, rehabilitation or preservation of the cultural property.

B. The taxpayer may claim the credit if:

(1) it submitted a plan and specifications for restoration, rehabilitation or preservation to the committee and received approval from the committee for the plan and specifications prior to commencement of the restoration, rehabilitation or preservation;

(2) it received certification from the committee after completing the restoration, rehabilitation or preservation, or committee-approved phase, that it conformed to the plan and specifications and preserved and maintained those qualities of the property that made it eligible for inclusion in the official register; and

(3) the project is completed within twenty-four months of the date the project is approved by the committee in accordance with Paragraph (1) of this subsection.

C. A taxpayer may claim the credit provided in this section for each taxable year in which preservation, restoration or rehabilitation is carried out. Claims for the credit provided in this section shall be limited to three consecutive years, and the maximum aggregate credit allowable shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, for any single restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project certified by the committee for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register. No single project may extend beyond a period of more than two years.

D. A taxpayer who otherwise qualifies and claims a credit on a restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project on property owned by a partnership of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to the taxpayer's interest in the partnership. The total credit claimed by all members of the partnership shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, in the aggregate for any single restoration, preservation or rehabilitation project for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register approved by the committee.

E. The credit provided in this section may only be deducted from the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability. Any portion of the maximum tax credit provided by this section that remains unused at the end of the taxpayer's taxable year may be carried forward for four consecutive years; provided, however, the total tax credits claimed under this section shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) if governed by Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section, or fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if governed by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, for any single restoration, rehabilitation or preservation project for any cultural property listed on the official New Mexico register.

F. The historic preservation division shall promulgate regulations for the implementation of this section.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "committee" means the cultural properties review committee created in Section 18-6-4 NMSA 1978; and

(2) "historic preservation division" means the historic preservation division of the cultural affairs department created in Section 18-6-8 NMSA 1978.

7-2A-8.9. Tax credit; certain conveyances of real property.

A. There shall be allowed as a credit against the tax liability imposed by the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act an amount equal to fifty percent of the fair market value of land or interest in land that is conveyed for the purpose of open space, natural resource or biodiversity conservation, agricultural preservation or watershed or historic preservation as an unconditional donation in perpetuity by the landowner or taxpayer to a public or private conservation agency eligible to hold the land and interests therein for conservation or preservation purposes. The fair market value of qualified donations made pursuant to this section shall be substantiated by a "qualified appraisal" prepared by a "qualified appraiser", as those terms are defined under applicable federal laws and regulations governing charitable contributions.

B. The amount of the credit that may be claimed by a taxpayer shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for a conveyance made prior to January 1, 2008 and shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for a conveyance made on or after that date. In addition, in a taxable year the credit used may not exceed the amount of corporate income tax otherwise due. A portion of the credit that is unused in a taxable year may be carried over for a maximum of twenty consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated until fully expended. A taxpayer may claim only one tax credit per taxable year.

C. Qualified donations shall include the conveyance in perpetuity of a fee interest in real property or a less-than-fee interest in real property, such as a conservation restriction, preservation restriction, agricultural preservation restriction or watershed preservation restriction, pursuant to the Land Use Easement Act [47-12-1 to 47-12-6 NMSA 1978]; provided that the less-than-fee interest qualifies as a charitable contribution deduction under Section 170(h) of the Internal Revenue Code. Dedications of land for open space for the purpose of fulfilling density requirements to obtain subdivision or building permits shall not be considered as qualified donations pursuant to the Land Conservation Incentives Act [75-9-1 to 75-9-6 NMSA 1978].

D. Qualified donations shall be eligible for the tax credit if the donations are made to the state of New Mexico, a political subdivision thereof or a charitable organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and that meets the requirements of Section 170(h)(3) of that code.

E. To be eligible for treatment as qualified donations under this section, land or interests in lands must be certified by the secretary of energy, minerals and natural resources as fulfilling the purposes as set forth in Section 5-9-2 NMSA 1978. The use and protection of the lands, or interests therein, for open space, natural area protection, biodiversity habitat conservation, land preservation, agricultural preservation, historic preservation or similar use or purpose of the property shall be assured in perpetuity.

F. A taxpayer may apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit provided by this section from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the application meets the requirements of this section and that the property conveyed will not adversely affect the property rights of contiguous landowners, it shall issue a certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer, which shall include a calculation of the maximum amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

G. To receive a credit pursuant to this section, a person shall apply to the taxation and revenue department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department. The application shall include a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to Subsection F of this section. If all of the requirements of this section have been complied with, the taxation and revenue department shall issue to the applicant a document granting the tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed for the qualified donation made pursuant to this section.

H. The tax credit represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection G of this section for a conveyance made on or after January 1, 2008, or an increment of that tax credit, may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred, and may be carried forward for a period of twenty taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated until fully expended. A tax credit or increment of a tax credit may only be transferred once. The credit may be transferred to any taxpayer. A taxpayer to whom a credit has been transferred may use the credit for the taxable year in which the transfer occurred and unused amounts may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years, but in no event may the transferred credit be used more than twenty years after it was originally issued.

I. A tax credit issued pursuant to this section shall be transferred through a qualified intermediary. The qualified intermediary shall, by means of a sworn notarized statement, notify the taxation and revenue department of the transfer and of the date of the transfer within ten days of the transfer. Credits shall only be transferred in increments of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more. The qualified intermediary shall keep an account of the credits and have the authority to issue sub-numbers registered with the taxation and revenue department and traceable to the original credit.

J. If a charitable deduction is claimed on the taxpayer's federal income tax for any contribution for which the credit provided by this section is claimed, the taxpayer's itemized deductions for New Mexico income tax shall be reduced by the amount of the deduction for the contribution in order to determine the New Mexico taxable income of the taxpayer.

K. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "qualified intermediary" does not include a person who has been previously convicted of a felony, who has had a professional license revoked, who is engaged in the practice defined in Section 61-28B-3 NMSA 1978 and who is identified in Section 61-29-2 NMSA 1978, and does not include any entity owned wholly or in part or employing any of the foregoing persons; and

(2) "taxpayer" means a citizen or resident of the United States, a domestic partnership, a limited liability company, a domestic corporation, an estate, including a foreign estate, or a trust.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-8.9, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 331, § 8; 2007, ch. 335, § 2.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, provided that the credit shall not exceed $100,000 for a conveyance prior to January 1, 2008 and $250,000 for a conveyance on or after January 1, 2008; and added Subsections F through K.

7-2A-9. Taxpayer returns; payment of tax.

A. Every corporation deriving income from any business transaction, property or employment within this state, that is not exempt from tax under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act and that is required by the laws of the United States to file a federal income tax return shall file a complete tax return with the department in form and content as prescribed by the secretary. Except as provided in Subsection C of this section, a corporation that is required by the provisions of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act to file a return or pay a tax shall, on or before the due date of the corporation's federal corporate income tax return for the taxable year, file the return and pay the tax imposed for that year.

B. Every domestic or foreign corporation that is not exempt from tax under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act, that is employed or engaged in the transaction of business in, into or from this state or that derives any income from property or employment within this state and every domestic or foreign corporation, regardless of whether it is engaged in active business, that has or exercises its corporate franchise in this state and that is not exempt from tax under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act shall file a return in the form and content as prescribed by the secretary and pay the tax levied pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 in the amount for each corporation as specified in Section 7-2A-5.1 NMSA 1978. Returns and payment of tax for corporate franchise tax for a taxable year shall be filed and paid on the date specified in Subsection A or C of this section for payment of corporate income tax for the preceding taxable year.

C. A corporation that is required by the provisions of the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act to file a return or pay a tax and that is approved by the department to use electronic media for filing and paying taxes shall, if using electronic media for filing and paying taxes, file the return and pay the tax levied for that taxable year on or before the last day of the month in which the corporation's federal corporate income tax return is originally due for the taxable year. The due date provided by this subsection does not apply to corporations that have received a filing extension from New Mexico or an extension from the federal internal revenue service for the same taxable year.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-9, enacted by Laws 1981, ch. 37, § 42; 1986, ch. 20, § 47; 1989, ch. 111, § 2; 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 4; 2016, ch. 15, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, changed the due dates of income taxes to conform with due dates pursuant to federal law, and provided certain exceptions; in Subsection A, in the second sentence, after "on or before the", deleted "fifteenth day of the third month following the end of each taxable year" and added "due date of the corporation's federal corporate income tax return for the taxable year", and after "pay the tax", deleted "levied" and added "imposed"; and in Subsection C, after "taxable year on or before the", deleted "thirtieth" and added "last", after "day of the", deleted "third", and after "month", deleted "following the end of that year" and added the remainder of the subsection.

Applicability. — Laws 2016, ch. 15, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2016, ch. 15, §§ 1 and 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2016.

The 2015 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective September 6, 2015, provided for corporations that are required to file a return or pay a tax pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act to use electronic media for filing and paying the tax, and set a deadline for filing the tax return and paying the tax; in Subsection A, after "within this state", deleted "and" and added "that is", after "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act", deleted "which" and added "and that", and after "prescribed by the secretary.", deleted "Corporations shall file such returns with the department on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the end of each taxable year. The corporate income tax imposed on corporations under Subsection A of Section 7-2A-3 NMSA 1978 is due and payment is required on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the end of the taxable year." and added the last sentence; in Subsection B, after the first occurrence of "foreign corporation", added "that is", after the first occurrence of "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act", added "that is", after "from this state or", deleted "deriving" and added "that derives", after the second occurrence of "foreign corporation", added "regardless of", after "whether", added "it is", after "active business", deleted "or not, but having or exercising" and added "that has or exercises", after "in this state and", added "that is", after the second occurrence of "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act", deleted "is required to" and added "shall", and after "Subsection A", added "or C"; and added Subsection C.

The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, in Subsection A substituted all of the language of the last sentence preceding "is due" for "The tax imposed on corporations under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act", and in Subsection B substituted "is required" for "shall be required" near the middle of the first sentence, and inserted "for a taxable year" near the beginning of the second sentence while adding all of the language of that sentence following "this section".

7-2A-9.1. Estimated tax due; payment of estimated tax; penalty; exemption.

A. Every taxpayer shall pay estimated corporate income tax to the state of New Mexico during its taxable year if its tax after applicable credits is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more in the current taxable year. A taxpayer to which this section applies shall calculate estimated tax by one of the following methods:

(1) estimating the amount of tax due, net of any credits, for the current taxable year, provided that the estimated amount is at least eighty percent of the amount determined to be due for the taxable year;

(2) using as the estimate an amount equal to one hundred percent of the tax due for the previous taxable year, if the previous taxable year was a full twelve-month year;

(3) using as the estimate an amount equal to one hundred ten percent of the tax due for the taxable year immediately preceding the previous taxable year, if the taxable year immediately preceding the previous taxable year was a full twelve-month year and the return for the previous taxable year has not been filed and the extended due date for filing that return has not occurred at the time the first installment is due for the taxable year; or

(4) estimating the amount of tax due, net of any credits, for each fiscal quarter of the current taxable year, provided that the estimated amount is at least eighty percent of the amount determined to be due for that quarter.

B. If Subsection A of this section applies, the amount of estimated tax shall be paid in installments as provided in this subsection. Twenty-five percent of the estimated tax calculated under Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Subsection A of this section or one hundred percent of the estimated tax calculated under Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of this section is due on or before the following dates: the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the taxable year, the fifteenth day of the sixth month of the taxable year, the fifteenth day of the ninth month of the taxable year and the fifteenth day of the twelfth month of the taxable year. Application of this subsection to a taxable year that is a fractional part of a year shall be determined by regulation of the secretary.

C. Every taxpayer to which Subsection A of this section applies that fails to pay the estimated tax when due or that makes estimated tax payments during the taxable year that are less than the lesser of eighty percent of the income tax imposed on the taxpayer under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act or the amount required by Paragraph (2), (3) or (4) of Subsection A of this section shall be subject to the interest and penalty provisions of Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 on the underpayment.

D. For purposes of this section, the amount of underpayment shall be the excess of the amount of the installment that would be required to be paid if the estimated tax were equal to eighty percent of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year or the amount required by Paragraph (2), (3) or (4) of Subsection A of this section or, if no return was filed, eighty percent of the tax for the taxable year for which the estimated tax is due less the amount, if any, of the installment paid on or before the last date prescribed for payment.

E. For purposes of this section, the period of underpayment shall run from the date the installment was required to be paid to whichever of the following dates is earlier:

(1) the fifteenth day of the third month following the end of the taxable year; or

(2) with respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which such portion is paid. For the purposes of this paragraph, a payment of estimated tax on any installment date shall be applied as a payment of any previous underpayment only to the extent such payment exceeds the amount of the installment determined under Subsection D of this section due on such installment date.

F. For the purposes of this section, the amount of tax deducted and withheld with respect to a taxpayer under the Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3 NMSA 1978] or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3A NMSA 1978] shall be deemed a payment of estimated tax. An equal amount of the amount of withheld tax shall be deemed paid on each due date for the applicable taxable year unless the taxpayer establishes the dates on which all amounts were actually withheld, in which case the amounts withheld shall be deemed payments of estimated tax on the dates on which the amounts were actually withheld. The taxpayer may apply the provisions of this subsection separately to amounts withheld under the Withholding Tax Act or the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act. Amounts of tax paid by taxpayers pursuant to Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978 shall not be deemed a payment of estimated tax.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2A-9.1, enacted by Laws 1986, ch. 5, § 1; 1990, ch. 49, § 13; 1992, ch. 78, § 4; 1995, ch. 11, § 7; 1997, ch. 60, § 1; 2003, ch. 86, § 2; 2003, ch. 295, § 1; 2009, ch. 4, § 1; 2010, ch. 53, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection F, in the first and third sentences, after "Oil and Gas Proceeds", added "and Pass-Through Entity"; and added the last sentence.

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

The 2009 amendment, effective February 6, 2009, in Subsection B, provided that the payment date for the first quarterly payment of estimated corporate income tax is the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the taxable year; and in Subsection F, provided that the amount of the tax deducted and withheld under the Withholding Tax Act is a payment of estimated tax and added the last sentence.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2009, ch. 4, § 2, provided that for estimated payments due on or before April 15, 2009, pursuant to Section 7-2A-9.1 NMSA 1978, a taxpayer shall remit at least one-eighth of the annual estimated taxes due for the taxable year in lieu of the one-fourth that is required in that section. The remainder of the annual estimated taxes due in the first quarter shall be remitted in addition to the taxpayer's second-quarter payment by June 15, 2009.

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, in Subsection A substituted "is" for "for such taxable year can reasonably be expected to be" following "applicable credits" near the middle of the first sentence and added "in the current taxable year" at the end of the first sentence; deleted "and if the amount due for that previous taxable year was at least five thousand dollars ($5,000); or" at the end of Paragraph A(2); deleted "the amount due for the taxable year immediately preceding the previous taxable year was at least five thousand dollars ($5,000)" following "a full twelve-month year" in Paragraph A(3); added Paragraph A(4); in Subsection B, substituted "provided in this subsection. Twenty-five percent of the estimated tax calculated under Paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of Subsection A of this section or one hundred percent of the estimated tax calculated under Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of this section is due on or before the following dates" for "follows: twenty-five percent of the estimated tax is due on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the taxable year, another twenty-five percent is due on or before", deleted "another twenty-five percent is due on or before" following "sixth month of the taxable year,", and deleted "the final twenty-five percent is due on or before" following "ninth month of the taxable year and"; inserted "or (4)" following "(3)" near the middle of Subsections C and D.

The 1997 amendment, effective June 20, 1997, rewrote Paragraph A(2), and added Paragraph A(3) and made related stylistic changes.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, inserted "the greater of five thousand dollars ($5,000)" in Subsection A(2), substituted "the amount required by Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section" for "one hundred percent of the tax liability for the previous taxable year" in Subsections C and D, and made a stylistic change.

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, added the second sentence of Subsection A; and, in Subsection C, substituted "the lesser of eighty percent of the income tax" for "eighty percent of the tax", substituted "Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act" for "Corporate Income Tax Act", and inserted "or one hundred percent of the tax liability for the previous taxable year".

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, inserted "after applicable credits" in Subsection A, substituted "secretary" for "director" at the end of Subsection B, redesignated former Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection C as present Subsections D and E, designated former Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of Paragraph (C)(2) as present Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection E; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection E, substituted "this paragraph" for "this subparagraph" and "Subsection D of this section" for "Paragraph (1) of this subsection"; and made a minor stylistic change in Subsection D.

7-2A-14. Corporate-supported child care; credits allowed.

A. A taxpayer that pays for child care services in New Mexico for dependent children of an employee of the taxpayer during the employee's hours of employment may claim a credit against the corporate income tax imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act in an amount equal to thirty percent of the total expenses, net of any reimbursements, for child care services incurred and paid by the taxpayer in the taxable year.

B. A taxpayer that operates a child care facility in New Mexico used primarily by the dependent children of the taxpayer's employees may also claim a credit against the corporate income tax imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act in an amount equal to thirty percent of the net cost of operating the child care facility for the taxable year. If two or more taxpayers share in the cost of operating a child care facility primarily for the dependent children of the taxpayers' employees, each taxpayer shall be allowed a credit in relation to the taxpayer's share of the cost of operating the child care facility. Each taxpayer's share of the tax credit shall be determined by dividing the employer's share of the net cost of operating the child care facility by the number of children served and multiplying the result by the number of the taxpayer's employees' children served. The credit allowed pursuant to this subsection may be taken only if the child care facility is operated under the authority of a license issued pursuant to the Public Health Act [Chapter 24, Article 1 NMSA 1978] and is operated without profit by the taxpayer. For the purposes of this section, the term "net cost" means the cost of operating a child care facility less any amounts collected as fees for use of the facility, any federal tax credits with respect to the facility or its operation and any other payment or reimbursement from any other source other than the credit provided by this section.

C. For the purposes of this section, "dependent children" means children under twelve years of age.

D. The credits provided for by Subsections A and B of this section may only be deducted from the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year in which the expenditures occurred. The credit may not exceed thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) in any taxable year. If the credit amount exceeds the corporate income tax liability, the excess may be carried forward for three consecutive years; provided that in no event shall the annual credit amount exceed thirty thousand dollars ($30,000).

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, inserted "net of any reimbursement" near the end of Subsection A; and, in Subsection B, rewrote the third sentence which read "The tax credit shall be determined by dividing the net operating cost paid by the employer by the number of children served and multiplying the result by the number of employees' children served", added the final sentence, and made stylistic changes.

Payments made under salary reduction payroll program. — Under an employer's salary reduction payroll program by which employees could shelter from income tax a portion of their salary and then use the tax sheltered salary to pay for dependent care expenses, the expenses were "incurred and paid" by the employer, rather than the employees, within the meaning of this section. *Intel Corp. v. Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2A-15 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1994, ch. 115, § 2, relating to qualified business facility rehabilitation credit, corporate income tax credit, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-16. Intergovernmental business tax credit.

A. With respect to the net income of a taxpayer engaged in the transaction of business occurring after July 1, 1997 from a new business on Indian land, the person who is liable for the payment of the corporate income tax may claim a credit as provided in Subsection D of this section against the corporate income tax for the aggregate amount of tax paid to an Indian nation, tribe or pueblo located in whole or in part within New Mexico.

B. The credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "intergovernmental business tax credit".

C. As used in this section:

(1) "aggregate amount of tax" means the total of all taxes imposed by an Indian nation, tribe or pueblo located in whole or in part in New Mexico on income derived from the new business's activity on Indian land, except a tax shall not be included in that total if the tax is eligible for a credit pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-29C-1 NMSA 1978 or any other intergovernmental tax credit that provides a similar tax credit;

(2) "Indian land" means all land in New Mexico that on March 1, 1997 was:

(a) within the exterior boundaries of an Indian reservation or pueblo grant; or

(b) lands held in trust by the United States for an individual Indian nation, tribe or pueblo;

(3) "new business" means a manufacturer or processor that occupies a new business facility or a grower that commences operation in New Mexico on or after July 1, 1997; and

(4) "new business facility" means a facility on Indian land that satisfies the following requirements:

(a) the facility is employed by the taxpayer in the operation of a revenue-producing enterprise. The facility shall not be considered a "new business facility" in the hands of the taxpayer if the taxpayer's only activity with respect to the facility is to lease it to another person;

(b) the facility is acquired by or leased to the taxpayer on or after January 1, 1997. The facility shall be deemed to have been acquired by or leased to the taxpayer on or after the specified date if the transfer of title to the taxpayer, the transfer of possession pursuant to a binding contract to transfer title to the taxpayer or the commencement of the term of the lease to the taxpayer occurs on or after that date or if the facility is constructed, erected or installed by or on behalf of the taxpayer, the construction, erection or installation is completed on or after that date;

(c) the facility is a newly acquired facility in which the taxpayer is not continuing the operation of the same or a substantially identical revenue-producing enterprise that previously was in operation on the Indian land of the Indian nation, tribe or pueblo where the facility is now located; a facility is a "newly acquired facility" if the facility was acquired or leased by the taxpayer from another person even if the facility was employed in a revenue-producing enterprise on the Indian land of the same Indian nation, tribe or pueblo immediately prior to the transfer of the title to the facility to the taxpayer or immediately prior to the commencement of the term of the lease of the facility to the taxpayer by another person provided that the revenue-producing enterprise of the previous occupant was not the same or substantially identical to the taxpayer's revenue-producing enterprise; and

(d) the facility is not a replacement business facility for a business facility that existed on the Indian land of the Indian nation, tribe or pueblo where the business is now located.

D. The intergovernmental business tax credit shall be determined separately for each reporting period and shall be equal to fifty percent of the lesser of:

- (1) the aggregate amount of tax paid by a taxpayer; or
- (2) the amount of the taxpayer's corporate income tax due for the reporting period from the new business's activity conducted on Indian land.

E. The department shall administer and interpret the provisions of this section in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978].

F. The burden of showing entitlement to a credit authorized by this section is on the taxpayer claiming it, and the taxpayer shall furnish to the appropriate tax collecting agency, in the manner determined by the department, proof of payment of the aggregate amount of tax on which the credit is based.

G. For a taxpayer qualifying for the credit provided by this section that conducts business in New Mexico both on and off Indian land, the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability derived from the new business activity conducted on Indian land shall be equal to the sum of the products of one-half of the taxpayer's New Mexico corporate income tax liability before application of the credit provided by this section multiplied by the payroll factor and one-half of the taxpayer's New Mexico corporate income tax liability before application of the credit provided by this section multiplied by the property factor. The factors shall be determined as follows:

- (1) the payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of compensation paid to employees employed during the tax period by the taxpayer in his new business on Indian land, and the denominator of which is the total amount of compensation paid to employees employed during the tax period by the taxpayer in all of New Mexico, including Indian land; and

- (2) the property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in the new business on Indian land in New Mexico during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible property owned or rented and used in New Mexico, including on Indian land, during the tax period.

7-2A-17.1. Job mentorship tax credit.

A. To encourage New Mexico businesses to hire youth participating in career preparation education programs, a taxpayer that is a New Mexico business and that files a corporate income tax return may claim a credit in an amount equal to fifty percent of gross wages paid to qualified students who are employed by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the return is filed. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "job mentorship tax credit".

B. A taxpayer may claim the job mentorship tax credit provided in this section for each taxable year in which the taxpayer employs one or more qualified students. The maximum aggregate credit allowable shall not exceed fifty percent of the gross wages paid to not more than ten qualified students employed by the taxpayer for up to three hundred twenty hours of employment of each qualified student in each taxable year for a maximum of three taxable years for each qualified student. In no event shall a taxpayer claim a credit in excess of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in any taxable year. The employer shall certify that hiring the qualified student does not displace or replace a current employee.

C. The department shall issue job mentorship tax credit certificates upon request to any accredited New Mexico secondary school that has a school-sanctioned career preparation education program. The maximum number of certificates that may be issued in a school year to any one school is equal to the number of qualified students in the school-sanctioned career preparation education program on October 15 of that school year, as certified by the school principal.

D. A job mentorship tax credit certificate may be executed by a school principal with respect to a qualified student, and the executed certificate may be transferred to a New Mexico business that employs that student. By executing the certificate with respect to a student, the school principal certifies that the school has a school-sanctioned career preparation education program and the student is a qualified student.

E. To claim the job mentorship tax credit, the taxpayer must submit with respect to each employee for whom the credit is claimed:

- (1) a properly executed job mentorship tax credit certificate;
- (2) information required by the secretary with respect to the employee's employment by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed; and
- (3) information required by the secretary that the employee was not also employed in the same taxable year by another New Mexico business qualifying for and claiming a job mentorship tax credit for that employee pursuant to this section or the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978].

F. The job mentorship tax credit may only be deducted from the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year. Any portion of the maximum credit provided by this section that remains unused at the end of the taxpayer's taxable year may be carried forward for three consecutive taxable years; provided the total credits claimed pursuant to this section shall not exceed the maximum allowable under Subsection B of this section.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "career preparation education program" means a work-based learning or school-to-career program designed for secondary school students to create academic and career goals and objectives and find employment in a job meeting those goals and objectives;

(2) "New Mexico business" means a corporation that carries on a trade or business in New Mexico and that employs in New Mexico fewer than three hundred full-time employees during the taxable year; and

(3) "qualified student" means an individual who is at least fourteen years of age but not more than twenty-one years of age who is attending full time an accredited New Mexico secondary school and who is a participant in a career preparation education program sanctioned by the secondary school.

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2A-18 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2001, ch. 73, § 2, relating to credit, certain electronic equipment, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-19. Renewable energy production tax credit; limitations; definitions; claiming the credit.

A. The tax credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "renewable energy production tax credit". The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same electricity production for which the renewable energy production tax credit provided in the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] has been claimed.

B. A person is eligible for the renewable energy production tax credit if the person:

(1) holds title to a qualified energy generator that first produced electricity on or before January 1, 2018; or

(2) leases property upon which a qualified energy generator operates from a county or municipality under authority of an industrial revenue bond and if the qualified energy generator first produced electricity on or before January 1, 2018.

C. The amount of the tax credit shall equal one cent ($.01) per kilowatt-hour of the first four hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in the taxable year using a wind- or biomass-derived qualified energy resource; provided that the total amount of tax credits claimed by all taxpayers for a single qualified energy generator using a wind- or biomass-derived qualified energy resource shall not exceed one cent ($.01) per kilowatt-hour of the first four hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in a taxable year.

D. The amount of the tax credit for electricity produced by a qualified energy generator in the taxable year using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource shall be at the amounts specified in Paragraphs (1) through (11) of this subsection; provided that the total amount of tax credits claimed by all taxpayers in a taxable year for a single qualified energy generator using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource shall be limited to the first two hundred thousand megawatt-hours of electricity produced by the qualified energy generator in the taxable year:

(1) one and one-half cents ($.015) per kilowatt-hour in the first taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(2) two cents ($.02) per kilowatt-hour in the second taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(3) two and one-half cents ($.025) per kilowatt-hour in the third taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(4) three cents ($.03) per kilowatt-hour in the fourth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(5) three and one-half cents ($.035) per kilowatt-hour in the fifth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(6) four cents ($.04) per kilowatt-hour in the sixth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(7) three and one-half cents ($.035) per kilowatt-hour in the seventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(8) three cents ($.03) per kilowatt-hour in the eighth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(9) two and one-half cents ($.025) per kilowatt-hour in the ninth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource;

(10) two cents ($.02) per kilowatt-hour in the tenth taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource; and

(11) one and one-half cents ($.015) per kilowatt-hour in the eleventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource.

E. A taxpayer eligible for a renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Subsection B of this section shall be eligible for the renewable energy production tax credit for one hundred twenty consecutive months, beginning on the date the qualified energy generator begins producing electricity.

F. As used in this section:

(1) "biomass" means organic material that is available on a renewable or recurring basis, including:

(a) forest-related materials, including mill residues, logging residues, forest thinnings, slash, brush, low-commercial-value materials or undesirable species, salt cedar and other phreatophyte or woody vegetation removed from river basins or watersheds and woody material harvested for the purpose of forest fire fuel reduction or forest health and watershed improvement;

(b) agricultural-related materials, including orchard trees, vineyard, grain or crop residues, including straws and stover, aquatic plants and agricultural processed co-products and waste products, including fats, oils, greases, whey and lactose;

(c) animal waste, including manure and slaughterhouse and other processing waste;

(d) solid woody waste materials, including landscape or right-of-way tree trimmings, rangeland maintenance residues, waste pallets, crates and manufacturing, construction and demolition wood wastes, excluding pressure-treated, chemically treated or painted wood wastes and wood contaminated with plastic;

(e) crops and trees planted for the purpose of being used to produce energy;

(f) landfill gas, wastewater treatment gas and biosolids, including organic waste byproducts generated during the wastewater treatment process; and

(g) segregated municipal solid waste, excluding tires and medical and hazardous waste;

(2) "qualified energy generator" means an electric generating facility with at least one megawatt generating capacity located in New Mexico that produces electricity using a qualified energy resource and the electricity produced is sold to an unrelated person; and

(3) "qualified energy resource" means a resource that generates electrical energy by means of a fluidized bed technology or similar low-emissions technology or a zero-emissions generation technology that has substantial long-term production potential and that uses only the following energy sources:

(a) solar light;

(b) solar heat;

(c) wind; or

(d) biomass.

G. A person that holds title to a facility generating electricity from a qualified energy resource or a person that leases such a facility from a county or municipality pursuant to an industrial revenue bond may request certification of eligibility for the renewable energy production tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department, which shall determine if the facility is a qualified energy generator. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may certify the eligibility of an energy generator only if the total amount of electricity that may be produced annually by all qualified energy generators that are certified pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Income Tax Act will not exceed a total of two million megawatt-hours plus an additional five hundred thousand megawatt-hours produced by qualified energy generators using a solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource. Applications shall be considered in the order received. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may estimate the annual power-generating potential of a generating facility for the purposes of this section. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a certificate to the applicant stating whether the facility is an eligible qualified energy generator and the estimated annual production potential of the generating facility, which shall be the limit of that facility's energy production eligible for the tax credit for the taxable year. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection and shall report annually to the appropriate interim legislative committee information that will allow the legislative committee to analyze the effectiveness of the renewable energy production tax credit, including the identity of qualified energy generators, the energy production means used, the amount of energy produced by those qualified energy generators and whether any applications could not be approved due to program limits.

H. A taxpayer may be allocated all or a portion of the right to claim a renewable energy production tax credit without regard to proportional ownership interest if:

(1) the taxpayer owns an interest in a business entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership;

(2) the business entity:

(a) would qualify for the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection B of this section;

(b) owns an interest in a business entity that is also taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership and that would qualify for the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection B of this section; or

(c) owns, through one or more intermediate business entities that are each taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership, an interest in the business entity described in Subparagraph (b) of this paragraph;

(3) the taxpayer and all other taxpayers allocated a right to claim the renewable energy production tax credit pursuant to this subsection own collectively at least a five percent interest in a qualified energy generator;

(4) the business entity provides notice of the allocation and the taxpayer's interest to the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms prescribed by that department for the taxable year to be claimed; and

(5) the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the allocation for the taxable year to be claimed in writing to the taxpayer.

I. Upon receipt of notice of an allocation of the right to claim all or a portion of the renewable energy production tax credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall promptly certify the allocation in writing to the recipient of the allocation.

J. A taxpayer may claim the renewable energy production tax credit by submitting to the taxation and revenue department the certificate issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department, pursuant to Subsection G or H of this section, documentation showing the taxpayer's interest in the facility, documentation of the amount of electricity produced by the facility in the taxable year and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit due the taxpayer.

K. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall approve payment of the renewable energy production tax credit. The credit may be deducted from a taxpayer's New Mexico corporate income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is claimed. If the amount of tax credit exceeds the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year:

(1) the excess may be carried forward for a period of five taxable years; or

(2) if the tax credit was issued with respect to a qualified energy generator that first produced electricity using a qualified energy resource on or after October 1, 2007, the excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

L. Once a taxpayer has been granted a renewable energy production tax credit for a given facility, that taxpayer shall be allowed to retain the facility's original date of application for tax credits for that facility until either the facility goes out of production for more than six consecutive months in a year or until the facility's ten-year eligibility has expired.

History: Laws 2002, ch. 59, § 1; 2003, ch. 419, § 1; 2005, ch. 104, § 7; 2005, ch. 181, § 1; 2007, ch. 204, § 1; 2021, ch. 65, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 19 repealed Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 7, effective June 15, 2007.

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, provided that the amount of the renewable energy production tax credit in the eleventh taxable year in which the qualified energy generator produces electricity is one and one-half cents per kilowatt-hour, clarified that a taxpayer eligible for a renewable energy production tax credit shall be eligible for one hundred twenty consecutive months, and revised the definition of "qualified energy generator", as used in this section; in Subsection D, after "Paragraphs (1) through", changed "(10)" to "(11)", and added Paragraph D(11); in Subsection E, after "tax credit for", changed "ten" to "one hundred twenty", and after "consecutive", changed "years" to "months"; in Subsection F, Paragraph F(2), after "means", deleted "a" and added "an electric generating"; and in Subsection H, Paragraph H(4), after "department", added "for the taxable year to be claimed", and in Paragraph H(5), after "allocation", added "for the taxable year to be claimed".

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, provided that the credit may not be claimed with respect to the same electricity production for which the renewable energy production tax credit provided in the Income Tax Act is claimed; provided that a person is eligible for the credit if the qualified energy generator first produces electricity on or before January 1, 2018; added Subsection D and Subparagraphs (a) through (g) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection F; changed the definition of "qualified energy generator" to mean a facility with at least one megawatt generating capacity; provided that an eligible energy generator will not exceed two million megawatt-hours plus an additional five hundred thousand megawatt-hours by solar-light-derived or solar-heat-derived qualified energy resource; required the department to report information to the legislature that will allow the legislature to analyze the effectiveness of the credit; and added Subsection K.

Applicability. — Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 21 provided that Laws 2007, ch. 204, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008.

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, in Subsection A, provided that a tax credit provided in this section is the "renewal energy production tax credit"; deleted the former provision of Subsection A, which provide a credit to a taxpayer who owns a qualified energy generator; added Subsection B to provide that a person is eligible for the credit if the person has title to a qualified energy generator or leases property upon which a qualified energy generator operates under authority of a industrial revenue bond; added Subsection C, which provided the amount of the credit; provided in Subsection D that a taxpayer eligible for the credit shall be eligible for the credit for ten years; added Subsection F, which provided that a person who has title to a facility generating electricity from a qualified energy source or that leases a facility pursuant to an industrial revenue bond may request certification of eligibility for the credit; added Subsection G, which provided the criteria by which a taxpayer may be allocated all or a portion of the credit without regard to proportional ownership; added Subsection H, which provided that upon receipt of notice of an allocation of the right to claim all or a portion of the credit, the department shall certify the allocation to the recipient; and in Subsection I, provided that a taxpayer may claim the credit by submitting the certificate issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department, documentation showing the taxpayer's interest in the facility and the amount of electricity produced to the taxation and revenue department.

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, added Paragraph B(1); redesignated former Paragraphs B(1) and (2) as Paragraphs B(2) and (3); substituted "ten" for "twenty" following "with at least" in present Paragraph B(2); inserted "a fluidized bed technology or similar low-emissions technology or" following "by means of" in Paragraph B(3); added Subparagraph B(3)(d); and substituted "two million" for "eight hundred thousand" following "will not exceed" in Subsection C.

7-2A-19.1. Clean car corporate income tax credit. (Repealed January 1, 2031.)

A. A taxpayer that, beginning on the effective date of this section and prior to January 1, 2030, purchases an electric vehicle, plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle or enters into a new lease of at least three years for one of these vehicles may claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act in an amount provided in Subsection B of this section. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "clean car corporate income tax credit".

B. The amount of the tax credit shall be in an amount equal to:

- (1) for taxable years beginning January 1, 2024 and prior to January 1, 2027:
 - (a) three thousand dollars ($3,000) for a new electric vehicle;
 - (b) two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;
 - (c) two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and
 - (d) two thousand dollars ($2,000) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;
- (2) for a taxable year beginning January 1, 2027 and prior to January 1, 2028:

(a) two thousand two hundred twenty dollars ($2,220) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) one thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($1,850) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) one thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($1,850) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) one thousand four hundred eighty dollars ($1,480) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(3) for a taxable year beginning on January 1, 2028 and prior to January 1, 2029:

(a) one thousand four hundred seventy dollars ($1,470) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) one thousand two hundred twenty-five dollars ($1,225) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) one thousand two hundred twenty-five dollars ($1,225) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) nine hundred eighty dollars ($980) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle; and

(4) for the taxable year beginning January 1, 2029:

(a) nine hundred sixty dollars ($960) for a new electric vehicle;

(b) eight hundred dollars ($800) for a new plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle;

(c) eight hundred dollars ($800) for a previously owned electric vehicle; and

(d) six hundred forty dollars ($640) for a previously owned plug-in hybrid electric vehicle or fuel cell vehicle.

C. For a previously owned vehicle to be eligible for the tax credit, the vehicle shall have a model year that is at least two years prior to the calendar year in which the taxpayer purchased or leased the vehicle.

D. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Only one tax credit shall be certified per taxpayer per taxable year. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may promulgate rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

E. An application for certification of eligibility shall include proof of vehicle purchase from or lease through a dealer licensed by the motor vehicle division of the department pursuant to Section 66-4-2 NMSA 1978 or a dealer located on tribal land within New Mexico, the vehicle's registration or application for title and registration in New Mexico and any additional information the energy, minerals and natural resources department may require to determine eligibility for the credit. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, that department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department with the certificates of eligibility issued pursuant to this subsection in an electronic format at regularly agreed upon intervals.

F. Applications for certification of the tax credit shall be made no later than one year from the date on which the vehicle is purchased or the lease is entered into.

G. A certificate of eligibility for the tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer for the full value of the credit. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer in an electronic format prescribed by the department.

H. That portion of the tax credit claimed by a taxpayer that exceeds the taxpayer's income tax liability in the taxable year in which a clean car corporate income tax credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

I. A taxpayer allowed to claim the tax credit shall claim the tax credit in a manner required by the department. The credit shall be claimed within three taxable years of the end of the year in which the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the credit.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle that derives all of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than twenty-five kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(2) "fuel cell vehicle" means a motor vehicle that:

and (a) uses a fuel cell to produce electricity that is used to drive an electric motor;

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles;

(3) "motor vehicle" means a vehicle with four wheels that:

(a) is required under the Motor Vehicle Code [Chapter 66, Articles 1 to 8 NMSA 1978] to be registered in this state and that is registered in this state;

(b) is made by a manufacturer;

(c) is manufactured primarily for use on public streets, roads or highways;

(d) has not been modified from the original manufacturer specifications;

(e) is rated at not less than two thousand two hundred pounds unloaded base weight and not more than nine thousand seven hundred fifty pounds unloaded base weight;

(f) has a maximum speed capability of at least sixty-five miles per hour; and

(g) is purchased from or leased through a dealer licensed by the motor vehicle division of the department pursuant to Section 66-4-2 NMSA 1978 or a dealer located on tribal land within New Mexico;

(4) "new" means a motor vehicle that has a base manufacturer suggested retail price, before options and destination charges and before any taxes are imposed, of fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000) or less;

(5) "plug-in hybrid electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle that derives part of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than six kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering a vehicle for a range of at least thirty miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(6) "previously owned" means a motor vehicle that is not new and that has a market value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less; and

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed repeals. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 41 repealed 7-2A-19.1 NMSA 1978, effective January 1, 2031.

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67 contained no effective date provision for Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 29. Pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, the section was effective May 15, 2024, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2A-19.2. Clean car charging unit corporate income tax credit. (Repealed January 1, 2031.)

A. A taxpayer that, beginning on the effective date of this section and prior to January 1, 2030, purchases and installs an electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit in New Mexico may claim a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act in an amount provided in Subsection B of this section. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "clean car charging unit corporate income tax credit".

B. The amount of tax credit shall be in an amount equal to:

(1) for a direct current fast charger or fuel cell charging unit, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or the cost to purchase and install the direct current fast charger or fuel cell charging unit, whichever is less; and

(2) for all other electric vehicle charging units, four hundred dollars ($400) or the cost to purchase and install the electric vehicle charging unit, whichever is less.

C. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Only one tax credit shall be certified for a direct current fast charger or a fuel cell charging unit per taxpayer per taxable year. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection.

D. An application for certification of eligibility shall include:

(1) a receipt for the purchase and installation of the electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit;

(2) for electric vehicle charging units, a copy of the data sheet that specifies the connector type, plug type, voltage and current of the electric vehicle charging unit;

(3) for a fuel cell charging unit, technical specifications on the fuel dispensing unit and fuel storage system, including information about operational pressures of the fuel cell charging unit; and

(4) any other information the energy, minerals and natural resources department may require to evaluate eligibility for the credit.

E. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, that department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department certificates of eligibility issued in an electronic format at regularly agreed upon intervals.

F. An application for certification of the tax credit shall be made no later than one year from the date in which the electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit for which the credit is claimed is purchased and installed.

G. That portion of tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's income tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

H. A taxpayer allowed to claim a tax credit pursuant to this section shall claim the tax credit in a manner required by the department. The credit shall be claimed within three taxable years of the end of the year in which the energy, minerals and natural resources department certifies the credit.

I. A taxpayer that claims the 2021 sustainable building tax credit for expenses of purchasing or installing an electric vehicle charging unit or fuel cell charging unit shall not be eligible to claim the tax credit provided by this section.

J. As used in this section:

(1) "direct current fast charger" means an electric vehicle charging unit that provides at least fifty kilowatts of direct current electrical power for charging an electric vehicle through a connector based on fast charging equipment standards and that is approved for installation for that purpose under the National Electrical Code through an underwriters laboratories certification or an equivalent certifying organization;

(2) "electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that derives all of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than twenty-five kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity;

(3) "electric vehicle charging unit" means a device that:

(a) is used to provide electricity to an electric vehicle or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle;

(b) is designed to create a connection between an electricity source and the electric vehicle or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle; and

(c) uses the electric vehicle's or plug-in hybrid electric vehicle's control system to ensure that electricity flows at an appropriate voltage and current level;

(4) "fuel cell charging unit" means a facility or unit that dispenses liquefied or compressed hydrogen for fuel cell vehicle refueling and that is approved for installation for that purpose under applicable codes and compliant with requirements of applicable certifying organizations;

(5) "fuel cell vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that:

(a) uses a fuel cell to produce electricity that is used to drive an electric motor; and

(b) is capable of powering the vehicle for a range of at least one hundred miles; and

(6) "plug-in hybrid electric vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to the registration fee pursuant to Section 66-6-2 or 66-6-4 NMSA 1978 that derives part of the vehicle's power from electricity stored in a battery that:

(a) has a capacity of not less than six kilowatt-hours;

(b) is capable of powering a vehicle for a range of at least thirty miles; and

(c) is capable of being recharged from an external source of electricity.

ANNOTATIONS

Delayed repeals. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 41 repealed 7-2A-19.2 NMSA 1978, effective January 1, 2031.

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67 contained no effective date provision for Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 30. Pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, the section was effective May 15, 2024, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2A-19.3. Advanced energy equipment corporate income tax credit. (Effective January 1, 2025. Repealed effective January 1, 2034.)

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "advanced energy equipment corporate income tax credit". A taxpayer that makes qualified expenditures for a qualified manufacturing facility located in New Mexico and that files a corporate income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2025, and prior to January 1, 2033, may claim the tax credit in the amount provided in Subsection B of this section.

B. The amount of the tax credit shall be in an amount equal to the lesser of twenty percent of the amount of the qualified expenditures made by the taxpayer for a qualified manufacturing facility or twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000).

C. Prior to incurring a qualified expenditure, a taxpayer shall apply for preliminary certification of eligibility for the tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. Such preliminary certification shall be made in consultation with the economic development department and shall be limited to confirming that the qualified expenditures proposed to be made by the taxpayer will in whole or in part be used to produce advanced energy products and providing an estimate of the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer may be eligible. Only one certificate of eligibility shall be issued for all activities performed at a qualified manufacturing facility, regardless of ownership of the facility.

D. Within twelve months of commencement of production of any advanced energy product, the taxpayer shall seek final certification from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. The total annual aggregate amount of advanced energy equipment corporate income tax credits and advanced energy equipment income tax credits that may be certified in a calendar year shall not exceed twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000). An application for final certification shall include information required by the energy, minerals and natural resources department to determine eligibility for the tax credit, including information substantiating qualified expenditures. If, after consultation with the economic development department, the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the taxpayer meets the requirements of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a dated certificate of eligibility to the taxpayer providing the amount of tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible and the taxable years in which the credit may be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall provide the department with the certificates of eligibility issued pursuant to this subsection in an electronic format at regularly agreed-upon intervals. A certificate of eligibility for the tax credit may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer in increments of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000); provided that if the total amount certified is less than one million dollars ($1,000,000), a certificate of the entire amount of the credit may be transferred. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer in an electronic format prescribed by the department.

E. A taxpayer allowed to claim the tax credit shall claim the credit in a manner required by the department. The tax credit shall be claimed within one year of receiving final certification from the energy, minerals and natural resources department. The taxpayer shall claim the amount certified and approved against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liabilities. Any amount of credit that exceeds the taxpayer's corporate income tax liabilities may be carried forward for five consecutive taxable years. A taxpayer that claims the tax credit shall report to the department and the energy, minerals and natural resources department on the continued operations of the qualified manufacturing facility.

F. If the taxpayer or a successor in the business of the taxpayer ceases operations at the qualifying manufacturing facility or ceases to produce advanced energy products for at least one hundred eighty days within a two-year period after the taxpayer has claimed the tax credit, any amount of credit that received final certification with respect to that facility that is not claimed against a taxpayer's tax liability shall be extinguished, and within thirty days after the one hundred eightieth day of cessation of operations, the taxpayer that received final certification pursuant to Subsection D of this section shall pay to the department the tax liability against which the certified credit was claimed. For the purposes of this section, a taxpayer shall not be deemed to have ceased operations during reasonable periods for maintenance or retooling, for the repair or replacement of facilities damaged or destroyed or during labor disputes.

G. As used in this section:

(1) "advanced energy product" means a technology, product, system or component eligible for a federal tax credit under Section 45X of the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) "essential" means directly necessary to the production of an advanced energy products;

(3) "manufacturing equipment" means an essential machine, mechanism or tool or a component of an essential machine, mechanism or tool used directly and exclusively in a taxpayer's qualified manufacturing facility and that is subject to depreciation pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code by the taxpayer carrying on the manufacturing. "Manufacturing equipment" does not include a vehicle that leaves the site of a manufacturing operation for the purpose of transporting persons or property, including property for which the taxpayer claims a credit pursuant to Section 7-9-79 NMSA 1978;

(4) "qualified expenditure" means an expenditure made on or after January 1, 2025 and prior to January 1, 2033 for the purchase of that portion of the costs of manufacturing equipment dedicated to manufacturing advanced energy products; and

(5) "qualified manufacturing facility" means a facility located in New Mexico, including any connected, associated or subsidiary facilities, that employs personnel to perform production tasks with manufacturing equipment not previously existing at the facility to produce advanced energy products.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2002, ch. 91, § 3, repealed 7-2A-20 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2002, ch. 91, § 2, relating to a credit for produced water, effective January 1, 2006. For provisions of former section, see the 2005 NMSA 1978 on the NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-21. Sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "sustainable building tax credit". The sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico into a sustainable building or the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the sustainable building tax credit provided in the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] has been claimed.

B. The purpose of the sustainable building tax credit is to encourage the construction of sustainable buildings and the renovation of existing buildings into sustainable buildings.

C. A taxpayer that files a corporate income tax return is eligible to be granted a sustainable building tax credit by the department if the taxpayer submits a document issued pursuant to Subsection J of this section with the taxpayer's corporate income tax return.

D. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2016, the sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable commercial building. The credit shall be calculated based on the certification level the building has achieved in the LEED green building rating system and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

LEED Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Silver	First 10,000	$3.50
	Next 40,000	$1.75
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-NC Gold	First 10,000	$4.75
	Next 40,000	$2.00
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$1.00
LEED-NC Platinum	First 10,000	$6.25
	Next 40,000	$3.25
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$2.00
LEED-EB or CS Silver	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.25
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.50
LEED-EB or CS Gold	First 10,000	$3.35
	Next 40,000	$1.40

	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.70
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	First 10,000	$4.40
	Next 40,000	$2.30
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$1.40
LEED-CI Silver	First 10,000	$1.40
	Next 40,000	$.70
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.30
LEED-CI Gold	First 10,000	$1.90
	Next 40,000	$.80
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.40
LEED-CI Platinum	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000 up to 500,000	$.80

E. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2016, the sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable residential building. The credit shall be calculated based on the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated on the following chart:

	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Silver or Build	First 2,000	$5.00
Green NM Silver	Next 1,000	$2.50
LEED-H Gold or Build	First 2,000	$6.85
Green NM Gold	Next 1,000	$3.40
LEED-H Platinum or Build	First 2,000	$9.00
Green NM Emerald	Next 1,000	$4.45
EPA ENERGY STAR Manufactured Housing	Up to 3,000	$3.00.

F. A person that is a building owner may apply for a certificate of eligibility for the sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the tax credit application is made meets the requirements of this section as a sustainable residential building or a sustainable commercial building, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitation in Subsection G of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building and a calculation of the maximum amount of sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2007, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner who is:

(1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or

(2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

G. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Income Tax Act shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to sustainable commercial buildings and an aggregate amount of four million dollars ($4,000,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings; provided that no more than one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) of the aggregate amount with respect to sustainable residential buildings shall be for manufactured housing. If for any taxable year the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the applications for sustainable building tax credits with respect to sustainable residential buildings for that taxable year exceed the aggregate limit set in this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue certificates of eligibility under the aggregate annual limit for sustainable commercial buildings to owners of sustainable residential buildings that meet the requirements of the energy, minerals and natural resources department and of this section; provided that applications for sustainable building credits for other sustainable commercial buildings total less than the full amount allocated for tax credits for sustainable commercial buildings.

H. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 may not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the sustainable building tax credit, unless a solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

I. To be eligible for the sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection F of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit for which the building owner is eligible.

J. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

K. If the total approved amount of all sustainable building tax credits for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by the documents issued pursuant to Subsection J of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability.

L. If the sum of all sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection K of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years.

M. A taxpayer that otherwise qualifies and claims a sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

N. The department shall compile an annual report on the sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. Beginning in 2015 and every five years thereafter, the department shall compile and present the annual reports to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

O. For the purposes of this section:

- (1) "build green New Mexico rating system" means the certification standards adopted by the homebuilders association of central New Mexico;
- (2) "LEED-CI" means the LEED rating system for commercial interiors;
- (3) "LEED-CS" means the LEED rating system for the core and shell of buildings;
- (4) "LEED-EB" means the LEED rating system for existing buildings;
- (5) "LEED gold" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the second-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;
- (6) "LEED" means the most current leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system guidelines developed and adopted by the United States green building council;
- (7) "LEED-H" means the LEED rating system for homes;
- (8) "LEED-NC" means the LEED rating system for new buildings and major renovations;
- (9) "LEED platinum" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;
- (10) "LEED silver" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the third-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;
- (11) "manufactured housing" means a multisectioned home that is:
 - (a) a manufactured home or modular home;

(b) a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six feet by twenty-four feet and a total area of at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet;

(c) constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or New Mexico construction codes up to the date of the unit's construction; and

(d) installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act [Chapter 60, Article 14 NMSA 1978] and rules adopted pursuant to that act relating to permanent foundations;

(12) "qualified occupied square footage" means the occupied spaces of the building as determined by:

(a) the United States green building council for those buildings obtaining LEED certification;

(b) the administrators of the build green New Mexico rating system for those homes obtaining build green New Mexico certification; and

(c) the United States environmental protection agency for ENERGY STAR-certified manufactured homes;

(13) "person" does not include state, local government, public school district or tribal agencies;

(14) "sustainable building" means either a sustainable commercial building or a sustainable residential building;

(15) "sustainable commercial building" means a multifamily dwelling unit, as registered and certified under the LEED-H or build green New Mexico rating system, that is certified by the United States green building council as LEED-H silver or higher or by build green New Mexico as silver or higher and has achieved a home energy rating system index of sixty or lower as developed by the residential energy services network or a building that has been registered and certified under the LEED-NC, LEED-EB, LEED-CS or LEED-CI rating system and that:

(a) is certified by the United States green building council at LEED silver or higher;

(b) achieves any prerequisite for and at least one point related to commissioning under LEED "energy and atmosphere", if included in the applicable rating system; and

(c) has reduced energy consumption, as follows: 1) through 2011, a fifty percent energy reduction will be required based on the national average for that building type as published by the United States department of energy; and beginning January 1, 2012, a sixty percent energy reduction will be required based on the national average for that building type as published by the United States department of energy; and 2) is substantiated by the United States environmental protection agency target finder energy performance results form, dated no sooner than the schematic design phase of development;

(16) "sustainable residential building" means:

(a) a building used as a single-family residence as registered and certified under the build green New Mexico or LEED-H rating systems that: 1) is certified by the United States green building council as LEED-H silver or higher or by build green New Mexico as silver or higher; and 2) has achieved a home energy rating system index of sixty or lower as developed by the residential energy services network; or

(b) manufactured housing that is ENERGY STAR-qualified by the United States environmental protection agency; and

(17) "tribal" means of, belonging to or created by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo.

7-2A-24. Geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer that files a New Mexico corporate income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2024 and that purchases and installs after the effective date of this section but before December 31, 2034 a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump in a property owned by the taxpayer may claim against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability, and the department may allow, a tax credit of up to thirty percent of the purchase and installation costs of the system. The credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit". The total geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit allowed to a taxpayer shall not exceed nine thousand dollars ($9,000). The department shall allow a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit only for geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps that are installed by a nationally accredited ground source heat pump installer certified by the energy, minerals and natural resources department.

B. That portion of a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

C. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall adopt rules establishing procedures to provide certification of geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps for purposes of obtaining a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit. The rules shall address technical specifications and requirements relating to safety, building code and standards compliance, minimum system sizes, system applications and lists of eligible components. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may modify the specifications and requirements as necessary to maintain a high level of system quality and performance.

D. The maximum annual aggregate of credits that may be certified in a calendar year by the energy, minerals and natural resources department is four million dollars ($4,000,000). That department shall not certify a tax credit for which a taxpayer claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit using a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for that credit. Applications for the credit shall be considered in the order received by the department.

E. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

F. The department shall compile an annual report on the tax credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

G. As used in this section, "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump" means a heating and refrigerating system that directly or indirectly utilizes available heat below the surface of the earth for distribution of heating and cooling or domestic hot water and that has either a minimum coefficient of performance of three and four-tenths or an efficiency ratio of sixteen or greater.

History: Laws 2009, ch. 271, § 2; 2024, ch. 67, § 26.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, reinstated the geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit, increased the maximum amount of the credit from two million dollars to four million dollars, required the taxation and revenue department to compile an annual report on the geothermal ground-coupled heat pump corporate income tax credit, and revised the definition of "geothermal ground-coupled heat pump"; in the section heading, added "corporate income"; in Subsection A, after "January 1," changed "2010" to "2024", after "installs after", deleted "January 1, 2010" and added "the effective date of this section", after "December 31," changed "2020" to "2034", added "corporate income" preceding each occurrence of "tax credit", and after "only for geothermal ground-coupled heat pumps", added "that are installed by a nationally accredited ground source heat pump installer"; in Subsection B, added "corporate income" preceding "tax credit", after "tax credit that", deleted "remains unused in a" and added "exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the", and after "taxable year", deleted "may be carried forward for a maximum of ten consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originates until the credit is fully expended" and added "in which the credit is claimed shall be refunded to the taxpayer"; in Subsection C, deleted "Prior to July 1, 2010", and added "corporate income" preceding "tax credit"; in Subsection D, after "maximum annual aggregate of", deleted "two million dollars ($2,000,000) in geothermal ground-coupled heat pump tax", after "credits", added "that may be certified in a calendar year by the energy, minerals and natural resources department is four million dollars ($4,000,000). That department shall not certify a tax credit for which a taxpayer claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit using a geothermal ground-coupled heat pump as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for that credit"; added new Subsections E and F and redesignated former Subsection E as Subsection G; and in Subsection G, deleted "reversible refrigerator device that provides space heating, space cooling, domestic hot water, processed hot water, processed chilled water or any other application where hot air, cool air, hot water or chilled water is required and that utilizes ground water or water circulating through pipes buried in the ground as a condenser in the cooling mode and an evaporator in the heating mode" and added the remainder of the subsection.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

7-2A-24.1. Geothermal electricity generation corporate income tax credit. (Effective January 1, 2025.)

A. For taxable years prior to January 1, 2032, a taxpayer that holds an interest in a geothermal electricity generation facility may apply for, and the department may allow, a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "geothermal electricity generation corporate income tax credit".

B. The amount of a tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall be an amount equal to one and one-half cents ($0.015) per kilowatt-hour of electricity generated in New Mexico in a taxable year by the geothermal electricity generation facility in which the taxpayer holds an interest.

C. A taxpayer shall apply for certification of eligibility for the credit provided by this section from the energy, minerals and natural resources department on forms and in the manner prescribed by that department. The total annual aggregate amount of geothermal electricity generation corporate income tax credits and geothermal electricity generation income tax credits that may be certified in any calendar year is five million dollars ($5,000,000). Completed applications shall be considered in the order received. Applications for certification received after this limitation has been met in a calendar year shall not be approved for that calendar year, but shall be considered for certification in the following calendar year. The application shall include proof that the taxpayer is eligible for certification, including that the geothermal electricity generation facility that produced the energy for which the taxpayer is claiming credit, the geothermal resources used by the geothermal electricity generation facility and the taxpayer's interest in the geothermal electricity generation facility are in accordance with the definitions set forth in this section. For taxpayers approved to receive the credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall issue a certificate of eligibility stating the amount of credit to which the taxpayer is entitled and the taxable year in which the credit may be claimed. The certificate of eligibility shall be numbered for identification and declare the date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed.

D. A taxpayer may claim a geothermal electricity generation corporate income tax credit for the taxable year in which electricity was generated in New Mexico by a geothermal electricity generation facility in which the taxpayer holds an interest. To receive the credit provided by this section, a taxpayer shall apply to the department on forms and in the manner prescribed by the department. The application shall include a certification made pursuant to Subsection C of this section.

E. That portion of a credit that exceeds a taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year in which the credit is claimed may be carried forward for up to three consecutive years.

F. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by that department.

G. The department shall compile an annual report on the credit provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

H. As used in this section:

(1) "geothermal electricity generation facility" means a facility located in New Mexico that generates electricity from geothermal resources and:

(a) for new facilities, begins construction on or after January 1, 2025; or

(b) for existing facilities, on or after January 1, 2025, increases the amount of electricity generated from geothermal resources the facility generated prior to that date by at least one hundred percent;

(2) "geothermal resources" means the natural heat of the earth in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit or the energy, in whatever form, below the surface of the earth present in, resulting from, created by or that may be extracted from this natural heat in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit and all minerals in solution or other products obtained from naturally heated fluids, brines, associated gases and steam, in whatever form, found below the surface of the earth, but excluding oil, hydrocarbon gas and other hydrocarbon substances and excluding the heating and cooling capacity of the earth not resulting from the natural heat of the earth in excess of two hundred fifty degrees Fahrenheit as may be used for the heating and cooling of buildings through an on-site geexchange heat pump or similar on-site system; and

(3) "interest in a geothermal electricity generation facility" means title to a geothermal electricity generation facility; a leasehold interest in such facility; an ownership interest in a business or entity that is taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership that holds title to or a leasehold interest in such facility; or an ownership interest, through one or more intermediate entities that are each taxed for federal income tax purposes as a partnership, in a business that holds title to or a leasehold interest in such facility.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 43 made Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 34 effective January 1, 2025.

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 5, 8, 10 and 32 through 37 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2025.

7-2A-25. Repealed.

History: Laws 2009, ch. 279, § 2; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2A-25 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2009, ch. 279, § 2, relating to advanced energy corporate income tax credit, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-26. Agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer that files a New Mexico corporate income tax return for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011 and ending prior to January 1, 2030 for a dairy or feedlot owned by the taxpayer may claim against the taxpayer's corporate income and franchise tax liability, and the department may allow, a tax credit equal to five dollars ($5.00) per wet ton of agricultural biomass transported from the taxpayer's dairy or feedlot to a facility that uses agricultural biomass to generate electricity or make biocrude or other liquid or gaseous fuel for commercial use. The credit provided in this section may be referred to as the "agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit".

B. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the taxpayer a document granting an agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the taxpayer with that taxpayer's corporate income tax return or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

C. A portion of the agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit that remains unused in a taxable year may be carried forward for a maximum of four consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originates until the credit is fully expended.

D. The energy, minerals and natural resources department shall adopt rules establishing procedures to provide certification of transportation of agricultural biomass to a qualified facility that uses agricultural biomass to generate electricity or make biocrude or other liquid or gaseous fuel for commercial use for purposes of obtaining an agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit. The rules may be modified as determined necessary by the energy, minerals and natural resources department to determine accurate recording of the quantity of agricultural biomass transported and used for the purpose allowable in this section.

E. A taxpayer that claims an agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit shall not also claim an agricultural biomass income tax credit for transportation of the same agricultural biomass on which the claim for that agricultural biomass income tax credit is based.

F. The department shall limit the annual combined total of all agricultural biomass income tax credits and all agricultural biomass corporate income tax credits allowed to a maximum of five million dollars ($5,000,000). Applications for the credit shall be considered in the order received by the department.

G. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

H. The department shall compile an annual report on the agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the tax credit.

I. As used in this section:

(1) "agricultural biomass" means wet manure meeting specifications established by the energy, minerals and natural resources department from either a dairy or feedlot commercial operation;

(2) "biocrude" means a nonfossil form of energy that can be transported and refined using existing petroleum refining facilities and that is made from biologically derived feedstocks and other agricultural biomass;

(3) "feedlot" means an operation that fattens livestock for market; and

(4) "dairy" means a facility that raises livestock for milk production.

History: Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 2; 2020, ch. 20, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2010, ch. 84, § 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011 and ending prior to January 1, 2020.

The 2020 amendment, effective May 20, 2020, extended the agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit until the year 2030, required taxpayers claiming the credit to report the amount of the credit to the taxation and revenue department, and required the taxation and revenue department to compile an annual report on the agricultural biomass corporate income tax credit and present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee; in Subsection A, after "prior to January 1", deleted "2020" and added "2030"; and added new Subsections G and H and redesignated the succeeding subsection accordingly.

7-2A-27. Repealed.

History: Laws 2012, ch. 55, § 2; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2A-27 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2012, ch. 55, § 2, relating to veteran employment tax credit, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2A-28. 2015 sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "2015 sustainable building tax credit". The 2015 sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico into a sustainable building or the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building; provided that the construction, renovation or installation project is completed prior to April 1, 2023. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the 2015 sustainable building tax credit provided in the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the 2021 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act has been claimed.

B. The purpose of the 2015 sustainable building tax credit is to encourage the construction of sustainable buildings and the renovation of existing buildings into sustainable buildings.

C. A taxpayer that files a corporate income tax return is eligible to be granted a 2015 sustainable building tax credit by the department if the taxpayer submits a document issued pursuant to Subsection K of this section with the taxpayer's corporate income tax return.

D. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2024, the 2015 sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable commercial building. The credit shall be calculated based on the certification level the building has achieved in the LEED green building rating system and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

LEED Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Silver	First 10,000	$3.50
	Next 40,000	$1.75
	Over 50,000
LEED-NC Gold	up to 500,000	$.70
	First 10,000	$4.75
	Next 40,000	$2.00
LEED-NC Platinum	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$1.00
	First 10,000	$6.25
LEED-EB or CS Silver	Next 40,000	$3.25
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$2.00
LEED-EB or CS Gold	First 10,000	$2.50
	Next 40,000	$1.25
	Over 50,000
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	up to 500,000	$.50
	First 10,000	$3.35
	Next 40,000	$1.40
LEED-CI Silver	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.70
	First 10,000	$4.40
LEED-CI Gold	Next 40,000	$2.30
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$1.40
LEED-CI Platinum	First 10,000	$1.40
	Next 40,000	$.70
	Over 50,000
LEED-EB or CS Silver	up to 500,000	$.30
	First 10,000	$1.90
	Next 40,000	$.80
LEED-EB or CS Gold	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.40
	First 10,000	$2.50
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000
	up to 500,000	$.80.

E. For taxable years ending on or before December 31, 2024, the 2015 sustainable building tax credit may be claimed with respect to a sustainable residential building.

The credit shall be calculated based on the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating System/Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Silver or Build Green NM Silver	Up to 2,000	$3.00
LEED-H Gold or Build Green NM Gold	Up to 2,000	$4.50
LEED-H Platinum or Build Green NM Emerald	Up to 2,000	$6.50
Manufactured Housing	Up to 2,000	$3.00.

F. A person that is a building owner may apply for a certificate of eligibility for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the tax credit application is made meets the requirements of this section as a sustainable residential building or a sustainable commercial building, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitations in Subsection G of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building and a calculation of the maximum amount of 2015 sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2017 but prior to April 1, 2023, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner who is:

- (1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or
- (2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

G. Except as provided in Subsection H of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of 2015 sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of:

(1) one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) with respect to sustainable commercial buildings;

(2) three million three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($3,375,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings that are not manufactured housing; and

(3) three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($375,000) with respect to sustainable residential buildings that are manufactured housing.

H. For any taxable year that the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that applications for sustainable building tax credits for any type of sustainable building pursuant to Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Subsection G of this section are less than the aggregate limit for that type of sustainable building for that taxable year, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall allow the difference between the aggregate limit and the applications to be added to the aggregate limit of another type of sustainable building for which applications exceeded the aggregate limit for that taxable year. Any excess not used in a taxable year shall not be carried forward to subsequent taxable years.

I. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 may not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, unless a solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.14 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the 2015 sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

J. To be eligible for the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection F of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require to determine the amount of the tax credit for which the building owner is eligible.

K. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a 2015 sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

L. If the approved amount of a 2015 sustainable building tax credit for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection K of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability.

M. If the sum of all 2015 sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection L of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years.

N. A taxpayer that otherwise qualifies and claims a 2015 sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

O. The department shall compile an annual report on the 2015 sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. Beginning in 2019 and every three years thereafter that the credit is in effect, the department shall compile and present the annual reports to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

P. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "build green New Mexico rating system" means the certification standards adopted by build green New Mexico in November 2014, which include water conservation standards;

(2) "LEED-CI" means the LEED rating system for commercial interiors;

(3) "LEED-CS" means the LEED rating system for the core and shell of buildings;

(4) "LEED-EB" means the LEED rating system for existing buildings;

(5) "LEED gold" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the second-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(6) "LEED" means the most current leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system guidelines developed and adopted by the United States green building council;

(7) "LEED-H" means the LEED rating system for homes;

(8) "LEED-NC" means the LEED rating system for new buildings and major renovations;

(9) "LEED platinum" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(10) "LEED silver" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the third-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(11) "manufactured housing" means a multisectioned home that is:

(a) a manufactured home or modular home;

(b) a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six feet by twenty-four feet and a total area of at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet;

(c) constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or New Mexico construction codes up to the date of the unit's construction; and

(d) installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act and rules adopted pursuant to that act relating to permanent foundations;

(12) "qualified occupied square footage" means the occupied spaces of the building as determined by:

(a) the United States green building council for those buildings obtaining LEED certification;

(b) the administrators of the build green New Mexico rating system for those homes obtaining build green New Mexico certification; and

(c) the United States environmental protection agency for ENERGY STAR-certified manufactured homes;

(13) "person" does not include state, local government, public school district or tribal agencies;

(14) "sustainable building" means either a sustainable commercial building or a sustainable residential building;

(15) "sustainable commercial building" means a multifamily dwelling unit, as registered and certified under the LEED-H or build green New Mexico rating system, that is certified by the United States green building council as LEED-H silver or higher or by build green New Mexico as silver or higher and has achieved a home energy rating system index of sixty or lower as developed by the residential energy services network or a building that has been registered and certified under the LEED-NC, LEED-EB, LEED-CS or LEED-CI rating system and that:

(a) is certified by the United States green building council at LEED silver or higher;

(b) achieves any prerequisite for and at least one point related to commissioning under LEED "energy and atmosphere", if included in the applicable rating system; and

(c) has reduced energy consumption beginning January 1, 2012, by sixty percent based on the national average for that building type as published by the United States department of energy as substantiated by the United States environmental protection agency target finder energy performance results form, dated no sooner than the schematic design phase of development;

(16) "sustainable residential building" means:

(a) a building used as a single-family residence as registered and certified under the build green New Mexico or LEED-H rating systems that: 1) is certified by the United States green building council as LEED-H silver or higher or by build green New Mexico as silver or higher; 2) has achieved a home energy rating system index of sixty or lower as developed by the residential energy services network; 3) has indoor plumbing fixtures and water-using appliances that, on average, have flow rates equal to or lower than the flow rates required for certification by WaterSense; 4) if landscape area is available at the front of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; and 5) if landscape area is available at the rear of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; or

(b) manufactured housing that is ENERGY STAR-qualified by the United States environmental protection agency;

(17) "tribal" means of, belonging to or created by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo; and

(18) "WaterSense" means a program created by the federal environmental protection agency that certifies water-using products that meet the environmental protection agency's criteria for efficiency and performance.

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, made conforming changes due to changing the name of the "new sustainable building tax credit" to the "2015 sustainable building tax credit", accelerated the termination of the 2015 sustainable building tax credit, and provided the credit for projects completed prior to April 1, 2023; substituted "new" with "2015" preceding "sustainable building tax credit" throughout; after "December 31", changed "2026" to "2024" throughout; in Subsection A, after "that is a sustainable building", added "provided that the construction, renovation or installation project is completed prior to April 1, 2023", and after "Income Tax Act", added "or the 2021 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act"; and in Subsection F, after "January 1, 2017", added "but prior to April 1, 2023".

7-2A-28.1. 2021 sustainable building tax credit.

A. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "2021 sustainable building tax credit". For taxable years prior to January 1, 2028, a taxpayer that is a building owner and files a corporate income tax return is eligible to be granted a 2021 sustainable building tax credit by the department if the requirements of this section are met. The 2021 sustainable building tax credit shall be available for the construction in New Mexico of a sustainable building, the renovation of an existing building in New Mexico, the permanent installation of manufactured housing, regardless of where the housing is manufactured, that is a sustainable building or the installation of energy-conserving products to existing buildings in New Mexico, as provided in this section. The tax credit provided in this section may not be claimed with respect to the same sustainable building for which the 2021 sustainable building tax credit provided in the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the 2015 sustainable building tax credit pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act has been claimed.

B. The amount of a 2021 sustainable building tax credit shall be determined as follows:

(1) for the construction of a new sustainable commercial building that is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready and is completed on or after January 1, 2022, the amount of credit shall be calculated:

(a) based on the certification level the building has achieved in the rating level and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-NC Platinum	First 10,000	$5.25
	Next 40,000	$2.25
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$1.00
LEED-EB or CS Platinum	First 10,000	$3.40
	Next 40,000	$1.30
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.35
LEED-CI Platinum	First 10,000	$1.50
	Next 40,000	$0.40
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.30
LEED-NC Gold	First 10,000	$3.00
	Next 40,000	$1.00
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.25
LEED-EB or -CS Gold	First 10,000	$2.00
	Next 40,000	$1.00
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.25
LEED-CI Gold	First 10,000	$0.90
	Next 40,000	$0.40
	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.10; and

(b) with additional amounts based on the additional criteria and the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated in the following chart:

Additional Criteria	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
Fully Electric Building	First 50,000	$1.00

Zero Carbon, Energy, Waste or Water Certified	Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.50
	First 50,000 Over 50,000 up to 200,000	$0.25 $0.10;

(2) for the renovation of a commercial building that was built at least ten years prior to the date of the renovation, has twenty thousand square feet or more of space in which temperature is controlled and is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready, the amount of credit shall be calculated by multiplying two dollars twenty-five cents ($2.25) by the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, up to a maximum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) per renovation; provided that the renovation reduces total energy and power costs by fifty percent when compared to the most current energy standard for buildings except low-rise residential buildings, as developed by the American society of heating, refrigerating and air-conditioning engineers;

(3) for the installation of the following energy-conserving products to an existing commercial building with less than twenty thousand square feet of space in which temperature is controlled that is broadband ready, the amount of credit shall be based on the cost of the product installed, which shall include installation costs, and if the building is affordable housing, per product installed:

Product	Amount of Credit
	Affordable Housing	Non-Affordable Housing
Energy Star Air Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Ground Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Windows and Doors	100% of product cost up to $1,000	50% of product cost up to $500
Insulation Improvements That Meet Rules of the Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department	100% of product cost up to $2,000	50% of product cost up to $1,000
Energy Star Heat Pump Water Heater	$700	$350
Electric Vehicle Ready	100% of product cost up to $3,000	50% of product cost up to $1,500;

(4) for the construction of a new sustainable residential building that is broadband ready and electric vehicle ready and is completed on or after January 1, 2022, the amount of credit shall be calculated:

(a) based on the certification level the building has achieved in the rating level and the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, as indicated on the following chart:

Rating Level	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
LEED-H Platinum	Up to 2,000	$5.50
LEED-H Gold	Up to 2,000	$3.80
Build Green Emerald	Up to 2,000	$5.50
Build Green Gold	Up to 2,000	$3.80
Manufactured Housing	Up to 2,000	$2.00; and

(b) with additional amounts based on the additional criteria and the amount of qualified occupied square footage, as indicated in the following chart:

Additional Criteria	Qualified Occupied Square Footage	Tax Credit per Square Foot
Fully Electric Building	Up to 2,000	$1.00
Zero Carbon, Energy, Waste or Water Certified	Up to 2,000	$0.25; and

(5) for the installation of the following energy-conserving products to an existing residential building, the amount of credit shall be based on the cost of the product installed, which shall include installation costs, and if the building is affordable housing or the taxpayer is a low-income taxpayer, per product installed:

Product	Amount of Credit
	Affordable Housing and Low-Income	Non-Affordable Housing and Non-Low Income
Energy Star Air Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Ground Source Heat Pump	$2,000	$1,000
Energy Star Windows and Doors	100% of product cost up to $1,000	50% of product cost up to $500
Insulation Improvements That Meet Rules of the Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department	100% of product cost up to $2,000	50% of product cost up to $1,000

Energy Star Heat Pump Water Heater	$700	$350
Electric Vehicle Ready	$1,000	$500.

C. A person that is a building owner may apply for a certificate of eligibility for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit from the energy, minerals and natural resources department after the construction, installation or renovation of the sustainable building or installation of energy-conserving products in an existing building is complete. Applications shall be considered in the order received. If the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that the building owner meets the requirements of this subsection and that the building with respect to which the application is made meets the requirements of this section for a 2021 sustainable building tax credit, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to the building owner, subject to the limitations in Subsection D of this section. The certificate shall include the rating system certification level awarded to the building, the amount of qualified occupied square footage in the building, a calculation of the maximum amount of 2021 sustainable building tax credit for which the building owner would be eligible, the identification number, date of issuance and the first taxable year that the credit shall be claimed. The energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the provisions of this subsection. If the certification level for the sustainable residential building is awarded on or after January 1, 2022, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility to a building owner that is:

- (1) the owner of the sustainable residential building at the time the certification level for the building is awarded; or
- (2) the subsequent purchaser of a sustainable residential building with respect to which no tax credit has been previously claimed.

D. Except as provided in Subsection E of this section, the energy, minerals and natural resources department may issue a certificate of eligibility only if the total amount of 2021 sustainable building tax credits represented by certificates of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to this section and pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] shall not exceed in any calendar year an aggregate amount of:

- (1) one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable commercial buildings;
- (2) two million dollars ($2,000,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable residential buildings that are not manufactured housing;

(3) two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to the construction of new sustainable residential buildings that are manufactured housing;

(4) one million dollars ($1,000,000) with respect to the renovation of large commercial buildings; and

(5) two million nine hundred thousand dollars ($2,900,000) with respect to the installation of energy-conserving products in existing commercial buildings pursuant to Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of this section and existing residential buildings pursuant to Paragraph (5) of Subsection B of this section.

E. For any taxable year that the energy, minerals and natural resources department determines that applications for sustainable building tax credits for any type of sustainable building pursuant to Subsection D of this section are less than the aggregate limit for that type of sustainable building for that taxable year, the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall allow the difference between the aggregate limit and the applications to be added to the aggregate limit of another type of sustainable building for which applications exceeded the aggregate limit for that taxable year. Any excess not used in a taxable year shall not be carried forward to subsequent taxable years.

F. Installation of a solar thermal system or a photovoltaic system eligible for the new solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.31 NMSA 1978 shall not be used as a component of qualification for the rating system certification level used in determining eligibility for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, unless a new solar market development tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2-18.31 NMSA 1978 has not been claimed with respect to that system and the building owner and the taxpayer claiming the 2021 sustainable building tax credit certify that such a tax credit will not be claimed with respect to that system.

G. To claim the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, the building owner shall provide to the taxation and revenue department a certificate of eligibility issued by the energy, minerals and natural resources department pursuant to the requirements of Subsection C of this section and any other information the taxation and revenue department may require.

H. If the approved amount of a 2021 sustainable building tax credit for a taxpayer in a taxable year represented by a document issued pursuant to Subsection C of this section is:

(1) less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the next three subsequent taxable years as needed depending on the amount of credit; or

(2) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, increments of twenty-five percent of the total credit amount in each of the four taxable years, including the taxable year for which the credit is approved and the three subsequent taxable years, shall be applied against the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability.

I. If the sum of all 2021 sustainable building tax credits that can be applied to a taxable year for a taxpayer, calculated according to Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection H of this section, exceeds the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for that taxable year, the excess may be carried forward for a period of up to seven years.

J. A taxpayer that otherwise qualifies and claims a 2021 sustainable building tax credit with respect to a sustainable building owned by a partnership or other business association of which the taxpayer is a member may claim a credit only in proportion to that taxpayer's interest in the partnership or association. The total credit claimed in the aggregate by all members of the partnership or association with respect to the sustainable building shall not exceed the amount of the credit that could have been claimed by a sole owner of the property.

K. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the department shall issue to the building owner a document granting a 2021 sustainable building tax credit. The document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of the tax credit allowed pursuant to this section. The document may be submitted by the building owner with that taxpayer's income tax return, if applicable, or may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer. The parties to such a transaction shall notify the department of the sale, exchange or transfer within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

L. The department and the energy, minerals and natural resources department shall compile an annual report on the 2021 sustainable building tax credit created pursuant to this section that shall include the number of taxpayers approved to receive the tax credit, the aggregate amount of tax credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the tax credit. The department shall present the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit.

M. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "broadband ready" means a building with an internet connection capable of connecting to a broadband provider;

(2) "build green emerald" means the emerald level certification standard adopted by build green New Mexico, which includes water conservation standards and uses forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department;

(3) "build green gold" means the gold level certification standard adopted by build green New Mexico, which includes water conservation standards and uses thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department;

(4) "electric vehicle ready" means a property that provides for commercial buildings at least ten percent of parking spaces and for residential buildings at least one parking space with one forty-ampere, two-hundred-eight-volt or two-hundred-forty-volt dedicated branch circuit for servicing electric vehicles that terminates in a suitable termination point, such as a receptacle or junction box, and is located in reasonably close proximity to the proposed location of the parking spaces;

(5) "energy rating system index" means a numerical score given to a building where one hundred is equivalent to the 2006 international energy conservation code and zero is equivalent to a net-zero home. As used in this paragraph, "net-zero home" means an energy-efficient home where, on a source energy basis, the actual annual delivered energy is less than or equal to the on-site renewable exported energy;

(6) "Energy Star" means products and devices certified under the energy star program administered by the United States environmental protection agency and United States department of energy that meet the specified performance requirements at the installed locations;

(7) "fully electric building" means a building that uses a permanent supply of electricity as the source of energy for all space heating, water heating, including pools and spas, cooking appliances and clothes drying appliances and, in the case of a new building, has no natural gas or propane plumbing installed in the building or, in the case of an existing building, has no connected natural gas or propane plumbing;

(8) "LEED" means the most current leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system guidelines developed and adopted by the United States green building council;

(9) "LEED-CI" means the LEED rating system for commercial interiors;

(10) "LEED-CS" means the LEED rating system for the core and shell of buildings;

(11) "LEED-EB" means the LEED rating system for existing buildings;

(12) "LEED gold" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the second-highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(13) "LEED-H" means the LEED rating system for homes;

(14) "LEED-NC" means the LEED rating system for new buildings and major renovations;

(15) "LEED platinum" means the rating in compliance with, or exceeding, the highest rating awarded by the LEED certification process;

(16) "low-income taxpayer" means a taxpayer with an annual household adjusted gross income equal to or less than two hundred percent of the federal poverty level guidelines published by the United States department of health and human services;

(17) "manufactured housing" means a multisectioned home that is:

(a) a manufactured home or modular home;

(b) a single-family dwelling with a heated area of at least thirty-six feet by twenty-four feet and a total area of at least eight hundred sixty-four square feet;

(c) constructed in a factory to the standards of the United States department of housing and urban development, the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and the Housing and Urban Development Zone Code 2 or New Mexico construction codes up to the date of the unit's construction; and

(d) installed consistent with the Manufactured Housing Act [Chapter 60, Article 14 NMSA 1978] and rules adopted pursuant to that act relating to permanent foundations;

(18) "qualified occupied square footage" means the occupied spaces of the building as determined by:

(a) the United States green building council for those buildings obtaining LEED certification;

(b) the administrators of the build green New Mexico rating system for those homes obtaining build green New Mexico certification; and

(c) the United States environmental protection agency for Energy Star-certified manufactured homes;

(19) "person" does not include state, local government, public school district or tribal agencies;

(20) "sustainable building" means either a sustainable commercial building or a sustainable residential building;

(21) "sustainable commercial building" means:

(a) a commercial building that is certified as any LEED platinum or gold for commercial buildings;

(b) a multifamily dwelling unit that is certified as LEED-H platinum or gold or build green emerald or gold and uses at least thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current applicable energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green gold or LEED-H, or uses at least forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green emerald or LEED platinum; or

(c) a building that: 1) is certified at LEED-NC, LEED-EB, LEED-CS or LEED-CI platinum or gold levels; 2) achieves any prerequisite for and at least one point related to commissioning under the LEED energy and atmosphere category, if included in the applicable rating system; and 3) has reduced energy consumption beginning January 1, 2012 by forty percent based on the national average for that building type as published by the United States department of energy as substantiated by the United States environmental protection agency target finder energy performance results form, dated no sooner than the schematic design phase of development;

(22) "sustainable residential building" means:

(a) a building used as a single-family residence that: 1) is certified as LEED-H platinum or gold or build green emerald or gold; 2) uses at least thirty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green gold or LEED-H, or uses at least forty percent less energy than is required by the prescriptive path of the most current residential energy conservation code promulgated by the construction industries division of the regulation and licensing department for build green emerald or LEED platinum; 3) has indoor plumbing fixtures and water-using appliances that, on average, have flow rates equal to or lower than the flow rates required for certification by WaterSense; 4) if landscape area is available at the front of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; and 5) if landscape area is available at the rear of the property, has at least one water line outside the building below the frost line that may be connected to a drip irrigation system; or

(b) manufactured housing that is Energy Star-qualified;

(23) "tribal" means of, belonging to or created by a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo;

(24) "WaterSense" means a program created by the federal environmental protection agency that certifies water-using products that meet the environmental protection agency's criteria for efficiency and performance;

(25) "zero carbon certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero carbon by achieving a carbon-dioxide-equivalent balance of zero for the building;

(26) "zero energy certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero energy by achieving a source energy use balance of zero for the building;

(27) "zero waste certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero waste by achieving green building certification incorporated's true zero waste certification at the platinum level; and

(28) "zero water certified" means a building that is certified as LEED zero water by achieving a potable water use balance of zero for the building.

History: Laws 2021, ch. 84, § 4; 2022, ch. 47, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2022 amendment, effective May 18, 2022, provided for an earlier sunset date for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit, and changed the start of the eligibility period for the 2021 sustainable building tax credit from April 1, 2023 to January 1, 2022; in Subsection A, after "prior to January 1", changed "2030" to "2028"; in Subsection B, Paragraphs B(1) and B(4), after "on or after", deleted "April 1, 2023" and added "January 1, 2022"; in Subsection C, after "on or after January 1", changed "2021" to "2022"; and in Subsection F, after each occurrence of "pursuant to Section", deleted "7-2-18.14" and added "7-2-18.31".

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 84, § 5 provided that the provisions of 7-2-18.32 NMSA 1978 and 7-2A-28.1 NMSA 1978 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021.

7-2A-29. Foster youth employment corporate income tax credit.

A. A taxpayer that employs a qualified foster youth in New Mexico is eligible for a credit against the taxpayer's tax liability imposed pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act in an amount up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the gross wages paid to each qualified foster youth by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the return is filed. A taxpayer that employs a qualified foster youth for less than the full taxable year is eligible for a credit amount equal to one thousand dollars ($1,000) multiplied by the fraction of a full year for which the qualified foster youth was employed. The tax credit provided by this section may be referred to as the "foster youth employment corporate income tax credit".

B. The purpose of the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is to encourage the employment of individuals who as youth were adjudicated as abused or neglected or who were in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department under the Children's Code [Chapter 32A NMSA 1978] or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services.

C. A taxpayer may claim the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit provided in this section for each taxable year in which the taxpayer employs one or more qualified foster youths; provided that the taxpayer may not claim the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit for any individual qualified foster youth for more than one calendar year from the date of hire.

D. That portion of a foster youth employment corporate income tax credit approved by the department that exceeds a taxpayer's corporate income tax liability in the taxable year in which the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is claimed shall not be refunded to the taxpayer but may be carried forward for up to three years. The foster youth employment corporate income tax credit shall not be transferred to another taxpayer.

E. The taxpayer shall submit to the department with respect to each employee for whom the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is claimed information required by the department with respect to the qualified foster youth's employment by the taxpayer during the taxable year for which the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is claimed, including information establishing that the employee is a qualified foster youth that can be used to determine that the employee was not also employed in the same taxable year by another taxpayer claiming a foster youth employment income or corporate income tax credit for that employee pursuant to this section or the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978].

F. The department shall:

(1) adopt rules establishing procedures to certify that an employee is a qualified foster youth for purposes of obtaining a foster youth employment corporate income tax credit. The rules shall ensure that not more than one foster youth employment corporate income tax credit per qualified foster youth shall be allowed in a taxable year and that the credits allowed per qualified foster youth are limited to a maximum of one year's employment; and

(2) collaborate with the children, youth and families department, the New Mexico Indian nations, tribes and pueblos and the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services to establish the certification procedures.

G. A taxpayer allowed a tax credit pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the credit to the department in a manner required by the department.

H. The department shall compile an annual report on the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit that shall include the number of taxpayers approved by the department to receive the credit, the aggregate amount of credits approved and any other information necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the credit. The department shall present the annual report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the tax credit and whether the tax credit is performing the purpose for which it was created.

I. As used in this section, "qualified foster youth" means an individual:

(1) who:

(a) is currently in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department pursuant to the Children's Code or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services; or

(b) within the seven years prior to the taxable year for which the tax credit is claimed, was aged fourteen years or older and was in the legal custody of the children, youth and families department pursuant to the Children's Code or in the legal custody of a New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or the United States department of the interior bureau of Indian affairs division of human services;

(2) who works at least twenty hours per week during the taxable year for which the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is claimed; and

(3) who was not previously employed by the taxpayer prior to the taxable year for which the foster youth employment corporate income tax credit is claimed.

History: Laws 2018, ch. 36, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2018, ch. 36 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective May 16, 2018, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Applicability. — Laws 2018, ch. 36, § 3 provided that the provisions of Laws 2018, ch. 36, §§ 1 and 2 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2018.

7-2A-30. Deduction to offset material financial effects of changes in deferred tax amounts due to certain changes made to sections 7-2A-2, 7-2A-3, 7-2A-8.3, 7-4-10 and 7-4-18 NMSA 1978.

A. For each of ten consecutive taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2026, a filing group subject to the corporate income tax whose members are part of a publicly traded company may claim a deduction, as provided by Subsection B of this section, from taxable income before net operating losses are deducted.

B. The deduction for each taxable year shall not exceed one-tenth of the amount necessary to offset the aggregate increase in net deferred tax liabilities, the aggregate decrease in net deferred tax assets or an aggregate change from a net deferred tax asset to a net deferred tax liability, as measured under generally accepted accounting principles, that resulted from the changes to Sections 7-2A-2, 7-2A-3, 7-2A-8.3, 7-4-10 and 7-4-18 NMSA 1978 made by this 2019 act; provided that:

(1) the amount of the aggregate change in deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities is properly included in the calculation of the deferred tax asset or deferred tax liability reported as part of the consolidated financial statements, as required by the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, for the first reporting period affected by the changes to Sections 7-2A-2, 7-2A-3, 7-2A-8.3, 7-4-10 and 7-4-18 NMSA 1978 made by this 2019 act but for the deduction provided by this section; and

(2) if the deduction provided by this section is greater than the taxpayer's net income, any excess amount shall be carried forward and applied as a deduction to the taxpayer's net income in future income years until fully utilized.

C. A filing group shall not claim a deduction pursuant to this section unless the filing group files a preliminary notice with the secretary prior to January 1, 2023 and provides necessary information to show the calculation of the deduction expected to be claimed, as the secretary may require.

History: Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 20; 2021, ch. 65, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

Applicability. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 59 provided that the provisions of Sections 16 through 22 and 58 of Laws 2019, ch. 270 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, clarified that the deduction is to offset changes in deferred tax liabilities; and in Subsection B, after "one-tenth of the amount", deleted "of" and added "necessary to offset".

7-2A-31. Deduction; income from leasing a liquor license.

A. Prior to January 1, 2026, a taxpayer that is a liquor license lessor and that held the license on June 30, 2021 may claim a deduction from taxable income in an amount equal to the gross receipts from sales of alcoholic beverages made by each liquor license lessee in an amount, if the liquor license is a dispenser's license and sales of alcoholic beverages for consumption off premises are less than fifty percent of total alcoholic beverage sales, not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for each of four taxable years.

B. A taxpayer allowed a deduction pursuant to this section shall report the amount of the deduction to the department in a manner required by the department.

C. The department shall compile an annual report on the deduction provided by this section that shall include the number of taxpayers that claimed the deduction, the aggregate amount of deductions claimed and any other information necessary to evaluate the cost of the deduction. The department shall provide the report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee with an analysis of the cost of the deduction.

D. As used in this section:

(1) "alcoholic beverage" means alcoholic beverage as defined in the Liquor Control Act;

(2) "dispenser's license" means a license issued pursuant to the provisions of the Liquor Control Act [60-3A-1 NMSA 1978] allowing the licensee to sell, offer for sale or have in the person's possession with the intent to sell alcoholic beverages both by the drink for consumption on the licensed premises and in unbroken packages, including growlers, for consumption and not for resale off the licensed premises;

(3) "growler" means a clean, refillable, resealable container that has a liquid capacity that does not exceed one gallon and that is intended and used for the sale of beer, wine or cider;

(4) "liquor license" means a dispenser's license issued pursuant to Section 60-6A-3 NMSA 1978 or a dispenser's license issued pursuant to Section 60-6A-12 NMSA 1978 issued prior to July 1, 2021;

(5) "liquor license lessee" means a person that leases a liquor license from a liquor license lessor; and

(6) "liquor license lessor" means a person that leases a liquor license to a third party.

7-2C-2. Purpose.

A. The purpose of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act is to comply with state and federal law:

(1) by enhancing the enforcement of child support and medical support obligations;

(2) to aid collection of outstanding debts owed for:

(a) overpayment of public assistance and overissuance of food stamps;

(b) overpayment of unemployment compensation benefits and nonpayment of contributions or payments in lieu of contributions or other amounts due under the Unemployment Compensation Law [Chapter 51 NMSA 1978];

(c) nonpayment of reimbursements owed to the uninsured employers' fund under the Workers' Compensation Act [Chapter 52, Article 1 NMSA 1978]; and

(d) nonpayment of the workers' compensation fee due under the Workers' Compensation Administration Act [Chapter 52, Article 5 NMSA 1978];

(3) to promote repayment of educational loans;

(4) to aid collection of fines, fees and costs owed to the district, magistrate and municipal courts;

(5) to aid collection of fines, fees and costs owed to the Bernalillo county metropolitan court; and

(6) to aid in the payment to the state investment officer of film production tax credit amounts owed to the state investment officer due to loans made against the credit pursuant to Subsection D of Section 7-27-5.26 NMSA 1978.

B. Efforts to accomplish the purpose of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act may be enhanced by establishing a system to collect debts, in particular, outstanding child support obligations, educational loans, amounts due under the Unemployment Compensation Law, the Workers' Compensation Act and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act, fines, fees and costs owed to the district, magistrate and municipal courts, film production tax credit amounts owed to the state investment officer and fines, fees and costs owed to the Bernalillo county metropolitan court, by setting off the amount of such debts against the state income tax refunds or film production tax credit amounts due the debtors.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 2; 1987, ch. 125, § 1; 1988, ch. 49, § 1; 1991, ch. 184, § 1; 1993, ch. 261, § 2; 1994, ch. 76, § 1; 1997, ch. 210, § 1; 2005, ch. 101, § 1; 2006, ch. 52, § 1; 2006, ch. 53, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2006 amendment, effective May 17, 2006, added Subparagraphs (c) and (d) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, which provided that the act is to aid collection of outstanding debts owed for nonpayment of reimbursements owed to the uninsured employers' fund under the Workers' Compensation Act and workers' compensation fees due under the Workers' Compensation Administration Act; and in Subsection B, added amounts due under the Workers' Compensation Act and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act.

Duplicate laws. — Laws 2006, ch. 52, § 1 and Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 1 enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 1. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

Applicability. — Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 5, effective May 17, 2006, provided that Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 1 apply to tax refunds issued on or after January 1, 2007.

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, added Subsection A(6), which provided that a purpose of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act is to comply with state and federal law to aid in the payment to the state investment officer of film production tax credit amounts owed to the state investment officer due to a loan made against the credit; and in Subsection B, added that the purpose may be enhanced by establishing a system to collect film production tax credit amounts owed to the state investment officer and amounts owed to Bernalillo County metropolitan court by setting off the amount of such debts against the film production tax credit amounts.

The 1997 amendment, effective June 20, 1997, substituted "district, magistrate and municipal courts" for "magistrate courts" in Paragraph A(4) and near the middle of Subsection B.

The 1994 amendment, effective March 4, 1994, inserted "and medical support" in Paragraph A(1).

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, rewrote the section, adding subsection and paragraph designations and adding Paragraphs (4) and (5) to Subsection A.

The 1991 amendment, effective January 1, 1992, inserted the provisions relating to collection of amounts due under the Unemployment Compensation Law.

7-2C-3. Definitions.

As used in the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act:

A. "claimant agency" means the taxation and revenue department or any of its divisions, the human services department [health care authority department], the workforce transition services division of the workforce solutions department, the higher education department, the workers' compensation administration, any corporation authorized to be formed under the Educational Assistance Act [Chapter 21, Article 21A NMSA 1978], a district, magistrate or municipal court or the Bernalillo county metropolitan court;

B. "debt" means a legally enforceable obligation of an employer subject to the Unemployment Compensation Law [Chapter 51 NMSA 1978], the Workers' Compensation Act [Chapter 52, Article 1 NMSA 1978] and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act [Chapter 52, Article 5 NMSA 1978], or an individual to pay a liquidated amount of money that:

(1) is equal to or more than one hundred dollars ($100);

(2) is due and owing a claimant agency, which a claimant agency is obligated by law to collect or which, in the case of an educational loan, a claimant agency has lawfully contracted to collect;

(3) has accrued through contract, tort, subrogation or operation of law; and

(4) either:

(a) has been secured by a warrant of levy and lien for amounts due under the Unemployment Compensation Law or workers' compensation fees due under the Workers' Compensation Administration Act; or

(b) has been reduced to judgment for all other cases;

C. "debtor" means any employer subject to the Unemployment Compensation Law, the Workers' Compensation Act and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act, or any individual owing a debt;

D. "department" or "division" means, unless the context indicates otherwise, the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

E. "educational loan" means any loan for educational purposes owned by a public post-secondary educational institution, originated and owned by the higher education department or owned or guaranteed by any corporation authorized to be formed under the Educational Assistance Act;

F. "medical support" means amounts owed to the human services department [health care authority department] pursuant to the provisions of Subsection B of Section 40-4C-12 NMSA 1978;

G. "public post-secondary educational institution" means a publicly owned or operated institution of higher education or other publicly owned or operated post-secondary educational facility located within New Mexico;

H. "spouse" means an individual who is or was a spouse of the debtor and who has joined with the debtor in filing a joint return of income tax pursuant to the provisions of the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978], which joint return has given rise to a refund that may be subject to the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act; and

I. "refund" means a refund, including any amount of tax rebates or credits, under the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article

2A NMSA 1978] that the department has determined to be due to an individual or corporation.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 3; 1986, ch. 20, § 53; 1987, ch. 125, § 2; 1988, ch. 49, § 2; 1991, ch. 141, § 1; 1991, ch. 184, § 2; 1993, ch. 261, § 3; 1994, ch. 56, § 1; 1994, ch. 76, § 2; 1997, ch. 210, § 2; 2006, ch. 52, § 2; 2006, ch. 53, § 2; 2017, ch. 82, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law. Laws 2023, ch. 205, § 16 provided that references to the human services department shall be deemed to be references to the health care authority department.

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, authorized the higher education department to be a claimant under the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act, and revised the definition of "educational loan" to include any loan originated and owned by the higher education department; in Subsection A, after "human services department, the", deleted "employment security division of the labor" and added "workforce transition services division of the workforce solutions", and after the next occurrence of "department,", added "the higher education department"; and in Subsection E, after "educational institution", added "originated and owned by the higher education department".

The 2006 amendment, effective May 17, 2006, added the workers' compensation administration to the definition of "claimant agency" in Subsection A; added obligations of employers subject to the Workers' Compensation Act and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act as a "debt" in Subsection B; deleted former Paragraph (4) of Subsection B, which provided that a "debt" included obligations due under the unemployment compensation law that has been secured by a warrant of levy or lien or has been reduced to judgment; added Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of Paragraph (4) of Subsection B, which provided that "debt" includes obligations that have either been secured by a warrant of levy and lien for amounts due under the unemployment compensation law or workers' compensation fees due under the Workers' Compensation Administration Act or reduced to judgment for other cases; included within the definition of "debtor" in Subsection C, employers subject to the Workers' Compensation Act and the Workers' Compensation Administration Act; and included rebates or credits under the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act due to a corporation as a "refund" in Subsection I.

The 1997 amendment, effective June 20, 1997, substituted "district, magistrate or municipal court" for "magistrate court" in Subsection A.

The 1994 amendment, effective March 4, 1994, inserted Subsection F, and redesignated former Subsections F to H as Subsections G to I.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, deleted "or" before "any corporation" and added "a magistrate court or the Bernalillo county metropolitan court" to the end, in Subsection A; substituted "one hundred dollars ($100)" for "one hundred fifty dollars ($150)" in Paragraph (1) of Subsection B; and made a stylistic change in Subsection H.

The 1991 amendment, effective January 1, 1992, inserted "the employment security division of the labor department" in Subsection A; in Subsection B, inserted "an employer subject to the Unemployment Compensation Law or" in the introductory phrase, deleted "and has been reduced to judgment" following "law" in Paragraph (3), rewrote Paragraph (4), which read "which, in the case of an educational loan has been reduced to judgment," and made minor stylistic changes; and inserted "employer subject to the Unemployment Compensation Law or any" in Subsection C.

7-2C-4. Remedy additional.

The remedies of a claimant agency under the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act are in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedies available by law.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1985, ch. 106 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 14, 1985, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2C-5. Department to aid in collection of debts through setoff.

Subject to the limitations contained in the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act, the department, upon request, shall render assistance in the collection of any debt owed to a claimant agency or any debt that a claimant agency is obligated by law to collect. This assistance shall be provided by withholding from any refund due to the debtor pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] the amount of debt meeting the requirements of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act and paying over to the claimant agency the amount withheld.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 5; 1994, ch. 56, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "Department" for "Division" in the section heading, and "department" for "division" and "that" for "which" in the first sentence.

7-2C-6. Procedures for setoff; notifications to debtor.

A. Each year a claimant agency seeking to collect a debt through setoff shall notify the department in the manner and by the date required by the department, which date shall be in the period from November 1 through December 15. The notice to the department shall include the amount of the debt, the name and identification number of the debtor and such other information as the department may require. The notice shall also include certification that the debt is due and owing the claimant agency or that the claimant agency is obligated by law to collect the debt. This notice shall be effective only to initiate setoff against refunds that would be made in the calendar year subsequent to the year in which notification is made to the department.

B. The claimant agency shall inform the department within one week of any changes in the status of any debt submitted by the claimant agency for setoff.

C. Upon proper and timely notification from the claimant agency, the department shall determine whether the debtor is entitled to a refund of at least fifty dollars ($50.00). The department shall notify the claimant agency in writing, or in such other manner as the department and the claimant agency may agree, with respect to each debt accepted for setoff whether the debtor is due a refund of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more and, if so, the amount of refund, the address of the debtor entered upon the return and, if the refund arises from a joint return, the name and address of the spouse as entered upon the return.

D. Within ten days after receiving the notification from the department pursuant to Subsection C of this section, the claimant agency shall send a notice by first class mail to the debtor at the debtor's last known address. The notice required by this subsection shall include:

(1) a statement that a transfer of the refund will be made and that the claimant agency intends to set off the amount of the transfer against a claimed debt;

(2) the amount of the debt asserted and a description of how the debt asserted arose;

(3) the name, address and telephone number of the claimant agency;

(4) the amount of refund to be set off against the debt asserted;

(5) a statement that the debtor has thirty days from the date indicated on the notice to contest the setoff by applying to the claimant agency for a hearing with respect to the validity of the debt asserted by that agency; and

(6) a statement that failure of the debtor to apply for a hearing within thirty days will be deemed a waiver of the opportunity to contest the setoff and to a hearing.

E. If the refund against which a debt is intended to be set off results from a joint tax return, the claimant agency shall send a notice by first class mail to the spouse named on the return within ten days after receiving the notification from the department pursuant to Subsection C of this section. The notice to the spouse shall contain the following information:

- (1) a statement that a transfer of the refund will be made and that the claimant agency intends to set off the amount of the transfer against a claimed debt;
- (2) the total amount of the refund and the amount of each claimed debt;
- (3) the name, address and telephone number of the claimant agency;
- (4) a statement that no debt is claimed against the spouse and that the spouse may be entitled to receive all or part of the refund regardless of the claimed debt against the debtor spouse;
- (5) a statement that to assert a claim to all or part of the refund, the spouse shall apply to the claimant agency for a hearing within thirty days from the date indicated on the notice with respect to the entitlement of the spouse to all or part of the refund from which a transfer will be made at the request of the claimant agency; and
- (6) a statement that failure of the spouse to apply for a hearing within thirty days may be deemed a waiver of any claim of the spouse with respect to the refund.

F. A debtor may contest the setoff of a debt by applying to the claimant agency for a hearing within thirty days of the date the notice required by Subsection D of this section is sent to the debtor. Failure of the debtor to apply for a hearing within the time required shall constitute a waiver of the right to contest the debt or the setoff of the debt.

G. A spouse may contest the setoff of a debt against a refund to which the spouse claims entitlement in whole or in part by applying to the claimant agency for a hearing within thirty days of the date the notice required by Subsection E of this section was sent to the spouse. Failure of the spouse to apply for a hearing within the time required shall constitute a waiver of the right to contest the setoff of the debt against a refund to which the spouse may claim entitlement.

H. The department shall apply against the refund the amount of the claimed debt, not to exceed the amount of the refund, and shall transfer that amount to the claimant agency with an accounting of the amount transferred. When the amount of refund due exceeds the amount of all applied debts, the department shall treat the excess as it does other refunds relating to income taxes.

I. Whether or not the refund due the debtor exceeds the amount of the applied debt, the department shall notify the debtor at the time of the transfer to the claimant agency of:

- (1) the fact of the transfer and that the claimant agency intends to set off the amount of the transfer against the asserted debt;
- (2) the total amount of the refund;
- (3) the amount of debt asserted by the claimant agency; and
- (4) the name, address and telephone number of the claimant agency.

J. Once the department has sent to the debtor the notice required by Subsection I of this section, together with any excess of the amount of refund over the amount of asserted debts, the department shall be deemed to have made the refund required by the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978].

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 6; 1994, ch. 56, § 3; 2006, ch. 52, § 3; 2006, ch. 53, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2006 amendment, effective May 17, 2006, provided in Subsection J that when the department has sent to the debtor the notice and any excess amount of refund, the department shall be deemed to have made the refund required by the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act.

Duplicate laws. — Laws 2006, ch. 52, § 3 and Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 3 enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 3. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

Applicability. Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 5, effective May 17, 2006, provided that Laws 2006, ch. 53, § 3 apply to tax refunds issued on or after January 1, 2007.

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" throughout the section; and, in Subsection H, deleted the former first two sentences, relating to confirmation that the claimant agency has met the requirements of Subsection D, and deleted "If the division receives timely confirmation from the claimant agency" at the beginning of the first sentence.

7-2C-7. Suspense account.

Upon receipt of money transferred from the department pursuant to Subsection H of Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978, the claimant agency shall deposit and hold the money in the suspense account until a final determination of the setoff is made.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 7; 1994, ch. 56, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" and "Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978" for "Section 6 of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act".

7-2C-8. Interest becomes obligation of claimant agency.

Once a transfer is made by the department pursuant to Subsection H of Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978, notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the department, except in its capacity as a claimant agency, is not obligated in any manner for the payment of interest to the debtor or to the claimant agency with respect to that portion of the refund against which the asserted debt was applied for any period after the date of transfer. Any interest subsequently determined to be due the debtor with respect to any refund against which the asserted debt was applied for any period after the date of transfer is the responsibility of the claimant agency; provided, however, compliance by the department and claimant agency with the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act bars accrual of interest, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7-1-68 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 8; 1994, ch. 56, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" twice in the first sentence and once in the proviso clause in the second sentence, and "Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978" for "Section 6 of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act" in the first sentence.

7-2C-9. Administrative hearing required of claimant agency; department exempted.

A. The claimant agency shall provide notice and opportunity for hearing, consistent with due process, as required by Subsections F and G of Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978.

B. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department, except in its capacity as a claimant agency, is not obligated to grant, and will not grant, a hearing to any debtor or spouse with respect to any action taken or any issue arising under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 9; 1994, ch. 56, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" in the catchline and in Subsection B, and "Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978" for "Section 6 of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act" in Subsection A.

7-2C-10. Final determination and notice of setoff.

A. The determination of the validity and the amount of the setoff asserted or the application of setoff to a refund to which a debtor or spouse asserts entitlement in whole or in part under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act shall be final upon the exhaustion of the administrative or appellate process as applicable.

B. If, during application of setoff procedures, any changes occur in the amount of the refund subject to setoff, including any changes resulting from the filing of amended returns or the filing of additional returns during the calendar year for which the claimant agency has requested setoff with respect to the debtor, the department shall notify the claimant agency of these changes. The department shall promulgate regulations or other appropriate administrative directives to set forth the procedures by which such notice shall be made and by which the amount held in suspense shall be adjusted when required.

C. Upon final determination of the entitlement of a debtor or spouse to any or all of that portion of a refund that has been transferred to the claimant agency, as the amount transferred may be adjusted in accordance with Subsection B of this section, the claimant agency shall remit to the debtor or spouse from the suspense fund the amount determined to be due, with an appropriate accounting. A copy of the accounting shall be sent to the department.

D. Upon final determination, the claimant agency shall remit to itself from the suspense account that amount determined to be due the claimant agency and shall credit that amount against the debt. In the case that the amount remitted is not sufficient to extinguish the debt, the claimant agency shall have the right to pursue collection of the remaining debt through any available remedy, including a proceeding under the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act for other calendar years.

E. Upon remittance from the suspense fund to the credit of the debtor's account pursuant to Subsection D of this section, the claimant agency shall notify the debtor in writing of the final determination of the setoff. A copy of the notice shall be sent to the department. The notice shall include:

(1) a final accounting of the refund against which the debt was set off, including the amount of the refund to which the debtor was entitled prior to setoff;

(2) the final determination of the amount of the debt that has been satisfied and the amount of debt, if any, still due and owing; and

(3) the amount of the refund in excess of the debt finally determined to be due and owing and the amount of any interest due.

F. Upon remittance from the suspense fund to the credit of the debtor's account pursuant to Subsection D of this section, any amount finally determined to be due to the debtor with respect to the refund amount shall be promptly paid by the claimant agency from the suspense account to the debtor with an appropriate accounting. Interest due the debtor with respect to the amount of refund finally determined to be due the debtor for any period after the transfer to the suspense fund by the department pursuant to Subsection H of Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978 is authorized to be paid by the claimant agency from any funds available to it for this purpose.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 10; 1994, ch. 56, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" throughout the section, "that" for "which" in the first sentence in Subsection C and "Section 7-2C-6 NMSA 1978" for "Section 6 of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act" in the second sentence in Subsection F.

7-2C-11. Priority of claims.

A. Claims of the department take precedence over the claim of any competing claimant agency, whether the department asserts a claim or sets off an asserted debt under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act or under the provisions of any other law that authorizes the department to apply amounts of tax owed against any refund due an individual pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978].

B. After claims of the department, claims shall take priority in the following order before claims of any competing claimant agency:

(1) claims of the human services department [health care authority department] resulting from child support enforcement liabilities;

(2) claims of the human services department [health care authority department] resulting from medical support liabilities;

(3) claims resulting from educational loans made under the Educational Assistance Act [Chapter 21, Article 21A NMSA 1978];

(4) claims of the human services department [health care authority department] resulting from temporary assistance for needy families liabilities;

(5) claims of the human services department [health care authority department] resulting from supplemental nutrition assistance program liabilities;

(6) claims of the workforce transition services division of the workforce solutions department arising under the Unemployment Compensation Law [Chapter 51 NMSA 1978];

- (7) claims of a district court for fines, fees or costs owed to that court;
- (8) claims of a magistrate court for fines, fees or costs owed to that court;
- (9) claims of the Bernalillo county metropolitan court for fines, fees or costs owed to that court;
- (10) claims of a municipal court for fines, fees or costs owed to that court;
- (11) claims of the workers' compensation administration arising under the Workers' Compensation Act [Chapter 52, Article 1 NMSA 1978] or the Workers' Compensation Administration Act [Chapter 52, Article 5 NMSA 1978]; and
- (12) claims from educational loans made by the higher education department.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 11; 1988, ch. 49, § 3; 1991, ch. 184, § 3; 1993, ch. 261, § 4; 1994, ch. 76, § 3; 1997, ch. 210, § 3; 2006, ch. 52, § 4; 2006, ch. 53, § 4; 2017, ch. 82, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law. Laws 2023, ch. 205, § 16 provided that references to the human services department shall be deemed to be references to the health care authority department.

The 2017 amendment, effective June 16, 2017, added claims from educational loans made by the higher education department to the priority of claims list under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act; in Subsection B, Paragraph B(4), after "resulting from", deleted "AFDC" and added "temporary assistance for needy families", in Paragraph B(5), after "resulting from", deleted "food stamp" and added "supplemental nutrition assistance program", in Paragraph B(6), after "claims of the", deleted "employment security division of the labor" and added "workforce transition services division of the workforce solutions", and added Paragraph B(12).

The 2006 amendment, effective May 17, 2006, added Paragraph (11) of Subsection B to provide for the priority of claims of the workers' compensation administration arising under the Workers' Compensation Act or the Workers' Compensation Administration Act.

The 1997 amendment, effective June 20, 1997, made a minor stylistic change in Subsection A, and in Subsection B, added Paragraphs (7) and (10), redesignated former Paragraphs (7) and (8) as Paragraphs (8) and (9) and made stylistic changes accordingly.

The 1994 amendment, effective March 4, 1994, inserted Paragraph B(2) and redesignated former Paragraphs B(2) to B(7) as Paragraphs B(3) to B(8).

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, added Paragraphs (6) and (7) to Subsection B, making a related grammatical change.

The 1991 amendment, effective January 1, 1992, in Subsection B, added Paragraph (5) and made a related stylistic change.

7-2C-12. Administrative costs; charges appropriated to department.

A. The department shall charge claimant agencies an administrative fee of three percent of the debts for the claimant agencies pursuant to the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act.

B. The administrative fee authorized pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall be withheld on all debts set off and collected by the department on or after July 1, 1997 and shall be distributed monthly to the New Mexico finance authority to be pledged irrevocably for the payment of the principal, interest and expenses or other obligations related to the bonds for the taxation and revenue information management systems project. That distribution shall continue until the earlier of December 31, 2005 or the date on which the New Mexico finance authority certifies to the department that all obligations for bonds issued pursuant to Section 12 of this 1997 act have been fully discharged or provision has been made for their discharge and directs the department to cease distributing the money from the fee pursuant to Subsection A of this section to the authority. Thereafter, the administrative fees are appropriated to the department for use in administering the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 12; 1994, ch. 56, § 8; 1997, ch. 125, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The phrase "Section 12 of this 1997 act" in Subsection B referred to Section 12 of Laws 1997, ch. 125, which was an uncompiled provision authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds.

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, added the Subsection A designation, rewrote Subsection A, and added Subsection B.

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" in the section heading and throughout the section.

7-2C-13. Confidentiality; exemption.

A. The information obtained by a claimant agency from the department in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act shall be confidential and shall be used by the claimant agency only in pursuit of the collection of a debt under the provisions of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act. Any employee or former employee of a claimant agency who unlawfully discloses any information obtained from the department is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisoned not more than one year or both and shall not be employed by the state for a period of five years after the date of conviction.

B. Notwithstanding other provisions of law prohibiting disclosure by the department of information from a taxpayer's return, the department may provide to a claimant agency any information deemed necessary by the department to accomplish the purposes of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 13; 1994, ch. 56, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1994 amendment, effective May 18, 1994, substituted "department" for "division" throughout the section and deleted "thereof" following "upon conviction" in the second sentence in Subsection A.

7-2C-14. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1999, ch. 47, § 9 repealed 7-2C-14 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 106, § 14, relating to administrative regulations, rulings, instructions and orders for purposes of the Tax Refund Intercept Program Act, effective June 18, 1999. For provisions of the former section, see the 1998 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

ARTICLE 2D

Venture Capital Investments

7-2D-1. Short title.

Chapter 7, Article 2D NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Venture Capital Investment Act".

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 1; 1995, ch. 89, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, substituted "Chapter 7, Article 2D NMSA 1978" for "This act".

7-2D-2. Definitions.

As used in the Venture Capital Investment Act:

A. "capital gain tax differential" equals either:

(1) an amount equal to fifty percent of the federal income tax paid by the taxpayer on qualified diversifying business net capital gains; or

(2) in the event that the taxpayer makes an election pursuant to Section 7-2D-13 NMSA 1978, and the taxpayer has not previously paid federal income tax on the qualified diversifying business net capital gain that accrued prior to that election, then an amount equal to fifty percent of the federal income tax paid by the taxpayer on the gain on the sale of that qualified diversifying business stock times the percentage derived by dividing the gain on such stock accruing since the election by the total gain on the stock accruing since its original acquisition without regard to the election;

B. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

C. "Internal Revenue Code" means the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered;

D. "manufacturing business" means the manufacture of, and the business activities related to the manufacture of, all nondurable and durable goods;

E. "New Mexico income tax" means the tax imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978];

F. "qualified diversifying business net capital gain" means the net capital gain for the taxable year determined under the Internal Revenue Code by taking into account only gains or losses from sales or exchanges of qualified diversifying business stock with a holding period of more than five years at the time of the sale or exchange;

G. "secretary" means the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's delegate;

H. "taxpayer" means any individual subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act; and

I. "testing period" means the five-year period a stock is held by a taxpayer, beginning with the first day of the taxpayer's holding period for the stock.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 2; 1995, ch. 89, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, added Subsections A, D and F and redesignated the remaining subsections accordingly.

7-2D-3. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1995, ch. 89, § 11 repealed 7-2D-3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 3, relating to the tax credit for federal income tax paid on a qualified diversifying business net capital gain, effective June 16, 1995. For provisions of the former section, see the 1994 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2D-4. Additional definition; qualified diversifying business stock.

A. For purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, "qualified diversifying business stock" means, except as otherwise provided in Section 7-2D-13 NMSA 1978, any stock in a corporation that is originally issued after June 30, 1994 but before July 1, 2001, if:

- (1) on the date of issuance the corporation is a qualified diversifying business;
- (2) except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section and in Sections 7-2D-9 and 7-2D-10 NMSA 1978, the stock is acquired by the taxpayer at its original issue, either:
 - (a) in exchange for money or other property, not including stock; or
 - (b) as compensation for services, other than services performed as an underwriter of such stock; and
- (3) the corporation throughout the testing period is an active manufacturing business and a New Mexico business and at the end of the testing period is a successful business.

B. For purposes of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section, stock shall not be treated as acquired by the taxpayer at its original issue if:

- (1) it is issued directly or indirectly in redemption of, or otherwise in exchange for, stock that is not qualified diversifying business stock; or
- (2) it is issued in an exchange described in Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code in exchange for property other than qualified diversifying business stock

if, immediately after the exchange, both the issuer and transferee of the stock are members of the same controlled group of corporations as defined in Section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 4; 1995, ch. 89, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Sections 351 and 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. §§ 351 and 1563.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, in Subsection A, substituted "Section 7-2D-13 NMSA 1978" for "Section 13 of that act" in the introductory paragraph; substituted "Sections 7-2D-9 and 7-2D-10 NMSA 1978" for "Sections 9 and 10 of the Venture Capital Investment Act" in Paragraph (2); and rewrote former Paragraph (3) which formerly required that stock meet the requirements of Sections 6, 7 and 8 of the Venture Capital Investment Act throughout the testing period.

7-2D-5. Additional definition; qualified diversifying business.

A. For purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, "qualified diversifying business" means, except as otherwise provided in Section 7-2D-13 NMSA 1978, any domestic corporation that has its commercial domicile in New Mexico and with respect to which the aggregate amount of money, other property and services received by the corporation for stock, as a contribution to capital and as paid-in surplus, plus the accumulated earnings and profits of the corporation, does not exceed twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000); provided:

(1) the aggregate amount shall be determined at the time of issuance and shall include amounts received in the issuance and all prior issuances; and

(2) in the case of stock issued in a calendar year after 1993, the aggregate amount shall not exceed an amount equal to twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) multiplied by the cost-of-living adjustment determined under Section 1 (f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code for that calendar year by substituting "1992" for "1987" in Subparagraph (B) of that section.

B. For the purpose of determining the aggregate amount in Subsection A of this section:

(1) the amount taken into account with respect to any property other than money shall be an amount equal to the adjusted basis of that property for determining capital gain:

(a) reduced to not below zero by any liability to which the property was subject or that was assumed by the corporation; and

(b) determined at the time the property was received by the corporation; and

(2) the amount taken into account with respect to stock issued for services shall be the value of those services.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 5; 1995, ch. 89, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 1(f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1(f)(3).

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, substituted "Section 7-2D-13 NMSA 1978" for "Section 13 of that act" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A; substituted "aggregate amount shall be determined" for "determination made under this subsection shall be made" and "and" for "but" in Paragraph A(1); inserted "aggregate" near the beginning of Paragraph A(2); substituted "determining the aggregate amount" for "making the determination" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection B; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

7-2D-6. Additional definition; active manufacturing business.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, for the purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, "active manufacturing business" means a corporation that throughout the testing period:

(1) either:

(a) is engaged in the active conduct of a manufacturing business; and

(b) uses substantially all of its assets in the active conduct of a manufacturing trade or business; provided, rights to computer software that produce income described in Section 543(d) of the Internal Revenue Code and any assets that are held for investment and are to be used to finance future research and experimentation or working capital needs of the corporation shall be treated as assets used in the active conduct of a manufacturing business; or

(2) is engaged in any of the following activities, whether or not the corporation has any gross income from such activities at the time of the determination:

(a) start-up activities described in Section 195(c)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(b) activities resulting in the payment or incurring of expenditures that may be treated as research and experimental expenditures under Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(c) activities with respect to in-house research expenses described in Section 41(b)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

B. A corporation shall not be considered an active manufacturing business if at any time during the testing period:

(1) more than ten percent of the value of its assets in excess of liabilities consists of stock in other corporations that are not subsidiaries of that corporation; provided:

(a) for purposes of this section, stock and debt in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets and to conduct its ratable share of the subsidiary's activities; and

(b) a corporation shall be considered a subsidiary if the parent owns at least fifty percent of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or at least fifty percent in value of all outstanding stock of that corporation; or

(2) more than ten percent of the total value of its assets is real property that is not used in the active conduct of a manufacturing business. The ownership of, dealing in or renting of real property shall not be treated as the active conduct of a manufacturing business.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 6; 1995, ch. 89, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Sections 41, 174, 195, and 543 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. §§ 41, 174, 195, and 543, respectively.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, rewrote the section heading which read "active manufacturing business requirement" and rewrote the section to such an extent that a detailed comparison would be impracticable.

7-2D-7. Additional definition; New Mexico business.

For the purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, "New Mexico business" means a corporation that throughout the testing period meets these conditions:

A. the corporation has its commercial domicile in New Mexico and all of its corporate directors who are also employees of the corporation are full-time residents of New Mexico;

B. at least two-thirds of all of the corporation's employees, at least two-thirds of its employees who perform research, development or design activities and at least two-thirds of its employees who perform manufacturing activities are full-time residents of New Mexico;

C. the corporation maintains an employee stock purchase plan, incentive stock option plan or similar plan pursuant to which employees of the corporation have the opportunity to acquire equity ownership in the corporation; and

D. the corporation employs on a full-time basis an average of at least fifty full-time New Mexico residents.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 7; 1995, ch. 89, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, rewrote the section heading which read "New Mexico business requirement" and rewrote the introductory paragraph which read "A corporation meets the requirements pursuant to Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of Section 4 of the Venture Capital Investment Act if throughout the testing period".

7-2D-8. Additional definition; successful business.

For the purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, "successful business" means a corporation that, at the end of the taxpayer's holding period, has experienced a net increase in valuation of at least fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000); provided:

A. the increase in valuation shall be calculated by subtracting the valuation of the corporation at the time it was determined to be a qualified diversifying business from the current valuation of the corporation at the time of the transfer giving rise to the qualified diversifying business net capital gain;

B. the current valuation of the corporation at the time of the transfer giving rise to the qualified diversifying business net capital gain equals the per-share value of the money and property received by the taxpayer on the transfer multiplied by the outstanding shares of the corporation, as calculated using the number of shares that would be outstanding if all outstanding convertible securities were fully converted and all outstanding options and warrants were fully exercised; and

C. in the case of any stock issued in a calendar year after 1994, the net increase in valuation required shall be an amount equal to fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) multiplied by the cost-of-living adjustment determined under Section 1(f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code for that calendar year by substituting "1992" for "1987" in Subparagraph (B) of that section.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 8; 1995, ch. 89, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 1 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 1.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, rewrote the section heading which read "Business success requirement" and rewrote the section to such an extent that a detailed comparison would be impracticable.

7-2D-8.1. Repealed.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-2D-8.1, enacted by Laws 1995, ch. 89, § 8; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-2D-8.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1995, ch. 89, § 8, relating to tax credit, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-2D-9. Special rules for options, warrants and certain convertible investments.

A. In the case of stock that is acquired by the taxpayer through the exercise of a nontransferable option or warrant issued in exchange for the performance of services for the corporation issuing it, through the conversion of convertible debt or in exchange for securities of the corporation in a transaction described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code:

(1) the stock shall be treated as acquired by the taxpayer at original issue;
and

(2) the stock shall be treated as having been held during the period that the option, warrant or debt was held or that the security was outstanding.

B. For purposes of Subsection A of Section 7-2D-5 NMSA 1978 and notwithstanding Subsection B of that section, in the case of a debt instrument converted to stock or stock issued in exchange for securities in a transaction described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, such stock shall be treated as issued for an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) the principal amount of the debt or security at the time of the conversion or exchange; and

(2) accrued but unpaid interest on that loan or security.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 9; 1995, ch. 89, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. § 368.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, substituted "a nontransferable option or warrant issued in exchange for the performance of services for the corporation issuing it" for "an applicable option or warrant" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A; substituted "Section 7-2D-5 NMSA 1978" for "Section 5 of the Venture Capital Investment Act" near the beginning of Subsection B; and deleted former Subsection C which defined "applicable option or warrant".

7-2D-10. Certain tax-free and other transfers.

A. This section applies to the following transfers of stock:

- (1) by gift;
- (2) at death;
- (3) to the extent that the basis of the property in the hands of the transferee is determined by reference to the basis of the property in the hands of the transferor by reason of Sections 334(b), 723 or 732 of the Internal Revenue Code; and
- (4) of qualified diversifying business stock for other qualified diversifying business stock in a transaction described in Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code or a reorganization described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code.

B. In the case of a transfer of stock to which this section applies, the transferee shall be treated as having acquired the stock in the same manner as the transferor and as having held such stock during any continuous period immediately preceding the transfer during which it was held or treated as held under this section by the transferor.

C. In the case of a transaction described in Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code or a reorganization described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, if a qualified diversifying business stock is transferred for other stock that is not qualified diversifying business stock, the transfer shall be treated as a transfer to which this section applies solely with respect to the person receiving such other stock.

D. This section applies to the sale or exchange of stock treated as qualified diversifying business stock by reason of Subsection C of this section only to the extent of the gain, if any, that would have been recognized at the time of the transfer described in Subsection C of this section if Section 351 or 368 of the Internal Revenue Code had not applied at that time.

E. For purposes of this subsection, stock treated as qualified diversifying business stock under Subsection C of this section shall be so treated for subsequent transactions or reorganizations, except that the limitation of Subsection D of this section shall be applied as of the time of the first transfer to which Subsection C of this section applied.

F. Except in the case of a transaction described in Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, this section applies only if, immediately after the transaction, the corporation issuing the stock owns, directly or indirectly, stock representing control, within the meaning of Section 368(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, of the corporation whose stock was transferred.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1993, ch. 313 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 18, 1993, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Cross references. — For Sections 334, 351, 368, 723, and 732 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C. §§ 334, 351, 368, 723, and 732, respectively.

7-2D-11. Stock exchanged for property.

For purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, in the case where the taxpayer transfers property other than money or stock to a corporation in exchange for stock in that corporation:

A. the stock shall be treated as having been acquired by the taxpayer on the date of that exchange; and

B. the basis of the stock in the hands of the taxpayer shall be treated as equal to the fair market value of the property exchanged.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 11.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1993, ch. 313 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 18, 1993, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2D-12. Pass-thru entities.

For purposes of the Venture Capital Investment Act, any gain or loss of a pass-thru entity that is treated for purposes of that act as a gain or loss of any person holding an interest in that entity shall retain its character as qualified diversifying business capital gain or loss in the hands of that person.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 12.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1993, ch. 313 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 18, 1993, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2D-13. Election.

A. On any date after June 30, 1993, a taxpayer who holds any stock of a corporation that has its commercial domicile in New Mexico and meets the requirements of this section may elect to have the stock treated as a qualified diversifying business stock in accordance with the provisions of this section for purposes of claiming the tax credit pursuant to the Venture Capital Investment Act.

B. On any date after June 30, 1994, if a taxpayer holds any stock of a corporation that has its commercial domicile in New Mexico on that date and which stock, at the time it was issued, would have been treated as qualified diversifying business stock pursuant to the Venture Capital Investment Act but for the facts that the stock was issued on or before June 30, 1994 and that the stock was issued by a corporation that at the time did not have its commercial domicile in New Mexico and the value of such stock on that date exceeds its adjusted basis, the taxpayer may elect to set that date as the election date and treat the stock as having been sold on that date for an amount equal to its value on that date and as having been reacquired on that date for an amount equal to such value.

C. For purposes of determining the tax credit pursuant to Section 7-2D-8.1 NMSA 1978 and whether or not the taxpayer actually incurs federal or New Mexico income tax liability, the gain from sales determined in Subsection B of this section shall be treated as received or accrued and the holding period of the reacquired stock shall be treated as beginning on that election date. Such stock shall be treated after such reacquisition as acquired in the same manner and at the same time as the original acquisition. Neither the requirement of Subsection A of Section 7-2D-4 NMSA 1978 that the stock must have been issued after June 30, 1994 nor the requirement of Subsection A of Section 7-2D-5 NMSA 1978 that the issuing corporation have its commercial domicile in New Mexico shall apply.

D. An election under this section with respect to any stock shall be made in the manner the secretary prescribes. Such an election, once made with respect to any stock, is irrevocable.

E. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, no credit shall be allowed or claimed on any qualified diversifying business net capital gain arising from the sale of stock prior to July 1, 1998.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 313, § 13; 1995, ch. 89, § 10.

Rural Job Tax Credits

7-2E-1. Repealed.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 183, § 1; 2001, ch. 184, § 1; 2005, ch. 104, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1999, ch. 183, § 3 repealed 7-2E-1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1999, ch. 183, § 1, relating to rural tax credit, effective July 1, 2006.

7-2E-1.1. Tax credit; rural job tax credit.

A. The tax credit created by this section may be referred to as the "rural job tax credit". Every eligible employer may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may approve, a tax credit for each qualifying job the employer creates. The maximum tax credit amount with respect to each qualifying job is equal to:

(1) twenty-five percent of the first sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000) in wages paid for the qualifying job if the job is performed or based at a location in a tier one area; or

(2) twelve and one-half percent of the first sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000) in wages paid if the qualifying job is performed or based at a location in a tier two area.

B. The purpose of the rural job tax credit is to encourage businesses to start new businesses or expand existing businesses in rural areas of the state.

C. The amount of the rural job tax credit shall be six and one-fourth percent of the first sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000) in wages paid for the qualifying job in a qualifying period. The rural job tax credit may be claimed for each qualifying job for a maximum of:

(1) four qualifying periods for each qualifying job performed or based at a location in a tier one area; and

(2) two qualifying periods for each qualifying job performed or based at a location in a tier two area.

D. With respect to each qualifying job for which an eligible employer seeks the rural job tax credit, the employer shall certify:

(1) the amount of wages paid to each eligible employee during each qualifying period;

(2) the number of weeks during the qualifying period the position was occupied;

(3) whether the qualifying job was in a tier one or tier two area;

(4) whether the application pertains to the first, second, third or fourth qualifying period, depending on whether the taxpayer is in a tier one or tier two area;

(5) the total number of employees employed by the employer at the job location on the day prior to the qualifying period and on the last day of the qualifying period;

(6) whether the eligible employer is receiving or is eligible to receive development training program assistance pursuant to Section 21-19-7 NMSA 1978; and

(7) whether the eligible employer has ceased business operations at any of its business locations in New Mexico.

E. The economic development department shall determine which employers are eligible employers and shall report the listing of eligible businesses to the taxation and revenue department in a manner and at times the departments shall agree upon.

F. To receive a rural job tax credit with respect to any qualifying period, an eligible employer shall apply to the taxation and revenue department once per calendar year on forms and in the manner the department may prescribe. The annual application shall include a certification made pursuant to Subsection D of this section and contain all qualifying periods that closed during the calendar year for which the application is made. Any qualifying period that did not close in the calendar year for which the application is made shall be denied by the department. The application for a calendar year shall be filed no later than December 31 of the following calendar year. If a taxpayer fails to file the annual application within the time limits provided in this section, the department shall deny the application. If all the requirements of this section have been complied with, the taxation and revenue department shall issue to the applicant a document granting a tax credit for the appropriate qualifying period. The tax credit document shall be numbered for identification and declare its date of issuance and the amount of rural job tax credit allowed for the respective jobs created. The tax credit documents may be sold, exchanged or otherwise transferred and may be carried forward for a period of three years from the date of issuance. The parties to such a transaction to sell, exchange or transfer a rural job tax credit document shall notify the department of the transaction within ten days of the sale, exchange or transfer.

G. The holder of the tax credit document may claim all or a portion of the rural job tax credit granted by the document against the holder's modified combined tax liability, personal income tax liability or corporate income tax liability. Any balance of rural job tax credit granted by the document may be carried forward for up to three years from the date of issuance of the tax credit document. No amount of rural job tax credit may be applied against a gross receipts tax or compensating tax imposed by a municipality or county.

H. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7-1-8 NMSA 1978, the taxation and revenue department may disclose to any person the balance of rural job tax credit remaining on any tax credit document and the balance of credit remaining on that document for any period.

I. The secretary of economic development, the secretary of taxation and revenue and the secretary of workforce solutions or their designees shall annually evaluate the effectiveness of the rural job tax credit in stimulating economic development in the rural areas of New Mexico and make a joint report of their findings to each session of the legislature so long as the rural job tax credit is in effect.

J. A qualifying job shall not be eligible for a rural job tax credit pursuant to this section if:

(1) the job is created due to a business merger, acquisition or other change in organization;

(2) the eligible employee was terminated from employment in New Mexico by another employer involved in the merger, acquisition or other change in organization; or

(3) the job is performed by:

(a) the person who performed the job or its functional equivalent prior to the business merger, acquisition or other change in organization; or

(b) a person replacing the person who performed the job or its functional equivalent prior to the business merger, acquisition or other change in organization.

K. Notwithstanding Subsection J of this section, a qualifying job that was created by another employer and for which the rural job tax credit application was received by the taxation and revenue department prior to July 1, 2013 and is under review or has been approved shall remain eligible for the rural job tax credit for the balance of the qualifying periods for which the job qualifies by the new employer that results from a business merger, acquisition or other change in the organization.

L. A job shall not be eligible for a rural job tax credit pursuant to this section if the job is created due to an eligible employer entering into a contract or becoming a subcontractor to a contract with a governmental entity that replaces one or more entities performing functionally equivalent services for the governmental entity in New Mexico unless the job is a qualifying job that was not being performed by an employee of the replaced entity.

M. As used in this section:

(1) "dependent" means "dependent" as defined in 26 U.S.C. 152(a), as that section may be amended or renumbered;

(2) "eligible employee" means any individual other than an individual who:

(a) is a dependent of the employer;

(b) if the employer is an estate or trust, is a grantor, beneficiary or fiduciary of the estate or trust or is a dependent of a grantor, beneficiary or fiduciary of the estate or trust;

(c) if the employer is a corporation, is a dependent of an individual who owns, directly or indirectly, more than fifty percent in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation;

(d) if the employer is an entity other than a corporation, estate or trust, is a dependent of an individual who owns, directly or indirectly, more than fifty percent of the capital and profits interests in the entity; or

(e) is working or has worked as an employee or as an independent contractor for an entity that, directly or indirectly, owns stock in a corporation of the eligible employer or other interest of the eligible employer that represents fifty percent or more of the total voting power of that entity or has a value equal to fifty percent or more of the capital and profits interests in the entity;

(3) "eligible employer" means an employer who is eligible for in-plant training assistance pursuant to Section 21-19-7 NMSA 1978;

(4) "metropolitan statistical area" means a metropolitan statistical area in New Mexico as determined by the United States bureau of the census;

(5) "modified combined tax liability" means the total liability for the reporting period for the gross receipts tax imposed by Section 7-9-4 NMSA 1978 together with any tax collected at the same time and in the same manner as that gross receipts tax, such as the compensating tax, the withholding tax, the interstate telecommunications gross receipts tax, the surcharges imposed by Section 63-9D-5 NMSA 1978 and the surcharge imposed by Section 63-9F-11 NMSA 1978, minus the amount of any credit other than the rural job tax credit applied against any or all of these taxes or surcharges; but "modified combined tax liability" excludes all amounts collected with respect to a gross receipts tax or compensating tax imposed by a municipality or county;

(6) "new job" means a job that is occupied by an employee who has not been employed in New Mexico by the eligible employer in the three years prior to the date of hire;

(7) "qualifying job" means a new job that was created after July 1, 2000 and that was not created due to a change in organizational structure established by the employer that is occupied by an eligible employee for at least forty-four weeks of a qualifying period;

(8) "qualifying period" means the period of twelve months beginning on the day an eligible employee begins working in a qualifying job or the period of twelve months beginning on the anniversary of the day an eligible employee began working in a qualifying job;

(9) "rural area" means any part of the state other than:

(a) an H class county;

(b) the state fairgrounds;

(c) an incorporated municipality within a metropolitan statistical area if the municipality's population is thirty thousand or more according to the most recent federal decennial census; and

(d) any area within ten miles of the exterior boundaries of a municipality described in Subparagraph (c) of this paragraph;

(10) "tier one area" means:

(a) any municipality within the rural area if the municipality's population according to the most recent federal decennial census is fifteen thousand or less; or

(b) any part of the rural area that is not within the exterior boundaries of a municipality;

(11) "tier two area" means any municipality within the rural area if the municipality's population according to the most recent federal decennial census is more than fifteen thousand; and

(12) "wages" means all compensation paid by an eligible employer to an eligible employee through the employer's payroll system, including those wages the employee elects to defer or redirect, such as the employee's contribution to 401(k) or cafeteria plan programs, but not including benefits or the employer's share of payroll taxes.

History: Laws 2007, ch. 172, § 2; 2013, ch. 58, § 1; 2021, ch. 65, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective January 1, 2022, provided that one of the purposes of the rural job tax credit is to expand existing businesses, revised certain employer certifications with respect to each qualifying job for which an eligible employer seeks the rural job tax credit, added time limits in which to apply for the rural job tax credit, and defined "new job" and revised the definition of "qualifying job", as used in this section; in Subsection B, after "new businesses", added "or expand existing businesses"; in Subsection D, added Paragraphs D(4) through D(7); in Subsection F, after the first occurrence of "taxation and revenue department", added "once per calendar year", after "Subsection D of this section", added "and contain all qualifying periods that closed during the calendar year for which the application is made. Any qualifying period that did not close in the calendar year for which the application is made shall be denied by the department. The application for a calendar year shall be filed no later than December 31 of the following calendar year. If a taxpayer fails to file the annual application within the time limits provided in this section, the department shall deny the application", and after the second occurrence of "taxation and revenue department", and deleted "may" and added "shall"; in Subsection G, after "gross receipts tax", added "or compensating tax"; deleted former Subsection J and redesignated former Subsections K through N as Subsections J through M, respectively; in Subsection J, Paragraph J(2), after "organization", deleted "and" and added "or"; and in Subsection M, added new Paragraph M(1) and redesignated former Paragraph N(1) through N(4) as Paragraphs M(2) through M(5), respectively, in Paragraph M(2), deleted former Subparagraphs N(1)(a) through N(1)(c) and added new Subparagraphs M(2)(a) through M(2)(e), added new Paragraph M(6) and redesignated former Paragraphs N(5) through N(10) as Paragraphs M(7) through M(12), respectively, and in Paragraph M(7), after "means a", added "new", after "job", added "that was created after July 1, 2000 and that was not created due to a change in organizational structure", and after "at least", changed "forty-eight" to "forty-four".

Applicability. — Laws 2021, ch. 65, § 39 provided that the provisions of Laws 2021, ch. 65, § 9 apply to tax returns filed on or after January 1, 2022:

A. for rural job tax credit claims against a taxpayer's modified combined tax liability, for qualified jobs created in the calendar quarters beginning on or after July 1, 2022; and

B. for rural job tax credit claims against a taxpayer's personal income tax liability or corporate income tax liability, for qualified jobs created in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, provided the purpose for the rural job tax credit; clarified the eligibility of qualifying jobs for a rural job credit; defined "wages"; added Subsection B; in Subsection F, in the second sentence, after "Subsection", deleted "C" and added "D"; in Subsection I, after "secretary of", deleted "labor" and added "workforce solutions"; in Subsection J, in the first sentence, after "application for, and the", added "taxation and revenue"; added Subsections F, L and M; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection N, after "means an employer who", deleted "has been approved" and added "is eligible"; and in Paragraph (10) of Subsection N, after "means", deleted "wages as defined by Paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) of 26 U.S.C. Section 51(c)" and added the remainder of the sentence.

7-2E-2. Repealed.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 183, § 2; 2000, ch. 33, § 2; repealed by Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 27.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2005, ch. 104, § 27 repealed 7-2E-2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1999, ch. 183, § 2, relating to continued applicability of rural job tax credit, effective July 1, 2005. For provisions of former section, see the 2004 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

ARTICLE 2F

Film Production Tax Credit

7-2F-1. Film production tax credit; film production companies that commence principal photography prior to January 1, 2016.

A. The tax credit created by this section may be referred to as the "film production tax credit".

B. Except as otherwise provided in this section, an eligible film production company may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may allow, subject to the limitation in this section, a tax credit in an amount equal to twenty-five percent of:

(1) direct production expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production in New Mexico of a film or commercial audiovisual product;

(b) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(c) exclude direct production expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the film production tax credit; and

(d) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction; and

(2) postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production of a commercial film or audiovisual product;

(b) are for services performed in New Mexico;

(c) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(d) exclude postproduction expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the film production tax credit; and

(e) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction.

C. In addition to the percentage applied pursuant to Subsection B of this section, another five percent shall be applied in calculating the amount of the film production tax credit to direct production expenditures:

(1) on a standalone pilot intended for series television in New Mexico or on series television productions intended for commercial distribution with an order for at least six episodes in a single season; provided that the New Mexico budget for each of those six episodes is fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or more; or

(2) on a production with a total New Mexico budget of the following amounts; provided that the expenditures are directly attributable and paid to a New Mexico resident who is hired as industry crew, or who is hired as a producer, writer or director working directly with the physical production and has filed a New Mexico income tax return as a resident in the two previous taxable years:

(a) not more than thirty million dollars ($30,000,000) that shoots at least ten principal photography days in New Mexico at a qualified production facility; provided that a film production company in principal photography on or after April 10, 2015 shall: 1) shoot at least seven of those days at a sound stage that is a qualified production facility and the remaining number of required days, if any, at a standing set that is a qualified production facility; and 2) for each of the ten days, include industry crew working on the premises of those facilities for a minimum of eight hours within a twenty-four-hour period; or

(b) thirty million dollars ($30,000,000) or more that shoots at least fifteen principal photography days in New Mexico at a qualified production facility; provided that a film production company in principal photography on or after April 10, 2015 shall: 1) shoot at least ten of those days at a sound stage that is a qualified production facility and the remaining number of required days, if any, at a standing set that is a qualified production facility; and 2) for each day of the fifteen days, include industry crew working on the premises of the facility for a minimum of eight hours within a twenty-four-hour period.

D. With respect to expenditures attributable to a production for which the film production company receives a tax credit pursuant to the federal new markets tax credit program, the percentage to be applied in calculating the film production tax credit is twenty percent.

E. A claim for film production tax credits shall be filed as part of a return filed pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978]. The date a credit claim is received by the taxation and revenue department shall determine the order that a credit claim is authorized for payment by the department.

F. Except as otherwise provided in this section and Section 10 of this 2019 act, credit claims authorized for payment pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act shall be paid pursuant to provisions of the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978] to the taxpayer as follows:

(1) a credit claim amount of less than two million dollars ($2,000,000) per taxable year shall be paid immediately upon authorization for payment of the credit claim;

(2) a credit claim amount of two million dollars ($2,000,000) or more but less than five million dollars ($5,000,000) per taxable year shall be divided into two equal payments, with the first payment to be made immediately upon authorization of the payment of the credit claim and the second payment to be made twelve months following the date of the first payment; and

(3) a credit claim amount of five million dollars ($5,000,000) or more per taxable year shall be divided into three equal payments, with the first payment to be made immediately upon authorization of payment of the credit claim, the second payment to be made twelve months following the date of the first payment and the third payment to be made twenty-four months following the date of the first payment.

G. For a fiscal year in which the amount of total credit claims authorized for payment is less than the aggregate amount of credit claims that may be authorized for payment pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, the next scheduled payments for credit claims authorized for payment pursuant to Subsection F of this section shall be accelerated for payment for that fiscal year and shall be paid to a taxpayer pursuant to the Tax Administration Act and in the order in which outstanding payments are scheduled in the queue established pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978; provided that the total credit claims authorized for payment shall not exceed the aggregate amount of credit claims that may be authorized for payment pursuant to this section. If a partial payment is made pursuant to this subsection, the difference owed shall retain its original position in the queue.

H. Any amount of a credit claim that is carried forward pursuant to Subsection F of this section shall be subject to the limit on the aggregate amount of credit claims that may be authorized for payment pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978.

I. A credit claim shall only be considered received by the taxation and revenue department if the credit claim is made on a complete return filed after the close of the taxable year. All direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures incurred during the taxable year by a film production company shall be submitted as part of the same income tax return and paid pursuant to this section. A credit claim shall not be divided and submitted with multiple returns or in multiple years.

J. For purposes of determining the payment of credit claims pursuant to this section, the secretary of taxation and revenue may require that credit claims of affiliated persons be combined into one claim if necessary to accurately reflect closely integrated activities of affiliated persons.

K. The film production tax credit shall not be claimed with respect to direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures for which the film production company has delivered a nontaxable transaction certificate pursuant to Section 7-9-86 NMSA 1978.

L. A production for which the film production tax credit is claimed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of this section shall contain an acknowledgment to the state of New Mexico in the end screen credits that the production was filmed in New Mexico, and a state logo provided by the division shall be included and embedded in the end screen credits of long-form narrative film productions and television episodes, unless otherwise agreed upon in writing by the film production company and the division.

M. To be eligible for the film production tax credit, a film production company shall submit to the division information required by the division to demonstrate conformity with the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act, including detailed information on each direct production expenditure and each postproduction expenditure. A film production company shall make reasonable efforts, as determined by the division, to contract with a specialized vendor that provides goods and services, inventory or services directly related to that vendor's ordinary course of business. A film production company shall provide to the division a projection of the film production tax credit claim the film production company plans to submit in the fiscal year. In addition, the film production company shall agree in writing:

(1) to pay all obligations the film production company has incurred in New Mexico;

(2) to post a notice at completion of principal photography on the website of the division that:

(a) contains production company information, including the name of the production, the address of the production company and contact information that includes a working phone number, fax number and email address for both the local production office and the permanent production office to notify the public of the need to file creditor claims against the film production company; and

(b) remains posted on the website until all financial obligations incurred in the state by the film production company have been paid;

(3) that outstanding obligations are not waived should a creditor fail to file;

(4) to delay filing of a claim for the film production tax credit until the division delivers written notification to the taxation and revenue department that the film production company has fulfilled all requirements for the credit; and

(5) to submit a completed application for the film production tax credit and supporting documentation to the division within one year of making the final expenditures in New Mexico that were incurred for the registered project and that are included in the credit claim.

N. The division shall determine the eligibility of the company and shall report this information to the taxation and revenue department in a manner and at times the economic development department and the taxation and revenue department shall agree upon. The division shall also post on its website all information provided by the film production company that does not reveal revenue, income or other information that may jeopardize the confidentiality of income tax returns, including that the division shall report quarterly the projected amount of credit claims for the fiscal year.

O. To provide guidance to film production companies regarding the amount of credit capacity remaining in the fiscal year, the taxation and revenue department shall post monthly on that department's website the aggregate amount of credits claimed and processed for the fiscal year.

P. To receive a film production tax credit, a film production company shall apply to the taxation and revenue department on forms and in the manner the department may prescribe. The application shall include a certification of the amount of direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico with respect to the film production for which the film production company is seeking the film production tax credit; provided that for the film production tax credit, the application shall be submitted within one year of the date of the last direct production expenditure in New Mexico or the last postproduction expenditure in New Mexico. If the amount of the requested tax credit exceeds five million dollars ($5,000,000), the application shall also include the results of an audit, conducted by a certified public accountant licensed to practice in New Mexico, verifying that the expenditures have been made in compliance with the requirements of this section. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the taxation and revenue department shall approve the film production tax credit and issue a document granting the tax credit.

Q. The film production company may apply all or a portion of the film production tax credit granted against personal income tax liability or corporate income tax liability. If the amount of the film production tax credit claimed exceeds the film production company's tax liability for the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, the excess shall be refunded.

R. That amount of a film production tax credit for total payments as applied to direct production expenditures for the services of performing artists shall not exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000) for services rendered by nonresident performing artists and featured resident principal performing artists in a production. This limitation shall not apply to the services of background artists and resident performing artists who are not cast in industry standard featured principal performer roles.

S. As used in this section, "direct production expenditure" means a transaction that is subject to taxation in New Mexico:

(1) including an expenditure for:

(a) payment of wages, fringe benefits or fees for talent, management or labor to a person who is a New Mexico resident;

(b) payment for wages and per diem for a performing artist who is not a New Mexico resident and who is directly employed by the film production company; provided that the film production company deducts and remits, or causes to be deducted and remitted, income tax from the first day of services rendered in New Mexico at the maximum rate pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3 NMSA 1978];

(c) payment to a personal services business for the services of a performing artist if: 1) the personal services business pays gross receipts tax in New Mexico on the portion of those payments qualifying for the tax credit; and 2) the film production company deducts and remits, or causes to be deducted and remitted, income tax at the maximum rate in New Mexico pursuant to Subsection H of Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978 on the portion of those payments qualifying for the tax credit paid to a personal services business where the performing artist is a full or part owner of that business or subcontracts with a personal services business where the performing artist is a full or part owner of that business; and

(d) any of the following provided by a vendor: 1) the story and scenario to be used for a film; 2) set construction and operations, wardrobe, accessories and related services; 3) photography, sound synchronization, lighting and related services; 4) editing and related services; 5) rental of facilities and equipment; 6) leasing of vehicles, not including the chartering of aircraft for out-of-state transportation; however, New Mexico-based chartered aircraft for in-state transportation directly attributable to the production shall be considered a direct production expenditure; provided that only the first one hundred dollars ($100) of the daily expense of leasing a vehicle for passenger transportation on roadways in the state may be claimed as a direct production expenditure; 7) food or lodging; provided that only the first one hundred fifty dollars ($150) of lodging per individual per day is eligible to be claimed as a direct production expenditure; 8) commercial airfare if purchased through a New Mexico-based travel agency or travel company for travel to and from New Mexico or within New Mexico that is directly attributable to the production; 9) insurance coverage and bonding if purchased through a New Mexico-based insurance agent, broker or bonding agent; 10) services for an external audit upon submission of an application for a film production tax credit by an accounting firm that submits the application pursuant to this section; and

11) other direct costs of producing a film in accordance with generally accepted entertainment industry practice; and

(2) does not include an expenditure for:

(a) a gift with a value greater than twenty-five dollars ($25.00);

(b) artwork or jewelry, except that a work of art or a piece of jewelry may be a direct production expenditure if: 1) it is used in the film production; and 2) the expenditure is less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500);

(c) entertainment, amusement or recreation;

(d) subcontracted goods or services provided by a vendor when subcontractors are not subject to state taxation, such as equipment and locations provided by the military, government and religious organizations; or

(e) a service provided by a person who is not a New Mexico resident and employed in an industry crew position, excluding a performing artist, where it is the standard entertainment industry practice for the film production company to employ a person for that industry crew position, except when the person who is not a New Mexico resident is hired or subcontracted by a vendor; and when the film production company, as determined by the division and when applicable in consultation with industry, provides: 1) reasonable efforts to hire resident crew; and 2) financial or promotional contributions toward education or workforce development efforts in New Mexico, including at least one of the following: a payment to a New Mexico public education institution that administers at least one industry-recognized film or multimedia program, as determined by the division, in an amount equal to two and one-half percent of payments made to nonresidents in approved positions employed by the vendor; promotion of the New Mexico film industry by directors, actors or executive producers affiliated with the production company's project through social media that is managed by the state; radio interviews facilitated by the division; enhanced screen credit acknowledgments; or related events that are facilitated, conducted or sponsored by the division.

T. As used in this section, "film production company" means a person that produces one or more films or any part of a film and that commences principal photography prior to January 1, 2016.

U. As used in this section, "vendor" means a person who sells or leases goods or services that are related to standard industry craft inventory, who has a physical presence in New Mexico and is subject to gross receipts tax pursuant to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978] and income tax pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or corporate income tax pursuant to the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A

NMSA 1978] but excludes a personal services business and services provided by nonresidents hired or subcontracted if the tasks and responsibilities are associated with:

- (1) the standard industry job position of:
 - (a) a director;
 - (b) a writer;
 - (c) a producer;
 - (d) an associate producer;
 - (e) a co-producer;
 - (f) an executive producer;

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, removed the provision which provided that the aggregate amount of claims for a credit provided by the Film Production Tax Credit Act that may be authorized for payment in any fiscal year is fifty million dollars ($50,000,000); in Subsection E, deleted "or an information return filed by a pass-through entity", and after "authorized for payment by the department", deleted the remainder of the subsection, which related to the aggregate amount of claims for a credit provided by the Film Production Tax Credit Act that may be authorized for payment in any fiscal year; deleted former Subsection F and redesignated former Subsections G through V as Subsection F through U, respectively; in Subsection F, added "and Section 10 of this 2019 act"; in Subsection G, added "7-2F-12 NMSA 1978", and deleted "Subsections E and G of this section" and added "Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978"; in Subsection H, deleted "Subsections E and F of this section in the fiscal year in which that amount is paid" and added "Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978"; in Subsection P, deleted "subject to the provisions of Subsection E of this section"; and in Subsection S, Paragraph S(1), deleted "except as provided in Paragraph (2) of this subsection".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 10 provided that:

A. In addition to the aggregate amount of claims that may be paid pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, a claim for a tax credit approved by the taxation and revenue department pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act shall be paid:

(1) prior to July 1, 2019; provided that the aggregate amount of claims for credits that may be authorized for payment pursuant to this subsection does not exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000); and

(2) on or after July 1, 2019, but prior to July 1, 2020; provided that the aggregate amount of claims for credits that may be authorized for payment pursuant to this subsection does not exceed ninety-five million dollars ($95,000,000) and that the claim meets the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act; provided further that, if the fiscal year 2019 general fund revenues estimated by the consensus revenue estimating group presented to the legislative finance committee in August 2019 exceeds the fiscal year 2019 general fund revenues forecasted by the consensus revenue estimating group in February 2019 by at least thirty million dollars ($30,000,000), then the ninety-five million dollar ($95,000,000) threshold shall be increased to one hundred twenty-five million dollars ($125,000,000).

B. A claim that exceeds the authorized amounts to be paid as provided in this section shall be paid in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Film Production Tax Credit Act, as those provisions were in effect on the date the claim was approved.

The 2015 amendment, effective June 19, 2015, provided that the film production tax credit only applies to film production companies that commence principal photography prior to January 1, 2016, amended the requirements for receiving the film production tax credit, and defined direct production expenditure, film production company and vendor; in the catchline, added "film production companies that commence principal photography prior to January 1, 2016"; in Subsection A, after "film production tax credit", designated the remainder of the subsection as Subsection B; in new Subsection B, added "Except as otherwise provided in this section", after "in an amount equal to", deleted "the percentage specified in Subsection B of this section" and added "twenty-five percent"; deleted former Subsection B; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, added "on a standalone pilot intended for series television in New Mexico or", after "provided that the", added "New Mexico", after "budget", deleted "per episode" and added "for each of those six episodes"; in Paragraph (2) of Subsection C, deleted "that" and added "on a production with a total New Mexico budget of the following amounts; provided that the expenditures", after "directly attributable", deleted "to the wages and fringe benefits" and added "and", after "New Mexico resident", deleted "directly employed in an industry crew position, excluding a performing artist, on a production with a total budget of" and added "who is hired as industry crew, or who is hired as a producer, writer or director working directly with the physical production and has filed a New Mexico income tax return as a resident in the two previous taxable years"; in Subparagraph C(2)(a), after "photography days", added "in New Mexico", after "production facility", deleted "in New Mexico", after the semicolon, added the remainder of the subparagraph up to the semicolon; in Subparagraph C(2)(b), after "photography days", added "in New Mexico", after "production facility", deleted "in New Mexico", after the semicolon, added the remainder of the subparagraph; in Subsection E, after "aggregate amount of", deleted "the film production tax credit", after "claims", added "for a credit provided by the Film Production Tax Credit Act", and after "front of a queue of", deleted "film production tax"; in Subsection H, after the first occurrence of "aggregate amount of", deleted "the film production tax", after the second occurrence of "aggregate amount of", deleted "the film production tax"; in Subsection M, after "contain an acknowledgment", added "to the state of New Mexico", after "the division shall be included", added "and embedded", and after "narrative film productions", added "and television episodes"; in the introductory paragraph of Subsection N, after "to contract with a", added "specialized", and after "provides goods", added "and services"; in Paragraph (5) of Subsection N, after "New Mexico", added "that were incurred for the registered project and"; in Subsection O, after "division shall report", deleted "monthly" and added "quarterly"; in Subsection S, added "That amount of a film production tax credit for total payments", after "performing artists", deleted "the film production tax credit authorized by this section", after "services rendered by", deleted "all" and added "nonresident performing artists and featured resident principal", after "artists in production", deleted "for which the film production tax credit is claimed" and added the remainder of the section; and added new Subsections T, U and V.

The 2013 amendment, effective June 14, 2013, increased the film production tax credit for certain direct production expenditures; allowed a maximum of ten million dollars of unclaimed film production tax credits to be carried forward for three fiscal years; provided for accelerated payments of future scheduled payments of film production tax credits; in Subsection B, at the beginning of the sentence, after "Except as", added "otherwise", after "provided in", deleted "Subsections G and P of"; added Subsection C; in Subsection E, in the first sentence, after "Franchise Tax Act", added the remainder of the sentence and in the third sentence, at the beginning of the sentence, added "Except as otherwise provided in this section"; added Subsection F; in Subsection G, at the beginning of the sentence, added "Except as otherwise provided in this section"; added Subsection H; in Subsection I, after "forward pursuant to Subsection", deleted "E" and added "G" and after "payment pursuant to", deleted "Subsection D" and added "Subsections E and F"; in Subsection J, after "claim is made on a complete", deleted "tax" and after "complete return filed", deleted "timely"; in Subsection K, after "claims pursuant to", deleted "Subsection E of"; in Subsection M, at the beginning of the sentence, deletes "A long-form narrative film", after "contain an acknowledgment", added "in the end screen credits", and after "filmed in New Mexico", added the remainder of the sentence; and in Subsection N, added the second sentence.

Applicability. — Laws 2013, ch. 160, § 14 provided that Laws 2013, ch. 160, § 5 applies to direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures made on or after April 15, 2013.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, in Subsection A, provided that direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures may not exceed the cost of goods and services in an arm's length transaction; added Subsections D through H to limit the amount of the film production tax credit that may be paid in a year and to provide for the filing and payment of credit claims; in Subsection K, required film production companies to provide information about expenditures and a projection of the credit the company plans to claim in the fiscal year; in Subsection L, required the film division to post non-confidential information provided by film production companies on the division's website; added Subsection M to require the department to post on its website the aggregate amount of credits claimed and processed for the fiscal year; and in Subsection N, imposed a one-year limitation on the filing of credit claims and required the filing of an audit for claims that exceed five million dollars.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A; increased the tax credit percentage to twenty-five percent; provided that for expenditures for which a company receives a tax credit pursuant to the federal new markets tax credit program, the film production tax credit is twenty percent; and added Subsection J.

The 2006 amendment, effective May 17, 2006, in Subsection A deleted the provision that the tax credit shall be "fifteen percent" and provided that the tax credit shall equal the percentage specified in Subsection B; added a new Subsection B, which provided that except as provided in Subsection C, the percentage shall be 20% and for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 2009, an additional 5%; and added a new Subsection C, which provided that the additional 5% shall not be available for productions which receive a tax credit pursuant to federal law.

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, provided in Subsection A(1) and (2) that the tax credit may be based on direct production expenditures for commercial audiovisual production and postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico that are attributable to production on a commercial film or audiovisual product, for services performed in New Mexico and subject to taxation by the state; provided in Subsection B that the tax credit shall not be claimed for direct production expenses or postproduction expenses for which the film company has delivered a nontaxable transaction certificate; and provided in Subsection D that to be eligible for the tax credit, the film company must agree in writing to the conditions stated in Subsection D(1) through (4).

The 2003 amendment, effective June 20, 2003, in Subsection A, substituted "in an amount equal to" for "for" following "a tax credit", inserted "that are" following "of a film and"; deleted former Subsection D relating to the definitions of "direct production expenditure", "film" and "film production company"; redesignated Subsections E to G as Subsections D to F; and deleted "by the document" following "tax credit granted" in present Subsection F.

7-2F-1.1. Short title.

Chapter 7, Article 2F NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Film Production Tax Credit Act".

7-2F-2. Definitions.

As used in the Film Production Tax Credit Act:

A. "affiliated person" means a person who directly or indirectly owns or controls, is owned or controlled by or is under common ownership or control with another person through ownership of voting securities or other ownership interests representing a majority of the total voting power of the entity;

B. "background artist" means a person who is not a performing artist but is a person of atmospheric business whose work includes atmospheric noise, normal actions, gestures and facial expressions of that person's assignment; or a person of atmospheric business whose work includes special abilities that are not stunts; or a substitute for another actor, whether photographed as a double or acting as a stand-in;

C. "below-the-line crew" means a person in a position that is off-camera and who provides technical services during the physical production of a film. "Below-the-line crew" does not include a person who is a writer, director, producer or background artist or performing artist for the film;

D. "commercial audiovisual product" means a film or a video game intended for commercial exploitation;

E. "direct production expenditure" means a transaction that is subject to taxation in New Mexico and is certified pursuant to Subsection A of Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978:

(1) including an expenditure for:

(a) payment of wages, fringe benefits or fees for talent, management or labor to a person who is a New Mexico resident;

(b) payment for standard industry craft inventory when provided by a below-the-line crew that is a New Mexico resident in addition to its below-the-line crew services;

(c) payment for wages and per diem for a performing artist who is not a New Mexico resident and who is directly employed by the film production company; provided that the film production company deducts and remits, or causes to be deducted and remitted, income tax from the first day of services rendered in New Mexico at the maximum rate pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 3 NMSA 1978];

(d) payment to a personal services business for the services of a performing artist if: 1) the personal services business pays gross receipts tax in New Mexico on the portion of those payments qualifying for the tax credit; and 2) the film production company deducts and remits, or causes to be deducted and remitted, income tax at the maximum rate in New Mexico pursuant to Subsection H of Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978 on the portion of those payments qualifying for the tax credit paid to a personal services business where the performing artist is a full or part owner of that business or subcontracts with a personal services business where the performing artist is a full or part owner of that business; and

(e) any of the following provided by a vendor: 1) the story and scenario to be used for a film; 2) set construction and operations, wardrobe, accessories and related services; 3) photography, sound synchronization, lighting and related services; 4) editing and related services; 5) rental of facilities and equipment; 6) the first one hundred fifty dollars ($150) of the daily expense of leasing of vehicles, not including the chartering of aircraft for out-of-state transportation; however, New Mexico-based chartered aircraft for in-state transportation directly attributable to the production shall be considered a direct production expenditure; 7) food; 8) the first three hundred dollars ($300) of lodging per individual, per day; 9) commercial airfare if purchased through a New Mexico-based travel agency or travel company for travel to and from New Mexico or within New Mexico that is directly attributable to the production; 10) insurance coverage and bonding if purchased through a New Mexico-based insurance agent, broker or bonding agent; 11) subcontracted goods and services from businesses; provided that the ordinary course of business of the vendor procuring the goods and services from the subcontractor directly relates to standard film industry goods and services; and 12) other direct costs of producing a film in accordance with generally accepted entertainment industry practice; and

(2) does not include an expenditure for:

(a) a gift with a value greater than one hundred dollars ($100);

(b) artwork or jewelry, except that a work of art or a piece of jewelry may be a direct production expenditure if: 1) it is used in the film production; and 2) the expenditure is less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500);

(c) entertainment, amusement or recreation;

(d) subcontracted goods or services provided by a vendor when the subcontractors providing those goods or services to the vendor are not subject to state taxation, such as equipment and locations provided by the military, government and organizations that demonstrate to the taxation and revenue department that they have been granted exemption from the federal income tax by the United States commissioner of internal revenue as organizations described in Section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered;

(e) subcontracted services provided by a vendor when the subcontracted services are provided by a person who is below-the-line crew and is not a New Mexico resident;

(f) hidden or other indirect service fees, costs, commissions or other remuneration received by third parties and that are not directly paid by the film production company or expressly enumerated on a film production company's filing to claim a new film production tax credit;

(g) wages for a person who is not a New Mexico resident and who falsely claims to be a New Mexico resident. The wages of such person shall not be considered an eligible expense for two years from the date in which the person is determined by the taxation and revenue department as having made a false claim, regardless of whether the person becomes a New Mexico resident within that time frame; or

(h) which the film production company receives funding pursuant to Section 21-19-7.1 NMSA 1978;

F. "division" means the New Mexico film division of the economic development department;

G. "federal new markets tax credit program" means the tax credit program codified as Section 45D of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, clarified citations to the NMSA 1978 within the section; in the introductory sentence, after "Sections", deleted "5 through 11 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-6 through 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978"; in Subparagraph A(1)(e), after "Subsection I of Section", deleted "5 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-6 NMSA 1978".

7-2F-3. Purposes; goals.

The purposes and goals of the Film Production Tax Credit Act are to:

A. establish the film industry as a permanent component of the economic base of New Mexico;

B. develop a pool of trained professionals and businesses in New Mexico to supply and support the film industry in the state;

C. increase employment of New Mexico residents;

D. improve the economic success of existing businesses in New Mexico; and

E. develop the infrastructure in the state necessary for a thriving film industry.

History: Laws 2011, ch. 165, § 4; 2016, ch. 77, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, in the introductory sentence, after "Tax Credit", added "Act".

7-2F-4. Reporting; accountability.

A. The economic development department shall:

(1) collect data to be used in an econometric tool that objectively assesses the effectiveness of the credits provided by the Film Production Tax Credit Act;

(2) track the direct expenditures for the credits;

(3) with the support and assistance of the legislative finance committee staff and the taxation and revenue department, review and assess the analysis developed in Paragraph (1) of this subsection and create a report for presentation to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee that provides an objective assessment of the effectiveness of the credits; and

(4) report annually to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee on aggregate approved tax credits made pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act and the past performance of and current outlook for the Film Production Tax Credit Act, including:

(a) the aggregate amount of credits paid subject to the aggregate amount allowed pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978 in the prior fiscal year and the current amount of claims in the queue pursuant to Subsection C of Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978;

(b) the aggregate amount of approved credits paid in the prior fiscal year for expenditures by certain film production companies that are not subject to the aggregate amount of claims allowed pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978;

(c) the number of applicants receiving the additional credit for television pilots and series pursuant to Section 7-2F-7 NMSA 1978;

(d) the number of applicants receiving the additional amount for expenditures made in certain areas of the state pursuant to Section 8 [7-2F-14 NMSA 1978] of this 2019 act;

(e) the aggregate amount of direct production expenditures and post production expenditures in New Mexico during the prior fiscal year, shown by county;

(f) the total number and wages of New Mexico residents employed by film production companies in the prior fiscal year; and

(g) any other relevant information, as determined by the division.

B. The division shall develop a form on which the taxpayer claiming a credit pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act shall submit a report to accompany the taxpayer's application for that credit.

C. With respect to the production on which the application for a credit is based, the film production company shall report to the division at a minimum the following information:

(1) the total aggregate wages of the members of the New Mexico resident crew;

(2) the number of New Mexico residents employed;

(3) the total amount of gross receipts taxes paid;

(4) the total number of hours worked by New Mexico residents;

(5) the total expenditures made in New Mexico that do not qualify for the credit;

(6) the aggregate wages paid to the members of the nonresident crew while working in New Mexico;

(7) the aggregate amount of direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures in New Mexico in the prior fiscal year, shown by county; and

(8) other information deemed necessary by the division and economic development department to determine the effectiveness of the credit.

D. For purposes of assessing the effectiveness of a credit, the inability of the economic development department to aggregate data due to sample size shall not relieve the department of the requirement to report all relevant data to the legislature. The division shall provide notice to a film production company applying for a credit that information provided to the division may be revealed by the department in reports to the legislature.

History: Laws 2011, ch. 165, § 5; 2015, ch. 143, § 3; 2016, ch. 77, § 4; 2019, ch. 87, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, required the economic development department to include in its annual report to the revenue stabilization and tax policy committee and the legislative finance committee certain additional information regarding tax credits made pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act, and required film production companies applying for a tax credit to report to the New Mexico film division information regarding production and postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico; in Subsection A, Paragraph A(4), added "and the past performance of and current outlook for the Film Production Tax Credit Act, including", and added Subparagraphs A(4)(a) through A(4)(g); and in Subsection C, added a new Paragraph C(7) and redesignated former Subparagraph C(7) as Subparagraph C(8).

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, in Subsection C, after "With respect to the", deleted "film" and added "production".

The 2015 amendment, effective June 19, 2015, made technical amendments to the reporting requirements in the Film Production Tax Credit Act; in Subsection A, Paragraph (1), after "effectiveness of the", deleted "film production tax credit" and added "credits provided by the film Production Tax Credit Act", in Paragraph (2), after "expenditures for the", deleted "film production tax credit" and added "credits", in Paragraph (3), after "effectiveness of the", deleted "film production tax credit" and added "credits"; in Subsection B, after "taxpayer claiming a", deleted "film production tax"; in the introductory sentence of Subsection C, after "application for a", deleted "film production tax"; in Subsection C, Paragraph (5), after "qualify for the", deleted "film production tax"; in Paragraph (7), after "effectiveness of the", deleted "film production tax"; and in Subsection D, after "assessing the effectiveness of", deleted "the film production tax" and added "a", and after "company applying for", deleted "the film production tax".

7-2F-5. Assignment.

A. A film production company that is eligible to receive a credit pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act may assign the payment of an authorized film production tax credit or a film and television tax credit to a third-party financial institution, or to an authorized third party, one time in a full or partial amount. If the parties to the assignment have complied with the procedures established by the taxation and revenue department for the assignment of a film production tax credit payment, the department shall remit to the institution that amount of tax credit approved by the department that would otherwise be remitted to the company.

B. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "authorized third party" means an entity that:

(a) holds the rights to a film for which a film production tax credit may be claimed; and

(b) initiates that film's production; and

(2) "financial institution" means:

(a) a fund purposely created to produce a film; or

(b) a bank, savings institution or credit union that is organized or chartered pursuant to the laws of New Mexico or the United States and that files a New Mexico income tax return.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 62, § 1; 2016, ch. 77, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, allowed a film production company to assign payment of a film and television tax credit to a third-party financial institution; in Subsection A, after "eligible to receive a", deleted "film production tax", after "credit", added "pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act", and after "an authorized film production tax credit", added "or a film and television tax credit".

Applicability. — Laws 2015, ch. 62, § 2 provided that Laws 2015, ch. 62, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

7-2F-6. Film and television tax credit; film production companies that commence principal photography on or after January 1, 2016.

A. The tax credit created by this section may be referred to as the "film and television tax credit".

B. An eligible film production company may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may allow, subject to the limitation in Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, a tax credit in an amount equal to twenty-five percent of:

(1) direct production expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production in New Mexico of a film or commercial audiovisual product;

(b) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(c) exclude direct production expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the film and television tax credit; and

(d) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction; and

(2) postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production of a commercial film or audiovisual product;

(b) are for postproduction services performed in New Mexico;

(c) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(d) exclude postproduction expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the film and television tax credit; and

(e) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction.

C. With respect to expenditures attributable to a production for which the film production company receives a tax credit pursuant to the federal new markets tax credit program, the percentage to be applied in calculating the film and television tax credit is twenty percent.

D. The film and television tax credit shall not be claimed with respect to direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures for which the film production company has delivered a nontaxable transaction certificate pursuant to Section 7-9-86 NMSA 1978.

E. A production for which the film and television [television] tax credit is claimed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of this section shall contain an acknowledgment to the state of New Mexico in the end screen credits that the production was filmed in New Mexico, and a state logo provided by the division shall be included and embedded in the end screen credits of long-form narrative film productions and television episodes, unless otherwise agreed upon in writing by the film production company and the division.

F. To be eligible for the film and television tax credit, a film production company shall submit to the division information required by the division to demonstrate conformity with the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act, including detailed information on each direct production expenditure and each postproduction expenditure. A film production company shall provide to the division a projection of the film and television tax credit claim the film production company plans to submit in the fiscal year. In addition, the film production company shall agree in writing:

(1) to pay all obligations the film production company has incurred in New Mexico;

(2) to post a notice at completion of principal photography on the website of the division that:

(a) contains production company information, including the name of the production, the address of the production company and contact information that includes a working phone number, fax number and email address for both the local production office and the permanent production office to notify the public of the need to file creditor claims against the film production company; and

(b) remains posted on the website until all financial obligations incurred in the state by the film production company have been paid;

(3) that outstanding obligations are not waived should a creditor fail to file;

(4) to delay filing of a claim for the film and television tax credit until the division delivers written notification to the taxation and revenue department that the film production company has fulfilled all requirements for the credit; and

(5) to submit a completed application for the film and television tax credit and supporting documentation to the division within one year of the close of the film production company's taxable year in which the expenditures in New Mexico were incurred for the registered project and that are included in the credit claim.

G. The division shall determine the eligibility of the company and shall report this information to the taxation and revenue department in a manner and at times the economic development department and the taxation and revenue department shall agree upon. The division shall also post on its website all information provided by the film production company that does not reveal revenue, income or other information that may jeopardize the confidentiality of income tax returns, including that the division shall report quarterly the projected amount of credit claims for the fiscal year.

H. To provide guidance to film production companies regarding the amount of credit capacity remaining in the fiscal year, the taxation and revenue department shall post monthly on that department's website the aggregate amount of credits claimed and processed for the fiscal year.

I. To receive a film and television tax credit, a film production company shall apply to the taxation and revenue department on forms and in the manner the department may prescribe. The application shall include a certification of the amount of direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico with respect to the film production for which the film production company is seeking the film and television tax credit; provided that for the film and television tax credit, the application shall be submitted within one year of the date of the last direct production expenditure in New Mexico or the last postproduction expenditure in New Mexico incurred within the film production company's taxable year. If the amount of the requested tax credit exceeds five million dollars ($5,000,000), the application shall also include the results of an audit, conducted by a certified public accountant licensed to practice in New Mexico, verifying that the expenditures have been made in compliance with the requirements of this section. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, subject to the provisions of Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, the taxation and revenue department shall approve the film and television tax credit and issue a document granting the tax credit.

J. The film production company may apply all or a portion of the film and television tax credit granted against personal income tax liability or corporate income tax liability. If the amount of the film and television tax credit claimed exceeds the film production company's tax liability for the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, the excess shall be refunded.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler to correct a typographical error and is not part of the law.

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, clarified citations to the NMSA 1978 within the section; throughout the section, changed "web site" to "website"; in Subsection B, deleted "11 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-12 NMSA 1978"; and in Subsection I, deleted "11 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-12 NMSA 1978".

7-2F-7. Additional credit; television pilots and series.

A. In addition to the credit provided by Section 7-2F-6 NMSA 1978, an additional five percent shall be applied in calculating the amount of the film and television tax credit to direct production expenditures, except as provided in Subsections C and D of this section, on:

- (1) a standalone pilot intended for series television in New Mexico; and

(2) series television productions intended for commercial distribution with an order for at least six episodes in a single season; provided that the New Mexico budget for each of those six episodes is fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or more.

B. A film production company applying for an additional credit pursuant to this section shall not be eligible for the additional credit pursuant to Section 7-2F-8 NMSA 1978.

C. Direct production expenditures that are payments to a nonresident performing artist in a standalone pilot shall not be eligible for the additional credit pursuant to this section.

D. Payments to a nonresident performing artist for a television series may be eligible for the additional credit pursuant to this section; provided that:

(1) a television series completes at least one season of the scheduled episodes for that series in New Mexico;

(2) the film production company certifies the intention to produce a subsequent season to the series described in Paragraph (1) of this subsection in New Mexico; and

(3) the film production company, or its parent company, produces or begins production of an additional eligible television series in New Mexico during the same film production company's taxable year as the television series. Payments to a nonresident performing artist for the additional television series may also be eligible for the additional credit pursuant to this section.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, clarified citations to the NMSA 1978 within the section; in Subsection A, in the introductory sentence, deleted "5 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-6 NMSA 1978"; and in Subsection B, deleted "7 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-8 NMSA 1978".

7-2F-8. Additional credit; qualified production facilities.

A. In addition to the credit provided by Section 7-2F-6 NMSA 1978, an additional five percent shall be applied in calculating the amount of the film and television tax credit to direct production expenditures that are directly attributable and paid to a New Mexico resident who is hired as industry crew, or who is hired as a producer, writer or director working directly with the physical production and has filed a New Mexico income tax return as a resident in the two previous taxable years. The direct production expenditures shall be on a production with a total new budget of:

(1) not more than thirty million dollars ($30,000,000) that shoots at least ten principal photography days in New Mexico at a qualified production facility; provided that a film production company shall:

(a) shoot at least seven of those days at a sound stage that is a qualified production facility and the remaining number of required days, if any, at a standing set that is a qualified production facility; and

(b) for each of the ten days, include industry crew working on the premises of those facilities for a minimum of eight hours within a twenty-four-hour period; or

(2) thirty million dollars ($30,000,000) or more that shoots at least fifteen principal photography days in New Mexico at a qualified production facility; provided that a film production company shall:

(a) shoot at least ten of those days at a sound stage that is a qualified production facility and the remaining number of required days, if any, at a standing set that is a qualified production facility; and

(b) for each day of the fifteen days, include industry crew working on the premises of the facility for a minimum of eight hours within a twenty-four-hour period.

B. A film production company that receives an additional credit pursuant to Section 7-2F-7 NMSA 1978 shall not be eligible for the additional credit pursuant to this section.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 143, § 7; 2016, ch. 77, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2016 amendment, effective May 18, 2016, clarified citations to the NMSA 1978 within the section; in Subsection A, in the introductory paragraph, deleted "5 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-6 NMSA 1978"; and in Subsection B, deleted "6 of this 2015 act" and added "7-2F-7 NMSA 1978".

7-2F-9. Additional credit; nonresident industry crew.

A film production company may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may allow, subject to the limitation in this section, a tax credit in an amount equal to fifteen percent of the payment of wages, fringe benefits and per diem for nonresident industry crew; provided that:

A. the service for which payment is made is rendered in New Mexico;

B. payments for nonresident industry crew exclude payments for production designer, director of photography, line producer, costume designer, still unit photographer and driver whose sole responsibility is driving;

C. the number of nonresident industry crew shall be employed by the film production company in New Mexico, and shall be, as calculated by the division upon receipt of the first application for a film production tax credit and review of the project's New Mexico budget:

(1) four positions for up to two million dollars ($2,000,000) of the final New Mexico budget;

(2) one additional position for each additional one million dollars ($1,000,000) of the project's final New Mexico budget of at least two million dollars ($2,000,000) up to ten million dollars ($10,000,000);

(3) one additional position for each additional five million dollars ($5,000,000) of the project's final New Mexico budget of at least ten million dollars ($10,000,000) up to fifty million dollars ($50,000,000);

(4) one additional position for every additional ten million dollars ($10,000,000) of the project's final New Mexico budget of at least fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) and thereafter;

(5) eight additional positions, above the number of positions described in this subsection, for a television pilot episode that has not been ordered to series at the time of New Mexico production; provided that the film production company certifies to the division that the series is intended to be produced in New Mexico if the pilot is ordered to series; and

(6) no more than thirty positions; provided that, at the discretion of the division, up to and including ten additional positions may be permitted if five other films are being produced in New Mexico at the time of the film production company's production; and

D. the film production company makes financial or promotional contributions toward educational or work force development efforts in New Mexico as determined by the division, including:

(1) a payment to a New Mexico educational institution that administers at least one industry-recognized film or multimedia program, as determined by the division, equal to at least two and one-half percent of the direct production expenditures for the payment of wages, fringe benefits and per diem for nonresident industry crew made by the film production company to nonresident industry crew; or

(2) promotion of the New Mexico film industry by directors, actors or producers affiliated with the film production company's project through:

(a) social media that is managed by the state;

- (b) radio interviews facilitated by the division;
- (c) enhanced screen credit acknowledgments; or
- (d) related events that are facilitated, conducted or sponsored by the division.

7-2F-10. Payments for performing artists; credit limitation.

That amount of a film and television tax credit for the total payments of direct production expenditures for the services of performing artists shall not exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000) for services rendered by nonresident performing artists and featured resident principal performing artists in a production. This limitation shall not apply to the services of background artists and resident performing artists who are not cast in industry standard featured principal performer roles.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 143, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 143 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 19, 2015, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2F-11. Requirements to contract with certain vendors.

A. A film production company shall make reasonable efforts, as determined by the division, to contract with a specialized vendor whose ordinary course of business directly relates to a standard industry craft inventory and that:

- (1) provides services;
- (2) provides inventory, for sale or lease, that is maintained in New Mexico and represented by the specialized vendor; or
- (3) subcontracts similar standard industry craft inventory from other businesses with or without physical presence.

B. If a film production company does not contract with a specialized vendor, but contracts with a vendor that provides services, does not sell or lease standard industry craft inventory and outsources inventory from out-of-state businesses for a film production company, the film production company shall provide documentation of reasonable efforts made to find a specialized vendor.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 143, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2015, ch. 143 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 19, 2015, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-2F-12. Credit claims; certification of direct production and postproduction expenditures; aggregate amount of claims allowed; exception.

A. The division shall certify a film production company's budget for direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures during a preproduction meeting with the division; provided that the division is prohibited from certifying a film production company's budget if the total expected claims in excess of the aggregate amount of claims that may be authorized for payment pursuant to Subsection B of this section would exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) in any fiscal year; and provided further that the limitation in this subsection shall not apply to certification of a budget for a New Mexico film partner.

B. Except as provided in Laws 2019, Chapter 87, Section 10, the aggregate amount of claims for a credit provided by the Film Production Tax Credit Act that may be authorized in any fiscal year with respect to the direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures made on film or commercial audiovisual products shall be in the following amounts; provided that direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures made by a New Mexico film partner shall not be subject to the aggregate amount of claims provided by this subsection:

- (1) prior to fiscal year 2024, one hundred ten million dollars ($110,000,000);
- (2) from fiscal year 2024 through fiscal year 2028, the amount provided in Paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be increased by ten million dollars ($10,000,000) in each of those fiscal years; and
- (3) for fiscal year 2029 and subsequent fiscal years, one hundred sixty million dollars ($160,000,000).

C. If a film production company submits a claim for a credit pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act and the aggregate amount of claims pursuant to Subsection

B of this section has been met for the fiscal year, the claim shall be placed at the front of a queue for payment in a subsequent fiscal year. Claims shall be placed in order of the date on which the completed return in which the credit is claimed is filed. Claims authorized for payment shall be paid pursuant to the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978].

D. To provide guidance to film production companies regarding the amount of credit capacity remaining in the fiscal year, the taxation and revenue department shall post monthly on that department's website the aggregate amount of credits claimed and paid for the fiscal year. In addition, the division shall post monthly on the division's website the aggregate amount of claims certified pursuant to Subsection A of this section for the fiscal year or any subsequent fiscal year.

History: Laws 2015, ch. 143, § 11; repealed and reenacted by Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 6; 2023, ch. 211, § 32.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 6 repealed and reenacted 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, effective July 1, 2019.

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, increased the film production tax credit, and removed the definition of "New Mexico film partner"; in Subsection B, in the introductory clause, after "may be authorized", deleted "for payment", after "any fiscal year", deleted "is one hundred ten million dollars ($110,000,000)", and after "audiovisual products", added "shall be in the following amounts", added new Paragraphs B(1) through B(3); deleted Subsection D and redesignated former Subsection E as Subsection D; and deleted former Subsection F.

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 43 provided:

A. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 9 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

B. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, §§ 31 through 35 apply to film production companies that commence principal photography for a film or commercial audiovisual product on or after July 1, 2023.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 10 provided that:

A. In addition to the aggregate amount of claims that may be paid pursuant to Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978, a claim for a tax credit approved by the taxation and revenue department pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act shall be paid:

(1) prior to July 1, 2019; provided that the aggregate amount of claims for credits that may be authorized for payment pursuant to this subsection does not exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000); and

(2) on or after July 1, 2019, but prior to July 1, 2020; provided that the aggregate amount of claims for credits that may be authorized for payment pursuant to this subsection does not exceed ninety-five million dollars ($95,000,000) and that the claim meets the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act; provided further that, if the fiscal year 2019 general fund revenues estimated by the consensus revenue estimating group presented to the legislative finance committee in August 2019 exceeds the fiscal year 2019 general fund revenues forecasted by the consensus revenue estimating group in February 2019 by at least thirty million dollars ($30,000,000), then the ninety-five million dollar ($95,000,000) threshold shall be increased to one hundred twenty-five million dollars ($125,000,000).

B. A claim that exceeds the authorized amounts to be paid as provided in this section shall be paid in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Film Production Tax Credit Act, as those provisions were in effect on the date the claim was approved.

7-2F-13. New film production tax credit.

A. The tax credit created by this section may be referred to as the "new film production tax credit".

B. A film production company that meets the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may allow, a tax credit in an amount equal to twenty-five percent of:

(1) direct production expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production in New Mexico of a film or commercial audiovisual product;

(b) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(c) exclude direct production expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the new film production tax credit; and

(d) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction; and

(2) postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico that:

(a) are directly attributable to the production of a commercial film or audiovisual product;

(b) are for services performed in New Mexico;

(c) are subject to taxation by the state of New Mexico;

(d) exclude postproduction expenditures for which another taxpayer claims the new film production tax credit; and

(e) do not exceed the usual and customary cost of the goods or services acquired when purchased by unrelated parties. The secretary of taxation and revenue may determine the value of the goods or services for purposes of this section when the buyer and seller are affiliated persons or the sale or purchase is not an arm's length transaction.

C. With respect to expenditures attributable to a production for which the film production company receives a tax credit pursuant to the federal new markets tax credit program, the percentage to be applied in calculating the amount of credit allowed pursuant to the Film Production Tax Credit Act is twenty percent.

D. A claim for new film production tax credits shall be filed as part of a return filed pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] or an information return filed by an entity assigned payment of an authorized credit pursuant to Section 7-2F-5 NMSA 1978. The date a complete credit claim is received by the taxation and revenue department shall determine the order that a credit claim is authorized for payment by the department. The film production company may apply all or a portion of the new film production tax credit granted against personal income tax liability or corporate income tax liability. If the amount of the credit claimed exceeds the film production company's tax liability for the taxable year in which the credit is being claimed, the excess shall be refunded.

E. A credit claim shall only be considered received by the taxation and revenue department if the credit claim is made on a complete return filed after the close of the taxable year. All direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures incurred during the taxable year by a film production company shall be submitted as part of the same income tax return and paid pursuant to this section. A credit claim shall not be divided and submitted with multiple returns or in multiple years.

F. For purposes of determining the payment of credit claims pursuant to this section, the secretary of taxation and revenue may require that credit claims of affiliated persons be combined into one claim if necessary to accurately reflect closely integrated activities of affiliated persons.

G. The new film production tax credit shall not be claimed with respect to direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures for which the film production company has delivered a nontaxable transaction certificate pursuant to Section 7-9-86 NMSA 1978 or alternative evidence pursuant to Section 7-9-43 NMSA 1978.

H. A production for which the new film production tax credit is claimed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of this section shall contain an acknowledgment to the state of New Mexico. Unless otherwise agreed upon in writing by the film production company and the division, the acknowledgment shall be in the end screen credits that the production was filmed in New Mexico and a three-second static or animated state logo provided by the division shall be included and embedded in the following:

(1) end screen credits before the below-the-line crew crawl for the life of the project of long-form narrative film productions; and

(2) body of the program for the life of television episodes, the placement of which shall be:

(a) in the opening sequence;

(b) as a bumper into or out of a commercial break; or

(c) in a prominent position in each single project's end credits with no less than a half screen exposure, but not covering content.

I. To be eligible for the new film production tax credit, a film production company shall submit to the division information required by the division to demonstrate conformity with the requirements of the Film Production Tax Credit Act, including production data deemed necessary by the division and the economic development department to determine the effectiveness of the credit, and a projection of the new film production tax credit claim the film production company plans to submit. In addition, the film production company shall agree in writing:

(1) to pay all obligations the film production company has incurred in New Mexico;

(2) to post a notice at completion of principal photography on the website of the division that:

(a) contains production company information, including the name of the production and contact information that includes a working phone number and email address for both the local production office and the permanent production office to notify the public of the need to file creditor claims against the film production company; and

(b) remains posted on the website until all financial obligations incurred in the state by the film production company have been paid;

(3) that outstanding obligations are not waived should a creditor fail to file;

(4) to delay filing of a claim for the new film production tax credit until the division delivers written notification to the taxation and revenue department that the film production company has fulfilled all requirements for the credit; and

(5) to submit a completed application for the new film production tax credit and supporting documentation to the division within one year of making the final expenditures in New Mexico that were incurred for the registered project and that are included in the credit claim.

J. The division, in consultation with the taxation and revenue department, shall determine the eligibility of the film production company and shall report this information to the taxation and revenue department in a manner and at times the economic development department and the taxation and revenue department shall agree upon. The division shall also post on its website all information provided by the film production company that does not reveal revenue, income or other information that may jeopardize the confidentiality of income tax returns.

K. To receive a new film production tax credit, a film production company shall apply to the taxation and revenue department on forms and in the manner the department may prescribe. The application shall include a certification of the amount of direct production expenditures or postproduction expenditures made in New Mexico with respect to the film production for which the film production company is seeking the credit; provided that for the credit, the application shall be submitted within one year of the date of the last direct production expenditure in New Mexico or the last postproduction expenditure in New Mexico. If the amount of the requested tax credit exceeds five million dollars ($5,000,000), the application shall also include the results of an audit, conducted by a certified public accountant licensed to practice in New Mexico, verifying that the expenditures have been made in compliance with the requirements of this section. If the requirements of this section have been complied with, the taxation and revenue department shall approve the credit and issue a document granting the credit.

L. Except as provided in Subsection M of this section, that amount of a new film production tax credit for total payments as applied to direct production expenditures for the services of performing artists shall not exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000) for services rendered by nonresident performing artists in a production. This limitation shall not apply to the services of background artists or resident performing artists cast in industry standard feature performing roles.

M. In addition to the amount of payments allowed pursuant to Subsection L of this section, that amount of a new film production tax credit for total payments as applied to direct production expenditures made by a New Mexico film partner for the services of nonresident performing artists, directors, producers, screenwriters and editors shall not exceed ten million dollars ($10,000,000) for services rendered for each production; provided that the total payments allowed pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed an annual aggregate maximum of forty million dollars ($40,000,000) for all productions in a fiscal year. If the aggregate amount of payments made in a fiscal year is less than the annual aggregate maximum, then the difference in that fiscal year shall be added to the annual aggregate maximum allowed in the following fiscal year.

History: Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 7; 2023, ch. 211, § 33.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, increased the new film production tax credit; in Subsection L, added "Except as provided in Subsection M of this section", after "performing artists", deleted "and resident principal performing artists", and after "background artists", added "or resident performing artists cast in industry standard feature performing roles"; and added Subsection M.

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 43 provided:

A. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 9 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

B. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, §§ 31 through 35 apply to film production companies that commence principal photography for a film or commercial audiovisual product on or after July 1, 2023.

7-2F-14. Additional amounts to be applied in calculating credit amounts; expenditures made in certain areas of the state; television pilots and series.

A. In addition to the percentage of direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures calculated pursuant to Section 7-2F-13 NMSA 1978, an additional percentage shall be applied for payments for direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures, as follows:

(1) ten percent for work, services or items provided on location for a production of a film or commercial audiovisual product that is located in New Mexico at least sixty miles from the city hall of the county seat of certain counties; and

(2) five percent for either of the following:

(a) on a standalone pilot intended for series television in New Mexico or on series television productions intended for commercial distribution with an order for at least six episodes in a single season; provided that the New Mexico budget for each of those six episodes is fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or more; or

(b) on a production in a qualified production facility.

B. As used in this section, "certain counties" means class A counties with a net taxable value of property for property taxation purposes of greater than seven billion five hundred million dollars ($7,500,000,000).

History: Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 8; 2023, ch. 211, § 34.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, increased the percentages to be applied for payments for direct production expenditures and postproduction expenditures, and revised the definition of "certain counties" as used in this section; in Subsection A, in the introductory clause, after "an additional", deleted "five percent" and added "percentage", and after "expenditures", added "as follows", in Paragraph A(1), after the paragraph designation, added "ten percent", after "at least sixty miles", deleted "outside of the exterior boundaries" and added "from the city hall of the county seat", in Paragraph A(2), in the introductory clause, after the paragraph designation, added "five percent"; and in Subsection B, after "certain counties", deleted "includes" and added "means Class A", after "greater than", deleted "six billion dollars ($6,000,000,000)" and added "seven billion five hundred million dollars ($7,500,000,000)".

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 43 provided:

A. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 9 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

B. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, §§ 31 through 35 apply to film production companies that commence principal photography for a film or commercial audiovisual product on or after July 1, 2023.

7-2F-15. Nonresident below-the-line crew credit.

A film production company may apply for, and the taxation and revenue department may allow, a tax credit, which may be referred to as the "nonresident below-the-line crew credit", in an amount equal to fifteen percent of the payment of wages for below-the-line crew who are not New Mexico residents, that are directly attributable to the production in New Mexico of a film or commercial audiovisual product for which the film production company is claiming a new film production tax credit; provided that:

A. the service for which payment is made is rendered in New Mexico;

B. the payment of wages excludes payments:

(1) for below-the-line crew who are producers, directors, screenwriters, cast and production assistants; and

(2) made to a personal services business;

C. prior to July 1, 2028, for a film production company that is a New Mexico film partner, the total amount of wages applied toward the additional credit allowed pursuant to this section may be up to one hundred percent of the amount of wages of resident below-the-line wages claimed; provided that the film production company provides a seventy-two-hour notice of the opportunity to be hired to resident below-the-line crew, which may be through a collective bargaining unit that represents resident below-the-line crew; and

D. for a film production company that is not a New Mexico film partner and, beginning July 1, 2028, for a film production company that is a New Mexico film partner:

(1) the total eligible wages for below-the-line crew who are not New Mexico residents are not more than fifteen percent of the production's total New Mexico budget for below-the-line crew wages; and

(2) the film production company may claim the nonresident below-the-line crew credit for employing up to the following numbers of nonresident below-the-line crew in New Mexico and shall be as calculated by the division upon application for certification pursuant to Subsection A of Section 7-2F-12 NMSA 1978; provided that the total number shall not exceed twenty positions:

(a) five positions if the production's final New Mexico budget is up to two million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($2,750,000);

(b) ten positions if the production's final New Mexico budget is greater than two million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($2,750,000) and up to seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($7,500,000);

(c) fifteen positions if the production's final New Mexico budget is greater than seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($7,500,000) and up to eleven million dollars ($11,000,000);

(d) one position in addition to the number of positions provided in Subparagraph (c) of this paragraph for every ten million dollars ($10,000,000) over eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) of the production's final New Mexico budget; and

(e) five positions in addition to the number of positions provided in Subparagraphs (a) through (d) of this paragraph for a television pilot episode that has been ordered to series; provided that the film production company certifies to the division that the series is intended to be produced in New Mexico.

History: Laws 2019, ch. 87, § 9; 2023, ch. 211, § 35.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, increased the nonresident crew credit, and rewrote the section.

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 43 provided:

A. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, § 9 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

B. The provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 211, §§ 31 through 35 apply to film production companies that commence principal photography for a film or commercial audiovisual product on or after July 1, 2023.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2006, ch. 78, § 3 repealed 7-2G-1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2005, ch. 337, § 1, relating to the New Mexico filmmaker tax credit, effective July 1, 2006. For provisions of former section, see the 2005 NMSA 1978 on the NMOneSource.com.

ARTICLE 2H

Native American Veterans' Income Tax Settlement Fund

7-2H-1. Legislative findings.

A. Native Americans have had a long history of serving their country through active duty in the armed forces of the United States during periods of both war and peace and have made great sacrifices in serving their country through active duty in the military during periods of war and peace.

B. Native American veterans domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during their periods of active military service may have been exempt from paying state personal income taxes on their military income, but may have had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income.

C. Native American veterans now are barred by the state statute of limitations from claiming refunds of state personal income taxes that may have been withheld from their military income when they were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty, and even if not barred by the statute of limitations, the passage of time extending to decades will make it difficult for many Native American veterans to meet strict standards of proof that they are entitled to a refund of withheld state personal income taxes.

D. It is incumbent upon the state to ensure that it was not unjustly enriched by the withholding of state personal income taxes from Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty, and the state should implement a feasible means of refunding to Native American veterans any state personal income taxes that were withheld from military income while they were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty.

History: Laws 2008, ch. 89, § 1; 2009, ch. 289, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Subsection B, after "veterans domiciled", deleted "on" and added "within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands" and after "personal income taxes", deleted "improperly"; in Subsection C, in two places, before "withheld", deleted "improperly"; and between "military income" and "and even if not barred", added new language; in Subsection D, in two places, before "withheld", deleted "improperly"; between "Native American veterans" and "and the state should implement", added new language; and after "withheld from military", added the remainder of the sentence.

7-2H-2. Definition.

As used in Chapter 7, Article 2H NMSA 1978, "fund" means the Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund.

History: Laws 2008, ch. 89, § 2; 2009, ch. 289, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, deleted Subsection A, which defined "department"; and deleted Subsection C, which defined "secretary".

7-2H-3. Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund; created; purpose; appropriations.

A. The "Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund" is created as a nonreverting fund in the state treasury and shall be administered by the taxation and revenue department. The fund shall consist of money that is appropriated or donated or that otherwise accrues to the fund.

B. The taxation and revenue department shall establish procedures and adopt rules as required to administer the fund and to make settlement payments from the fund as approved by the secretary of taxation and revenue.

C. Money in the fund is appropriated to the taxation and revenue department to make settlement payments to Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty and had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income, or to their heirs pursuant to applicable law. Settlement payments shall include the amount of state personal income taxes withheld from eligible Native American veterans that have not been previously refunded to the veterans and interest on the amount withheld from the date of withholding computed on a daily basis at the rate specified for individuals pursuant to Section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. No settlement payments shall be made for any taxable year for which a refund claim may be timely filed with the taxation and revenue department. Money shall be disbursed from the fund only on warrant of the secretary of finance and administration upon vouchers signed by the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's authorized representative. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund.

D. Beginning in fiscal year 2010 and in subsequent fiscal years, not more than five percent of the fund is appropriated from the fund to the taxation and revenue department for expenditure in the fiscal year in which it is appropriated to administer the fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall revert to the Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund.

E. Beginning in fiscal year 2010 and in subsequent fiscal years, not more than five percent of the fund is appropriated from the fund to the veterans' services department for expenditure in the fiscal year in which it is appropriated to assist in outreach and public relations and in determining eligibility for settlement payments. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall revert to the Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund.

History: Laws 2008, ch. 89, § 3; 2009, ch. 289, § 3; 2018, ch. 52, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2018 amendment, effective May 16, 2018, removed the time limit for filing an application for a settlement claim from the Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund; in Subsection C, after "timely filed with the taxation and revenue department", deleted "or for which an application for settlement is received after December 31, 2012"; in Subsection D, after "shall revert to the", added "Native American veterans' income tax settlement"; and in Subsection E, after "shall revert to the", added "Native American veterans' income tax settlement".

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Subsection A, deleted the last sentence, which provided for investment of money in the fund by the state investment council; in Subsection C, in the first sentence, between "Native American veterans who" and "and the state personal income tax", added new language; added the second and third sentences; and added Subsections D and E.

7-2H-4. Duties of the secretary.

A. The secretary of veterans' services shall conduct a study in cooperation with the taxation and revenue department to determine whether Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income and if so, to determine the amount of such state personal income taxes withheld and the number and identity of Native American veterans or their survivors affected by the withholding of such state personal income taxes.

B. The secretary of taxation and revenue and the secretary of veterans' services shall promulgate rules for a state program to compensate Native American veterans or their survivors for state personal income taxes withheld from military income while on active military duty and domiciled within the boundaries of the veteran's or the veteran's spouse's tribal lands.

C. The secretary of taxation and revenue shall report to the appropriate interim legislative committee no later than October 1 of each year regarding estimates of the amount of state personal income taxes withheld from the military income of Native American veterans domiciled on their respective tribal lands, the number of Native American veterans or their survivors affected by such withholding of state personal income taxes, total expenditures from the fund for the previous fiscal year and the anticipated appropriations to the fund needed to pay for settlements to be entered into for the next fiscal year.

History: Laws 2008, ch. 89, § 4; 2009, ch. 289, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Subsection A, after "secretary", added "of veterans' services"; after "Native American veterans who are domiciled", deleted "on" and added "within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's"; after "withheld from their", deleted "pay" and added "military income"; before "withheld", deleted "improperly"; and before "withholding", deleted "improper"; in Subsection B, after "The secretary", added "of taxation and revenue and the secretary of veterans' affairs"; before "withheld", deleted "improperly"; and after "active military duty", added the remainder of the sentence; and in Subsection C, after "The secretary", added "of taxation and revenue"; before "withheld", deleted "improperly"; and after "Native American veterans", added "domiciled on their respective tribal lands".

85 C.J.S. Taxation §§ 1779 to 1780.

7-3-2. Definitions.

As used in the Withholding Tax Act:

A. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

B. "employee" means either an individual domiciled within the state who performs services either within or without the state for an employer or, to the extent permitted by law, an individual domiciled outside of the state who performs services within the state for an employer;

C. "employer" means a person or an officer, agent or employee of that person having control of the payment of wages, doing business in or deriving income from sources within the state for whom an individual performs or performed any service as the employee of that person, except that if the person for whom the individual performs or performed the services does not have control over the payment of the wages for such services, "employer" means the person having control of the payment of wages;

D. "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

E. "payee" means an individual to whom a payor is making a pension or annuity payment;

F. "payor" means a person making payment of a pension or annuity to an individual domiciled in New Mexico;

G. "payroll period" means a period for which a payment of wages is made to an employee by the employee's employer;

H. "person" means an individual, a club, a company, a cooperative association, a corporation, an estate, a firm, a joint venture, a partnership, a receiver, a syndicate, a trust or other association, a limited liability company, a limited liability partnership or a gas, water or electric utility owned or operated by a county or municipality and, to the extent permitted by law, a federal, state or other governmental unit or subdivision or an agency, a department or an instrumentality thereof;

I. "wagerer" means any person who receives winnings that are subject to withholding;

J. "wages" means remuneration in cash or other form for services performed by an employee for an employer;

K. "winnings that are subject to withholding" means "winnings which are subject to withholding" as that term is defined in Section 3402 of the Internal Revenue Code;

L. "withholdee" means:

(1) an individual domiciled in New Mexico receiving a pension or annuity from which an amount of tax is deducted and withheld pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act;

(2) an employee; and

(3) a wagerer; and

M. "withholder" means a payor, an employer or any person required to deduct and withhold from winnings that are subject to withholding.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3-2, enacted by Laws 1990, ch. 64, § 1; 1996, ch. 16, § 3; 1999, ch. 14, § 1; 2000, ch. 33, § 3; 2002, ch. 9, § 1; 2010, ch. 53, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1990, ch. 64, § 1 repealed former 7-3-2 NMSA 1978, as amended by Laws 1986, ch. 20, § 54, and enacted the above section, effective July 1, 1990.

Cross references. — For Section 3402 of the Internal Revenue Code, see 26 U.S.C.S. § 3402.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, deleted former Subsection E, which defined "owner"; deleted former Subsection F, which defined "pass-through entity"; added Subsection E; in Subsection H, after "trust or other association", added "a limited liability company, a limited liability partnership or a gas, water or electric utility owned or operated by a county or municipality"; and relettered subsections accordingly.

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

The 2002 amendment, effective May 15, 2002, added Paragraph F(4).

The 2000 amendment, effective May 17, 2000, substituted "pass-through-entity" for "business association, other than a sole proprietorship, not taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes for the taxable year" at the end of Subsection E.

The 1999 amendment, effective June 18, 1999, added present Subsections E and F, and redesignated former Subsections E through L as Subsections G through N.

The 1996 amendment, effective April 1, 1996, added Subsections H and J and redesignated former Subsections H through J as Subsections I through L, and added Paragraph K(3).

7-3-3. Tax withheld at source.

A. Every employer who deducts and withholds a portion of an employee's wages for payment of income tax under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code shall deduct and withhold an amount for each payroll period computed from a state withholding tax table furnished by the department; provided:

(1) if the employee instructs the employer to withhold a greater amount, the employer shall deduct and withhold the greater amount;

(2) if the employee is not a resident of New Mexico and is to perform services in New Mexico for fifteen or fewer days cumulatively during the calendar year, the employer is not required to deduct and withhold an amount from that employee's wages; and

(3) if the aggregate monthly amount withheld under this section would be less than one dollar ($1.00) for an employee, the employer shall not be required to deduct and withhold wages in regard to that employee.

B. The department shall devise and furnish a state withholding tax table based on statutes made and provided to employers required to withhold amounts under this section. This table shall be devised to provide for a yearly aggregate withholding that will approximate the state income tax liability of average taxpayers in each exemption category.

C. If an individual requests in writing that the payor deduct and withhold an amount from the amount of the pension or annuity due the individual, the payor making payment of a pension or annuity to an individual domiciled in New Mexico shall deduct and withhold the amount requested to be deducted and withheld, provided that the payor is not required to deduct and withhold any amount less than ten dollars ($10.00) per payment. The written request shall include the payee's name, current address, taxpayer identification number and, if applicable, the contract, policy or account number to which the request applies.

D. Every person in New Mexico who is required by the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code to deduct and withhold federal tax from payment of winnings that are subject to withholding shall deduct and withhold from such payment a tax in an amount equal to six percent of the winnings, except that an Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or an agency, department, subdivision or instrumentality thereof is not required to deduct or withhold from payments made to members or spouses of members of that Indian nation, tribe or pueblo.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15-51, enacted by Laws 1961, ch. 243, § 3; 1990, ch. 64, § 2; 1995, ch. 11, § 9; 1996, ch. 16, § 4.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 4, effective June 29, 2020, provided:

A. Notwithstanding Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a taxpayer for:

(1) tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due April 15, 2020 through July 15, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid payments is made in full on or before April 15, 2021;

(2) tax liabilities pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021;

(3) gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts tax or compensating tax liabilities for failure to pay any of those taxes that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021; and

(4) tax liabilities assessed between September 3, 2019 and January 3, 2020 as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-11.1 NMSA 1978; provided that payment for those liabilities is made pursuant to terms of the managed audit agreement on or before December 31, 2020.

B. Notwithstanding Sections 7-38-49 and 7-38-50 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a property owner for unpaid property taxes that became due April 10, 2020 pursuant to Section 7-38-38 NMSA 1978; provided that:

(1) the unpaid property taxes did not become delinquent because of an intent to defraud by the property owner;

(2) payment for the unpaid property taxes is made in full on or before May 10, 2021; and

(3) the subject property does not have property taxes that became delinquent pursuant to Section 7-38-46 NMSA 1978 prior to May 10, 2020.

The 1996 amendment, effective April 1, 1996, added Subsection D.

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, designated the first sentence of Subsection A as Paragraph A(1) and added Paragraphs A(2) and A(3); designated the former second sentence of Subsection A as Subsection B and deleted a proviso at the end thereof which read "Provided that if that aggregate monthly amount withheld under this section would be less one dollar ($1.00) for an employee, the employer shall not be required to deduct and withhold wages in regard to that employee"; and redesignated former Subsection B as Subsection C and made a stylistic change therein.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, designated the former section as Subsection A; added Subsection B; and, in present Subsection A, substituted "department, provided that, if the employee instructs the employer to withhold a greater amount, the employer shall deduct and withhold the greater amount" for "bureau of revenue" at the end of the first sentence, substituted "department" for "bureau" in the second sentence, and substituted "one dollar ($1.00)" for "fifty cents ($.50)" in the fourth sentence.

7-3-6. Date payment due.

Taxes withheld under the provisions of the Withholding Tax Act must be paid on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month following the month when the taxes were required to be withheld.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3-6, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 25, § 1; 2000, ch. 33, § 4; 2010, ch. 53, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in the first sentence, deleted "Except for amounts withheld pursuant to the provisions of Section 7-3-12 NMSA 1978" and deleted the former last sentence, which provided that amounts withheld pursuant to Section 7-3-12 NMSA 1978 must be paid on or before the due date of the return for the pass-through entity.

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

The 2000 amendment, effective May 17, 2000, added the exception for amounts withheld pursuant to the provisions of 7-3-12 NMSA 1978 from the time period that taxes must be paid, and added the stipulation that such amounts must be paid on or before the due date of the return for the pass-through entity.

7-3-7. Statements of withholding.

A. Every employer shall file with the department an annual statement of withholding for each employee. The statement shall be in a form prescribed by the department, except employers with twenty-five or more employees shall file statements using a department-approved electronic medium. The statement shall be filed with the department on or before the last day of January of the year following that for which the statement is made. It shall include the total compensation paid the employee and the total amount of tax withheld for the calendar year or portion of a calendar year if the employee has worked less than a full calendar year.

B. Every payer shall file with the department an annual statement of withholding for each individual from whom some portion of a pension or an annuity has been deducted and withheld by that payer. The statement shall be in a form prescribed by the department, except employers with twenty-five or more employees shall file statements using a department-approved electronic medium. The statement shall be in a form prescribed by the department and shall be filed with the department on or before the last day of January of the year following that for which the statement is made. It shall include the total amount of pension or annuity paid to the individual and the amount of tax withheld for the calendar year.

C. Every person required to deduct and withhold tax from a payment of winnings that are subject to withholding shall file with the department an annual statement of withholding for each wagerer from whom some portion of a payment of winnings has been deducted and withheld by that person. The statement shall be filed using a department-approved electronic medium and shall be filed with the department on or before the last day of January of the year following that for which the statement is made. It shall include the total amount of winnings paid to the individual and the amount of tax withheld for the calendar year. The department may also require any person who is required to submit an information return to the internal revenue service regarding the winnings of another person to submit copies of the return to the department.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2018 amendment, effective May 16, 2018, required all employers to submit annually statements of withholding for each employee, and required certain employers to file statements of withholding electronically; in Subsection A, deleted "Except for employers required to file quarterly withholding information returns pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act or required to file a wage and contribution report to the workforce solutions department pursuant to Section 51-1-12 NMSA 1978", after "employer shall file", added "with the department", after "prescribed by the department", deleted "and" and added "except employers with twenty-five or more employees shall file statements using a department-approved electronic medium. The statement", and after "the last day of", deleted "February" and added "January"; in Subsection B, deleted "Except for payors who file the quarterly withholding information returns pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act", after "payor shall file", added "with the department", deleted "This" and added "The statement shall be in a form prescribed by the department, except employers with twenty-five or more employees shall file statements using a department-approved electronic medium. The", and after "before the last day of", deleted "February" and added "January"; and in Subsection C, after "shall file", added "with the department", after "The statement shall be", deleted "in a form prescribed by the department" and added "filed using a department-approved electronic medium", and after "before the last day of", deleted "February" and added "January".

Applicability. — Laws 2018, ch. 59, § 2 provided that the provisions of Laws 2018, ch. 59, § 1 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection A, in the first sentence, added the language preceding "every employer shall file an annual statement"; and in Subsection B, in the first sentence, added the language preceding "every payor shall file an annual statement".

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

The 1996 amendment, effective April 1, 1996, added Subsection C.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, designated the former section as Subsection A, substituting therein "department" for "bureau" in two places and "the last day of February" for "February 15" in the second sentence, and added Subsection B.

7-3-8. Annual statement of withholding and information regarding state assistance for low-income New Mexicans to be provided to withholdees.

On or before January 31 of the year following that for which the annual statement of withholding is made pursuant to Section 7-3-7 NMSA 1978, a withholder shall provide to a withholdee:

A. a copy of the annual statement of withholding; and

B. information regarding state assistance for low-income New Mexicans, including information regarding refundable tax rebates and credits for low-income filers provided by the state, such as the low-income comprehensive tax rebate and the working families tax credit. The information shall be provided in English and in Spanish on a form and in a manner required by the department, and the department shall make the information available on the department's website.

History: Laws 1999, ch. 205, § 1; 2003, ch. 2, § 7; 2019, ch. 270, § 14; 2021, ch. 116, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective June 18, 2021, required withholders of the withholding tax to provide to withholdees information regarding state assistance for low-income New Mexicans from the taxation and revenue department; in the section heading, deleted "Copy of the" and added "annual", after "statement of withholding", added "and information regarding state assistance for low-income New Mexicans", and after "to be", deleted "furnished the withholdee" and added "provided to withholdees"; in the introductory clause, deleted "A copy of the annual statement of withholding shall be furnished to the withholdee by the withholder", added "annual" preceding "statement", and after "statement", added "of withholding", and after "is made", added "pursuant to Section 7-3-7 NMSA 1978, a withholder shall provide to a withholdee"; and added Subsections A and B.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "withholdee" for "employee" in the section heading and in the text, and substituted "to the withholdee by the withholder" for "the employee" and "January 31" for "February 15".

7-3-9. Withheld amounts credited against tax.

The entire amount of income upon which tax was deducted and withheld shall be included in the gross income of the withholdee for state income tax purposes. The amount of tax deducted and withheld under the provisions of the Withholding Tax Act during the taxable year shall be credited against any state income tax liability for that taxable year.

ARTICLE 3A

Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax

7-3A-1. Short title.

Chapter 7, Article 3A NMSA 1978 may be referred to as the "Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act".

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-1, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 4; 2010, ch. 53, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, added "and Pass-Through Entity".

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

7-3A-2. Definitions.

As used in the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act:

A. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

B. "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

C. "net income" means, for any pass-through entity:

(1) in the case of an owner that is taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes, "net income" as defined in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978]; and

(2) for all other owners, "net income" as defined in the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978];

D. "oil and gas" means crude oil, natural gas, liquid hydrocarbons or any combination thereof, or carbon dioxide;

E. "oil and gas proceeds" means any amount derived from oil and gas production from any well located in New Mexico and payable as royalty interest, overriding royalty interest, production payment interest, working interest or any other obligation expressed as a right to a specified interest in the cash proceeds received from the sale of oil and gas production or in the cash value of that production, subject to all taxes withheld therefrom pursuant to law; "oil and gas proceeds" excludes "net profits interest" and other types of interest the extent of which cannot be determined with reference to a specified share of the oil and gas production and excludes any amounts deducted by the remitter from payments to interest owners or paid by interest owners to the remitter that are for expenses related to the production from the well or cessation of production from the well for which the interest owner is liable;

F. "owner" means a partner in a partnership not taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes for the taxable year, a shareholder of an S corporation or of a corporation other than an S corporation that is not taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes for the taxable year, a member of a limited liability company or any similar person holding an ownership interest in any pass-through entity. "Owner" also means a performing artist to whom payments are due from a personal services business;

G. "partnership" means a combination of persons, including a partnership, joint venture, common trust fund, association, pool or working agreement, or any other combination of persons that is treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes;

H. "pass-through entity" means a personal services business or any other business association other than:

- (1) a sole proprietorship;
- (2) an estate or trust that does not distribute income to beneficiaries;
- (3) a corporation, limited liability company, partnership or other entity not a sole proprietorship taxed as a corporation for federal income tax purposes for the taxable year;
- (4) a partnership that is organized as an investment partnership in which the partners' income is derived solely from interest, dividends and sales of securities;
- (5) a single member limited liability company that is treated as a disregarded entity for federal income tax purposes; or
- (6) a publicly traded partnership as defined in Subsection (b) of Section 7704 of the Internal Revenue Code;

I. "person" means an individual, club, company, cooperative association, corporation, estate, firm, joint venture, partnership, receiver, syndicate, trust or other association, limited liability company, limited liability partnership or gas, water or electric utility owned or operated by a county or municipality and, to the extent permitted by law, a federal, state or other governmental unit or subdivision or an agency, a department or an instrumentality thereof;

J. "personal services business" means a business organization that receives payments for the services of a performing artist for purposes of the film production tax credit;

K. "remittee" means a person that is entitled to payment of oil and gas proceeds by a remitter; and

L. "remitter" means a person that pays oil and gas proceeds to any remittee.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-2, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 5; 2010, ch. 53, § 9; 2011, ch. 177, § 5; 2012, ch. 40, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Section 7704 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, see 26 U.S.C. § 7704.

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, redefined "net income" as defined in New Mexico income tax acts rather than as "net income" for federal income tax purposes; and in Subsection C, deleted former language that defined "net income" as income reported for federal income tax purposes, and added Paragraphs (1) and (2).

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, defined "owner" to include performing artists who are paid by a personal services business; defined "pass-through entity" to include personal services businesses; and added a definition of "personal services business".

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in the introductory sentence, added "and Pass-Through Entity"; added Subsections B and C; in Subsection E, after "a specified share of the oil and gas production", added the remainder of the sentence; added Subsections F, G and H; in Subsection I, after "trust or other association", added "limited liability company, limited liability partnership or gas, water, or electric utility owned or operated by a county or municipality"; and relettered subsections accordingly.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-3. Withholding from oil and gas proceeds and net income.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a remitter shall deduct and withhold from each payment of oil and gas proceeds being made to a remittee for each quarter an amount equal to the rate specified in Subsection D of this section multiplied by the amount prior to withholding that otherwise would have been payable to the remittee.

B. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a pass-through entity shall deduct and withhold from each owner's allocable share of net income for that calendar year an amount equal to the rate specified in Subsection D of this section multiplied by the owner's allocable share of that net income, reduced, but not below zero, by the amount required to be withheld from the owner's allocable share of net income under Subsection A of this section.

C. The obligation to deduct and withhold from payments or allocable net income as provided in Subsections A and B of this section does not apply to payments that are made to:

(1) a corporation whose principal place of business is in New Mexico or an individual who is a resident of New Mexico;

(2) remittees with a New Mexico address as shown on internal revenue service form 1099-Misc or a successor form or on a pro forma 1099-Misc or a successor form for those entities that do not receive an internal revenue service form 1099-Misc;

(3) the United States, this state or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision of either;

(4) any federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision thereof; or

(5) organizations that have been granted exemption from the federal income tax by the United States commissioner of internal revenue as organizations described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. However, the obligation to deduct and withhold from payments of allocable net income to organizations identified in this paragraph applies if that income constitutes unrelated business income.

D. Except as provided in Subsection H of this section, the rate of withholding shall be set by a department directive; provided that the rate may not exceed the higher of the maximum bracket rate set by Section 7-2-7 NMSA 1978 for the taxable year or the maximum bracket rate set by Section 7-2A-5 NMSA 1978 for the taxable year; and provided further that remitters shall be given ninety days' notice of a change in the rate.

E. If a remitter receives oil and gas proceeds from which an amount has been deducted and withheld pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act or a pass-through entity has deducted and withheld an amount pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act from the allocable share of net income of an owner that is also a pass-through entity, the remitter or payee pass-through entity may take credit for that amount in determining the amount the remitter or payee pass-through entity must withhold and deduct pursuant to this section.

F. If the amount to be withheld from all payments to a remittee in a calendar quarter has not exceeded thirty dollars ($30.00) and a payment to a remittee is less than ten dollars ($10.00), no withholding is required. If the amount to be withheld from an owner's allocable share of net income in any calendar year is less than one hundred dollars ($100), no withholding is required.

G. Except as provided in Subsection H of this section, at the option of a remitter or pass-through entity, a remitter or pass-through entity may agree with a remittee or an owner that the remittee or owner pay the amount that the remitter or pass-through entity would have been required to withhold and remit to the department on behalf of the remittee or owner pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act. The payments by the remittee or owner shall be remitted on the dates set forth in Section 7-3A-6 NMSA 1978 on forms and in the manner required by the department.

H. Excluding wages, a personal services business shall deduct and withhold an amount equal to the owner's allocable share of net income multiplied by the highest rate for single individuals provided in Section 7-2-7 NMSA 1978.

I. If the remittee or owner is an insurance company and falls under the provisions of Section 59A-6-6 NMSA 1978, no withholding is required pursuant to this section.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-3, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 6; 2010, ch. 53, § 10; 2011, ch. 177, § 6; 2012, ch. 40, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, required quarterly withholding; exempted payment to remitees with a New Mexico address from withholding; required withholding if payments to charitable organizations constitute unrelated business income; increased the minimum annual amount that required withholding; exempted payments to insurance companies from withholding; in Subsection A, after "being made to a remittee", added "for each quarter"; in Subsection B, after "and withhold from each owner's" added "allocable"; after "income for that", deleted "quarter" and added "calendar", after "multiplied by the owner's" added "allocable", and after "to be withheld from the owner's" added "allocable share of"; in Subsection C, in the introductory sentence, after "payments or", added "allocable", added Paragraph (2), and in Paragraph (5), added the last sentence; deleted former Subsection E, which required a pass-through entity that had been in existence for one full taxable year to compute withholding based on the net income of the entity for the preceding year; in Subsection E, after "Tax Act from the", added "allocable share of"; in Subsection F, in the second sentence, after "from an owner's", added "allocable", after "in any calendar", deleted "quarter" and added "year", and after "is less than", deleted "thirty dollars ($30.00)" and added "one hundred dollars ($100.00)"; in Subsection H, after "equal to the owner's", added "allocable"; and added Subsection I.

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, required personal services businesses to deduct and withhold income tax from payments to performing artists.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection A, after "Subsection", changed "C" to "D"; after "multiplied by the", deleted "gross"; and after "multiplied by the amount", added "prior to withholding"; added Subsection B; in Subsection C, after "withhold from payments", added "or net income" and after "as provided in", changed "Subsection A of this section" to "Subsections A and B of this section"; in Paragraph (1) of Subsection C, deleted "remitees with a New Mexico address as shown on internal revenue service form 1099-MISC or successor form" and added "a corporation whose principal place of business is in New Mexico or an individual who is a resident of New Mexico"; in Subsection D, after "The rate of withholding", deleted "is six and three-fourths percent for the period October 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004. Thereafter the rate shall be set by department regulation." and added "shall be set by a department directive"; added Subsections E and F; in Subsection G, in the first sentence, added "all payments to a remittee in a calendar quarter has not exceeded thirty dollars ($30.00) and" and added the last sentence; and added Subsection H.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-4. Deductions considered taxes.

Amounts deducted under the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act are a collected tax. A remittee who receives payment of oil and gas proceeds or an owner with an allocable share of net income does not have a right of action against the remitter or pass-through entity for the amount deducted and withheld from the oil and gas proceeds or an allocable share of net income.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-4, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 7; 2010, ch. 53, § 11; 2012, ch. 40, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, measured net income by allocable shares and in the second sentence, after "or an owner with", deleted "a" and added "an allocable" and after the "gas proceeds or", added "an allocable share of".

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in the first sentence, added "and Pass-Through Entity" and in the second sentence, after "payment of oil and gas proceeds", added "or an owner with a share of net income"; after "against the remitter", added "or pass-through entity"; and after "withheld from oil and gas proceeds", added "or net income".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-5. Remitters and pass-through entities liable for amounts deducted and withheld; exceptions.

A. Every remitter or pass-through entity is liable for:

(1) amounts required to be deducted and withheld by the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act regardless of whether the amounts were in fact deducted and withheld; and

(2) for the amounts that a remittee or an owner has agreed to remit pursuant to Subsection G of Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978, once the department has notified the remitter or pass-through entity that the remittee or owner has failed to remit.

B. A remitter or pass-through entity is not liable for amounts required to be deducted and withheld by the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act but not deducted or withheld if:

(1) the remitter or pass-through entity fails to deduct and withhold the required amounts and if the tax against which the required amounts would have been credited is paid; or

(2) the remitter's or pass-through entity's failure to deduct and withhold the required amounts is due to reasonable cause.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-5, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 8; 2010, ch. 53, § 12; 2012, ch. 40, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, eliminated changes in net income for federal income tax purposes as an exception to liability for withholding and deleted former Subsection C, which provided that changes in net income due to a timely election for federal income tax purposes was reasonable cause for failing to withhold.

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in the catchline, changed "Remitter" to "Remitters and pass-through entities"; in Subsection A, in the introductory sentence, added "or pass-through entity"; in Subsection A(1), after "Oil and Gas Proceeds", added "and Pass-Through Entity" and after "deducted and withheld", deleted "except that" and added "and"; added Paragraph (2) of Subsection A; added the introductory sentence of Subsection B; in Subsection B(1), after "the remitter", added "or pass-through entity" and after "have been credited is paid", deleted "the remitter shall not be liable for those amounts not deducted and withheld"; in Subsection B(2), after "the remitter's", added "or pass-through entity's" and after "reasonable cause", deleted "such as reliance on addresses supplied by remitees, the remitter shall not be liable for amounts not deducted and withheld"; and added Subsection C.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-6. Date payment due; form.

A. Amounts withheld under the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act by a remitter are due on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month following the end of the calendar quarter when the taxes were required to be withheld.

B. Amounts withheld under the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act by a pass-through entity are due on or before the due date of the federal tax return required for the pass-through entity.

C. The amount withheld shall be remitted on a form and in a manner required by the department, provided that amounts withheld and remitted from oil and gas proceeds are kept distinct from every other tax or withheld amount.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-6, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 9; 2010, ch. 53, § 13; 2012, ch. 40, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, established a payment due date and added a new Subsection B and relettered former Subsection B as Subsection C.

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection A, after the phrase “Oil and Gas Proceeds”, adds the phrase “and Pass-Through Entity”.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-7. Statements of withholding.

A. Every remitter shall:

(1) file an annual statement of withholding for each remittee that:

(a) is in electronic format and includes a form 1099-Misc or a successor form or on a pro forma 1099-Misc or a successor form for those entities that do not receive an internal revenue service form 1099-Misc;

(b) is filed with the department on or before the last day of February of the year following that for which the statement is made; and

(c) includes the total oil and gas proceeds paid to the remittee and the total amount of tax withheld for the calendar year; and

(2) provide a copy of the annual statement of withholding to the remittee on or before February 15 of the year following the year for which the statement is made.

B. The department shall develop and adopt rules regarding the filing of a report pursuant to this section and the attachment of form 1099-Misc or a successor form or a pro forma 1099-Misc or a successor form, if the remitter is not able to file those forms in an electronic format.

C. Every remitter shall file an electronic report of the remitees who have certified that the remittee is responsible for filing the remittee's own oil and gas proceeds tax report and for paying the remittee's oil and gas proceeds tax liability due.

D. Every pass-through entity doing business in New Mexico shall:

(1) file an annual information return with the department that:

(a) is filed on or before: 1) the due date of the entity's federal return for the taxable year; or 2) if the entity's taxable year is a calendar year, if the entity is approved by the department to use electronic media for filing and if the entity uses electronic media to file the annual information return, the end of the month in which the entity's federal return is due;

(b) is signed by the business manager or one of the owners of the pass-through entity; and

(c) contains all information required by the department, including the pass-through entity's gross income; the pass-through entity's net income; the amount of each owner's allocable share of the pass-through entity's net income; and the name, address and tax identification number of each owner entitled to an allocable share of net income; and

(2) provide to each of its owners sufficient information to enable the owner to comply with the provisions of the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] and the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978] with respect to the owner's allocable share of net income.

E. The department shall compile each year the annual statements of withholding received from the remitters and the annual information returns received from pass-through entities and compare the compilations with the records of corporations, individuals, estates or trusts filing income tax returns.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-7, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 10; 2010, ch. 53, § 14; 2012, ch. 40, § 6; 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective September 6, 2015, amended the deadline for filing an annual information return by a pass-through entity doing business in New Mexico; in Subparagraph D(1)(a), after "on or before", added "1)", and after "the taxable year;", added "or 2) if the entity's taxable year is a calendar year, if the entity is approved by the department to use electronic media for filing and if the entity uses electronic media to file the annual information return, the end of the month in which the entity's federal return is due".

Applicability. — Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 25 provided that the provisions of Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 5 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, required electronic filing of statements of withholding; provides for filing of reports if a remitter cannot file electronically; provided for filing by a remitter of reports if a remittee is responsible for filing a report and paying the tax due; in Subsection A, in Paragraph (1), in Subparagraph (a), after "is in", deleted "a form prescribed by the department" and added the remainder of the sentence; added new Subsections B and C and relettered the succeeding subsections; and in Subsection D, in Paragraph (1), in Subparagraph (c), after "each owner's", added "allocable" and after "owner entitled to", added "an allocable"; and in Paragraph (2), after "to the owner's", added "allocable".

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection A(1), after "each remittee", deleted "This statement shall be" and added "that"; in Subsection A(1)(a), at the beginning of the sentence, added "is" and after "department", deleted "and shall be"; in Subsection A(1)(b), at the beginning of the sentence, added "is" and after "statement is made", deleted "It shall include" and added "and"; in Subsection A(1)(c), at the beginning of the sentence, added "includes" and after "calendar year", deleted the former last sentence, which provided that the department shall compile each year the annual statements received from remitters and compare the compilation with records of individuals, estates or trusts filing income tax returns; in Subsection A(2), at the beginning of the sentence, added "provide a", after "statement of withholding", deleted "shall be furnished"; and after "to the remittee", deleted "by the remitter"; and added Subsections B and C.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-8. Withheld amounts credited against income tax.

The entire amount of oil and gas proceeds and an allocable share of net income upon which the tax was deducted and withheld or upon which payments were made by owners in lieu of withholding shall be included in the base income of the remittee for purposes of the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978] and the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978]. The amount of tax deducted and withheld or payments made by owners in lieu of withholding pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act during the taxable year shall be credited against any income tax or corporate income tax due from the remittee or owner.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-8, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 11; 2010, ch. 53, § 15; 2012, ch. 40, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2012 amendment, effective May 16, 2012, measured net income by allocable shares and in the first sentence, after "gas proceeds and", added "an allocable share of".

Applicability. — Laws 2012, ch. 40, § 8 provided that the provisions of Laws 2012, ch. 40, §§ 1 through 7 are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2012.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in the first sentence, after "oil and gas proceeds", added "and net income" and after "deducted and withheld", added "or upon which payments were made by owners in lieu of withholding"; and in the second sentence, after "deducted and withheld", added "or payments made by owners in lieu of withholding"; after "Oil and Gas Proceeds", added "and Pass-Through Entity"; and after "tax due from the remittee", added "or owner".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

7-3A-9. Interpretation of act; administration and enforcement of act; report to legislature.

A. The department shall interpret the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

B. The department shall administer and enforce the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act, and the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978] applies to the administration and enforcement of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

C. No later than December 1 of each year, the department shall submit a report to the legislature showing:

(1) the total amount of taxes withheld by remitters and paid to the department during the previous calendar year pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act; and

(2) the amount of taxes withheld by remitters pursuant to the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act that were credited against income taxes or corporate income taxes by remitees during the previous calendar year.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-3A-9, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 86, § 12; 2010, ch. 53, § 16; 2011, ch. 139, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, added Subsection C to require the department to submit a report to the legislature relating to the amount of taxes withheld from oil and gas proceeds.

The 2010 amendment, effective May 19, 2010, in Subsection A, added "and Pass-Through Entity"; and in Subsection B, after "enforce the Oil and Gas Proceeds", added "and Pass-Through Entity" and after "enforcement of the Oil and Gas Proceeds", added "and Pass-Through Entity".

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 17 provided that for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2011, but before January 1, 2012, no remitter or pass-through entity shall be subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 7-1-69 NMSA 1978 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Oil and Gas Proceeds and Pass-Through Entity Withholding Tax Act.

Applicability. — Laws 2010, ch. 53, § 19 provided that the provisions of this act are applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2011.

7-3A-10. Election of entity-level tax; credit.

A. A pass-through entity may elect on an annual basis to pay a tax at the entity level for a taxable year. The tax that may elected to be paid pursuant to this section may be referred to as the "entity-level tax".

B. A pass-through entity electing to pay the entity-level tax shall make the election by filing a complete entity-level tax return with the department in the form and manner as prescribed by the department. The election shall be binding on all owners of the electing pass-through entity. The return shall be filed no later than the original or extended due date of the entity's federal partnership or S corporation return for the taxable year. Payment of the entity-level tax shall accompany or precede the filing of the return.

C. The entity-level tax is imposed on the distributed net income of the pass-through entity for the taxable year. The rate of entity-level tax is equal to the higher of the maximum tax rate imposed pursuant to Section 7-2-7 NMSA 1978 or the maximum tax rate imposed pursuant to Section 7-2A-5 NMSA 1978 for the taxable year.

D. Distributed net income of a pass-through entity shall equal the amount allocated and apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act [Chapter 7, Article 4 NMSA 1978] from the following:

(1) the total income of the pass-through entity properly reported for federal income tax purposes plus, for partnerships, the amount of guaranteed payments other than premiums for health insurance paid by the partnership on behalf of a partner, less the net income or guaranteed payments properly allocated or made to:

(a) the United States, this state or a political subdivision of either;

(b) a federally recognized Indian nation, tribe or pueblo located wholly or partially in New Mexico, or any political subdivision thereof;

(c) an organization that has been granted exemption from the federal income tax by the United States commissioner of internal revenue as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(d) a corporate partner that would properly include the income in the partner's New Mexico tax return as part of the partner's unitary business income; or

(e) a pass-through entity that is an owner of the electing pass-through entity;
and

(2) less the amount of net capital gains that may be deducted pursuant to Section 7-2-34 NMSA 1978 and is properly allocated to owners who are subject to tax pursuant to the Income Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2 NMSA 1978].

E. A net operating loss shall not be included in the distributed net income calculated pursuant to Subsection D of this section but may be carried forward until exhausted.

F. Pass-through entities electing to pay the entity-level tax shall make estimated payments of the tax on forms and in the manner as determined by the department. Amounts remitted pursuant to Subsection B of Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978 by entities electing to pay the entity-level tax shall be deemed payments of estimated entity-level tax.

G. If, for a taxable year, the sum of the estimated payments of tax made by a pass-through entity pursuant to Subsection F of this section exceeds the amount of entity-level tax owed, the pass-through entity may apply for a refund of the difference. If, for a taxable year, the entity-level tax owed by a pass-through entity exceeds the sum of the estimated payments made by the pass-through entity, the pass-through entity shall remit the difference on or before the date the pass-through entity's entity-level tax is due.

H. An owner of a pass-through entity electing to pay the tax imposed under this section may be allowed a tax credit in an amount equal to the owner's share of the tax; provided that the pass-through entity paid the tax and furnished sufficient information on the pass-through entity's tax return to identify that owner. If the amount of the credit exceeds the amount of the owner's tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978], the excess shall be refunded to the owner.

I. As used in this section:

(1) "guaranteed payments" means the guaranteed payments described in Section 707(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, as that section may be amended or renumbered;

(2) "net capital gain" means "net capital gain" as defined in Section 1222(11) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(3) "net operating loss" means "net operating loss" as defined in Section 7-2-2 NMSA 1978; and

(4) "pass-through entity" means a partnership or corporation that elects to pass income, losses, deductions and credits through to the entity's owners for federal tax purposes.

History: Laws 2022, ch. 46, § 3 2023, ch. 159, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, converted a certain exemption to a credit for pass-through entities that elect to pay an entity-level tax, and defined "guaranteed payments," "net capital gain" and "net operating loss" as used in this section; in the section heading, added "credit"; in Subsection B, added "The election shall be binding on all owners of the electing pass-through entity."; in Subsection D, in the introductory clause, after "shall equal the amount", deleted "of net" and added "allocated and apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act from the following"; redesignated former Paragraphs D(1) through D(4) as Subparagraphs D(1)(a) through D(1)(d), respectively; in Paragraph D(1), added "the total", and deleted "allocated and apportioned to New Mexico pursuant to the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act, less allocations of net income from that amount to" and added "properly reported for federal income tax purposes plus, for partnerships, the amount of guaranteed payments other than premiums for health insurance paid by the partnership on behalf of a partner, less the net income or guaranteed payments properly allocated or made to"; added Subparagraphs D(1)(e); added Paragraph D(2); added a new Subsection E and redesignated former Subsections E and F as Subsections F and G, respectively; in Subsection F, deleted "at the same time and in the same amounts as the withholding required by Subsection B of Section 7-3A-3 NMSA 1978" and added "on forms and in the manner as determined by the department"; and added Subsections H and I.

Applicability. — Laws 2023, ch. 159, § 5 provided that the provisions of Laws 2023, ch. 159 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

7-4-2. Definitions.

As used in the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act:

A. "business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business and income from the disposition or liquidation of a business or segment of a business. "Business income" includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management or disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operations;

B. "commercial domicile" means the principal place from which the trade or business of the taxpayer is directed or managed;

C. "compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

D. "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;

E. "nonbusiness income" means all income other than business income;

F. "sales" means all gross receipts of the taxpayer not allocated under Sections 7-4-5 through 7-4-9 NMSA 1978 of the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act;

G. "secretary" means the secretary of taxation and revenue or a division director delegated by the secretary; and

H. "state" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-17, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 2; 1986, ch. 20, § 55; 1999, ch. 47, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1999 amendment, effective June 18, 1999, in Subsection A inserted "income from the disposition or liquidation of a business or segment of a business. 'Business income'" and made minor stylistic changes.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

"Transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business" means business deals and the performance of a specific function in the normal, typical, customary or accustomed policy or procedure of the taxpayer's trade or business. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70; Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

II. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES.

Fairly apportioned tax constitutional. — When the apportioned tax is only on that portion of taxpayer's income that fairly represents the extent of taxpayer's business activities in this state, tax is not violative of the due process or commerce clauses of the federal constitution. Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Taxation of dividends from foreign subsidiary. — The right of a state to tax dividends from foreign subsidiaries must be considered in relation to the due process requirements that the income attributed to a state for tax purposes be rationally related to values connected with the taxing state. F.W. Woolworth Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 458 U.S. 354, 102 S. Ct. 3128, 73 L. Ed. 2d 819, reh'g denied, 459 U.S. 961, 103 S. Ct. 274, 74 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1982).

Taxation of income from foreign tax credit. — A foreign tax credit arising from the taxation by foreign nations of a corporation's foreign subsidiaries that had no unitary business relationship with the state, efforts by the state to tax this income "deemed received" - with respect to which the state contributed nothing - were held to contravene the due process clause. F.W. Woolworth Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 458 U.S. 354, 102 S. Ct. 3128, 73 L. Ed. 2d 819, reh'g denied, 459 U.S. 961, 103 S. Ct. 274, 74 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1982).

III. BUSINESS INCOME.

All income of business organization is not "business income"; business income must arise from the regular course of business. Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Business income must arise from such transactions. — To constitute business income the income must arise from transactions and activity in the regular course of a trade or business. McVean & Barlow, Inc. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-128, 88 N.M. 521, 543 P.2d 489, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 6, 546 P.2d 71.

Factors pertinent in determining if income is business income. — Pertinent in determining whether income arises from transactions in the regular course of business is the nature of the particular transaction and former practices of the business entity; also pertinent is how the income is used. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70; Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Use of investment income. — The use to which a multistate corporation put its investment income was determinative of whether it was business income. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Determination of business income. — Use to which income is put determines whether it is business income. Tipperary Corp. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Short-term investment income held business income. — Since a multistate corporation derived interest income from capital earned in its business, rather than having a large cash balance in the bank, purchasing short-term investments and highly liquid assets from which the interest was derived, money from which short-term investments was needed for future business activity, such investment was a specific function of the corporation, and that it was usual and customary in the corporation's business to follow this practice, whenever there was enough money or business income that was not immediately needed in the business, and therefore the investment income was business income. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Rent of part of office space held business income. — Although a multistate corporate taxpayer claimed that income derived from rent of 5% of its total office space was not "business income" because it was not in the business of renting real estate, the most reasonable inference to be drawn from the record is that rental of available office space was a customary procedure, done in the regular course of the taxpayer's business, and since there was no evidence in the record to contradict this inference, the rental income was held to be "business income." Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Income from sale of telephone poles by paper company held business income. — Since a multistate corporation manufactured wood and paper products from timber on land owned or leased by it, and sold some of its logs to telephone utilities for use as telephone poles and the sale of logs was a normal, customary procedure in the taxpayer's business for the year in question and had been for several years, the income arising therefrom was income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

When coal lease sale in regular course of business. — Since taxpayer is in the business of exploration and development of oil, gas and minerals, the sale of the coal leases is in the regular course of this business. Tipperary Corp. v. New Mexico Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Coal lease sale taxable. — Since taxpayer's business is unitary and since a gain from the sale of its coal leases is business income under Subsection A of this section, this state can tax a percentage of this income. Tipperary Corp. v. New Mexico Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-031, 93 N.M. 22, 595 P.2d 1212, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 675, 593 P.2d 1078.

Income from coal dragline leases held business income. — Oil company's income from its dragline leases was business income because the leases generated substantial capital for the company's general business purposes, and the leases were ongoing, recurring transactions constituting a regular or customary portion of company's overall business, which contributed to the company's economic enterprise as a whole. Kewanee Indus., Inc. v. Reese, 1993-NMSC-006, 114 N.M. 784, 845 P.2d 1238.

Income from liquidation of part of business held not business income. — Since the taxpayer was not in the business of buying and selling pipeline equipment and the transaction in question was a partial liquidation of taxpayer's business and a total cessation and liquidation of one facet of the business, the sale of equipment did not constitute an integral part of the regular trade or business operations of taxpayer and the proceeds thereof were not business income. McVean & Barlow, Inc. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-128, 88 N.M. 521, 543 P.2d 489, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 6, 546 P.2d 71.

IV. UNITARY BUSINESS PRINCIPLE.

Underlying unitary business required. — The linchpin of apportionability for state income taxation of an interstate enterprise is the unitary-business principle. F.W. Woolworth Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 458 U.S. 354, 102 S. Ct. 3128, 73 L. Ed. 2d 819, reh'g denied, 459 U.S. 961, 103 S. Ct. 274, 74 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1982).

Derivation of dividend income from subsidiaries. — The potential to operate a company as part of a unitary business is not dispositive when, looking at the underlying economic realities of a unitary business, the dividend income from subsidiaries in fact is derived from unrelated business activity which constitutes a discrete business enterprise. F.W. Woolworth Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 458 U.S. 354, 102 S. Ct. 3128, 73 L. Ed. 2d 819, reh'g denied, 459 U.S. 961, 103 S. Ct. 274, 74 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1982).

Existence of underlying unitary business. — When, except for the type of occasional oversight - with respect to capital structure, major debt, and dividends - that any parent gives to an investment in a subsidiary, there is little or no integration of business activities or centralization of management of the parent company and its foreign subsidiaries, there is no underlying unitary business that would justify the state's taxing of dividends from the foreign subsidiaries. F.W. Woolworth Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 458 U.S. 354, 102 S. Ct. 3128, 73 L. Ed. 2d 819, reh'g denied, 459 U.S. 961, 103 S. Ct. 274, 74 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1982).

Multistate business may be unitary or independent. — A multistate business is a "unitary business" for income tax purposes when operations conducted in one state benefit and are in turn benefited by operations in another state, and if its various parts are interdependent and of mutual benefit so as to form one integral business rather than several business entities, it is unitary. On the other hand, if a multistate business enterprise is conducted in a way that one, some or all of the business operations outside New Mexico are independent of and do not contribute to the business operations within this state, the factors attributable to the outside activity may be excluded. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

Taxpayer must show business independent to exclude income. — Where a multistate corporation challenged commissioner's allocation of certain interest, rent and gains to business income, but failed to produce evidence that its business activity outside of New Mexico was dependent or independent of its instate operations, or that the interest, rent and gains income was not an integral part of its business carried on in this state, no question was raised whether any of its income was nonbusiness income because there was no evidence that its activities were not part of a unitary business, and therefore the assessed additional corporate income tax was affirmed. Champion Int'l Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-106, 88 N.M. 411, 540 P.2d 1300, cert. denied, 89 N.M. 5, 546 P.2d 70.

7-4-4. When taxable in another state.

For purposes of allocation and apportionment of income under the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act, a taxpayer is taxable in another state if:

A. in that state he is subject to a net income tax, a franchise tax measured by net income, a franchise tax for the privilege of doing business, or a corporate stock tax; or

B. that state has jurisdiction to subject the taxpayer to a net income tax, regardless of whether the state does or does not.

7-4-6. Allocation of rents and royalties.

A. Net rents and royalties from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

B. Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this state:

(1) if and to the extent that the property is utilized in this state; or

(2) in their entirety if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not organized under the laws of or taxable in the state in which the property is utilized.

C. The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the taxpayer, tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

B. A patent is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, or other processing in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from patent royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the patent is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

C. A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

7-4-10. Apportionment of business income.

A. Except as provided in Subsections B and C of this section, all business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor and the denominator of which is three.

B. If eighty percent or more of the New Mexico numerators of the property and payroll factors for a filing group, or for a taxpayer that is not a member of a filing group, are employed in manufacturing or operating a computer processing facility, the filing group or the taxpayer may elect to have business income apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by the sales factor for the taxable year.

C. If a filing group, or a taxpayer that is not a member of a filing group, has a headquarters operation in New Mexico, the filing group or the taxpayer may elect to have business income apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by the sales factor for the taxable year.

D. To elect the method of apportionment provided by Subsection B or C of this section, the taxpayer shall notify the department of the election, in writing, no later than the date on which the taxpayer files the return for the first taxable year to which the election will apply. The election shall apply as follows:

(1) if the election is made for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 2020, to the taxable year in which the election is made and to each taxable year thereafter for three years, or until the taxable year ending prior to January 1, 2020, whichever is earlier;

(2) if the election is made for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2020, to the taxable year in which the election is made and to each taxable year thereafter until the taxpayer notifies the department, in writing, that the election is terminated, except that the taxpayer shall not terminate the election until the method of apportioning business income provided by Subsection B or C of this section has been used by the taxpayer for at least three consecutive taxable years, including a total of at least thirty-six calendar months; and

(3) if the election is made by a qualifying filing group, the election shall apply to the members of the filing group properly included pursuant to Section 7-2A-8.3 NMSA 1978.

E. For purposes of this section:

(1) "filing group" means "filing group" as that term is defined in the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 2A NMSA 1978];

(2) "headquarters operation" means:

(a) the center of operations of a business: 1) where corporate staff employees are physically employed; 2) where the centralized functions are primarily performed, including administrative, planning, managerial, human resources, purchasing, information technology and accounting, but not including operating a call center; 3) the function and purpose of which is to manage and direct most aspects and functions of the business operations within a subdivided area of the United States; 4) from which final authority over regional or subregional offices, operating facilities and any other offices of the business are issued; and 5) including national and regional headquarters if the national headquarters is subordinate only to the ownership of the business or its representatives and the regional headquarters is subordinate to the national headquarters; or

(b) the center of operations of a business: 1) the function and purpose of which is to manage and direct most aspects of one or more centralized functions; and 2) from which final authority over one or more centralized functions is issued;

(3) "manufacturing" means combining or processing components or materials to increase their value for sale in the ordinary course of business, but does not include:

(a) construction;

(b) farming;

(c) power generation; provided that "manufacturing" includes electricity generation at a facility that does not require location approval and a certificate of convenience and necessity prior to commencing construction or operation of the facility pursuant to the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 to 13 of NMSA 1978];

(d) processing natural resources, including hydrocarbons; or

(e) processing or preparation of meals for immediate consumption; and

(4) "operating a computer processing facility" means managing the necessary and ancillary activities for the operation of a facility primarily used to process data or information, but does not include managing the operation of facilities that are predominantly used to support sales of tangible property or the provision of banking, financial or professional services.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-4-10, enacted by Laws 1993, ch. 153, § 1; 2001, ch. 57, § 1; 2001, ch. 284, § 3; 2001, ch. 337, § 1; 2002, ch. 37, § 6; 2009, ch. 147, § 1; 2013, ch. 160, § 7; 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 6; 2019, ch. 270, § 21; 2020, ch. 80, § 3; 2024, ch. 67, § 31.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1993, ch. 153, § 1, repealed 7-4-10 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1985, ch. 203, § 10, and enacted a new section, effective June 18, 1993.

Repeals. — Laws 2001, ch. 337, § 7 repealed Laws 1999, ch. 35, § 1, which would have repealed this section, effective January 1, 2003.

Laws 2001, ch. 57, § 1 and Laws 2001, ch. 284, § 3 were repealed by Laws 2002, ch. 37, § 9, effective May 15, 2002.

The 2024 amendment, effective May 15, 2024, removed the sunset date on a provision that defined "manufacturing" for purposes of this section, to permit certain electrical energy generators to use a single sales factor in calculating the amount of business income tax; and in Subsection E, Subparagraph E(3)(c), after "provided that", deleted "for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 2024".

Applicability. — Laws 2024, ch. 67, § 42 provided that the provisions of Laws 2024, ch. 67, §§ 7, 9 and 23 through 31 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

The 2020 amendment, effective May 20, 2020, revised the definition of "manufacturing" as used in the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act; in Subsection B, after "manufacturing", added "or operating a computer processing facility"; and in Subsection E, Paragraph E(3), in the introductory clause, after "means", deleted "operating a computer processing facility or", and in Subparagraph E(3)(c), deleted "electric", and after "power generation", added "provided that for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 2024, 'manufacturing' includes electricity generation at a facility that does not require location approval and a certificate of convenience and necessity prior to commencing construction or operation of the facility pursuant to the Public Utility Act".

The 2019 amendment, effective January 1, 2020, completely rewrote provisions related to apportioning business income to this state; deleted former Subsections B through D and added new Subsections B through D; and in Subsection E, added new Paragraph E(1) and redesignated former Paragraphs E(1) and E(2) as Paragraphs E(2) and E(3), in Paragraph E(3), in the introductory clause, after "means", added "operating a computer processing facility or", in Subparagraph E(3)(c), after the subparagraph designation, added "electric", and after "generation;", deleted "except for electricity generation at a facility other than one for which both location approval and a certificate of convenience and necessity are required prior to commencing construction or operation of the facility, pursuant to the Public Utility Act; or", and added new Subparagraph E(3)(e) and Paragraph E(4).

The 2015 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective September 6, 2015, provided for taxpayers whose principal business activity in New Mexico is a headquarters operation to elect to have business income apportioned to this state, and added the definition for "headquarters operation"; in Subsection A, after "as provided in", deleted "Subsection B" and added "Subsections B and C"; in the introductory sentence of Subsection B, after "principal business activity", added "in New Mexico"; added Subsection C and redesignated the succeeding subsections accordingly; in Subsection D, after "Subsection B", added "or C", and added the last sentence; in Subsection E, added a new Paragraph (1), added the paragraph designation "(2)" preceding "manufacturing", and redesignated former Paragraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of Subsection D as Subparagraphs E(2)(a), (b), (c) and (d), respectively.

The 2013 amendment, effective January 1, 2014, phased in the use of a single sales factor by certain taxpayers in apportioning corporate income to the state over five years; deleted former Subsection B, which provided for the apportionment of business income by manufacturers, the procedure for electing the method of apportionment, and limitations on the election of a method of apportionment; and added Subsections B and C.

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Paragraph (3) of Subsection C, deleted "and the Electric Utility Industry Restructuring Act of 1999".

The 2002 amendment, effective May 15, 2002, inserted the exception in Subsection C(3).

The 2001 amendment, effective June 15, 2001, deleted preliminary language concerning the purpose of the section from former Subsection A; added current Subsection A; redesignated former Subsection A as Subsection B; inserted "For taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 2011" to Subsection B; and deleted former Subsection B concerning apportionment of business income to the state.

Constitutionality of apportionment. — The United States Constitution does not impose any single method of apportionment on a multistate or multinational taxpayer's income. NCR Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-060, 115 N.M. 612, 856 P.2d 982, cert. denied, 115 N.M. 677, 857 P.2d 788, cert. denied, 512 U.S. 1245, 114 S. Ct. 2763, 129 L. Ed. 2d 877 (1994).

Constitutionality of formula applied to taxation of dividends received from foreign subsidiaries. — Taxation of dividends from foreign subsidiaries under the separate corporate entity method violates the commerce clause of the United States Constitution, and application of the Detroit formula is an insufficient remedy. Conoco, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1997-NMSC-005, 122 N.M. 736, 931 P.2d 730, cert. denied, 521 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 2497, 138 L. Ed. 2d 1003 (1997), rev'g 1997-NMCA-004, 122 N.M. 745, 931 P.2d 739.

Standard for challenge of apportionment. — A taxpayer seeking to invalidate a state's apportionment formula must show by clear and cogent evidence that the income attributed to the state is in fact disproportionate to the business transacted in that state. NCR Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-060, 115 N.M. 612, 856 P.2d 982, cert. denied, 115 N.M. 677, 857 P.2d 788, cert. denied, 512 U.S. 1245, 114 S. Ct. 2763, 129 L. Ed. 2d 877 (1994).

Apportionment of multinational income. — Under this statutory formula, the income attributable to the state is determined by multiplying the taxpayer's gross income by a fraction which represents the ratio of sales, payroll, and property located in the state to the total sales, payroll, and property of the corporation. This does not violate the Foreign Commerce Clause of the U.S. Constitution by taxing foreign income because the tax in question is not a tax on any of the domestic corporation's foreign subsidiaries; instead, the tax falls upon an apportioned share of the domestic corporation's income which it receives in the form of royalties, interest, and dividends from its unitary foreign subsidiaries. The fact that the tax is apportioned in part upon the domestic corporation's foreign income sources does not constitute a bar to state taxation. NCR Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-060, 115 N.M. 612, 856 P.2d 982, cert. denied, 115 N.M. 677, 857 P.2d 788, cert. denied, 512 U.S. 1245, 114 S. Ct. 2763, 129 L. Ed. 2d 877 (1994).

Taxation of undistributed earnings. — Because its subsidiaries with Subpart F (26 U.S.C. § 952) income remain part of the parent's unitary business and the federal government requires inclusion of the parent's Subpart F income in gross income, under the unitary business principle, the state assessments in question here do not violate the United States or New Mexico Constitutions, are fairly apportioned, and tax a fair portion of such income even though some of the income is undistributed subsidiary earnings. NCR Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-060, 115 N.M. 612, 856 P.2d 982, cert. denied, 115 N.M. 677, 857 P.2d 788, cert. denied, 512 U.S. 1245, 114 S. Ct. 2763, 129 L. Ed. 2d 877 (1994).

7-4-11. Property factor for apportionment of business income.

The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the tax period.

7-4-13. Determination of average value of property for inclusion in property factor.

The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and ending of the tax period, but the department may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the taxpayer's property.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-28, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 13; 1986, ch. 20, § 56.

7-4-14. Payroll factor for apportionment of business income.

The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in this state during the tax period by the taxpayer for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the tax period.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-29, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 14.

7-4-15. Determination of compensation for inclusion in payroll factor.

Compensation is paid in this state if:

A. the individual's service is performed entirely within the state; or

B. the individual's service is performed both within and without the state, but the service performed without the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; or

C. some of the service is performed in the state and:

(1) the base of operations, or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the state; or

(2) the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state.

7-4-16. Sales factor for apportionment of business income.

The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer in this state during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer everywhere during the tax period.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-31, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 16.

7-4-17. Determination of sales in this state of tangible personal property for inclusion in sales factor.

Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if:

A. the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser other than the United States government within this state regardless of the f. o. b. point or other conditions of the sale; or

B. the property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory or other place of storage in this state and:

(1) the purchaser is the United States government; or

(2) the taxpayer:

(a) is not taxable in the state of the purchaser; and

(b) did not make an election for apportionment of business income pursuant to Subsection B or C of Section 7-4-10 NMSA 1978.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-32, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 17; 2013, ch. 160, § 8; 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2015 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective September 6, 2015, amended the qualifications for the determination of sales of tangible personal property in this state; in Subparagraph B(2)(b), after "Subsection B", added "or C".

Applicability. — Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 25 provided that Laws 2015 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 7 apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

The 2013 amendment, effective January 1, 2014, excluded certain sales from being apportioned as sales in New Mexico; and added Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection B.

Applicability. — Laws 2013, ch. 160, § 14 provided that Laws 2013, ch. 160, § 8 applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014.

7-4-18. Determination of sales in this state of other than tangible personal property for inclusion in sales factor.

A. Sales, other than sales described in Section 7-4-17 NMSA 1978, are in this state:

(1) in the case of sale, rental, lease or license of real property, if and to the extent the real property is located in this state;

(2) in the case of rental, lease or license of tangible personal property, if and to the extent the tangible personal property is located in this state;

(3) in the case of sale of a service, if and to the extent the service is delivered to a location in this state; and

(4) in the case of sale, rental, lease or license of intangible property, if and to the extent the intangible property is used in this state.

B. If the state or states of assignment under Subsection A of this section cannot be determined, the state or states of assignment shall be reasonably approximated.

C. If the taxpayer is not taxable in a state to which a sale is assigned pursuant to Subsection A of this section or if the state of assignment cannot be determined or reasonably approximated pursuant to Subsection B of this section, that sale shall be excluded from the numerator and denominator of the sales factor.

D. The department may promulgate rules as necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this section.

7-4-19. Equitable adjustment of standard allocation or apportionment.

If the allocation and apportionment provisions of the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act do not fairly represent the extent of the taxpayer's business activity in this state, the taxpayer may petition for, or the department may require, in respect to all or any part of the taxpayer's business activity, if reasonable:

A. separate accounting;

B. the exclusion of any one or more of the factors;

C. the inclusion of one or more additional factors which will fairly represent the taxpayer's business activity in this state; or

D. the employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-34, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 203, § 19; 1977, ch. 249, § 46; 1986, ch. 20, § 57.

ANNOTATIONS

Taxpayer's burden to show when modification of formula necessary. — Since there was nothing arbitrary or unreasonable about the department's conclusion that dividend income is apportionable without modification of the allocation and apportionment formula, the taxpayer bears the burden of showing by clear and cogent evidence that modification of the formula is necessary. *Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Hearing officer's admission of closing agreement into evidence was not error. — Where taxpayer challenged the use of the department of taxation and revenue's (department) special multistate trucking apportionment regulation to calculate the portion of taxpayer's multistate sales revenue attributable to taxpayer's New Mexico business operations, and where the administrative hearing officer (AHO) found that taxpayer established by clear and cogent evidence that the department's use of the special mileage formula to determine New Mexico's share of taxpayer's multistate revenue for income tax purposes resulted in a gross distortion of taxpayer's actual business activities in New Mexico, contrary to the fair apportionment requirement of the United States constitution's commerce clause and New Mexico's Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act (UDIPTA), NMSA 1978, §§ 7-4-1 to 7-4-21, and that taxpayer was entitled to equitable apportionment and that the state-to-state volume method proposed by taxpayer was reasonable, and where the department appealed, claiming that the AHO's admission of a closing agreement for prior tax years was reversible error, there was no error where the AHO specifically explained that the closing agreement was admitted into evidence as relevant to show the origins of the state-to-state volume method proposed by taxpayer and relevant to rebut the department's argument that taxpayer made up the state-to-state volume method without any foundation. United Parcel Serv. v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-064.

Taxpayer entitled to equitable apportionment. — Where taxpayer challenged the use of the department of taxation and revenue's (department) special multistate trucking apportionment regulation to calculate the portion of taxpayer's multistate sales revenue attributable to taxpayer's New Mexico business operations, and where the administrative hearing officer (AHO) found that taxpayer established by clear and cogent evidence that the department's use of the special mileage formula to determine

New Mexico's share of taxpayer's multistate revenue for income tax purposes resulted in a gross distortion of taxpayer's actual business activities in New Mexico, contrary to the fair apportionment requirement of the United States constitution's commerce clause and New Mexico's Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act (UDIPTA), NMSA 1978, §§ 7-4-1 to 7-4-21, and that taxpayer was entitled to equitable apportionment and that the state-to-state volume method proposed by taxpayer was reasonable, and where the department appealed, claiming that the AHO erred as a matter of law in refusing to apply the department formula to taxpayer because its special mileage formula for apportioning the income of taxpayer for state corporate tax purposes has been found to be a constitutional method of apportioning the revenue of interstate carriers, the AHO did not err in departing from the department's method of apportionment, because NMSA 1978, § 7-4-19(D), provides that if the taxpayer carries its burden, the taxpayer may demand, or the department may require, the employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income, so long as the alternative method is reasonable, and the AHO's finding that taxpayer's state-to-state volume method was a reasonable method of allocating taxpayer's revenue was supported by substantial evidence in the record. United Parcel Serv. v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-064.

7-4-20. Agreements authorized in unusual cases.

In circumstances within the scope of Section 7-4-19 NMSA 1978 and in other circumstances where the revenues of this state would not be adversely affected, the secretary is authorized to enter into an agreement in writing with any person with respect to apportionment and allocation of that person's income. Except upon a showing of fraud or misrepresentation of a material fact or a change in the statutory law, such agreement shall be conclusive. Any agreement, however, may be terminated by either party by written notice thereof to the other party at least ninety days before the beginning of the taxable year to which the termination applies.

ARTICLE 5

Multistate Tax Compact

7-5-1. Compact enacted and entered into.

The "Multistate Tax Compact" is enacted into law and entered into with all jurisdictions legally joining therein, in the form substantially as follows:

"MULTISTATE TAX COMPACT

Article I. Purposes.

The purposes of this compact are to:

1. facilitate proper determination of state and local tax liability of multistate taxpayers, including the equitable apportionment of tax bases and settlement of apportionment disputes;
2. promote uniformity or compatibility in significant components of tax systems;
3. facilitate taxpayer convenience and compliance in the filing of tax returns and in other phases of tax administration; and
4. avoid duplicative taxation.

Article II. Definitions.

As used in this compact:

1. "state" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any Territory or Possession of the United States;
2. "subdivision" means any governmental unit or special district of a state;
3. "taxpayer" means any corporation, partnership, firm, association, governmental unit or agency or person acting as a business entity in more than one state;
4. "income tax" means a tax imposed on or measured by net income, including any tax imposed on or measured by an amount arrived at by deducting expenses from gross income, one or more forms of which expenses are not specifically and directly related to particular transactions;

5. "capital stock tax" means a tax measured in any way by the capital of a corporation considered in its entirety;

6. "gross receipts tax" means a tax, other than a sales tax, that is imposed on or measured by the gross volume of business, in terms of gross receipts or in other terms, and in the determination of which no deduction is allowed that would constitute the tax an income tax;

7. "sales tax" means a tax imposed with respect to the transfer for a consideration of ownership, possession or custody of tangible personal property or the rendering of services measured by the price of the tangible personal property transferred or services rendered and that is required by state or local law to be separately stated from the sales price by the seller, or that is customarily separately stated from the sales price, but does not include a tax imposed exclusively on the sale of a specifically identified commodity or article or class of commodities or articles;

8. "use tax" means a nonrecurring tax, other than a sales tax, that: (a) is imposed on or with respect to the exercise or enjoyment of any right or power over tangible personal property incident to the ownership, possession or custody of that property or the leasing of that property from another including any consumption, keeping, retention, or other use of tangible personal property; and (b) is complementary to a sales tax; and

9. "tax" means an income tax, capital stock tax, gross receipts tax, sales tax, use tax, and any other tax that has a multistate impact, except that the provisions of Articles III, IV and V of this compact shall apply only to the taxes specifically designated therein and the provisions of Article IX of this compact shall apply only in respect to determinations pursuant to Article IV of this compact;

Article III. Elements of Income Tax Laws.

1. Each party state or any subdivision thereof that imposes an income tax shall provide by law that any taxpayer required to file a return, whose only activities within the taxing jurisdiction consist of sales and do not include owning or renting real estate or tangible personal property, and whose dollar volume of gross sales made during the tax year within the state or subdivision, as the case may be, is not in excess of $100,000 may elect to report and pay any tax due on the basis of a percentage of such volume, and shall adopt rates which shall produce a tax which reasonably approximates the tax otherwise due. The multistate tax commission, not more than once in five years, may adjust the $100,000 figure in order to reflect such changes as may occur in the real value of the dollar, and such adjusted figure, upon adoption by the commission, shall replace the $100,000 figure specifically provided herein. Each party state and subdivision thereof may make the same election available to taxpayers additional to those specified in this paragraph.

2. Nothing in this article relates to the reporting or payment of any tax other than an income tax.

Article IV. Division of Income.

1. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operations;

(b) "commercial domicile" means the principal place from which the trade or business of the taxpayer is directed or managed;

(c) "compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

(d) "financial organization" means any bank, trust company, savings bank, industrial bank, land bank, safe deposit company, private banker, savings and loan association, credit union, cooperative bank, small loan company, sales finance company, investment company, or any type of insurance company;

(e) "nonbusiness income" means all income other than business income;

(f) "public utility" means any business entity: (1) that owns or operates any plant, equipment, property, franchise, or license for the transmission of communications, transportation of goods or persons, except by pipe line, or the production, transmission, sale, delivery, or furnishing of electricity, water or steam; and (2) whose rates of charges for goods or services have been established or approved by a federal, state or local government or governmental agency;

(g) "sales" means all gross receipts of the taxpayer not allocated under paragraphs of this article;

(h) "state" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof; and

(i) "this state" means the state in which the relevant tax return is filed or, in the case of application of this article to the apportionment and allocation of income for local tax purposes, the subdivision or local taxing district in which the relevant tax return is filed.

2. Any taxpayer having income from business activity that is taxable both within and without this state, other than activity as a financial organization or public utility or the rendering of purely personal services by an individual, shall allocate and apportion the taxpayer's net income as provided in this article. If a taxpayer has income from business activity as a public utility but derives the greater percentage of the taxpayer's income from activities subject to this article, the taxpayer may elect to allocate and apportion the taxpayer's entire net income as provided in this article.

3. For purposes of allocation and apportionment of income under this article, a taxpayer is taxable in another state if: (1) in that state, the taxpayer is subject to a net income tax, a franchise tax measured by net income, a franchise tax for the privilege of doing business, or a corporate stock tax; or (2) that state has jurisdiction to subject the taxpayer to a net income tax regardless of whether, in fact, the state does or does not.

4. Rents and royalties from real or tangible personal property, capital gains, interest, dividends or patent or copyright royalties, to the extent that they constitute nonbusiness income, shall be allocated as provided in Paragraphs 5 through 8 of this article.

5. (a) Net rents and royalties from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this state: (1) if and to the extent that the property is utilized in this state; or (2) in their entirety if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not organized under the laws of or taxable in the state in which the property is utilized.

(c) The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the taxpayer, tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

6. (a) Capital gains and losses from sales of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Capital gains and losses from sales of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if: (1) the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale; or (2) the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs.

(c) Capital gains and losses from sales of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

7. Interest and dividends are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

8. (a) Patent and copyright royalties are allocable to this state: (1) if and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in this state; or (2) if and to the extent that the patent copyright is utilized by the payer in a state in which the taxpayer is not taxable and the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

(b) A patent is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, or other processing in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from patent royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the patent is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

(c) A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

9. All business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor, and the denominator of which is three.

10. The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the tax period.

11. Property owned by the taxpayer is valued at its original cost. Property rented by the taxpayer is valued at eight times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rental rate is the annual rental rate paid by the taxpayer less any annual rental rate received by the taxpayer from subrentals.

12. The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and ending of the tax period but the tax administrator may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the taxpayer's property.

13. The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in this state during the tax period by the taxpayer for compensation and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the tax period.

14. Compensation is paid in this state if:

(a) the individual's service is performed entirely within the state;

(b) the individual's service is performed both within and without the state, but the service performed without the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; or

(c) some of the service is performed in the state and: (1) the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the state; or (2) the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state.

15. The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer in this state during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer everywhere during the tax period.

16. Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if:

(a) the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser, other than the United States government, within this state regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale; or

(b) the property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place of storage in this state and: (1) the purchaser is the United States government; or (2) the taxpayer is not taxable in the state of the purchaser.

17. Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this state if:

(a) the income-producing activity is performed in this state; or

(b) the income-producing activity is performed both in and outside this state and a greater proportion of the income-producing activity is performed in this state than in any other state, based on costs of performance.

18. If the allocation and apportionment provisions of this article do not fairly represent the extent of the taxpayer's business activity in this state, the taxpayer may petition for or the tax administrator may require, in respect to all or any part of the taxpayer's business activity, if reasonable:

(a) separate accounting;

(b) the exclusion of any one or more of the factors;

(c) the inclusion of one or more additional factors which will fairly represent the taxpayer's business activity in this state; or

(d) the employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income.

Article V. Elements of Sales and Use Tax Laws.

Tax Credit.

1. Each purchaser liable for a use tax on tangible personal property shall be entitled to full credit for the combined amount or amounts of legally imposed sales or use taxes paid by the purchaser with respect to the same property to another state and any subdivision thereof. The credit shall be applied first against the amount of any use tax due the state, and any unused portion of the credit shall then be applied against the amount of any use tax due a subdivision.

Exemption Certificates, Vendors May Rely.

2. Whenever a vendor receives and accepts in good faith from a purchaser a resale or other exemption certificate or other written evidence of exemption authorized by the appropriate state or subdivision taxing authority, the vendor shall be relieved of liability for a sales or use tax with respect to the transaction.

Article VI. The Commission.

Organization and Management.

1. (a) The "multistate tax commission" is hereby established. It shall be composed of one "member" from each party state who shall be the head of the state agency charged with the administration of the types of taxes to which this compact applies. If there is more than one such agency the state shall provide by law for the selection of the commission member from the heads of the relevant agencies. State law may provide that a member of the commission be represented by an alternate but only if there is on file with the commission written notification of the designation and identity of the alternate. The attorney general of each party state or the attorney general's designee, or other counsel if the laws of the party state specifically provide, shall be entitled to attend the meetings of the commission, but shall not vote. Such attorneys general, designees, or other counsel shall receive all notices of meetings required under Paragraph 1 (e) of this article.

(b) Each party state shall provide by law for the selection of representatives from its subdivisions affected by this compact to consult with the commission member from that State.

(c) Each member shall be entitled to one vote. The commission shall not act unless a majority of the members are present, and no action shall be binding unless approved by a majority of the total number of members.

(d) The commission shall adopt an official seal to be used as it may provide.

(e) The commission shall hold an annual meeting and such other regular meetings as its bylaws may provide and such special meetings as its executive committee may determine. The commission bylaws shall specify the dates of the annual and any other regular meetings, and shall provide for the giving of notice of annual, regular and special meetings. Notices of special meetings shall include the reasons therefor and an agenda of the items to be considered.

(f) The commission shall elect annually, from among its members, a chair, a vice chair and a treasurer. The commission shall appoint an executive director who shall serve at its pleasure, and it shall fix the executive director's duties and compensation. The executive director shall be secretary of the commission. The commission shall make provision for the bonding of such of its officers and employees as it may deem appropriate.

(g) Irrespective of the civil service, personnel or other merit system laws of any party state, the executive director shall appoint or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the functions of the commission and shall fix their duties and compensation. The commission bylaws shall provide for personnel policies and programs.

(h) The commission may borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any state, the United States, or any other governmental entity.

(i) The commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions any and all donations and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials and services, conditional or otherwise, from any governmental entity, and may utilize and dispose of the same.

(j) The commission may establish one or more offices for the transacting of its business.

(k) The commission shall adopt bylaws for the conduct of its business. The commission shall publish its bylaws in convenient form, and shall file a copy of the bylaws and any amendments thereto with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(l) The commission annually shall make to the governor and legislature of each party state a report covering its activities for the preceding year. Any donation or grant accepted by the commission or services borrowed shall be reported in the annual report of the commission, and shall include the nature, amount and conditions, if any, of the donation, gift, grant or services borrowed and the identity of the donor or lender. The commission may make additional reports as it may deem desirable.

Committees.

2. (a) To assist in the conduct of its business when the full commission is not meeting, the commission shall have an executive committee of seven members, including the chair, vice chair, treasurer and four other members elected annually by the commission. The executive committee, subject to the provisions of this compact and consistent with the policies of the commission, shall function as provided in the bylaws of the commission.

(b) The commission may establish advisory and technical committees, membership on which may include private persons and public officials, in furthering any of its activities. Such committees may consider any matter of concern to the commission, including problems of special interest to any party state and problems dealing with particular types of taxes.

(c) The commission may establish such additional committees as its bylaws may provide.

Powers.

3. In addition to powers conferred elsewhere in this compact, the commission shall have power to:

(a) study state and local tax systems and particular types of state and local taxes;

(b) develop and recommend proposals for an increase in uniformity or compatibility of state and local tax laws with a view toward encouraging the simplification and improvement of state and local tax law and administration;

(c) compile and publish information as in its judgment would assist the party states in implementation of the compact and taxpayers in complying with state and local tax laws; and

(d) do all things necessary and incidental to the administration of its functions pursuant to this compact.

Finance.

4. (a) The commission shall submit to the governor or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that state for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. The total amount of appropriations requested under any such budget shall be apportioned among the party states as follows: one-tenth in equal shares; and the remainder in proportion to the amount of revenue collected by each party state and its subdivisions from income taxes, capital stock taxes, gross receipts taxes, sales and use taxes. In determining such amounts, the commission shall employ such available public sources of information as, in its judgment, present the most equitable and accurate comparisons among the party states. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures and requests for appropriations shall indicate the sources used in obtaining information employed in applying the formula contained in this paragraph.

(c) The commission shall not pledge the credit of any party state. The commission may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Paragraph (1) (i) of this article: provided that the commission takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to incurring any obligation to be met in whole or in part in such manner. Except where the commission makes use of funds available to it under Paragraph 1 (i) of this article, the commission shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party states adequate to meet the same.

(d) The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. All receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission shall be audited yearly by a certified or licensed public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become part of the annual report of the commission.

(e) The accounts of the commission shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection by duly constituted officers of the party states and by any persons authorized by the commission.

(f) Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent commission compliance with laws relating to audit or inspection of accounts by or on behalf of any government contributing to the support of the commission.

Article VII. Uniform Regulations and Forms.

1. Whenever any two or more party states, or subdivisions of party states, have uniform or similar provisions of law relating to an income tax, capital stock tax, gross receipts tax, sales or use tax, the commission may adopt uniform regulations for any phase of the administration of such law, including assertion of jurisdiction to tax, or prescribing uniform tax forms. The commission may also act with respect to the provisions of Article IV of this compact.

2. Prior to the adoption of any regulation, the commission shall:

(a) as provided in its bylaws, hold at least one public hearing on due notice to all affected party states and subdivisions thereof and to all taxpayers and other persons who have made timely request of the commission for advance notice of its regulation-making proceedings; and

(b) afford all affected party states and subdivisions and interested persons an opportunity to submit relevant written data and views, which shall be considered fully by the commission.

3. The commission shall submit any regulations adopted by it to the appropriate officials of all party states and subdivisions to which they might apply. Each such state and subdivision shall consider any such regulation for adoption in accordance with its own laws and procedures.

Article VIII. Interstate Audits.

1. This article shall be in force only in those party states that specifically provide therefor by statute.

2. Any party state or subdivision thereof desiring to make or participate in an audit of any accounts, books, papers, records or other documents may request the commission to perform the audit on its behalf. In responding to the request, the commission shall have access to and may examine, at any reasonable time, such accounts, books, papers, records, and other documents and any relevant property or stock of merchandise. The commission may enter into agreements with party states or their subdivisions for assistance in performance of the audit. The commission shall make charges, to be paid by the state or local government or governments for which it performs the service, for any audits performed by it in order to reimburse itself for the actual costs incurred in making the audit.

3. The commission may require the attendance of any person within the state where it is conducting an audit or part thereof at a time and place fixed by it within such state for the purpose of giving testimony with respect to any account, book, paper, document, other record, property or stock of merchandise being examined in connection with the audit. If the person is not within the jurisdiction, the person may be required to attend for such purpose at any time and place fixed by the commission within the state of which the person is a resident; provided that such state has adopted this article.

4. The commission may apply to any court having power to issue compulsory process for orders in aid of its powers and responsibilities pursuant to this article and any and all such courts shall have jurisdiction to issue such orders. Failure of any person to obey any such order shall be punishable as contempt of the issuing court. If the party or subject matter on account of which the commission seeks an order is within the jurisdiction of the court to which application is made, such application may be to a court in the state or subdivision on behalf of which the audit is being made or a court in the state in which the object of the order being sought is situated. The provisions of this paragraph apply only to courts in a state that has adopted this article.

5. The commission may decline to perform any audit requested if it finds that its available personnel or other resources are insufficient for the purpose or that, in the terms requested, the audit is impracticable of satisfactory performance. If the commission, on the basis of its experience, has reason to believe that an audit of a particular taxpayer, either at a particular time or on a particular schedule, would be of interest to a number of party states or their subdivisions, it may offer to make the audit or audits, the offer to be contingent on sufficient participation therein as determined by the commission.

6. Information obtained by any audit pursuant to this article shall be confidential and available only for tax purposes to party states, their subdivisions or the United States. Availability of information shall be in accordance with the laws of the states or subdivisions on whose account the commission performs the audit, and only through the appropriate agencies or officers of such states or subdivisions. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require any taxpayer to keep records for any period not otherwise required by law.

7. Other arrangements made or authorized pursuant to law for cooperative audit by or on behalf of the party states or any of their subdivisions are not superseded or invalidated by this article.

8. In no event shall the commission make any charge against a taxpayer for an audit.

9. As used in this article, "tax," in addition to the meaning ascribed to it in Article II of this compact, means any tax or license fee imposed in whole or in part for revenue purposes.

Article IX. Arbitration.

1. Whenever the commission finds a need for settling disputes concerning apportionments and allocations by arbitration, it may adopt a regulation placing this article in effect, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VII of this compact.

2. The commission shall select and maintain an arbitration panel composed of officers and employees of state and local governments and private persons who shall be knowledgeable and experienced in matters of tax law and administration.

3. Whenever a taxpayer who has elected to employ Article IV of this compact, or whenever the laws of the party state or subdivision thereof are substantially identical with the relevant provisions of Article IV, the taxpayer, by written notice to the commission and to each party state or subdivision thereof that would be affected, may secure arbitration of an apportionment or allocation, if the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the final administrative determination of the tax agency of the state or subdivision with respect thereto on the ground that it would subject the taxpayer to double or multiple taxation by two or more party states or subdivisions thereof. Each party state and subdivision thereof hereby consents to the arbitration as provided herein, and agrees to be bound thereby.

4. The arbitration board shall be composed of one person selected by the taxpayer, one by the agency or agencies involved, and one member of the commission's arbitration panel. If the agencies involved are unable to agree on the person to be selected by them, such person shall be selected by lot from the total membership of the arbitration panel. The two persons selected for the board in the manner provided by the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall jointly select the third member of the board. If they are unable to agree on the selection, the third member shall be selected by lot from among the total membership of the arbitration panel. No member of a board selected by lot shall be qualified to serve if the member is an officer or employee or is otherwise affiliated with any party to the arbitration proceeding. Residence within the jurisdiction of a party to the arbitration proceeding shall not constitute affiliation within the meaning of this paragraph.

5. The board may sit in any state or subdivision party to the proceeding, in the state of the taxpayer's incorporation, residence or domicile, in any state where the taxpayer does business, or in any place that it finds most appropriate for gaining access to evidence relevant to the matter before it.

6. The board shall give due notice of the times and places of its hearings. The parties shall be entitled to be heard, to present evidence, and to examine and cross-examine witnesses. The board shall act by majority vote.

7. The board shall have power to administer oaths, take testimony, subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of accounts, books, papers, records, and other documents, and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be signed by any member of the board. In case of failure to obey a subpoena, and upon application by the board, any judge of a court of competent jurisdiction of the state in which the board is sitting or in which the person to whom the subpoena is directed may be found may make an order requiring compliance with the subpoena, and the court may punish failure to obey the order as a contempt. The provisions of this paragraph apply only in states that have adopted this article.

8. Unless the parties otherwise agree the expenses and other costs of the arbitration shall be assessed and allocated among the parties by the board in such manner as it may determine. The commission shall fix a schedule of compensation for members of arbitration boards and of other allowable expenses and costs. No officer or employee of a state or local government who serves as a member of a board shall be entitled to compensation therefor unless the member is required on account of the member's service to forego the regular compensation attaching to the member's public employment, but any such board member shall be entitled to expenses.

9. The board shall determine the disputed apportionment or allocation and any matters necessary thereto. The determinations of the board shall be final for the purposes of making the apportionment or allocation, but for no other purpose.

10. The board shall file with the commission and with each tax agency represented in the proceeding: the determination of the board; the board's written statement of its reasons therefor; the record of the board's proceedings; and any other documents required by the arbitration rules of the commission to be filed.

11. The commission shall publish the determinations of boards together with the statements of the reasons therefor.

12. The commission shall adopt and publish rules of procedure and practice and shall file a copy of such rules and of any amendment thereto with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

13. Nothing contained herein shall prevent at any time a written compromise of any matter or matters in dispute, if otherwise lawful, by the parties to the arbitration proceeding.

Article X. Entry Into Force and Withdrawal.

1. This compact shall enter into force when enacted into law by any seven states. Thereafter, this compact shall become effective as to any other state upon its enactment thereof. The commission shall arrange for notification of all party states whenever there is a new enactment of the compact.

2. Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same. No withdrawal shall affect any liability already incurred by or chargeable to a party state prior to the time of such withdrawal.

3. No proceeding commenced before an arbitration board prior to the withdrawal of a state and to which the withdrawing state or any subdivision thereof is a party shall be discontinued or terminated by the withdrawal, nor shall the board thereby lose jurisdiction over any of the parties to the proceeding necessary to make a binding determination therein.

Article XI. Effect on Other Laws and Jurisdiction.

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to:

(a) affect the power of any state or subdivision thereof to fix rates of taxation, except that a party state shall be obligated to implement Article III 1 of this compact;

(b) apply to any tax or fixed fee imposed for the registration of a motor vehicle or any tax on motor fuel, other than a sales tax; provided that the definition of "tax" in Article VIII 9 of this compact may apply for the purposes of that article and the commission's powers of study and recommendation pursuant to Article VI 3 of this compact may apply;

(c) withdraw or limit the jurisdiction of any state or local court or administrative officer or body with respect to any person, corporation or other entity or subject matter, except to the extent that such jurisdiction is expressly conferred by or pursuant to this compact upon another agency or body; and

(d) supersede or limit the jurisdiction of any court of the United States.

Article XII. Construction and Severability.

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any State participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining party states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters."

7-5-6. Local government advisors.

The governor, after consultation with representatives of local governments, shall appoint three persons who are representative of subdivisions affected or likely to be affected by the Multistate Tax Compact. The member of the commission representing New Mexico, and any alternate designated by him, shall consult regularly with these appointees, in accordance with Article VI 1(b) of the compact.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-42, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 56, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1967, ch. 56 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 16, 1967, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

7-5-7. Interaudits provisions made applicable.

Article VIII of the Multistate Tax Compact relating to interaudits shall be in force in and with respect to New Mexico.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-15A-44, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 56, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1967, ch. 56 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 16, 1967, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

ARTICLE 5A

Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Administration

7-5A-1. Short title.

This act may be cited as the "Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Administration Act".

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-2. Legislative findings.

The legislature finds that a simplified sales tax and use tax system that treats transactions in a competitively neutral manner will strengthen and preserve sales taxes and use taxes as vital revenue sources for this state and its local governments and will help preserve the fiscal sovereignty of this state. The legislature also finds that such a system will substantially reduce the administrative burdens of collection for sellers. While states have the sovereign right to set their own tax policies, states should cooperatively develop a streamlined sales tax and use tax system that is simplified, uniform and fair.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-3. Definitions.

As used in the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Administration Act:

- A. "agreement" means the streamlined sales and use tax agreement;
- B. "certified automated system" means software certified jointly by member states to:
 - (1) calculate the sales tax imposed by each jurisdiction on a transaction;
 - (2) determine the amount of tax to remit to the appropriate state; and
 - (3) maintain a record of the transaction;
- C. "certified service provider" means an agent that performs all of the sales tax functions of a seller and that is certified jointly by member states to perform all of the sales tax functions of the seller;
- D. "member state" means a state of the United States that enters into the agreement with another state and the District of Columbia if it enters into the agreement with another state;

E. "person" means an individual, trust, estate, fiduciary, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, corporation and any other legal entity;

F. "sales tax" means the gross receipts tax levied pursuant to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act [Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978] or a tax imposed by a state on the sale of goods or services;

G. "seller" means a person making sales, leases and rentals of personal property and services; and

H. "use tax" means the compensating tax levied pursuant to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-4. Authority to enter agreement.

A. The secretary of taxation and revenue may enter into the agreement with one or more member states to simplify and modernize sales tax and use tax administration and to reduce the burden of tax compliance for sellers.

B. The secretary of taxation and revenue is authorized to:

(1) act jointly with member states to establish standards for a certified automated system and establish performance standards for multistate sellers pursuant to the agreement;

(2) take actions reasonably required to implement the provisions of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Administration Act; and

(3) adopt rules with member states pursuant to the agreement.

C. The secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's designee is authorized to represent this state before member states.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-5. Relationship to state law.

A provision of the agreement does not invalidate or amend any provision of state law. Implementation of a condition of the agreement shall be adopted by the legislature.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-6. Agreement requirements.

The secretary of taxation and revenue shall not enter into the agreement unless the agreement:

- A. sets restrictions to achieve more uniform state tax rates by limiting:
 - (1) the number of member state tax rates;
 - (2) the application of maximums on the amount of member state taxes due on transactions; and
 - (3) the application of thresholds on the application of member state taxes;
- B. establishes uniform standards for:
 - (1) sourcing transactions to taxing jurisdictions;
 - (2) administering exempt sales; and
 - (3) providing allowances that a seller can receive for bad debts;
- C. requires member states to develop and adopt uniform definitions of sales tax and use tax terms that enable the member states to make policy choices consistent with the definitions;
- D. provides for a certified automated system that allows a seller to register to collect and remit sales taxes and use taxes for each member state;

E. provides that registration with the certified automated system and the collection of a sales tax and a use tax in a member state will not be used to determine if the seller has a nexus with a member state for tax purposes;

F. provides for reduction of the burden of complying with local sales taxes and use taxes by:

(1) restricting variances between the member state and local tax bases;

(2) requiring each member state to administer the sales tax and use tax levied by a local jurisdiction within the member state so that a seller collecting and remitting the taxes will not be required to register or file a return with, remit funds to or be subject to an independent audit from a local taxing jurisdiction;

(3) restricting change in each local sales tax rate and use tax rate and setting an effective date for a change in the boundaries of a local taxing jurisdiction; and

(4) providing notice of a change in each local sales tax rate and use tax rate and of a change in the boundaries of a local taxing jurisdiction;

G. outlines monetary allowances provided by member states to sellers and certified service providers;

H. requires each state to certify compliance with the terms of the agreement before becoming a member state and to maintain compliance with provisions of the agreement pursuant to the law of the member state while a member state;

I. requires each member state to adopt a uniform policy for certified service providers that protects the privacy of consumers and maintains the confidentiality of tax information; and

J. provides for the appointment of an advisory council of private sector representatives and an advisory council of nonmember state representatives with which to consult with respect to the administration of the agreement.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 6.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Amnesty for registration is unconstitutional. — Granting amnesty, pursuant to Section 402 of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, to a seller for gross receipts tax liability incurred during the twelve-month period preceding the state's participation in the agreement would amount to a subsidy of the seller's business in violation of the anti-donation clause of Article IX, Section 14 of the New Mexico Constitution and Article IV, Section 32, which prohibits the diminution or extinguishment of an obligation already in occurred and owed to the state. 2012 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 12-01.

7-5A-7. Member states.

The agreement is an accord among member states in furtherance of their governmental functions. The agreement permits each member state to establish and maintain a cooperative, uniform, simplified system to apply sales taxes and use taxes pursuant to the law of the member state.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-8. Limited binding and beneficial effect.

A. The agreement binds and benefits only this state and other member states. Only a member state is an intended beneficiary of the agreement. A benefit to a person other than a member state is established by the law of this state and member states and not by the terms of the agreement.

B. A person shall not:

- (1) have a cause of action or a defense pursuant to the agreement; and
- (2) challenge an action or inaction of a department, agency, political subdivision or instrumentality of this state on the grounds that the action or inaction is not consistent with the agreement.

C. A law of this state or the application of the law is valid despite the inconsistency of the law or its application with the agreement.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-5A-9. Liability.

A. A certified service provider is liable for sales taxes and use taxes due from each member state on each sales transaction that it processes for the seller, except as otherwise provided by this section. A seller that contracts with the certified service provider is not liable to this state for sales tax or use tax due on a transaction processed by the certified service provider unless the seller misrepresents the type of item it sells or commits fraud. In the absence of probable cause that the seller has committed fraud or made a material misrepresentation, the seller is not subject to audit on transactions processed by the certified service provider. A seller is subject to audit for a transaction not processed by the certified service provider. Member states acting jointly may:

(1) audit data pertaining to the seller that is stored in the certified automated system; and

(2) review procedures of the seller to determine if the certified automated system functions properly and the extent to which the transactions of the seller are processed by this certified service provider.

B. A certified service provider is responsible for the proper functioning of a certified automated system and is liable to this state for underpayments of tax attributable to system errors. A seller that uses a certified automated system is liable to this state for reporting and remitting tax.

C. A seller that has a proprietary system for determining the amount of tax due on a transaction and has agreed to establish a performance standard for the system is liable for failure of the system to meet the standard.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 225, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 225 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

7-7-8. Department to file certificate; final settlement of account.

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, the department shall file a certificate with the clerk of the county in which the estate or any part of it is located when:

- (1) no taxes imposed by the Estate Tax Act [7-7-1 to 7-7-12 NMSA 1978] are due; or
- (2) the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act have been paid.

B. If the estate is not required to file a federal estate tax return, the filing of a certificate by the department is not required.

C. No court shall allow the final settlement of the account of any personal representative until either a certificate is filed as provided in this section if the estate is required to file a federal estate tax return or the personal representative demonstrates that the estate was not required to file a federal estate tax return.

7-7-12. Liability for failure to pay tax before distribution or delivery.

A. Any personal representative who distributes any property without first paying, securing another's payment of, or furnishing security for payment of the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act [7-7-1 to 7-7-12 NMSA 1978] is personally liable for the taxes due to the extent of the value of any property that may come or may have come into his possession. Security for payment of the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act shall be in an amount equal to or greater than the value of all property that is or has come into the possession of such personal representative, as of the time such security is furnished.

B. Any person who has the control, custody or possession of any property and who delivers any of the property to the personal representative or legal representative of the decedent outside New Mexico without first paying, securing another's payment of, or furnishing security for payment of the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act is liable for the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act to the extent of the value of the property delivered. Security for payment of the taxes due under the Estate Tax Act shall be in an amount equal to or greater than the value of all property delivered to the personal representative or legal representative of the decedent outside New Mexico by such a person.

C. For the purposes of this section, persons who do not have possession of a decedent's property (absent special circumstances) include mortgagees or pledgees, stockbrokers or stock transfer agents, bank and other depositories of checking and savings accounts, safe-deposit companies and life insurance companies.

7-7-16. Definitions.

As used in the Art Acceptance Act [7-7-15 to 7-7-20 NMSA 1978]:

- A. "board" means the board of regents of the museum of New Mexico;
- B. "decedent" means the deceased individual;
- C. "division" or "department" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to that employee by the secretary;
- D. "museum" means the museum of New Mexico;

E. "personal representative" means the executor or administrator of a decedent or, if no executor or administrator is appointed, qualified and acting, any person who has possession of any property of the decedent; and

F. "work of art" includes any painting, drawing, print, photograph, sculpture, carving, textile, basketry, artifact, natural specimen, rare book, authors' papers, objects of historical or technical interest or other article of intrinsic cultural value.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-7-16, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 2; 1986, ch. 20, § 60; 1987, ch. 164, § 1.

7-7-17. Payment of estate tax in works of art.

A decedent's estate may pay all or part of any tax owed by the decedent's estate to the state by payment in the form of one or more works of art in the manner provided by the Art Acceptance Act [7-7-15 to 7-7-20 NMSA 1978], provided:

A. the decedent has so directed by a will; or

B. in the absence of a direction in the decedent's will, the personal representative finds that this method of payment is advantageous to the estate.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-7-17, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 7 made Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 3 effective July 1, 1983.

7-7-18. Procedure for payment in works of art.

A. The personal representative desiring to pay all or part of an estate tax owed the state in the form of one or more works of art shall first obtain an appraisal of the work acceptable to the federal internal revenue service and shall then notify the museum director in writing of the desire to offer the work to the museum. The board shall, within a reasonable period of time and upon the recommendation of the museum director, notify the personal representative and the division in writing as to whether in the judgment of the board it would be advantageous to the state to accept the one or more works of art as payment or partial payment for the estate tax. The board's decision shall be final and not appealable.

B. Acceptance of a work of art shall be deemed advantageous to the state if its acceptance meets the following criteria:

(1) it encourages growth of the museum's collections by the addition of significant and original works of art;

- (2) it furthers the preservation and understanding of the arts traditions which exist in New Mexico;
- (3) it furthers the appreciation of arts and cultures by the people of New Mexico; or
- (4) it is compatible with the standards and collections policies of the museum.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-7-18, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 7 made Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 4 effective July 1, 1983.

7-7-19. Agreement on valuation.

A. If the board finds that it would be advantageous for the state to accept payment in one or more works of art as payment or partial payment for the estate tax, the personal representative shall, as a condition of state acceptance of this method of payment, forward a copy of the proposed valuation to the division. The division shall have forty-five days from the date of the notification of the proposed valuation to object to that valuation.

B. If the division objects to the proposed valuation, it shall set forth the objection in writing and forward it to the personal representative. The personal representative may take into account the division's objections and submit a new valuation for the division's approval. If the division rejects the new valuation within forty-five days of its submission, the state shall be deemed not to accept the proposed method of payment in works of art.

C. If the division does not object to a submitted valuation of a work of art within forty-five days of its submission, the state shall be deemed to have accepted the work of art for the museum collection as complete or partial payment of the estate tax owed and the board shall assume title to that work of art as soon as practicable.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-7-19, enacted by Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 7 made Laws 1983, ch. 209, § 5 effective July 1, 1983.

7-7-20. Credit against tax.

A. Upon assumption of title to a work of art by the board, the department shall credit against the amount owed by the estate the valuation of that work of art as agreed upon under Section 7-7-19 NMSA 1978. In no case shall any credit allowed by the Art Acceptance Act [7-7-15 to 7-7-20 NMSA 1978] be greater than the amount of the estate tax owed by the decedent's estate.

B. The board shall not during any fiscal year assume title to works of art which have an aggregate value of more than five million dollars ($5,000,000).

ARTICLE 8A

Uniform Unclaimed Property Act

7-8A-1. Definitions.

As used in the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995):

(1) "administrator" means the taxation and revenue department, the secretary of taxation and revenue or any employee of the department who exercises authority lawfully delegated to him by the secretary;

(2) "apparent owner" means a person whose name appears on the records of a holder as the person entitled to property held, issued, or owing by the holder;

(3) "business association" means a corporation, joint stock company, investment company, partnership, unincorporated association, joint venture, limited liability company, business trust, trust company, land bank, safe deposit company, safekeeping depository, financial organization, insurance company, mutual fund, utility, or other business entity consisting of one or more persons, whether or not for profit;

(4) "domicile" means the state of incorporation of a corporation and the state of the principal place of business of a holder other than a corporation;

(5) "financial organization" means a savings and loan association, building and loan association, savings bank, industrial bank, bank, banking organization or credit union;

(6) "holder" means a person obligated to hold for the account of, or deliver or pay to, the owner property that is subject to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995);

(7) "insurance company" means an association, corporation or fraternal or mutual benefit organization, whether or not for profit, engaged in the business of providing life endowments, annuities or insurance, including accident, burial, casualty, credit life, contract performance, dental, disability, fidelity, fire, health, hospitalization, illness, life, malpractice, marine, mortgage, surety, wage protection and workers' compensation insurance;

(8) "mineral" means gas; oil; coal; other gaseous, liquid and solid hydrocarbons; oil shale; cement material; sand and gravel; road material; building stone; chemical raw material; gemstone; fissionable and nonfissionable ores; colloidal and other clay; steam and other geothermal resource; or any other substance defined as a mineral by the law of New Mexico;

(9) "mineral proceeds" means amounts payable for the extraction, production or sale of minerals, or, upon the abandonment of those payments, all payments that become payable thereafter. The term includes amounts payable:

(i) for the acquisition and retention of a mineral lease, including bonuses, royalties, compensatory royalties, shut-in royalties, minimum royalties and delay rentals;

(ii) for the extraction, production or sale of minerals, including net revenue interests, royalties, overriding royalties, extraction payments and production payments; and

(iii) under an agreement or option, including a joint operating agreement, unit agreement, pooling agreement and farm-out agreement;

(10) "money order" includes an express money order and a personal money order, on which the remitter is the purchaser. The term does not include a bank money order or any other instrument sold by a financial organization if the seller has obtained the name and address of the payee;

(11) "owner" means a person who has a legal or equitable interest in property subject to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) or the person's legal representative. The term includes a depositor in the case of a deposit, a beneficiary in the case of a trust other than a deposit in trust and a creditor, claimant or payee in the case of other property;

(12) "person" means an individual; business association; financial organization; estate; trust; government; governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality; or any other legal or commercial entity;

(13) "property" means tangible property described in Section 7-8A-3 NMSA 1978 or a fixed and certain interest in intangible property that is held, issued, or owed in the course of a holder's business, or by a government, governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality, and all income or increments therefrom, but excludes child, spousal or medical support received by the child support enforcement division of the human services department [health care authority department], the New Mexico IV-D agency. The term includes property that is referred to as or evidenced by:

(i) money, a check, draft, deposit, interest or dividend;

(ii) credit balance, customer's overpayment, gift certificate, security deposit, refund, credit memorandum, unpaid wage, unused ticket, mineral proceeds or unidentified remittance;

(iii) stock or other evidence of ownership of an interest in a business association or financial organization;

(iv) a bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness;

(v) money deposited to redeem stocks, bonds, coupons or other securities or to make distributions;

(vi) an amount due and payable under the terms of an annuity or insurance policy, including policies providing life insurance, property and casualty insurance, workers' compensation insurance or health and disability insurance; and

(vii) an amount distributable from a trust or custodial fund established under a plan to provide health, welfare, pension, vacation, severance, retirement, death, stock purchase, profit sharing, employee savings, supplemental unemployment insurance or similar benefits;

(14) "record" means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form;

(15) "state" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States; and

(16) "utility" means a person who owns or operates for public use any plant, equipment, real property, franchise, or license for the transmission of communications or the production, storage, transmission, sale, delivery or furnishing of electricity, water, steam or gas.

7-8A-2. Presumptions of abandonment.

A. Property is presumed abandoned if it is unclaimed by the apparent owner during the time set forth below for the particular property:

- (1) traveler's check, fifteen years after issuance;
- (2) money order, seven years after issuance;
- (3) stock or other equity interest in a business association or financial organization, including a security entitlement under Article 8 [55-8-101 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Commercial Code, five years after the earlier of:

(a) the date of the most recent dividend, stock split or other distribution unclaimed by the apparent owner; or

(b) the date of the second mailing of a statement of account or other notification or communication that was returned as undeliverable or after the holder discontinued mailings, notifications or communications to the apparent owner;

(4) debt of a business association or financial organization, other than a bearer bond or an original issue discount bond, five years after the date of the most recent interest payment unclaimed by the apparent owner;

(5) a demand, savings or time deposit, including a deposit that is automatically renewable, five years after the earlier of maturity or the date of the last indication by the owner of interest in the property; but a deposit that is automatically renewable is deemed matured for purposes of this section upon its initial date of maturity, unless the owner has consented to a renewal at or about the time of the renewal and the consent is in writing or is evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the holder;

(6) money or credits owed to a customer as a result of a retail business transaction, three years after the obligation accrued;

(7) gift certificate, five years after December 31 of the year in which the certificate was sold, but if redeemable in merchandise only, the amount abandoned is deemed to be sixty percent of the certificate's face value;

(8) amount owed by an insurer on a life or endowment insurance policy or an annuity that has matured or terminated, three years after the obligation to pay arose or, in the case of a policy or annuity payable upon proof of death, three years after the insured has attained, or would have attained if living, the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based;

(9) property distributable by a business association or financial organization in a course of dissolution, one year after the property becomes distributable;

(10) property received by a court as proceeds of a class action and not distributed pursuant to the judgment, one year after the distribution date;

(11) property held by a court, government, governmental subdivision, agency or instrumentality, one year after the property becomes distributable;

(12) wages or other compensation for personal services, one year after the compensation becomes payable;

(13) deposit or refund owed to a subscriber by a utility, one year after the deposit or refund becomes payable;

(14) property in an individual retirement account, defined benefit plan or other account or plan that is qualified for tax deferral under the income tax laws of the United States, three years after the earliest of the date of the distribution or attempted distribution of the property, the date of the required distribution as stated in the plan or trust agreement governing the plan or the date, if determinable by the holder, specified in the income tax laws of the United States by which distribution of the property must begin in order to avoid a tax penalty; and

(15) all other property, five years after the owner's right to demand the property or after the obligation to pay or distribute the property arises, whichever first occurs.

B. At the time that an interest is presumed abandoned under Subsection A of this section, any other property right accrued or accruing to the owner as a result of the interest, and not previously presumed abandoned, is also presumed abandoned.

C. Property is unclaimed if, for the applicable period set forth in Subsection A of this section, the apparent owner has not communicated in writing or by other means reflected in a contemporaneous record prepared by or on behalf of the holder, with the holder concerning the property or the account in which the property is held and has not otherwise indicated an interest in the property. A communication with an owner by a person other than the holder or its representative who has not in writing identified the property to the owner is not an indication of interest in the property by the owner.

D. An indication of an owner's interest in property includes:

(1) the presentment of a check or other instrument of payment of a dividend or other distribution made with respect to an account or underlying stock or other interest in a business association or financial organization or, in the case of a distribution made by electronic or similar means, evidence that the distribution has been received;

(2) owner-directed activity in the account in which the property is held, including a direction by the owner to increase, decrease or change the amount or type of property held in the account;

(3) the making of a deposit to or withdrawal from a bank account; and

(4) the payment of a premium with respect to a property interest in an insurance policy; but the application of an automatic premium loan provision or other nonforfeiture provision contained in an insurance policy does not prevent a policy from maturing or terminating if the insured has died or the insured or the beneficiary of the policy has otherwise become entitled to the proceeds before the depletion of the cash surrender value of a policy by the application of those provisions.

E. Property is payable or distributable for purposes of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) notwithstanding the owner's failure to make demand or present an instrument or document otherwise required to obtain payment.

7-8A-3. Contents of safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository.

Tangible property held in a safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository in this state in the ordinary course of the holder's business and proceeds resulting from the sale of the property permitted by other law, are presumed abandoned if the property remains unclaimed by the owner for more than five years after expiration of the lease or rental period on the box or other depository.

7-8A-4. Rules for taking custody.

Except as otherwise provided in the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) or by other statute of this state, property that is presumed abandoned, whether located in this or another state, is subject to the custody of this state if:

(1) the last known address of the apparent owner, as shown on the records of the holder, is in this state;

(2) the records of the holder do not reflect the identity of the person entitled to the property and it is established that the last known address of the person entitled to the property is in this state;

(3) the records of the holder do not reflect the last known address of the apparent owner and it is established that:

(i) the last known address of the person entitled to the property is in this state; or

(ii) the holder is domiciled in this state or is a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality of this state and has not previously paid or delivered the property to the state of the last known address of the apparent owner or other person entitled to the property;

(4) the last known address of the apparent owner, as shown on the records of the holder, is in a state that does not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the property and the holder is domiciled in this state or is a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality of this state;

(5) the last known address of the apparent owner, as shown on the records of the holder, is in a foreign country and the holder is domiciled in this state or is a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality of this state;

(6) the transaction out of which the property arose occurred in this state, the holder is domiciled in a state that does not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the property, and the last known address of the apparent owner or other person entitled to the property is unknown or is in a state that does not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the property; or

(7) the property is a traveler's check or money order purchased in this state, or the issuer of the traveler's check or money order has its principal place of business in this state and the issuer's records show that the instrument was purchased in a state that does not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the property, or does not show the state in which the instrument was purchased.

7-8A-5. Dormancy charge.

A holder may deduct from property presumed abandoned a charge imposed by reason of the owner's failure to claim the property within a specified time only if there is a valid and enforceable written contract between the holder and the owner under which the holder may impose the charge and the holder regularly imposes the charge, which is not regularly reversed or otherwise canceled. The amount of the deduction is limited to an amount that is not unconscionable.

7-8A-6. Burden of proof as to property evidenced by record of check or draft.

A record of the issuance of a check, draft or similar instrument is prima facie evidence of an obligation. In claiming property from a holder who is also the issuer, the administrator's burden of proof as to the existence and amount of the property and its abandonment is satisfied by showing issuance of the instrument and passage of the requisite period of abandonment. Defenses of payment, satisfaction, discharge and want of consideration are affirmative defenses that must be established by the holder.

7-8A-7. Report of abandoned property.

A. A holder of property presumed abandoned shall make a report to the administrator concerning the property.

B. The report must be verified and must contain:

- (1) a description of the property;
- (2) except with respect to a traveler's check or money order, the name, if known, and last known address, if any, and the social security number or taxpayer identification number, if readily ascertainable, of the apparent owner of property of the value of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more;
- (3) an aggregated amount of items valued under fifty dollars ($50.00) each;

(4) in the case of an amount of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more held or owing under an annuity or a life or endowment insurance policy, the full name and last known address of the annuitant or insured and of the beneficiary;

(5) in the case of property held in a safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository, an indication of the place where it is held and where it may be inspected by the administrator and any amounts owing to the holder;

(6) the date, if any, on which the property became payable, demandable or returnable and the date of the last transaction with the apparent owner with respect to the property; and

(7) other information that the administrator by rule prescribes as necessary for the administration of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

C. If a holder of property presumed abandoned is a successor to another person who previously held the property for the apparent owner or the holder has changed its name while holding the property, the holder shall file with the report its former names, if any, and the known names and addresses of all previous holders of the property.

D. The report must be filed before November 1 of each year and cover the twelve months next preceding July 1 of that year, but a report with respect to a life insurance company must be filed before May 1 of each year for the calendar year next preceding.

E. A holder of more than twenty-five properties presumed abandoned shall report the properties in an electronic media and in a format determined by the administrator to be compatible with computer programming and equipment used by the administrator for processing.

F. The holder of property presumed abandoned shall send written notice to the apparent owner, not more than one hundred twenty days or less than sixty days before filing the report, stating that the holder is in possession of property subject to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), if:

(1) the holder has in its records an address for the apparent owner which the holder's records do not disclose to be inaccurate;

(2) the claim of the apparent owner is not barred by a statute of limitations;
and

(3) the value of the property is fifty dollars ($50.00) or more.

G. Before the date for filing the report, the holder of property presumed abandoned may request the administrator to extend the time for filing the report. The administrator may grant the extension for good cause. The holder, upon receipt of the extension, may make an interim payment on the amount the holder estimates will ultimately be due, which terminates the accrual of additional interest on the amount paid.

H. The holder of property presumed abandoned shall file with the report an affidavit stating that the holder has complied with Subsection F of this section.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 7; 2006, ch. 37, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, added Subsection E to require the holders of more than twenty-five properties presumed abandoned to report the properties electronically.

7-8A-8. Payment or delivery of abandoned property.

(a) Except for property held in a safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository, upon filing the report required by Section 7 [7-8A-7 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), the holder of property presumed abandoned shall pay, deliver, or cause to be paid or delivered to the administrator the property described in the report as unclaimed, but if the property is an automatically renewable deposit, and a penalty or forfeiture in the payment of interest would result, the time for compliance is extended until a penalty or forfeiture would no longer result. Tangible property held in a safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository may not be delivered to the administrator until one hundred twenty days after filing the report required by Section 7 of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

(b) If the property reported to the administrator is a security or security entitlement under Article 8 [55-8-101 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Commercial Code, the administrator is an appropriate person to make an indorsement, instruction, or entitlement order on behalf of the apparent owner to invoke the duty of the issuer or its transfer agent or the securities intermediary to transfer or dispose of the security or the security entitlement in accordance with Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

(c) If the holder of property reported to the administrator is the issuer of a certificated security, the administrator has the right to obtain a replacement certificate pursuant to Section 55-8-405 NMSA 1978, but an indemnity bond is not required.

(d) An issuer, the holder, and any transfer agent or other person acting pursuant to the instructions of and on behalf of the issuer or holder in accordance with this section is not liable to the apparent owner and must be indemnified against claims of any person in accordance with Section 10 [7-8A-10 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

7-8A-9. Notice and publication of lists of abandoned property.

The administrator shall publish a notice not later than November 30 of each year in which abandoned property has been paid or delivered to the administrator. The notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county of this state. The advertisement must be in a form that, in the judgment of the administrator, is likely to attract the attention of the general public. The advertisement shall contain:

- A. the website on which to search for information about abandoned properties;
- B. the email address of the administrator;
- C. the telephone number and physical mailing address of the administrator;
- D. a statement explaining that property of the owner is presumed to be abandoned and has been taken into the protective custody of the administrator; and
- E. a statement providing information about the property and the return to the property's owner is available to a person having a legal or beneficial interest in the property, upon request to the administrator.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 9; 2021, ch. 65, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, updated the form of notice by which the taxation and revenue department advertises unclaimed property, required that published notice contain a website on which to search for information about abandoned properties, and removed a provision related to certain financial instruments and property having a value of less than fifty dollars; deleted subsection designation "(a)" and redesignated former Paragraphs (1) and (2) as Subsections A and B, respectively; after "newspaper of general circulation in", deleted "the" and added "each", after "of this state", deleted "in which is located the last known address of any person named in the notice. If a holder does not report an address for the apparent owner or the address is outside this state, the notice must be published in the county in which the holder has its principal place of business within this state or another county that the administrator reasonably selects", and after "attention of the", deleted "apparent owner of the unclaimed property" and added "general public"; in Subsection A after "the", deleted "name of each person appearing to be the owner of the property, as set forth in the report filed by the holder" and added "website on which to search for information about abandoned properties"; in Subsection B, after "the", deleted "last known address or location of each person appearing to be the owner of the property, if an address or location is set forth in the report filed by the holder" and added "email address of the administrator"; added new Subsection C and redesignated former Paragraphs (3) and (4) as Subsections D and E, respectively; and deleted former Subsection C, Paragraph (b).

7-8A-10. Custody by state; recovery by holder; defense of holder.

(a) In this section, payment or delivery is made in "good faith" if:

(1) payment or delivery was made in a reasonable attempt to comply with the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995);

(2) the holder was not then in breach of a fiduciary obligation with respect to the property and had a reasonable basis for believing, based on the facts then known, that the property was presumed abandoned; and

(3) there is no showing that the records under which the payment or delivery was made did not meet reasonable commercial standards of practice.

(b) Upon payment or delivery of property to the administrator, the state assumes custody and responsibility for the safekeeping of the property. A holder who pays or delivers property to the administrator in good faith is relieved of all liability arising thereafter with respect to the property.

(c) A holder who has paid money to the administrator pursuant to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) may subsequently make payment to a person reasonably appearing to the holder to be entitled to payment. Upon a filing by the holder of proof of payment and proof that the payee was entitled to the payment, the administrator shall promptly reimburse the holder for the payment without imposing a fee or other charge. If reimbursement is sought for a payment made on a negotiable instrument, including a traveler's check or money order, the holder must be reimbursed upon filing proof that the instrument was duly presented and that payment was made to a person who reasonably appeared to be entitled to payment. The holder must be reimbursed for payment made even if the payment was made to a person whose claim was barred under Section 19(a) [7-8A-19(a) NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

(d) A holder who has delivered property other than money to the administrator pursuant to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) may reclaim the property if it is still in the possession of the administrator, without paying any fee or other charge, upon filing proof that the apparent owner has claimed the property from the holder.

(e) The administrator may accept a holder's affidavit as sufficient proof of the holder's right to recover money and property under this section.

(f) If a holder pays or delivers property to the administrator in good faith and thereafter another person claims the property from the holder or another state claims the money or property under its laws relating to escheat or abandoned or unclaimed property, the administrator, upon written notice of the claim, shall defend the holder against the claim and indemnify the holder against any liability on the claim resulting from payment or delivery of the property to the administrator.

(g) Property removed from a safe deposit box or other safekeeping depository is received by the administrator subject to the holder's right to be reimbursed for the cost of the opening and to any valid lien or contract providing for the holder to be reimbursed for unpaid rent or storage charges. The administrator shall reimburse the holder out of the proceeds remaining after deducting the expense incurred by the administrator in selling the property.

Effective dates. — Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 34 made Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 10 effective July 1, 1997.

7-8A-10.1. Exercise of due diligence; liability; notice.

A. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), the holder of unclaimed intangible property in the form of checks in payment of royalty interests, working interests or other interests payable out of oil and gas production with a value of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more who fails to exercise due diligence in attempting to locate the apparent owner of such property during the running of the period specified under Section 2 [7-8A-2 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) constituting a presumption of abandonment of such intangible property is subject to payment to the owner if such property is successfully claimed within the time specified by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) or to the state of New Mexico upon payment or delivery of the property to the administrator, interest at the annual rate of interest computed as provided in Subsection B of Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978 on the value of the intangible property, such interest running from the date commencing after the first year in which the property remained unclaimed to the date of payment or delivery.

B. Proof of the exercise of due diligence to locate the apparent owner shall be:

(1) evidence of written notice mailed to the last known address of the apparent owner; and

(2) proof of publication of notice to the apparent owner made between the end of the first year in which the property remained unclaimed and the end of the third year in which the property remained unclaimed. The publication of the notice required by this subsection for property presumed to be abandoned under the provisions of Section 7 [7-8A-7 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) shall be made at least thirty days, but not more than ninety days, prior to the due date on which the report of abandoned property is required to be filed.

C. Publication as required in Subsection B of this section consists of publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county of this state in which is located the last known address of the apparent owner, or if no address is listed or the address is outside the state, in a newspaper published in the county in which the holder of the property has his principal place of business within the state. The notice shall be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks and shall be entitled:

"NOTICE OF THE NAME OF A PERSON APPEARING TO BE THE OWNER OF ABANDONED PROPERTY".

D. The published notice shall contain:

(1) the name and last known address, if any, of the person entitled to notice as specified in this section;

(2) a statement that information concerning the unclaimed property may be obtained from the holder of the property;

(3) the name and address of the holder of the property; and

(4) a statement that if proof of claim is not presented by the owner to the holder and the owner's right to receive the property is not established to the holder's satisfaction before the expiration of the period specified by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) for the presumption of abandonment, the intangible property will be placed in the custody of the state of New Mexico and subject to escheat to the general fund of the state.

E. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States or to the state of New Mexico or any agency or political subdivision of the state.

F. Any holder of property that has been presumed to be abandoned for more than three years as of January 1, 1990 shall not be presumed to be negligent by the failure to publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation as required by this section.

ANNOTATIONS

Recompilations. — This section was formerly compiled as 7-8-20.1 NMSA 1978 and was recompiled by Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 32.

The 1997 amendment, effective July 1, 1997, inserted "1995" following "Uniform Unclaimed Property Act" twice in Subsection A and in Paragraph D(4), substituted "Section 2 of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995)" for "Sections 7-8-3 and 7-8-6 through 7-8-16 NMSA 1978" in Subsection A, and substituted "Section 7 of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995)" for "Sections 7-8-8, 7-8-9, 7-8-11, 7-8-13 and 7-8-15 NMSA 1978" in Paragraph B(2).

7-8A-11. Crediting of dividends, interest and increments to owner's account.

If property other than money is delivered to the administrator under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), the owner is entitled to receive from the administrator any income or gain realized or accruing on the property at or before liquidation or conversion of the property into money. If the property was an interest-bearing demand, savings, or time deposit, including a deposit that is automatically renewable, the administrator shall pay interest at a rate of five percent a year or any lesser rate the property earned while in the possession of the holder. Interest begins to accrue when the property is delivered to the administrator and ceases on the earlier of the expiration of ten years after delivery or the date on which payment is made to the owner. Interest on interest-bearing property is not payable for any period before the effective date of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), unless authorized by law superseded by that act.

7-8A-12. Public sale of abandoned property.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the administrator, within three years after the receipt of abandoned property, shall sell it to the highest bidder at public sale at a location in this state or by any reasonable method, which in the judgment of the administrator affords the most favorable market for the property. The administrator may decline the highest bid and re-offer the property for sale if the administrator considers the bid to be insufficient. The administrator need not offer the property for sale if the administrator considers that the probable cost of sale will exceed the proceeds of the sale. A sale held under this section must be preceded by a single publication of notice, at least three weeks before sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property is to be sold.

B. Securities listed on an established stock exchange must be sold at prices prevailing on the exchange at the time of sale. Other securities may be sold over the counter at prices prevailing at the time of sale or by any reasonable method selected by the administrator. If securities are sold by the administrator before the expiration of three years after their delivery to the administrator, a person making a claim under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) before the end of the three-year period is entitled to the proceeds of the sale of the securities or the market value of the securities at the time the claim is made, whichever is greater, plus dividends, interest and other increments thereon up to the time the claim is made, less any deduction for expenses of sale. A person making a claim under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) after the expiration of the three-year period is entitled to receive the securities delivered to the administrator by the holder, if they still remain in the custody of the administrator, or the net proceeds received from sale and is not entitled to receive any appreciation in the value of the property occurring after delivery to the administrator except in a case of intentional misconduct or malfeasance by the administrator.

C. A purchaser of property at a sale conducted by the administrator pursuant to the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) takes the property free of all claims of the owner or previous holder and of all persons claiming through or under them. The administrator shall execute all documents necessary to complete the transfer of ownership.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 12; 2006, ch. 37, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, provided in Subsection A that the administrator may sell abandoned property by any reasonable method.

7-8A-13. Deposit of funds.

A. Except as otherwise provided by this section, the administrator shall promptly deposit in the tax administration suspense fund for distribution pursuant to the provisions of the Tax Administration Act [Chapter 7, Article 1 NMSA 1978] all money received under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), including the proceeds from the sale of abandoned property under Section 7-8A-12 NMSA 1978. The administrator shall retain in the unclaimed property fund at least one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for the purposes of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), from which the administrator shall pay claims duly allowed. The administrator shall record the name and last known address of each person appearing from the holders' reports to be entitled to the property and the name and last known address of each insured person or annuitant and beneficiary and with respect to each policy or annuity listed in the report of an insurance company, its number, the name of the company and the amount due.

B. Before making a deposit to the tax administration suspense fund, the administrator may deduct:

- (1) expenses of sale of abandoned property;
- (2) costs of mailing and publication in connection with abandoned property;
- (3) reasonable service charges; and
- (4) expenses incurred in examining records of holders of property and in collecting the property from those holders.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 13; 2007 (1st S.S.), ch. 2, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective June 28, 2007, changed the distribution of money from the general fund to purposes provided in the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

7-8A-14. Claim of another state to recover property.

(a) After property has been paid or delivered to the administrator under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), another state may recover the property if:

(1) the property was paid or delivered to the custody of this state because the records of the holder did not reflect a last known location of the apparent owner within the borders of the other state and the other state establishes that the apparent owner or other person entitled to the property was last known to be located within the borders of that state and under the laws of that state the property has escheated or become subject to a claim of abandonment by that state;

(2) the property was paid or delivered to the custody of this state because the laws of the other state did not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the property, and under the laws of that state subsequently enacted the property has escheated or become subject to a claim of abandonment by that state;

(3) the records of the holder were erroneous in that they did not accurately identify the owner of the property and the last known location of the owner within the borders of another state and under the laws of that state the property has escheated or become subject to a claim of abandonment by that state;

(4) the property was subjected to custody by this state under Section 4(6) [7-8A-4(6) NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), and under the laws of the state of domicile of the holder the property has escheated or become subject to a claim of abandonment by that state; or

(5) the property is a sum payable on a traveler's check, money order or similar instrument that was purchased in the other state and delivered into the custody of this state under Section 4(7) [7-8A-4(7) NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed

Property Act (1995), and under the laws of the other state the property has escheated or become subject to a claim of abandonment by that state.

(b) A claim of another state to recover escheated or abandoned property must be presented in a form prescribed by the administrator, who shall decide the claim within ninety days after it is presented. The administrator shall allow the claim upon determining that the other state is entitled to the abandoned property under Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The administrator shall require another state, before recovering property under this section, to agree to indemnify this state and its officers and employees against any liability on a claim to the property.

7-8A-15. Filing claim with administrator; handling of claims by administrator.

(a) A person, excluding another state, claiming property paid or delivered to the administrator may file a claim on a form prescribed by the administrator and verified by the claimant.

(b) Within ninety days after a claim is filed, the administrator shall allow or deny the claim and give written notice of the decision to the claimant. If the claim is denied, the administrator shall inform the claimant of the reasons for the denial and specify what additional evidence is required before the claim will be allowed. The claimant may then file a new claim with the administrator or maintain an action under Section 16 of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

(c) Within thirty days after a claim is allowed, the property or the net proceeds of a sale of the property must be delivered or paid by the administrator to the claimant, together with any dividend, interest or other increment to which the claimant is entitled under Sections 11 and 12 [7-8A-11 and 7-8A-12 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

(d) A holder who pays the owner for property that has been delivered to the state and which, if claimed from the administrator by the owner would be subject to an increment under Sections 11 and 12 of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), may recover from the administrator the amount of the increment.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 34 made Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 15 effective July 1, 1997.

The Unclaimed Property Act's administrative process is exclusive and mandatory. — Where petitioner was appointed the personal representative of his deceased grandfather's estate, and where the probate court, at petitioner's request, issued an order directing the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) to release $70,000 of unclaimed property that belonged to decedent, and where the probate court transferred the case to the district court when the department refused to release the property, the district court's order directing the department to comply with the probate court and release the unclaimed property to petitioner was invalid, because the administrative claim filing provisions of the Unclaimed Property Act, 7-8A-1 to 7-8A-31 NMSA 1978, are exclusive and mandatory, and therefore the district court did not have jurisdiction to determine that the property was estate property or to enforce the probate court's order as the probate court had no authority to order the department to release the unclaimed property to petitioner. In re Estate of McElveny, 2017-NMSC-024, rev'g 2015-NMCA-080, 355 P.3d 75.

The Uniform Unclaimed Property Act is not the exclusive mode for disbursing unclaimed property. — There is no intent expressed by the legislature that the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act supersedes the Uniform Probate Code; therefore, the district court's general civil jurisdiction in formal probate proceedings gave the district court jurisdiction to order the taxation and revenue department to release unclaimed property of decedent to petitioner, as personal representative of decedent's estate, notwithstanding the procedures set forth in this section for acquiring unclaimed property. In re Estate of McElveny, 2015-NMCA-080, cert. granted, 2015-NMCERT-007.

7-8A-16. Appeal; action to establish claim.

A. A person aggrieved by a decision of the administrator may file an appeal pursuant to the provisions of Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978.

B. A person whose claim has not been acted upon within ninety days after its filing may maintain an original action to establish the claim in the district court for the first judicial district, naming the administrator as a defendant.

C. If the aggrieved person establishes the claim in an action against the administrator, the court may award the claimant reasonable attorney fees.

History: Laws 1997, ch. 25, § 16; 1998, ch. 55, § 18; 1999, ch. 265, § 18.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For appeal of final decisions by agencies to district court, see Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978.

For procedures governing administrative appeals to the district court, see Rule 1-074 NMRA.

The 1999 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, substituted "Section 39-3-1.1" for "Section 12-8A-1" in Subsection A.

The 1998 amendment, effective September 1, 1998, inserted "Appeal;" in the section heading; added the Subsection designations; in Subsection A, inserted "may file an appeal pursuant to the provisions of Section 12-8A-1 NMSA 1978"; inserted "A person" in Subsection B; substituted "attorney" for "attorney's" in Subsection C; and made minor capitalization and stylistic changes.

Administrative remedies must be exhausted prior to seeking court relief. — Where petitioner was appointed the personal representative of his deceased grandfather's estate, and where the probate court, at petitioner's request, issued an order directing the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) to release $70,000 of unclaimed property that belonged to decedent, and where the probate court transferred the case to the district court when the department refused to release the property, petitioner erroneously sought relief from the district court before exhausting his administrative remedies under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (act), 7-8A-1 to 7-8A-31 NMSA 1978, because under the act, it is clear that the legislature intended the department to decide unclaimed property matters prior to parties seeking relief in the courts. In re Estate of McElveny, 2017-NMSC-024, rev'g 2015-NMCA-080, 355 P.3d 75.

7-8A-17. Election to take payment or delivery.

(a) The administrator may decline to receive property reported under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) which the administrator considers to have a value less than the expenses of notice and sale.

(b) A holder, with the written consent of the administrator and upon conditions and terms prescribed by the administrator, may report and deliver property before the property is presumed abandoned. Property so delivered must be held by the administrator and is not presumed abandoned until it otherwise would be presumed abandoned under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

7-8A-18. Destruction or disposition of property having no substantial commercial value; immunity from liability.

If the administrator determines after investigation that property delivered under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) has no substantial commercial value, the administrator may destroy or otherwise dispose of the property at any time. An action or proceeding may not be maintained against the state or any officer or against the holder for or on account of an act of the administrator under this section, except for intentional misconduct or malfeasance.

7-8A-19. Periods of limitation.

(a) The expiration, before or after the effective date of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), of a period of limitation on the owner's right to receive or recover property, whether specified by contract, statute or court order, does not preclude the property from being presumed abandoned or affect a duty to file a report or to pay or deliver or transfer property to the administrator as required by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

(b) An action or proceeding may not be maintained by the administrator to enforce the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) in regard to the reporting, delivery, or payment of property more than ten years after the holder specifically identified the property in a report filed with the administrator or gave express notice to the administrator of a dispute regarding the property. In the absence of such a report or other express notice, the period of limitation is tolled. The period of limitation is also tolled by the filing of a report that is fraudulent.

7-8A-20. Requests for reports and examination of records.

(a) The administrator may require a person who has not filed a report, or a person whom the administrator believes has filed an inaccurate, incomplete or false report, to file a verified report in a form specified by the administrator. The report must state whether the person is holding property reportable under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), describe property not previously reported or as to which the administrator has made inquiry, and specifically identify and state the amounts of property that may be in issue.

(b) The administrator, at reasonable times and upon reasonable notice, may examine the records of any person to determine whether the person has complied with the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995). The administrator may conduct the examination even if the person believes it is not in possession of any property that must be reported, paid or delivered under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995). The administrator may contract with any other person to conduct the examination on behalf of the administrator.

(c) The administrator at reasonable times may examine the records of an agent, including a dividend disbursing agent or transfer agent, of a business association or financial association that is the holder of property presumed abandoned if the administrator has given the notice required by Subsection (b) of this section to both the association or organization and the agent at least ninety days before the examination.

(d) Documents and working papers obtained or compiled by the administrator, or the administrator's agents, employees or designated representatives, in the course of conducting an examination are confidential and are not public records, but the documents and papers may be:

(1) used by the administrator in the course of an action to collect unclaimed property or otherwise enforce the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995);

(2) used in joint examinations conducted with or pursuant to an agreement with another state, the federal government, or any other governmental subdivision, agency or instrumentality;

(3) produced pursuant to subpoena or court order; or

(4) disclosed to the abandoned property office of another state for that state's use in circumstances equivalent to those described in this subsection, if the other state is bound to keep the documents and papers confidential.

(e) If an examination of the records of a person results in the disclosure of property reportable under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), the administrator may assess the cost of the examination against the holder at the rate of two hundred dollars ($200) a day for each examiner, or a greater amount that is reasonable and was incurred, but the assessment may not exceed the value of the property found to be reportable. The cost of an examination made pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section may be assessed only against the business association or financial organization.

(f) If, after the effective date of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), a holder does not maintain the records required by Section 21 [7-8A-21 NMSA 1978] of that act and the records of the holder available for the periods subject to that act are insufficient to permit the preparation of a report, the administrator may require the holder to report and pay to the administrator the amount the administrator reasonably estimates, on the basis of any available records of the holder or by any other reasonable method of estimation, should have been but was not reported.

7-8A-21. Retention of records.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (b) of this section, a holder required to file a report under Section 7 [7-8A-7 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) shall maintain the records containing the information required to be included in the report for ten years after the holder files the report, unless a shorter period is provided by rule of the administrator.

(b) A business association or financial organization that sells, issues, or provides to others for sale or issue in this state, traveler's checks, money orders, or similar instruments other than third-party bank checks, on which the business association or financial organization is directly liable, shall maintain a record of the instruments while they remain outstanding, indicating the state and date of issue, for three years after the holder files the report.

7-8A-23. Interstate agreements and cooperation; joint and reciprocal actions with other states.

(a) The administrator may enter into an agreement with another state to exchange information relating to abandoned property or its possible existence. The agreement may permit the other state, or another person acting on behalf of a state, to examine records as authorized in Section 20 [7-8A-20 NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995). The administrator by rule may require the reporting of information needed to enable compliance with an agreement made under this section and prescribe the form.

(b) The administrator may join with another state to seek enforcement of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) against any person who is or may be holding property reportable under that act.

(c) At the request of another state, the attorney general of this state may maintain an action on behalf of the other state to enforce, in this state, the unclaimed property laws of the other state against a holder of property subject to escheat or a claim of abandonment by the other state, if the other state has agreed to pay expenses incurred by the attorney general in maintaining the action.

(d) The administrator may request that the attorney general of another state or another attorney commence an action in the other state on behalf of the administrator. With the approval of the attorney general of this state, the administrator may retain any other attorney to commence an action in this state on behalf of the administrator. This state shall pay all expenses, including attorney's fees, in maintaining an action under this subsection. With the administrator's approval, the expenses and attorney's fees may be paid from money received under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995). The administrator may agree to pay expenses and attorney's fees based in whole or in part on a percentage of the value of any property recovered in the action. Any expenses or attorney's fees paid under this subsection may not be deducted from the amount that is subject to the claim by the owner under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995).

7-8A-24. Interest and penalties.

(a) A holder who fails to report, pay or deliver property within the time prescribed by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) shall pay to the administrator interest at the annual rate set forth in Section 7-1-67 NMSA 1978 on the property or value thereof from the date the property should have been reported, paid or delivered.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (c) of this section, a holder who fails to report, pay or deliver property within the time prescribed by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), or fails to perform other duties imposed by that act, shall pay to the administrator, in addition to interest as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, a civil penalty of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day the report, payment or delivery is withheld, or the duty is not performed, up to a maximum of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(c) A holder who willfully fails to report, pay or deliver property within the time prescribed by the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), or willfully fails to perform other duties imposed by that act, shall pay to the administrator, in addition to interest as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, a civil penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each day the report, payment or delivery is withheld, or the duty is not performed, up to a maximum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500), plus twenty-five percent of the value of any property that should have been but was not reported.

(d) A holder who makes a fraudulent report shall pay to the administrator, in addition to interest as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) for each day from the date a report under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) was due, up to a maximum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500), plus twenty-five percent of the value of any property that should have been but was not reported.

(e) The administrator for good cause may waive, in whole or in part, penalties under Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, and shall waive penalties if the holder acted in good faith and without negligence.

7-8A-25. Agreement to locate property.

A. An agreement by an owner, the primary purpose of which is to locate, deliver, recover or assist in the recovery of property that is presumed abandoned, is void and unenforceable if it was entered into during the period commencing on the date the property was presumed abandoned and extending to a time that is forty-eight months after the date the property is paid or delivered to the administrator. This subsection does not apply to an owner's agreement with an attorney to file a claim as to identified property or contest the administrator's denial of a claim.

B. An agreement by an owner, the primary purpose of which is to locate, deliver, recover or assist in the recovery of property, is enforceable only if the agreement is in writing, clearly sets forth the nature of the property and the services to be rendered, is signed by the apparent owner and states the value of the property before and after the fee or other compensation has been deducted.

C. If an agreement covered by this section applies to mineral proceeds and the agreement contains a provision to pay compensation that includes a portion of the underlying minerals or any mineral proceeds not then presumed abandoned, the provision is void and unenforceable.

D. An agreement covered by this section which provides for compensation that is unconscionable is unenforceable except by the owner. An owner who has agreed to pay compensation that is unconscionable or the administrator on behalf of the owner may maintain an action to reduce the compensation to a conscionable amount. The court may award reasonable attorney fees to an owner who prevails in the action.

E. This section does not preclude an owner from asserting that an agreement covered by this section is invalid on grounds other than unconscionable compensation.

7-8A-26. Foreign transactions.

The Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) does not apply to:

(1) property held, due and owing in a foreign country and arising out of a foreign transaction;

(2) funds in a member's share account in a credit union if the bylaws of the credit union provide for unclaimed funds to be used for educational or charitable uses; and

(3) patronage capital or other tangible ownership interest in a rural electric cooperative, a telephone cooperative, a water cooperative or an agricultural cooperative, if the bylaws of the cooperative provide for unclaimed patronage capital to be used for educational scholarships or other charitable uses.

7-8A-27. Transitional provisions.

(a) An initial report filed under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) for property that was not required to be reported before the effective date of that act, but which is subject to that act, must include all items of property that would have been presumed abandoned during the ten-year period next preceding the effective date of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) as if that act had been in effect during that period.

(b) The Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995) does not relieve a holder of a duty that arose before the effective date of that act to report, pay or deliver property. Except as otherwise provided in Section 19(b) [7-8A-19(b) NMSA 1978] of the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act (1995), a holder who did not comply with the law in effect before the effective date of that act is subject to the applicable provisions for enforcement and penalties which then existed, which are continued in effect for the purpose of this section.

Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax

7-9-1. Short title.

Chapter 7, Article 9 NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act".

Contracts of sale or service subject to gross receipts tax. — Taxable incidents are equally apparent and are ascertainable with equal ease whether they arise out of a contract of sale or out of a contract for services, and therefore, equally subject to the New Mexico gross receipts tax. Evco v. Jones, 1971-NMCA-123, 83 N.M. 110, 488 P.2d 1214, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 105, 488 P.2d 1209, rev'd on other grounds, 409 U.S. 91, 93 S. Ct. 349, 34 L. Ed. 2d 325 (1972) (decided under prior law).

Purchasers of property for lease but not lessees subject to gross receipts tax. — Neither the gross receipts tax nor the compensating tax is payable under the law applicable to this appeal by one who leased property for sublease in this state. Such tax, however, is payable by one who has purchased property for lease in this state, thus the legislature has made a distinction with respect to tax liability as between purchasers and lessees. Rust Tractor Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1970-NMCA-107, 82 N.M. 82, 475 P.2d 779, cert. denied, 82 N.M. 81, 475 P.2d 778.

Gross receipts tax but not use tax applicable to Indians. — The exemption in § 5 of the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934 (25 U.S.C. § 465) does not encompass or bar the collection of the state's nondiscriminatory gross receipts tax pursuant to 72-16-1, 1953 Comp. (since repealed). Therefore, a tribal ski enterprise conducted by the tribe with federal funds, on federal lands leased to them, was subject to that tax. However, a compensating or use tax, 72-17-1, 1953 Comp. (since repealed), imposed on personalty installed in ski lift construction was improper under § 5. Mescalero Apache Tribe v. Jones, 411 U.S. 145, 93 S. Ct. 1267, 36 L. Ed. 2d 114 (1973) (decided under former Section 72-17-1, 1953 Comp.).

Indian trader statutes. — The Indian trader statutes (25 U.S.C. §§ 261 to 264) preempt the imposition of gross receipts tax of this Article on receipts for non-Indian services rendered to an Indian tribal entity on the reservation. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Laguna Indus., Inc., 1993-NMSC-025, 115 N.M. 553, 855 P.2d 127.

Lessee's activity on tax-exempt Indian land subject to gross receipts tax. Norvell v. Sangre de Cristo Dev. Co., 372 F. Supp. 348 (D.N.M. 1974), rev'd on other grounds, 519 F.2d 370 (10th Cir. 1975).

Burden on taxpayer to show rate erroneous. — When government contractor appeals the assessment of a gross receipts tax, penalty and interest, he has the burden of showing the assessment at a higher tax rate established by the 1969 Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act rather than a lower rate under a pre-1969 tax act was erroneous. Martinez v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-054, 83 N.M. 722, 497 P.2d 233, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 741, 497 P.2d 743.

Regulation attacked only if taxpayer's contract properly subject thereunder. — When party, in addition to appealing the assessment of a gross receipts tax, penalty and interest, is attacking validity of regulation governing registration of contracts for purpose of determining gross receipts and compensating tax rate, and party neither offers in evidence his contract with the state highway department, nor does he prove the essential provisions of the contract, the question of the validity of the system of registration is premature until it is shown that the contract could be properly registered under the regulation. Martinez v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-054, 83 N.M. 722, 497 P.2d 233, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 741, 497 P.2d 743.

Electrical energy tax invalid. — Because 7-9-80 NMSA 1978 (since repealed) insured that locally consumed electricity is subject to no tax burden from the electrical energy tax, while electricity generated in this state but sold outside the state is subject to a 2% tax, the tax itself indirectly but necessarily discriminates against electricity sold outside New Mexico; it thus violates a federal statute, 15 U.S.C. § 391, and is invalid under the supremacy clause of the United States constitution. Arizona Pub. Serv. Co. v. Snead, 441 U.S. 141, 99 S. Ct. 1629, 60 L. Ed. 2d 106 (1979).

Federal statute invalidating energy tax constitutional. — A federal statute, 15 U.S.C. § 391, which invalidates the New Mexico electric energy tax, does not exceed the permissible bounds of congressional action under the commerce clause of the United States constitution since congress had a rational basis for finding that the tax interfered with interstate commerce and selected a reasonable method to eliminate that interference. Arizona Pub. Serv. Co. v. Snead, 441 U.S. 141, 99 S. Ct. 1629, 60 L. Ed. 2d 106 (1979).

Tax exemptions and deductions not unconstitutional donations unless retroactive. — Gross receipts tax exemptions and deductions do not violate the antidonation clause of the N.M. Const., art. IX, § 14 unless they are applied retroactively to taxes due and payable. 1991 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 91-14.

7-9-2. Purpose.

The purpose of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act is to provide revenue for public purposes by levying a tax on the privilege of engaging in certain activities within New Mexico and to protect New Mexico businessmen from the unfair competition that would otherwise result from the importation into the state of property without payment of a similar tax.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-2, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Gross receipts tax is a tax upon seller. Mescalero Apache Tribe v. O'Cheskey, 439 F. Supp. 1063 (D.N.M. 1977), aff'd, 625 F.2d 967 (10th Cir. 1980), cert. denied, 450 U.S. 959, 101 S. Ct. 1417, 67 L. Ed. 2d 383 (1981), reh'g denied, 455 U.S. 929, 102 S. Ct. 1296, 71 L. Ed. 2d 474 (1982).

Tax is measured on gross rather than net proceeds. This act taxes the privilege of conducting business in New Mexico, whether profitable or not. United States v. New Mexico, 624 F.2d 111 (10th Cir. 1980), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Gross receipts and income taxes inapplicable to Indian activities within reservation. — New Mexico may not tax income and gross receipts of Indians residing on a reservation when the income and gross receipts involved are derived solely from activities within the reservation. Hunt v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-026, 85 N.M. 381, 512 P.2d 954, cert. quashed, 85 N.M. 388, 512 P.2d 961.

Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act is general and contains no obvious legislative intent to repeal the special "in lieu of " provision of Section 60-1-15 NMSA 1978 concerning horse racing licenses. Santa Fe Downs, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-064, 85 N.M. 115, 509 P.2d 882.

Gross receipts tax and compensating tax not double taxation. — Since the gross receipts tax and compensating tax were not imposed upon a single transaction, as appellant contended, but upon different taxable incidents; namely, (1) the use of property in this state, such use being leasing or renting it to others (compensating or use tax) and (2) the receipts derived from the payment of rental by those to whom the property was leased (gross receipts or sales tax), then imposition of both taxes did not constitute double taxation on an identical transaction and was not prohibited. Rust Tractor Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1970-NMCA-107, 82 N.M. 82, 475 P.2d 779, cert. denied, 82 N.M. 81, 475 P.2d 778.

Exemption from gross receipts tax also exemption from compensating tax. — The legislature intended to make the gross receipts tax and compensating tax correlate: an exemption from the gross receipts tax must also be treated as an exemption from the compensating tax. Western Elec. Co. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-047, 90 N.M. 164, 561 P.2d 26.

Receipts from horse races not exempt. — The legislature, in enacting the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act, did not intend to exempt receipts from horse races. There is neither ambiguity nor doubt that the language used in the Gross Receipts Tax Act applies to the receipts of a horse owner paid to him for a winning purse and the receipts of a horse trainer paid to him as his percentage of a winning purse. Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743, 497 P.2d 745, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 740, 497 P.2d 742. See Section 7-9-40 NMSA 1978, which now exempts receipts from horse race purses.

Deductions strictly construed against taxpayer. — The avowed purpose of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act is to provide revenue, and any deductions must receive strict construction in favor of the taxing authority. Reed v. Jones, 1970-NMCA-050, 81 N.M. 481, 468 P.2d 882.

Burden on taxpayer to establish deduction. — The burden is on the taxpayer to establish clearly his right to the deduction, and the intention to authorize the deduction claimed by the taxpayer must be clearly and unambiguously expressed in the statute. Reed v. Jones, 1970-NMCA-050, 81 N.M. 481, 468 P.2d 882.

Implied rational basis. — Because regulations exempted broadcasting advertisement displays in New Mexico from the tax imposed upon taxpayer (operator of a billboard service), there was discrimination in the treatment of these different media forms, but the burden was upon the taxpayer to negative every conceivable basis which might support the discriminatory classification, because of the implied rational basis underlying every tax statute, i.e., that the state has the right, power and duty to raise the necessary funds for its public purposes, and it was held that there was a rational basis for the state to discriminate between the broadcast industry and the outdoor advertising industry in the taxation of displays of national messages. Markham Adver. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-071, 88 N.M. 176, 538 P.2d 1198, cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248.

D. "disclosed agency" means a person receiving money from a third party on behalf of another if the person receiving the money, or the person on whose behalf the money is received, disclosed the relationship to the third party from whom the person receives money, or if the third party otherwise has actual knowledge that the person to whom the money is paid receives the money on behalf of another;

E. "financial corporation" means a savings and loan association or an incorporated savings and loan company, trust company, mortgage banking company, consumer finance company or other financial corporation;

F. "initial use" or "initially used" means the first employment for the intended purpose and does not include the following activities:

- (1) observation of tests conducted by the performer of services;
- (2) participation in progress reviews, briefings, consultations and conferences conducted by the performer of services;
- (3) review of preliminary drafts, drawings and other materials prepared by the performer of services;
- (4) inspection of preliminary prototypes developed by the performer of services; or
- (5) similar activities;

G. "lease" or "leasing" means an arrangement whereby, for a consideration, the owner of property grants another person the exclusive right to possess and use the property for a definite term;

H. "licensing" or "license" means an arrangement whereby, for a consideration, the owner of property grants another person a revocable, non-exclusive right to use the property;

I. "local option gross receipts tax" means a tax authorized to be imposed by a county or municipality upon a taxpayer's gross receipts and required to be collected by the department at the same time and in the same manner as the gross receipts tax;

J. "manufactured home" means a movable or portable housing structure for human occupancy that exceeds either a width of eight feet or a length of forty feet constructed to be towed on its own chassis and designed to be installed with or without a permanent foundation;

K. "manufacturing" means combining or processing components or materials to increase their value for sale in the ordinary course of business, but does not include construction services; farming; electric power generation; processing of natural resources, including hydrocarbons; or the processing or preparation of meals for immediate consumption;

L. "manufacturing service" means the service of combining or processing components or materials owned by another, but does not include construction services; farming; electric power generation; processing of natural resources, including hydrocarbons; or the processing or preparation of meals for immediate consumption;

M. "marketplace provider" means a person who facilitates the sale, lease or license of tangible personal property or services or licenses for use of real property on a marketplace seller's behalf, or on the marketplace provider's own behalf, by:

(1) listing or advertising the sale, lease or license, by any means, whether physical or electronic, including by catalog, internet website or television or radio broadcast; and

(2) either directly or indirectly, through agreements or arrangements with third parties collecting payment from the customer and transmitting that payment to the seller, regardless of whether the marketplace provider receives compensation or other consideration in exchange for the marketplace provider's services;

N. "marketplace seller" means a person who sells, leases or licenses tangible personal property or services or who licenses the use of real property through a marketplace provider;

O. "person" means:

(1) an individual, estate, trust, receiver, cooperative association, club, corporation, company, firm, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, joint venture, syndicate or other entity, including any gas, water or electric utility owned or operated by a county, municipality or other political subdivision of the state; or

(2) a national, federal, state, Indian or other governmental unit or subdivision, or an agency, department or instrumentality of any of the foregoing;

P. "property" means:

- (1) real property;
- (2) tangible personal property, including electricity and manufactured homes;
- (3) licenses, including licenses of digital goods, but not including the licenses of copyrights, trademarks or patents; and
- (4) franchises;

Q. "research and development services" means an activity engaged in for other persons for consideration, for one or more of the following purposes:

- (1) advancing basic knowledge in a recognized field of natural science;
- (2) advancing technology in a field of technical endeavor;
- (3) developing a new or improved product, process or system with new or improved function, performance, reliability or quality, whether or not the new or improved product, process or system is offered for sale, lease or other transfer;
- (4) developing new uses or applications for an existing product, process or system, whether or not the new use or application is offered as the rationale for purchase, lease or other transfer of the product, process or system;
- (5) developing analytical or survey activities incorporating technology review, application, trade-off study, modeling, simulation, conceptual design or similar activities, whether or not offered for sale, lease or other transfer; or
- (6) designing and developing prototypes or integrating systems incorporating the advances, developments or improvements included in Paragraphs (1) through (5) of this subsection;

R. "secretary" means the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's delegate;

S. "service" means all activities engaged in for other persons for a consideration, which activities involve predominantly the performance of a service as distinguished from selling or leasing property. "Service" includes activities performed by a person for its members or shareholders. In determining what is a service, the intended use, principal objective or ultimate objective of the contracting parties shall not be controlling. "Service" includes construction activities and all tangible personal property that will become an ingredient or component part of a construction project. That tangible personal property retains its character as tangible personal property until it is installed as an ingredient or component part of a construction project in New Mexico. Sales of tangible personal property that will become an ingredient or component part of a construction project to persons engaged in the construction business are sales of tangible personal property; and

T. "use" or "using" includes use, consumption or storage other than storage for subsequent sale in the ordinary course of business or for use solely outside this state.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, rewrote the definition of "disclosed agency"; and in Subsection D, deleted "an agent receiving money on behalf of a principal if the agent or the agent's principal disclosed the agency relationship to a third party from which the agent receives money, or if the third party otherwise has actual knowledge that the agent receives money on behalf of the principal" and added the remainder of the subsection.

The 2022 amendment, effective July 1, 2022, defined "disclosed agency"; and added a new Subsection D and redesignated former Subsections D through S as Subsections E through T, respectively.

2021 Amendments. — Laws 2021, ch. 66, § 1, effective January 1, 2022, defined "manufacturing service" and revised the definition of "manufacturing", as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; in Subsection I, after "include construction", added "services; farming; electric power generation; processing of natural resources, including hydrocarbons; or the processing or preparation of meals for immediate consumption"; and added a new Subsection J and redesignated former Subsections J through Q as Subsections K through R, respectively.

Laws 2021, ch. 65, § 11, effective July 1, 2021, revised the definition of "lease" and defined "licensing" or "license", as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; in Subsection F, added "'lease or", after "consideration", deleted "property is employed for or by any person other than the owner of the property, except that the granting of a license to use property is licensing and is not a lease" and added "the owner of property grants another person the exclusive right to possess and use the property for a definite term"; and added a new Subsection G and redesignated former Subsections G through Q as Subsections H through R, respectively.

2019 Amendments. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 23, effective July 1, 2019, defined "digital good", "marketplace provider" and "marketplace seller", and revised the definitions of certain terms, as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; added a new Subsection C and redesignated former Subsections C through H as Subsections D through I, respectively; in Subsection G, deleted "'local option gross receipts tax' includes the taxes imposed pursuant to the Municipal Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Correctional Facility Gross Receipts Tax Act and such other acts as may be enacted authorizing counties or municipalities to imposes taxes on gross receipts, which taxes are to be collected by the department"; added new Subsections J and K and redesignated former Subsections I through N as Subsections L through Q, respectively; and in Subsection M, added new paragraph designations "(1)" through "(4)", in Paragraph M(2), after "property", added "including electricity and manufactured homes", in Paragraph M(3), after "licenses", deleted "other than" and added "including licenses of digital goods, but not including", in Paragraph M(4), after "franchises", deleted "Tangible personal property includes electricity and manufactured homes".

Laws 2019, ch. 274, § 11, effective July 1, 2019, revised the definition of "local option gross receipts tax" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; and in Subsection F, deleted "'local option gross receipts tax' includes the taxes imposed pursuant to the Municipal Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Local Option Gross Receipts Taxes Act, Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Correctional Facility Gross Receipts Tax Act and such other acts as may be enacted authorizing counties or municipalities to imposes taxes on gross receipts, which taxes are to be collected by the department".

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, defined "leasing" to mean that a license to use property is a license and not a lease and defined "property" to include licenses other than the licenses of copyrights, trademarks or patents.

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, deleted from the definition of leasing in Subsection E the provision that the sale of a license is a granting of a license to use property and in Subsection J deleted from the definition of property, patents, trademarks and copyrights.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, rewrote this section to the extent that a detailed comparison is impracticable.

The 2002 amendment, effective July 1, 2002, inserted "or to provide services primarily to non-New Mexico customers" in Subsection E(2); and added Subsections F(1)(e) and F(2)(g).

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, inserted Paragraph C(13) and redesignated the subsequent paragraphs; and added Subsection S.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, added Subsection E(2) and deleted "Special Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act" preceding "County Local" in Subsection Q.

The 1999 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, in Subsection E, added "except that 'engaging in business' does not include having a world wide web site as a third-party content provider on a computer physically located in New Mexico but owned by another nonaffiliated person".

The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, added Subsection R and substituted "movable" for "moveable" in Subsection N.

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, in Paragraph F(2), deleted "and" at the end of Subparagraph (d) and added Subparagraph (f); in Subsection N, inserted "for human occupancy" and deleted "for human occupancy" at the end; and substituted the list of gross receipt acts in Subsection Q for the former list.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, inserted "limited liability company, limited liability partnership," in Paragraph (1) of Subsection H; rewrote Paragraph (2) of Subsection H which read "the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof or the state of New Mexico or any political subdivision thereof"; and substituted "modeling" for "modelling" in Paragraph (5) of Subsection P.

The 1992 amendment, effective March 9, 1992, rewrote Subsection F and in Subsection Q, inserted "Municipal Infrastructure Gross Receipts Tax Act" and "Local Hospital Gross Receipts Tax Act, County Health Care Gross Receipts Tax Act".

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, deleted "or 'division'" following "'department'" in Subsection A; in Subsection F, substituted "any local option gross receipts tax that is" for "the County Fire Protection Excise Tax Act or any municipality or county sales or gross receipts tax which are" near the middle of the first paragraph and inserted "nation" following "Indian" in two places in the second sentence thereof; substituted "manufactured homes" for "mobile homes" at the end of Subsection I; added "except that the granting of a license to use property is the sale of a license and not a lease" at the end of Subsection J; deleted "'director' or" at the beginning of Subsection M; rewrote Subsection N, which read "'mobile home' means a house trailer that exceeds either a width of eight feet or a length of forty feet when equipped for the road"; added Subsection Q; and made a related stylistic change.

The 1989 amendment, effective July 1, 1989, in Subsection F inserted "from selling services performed outside New Mexico the product of which is initially used in New Mexico" near the beginning of the first sentence of the first paragraph and substituted "County Fire Protection Excise Tax Act or any municipality or county sales or gross receipts tax" for "County Sales Tax Act, the County Fire Protection Excise Tax Act, the County Gross Receipts Tax Act, the Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act or the Supplemental Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Act" near the end of that sentence; and added Subsections O and P.

Language of this section is definite and unambiguous. Miller v. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-005, 93 N.M. 252, 599 P.2d 1049, cert. denied, 92 N.M. 532, 591 P.2d 286.

Taxpayer should be given fair, unbiased and reasonable construction, without favor either to the taxpayer or the state, to the end that the legislative intent is effectuated and the public interests to be subserved thereby furthered. *Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. If purchase order not transfer for consideration, then not sale. — The wording of taxpayer's purchase orders and contract, together with evidence that taxpayer invoiced only for chemicals and reagents delivered to a well and retained payment only for what was used, support the inference that a purchase order was not a transfer for consideration and therefore not a sale; therefore, since no single delivery or single day's delivery to a well ever amounted to 18 tons or more, of chemicals or reagents, although the amount specified in a purchase order might aggregate that much, taxpayer was not entitled to a deduction under Section 7-9-65 NMSA 1978. *Runco Acidizing & Fracturing Co. v. 7-9-3.1. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1992, ch. 48, § 4 repealed 7-9-3.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 9, § 26, defining "livestock", effective July 1, 1992. For provisions of former section, see the 1991 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 3 was to be codified as this section, but was instead codified as 7-9-3.5 NMSA 1978.

7-9-3.2. Additional definition.

A. As used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act, "governmental gross receipts" means receipts of the state or an agency, institution, instrumentality or political subdivision from:

- (1) the sale of tangible personal property other than water from facilities open to the general public;
- (2) the performance of or admissions to recreational, athletic or entertainment services or events in facilities open to the general public;
- (3) refuse collection or refuse disposal or both;
- (4) sewage services;
- (5) the sale of water by a utility owned or operated by a county, municipality or other political subdivision of the state;
- (6) the renting of parking, docking or tie-down spaces or the granting of permission to park vehicles, tie down aircraft or dock boats;
- (7) the sale of tangible personal property handled on consignment when sold from facilities open to the general public; and
- (8) a hospital licensed by the department of health.

B. "Governmental gross receipts" excludes receipts of the state or an agency, institution, instrumentality or political subdivision from:

- (1) cash discounts taken and allowed;
- (2) governmental gross receipts tax payable on transactions reportable for the period; and
- (3) any type of time-price differential.

C. As used in this section, "facilities open to the general public" does not include point of sale registers or electronic devices at a bookstore owned or operated by a public post-secondary educational institution when the registers or devices are utilized in the sale of textbooks or other materials required for courses at the institution to a student enrolled at the institution who displays a valid student identification card.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-3.2, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 8, § 1; 1992, ch. 100, § 1; 2003, ch. 125, § 1; 2004, ch. 69, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 24.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, revised the definition of "Governmental gross receipts" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; in Subsection A, added Paragraph A(8); in the undesignated paragraph after Subsection A, deleted "'Governmental gross receipts' includes receipts from" and redesignated former Subsection B as Subsection C; and in Subsection B, added "Governmental gross receipts", after "excludes", added "receipts of the state or an agency, institution, instrumentality or political subdivision from", and added new paragraphs designations "(1)" through "(3)".

The 2004 amendments, effective May 19, 2004, amended Subsection A to add new Paragraph (6).

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, designated the first paragraph of this section to be Subsection A; redesignated former Subsections A through E to be present Paragraphs A(1) through A(5); and added present Subsection B.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, restructured the former introductory paragraph and former Subsection A as the present introductory paragraph and Subsections A through E; substituted "or" for "and" in the introductory paragraph; inserted "other than water" in Subsection A; added "refuse disposal or both" at the end of Subsection C; deleted former Subsection B, relating to receipts from the sale of tangible personal property; and added the undesignated last paragraph.

7-9-3.3. Definition; engaging in business.

As used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act, "engaging in business" means carrying on or causing to be carried on any activity with the purpose of direct or indirect benefit. For a person who lacks physical presence in this state, including a marketplace provider, "engaging in business" means having, in the previous calendar year, total taxable gross receipts from sales, leases and licenses of tangible personal property, sales of licenses and sales of services and licenses for use of real property sourced to this state pursuant to Section 7-1-14 NMSA 1978, of at least one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-3.3, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 4; 2019, ch. 270, § 25.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 4 repealed former 7-9-3.3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 2002, ch. 18, § 1, and enacted a new section, effective July 1, 2003.

Cross references. — For the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, see 4 U.S.C.S. § 116 et seq.

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, revised the definition of "engaging in business" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; in the introductory clause, after "indirect benefit", deleted "except that" and added "For a person who lacks physical presence in this state, including a marketplace provider"; deleted subsection designation "A"; after the next occurrence of "engaging in business", deleted "does not include: having a worldwide web site as a third-party content provider on a computer physical located in New Mexico but owned by another nonaffiliated person; and"; and deleted former Subsection B and added the remainder of the section.

I. BUSINESS.

Meaning of "business". — "Business" is that which occupies the time, attention and labor of a person for the purpose of livelihood, profit or improvement; that which is a person's concern or intent. It would be too narrow a view to hold that if appellant's intelligence, skill and labor is employed in New Mexico, he is not carrying on a business, trade or profession in this state. Sterling Title Co. v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-086, 85 N.M. 279, 511 P.2d 765.

"Engaging in business" means carrying on or causing to be carried on any activity for the purpose of direct or indirect benefit to the taxpayer (American Automobile Association), not someone else (its members). AAA v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMSC-012, 87 N.M. 330, 533 P.2d 103, rev'd on other grounds, 1975-NMSC-058, 88 N.M. 462, 541 P.2d 967.

"Engaging in business". — A taxpayer is "engaging in business" as defined by Subsection E (now Section 7-9-3.3 NMSA 1978) when it is doing what it was organized and authorized to do. Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. Revenue Div., 1979-NMCA-098, 93 N.M. 301, 599 P.2d 1098.

To decide whether one's activity constitutes "engaging in business" in this state, the real question is whether the sale or lease is in line with the business for which the seller or lessor was organized and in which it engages. AAMCO Transmissions v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-092, 93 N.M. 389, 600 P.2d 841, cert. denied, 93 N.M. 205, 598 P.2d 1165.

To engage in business, taxpayer must engage in services "for other persons" with the purpose of direct or indirect benefit to itself, for which activity it receives money for the performance of its services. Twining Coop. Domestic Water & Sewer Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-052, 89 N.M. 345, 552 P.2d 476, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619.

Bookkeeping and management corporation engaged in business. — Corporation organized to centralize the bookkeeping and management functions for other corporations was engaged in business for purposes of this act. Westland Corp. v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-083, 83 N.M. 29, 487 P.2d 1099, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 22, 487 P.2d 1092.

Independent contractor subject to gross receipts taxes. — Since carpenter did "fifty to one hundred and fifty" jobs for different people, on those jobs where the customer (employer) deducted F.I.C.A. taxes, carpenter was an employee and his compensation was exempt as wages, and where no deductions were made, the commissioner determined that he was an independent contractor and liable for payment of gross receipt taxes. Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977).

Foreign franchisor deemed "engaging in business". — A foreign corporation which enters into agreements as a franchisor with licensees in New Mexico for use of the franchisor's trade name and trademark is engaged in business in New Mexico. American Dairy Queen Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-160, 93 N.M. 743, 605 P.2d 251.

Incidence of tax on contractors selling services to United States. — The legal incidence of the gross receipts tax was on contractors as sellers of services to the United States, not on the federal government. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978).

II. PROPERTY.

Meaning of "license". — As "license" is not defined in the statutes, it is accordingly to be given its ordinary meaning unless a different intent is clearly indicated and as "license" is defined in terms of "to accord permission or consent," "allow," "authorize," and as "permission to act," the essential element in the creation of a license is the permission or consent of the licensor and this permission need not come from some government authority. N.M. Sheriffs & Police Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1973-NMCA-130, 85 N.M. 565, 514 P.2d 616.

Rental of space in department store held license. — Agreements entered into between the taxpayer and several other companies which provided for the use of space in the taxpayer's department stores for the purpose of retailing certain items were license agreements and receipts from these arrangements were taxable under this section. S.S. Kresge Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-015, 87 N.M. 259, 531 P.2d 1232.

Franchises. — For purposes of the gross receipts tax act, a franchise is to be treated as a compound or "bundled" form of property, which typically includes a license to use the franchiser's trademark and a commitment by the franchiser to perform various services to assist the franchisee in the operation of the franchised business. Services that are required by the franchise agreement and any services provided by the franchiser to police, promote, maintain, or enhance the value of its franchise system, are part of the franchise, and this is so regardless of whether those services are performed in New Mexico or out-of-state. Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219, rev'd on other grounds, 2006-NMSC-038, 140 N.M. 212, 141 P.3d 1266.

Telephone communications not tangible personalty. — The decision of the commission that a telephone company which provided a private telephone line to a federal agency was not entitled to the deduction in Section 7-9-54 NMSA 1978 for the sale of tangible personal property was upheld by the appellate court which found a reasonable basis for differentiating between electricity (declared to be tangible personalty at Section 7-9-3J NMSA 1978) and telephone communications. Leaco Rural Tel. Coop., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-076, 86 N.M. 629, 526 P.2d 426.

III. SERVICES.

Amendment to definition of service changed test from product's value to seller's activity. — The 1976 amendment to the definition of service changed the test for taxation from one focusing on the end product's value to the purchaser to one focusing on the nature of seller's activity; on the seller's relative investment of skills and materials. EG & G, Inc. v. Dir., Revenue Div. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-139, 94 N.M. 143, 607 P.2d 1161, cert. denied, 94 N.M. 628, 614 P.2d 545.

Service to its members does not constitute "service to others" as stated in the definition of "service" in this section. Twining Coop. Domestic Water & Sewer Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-052, 89 N.M. 345, 552 P.2d 476, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619.

Meaning of "other persons" doubtful. — The words "other persons" have many meanings which make the words doubtful as to meaning. When this occurs, "all doubts as to the meaning and intent of a tax statute must be construed in favor of the taxpayer." Twining Coop. Domestic Water & Sewer Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-052, 89 N.M. 345, 552 P.2d 476, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619.

Intent of legislature to grant tax immunity to nonprofit corporation. — The intent of the legislature was to grant immunity from the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act to a nonprofit corporation which rendered services solely to its members for an assessment or a charge. Twining Coop. Domestic Water & Sewer Ass'n v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-052, 89 N.M. 345, 552 P.2d 476, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 7, 558 P.2d 619.

Building contractor performs "service". — A contractor in the business of constructing buildings is not a seller of construction materials but performs a service as defined in Subsection K. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1980-NMCA-094, 95 N.M. 708, 625 P.2d 1225, cert. quashed, 96 N.M. 17, 627 P.2d 412 (1981), rev'd on other grounds, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

School board contracting to build school. — When an Indian school board contracts with a federal agency to construct a school on reservation property and, in turn, contracts with a general contractor for actual construction of the building, the school board is the owner of the building and not an entity engaged in the construction business within the meaning of Subsection K. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1980-NMCA-094, 95 N.M. 708, 625 P.2d 1225, cert. quashed, 96 N.M. 17, 627 P.2d 412 (1981), rev'd on other grounds, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Horse trainer and owner performing for others are performing "service". — When both a horse trainer and a horse owner are engaged in activities for other persons for a consideration, receipts in question were receipts from performing a service within the meaning of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act. Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743, 497 P.2d 745, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 740, 497 P.2d 742. See Section 7-9-40 NMSA 1978 which now exempts receipts from horse race purses.

That part of attorney's inheritance designated attorney fees taxable. — Since attorney who was sole heir to his father's estate listed part of the inheritance received as attorney fees, that portion so designated was taxable under the gross receipts tax. Mears v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-006, 87 N.M. 240, 531 P.2d 1213.

Director's fees for services to corporation. — A member of the board of directors of a corporation was performing a service for the corporation and his fees therefrom are taxable as gross receipts. Mears v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-006, 87 N.M. 240, 531 P.2d 1213.

Municipal franchise fee and telephone carriers. — The total amount of money received by a local carrier for selling its telephone services includes the amount identified on its bills as the customer's share of the municipal franchise fee, so a telephone carrier is subject to the gross receipts tax. GTE Sw. Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1992-NMCA-024, 113 N.M. 610, 830 P.2d 162, cert. denied, 113 N.M. 605, 830 P.2d 157.

Billboard displays intrastate in character. — Taxpayer's service is simply to post messages on billboards located in this state. It is being taxed for displaying, not for advertising. This service is intrastate in character, and thus is subject to the gross receipts tax. Mountain States Adver., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-058, 89 N.M. 331, 552 P.2d 233, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 8, 558 P.2d 620.

7-9-3.4. Definitions; construction, construction materials and construction-related services.

As used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act:

A. "construction" means:

(1) the building, altering, repairing or demolishing in the ordinary course of business any:

(a) road, highway, bridge, parking area or related project;

(b) building, stadium or other structure;

- (c) airport, subway or similar facility;
 - (d) park, trail, athletic field, golf course or similar facility;
 - (e) dam, reservoir, canal, ditch or similar facility;
 - (f) sewerage or water treatment facility, power generating plant, pump station, natural gas compressing station, gas processing plant, coal gasification plant, refinery, distillery or similar facility;
 - (g) sewerage, water, gas or other pipeline;
 - (h) transmission line;
 - (i) radio, television or other tower;
 - (j) water, oil or other storage tank;
 - (k) shaft, tunnel or other mining appurtenance;
 - (l) microwave station or similar facility;
 - (m) retaining wall, wall, fence, gate or similar structure; or
 - (n) similar work;
- (2) the leveling or clearing of land;
 - (3) the excavating of earth;
 - (4) the drilling of wells of any type, including seismograph shot holes or core drilling; or
 - (5) similar work;

B. "construction material" means tangible personal property that becomes or is intended to become an ingredient or component part of a construction project, but "construction material" does not include a replacement fixture when the replacement is not construction or a replacement part for a fixture; and

C. "construction-related service" means a service directly contracted for or billed to a specific construction project, including design, architecture, drafting, surveying, engineering, environmental and structural testing, security, sanitation and services required to comply with governmental construction-related rules. "Construction-related service" does not include general business services, such as legal or accounting services, equipment maintenance or real estate sales commissions.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-3.4, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 5; 2020, ch. 80, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2020 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, defined "construction-related service" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; in the section heading, added "and construction-related services"; and added Subsection C.

Construction work incidental to "severing" exempt from gross receipts tax. — The exemption provided by Section 7-9-35 NMSA 1978 applied, since "severing" was taking place as the development work was performed and none of taxpayer's work was preliminary to or preparatory for "severing"; therefore, receipts from development work, which includes construction, were exempted from the gross receipts tax and taxable under the service tax (resources excise tax) when such construction work was incidental to the "severing." Patten v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-051, 86 N.M. 355, 524 P.2d 527.

"Fence" not a "structure". — The word "structure", which follows "building" and "stadium," is limited in its meaning to things or classes of the same general character as buildings and stadia and this does not include fences. Cardinal Fence Co. v. Commissioner of Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-136, 84 N.M. 314, 502 P.2d 1004 (decided under prior law).

Fence not within definition of "construction". — Construction of fences does not come within the definition of "construction" in that the fencing material sold is not a component part of a construction project. Cardinal Fence Co. v. Commissioner of Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-136, 84 N.M. 314, 502 P.2d 1004 (decided under prior law).

Erection of fences not construction. — Since the construction of fences does not come within the definition of "construction", fencing material sold with or without setting of the posts did not become a component part of a construction project and receipts from such sales were deductible. Cardinal Fence Co. v. Commissioner of Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-136, 84 N.M. 314, 502 P.2d 1004 (decided under prior law).

Non-Indians performing construction services for tribe subject to tax. — Under the gross receipts tax act, non-Indian contractors involved in the construction of an Indian resort complex are subject to a tax on the gross receipts they received for performing construction services. The legal incidence of the tax falls upon them and not upon the tribe or tribal property. The state is imposing the tax solely on non-Indians who have performed services for the tribe. Mescalero Apache Tribe v. O'Cheskey, 439 F. Supp. 1063 (D.N.M. 1977), aff'd, 625 F.2d 967 (10th Cir. 1980), cert. denied, 450 U.S. 959, 101 S. Ct. 1417, 67 L. Ed. 2d 383 (1981), reh'g denied, 455 U.S. 929, 102 S. Ct. 1296, 71 L. Ed. 2d 474 (1982).

Imposition of tax on tribal organization impermissible. — If the economic burden of the gross receipts tax ultimately falls on a tribal organization, even though the legal incidence of the tax falls on the non-Indian contractor with whom the organization contracted to build an Indian school, the imposition of the tax impermissibly impedes the clearly expressed federal interest in promoting the quality and quantity of educational opportunities for Indians by depleting the funds available for the construction of Indian schools. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Federal regulatory scheme and policy. — The comprehensive federal regulatory scheme and the express federal policy of encouraging tribal self-sufficiency in the area of education preclude the imposition of the state gross receipts tax on the construction of school facilities on tribal lands pursuant to a contract between a tribal organization and a non-Indian contracting firm. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Construction project includes wide variety of activities. — This section was intended to make sales of construction materials to governmental entities taxable when the materials were to be incorporated into construction projects. Contrary to taxpayer's argument that Regulation GR 51:16 (now 3.2.1.11) establishes a definite test for determining whether an endeavor is a "construction project," this regulation merely states nonexclusive guidelines for determining whether materials constitute a component part of a construction project. Thus, construction projects include the wide variety of activities listed in Subsection C. Arco Materials, Inc. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-062, 118 N.M. 12, 878 P.2d 330, rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Blaze Constr. Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMSC-110, 118 N.M. 647, 884 P.2d 803, cert. denied, 514 U.S. 1016, 115 S. Ct. 1359, 131 L. Ed. 2d 216 (1995).

"Construction" deemed question of fact. — Whether activities of a party constitute "construction" is a question of fact for a jury. United States v. New Mexico, 642 F.2d 397 (10th Cir. 1981).

7-9-3.5. Definition; gross receipts.

A. As used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act:

(1) "gross receipts" means the total amount of money or the value of other consideration received from selling property in New Mexico, from leasing or licensing property employed in New Mexico, from granting a right to use a franchise employed in New Mexico, from selling services performed outside New Mexico, the product of which is initially used in New Mexico, or from performing services in New Mexico. In an exchange in which the money or other consideration received does not represent the value of the property or service exchanged, "gross receipts" means the reasonable value of the property or service exchanged;

(2) "gross receipts" includes:

(a) any receipts from sales of tangible personal property handled on consignment;

(b) the total commissions or fees derived from the business of buying, selling or promoting the purchase, sale or lease, as an agent or broker on a commission or fee basis, of any property, service, stock, bond or security;

(c) amounts paid by members of any cooperative association or similar organization for sales or leases of personal property or performance of services by such organization;

(d) amounts received from transmitting messages or conversations by persons providing telephone or telegraph services;

(e) amounts received by a New Mexico florist from the sale of flowers, plants or other products that are customarily sold by florists where the sale is made pursuant to orders placed with the New Mexico florist that are filled and delivered outside New Mexico by an out-of-state florist;

(f) the receipts of a home service provider from providing mobile telecommunications services to customers whose place of primary use is in New Mexico if: 1) the mobile telecommunications services originate and terminate in the same state, regardless of where the services originate, terminate or pass through; and 2) the charges for mobile telecommunications services are billed by or for a customer's home service provider and are deemed provided by the home service provider. For the purposes of this section, "home service provider", "mobile telecommunications services", "customer" and "place of primary use" have the meanings given in the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act; and

(g) receipts collected by a marketplace provider engaging in business in the state from sales, leases and licenses of tangible personal property, sales of licenses and sales of services or licenses for use of real property that are sourced to this state and are facilitated by the marketplace provider on behalf of marketplace sellers, regardless of whether the marketplace sellers are engaging in business in the state; and

(3) "gross receipts" excludes:

(a) cash discounts allowed and taken;

(b) New Mexico gross receipts tax, governmental gross receipts tax, leased vehicle gross receipts tax, and cannabis excise tax payable on transactions for the reporting period;

(c) taxes imposed pursuant to the provisions of any local option gross receipts tax that is payable on transactions for the reporting period;

(d) any gross receipts or sales taxes imposed by an Indian nation, tribe or pueblo; provided that the tax is approved, if approval is required by federal law or regulation, by the secretary of the interior of the United States; and provided further that the gross receipts or sales tax imposed by the Indian nation, tribe or pueblo provides a reciprocal exclusion for gross receipts, sales or gross receipts-based excise taxes imposed by the state or its political subdivisions;

(e) any type of time-price differential;

(f) amounts received solely on behalf of another in a disclosed agency capacity; and

(g) amounts received by a New Mexico florist from the sale of flowers, plants or other products that are customarily sold by florists where the sale is made pursuant to orders placed with an out-of-state florist for filling and delivery in New Mexico by a New Mexico florist.

B. When the sale of property or service is made under any type of charge, conditional or time-sales contract or the leasing of property is made under a leasing contract, the seller or lessor may elect to treat all receipts, excluding any type of time-price differential, under such contracts as gross receipts as and when the payments are actually received. If the seller or lessor transfers the seller's or lessor's interest in any such contract to a third person, the seller or lessor shall pay the gross receipts tax upon the full sale or leasing contract amount, excluding any type of time-price differential.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-3.5, enacted by Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 3; 2006, ch. 39, § 2; 2007, ch. 339, § 2; 2019, ch. 270, § 26; 2023, ch. 85, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, see 4 U.S.C.S. § 116 et seq.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2003, ch. 272, § 3 originally enacted this section as 7-9-3.1 NMSA 1978. The section was renumbered by the compiler as 7-9-3.5 NMSA 1978.

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, excluded cannabis excise taxes from the definition of "gross receipts"; and in Subsection A, Subparagraph A(3)(b), after "leased vehicle gross receipts tax", added "and cannabis excise tax".

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, revised the definition of "gross receipts" as used in the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act; and in Subsection A, added Subparagraph A(2)(g).

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, defined "gross receipts" to mean receipts from granting a right to use a franchise employed in New Mexico.

The 2006 amendment, effective July 1, 2006, provided in Paragraph (1) of Subsection A that gross receipts includes consideration received from licensing property employed in New Mexico.

Entities may take medical services tax deduction on behalf of health care practitioner employees. — Where taxpayer, a medical staffing company that had commercial contracts with the department of veterans affairs and the Indian health service, claimed a gross receipts tax deduction for the provision of medical services on behalf of its nurse employees, and where the department of taxation and revenue claimed that the deduction was limited to individual health care practitioners, the administrative hearing officer did not err in concluding that taxpayer satisfied the basic criteria for the deduction, because the regulation implementing NMSA 1978, § 7-9-93 permits an employer entity to take the deduction on behalf of an employee, provided that the entity is not otherwise excluded and the remaining requirements under the statute are satisfied, and in this case, the parties stipulated that taxpayer is not an excluded health care facility under the regulation, and the stipulated facts establish that all the conditions of § 7-9-93 were met. Robison v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2023-NMCA-065.

I. IN GENERAL.

"Gross receipts" means the total amount of money or the value of other considerations received from selling property or from performing services. N.M. Enters., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-125, 86 N.M. 799, 528 P.2d 212.

Selling property in New Mexico. — The gross receipts tax only applies when the selling of property takes place within the borders of New Mexico. Kmart Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't., 2006-NMSC-006, 139 N.M. 172, 131 P.3d 22.

Royalties received from trademark licenses granted as part of a franchise are subject to gross receipts tax. — Where petitioner entered into a number of franchise agreements with New Mexico businesses which contained a provision to grant to franchisees a limited license to use specific trademarks, and where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) determined that the royalty fees for the limited trademark licenses were subject to gross receipts tax, the district court did not err in granting the department's motion for summary judgment, because the definition of "gross receipts" includes the total amount of money or the value of other consideration received from granting a right to use a franchise employed in New Mexico, and the trademark licensing provision at issue was central to the overall franchise and should be treated as part of the franchise for purposes of gross receipts, regardless of whether it was separately stated and itemized in the franchise agreement. A&W Rests. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2018-NMCA-069, cert. denied.

Salaries and overhead of federal contractors not tax immune. — As long as federal contractors are separate entities solely responsible for their own employees and internal management, salaries and overhead of those contractors are not obligations of the government, for purposes of tax immunity. United States v. New Mexico, 624 F.2d 111 (10th Cir. 1980), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Collection agencies gross receipts. — A collection agency does not include the creditor's portion of the proceeds, nor the taxes it collects on behalf of the creditor, in calculating its commission proceeds, i.e., its gross receipts. Rather, a collection agency pays gross receipts tax only on the commission portion of the debt. The total tax imposed on the debt and charged to the debtor is simply the sum of the creditor's tax and the agency's tax. Martinez v. Albuquerque Collection Servs., Inc., 867 F. Supp. 1495 (D.N.M. 1994).

Temporary staffing agencies' gross receipts. — Temporary employee company was not excluded from paying tax on its gross receipts from clients to which it provided temporary staffing services; the receipts were taxable as reimbursements of payroll-related expenditure. MPC Ltd. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMCA-021, 133 N.M. 217, 62 P.3d 308.

II. OUT-OF-STATE.

Only activities within state taxable. — The validity of the application of the gross receipts tax to general and administrative expense reimbursements depended on whether the tax was laid upon gross receipts derived from the contractors' activities within the borders of the state. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Work performed outside the state. — If when they received reimbursements for general and administrative expenses contractors were being reimbursed for work (whether called "services" or by any other name) performed outside the state, New Mexico taxing authorities lack authority to tax those transactions. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Out-of-state activities incidental to a service performed in New Mexico are subject to gross receipts tax. — Where taxpayer, an employment agency based in Houston, Texas with no physical office in New Mexico, entered into a professional service agreement with chevron, under which it would identify, recruit, screen, and hire individuals as contract workers for chevron and provide payroll services for certain members of a group who worked for chevron in New Mexico, and under which chevron would reimburse taxpayer for the members' compensation and pay taxpayer a markup fee, and where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) selected taxpayer for an audit and assessed taxpayer for approximately $350,000 of unpaid gross receipts tax plus interest and penalties, and where an administrative hearing determined that the markup fee was exempt from gross receipts tax because it was received for services performed out of state, the administrative hearing officer erred in determining that the markup fee was exempt from gross receipts tax, because activities incidental to a service performed in New Mexico are subject to gross receipts tax, and although the payroll services in this case were performed out of state, the consumption of those services was by the taxpayer's employees working in New Mexico. Taxpayer's out-of-state activities were incidental to the services the taxpayer performed in New Mexico and were therefore subject to gross receipts tax. Tallbridge Corp. v. N.M. Tax'n and Revenue Dep't, 2024-NMCA-044.

Taxpayer was not a disclosed agent entitled to an exemption of gross receipts tax. — Where taxpayer, an employment agency based in Houston, Texas with no physical office in New Mexico, entered into a professional service agreement with chevron, under which it would identify, recruit, screen, and hire individuals as contract workers for chevron and provide payroll services for certain members of a group who worked for chevron in New Mexico, and under which chevron would reimburse taxpayer for the members' compensation and pay taxpayer a markup fee, and where the New Mexico taxation and revenue department (department) selected taxpayer for an audit and assessed taxpayer for approximately $350,000 of unpaid gross receipts tax plus interest and penalties, and where an administrative hearing officer determined that taxpayer failed to establish it was a disclosed agent under 7-9-3.5(A)(3)(f) NMSA 1978 and thus not exempt from paying gross receipts tax on the reimbursement it received from chevron, and where taxpayer argued on appeal that uncontroverted facts establish it was an agent of chevron, the hearing officer did not err in determining that taxpayer failed to establish they were a disclosed agent entitled to an exemption of gross receipts tax, because even if taxpayer was chevron's agent, it failed to affirmatively disclose the agency relationship to the group members. The plain meaning of disclosure" as used in 7-9-3.5(A)(3)(f) NMSA 1978 requires an act informing third parties of the agency relationship and no such evidence of such an act is present here. Tallbridge Corp. v. N.M. Tax'n and Revenue Dep't, 2024-NMCA-044.

Income accrues on an out-of-state transaction. — Income which arises from a contract performed within the state but accrues upon a separable out-of-state transaction should be excluded from taxation as not being income arising from contracting within the state. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Mere accounting device will not avoid tax. — Since all receipts resulted solely from the contractor's activities in the state and the general and administrative expense category appeared merely to be a cost accounting device, the entire amount of the receipts may be taxed by the state. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Apportionment between in-state and out-of-state activity does not arise if the tax is levied only upon receipts resulting from the taxpayer's activities in New Mexico. Mountain States Adver., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-058, 89 N.M. 331, 552 P.2d 233, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 8, 558 P.2d 620.

Tax on foreign corporation's local business does not offend commerce clause. — Gross receipts tax imposed on foreign corporation was conditioned on the local business of renting equipment located in the state. Therefore, the tax does not constitute an undue burden on interstate commerce but, on the contrary, was a tax on the taxpayers' local and intrastate business of leasing machinery. Besser Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1964-NMSC-169, 74 N.M. 377, 394 P.2d 141 (decided under prior gross receipts law).

Taxing out-of-state sales impermissible. — Tax levied on gross receipts from out-of-state sales of tangible personal property, in the nature of reproducible educational material, is an impermissible burden on commerce. Evco v. Jones, 409 U.S. 91, 93 S. Ct. 349, 34 L. Ed. 2d 325 (1972).

Entire revenue from nonresident's display of signs in state taxable. — Colorado corporation which displayed billboards made in Colorado by Colorado employees and whose only contact with New Mexico was the displaying of signs and using 10% of its cost in maintenance was held subject to this section for its entire revenue and not just its 10% cost of maintenance. Mountain States Adver., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-058, 89 N.M. 331, 552 P.2d 233, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 8, 558 P.2d 620.

Only value of property entering state taxed. — Where tuition paid by New Mexico residents to a correspondence school based in Illinois covered materials valued at an average cost of $50 per student, and the remainder of the tuition covered the costs of grading, counseling and other services connected with the educational programs, virtually all of which services were performed in Illinois, it was held that only the value of the property entering New Mexico could be taxed as gross receipts of the school. Advance Schs., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMSC-007, 89 N.M. 79, 547 P.2d 562.

Affirmative evidence needed to support use within state. — When the corporation contracted with an out-of-state buyer provided for the corporation to destroy munitions, it was entitled to the gross receipts deduction, and the hearing officer could not properly determine that use or delivery took place within the state without some affirmative evidence in the record to support that conclusion. TPL, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMSC-007, 133 N.M. 447, 64 P.3d 474.

Tax applicable to foreign franchisor. — Although franchisor has no payroll, real property, personnel or offices located in this state, it does furnish signs which must be leased or purchased by its dealers, and its sales of tangible property and its granting of exclusive franchises constitute engaging in intrastate business in this state and the franchise fees received therefrom are subject to the gross receipts tax. AAMCO Transmissions v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-092, 93 N.M. 389, 600 P.2d 841, cert. denied, 93 N.M. 205, 598 P.2d 1165. (Superceded by statute, Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219.)

Application of tax to franchise fees. — The imposition of gross receipts tax on franchise fees received from this state's dealers does not violate the due process clause or commerce clause and is proper where the franchisor is in the business of selling franchises, developing and marketing parts, receiving its primary source of income from the sale of franchises, collecting a percentage of franchisee's gross receipts as a lease payment for use of the trademark and trade name and where its leased trademarks and trade names and their businesses are protected by the laws of this state; thus, franchisor is engaged in business in this state. AAMCO Transmissions v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-092, 93 N.M. 389, 600 P.2d 841, cert. denied, 93 N.M. 205, 598 P.2d 1165. (Superceded by statute, Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219.)

The 1991 amendment of Subsection J reclassifying licensing as selling did not alter whatever economic nexus existing between a foreign corporation and commercial activity carried on within New Mexico by its franchisees; therefore, fees paid to the corporation by New Mexico franchisees for the right to operate its restaurants located in New Mexico constituted receipts from selling property in New Mexico and were gross receipts within the meaning of Subsection F. Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219, rev'd, 2006-NMSC-038, 140 N.M. 212, 141 P.3d 1266.

Tax applicable to foreign corporation. — Although the taxpayer, a Delaware corporation, has no employees or offices located in this state, the taxpayer's most valuable assets, its trade name, trademark and related intangibles, are used in this state, taxpayer's secret formulas and techniques are utilized in this state and its method of business exploits the New Mexico market for taxpayer's benefit, taxpayer is engaged in business in New Mexico for purposes of gross receipts tax. Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. Revenue Div., 1979-NMCA-098, 93 N.M. 301, 599 P.2d 1098 (decided under prior law).

III. LEASES.

Receipt of money from leasing of property is the incident which gave rise to the imposition of the gross receipts and sales tax. Rust Tractor Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1970-NMCA-107, 82 N.M. 82, 475 P.2d 779, cert. denied, 82 N.M. 81, 475 P.2d 778.

Property lease royalties are "gross receipts." — When a taxpayer is leasing property in this state for which it receives royalties, the royalties are "gross receipts." Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. Revenue Div., 1979-NMCA-098, 93 N.M. 301, 599 P.2d 1098 (decided under prior law).

Gross receipts tax levied upon lessor of equipment, not user. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232.

Treating transactions as rentals for federal tax implies leasing arrangements. —

When a parent corporation and its 100%-owned subsidiary utilized certain items of equipment without regard to which held the legal title thereto, made accounting entries showing the machinery as either "receivable" or "liability," as appropriate, and treated the transactions as gross rentals for federal corporate income tax purposes, the intent of the taxpayers was to treat the arrangements as rentals or leases which were subject to gross receipts taxes. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232.

Effect of Bingo and Raffle Act [repealed] on lease. — An arrangement between the owner of several properties used as bingo halls and the non-profit organizations who operated the bingo games was a lease and not a license where the organizations were required to pay rent, they were granted exclusive possession of certain facilities on the premises and the use of the facilities at certain times, and the owner could not revoke the agreement at will; although the arrangement was not a typical lease, restrictions in the Bingo and Raffle Act [repealed] accounted for the type of arrangement created and to deny that this was a lease would have made it impossible for bingo operators to enter arrangements that would qualify as leases. Quantum Corp. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-050, 125 N.M. 49, 956 P.2d 848 (decided under Bingo and Raffle Act, since repealed).

Laundry transactions are leaseings. — Since the taxpayer's coin-operated laundry business is used for a consideration by persons other than the owner, the transactions are "leaseings" as defined in Subsection J and the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction from compensating tax liability for the value of the washers and dryers. Strebeck Props., Inc. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-035, 93 N.M. 262, 599 P.2d 1059.

Franchisor's arrangements with its licensees fall within definition of "leasing." American Dairy Queen Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-160, 93 N.M. 743, 605 P.2d 251 (decided under prior law).

Granting of license. — The 1991 amendments to this section clearly mandate a departure from treating the granting of a license as a lease to treating the granting of a license as a sale of a license. Kmart Corp. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't., 2006-NMSC-006, 139 N.M. 172, 131 P.3d 22.

Shelf-display contract receipts. — Taxpayer's appeal of the hearing officer's decision and order upholding the department's assessments of a gross receipts tax and penalty was improper where she failed to overcome the statutory presumption that all receipts were taxable; the buy-down contract payments were reimbursements to the taxpayer for her sales loss incurred as a result of engaging in the discount promotions and the shelf-display contract receipts were taxable because those contracts bore a much greater resemblance to a license than to the creation and conveyance of an interest in real property that would have constituted a lease. Grogan v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMCA-033, 133 N.M. 354, 62 P.3d 1236, cert. denied, 133 N.M. 413, 63 P.3d 516.

IV. TIME-PRICE DIFFERENTIAL.

To be taxable must be bargained for before work finished. — In order to be taxable as a "time-price differential sale," the money in question must have been bargained for before the contract work was rendered and the final invoice delivered, and when taxpayer accepted a promissory note secured by a mortgage after it had completed its work, the additional money paid on the note was in the nature of interest and could not be characterized as "time-price" for the purposes of this section and therefore the tax as imposed by the bureau was inapplicable. Co-Con, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-134, 87 N.M. 118, 529 P.2d 1239, cert. denied, 87 N.M. 111, 529 P.2d 1232 (decided under prior law).

Time-price differential sale not taxed if no part of which was gross receipt. — Taxpayer was not liable for state and municipal gross receipts taxes on time-price differential of installment sales contract sold to financial institution since no part of time-price differential was a "gross receipt" under the statute chargeable to taxpayer. Davis v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1971-NMCA-129, 83 N.M. 152, 489 P.2d 660, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 151, 489 P.2d 659 (decided prior to the 1972 amendment which changed Subsection F's treatment of time-price differential arrangements).

Fees taxable even if not approved by court. — Taxpayer was liable for the gross receipts tax assessed against fees actually received and used by the taxpayer, although the fees had not been approved by the bankruptcy court. Lopez v. N.M. Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 1997-NMCA-115, 124 N.M. 270, 949 P.2d 284, cert. denied, 124 N.M. 311, 950 P.2d 284.

V. AGENTS.

"Dealer concessions" retained from mutual fund transactions fall within the terms "commissions or fees" as used in this section. Rauscher, Pierce, Refsnes, Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2002-NMSC-013, 132 N.M. 226, 46 P.3d 687.

No agency when purchases for others merely incidental to work. — Carpenter was not liable for assessment of gross receipts tax on purchases of materials since he did not receive any commissions or fees, but acted merely as an agent for his customers, and the purchases were merely incidental to his work as a carpenter. Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977).

No agency when purchaser consultant to client-buyers. — When taxpayer, engaged in the business of management consultation, supervision and administration for motels, bought large quantities of tangible personal property at wholesale and sold them to its clients without additional cost or profit, the taxpayer was not a factor, agent or broker for its motel clients and was taxable for the total amount of money received from its sale to the motel clients of the tangible personal property under the Gross

Receipts and Compensating Tax Act. N.M. Enters., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-125, 86 N.M. 799, 528 P.2d 212.

Term "broker" as used in this section includes a person selling securities on behalf of others. Rauscher, Pierce, Refsnes, Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2002-NMSC-013, 132 N.M. 226, 46 P.3d 687.

7-9-4. Imposition and rate of tax; denomination as "gross receipts tax".

A. For the privilege of engaging in business, an excise tax equal to the following percentages of gross receipts is imposed on any person engaging in business in New Mexico:

(1) prior to July 1, 2023, five percent; and

(2) beginning July 1, 2023, four and seven-eighths percent, except as provided in Subsection C of this section.

B. The tax imposed by this section shall be referred to as the "gross receipts tax".

C. If, for any single fiscal year occurring after fiscal year 2025 and prior to fiscal year 2030, gross receipts tax revenues are less than ninety-five percent of the gross receipts tax revenues for the previous fiscal year, as determined by the secretary of finance and administration, the rate of the gross receipts tax shall be five and one-eighth percent beginning on the July 1 following the determination made by the secretary of finance and administration.

D. On or before February 1 of each year, until the rate of the gross receipts tax is adjusted to five and one-eighth percent pursuant to Subsection C of this section, the secretary of finance and administration shall make a determination for the purposes of Subsection C of this section. If the rate of tax is adjusted pursuant to that subsection, the secretary shall certify to the secretary of taxation and revenue that the rate of the gross receipts tax shall be five and one-eighth percent, effective on the following July 1.

E. As used in this section, "gross receipts tax revenues" means the net receipts attributable to the gross receipts tax and distributed to the general fund.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-4, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 4; 1969, ch. 144, § 2; 1978, ch. 151, § 2; 1981, ch. 37, § 9; 1983, ch. 213, § 15; 1986, ch. 20, § 63; 1990 (1st S.S.), ch. 1, § 2; 2010 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 9; 2022, ch. 47, § 12.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For exemptions from the gross receipts tax, see 7-9-12 NMSA 1978.

For deductions from the gross receipts tax, see 7-9-45 NMSA 1978.

The 2022 amendment, effective July 1, 2022, reduced the rates of the gross receipts tax, provided for an increase in the gross receipts tax if gross receipts tax revenues decrease, and defined "gross receipts tax revenues"; in Subsection A, after "tax equal to", deleted "five and one-eighth percent" and added "the following percentages", and added Paragraphs A(1) and A(2); and added Subsections C through E.

Temporary provisions. — Laws 2020 (1st S.S.), ch. 4, § 4, effective June 29, 2020, provided:

A. Notwithstanding Sections 7-1-67 and 7-1-69 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a taxpayer for:

(1) tax liabilities pursuant to the Income Tax Act or the Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due April 15, 2020 through July 15, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid payments is made in full on or before April 15, 2021;

(2) tax liabilities pursuant to the Withholding Tax Act for failure to pay the tax that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021;

(3) gross receipts tax, local option gross receipts tax or compensating tax liabilities for failure to pay any of those taxes that became due March 25, 2020 through July 25, 2020; provided that the failure to pay the tax was made without intent to evade or defeat the tax; and provided further that payment for the unpaid taxes is made in full on or before April 25, 2021; and

(4) tax liabilities assessed between September 3, 2019 and January 3, 2020 as the result of a managed audit performed in accordance with a managed audit agreement pursuant to Section 7-1-11.1 NMSA 1978; provided that payment for those liabilities is made pursuant to terms of the managed audit agreement on or before December 31, 2020.

B. Notwithstanding Sections 7-38-49 and 7-38-50 NMSA 1978, no interest shall accrue and no penalty shall be assessed to a property owner for unpaid property taxes that became due April 10, 2020 pursuant to Section 7-38-38 NMSA 1978; provided that:

(1) the unpaid property taxes did not become delinquent because of an intent to defraud by the property owner;

(2) payment for the unpaid property taxes is made in full on or before May 10, 2021; and

(3) the subject property does not have property taxes that became delinquent pursuant to Section 7-38-46 NMSA 1978 prior to May 10, 2020.

The 2010 (2nd S.S.) amendment, effective July 1, 2010, in Subsection A, after "excise tax equal to five", added "and one-eighth".

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "five percent" for "four and three-fourths percent" in Subsection A.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Reasonable tax classifications not unconstitutional. — It is for the legislature to adopt classifications for the imposition of excise taxes as it may deem proper and any reasonable classification cannot be held to deny equal protection or due process. Edmunds v. Bureau of Revenue, 1958-NMSC-112, 64 N.M. 454, 330 P.2d 131.

Legislature's method of imposing gross receipts and compensating tax reasonable. — The legislature's selection of the vendor for imposition of the school tax (gross receipts tax since repealed) and of the purchaser for imposition of the former compensating tax was reasonable in view of the impossibility of subjecting a nonresident vendor - one who was out of the territorial jurisdiction of the legislature - to the school tax. Edmunds v. Bureau of Revenue, 1958-NMSC-112, 64 N.M. 454, 330 P.2d 131.

Legislative failure to protect resident-vendor not unconstitutional. — The failure of the legislature to protect resident-vendor against the unfair competition of importations into New Mexico, without the payment of a sales tax, of chemical reagents did not offend the constitutions of either the United States or of New Mexico so as to invalidate the school tax against him. Edmunds v. Bureau of Revenue, 1958-NMSC-112, 64 N.M. 454, 330 P.2d 131 (decided under former law).

Standard of review on appeal. — Department's gross receipts tax assessment can only be reversed by the court of appeals if arbitrary or capricious, or there is an abuse of discretion, such that the assessment is not supported by substantial evidence or it is otherwise not in accordance with law. ITT Educ. Serv. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-078, 125 N.M. 244, 959 P.2d 969.

Department not precluded from assessing taxes where taxpayers failed to establish the elements of collateral estoppel, corporation by estoppel, or judicial estoppel. — Where taxpayers appealed a 2018 assessment of taxes for the 2011 tax year, arising from the operation of an automotive technician business, and where defendant argued that the taxation and revenue department (Department) was precluded on estoppel grounds from personally assessing unpaid 2011 gross receipts tax against taxpayers, the Department was not precluded from assessing unpaid gross receipts tax against taxpayers personally, because taxpayers failed to establish the elements of collateral estoppel, failed to demonstrate that corporation by estoppel applied to the facts of the case, and failed to establish any evidence that warranted applying judicial estoppel. Vigil v. N.M. Tax'n and Revenue Dep't, 2022-NMCA-032.

The evidence supports the department's personal assessment against taxpayer for business's tax liability. — Where taxpayer appealed a 2018 assessment of taxes for the 2011 tax year, arising from the operation of an automotive technician business, and where defendant argued that taxpayer was not personally liable for gross receipts taxes owed by the business, contending that he did not participate in the operations of the business, the hearing officer did not err in determining that taxpayer held himself out as a corporation, and was therefore personally liable for the business's tax debt, because taxpayer contributed money to the business, was an initial director and incorporator, remained a director and incorporator until 2011, when the business filed articles of incorporation for the second time, signed financing statements and purchased and registered vehicles for the business, taxpayer's credit was used by the business, and taxpayer made payments for property and equipment and guaranteed loans. Taxpayer's course of conduct in relation to the business reasonably demonstrated that he assumed to act as a corporation, and § 53-18-9 NMSA 1978, provides that all persons who assume to act as a corporation without authority to do so are jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result thereof. Vigil v. N.M. Tax'n and Revenue Dep't, 2022-NMCA-032.

II. APPLICABILITY.

Only a person engaging in business may be liable for gross receipts tax. — Under the plain language of this section, the taxation and revenue department may only impose gross receipts tax upon persons who were engaging in business when the tax liability was incurred. New Mexico Depo v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2021-NMCA-011.

Department lacked authority to impose tax liability against taxpayer who was not engaged in business at the time the tax liability was incurred. — Where in 2009, taxpayer established a business that provided court reporting services, registered with the taxation and revenue department (department), was assigned a Combined Reporting System (CRS) number for tax reporting purposes, and operated the business as a sole proprietorship from 2009 to 2012, at which time taxpayer converted the business to a limited liability company (LLC), and where taxpayer failed to update the business's registration with the department and continued to operate under the original CRS number assigned to the sole proprietorship, and where the department's computerized auditing system detected a mismatch between the information taxpayer reported to the IRS and the information taxpayer reported to the department, resulting in the department updating the computerized records to reflect that taxpayer's business was operating as an LLC, but failing to issue taxpayer a new CRS number, and where, in 2017, the department issued a notice of assessment of taxes and demand for payment for gross receipts tax from taxpayer as the sole proprietor of the business for the 2012 tax year, and where the hearing officer denied taxpayer's protest finding that the sole proprietorship was obligated for the assessment because at the time the tax liability was incurred, the CRS number on file with the department was assigned to taxpayer, as the sole proprietor of the business, rather than as an LLC, the hearing officer erred in denying taxpayer's protest because to the extent the hearing officer's decision imposed liability against taxpayer for failing to register with the department, it is not in accordance with this section, which permits only the person engaging in business to be taxed, and the overwhelming evidence demonstrated that the business was operating as an LLC during the taxable period. Moreover, neither the registration statute, NMSA 1978 § 7-1-12, nor the department's regulations permit the department to impose liability against a taxpayer based solely on its failure to update its registrations. New Mexico Depo v. N.M. Tax'n & Revenue Dep't, 2021-NMCA-011.

Legal incidence of gross receipts tax on seller. — The statutory language of 7-9-3F NMSA 1978 and this section places the legal incidence of the gross receipts tax on the seller. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Incidence of tax on contractors selling services to United States. — The legal incidence of the gross receipts tax was on contractors as sellers of services to the United States, not on the federal government. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Tax valid since contractors not agents of United States. — Since contracts did not authorize contractors to act as agents of the United States in purchasing supplies and materials, application of the gross receipts tax to the contractual transactions for materials and supplies was not unconstitutional. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Tax valid even though increases government's contract costs. — That the gross receipts tax may increase cost on a contract to the government does not invalidate the tax on the grounds that a state may not directly tax the federal government since its legal incidence falls elsewhere. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Agency exemption. — Money received by the taxpayer, a property management company, from the property owner as reimbursement for on-site employee expenses was not taxable as gross receipts, because the taxpayer was an agent for the property owner for the purpose of employing and paying the on-site employees employed at the owners property. Carlsberg Mgt. Co. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1993-NMCA-121, 116 N.M. 247, 861 P.2d 288, but see 7-9-3.5 NMSA 1978, which now excludes from tax receipts received solely on behalf of another in a disclosed agency capacity.

If bank can pass tax on, it is not real taxpayer. — Since services of maintaining and processing other banks' accounts were not reasonably necessary or incidental to business or functions of national banking association, New Mexico was not prevented by federal law from levying gross receipts tax on association's receipts collected for said services and association could pass tax on to banks for which it performed services and was therefore not the real taxpayer. First Nat'l Bank v. Commissioner of Revenue, 1969-NMCA-090, 80 N.M. 699, 460 P.2d 64, cert. denied, 80 N.M. 707, 460 P.2d 72, appeal dismissed, 397 U.S. 661, 90 S. Ct. 1407, 25 L. Ed. 2d 643 (1970).

Gross receipts tax may be constitutionally imposed on contractor doing work on Indian reservation in the state if there is no imposition on the sovereignty of the United States or infringement of the Indian tribe's right to self-government. Tiffany Constr. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1981-NMSC-057, 96 N.M. 296, 629 P.2d 1225.

Gross receipts tax upon non-Indians working on reservations valid. — When the gross receipts tax levied upon non-Indians working on state reservations is nondiscriminatory and does not preclude a possible similar tax by a tribe on activities conducted on its reservation, the Indian right to self-government is not impaired and the tax is valid. Mescalero Apache Tribe v. O'Cheskey, 625 F.2d 967 (10th Cir. 1980), cert. denied, 450 U.S. 959, 101 S. Ct. 1417, 67 L. Ed. 2d 383 (1981), reh'g denied, 455 U.S. 929, 102 S. Ct. 1296, 71 L. Ed. 2d 474; 459 U.S. 1025, 103 S. Ct. 393, 74 L. Ed. 2d 522 (1982).

If tax ultimately falls on tribal organization. — If the economic burden of the gross receipts tax ultimately falls on a tribal organization, even though the legal incidence of the tax falls on the non-Indian contractor with whom the organization contracted to build an Indian school, the imposition of the tax impermissibly impedes the clearly expressed federal interest in promoting the quality and quantity of educational opportunities for Indians by depleting the funds available for the construction of Indian schools. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Federal regulatory scheme and policy. — The comprehensive federal regulatory scheme and the express federal policy of encouraging tribal self-sufficiency in the area of education preclude the imposition of the state gross receipts tax on the construction of school facilities on tribal lands pursuant to a contract between a tribal organization and a non-Indian contracting firm. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Sale of cigarettes to non-Indians on Indian reservation. — Non-Indian did not have a valid agency relationship with an Indian, so as to bar the imposition of gross receipts taxes on the sale of cigarettes to non-Indians on an Indian reservation, since the Indian made no financial contribution to the commencement or operation of the business and all decision-making was in the hands of the taxpayer. Bien Mur Indian Mkt. Ctr., Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1988-NMCA-104, 108 N.M. 355, 772 P.2d 885, rev'd on other grounds, 108 N.M. 228, 770 P.2d 873 (1989).

Federal preemption for services rendered Indians. — District court properly ordered state tax agency to refund gross receipts taxes paid by a private contractor on services performed on an Indian reservation for a corporation owned by an Indian tribe, in light of the fact that the Indian trader statutes, 25 U.S.C. §§ 261-264 preempted the agency's authority to impose such a tax since the federal trader statutes included services under the scope of "trade". Laguna Indus., Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1992-NMCA-109, 114 N.M. 644, 845 P.2d 167, aff'd sum nom. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Laguna Indus., Inc., 1993-NMSC-025, 115 N.M. 553, 855 P.2d 127.

Receipts from horse races not exempt. — The legislature, in enacting the Gross Receipts Tax Act, did not intend to exempt receipts from horse races. There is neither ambiguity nor doubt that the language used in the Gross Receipts Tax Act applies to the receipts of a horse owner paid to him for a winning purse and the receipts of a horse trainer paid to him as his percentage of a winning purse. Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743, 497 P.2d 745, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 740, 497 P.2d 742. See Section 7-9-40 NMSA 1978 which now exempts receipts from horse race purses.

Construction work incidental to "severing" not subject to receipts tax. — The exemption provided by 7-9-35 NMSA 1978 applied since "severing" was taking place as the development work was performed and none of taxpayer's work was preliminary to or preparatory for "severing"; therefore, receipts from development work, which includes construction, were exempted from the gross receipts tax and taxable under the service tax (resources excise tax) when such construction work was incidental to the "severing." Patten v. Bureau of Revenue, 1974-NMCA-051, 86 N.M. 355, 524 P.2d 527.

Pawnbroker's receipts from sales of pawned chattel were not exempt or deductible from gross receipts tax as the recoupment of principal, interest, and handling charges attendant to the initial loan transaction. Wing Pawn Shop v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1991-NMCA-024, 111 N.M. 735, 809 P.2d 649 (decided on facts existing prior to enactment of Pawnbrokers Act, 56-12-1 NMSA 1978 et seq.)

Collection agencies gross receipts. — A collection agency does not include the creditor's portion of the proceeds, nor the taxes it collects on behalf of the creditor, in calculating its commission proceeds, i.e., its gross receipts. Rather, a collection agency pays gross receipts tax only on the commission portion of the debt. The total tax imposed on the debt and charged to the debtor is simply the sum of the creditor's tax and the agency's tax. Martinez v. Albuquerque Collection Servs., Inc., 867 F. Supp. 1495 (D.N.M. 1994).

Nationwide school operating location in state. — Nationwide technical-vocational school operating a location in New Mexico is subject to the gross receipts tax; the taxable base includes tuition receipts from students in New Mexico for curriculum development, financial aid services, and job placement services. ITT Educ. Serv. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-078, 125 N.M. 244, 959 P.2d 969.

Fees of management service company. — Fees paid to a hospital management services company as reimbursement for salaries and expenses of management personnel provided by the company were subject to the gross receipts tax. Brim Healthcare, Inc. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1995-NMCA-055, 119 N.M. 818, 896 P.2d 498 (decided under prior law).

III. OUT-OF-STATE.

A substantial nexus was created through activities of a sister corporation. — Where taxpayer had no physical presence in New Mexico other than through stores in New Mexico owned by a sister corporation; and the sister corporation promoted taxpayer through sales of gift cards that were redeemable at taxpayer and that displayed taxpayer's web address, shared customer's email addresses with taxpayer, sold memberships in a shared loyalty program that gave customers a discount on purchases from taxpayer, accepted returns from taxpayer's customers in exchange for store credit which policy taxpayer advertised to its customers, and used the parent corporation's trademark which taxpayer also used, the sister corporation's activities in New Mexico on behalf of taxpayer were significantly associated with taxpayer's ability to establish and maintain a market for its sales in New Mexico and were sufficient to create a substantial nexus between taxpayer and New Mexico which permitted New Mexico to impose the gross receipts tax on taxpayer's sales to customers in New Mexico without offending the federal Commerce Clause. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Barnesandnoble.com, L.L.C., 2013-NMSC-023, aff'g 2012-NMCA-063, 283 P.3d 298.

Use of a trademark to establish a market in New Mexico creates a substantial nexus. — Where taxpayer was engaged in the business of selling books online; taxpayer did not own or lease property in New Mexico and did not have retail stores or sales agents or employees in New Mexico; taxpayer's parent corporation had three bookstores in New Mexico that used the parent corporation's trademark; taxpayer used the trademark on its website; and the stores sold gift cards that could be redeemed at the stores or through the taxpayer's website and loyalty program memberships that entitled customers to discounts at the stores or through taxpayer's website, taxpayer's use of shared marketing, name recognition and trademarks established a market for taxpayer in New Mexico which created a substantial nexus between taxpayer and New Mexico sufficient to support the imposition of the gross receipts tax on taxpayer. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't v. Barnesandnoble.com, LLC, 2012-NMCA-063, 283 P.3d 298, cert. granted, 2012-NMCERT-006.

Destination principle. — The destination principle, which taxes the sale or use of goods that cross state lines at their destination, applies to determine whether an interstate transaction is a taxable sale under the New Mexico gross receipts tax laws. Dell Catalog Sales, L.P. v. Taxation and Revenue Dept., 2009-NMCA-001, 145 N.M. 419, 199 P.3d 863, cert. denied, 2008-NMCERT-007, cert. denied, 129 S. Ct. 1616, 173 L.Ed.2d 1030.

Where the taxpayer sold computers by mail, telephone and internet orders from its facilities in Texas to New Mexico customers; the taxpayer did not own or lease property in New Mexico; the taxpayer did not have retail stores, sales agents or employees in New Mexico; title to the computers transferred from the taxpayer to the customer upon shipment from the taxpayer's facility in Texas; and the taxpayer retained the risk of loss until delivery; and the computers were shipped by common carrier selected by the taxpayer, the taxpayer's activities constituted taxable sales in New Mexico because the actual consumption and use of the computers occurred in New Mexico. Dell Catalog Sales, L.P. v. Taxation and Revenue Dept., 2009-NMCA-001, 145 N.M. 419, 199 P.3d 863, cert. denied, 2008-NMCERT-007, cert. denied, 129 S. Ct. 1616, 173 L.Ed.2d 1030.

Substantial nexus. — Where the taxpayer sold computers by mail, telephone, and internet orders from its facilities in Texas to New Mexico customers; the taxpayer did not own or lease property in New Mexico; the taxpayer did not have retail stores, sales agents or employees in New Mexico; the taxpayer contracted with a third party to provide in-home service repairs on the computers in New Mexico; and the non-sales activities of the third party in New Mexico were an important factor in establishing and maintaining a market for the taxpayer's computers, the taxpayer had a substantial nexus with New Mexico and the imposition of gross receipts tax on the taxpayer did not violate the Commerce Clause. Dell Catalog Sales, L.P. v. Taxation and Revenue Dept., 2009-NMCA-001, 145 N.M. 419, 199 P.3d 863, cert. denied, 2008-NMCERT-007, cert. denied, 129 S. Ct. 1616, 173 L.Ed.2d 1030.

Mere contracts are not commerce at all, neither intrastate nor interstate. Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. Revenue Div., 1979-NMCA-098, 93 N.M. 301, 599 P.2d 1098.

Tax on items in interstate commerce to be fair and nondiscriminatory. — To be sustained against a claim that a state-imposed tax runs afoul of the commerce clause of the federal constitution, a tax upon items connected with interstate commerce must: (1) be applied to an activity with a substantial nexus with the taxing state; (2) be fairly apportioned; (3) not discriminate against interstate commerce; and (4) be fairly related to the services provided by the state. Pittsburgh & Midway Coal Mining Co. v. Revenue Div., 1983-NMCA-019, 99 N.M. 545, 660 P.2d 1027, appeal dismissed, 464 U.S. 923, 104 S. Ct. 323, 78 L. Ed. 2d 296 (1983).

New Mexico may not tax income and gross receipts of Indians residing on a reservation when the income and gross receipts involved are derived solely from activities within the reservation. Hunt v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMSC-068, 85 N.M. 388, 512 P.2d 961.

Tax on gross receipts from sales in other states unconstitutional. — Tax levied on the gross receipts from the sales of tangible personal property in another state is an impermissible burden on commerce. Evco v. Jones, 409 U.S. 91, 93 S. Ct. 349, 34 L. Ed. 2d 325 (1972).

Place services rendered. — To determine whether receipts from services are subject to gross receipts tax, the focus must be on what services the customers are contracting for and where those services are taking place. Simply because activity necessary to complete the services takes place out-of-state does not mean that the services provided are immune from New Mexico's gross receipts tax. Rauscher, Pierce, Refsnes, Inc. v.

Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2000-NMCA-065, 129 N.M. 404, 9 P.3d 648, aff'd 2002-NMSC-013, 132 N.M. 226, 46 P.3d 687.

Tax incurred at point of retail sale. — Where utilities retail their electrical energy through interstate lines only to consumers in Arizona, for that reason they incur no liability to New Mexico for its gross receipts tax, which is incurred at the point of retail sale. Arizona v. New Mexico, 425 U.S. 794, 96 S. Ct. 1845, 48 L. Ed. 2d 376 (1976).

Discrimination between broadcast and outdoor advertising held rational. — When regulations exempted broadcasting advertisement displayers in New Mexico from the tax imposed upon taxpayer (operator of a billboard service), there was discrimination in the treatment of these different media forms, but the burden was upon the taxpayer to negative every conceivable basis which might support the discriminatory classification, because of the implied rational basis underlying every tax statute, i.e., that the state has the right, power and duty to raise the necessary funds for its public purposes, and it was held that there was a rational basis for the state to discriminate between the broadcast industry and the outdoor advertising industry in the taxation of displays of national messages. Markham Adver. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-071, 88 N.M. 176, 538 P.2d 1198, cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248.

Since broadcasters generally engage in interstate transmission of their messages, and even if broadcasts by smaller stations might not always cross interstate lines, yet the potential exists for radio and television waves to deliver transitory, interstate communications, for this reason, national advertising by local broadcasting stations has long been held exempt from state taxation. Markham Adver. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-071, 88 N.M. 176, 538 P.2d 1198, cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248.

While billboard advertising takes place only in state. — Taxpayer's service of posting messages for national companies on billboards located in New Mexico was being taxed for displaying an activity taking place only in this state and not for advertising; thus it was intrastate in character, and the gross receipts tax imposed on it did not constitute an undue burden on interstate commerce in violation of the federal constitution. Markham Adver. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-071, 88 N.M. 176, 538 P.2d 1198, cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248.

If multiple taxation shown, tax would likely be unconstitutional. — The activities of taxpayer, situated and performing services (posting billboards) in New Mexico, were not within the taxing authority of any other state, and therefore no multiple taxation was possible; the instant tax could be declared invalid upon a showing by the taxpayer that multiple taxation would be likely to result and would be likely to unduly burden interstate commerce, but neither showing was made, and therefore, no basis was demonstrated upon which a claim of potential multiple taxation as to this taxpayer could be found. Markham Adver. Co. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-071, 88 N.M. 176, 538 P.2d 1198, cert. denied, 88 N.M. 318, 540 P.2d 248.

Traffic between states absent in franchise agreement. — If none of the "activities" of the franchise agreement are serviced by mail, telephone correspondence or by any employees of taxpayer, no intercourse or traffic between this state and another is found. Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Co. v. Revenue Div., 1979-NMCA-098, 93 N.M. 301, 599 P.2d 1098.

Tax constitutional on coal sales to out-of-state buyers. — The imposition of gross receipt taxes on proceeds from the sales of coal to out-of-state buyers does not impermissibly interfere with the commerce clause of the federal constitution. Pittsburgh & Midway Coal Mining Co. v. Revenue Div., 1983-NMCA-019, 99 N.M. 545, 660 P.2d 1027, appeal dismissed, 464 U.S. 923, 104 S. Ct. 323, 78 L. Ed. 2d 296.

Tax applicable to foreign franchisor. — Because franchisor has no payroll, real property, personnel or offices located in this state, but it does furnish signs which must be leased or purchased by its dealers, its sales of tangible property and its granting of exclusive franchises constitute engaging in intrastate business in this state, and the franchise fees received therefrom are subject to the gross receipts tax. AAMCO Transmissions v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-092, 93 N.M. 389, 600 P.2d 841, cert. denied, 93 N.M. 205, 598 P.2d 1165 (superceded by statute, Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219).

Tax applicable to franchise fees. — The imposition of gross receipts tax on franchise fees received from this state's dealers does not violate the due process clause or commerce clause and is proper since the franchisor is in the business of selling franchises, developing and marketing parts, receiving its primary source of income from the sale of franchises, collecting a percentage of franchisee's gross receipts as a lease payment for use of the trademark and trade name and where its leased trademarks and trade names and their businesses are protected by the laws of this state; thus, franchisor is engaged in business in this state. AAMCO Transmissions v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1979-NMCA-092, 93 N.M. 389, 600 P.2d 841, cert. denied, 93 N.M. 205, 598 P.2d 1165 (superceded by statute, Sonic Indus., Inc. v. State, 2000-NMCA-087, 129 N.M. 657, 11 P.3d 1219).

Foreign corporation's opinions sent to foreign clients not taxable. — Opinions by an Oklahoma corporation concerning subsurface geological formations of the earth's crust beneath New Mexico delivered to clients in Oklahoma and other states were not in intrastate commerce in New Mexico and the income from such opinions was not taxable in New Mexico. Seismograph Serv. Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1956-NMSC-028, 61 N.M. 16, 293 P.2d 977.

7-9-4.1. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1990, ch. 41, § 10 repealed 7-9-4.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1986, ch. 20, § 67, relating to a credit to be deducted from the gross receipts tax, effective July 1, 1990. For provisions of former section, see the 1989 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-9-4.2. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1994, ch. 45, § 8A repealed 7-9-4.2 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1990 (1st S.S.), ch. 1, § 3, relating to a temporary credit for the gross receipts tax, effective July 1, 1994. For provisions of former section, see the 1993 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-9-4.3. Imposition and rate of tax; denomination as "governmental gross receipts tax".

For the privilege of engaging in certain activities by governments, there is imposed on every agency, institution, instrumentality or political subdivision of the state, except any school district and an entity licensed by the department of health, other than a hospital, that is principally engaged in providing health care services, an excise tax of five percent of governmental gross receipts. The tax imposed by this section shall be referred to as the "governmental gross receipts tax".

History: 1978 Comps., § 7-9-4.1, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 8, § 2; 1992, ch. 49, § 1; 1992, ch. 100, § 2; 1993, ch. 332, § 1; 1993, ch. 352, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 27.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1991, ch. 8, § 2 enacted this section as 7-9-4.1 NMSA 1978, but, since a section with that code number had already been enacted, this section was compiled as 7-9-4.3 NMSA 1978.

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, excluded hospitals from "entities licensed by the department of health" that are exempt from paying governmental gross receipts tax; and after "department of health", added "other than a hospital".

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, inserted "school district and any" in the first sentence.

Laws 1993, ch. 332, § 1 enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 1993, ch. 352, § 1. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted all of the present language of the first sentence beginning with "every agency" for "the state of New Mexico and any agency, institution, instrumentality, or political subdivision thereof an excise tax of five percent of governmental gross receipts".

7-9-5. Presumption of taxability.

A. To prevent evasion of the gross receipts tax and to aid in its administration, it is presumed that all receipts of a person engaging in business are subject to the gross receipts tax. A person engaged solely in transactions specifically exempt under the provisions of the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act shall not be required to register or file a return under that act.

B. If receipts from nontaxable charges for mobile telecommunications services are aggregated with and not separately stated from taxable charges for mobile telecommunications services, the charges for nontaxable mobile telecommunications services shall be subject to gross receipts tax unless the home service provider can reasonably identify nontaxable charges in its books and records that are kept in the regular course of business. For the purposes of this subsection, "charges for mobile telecommunications services", "home service provider" and "mobile telecommunications services" have the meanings given in the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act.

C. A marketplace provider engaging in business in this state is not liable for amounts of gross receipts tax collected incorrectly due to the marketplace provider reasonably relying on erroneous information provided by the seller.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-5, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 5; 2002, ch. 18, § 3; 2019, ch. 270, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, see 4 U.S.C.S. § 116 et seq.

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, provided that a marketplace provider engaging in business in this state is not liable for gross receipts tax collected incorrectly due to the marketplace provider reasonably relying on erroneous information provided by the seller; and added Subsection C.

The 2002 amendment, effective August 1, 2002, added the Subsection A designation; made a minor stylistic change in Subsection A; and added Subsection B.

Taxpayer must prove deduction proper. — Any assessment of taxes by the taxation and revenue department is presumed to be correct and, in protesting the assessment of taxes, taxpayer has the burden of proving the deductions were proper. In reviewing, courts will reverse the department's decision only if it is arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, otherwise not in accordance with law, or not supported by substantial evidence. Arco Materials, Inc. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMCA-062, 118 N.M. 12, 878 P.2d 330, rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Blaze Constr. Co. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1994-NMSC-110, 118 N.M. 647, 884 P.2d 803, cert. denied, 514 U.S. 1016, 115 S. Ct. 1359, 131 L. Ed. 2d 216 (1995).

Gross receipts to owner and trainer from horse races taxable. — The legislature, in enacting the Gross Receipts Tax Act, did not intend to exempt receipts from horse races. There is neither ambiguity nor doubt that the language used in the Gross Receipts Tax Act applies to the receipts of a horse owner paid to him for a winning purse and the receipts of a horse trainer paid to him as his percentage of a winning purse. Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743, 497 P.2d 745, cert. denied, 83 N.M. 740, 497 P.2d 742. See Section 7-9-40 NMSA 1978 which now exempts receipts from horse race purses.

Application of presumption. — A hearing officer's interpretation of the term "broker" and the court of appeals' affirmance of that interpretation is viewed in light of the presumption that "all receipts of a person engaging in business are subject to the gross receipts tax" under the provisions of this section. Rauscher, Pierce, Refsnes, Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2002-NMSC-013, 132 N.M. 226, 46 P.3d 687.

Evidence required. — When the corporation contracted with an out-of-state buyer for the corporation to destroy munitions, it was entitled to the gross receipts deduction, and the hearing officer could not properly determine that use or delivery took place within the state without some affirmative evidence in the record to support that conclusion. TPL, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2003-NMSC-007, 133 N.M. 447, 64 P.3d 474.

Nationwide school operating location in state. — Nationwide technical-vocational school operating a location in New Mexico is subject to the gross receipts tax; the taxable base includes tuition receipts from students in New Mexico for curriculum development, financial aid services, and job placement services. ITT Educ. Serv. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1998-NMCA-078, 125 N.M. 244, 959 P.2d 969.

7-9-6. Separately stating the gross receipts tax.

A. Taxpayers subject to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act, when billing a customer, shall separately state the amount of tax associated with the transaction or provide a statement affirmatively indicating that the gross receipts tax is included in the amount billed.

B. When the gross receipts tax is stated separately on the books of the seller or lessor, and if the total amount of tax that is stated separately on transactions reportable within one reporting period is in excess of the amount of gross receipts tax otherwise payable on the transactions on which the tax was stated separately, the excess amount of tax stated on the transactions within that reporting period shall be included in gross receipts.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-6, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 6; 1970, ch. 28, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 29.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, required taxpayers subject to the gross receipts and compensating tax, when billing a customer, to separately state the amount of the tax associated with the transaction; and added a new Subsection A and subsection designation "B".

7-9-7. Imposition and rate of tax; denomination as "compensating tax".

A. For the privilege of making taxable use of tangible personal property in New Mexico, there is imposed on the person using the property an excise tax equal to five percent prior to July 1, 2023 and four and seven-eighths percent beginning July 1, 2023, except as provided in Subsection G of this section, of the value of tangible property that was:

- (1) manufactured by the person using the property in the state; or
- (2) acquired in a transaction for which the seller's receipts were not subject to the gross receipts tax.

B. For the purpose of Subsection A of this section, value of tangible personal property shall be the adjusted basis of the property for federal income tax purposes determined as of the time of acquisition or introduction into this state or of conversion of the property to taxable use, whichever is later. If no adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes is established for the property, a reasonable value of the property shall be used.

C. For the privilege of making taxable use of a license or franchise in New Mexico, there is imposed on the person using the license or franchise an excise tax equal to the rate provided in Subsection A or G of this section, as applicable, against the value of the license or franchise in its use in this state. The department by rule, ruling or instruction shall fairly apportion, where appropriate, the value of a license or franchise to its value in use in New Mexico. The tax shall apply only to the value of a license or franchise used in New Mexico where the license or franchise was acquired in a transaction the receipts from which were not subject to the gross receipts tax.

D. For the privilege of making taxable use of services in New Mexico, there is imposed on the person using the services an excise tax equal to the rate provided in Subsection A or G of this section, as applicable, against the value of the services at the time the services were performed or the product of the service was acquired. For use of services to be a taxable use pursuant to this subsection, the services shall have been acquired in a transaction the receipts from which were not subject to the gross receipts tax.

E. For purposes of this section, receipts are not subject to the gross receipts tax if the person responsible for the gross receipts tax on those receipts lacked nexus in New Mexico or the receipts were exempt or allowed to be deducted pursuant to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act.

F. The tax imposed by this section shall be referred to as the "compensating tax".

G. If the gross receipts tax is increased to five and one-eighth percent pursuant to Subsection C of Section 7-9-4 NMSA 1978, the rate of the compensating tax shall be five and one-eighth percent.

H. As used in this section, "taxable use" means use by a person who acquires tangible personal property, a license, a franchise or a service, and the use of which would not have qualified for an exemption or deduction pursuant to the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-7, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 7; 1969, ch. 144, § 3; 1978, ch. 151, § 3; 1981, ch. 37, § 10; 1983, ch. 213, § 16; 1986, ch. 20, § 64; 1990 (1st S.S.), ch. 1, § 4; 1993, ch. 31, § 2; 1995, ch. 50, § 1; 2010 (2nd S.S.), ch. 7, § 10; 2011, ch. 175, § 1; 2019, ch. 270, § 30; 2021, ch. 65, § 12; 2022, ch. 47, § 13.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2022 amendment, effective July 1, 2022, reduced the rates of the compensating tax, provided for an increase in the compensating tax if gross receipts tax revenues decrease; in Subsection A, after "tax equal to five", deleted "and one-eighth", and added

"prior to July 1, 2023 and four and seven-eighths percent beginning July 1, 2023, except as provided in Subsection G of this section"; in Subsections C and D, after "provided in Subsection A", added "or G"; and added a new Subsection G and redesignated former Subsection G as Subsection H.

The 2021 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, clarified language related to excise taxes on the use of personal property, on the use of a license or franchise, and on the use of certain services; in Subsection A, after "privilege of", deleted "using" and added "making a taxable use of", and after "tangible", added "personal", in Paragraph A(2), after "acquired", deleted "inside or outside of this state as the result of a transaction with a person located outside this state that would have been subject to the gross receipts tax had the tangible personal property been acquired from a person with nexus with New Mexico" and added "in a transaction for which the seller's receipts were not subject to the gross receipts tax"; in Subsection B, after "tangible", added "personal", after "conversion", added "of the property", and after "to", added "taxable"; in Subsection C, after "privilege of", deleted "using" and added "making taxable use of", after "in use in New Mexico", deleted "For use of a license or franchise to be taxable under this subsection, the value of the license or franchise shall be acquired inside or outside this state as the result of a transaction with a person located outside this state that would have been subject to the gross receipts tax had the license or franchise been acquired from a person with nexus with this state" and added the remainder of the subsection; in Subsection D, after "privilege of", deleted "using" and added "making taxable use of", after "at the time", added "the services were performed", after "services to be", deleted "taxable under" and added "a taxable use pursuant to", and after "shall have been", deleted "performed by a person outside this state and the product of the service was acquired inside or outside this state as the result of a transaction with a person located outside this state that would have been subject to the gross receipts tax had the service or product of the service been acquired from a person with nexus with this state" and added "acquired in a transaction the receipts from which were not subject to the gross receipts tax"; added new Subsection E and redesignated former Subsection E as Subsection F; and added Subsection G.

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2021, provided an excise tax for the privilege of using a license or franchise in New Mexico, and increased the excise tax rate for the privilege of using services in New Mexico; in Subsection A, deleted Paragraph A(3); added a new Subsection C and redesignated former Subsections C and D as Subsections D and E, respectively; and in Subsection D after "tax equal to", deleted "five percent of" and added "the rate provided in Subsection A of this section against", and after "services shall have been", deleted "rendered as a result of a transaction that was not initially subject to the gross receipts tax but which transaction, because of the buyer's subsequent use of the services, should have been subject to the gross receipts tax", and added the remainder of the subsection.

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, imposed the compensating tax on property acquired inside or outside New Mexico.

The 2010 (2nd S.S.) amendment, effective July 1, 2010, in Subsection A, in the introductory sentence, added "and one-eighth"; and in Subsection A(2), after "acquired", added "as a result of a transaction with a person located"; after "outside this state", deleted "as the result of a transaction"; and after "gross receipts tax had", deleted "it occurred within this state" and added the remainder of the sentence.

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, designated the former second paragraph of Subsection A as Subsection B and rewrote the provision which read "For the purpose of this subsection Value of tangible property shall be determined as of the time of acquisition or introduction into this state or of conversion to use, whichever is later", and redesignated former Subsections B and C as Subsections C and D.

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, in Subsection A, inserted "tangible" preceding "property" in three places and substituted "using the property" for "using property" in the introductory paragraph.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "five percent" for "four and three-fourths percent" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A and in the first sentence of Subsection B.

Distribution of sales catalogues. — Where the taxpayer sold computers by mail, telephone, and internet orders from its facilities in Texas to New Mexico customers; the taxpayer created, printed and prepared catalogues outside New Mexico and mailed the catalogues from outside New Mexico to potential New Mexico customers; and the taxpayer retained the right to determine where and how the catalogues were distributed in New Mexico, the taxpayer's distribution of sales catalogues in New Mexico constituted a use of the catalogues in New Mexico and was subject to the compensating tax. Dell Catalog Sales, L.P. v. Taxation and Revenue Dept., 2009-NMCA-001, 145 N.M. 419, 199 P.3d 863, cert. denied, 2008-NMCERT-007, cert. denied, 129 S. Ct. 1616, 173 L.Ed.2d 1030.

The use or compensating tax is an excise tax and not an ad valorem tax. Robert E. McKee, Gen. Contractor Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1957-NMSC-082, 63 N.M. 185, 315 P.2d 832 (decided under former law).

Any reasonable tax classification constitutional. — It is for the legislature to adopt classifications for the imposition of excise taxes as it may deem proper and any reasonable classification cannot be held to deny equal protection or due process. Edmunds v. Bureau of Revenue, 1958-NMSC-112, 64 N.M. 454, 330 P.2d 131 (decided under former law).

"Compensating tax" and nontaxable transaction certificates. — This section is designed to impose a compensating tax on transactions such as one which initially would have been subject to the gross receipts tax were it not for the delivery of the nontaxable transaction certificates by the buyer of the materials or services pursuant to Sections 7-9-51 or 7-9-52 NMSA 1978. Continental Inn of Albuquerque, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1992-NMCA-030, 113 N.M. 588, 829 P.2d 946.

Use of nontaxable transaction certificates. — The use of nontaxable transaction certificates, not the taking of the deduction, subjects a taxpayer to the compensating tax. Continental Inn of Albuquerque, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1992-NMCA-030, 113 N.M. 588, 829 P.2d 946.

Intangible property not subject to tax. — Laws 1993, Chapter 31, § 2 amended the definition of property in compensating tax provisions so that it does not include intangible property. Kmart Corp. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2006-NMSC-006, 139 N.M. 172, 131 P.3d 22

Foreign transaction subject to tax if receipts tax would apply to domestic. — Supreme court, although finding no need to interpret this section in the disposition of the case before it, indicated that this section appeared to impose a compensating or use tax on property acquired out-of-state in an isolated transaction and used in New Mexico only where the transaction would have been subject to a gross receipts tax if the transaction had taken place in New Mexico. Union Cnty. Feedlot, Inc. v. Vigil, 1968-NMCA-088, 79 N.M. 684, 448 P.2d 485.

Tax applicable to reimbursements for property used under government contracts. — Application of the compensating tax to reimbursements for property purchased out-of-state and brought into New Mexico for use under government contracts was valid. United States v. New Mexico, 581 F.2d 803 (10th Cir. 1978), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

Transportation costs excluded from sales price when paid by buyer. — Under a regulation promulgated by the bureau (now department), in computing the compensating tax, transportation costs should be excluded from the sales price of the property when paid to the carrier by the buyer. Thus, when, under the sales contract between the taxpayer (manufacturer) and the buyer, an agency relationship existed whereby the taxpayer was authorized to pay transportation charges both on materials sold to the buyer and on materials returned by it for credit or repair, the regulation specifically excluded from the sales price of the property the transportation costs, which were paid to the carrier by the buyer, since the buyer reimbursed the manufacturer for transportation costs. Western Elec. Co. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-047, 90 N.M. 164, 561 P.2d 26.

Effect of buyer's voluntary payment of tax. — A corporation engaged in the business of selling property in New Mexico was liable for payment of the state's gross receipts tax on the receipts of sales. The voluntary payment of compensating tax by the buyer did not relieve the seller of liability for the gross receipts tax otherwise collectible. Proficient Food Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1988-NMCA-042, 107 N.M. 392, 758 P.2d 806, cert. denied, 107 N.M. 308, 756 P.2d 1203.

Contractor furnishing purchased materials to federal government liable for tax. —

Since general contractor was required by contracts with federal government to furnish materials to be used on federal reservation in New Mexico, the contractor purchased the materials, became the owner thereof, and was liable for the use or compensating tax under § 72-17-1, 1953 Comp. et seq. (now repealed); and this was not taxation of government land or other government property. Robert E. McKee, Gen. Contractor, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1957-NMSC-082, 63 N.M. 185, 315 P.2d 832.

Existence of promissory note does not make sale executory. — When purchase agreement was entered into out-of-state whereby purchaser would pay a deposit and make a promissory note for the balance, the agreement was not an executory document and failure to make any of the subsequent payments after the deposit did not render it executory. Therefore, the use of the article purchased was taxable pursuant to Subsection A(2). Garfield Mines, Ltd. v. O'Cheskey, 1973-NMCA-128, 85 N.M. 547, 514 P.2d 304.

Distribution of advertising materials. — New Mexico retailer who contracted with out-of-state advertising coordinators, but exercised control over its distribution contractors in New Mexico, "used" advertising materials distributed in the state within the meaning of this section. Phillips Mercantile Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1990-NMCA-006, 109 N.M. 487, 786 P.2d 1221.

7-9-7.1. Department barred from taking collection actions with respect to certain tax liabilities.

The department shall take no action to enforce collection of gross receipts tax for a tax period prior to July 1, 2019 on persons engaging in business if that person:

- A. lacked physical presence in the state; and
- B. did not report taxable gross receipts prior to July 1, 2019.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-7.1, enacted by Laws 1993, ch. 45, § 1; 1994, ch. 34, § 1; 1995, ch. 50, § 2; 2019, ch. 270, § 31.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, prohibited the department from taking action to enforce collection of gross receipts tax with respect to certain tax liabilities, and removed provisions related to the prohibition of taking action to enforce the collection of compensating tax with respect to certain tax liabilities; in the section heading, deleted "compensating"; and deleted former Subsections A and B and added the introductory clause and new Subsections A and B.

7-9-7.2. Authority to establish standards for certified service providers.

A. The secretary is authorized to provide information, upon which taxpayers may rely, as to the taxability of gross receipts from particular transactions, including taxability matrices, and is further authorized to establish standards for the certification of certified service providers that offer software-based systems to enable taxpayers to properly determine the taxability of gross receipts from particular transactions.

B. As used in this section, "certified service provider" means "certified service provider" as defined in the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Administration Act [7-5A-1 to 7-5A-9 NMSA 1978].

History: Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 37

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 60 made Laws 2019, ch. 270, § 37 effective July 1, 2019.

7-9-8. Presumption of taxability and value.

A. To prevent evasion of the compensating tax and the duty to collect it, it is presumed that property bought or sold by any person for delivery into this state is bought or sold for a taxable use in this state.

B. In determining the amount of compensating tax due on the use of property, it is presumed, in the absence of preponderant evidence of another value, that the value means the total amount of money or the reasonable value of other consideration paid for property exclusive of any type of time-price differential. However, in an exchange in which the amount of money paid does not represent the value of the property or property and service purchased, the compensating tax shall be imposed on the reasonable value of the property or property and service purchased.

C. In determining the amount of compensating tax due on the use of a service, it is presumed, in the absence of preponderant evidence of another value, that the value means the total amount of money or the reasonable value of other consideration paid for the service exclusive of any type of time-price differential. However, in an exchange in which the amount paid does not represent the value of the service purchased, the compensating tax shall be imposed on the reasonable value of the service purchased.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-8, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 8; 1969, ch. 144, § 4; 1972, ch. 85, § 2.

7-9-9. Liability of user for payment of compensating tax.

Any person in New Mexico using property on the value of which compensating tax is payable but has not been paid is liable to the state for payment of the compensating tax, but this liability is discharged if the buyer has paid the compensating tax to the seller for payment over to the department.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-9, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 9; 1983, ch. 220, § 2; 1990, ch. 41, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "department" for "division" at the end of the section and made a minor stylistic change.

Due process not violated by actions of tax officials. — Department did not violate taxpayer's right to due process by: (1) making an assessment before the taxpayer provided pertinent records; (2) targeting the taxpayer because it had no history of reporting compensating taxes; and (3) delaying 18 months from the time of an audit notice to the time of the field audit. Vivigen, Inc. v. Minzner, 1994-NMCA-027, 117 N.M. 224, 870 P.2d 1382.

No offset for prior years investment credits. — A taxpayer was not entitled to an offset in the amount it owed for compensating taxes for investment credits it had made in previous years, because it had not claimed the credits within the one-year statute of limitations period. Although the taxpayer argued that it was entitled to an offset under the doctrine of equitable recoupment, a taxpayer is not entitled to seek a credit after the statute-of-limitations period has expired unless the state is imposing a tax on the same taxable event on a ground that is inconsistent with the original payment by the taxpayer. Vivigen, Inc. v. Minzner, 1994-NMCA-027, 117 N.M. 224, 870 P.2d 1382.

7-9-10. Agents for collection of compensating tax; duties.

A. Every person carrying on or causing to be carried on any activity within this state attempting to exploit New Mexico's markets who sells property or sells property and service for use in this state and who is not subject to the gross receipts tax on receipts from these sales shall collect the compensating tax from the buyer and pay the tax collected to the department. "Activity", for the purposes of this section, includes but is not limited to engaging in any of the following in New Mexico: maintaining an office or other place of business; soliciting orders through employees or independent contractors; soliciting orders through advertisements placed in newspapers or magazines published in New Mexico or advertisements broadcast by New Mexico radio or television stations, soliciting orders through programs broadcast by New Mexico radio or television stations or transmitted by cable systems in New Mexico; canvassing, demonstrating, collecting money, warehousing or storing merchandise or delivering or distributing products as a consequence of an advertising or other sales program directed at potential customers. "Activity", for the purposes of this section, does not include having a world wide web site as a third-party provider on a computer physically located in New Mexico but owned by another nonaffiliated person, and "activity" does not include using a nonaffiliated third-party call center to accept and process telephone or electronic orders of tangible personal property or licenses primarily from non-New Mexico buyers, which orders are forwarded to a location outside New Mexico for filling, or to provide services primarily to non-New Mexico customers.

B. To ensure orderly and efficient collection of the public revenue, if any application of this section is held invalid, the section's application to other situations or persons shall not be affected.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-10, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 10; 1983, ch. 220, § 3; 1990, ch. 41, § 2; 1998, ch. 92, § 5; 2000, ch. 101, § 2; 2001, ch. 65, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2001 amendment, effective March 16, 2001, inserted "or to provide services primarily to non-New Mexico customers" at the end of Subsection A.

The 2000 amendment, effective July 1, 2000, added the phrase beginning "and 'activity' does not include using a nonaffiliated third-party call center" at the end of Subsection A.

The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1998, added the language beginning "but 'activity' does not include" to the end of Subsection A.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, in Subsection A, substituted "department" for "division" at the end of the first sentence and inserted "soliciting orders through advertisements placed in newspapers or magazines published in New Mexico or advertisements broadcast by New Mexico radio or television stations, soliciting orders through programs broadcast by New Mexico radio or television stations or transmitted by cable systems in New Mexico" in the second sentence.

7-9-11. Date payment due.

The taxes imposed by the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act are to be paid on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month following the month in which the taxable event occurs.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-11, enacted by Laws 1966, ch. 47, § 11; 1969, ch. 25, § 2.

7-9-12. Exemptions.

Exemptions from either the gross receipts tax or the compensating tax are not exemptions from both taxes unless explicitly stated otherwise by law.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-12, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 5; 1970, ch. 60, § 1; 1972, ch. 61, § 1; 1973, ch. 67, § 1; 1984, ch. 2, § 2; 2017 (1st S.S.), ch. 3, § 14.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 (1st S.S.) amendment, effective July 1, 2017, removed language to clarify that certain exemptions from either the gross receipts or compensating tax are not exemptions from both taxes; and deleted "Exempted from the gross receipts or compensating tax are those receipts or uses exempted in Sections 7-9-13 through 7-9-42 NMSA 1978."

Inequalities which result from singling out of one particular class for taxation or exemption, infringe no constitutional limitation. Dikewood Corp. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1964-NMSC-057, 74 N.M. 75, 390 P.2d 661.

Statute of exemption from taxation must receive a strict construction, and no claim of exemption should be sustained unless within the express letter or the necessary scope of the exempting clause. Robert E. McKee, Gen. Contractor, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1957-NMSC-082, 63 N.M. 185, 315 P.2d 832 (decided under former law).

Legal services performed for Indian tribe. — The gross receipts tax may properly be imposed on a non-Indian law firm for legal services performed off the reservation on behalf of an Indian tribe; federal law cannot preempt by implication the tax under such circumstances, since, when reviewing state taxation of activities of non-Indians off the reservation, an actual conflict with an express federal provision is required for preemption. Rodey, Dickason, Sloan, Akin & Robb, P.A. v. Revenue Div., Dep't of Taxation & Revenue, 1988-NMSC-063, 107 N.M. 399, 759 P.2d 186.

Uncontemplated regulatory exception invalid. — If a regulation adopted by the bureau of revenue (now taxation and revenue department) creates an exception from exempt transactions which is not contemplated by the legislative act, even though such administrative interpretations are entitled to great weight in ascertaining the meaning of the statute, the courts may not give legal sanction to the agency's incorrect construction of unambiguous statutory language. Strebeck Props., Inc. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1979-NMCA-035, 93 N.M. 262, 599 P.2d 1059.

Burden rests squarely on taxpayer to prove entitlement to exemption. Al Zuni Traders v. Bureau of Revenue, 1977-NMCA-025, 90 N.M. 258, 561 P.2d 1351.

Notice of type of proof necessary to avoid taxation unnecessary. — Under the Gross Receipts and Compensating Tax Act, the contention that prior to the first audit of its books the commissioner had not sent any notice to taxpayer, or other taxpayers in the same industry, of the type of proof necessary to avoid taxation was pure nonsense. Al Zuni Traders v. Bureau of Revenue, 1977-NMCA-025, 90 N.M. 258, 561 P.2d 1351.

Legislature intended to make gross receipts and compensating taxes correlate: an exemption from the gross receipts tax must also be treated as an exemption from the compensating tax. Western Elec. Co. v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-047, 90 N.M. 164, 561 P.2d 26.

7-9-12.1. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1990, ch. 41, § 10 repealed 7-9-12.1 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1984, ch. 2, § 10, relating to findings and intent, effective July 1, 1990. For provisions of former section, see the 1989 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-9-13. Exemption; gross receipts tax; governmental agencies.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, exempted from the gross receipts tax are receipts of:

- (1) the United States or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof;

- (2) the state of New Mexico or any political subdivision thereof;
- (3) any Indian nation, tribe or pueblo from activities or transactions occurring on its sovereign territory; or
- (4) any foreign nation or agency, instrumentality or political subdivision thereof, but only when required by a treaty in force to which the United States is a party.

B. Receipts from the sale of gas or electricity by a utility owned or operated by a county, municipality or other political subdivision of a state are not exempted from the gross receipts tax.

C. Receipts from the operation of a cable television system owned or operated by a municipality are not exempted from the gross receipts tax.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.1, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 6; 1991, ch. 8, § 4; 1993, ch. 31, § 3; 1993, ch. 208, § 7; 1994, ch. 45, § 2; 1998, ch. 89, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1998, added Paragraph A(4) and made minor stylistic changes.

The 1994 amendment, effective July 1, 1994, rewrote Subsection A, which read: "Exempted from the gross receipts tax are the receipts of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof or the state of New Mexico or any political subdivision thereof"; and substituted "a state" for "the state" in Subsection B.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, designated the former provisions as Subsections A and B and added Subsection C.

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, deleted "water" following "gas" in the second sentence and made a related stylistic change.

Disbursement agents of federal funds immune from gross receipts tax. — Agents for the disbursement of federal funds are constitutionally immune from application of the gross receipts tax to those funds. *United States v. United States not excluded from state tax proceedings involving its contractors. — The United States may not properly be excluded, under all circumstances, from state tax proceedings involving its contractors, since the contracts obligate the United States to provide funds necessary to defray all costs incurred in the performance of contracts, including taxes. United States v. New Mexico, 624 F.2d 111 (10th Cir. 1980), aff'd, 455 U.S. 720, 102 S. Ct. 1373, 71 L. Ed. 2d 580 (1982).

7-9-13.1. Exemption; gross receipts tax; certain services.

A. Exempted from the gross receipts tax are the receipts from selling research and development services performed outside New Mexico the product of which is initially used in New Mexico and that are sold:

- (1) between affiliated corporations;
- (2) to the United States by persons, other than organizations described in Subsection A of Section 7-9-29 NMSA 1978, who are prime contractors operating facilities in New Mexico designated as national laboratories by act of congress; or
- (3) to persons, other than organizations described in Subsection A of Section 7-9-29 NMSA 1978, who are prime contractors operating facilities in New Mexico designated as national laboratories by act of congress.

B. An "affiliated corporation" means a corporation that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the subject corporation. "Control" means ownership of stock in a corporation that represents at least eighty percent of the total voting power of that corporation and has a stated or par value equal to at least eighty percent of the total stated or par value of the stock of that corporation.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 351, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2005, ch. 351 was not enacted as part of the Municipal Code but is included in that code as a convenience to the user.

Emergency clause. — Laws 2005, ch. 351, § 14 contained an emergency clause and was approved April 8, 2005.

7-9-14. Exemption; compensating tax; governmental agencies; Indians.

A. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, there is exempted from the compensating tax the use of property and services by the United States or the state of New Mexico or any governmental unit or subdivision, agency, department or instrumentality thereof. The exemption provided by this subsection does not apply to:

(1) the use of property that is or will be incorporated into a metropolitan redevelopment project under the Metropolitan Redevelopment Code [Chapter 3, Article 60A NMSA 1978]; or

(2) the use of construction material.

B. Exempted from the compensating tax is the use of property by any Indian nation, tribe or pueblo or any governmental unit, subdivision, agency, department or instrumentality thereof on Indian reservations or pueblo grants.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.2, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 7; 1985, ch. 225, § 3; 1990, ch. 41, § 3; 1993, ch. 31, § 5; 2001, ch. 343, § 2; 2023, ch. 85, § 11.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For Community Development Incentive Act, see 3-64-1 NMSA 1978 et seq.

The 2023 amendment, effective July 1, 2023, exempted from the compensating tax the use of services by governmental agencies; and in Subsection A, in the introductory paragraph, after "use of property", added "and services".

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, substituted former Paragraph A(2), listing tangible personal property that becomes an ingredient or component part of a construction project, for the current Paragraph A(2).

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, deleted "or any agency or instrumentality thereof" following "United States" and substituted "any governmental unit or subdivision, agency, department or instrumentality" for "any political subdivision" in the first sentence of Subsection A and, in Subsection B, deleted "the governing body of" preceding "any Indian nation" and inserted "or any governmental unit, subdivision, agency, department or instrumentality thereof".

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, designated the former first and second sentences of the section as present Subsections A and B, substituted "Except as otherwise provided in this subsection" for "Except for the use of property that is or will be incorporated into a metropolitan redevelopment project created under the Metropolitan Redevelopment Code" in the first sentence in Subsection A, added the second sentence of Subsection A, and in Subsection B, substituted "Indian nation, tribe or pueblo" for "Indian tribe or Indian pueblo".

Taxing contractor furnishing materials to federal government not taxing government. — When general contractor was required by contracts with federal government to furnish materials to be used on federal reservation in New Mexico, the contractor purchased the materials, became the owner thereof, and was liable for the use or compensating tax under § 72-17-1, 1953 Comp., et seq. (now repealed); and this was not taxation of government land or other government property. Robert E. McKee, Gen. Contractor, Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 1957-NMSC-082, 63 N.M. 185, 315 P.2d 832.

Tax ultimately falling on tribal organization impermissible. — If the economic burden of the gross receipts tax ultimately falls on a tribal organization, even though the legal incidence of the tax falls on the non-Indian contractor with whom the tribal organization contracted to build an Indian school, the imposition of the tax impermissibly impedes the clearly expressed federal interest in promoting the quality and quantity of educational opportunities for Indians by depleting the funds available for the construction of Indian schools. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

Federal regulatory scheme and policy. — The comprehensive federal regulatory scheme and the express federal policy of encouraging tribal self-sufficiency in the area of education preclude the imposition of the state gross receipts tax on the construction of school facilities on tribal lands pursuant to a contract between a tribal organization and a non-Indian contracting firm. Ramah Navajo Sch. Bd., Inc. v. Bureau of Revenue, 458 U.S. 832, 102 S. Ct. 3394, 73 L. Ed. 2d 1174 (1982).

7-9-15. Exemption; compensating tax; certain organizations.

Exempted from the compensating tax is the use of property by organizations that demonstrate to the department that they have been granted exemption from the federal income tax by the United States commissioner of internal revenue as organizations described in Section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended or renumbered, in the conduct of functions described in Section 501(c)(3). The use of property as an ingredient or component part of a construction project is not a use in the conduct of functions described in Section 501(c)(3). This section does not apply to the use of property in an unrelated trade or business as defined in Section 513 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended or renumbered.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.3, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 8; reenacted by Laws 1970, ch. 12, § 1; 1983, ch. 220, § 4; 1990, ch. 41, § 4.

The 1990 amendment, effective July 1, 1990, substituted "department" for "division" in the first sentence.

Use of nontaxable transaction certificates. — The use of nontaxable transaction certificates, not the taking of the deduction, subjects a taxpayer to the compensating tax. Continental Inn of Albuquerque, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 1992-NMCA-030, 113 N.M. 588, 829 P.2d 946.

7-9-16. Repealed.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.4, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 9; 1970, ch. 12, § 2; 1975, ch. 54, § 1; repealed by Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 2023, ch. 85, § 28 repealed 7-9-16 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 9, relating to exemption, gross receipts tax, certain nonprofit facilities, effective July 1, 2023. For provisions of former section, see the 2022 NMSA 1978 on NMOneSource.com.

7-9-17. Exemption; gross receipts tax; wages.

Exempted from the gross receipts tax are the receipts of employees from wages, salaries, commissions or from any other form of remuneration for personal services.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.5, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 68 made Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 10 effective July 1, 1969.

Wages, salaries, commissions and other forms of payment for personal services received by an employee are specifically exempted from gross receipts tax by this section. Eaton v. Bureau of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-114, 84 N.M. 226, 501 P.2d 670, cert. denied, 84 N.M. 219, 501 P.2d 663.

All of taxpayer's receipts, including employee's wages, taxable. — Wages paid directly to truck drivers employed by taxpayer, pursuant to hauling agreement, which were paid out of taxpayer's gross receipts and on behalf of taxpayer, a self-employed hauler, were subject to gross receipts tax, regardless of the fact that taxpayer never received such wages to distribute to his drivers. Duke v. Bureau of Revenue, 1975-NMCA-025, 87 N.M. 360, 533 P.2d 593.

Same taxation scheme used for both state and federal purposes. — When carpenter filed self-employment returns with the internal revenue service for social security purposes when customers did not withhold F.I.C.A. taxes, and filed federal income tax returns which reported income from a business or profession, the taxpayer must not attempt to show one scheme for federal tax purposes and a nontaxable event for purposes of state gross receipts tax. Stohr v. N.M. Bureau of Revenue, 1976-NMCA-118, 90 N.M. 43, 559 P.2d 420, cert. denied, 90 N.M. 254, 561 P.2d 1347 (1977).

Percentages paid jockeys not exempt. — Since by established custom in the state of New Mexico the horse owner pays the jockey on his winning mount 10% of the purse, and a jockey, during the course of a racing day, may ride in several races, riding various different horses, each of which may have a different owner and a horse owner is not required to withhold income tax from the jockey's share of the purse, pay F.I.C.A. tax, or make unemployment insurance contributions for the jockey, then commissioner of revenue (now secretary of taxation and revenue department) was within his authority in denying employee exemption to defendant. Rock v. Comm'r of Revenue, 1972-NMCA-012, 83 N.M. 478, 493 P.2d 963 (case decided before the exemption granted jockeys by 7-9-40 NMSA 1978).

7-9-18. Exemption; gross receipts tax and governmental gross receipts tax; agricultural products.

A. Exempted from the gross receipts tax and from the governmental gross receipts tax are the receipts from selling livestock and receipts of growers, producers, trappers or nonprofit marketing associations from selling livestock, live poultry, unprocessed agricultural products, hides or pelts. Persons engaged in the business of buying and selling wool or mohair or of buying and selling livestock on their own account are producers for the purposes of this section.

B. Receipts from selling dairy products at retail are not exempted from the gross receipts tax.

C. As used in this section, "livestock" means all domestic or domesticated animals that are used or raised on a farm or ranch, including the carcasses thereof, and also includes horses, asses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, swine, bison, poultry, ostriches, emus, rheas, camelids and farmed cervidae upon any land in New Mexico; provided that for the purposes of Chapter 77, Article 9 NMSA 1978, "animals" or "livestock" have the meaning defined in that article. "Animals" or "livestock" does not include canine or feline animals. For the purpose of the rules governing meat inspection, wild animals, poultry and birds used for human consumption shall also be included within the meaning of "animals" or "livestock".

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.6, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 11; 1991, ch. 9, § 27; 1992, ch. 48, § 1; 1993, ch. 31, § 6; 2011, ch. 81, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, added a definition of "livestock".

The 1993 amendment, effective July 1, 1993, inserted "and governmental gross receipts tax" in the catchline and inserted "and from the governmental gross receipts tax" in the first sentence.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, deleted "or horses" following "livestock" near the beginning of the first sentence, and inserted "or of buying and selling livestock" in the second sentence.

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, inserted "from selling livestock or horses and receipts" and deleted "livestock" preceding "live poultry" in the first sentence and, in the second sentence, deleted "or of buying and selling livestock" following "mohair".

7-9-18.1. Exemption; gross receipts tax; food stamps.

Exempted from the gross receipts tax are the receipts of a taxpayer who is approved for participation in the food stamp program authorized by U.S.C. Title 7, Chapter 51, as that chapter may be amended or renumbered, from the lawful acceptance and deposit with a financial institution of food stamps issued by the United States department of agriculture pursuant to the food stamp program.

History: 1978 Comp., § 7-9-18.1, enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 264, § 13 and Laws 1987, ch. 304, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 1987, ch. 304, § 2 made Laws 1987, ch. 304, § 1 effective October 1, 1987.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1987, ch. 264, § 13 and Laws 1987, ch. 304, § 1 enacted identical versions of this section.

7-9-19. Exemption; gross receipts tax; livestock feeding.

A. Exempted from the gross receipts tax are the receipts of any person derived from feeding or pasturing livestock.

B. Receipts derived from penning or handling livestock prior to sale are receipts derived from feeding livestock for the purposes of this section.

C. Receipts derived from training livestock are receipts derived from feeding livestock for the purposes of this section.

History: 1953 Comp., § 72-16A-12.7, enacted by Laws 1969, ch. 144, § 12; 1974, ch. 19, § 1; 1991, ch. 9, § 28; 1992, ch. 48, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, substituted "are not" for "are" in Subsection C.

The 1991 amendment, effective July 1, 1991, designated the formerly undesignated provisions as Subsections A to C and, in Subsection C, inserted "not" preceding "receipts".

7-9-20. Exemption; gross receipts tax; certain receipts of homeowners associations.

Exempted from the gross receipts tax are those receipts of homeowners associations defined in Section 528(c)(1) (A thru D), (2), (3) and (4) (A, B and D) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which are received as membership fees, dues or assessments from members who are owners of residential units, residences or residential lots except for owners of time-share interests, for payment of taxes, insurance, utility expenses, management and improvement, maintenance or rehabilitation of those common areas, elements or facilities appurtenant thereto which are for the sole use of the owners and their guests.
